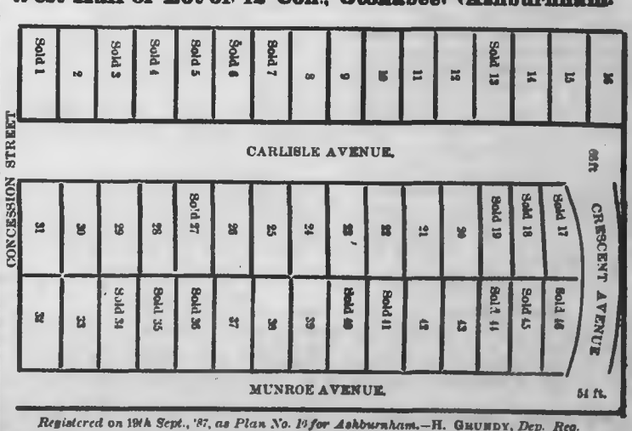
PLAN of Sub-Division of Part of the West Half of Lot 31, 12 Con., Otonabee. (Ashburnham.



Registered on 19th Sept., '87, as Plan No. 19 for Ashburnham.—H. GRUNDY, Dep. Reg.

I am offering these Lots cheap and on the most reasonable terms. Cash buyers can count on Great Bargains. To parties desiring to build I will give money for such purposes, which, with price of lot, can remain on the property for 5 years at 6 per cent. These lots are situate 2 Blocks east of J. Z. Rogers' residence, and adjoining (south) the late John Erskine Estate, Ashburnham, about 12 minutes' walk from the new Post Office. Beautiful situation. Excellent soil. For particulars apply to my agents, HURLEY & BUNTON, Hunter Street, or to myself, Donegal street second block west of St. Andrew's Church (Old Kirk)

(Size of these lots, 76 links x 175 links.) 13 of these lots have been sold within the last few days which speaks well for the locality, price and terms.

Oyster Rooms Open.

J.C.Craig has opened out his two comfortable oyster parlors on George street, where the delicious bivalves will be served up at all hours, in any style desired. Drop in and try Johnny's stews. Steaks, mutton chops and tea and coffee served until 12 o'clock at night. d

Conundrum Answered.

Because Wilson and Morrison's business in "The Manufacturer's Life" for the last ten weeks has exceeded over half a million dollars, being more than the combined insurance of all our competitors. The boom still continues, saying nothing of the large Fire, Accident and Plate Glass business.

Bro. H. English, Grand Guide, of Toronto and another Grand Council representitive have been directed by the Grand Regent to pay an official visit to Peterborough Council No. 735. Accordingly on Thursday evening next an open meeting will be held in the Foresters' Hall over Long Bros. store, when short addresses will be delivered by the visiting brethren and others upon the aims and plans of the Royal Arcanum. A short musical programme will also be presented.

Off for California.

Mr. Carl C. Smart, for some time an employe with the EXAMINER, has purchased from Mr. Thomas Beddy, C. P. R. agent, a ticket for Los Angeles, California, and he will start for that place on Tuesday. Mr. Smart has disposed of the right to manufacture for two years his patent name plate for doors, etc., to Messrs. Ratcliffe & Kendall, Toronto. He will continue to push the business on his own account in Los Angeles and San Francisco. Mr. Smart's invention is a good one and the EXAMINER hopes he may meet with the greatest success among the people of the Pacific Slope.

The Cooper Greatrix Race.

Yesterday afternoon Mr. W. R. Greatrix rode over the track at the driving park and claimed the medal. He notified Mr. Cooper, of Belleville, who didn't "come to the scratch," of his action, which every fair-minded sporting man will admit was proper. The Belleville Intelligencer says:—"Greatrix was found provided with a 22 lb racing wheel, secured for the purpose. Perhaps, as no kind of wheel was mentioned in the understanding between them, Greatrix felt at liberty to get the best wheel for the purpose, but all wheelmen may not be of the opinion that it was fair to thus seek to handicap a confiding opponent." In the first place Greatrix's racing wheel weighs exactly 30 pounds, not 22. Then, he most certainly felt at liberty to get the best wheel he could for the occasion, particularly as his old machine, the one which he rode at Belleville, had succumbed to severe work and become unfit for racing. It was a clear case of backout on Cooper's part whether from personal unwillingness or a wish to save his backer's money. The Intelligencer further says that Cooper is willing to meet him at any time after reasonable notice, and is not opposed to racers being used. Mr. Greatrix will not go into training any more this fall. So the race, if race there ever be, cannot come off before next year. Much interest was felt in the event among the athletic fraternity in town, and all hope to see the match eventually come to a focus.

The Curling Club.

At the annual meeting of the Peterborough Curling Club last evening the following officers were elected:—

PATRON AND PATRONESS—Judge and Mrs. Dennistoun.

PRESIDENT—Judge Weller.

VICE-PRESIDENT—R. S. Davidson.

REPRESENTATIVE MEMBERS—Dr. Boucher and E. B. Edwards.

SEC.-TREAS.—C McGill.

MANAGING COMMITTEE—Judge Weller, R. S. Davidson, C. McGill, W. G. Ferguson and Adam Hall.

SKIPS—Judge Weller, W. G. Ferguson, T. Rutherford, T. P. Attrill, Dr. Boucher, E. B. Edwards, D. Cameron, A. Hall, Geo. Brown, S. Ray, J. B. Pentland, H.T.Strickland and W. P. Hamilton.

Fine Work.

People in passing by the Singer sewing machine agency on George street stop to admire the excellent specimens of machine work on exhibition in the window. The Singer sewing machine has a national reputation for unexcelled general-purpose utility, and the local agency is ever ready to supply the public demand. The enterprising and genial manager, Mr. H. Laishley, is ever ready to show his machines and their capabilities to visitors. The store is filled with samples of machine work of all kinds, which well merit inspection. The Singer sewing machine has carried off several first prizes at local fairs, and was awarded a diploma at the recent Provincial Exhibition at Ottawa.

The Result of Road-Racing.

A farmer complained at the police court this morning that while he was driving into town another man had carelessly run his vehicle too close and caused a collision which broke his buggy. A farmer named Lee, of Ops, was arrested and taken to the police court, but as the complainant didn't appear again he was let go. It seemed from Lee's story that the two were racing along the road about three miles from town, when a collision occurred, for which, probably, they were both to blame.

Meeting With Success.

A few months ago a notice appeared in the EXAMINER regarding the publication, by Mr. J. H. Long, Principal of the Collegiate Institute, of a book entitled "Slips of Tongue and Pen." That the work is meeting with public approval is shown by the fact that Appleton & Co., the great New York publishers, have written Mr. Long that they will publish it and circulate it throughout the United States. It will also likely be introduced into the schools there.

"Harvest Home" Festival.

The friends of the Charlotte street church are preparing for a grand "Harvest Home" on Friday evening next, Oct. 14th. Fruits, flowers, decorations, music and refreshments are in store for the people. Among the speakers will be the Rev. Coverdale Watson, of Toronto, formerly one of the pastors of the George and Charlotte street Methodist churches when they were united.

The Masonic Conversazione.

There was a slight discrepancy between the musical programmes as printed for the Masonic conversazione and as rendered. The "Venetian Boat Song" was rendered by Miss Vair and Miss Strickland, and not by Miss Vair and Miss Haultain. The programme omitted to mention Mr. Jacques as the singer of "The Jackets o'Blue."

Acknowledgement.

Capt. Annesley, Superintendent of Dr. Barnardo's Home at Hazelbrae, acknowledges with thanks the receipt of a sack of apples kindly sent by Capt. Wallis, for the use of the Home. Any such gifts will be thankfully received and promptly acknowleged.

Mrs. Tom Thumb.

The celebrated Tom Thumb's diminutive widow (now the Countess Magri), with her husband and a select company of comedians, are making a tour of Canada and will appear at the Opera House here Friday next, afternoon and evening. The performances of the company are highly commended by the press.

Examiner Bindery.

Merchants and business men, now is the time to call at the EXAMINER bindery and leave your orders for journals, day books, ledgers, invoice books, cheque books, and all blank books used in business. Don't wait till the moment you want to use them. All blank books last longer for not being used immediately after being finished.

The Great Harry.

Harry Lindley closes his week's engagement to-night, when "The Phœnix" will be presented. His present trip has been a most successful one, and Harry promises to return with his company in December. He goes from here to Lindsay, where he hopes for as good houses as he got in Peterborough.

Good for the Lock Works.

The goods turned out by the Peterborough Lock Works are of so high a quality and are becoming so widely known, that this morning the company received specifications for their goods from the largest hardware firm in Sidney, New South Wales.

Everybody cordially invited to look through Turnbull's Magnificent Stock of Millinery, Mantles, Dress Cloth and general Dry Goods on the 4th, 5th, and 6th.

Police Court.

FRIDAY, OCT. 7.

P. M. Edmison yesterday delivered judgment in the Scott Act case against James Evans. The defendant was fined $50 and costs.

SATURDAY, OCT 8th.

Friday afternoon at the fair grounds, Mason Cain, of Havelock, while slightly intoxicated began using insulting language and roughly handling a couple of ladies. He was arrested by constable Lythe and this morning was fined $2, and $4.10 costs.

Mr. Gonyea was charged with having allowed a cow and calf of his to run at large. Several witnesses were examined, but no convicting evidence being forthcoming, the case was enlarged till next Tuesday for the procuring of other witnesses.

Edward and Mary O'Brien are man and wife, with one child. Edward is a hard worker when sober, but liquor stirs up the worse part of his nature, and when "in his cups" he is none too gentle. At least so his wife said in the police court this morning, where he was arraigned on a charge of having assaulted her and put her out of doors the night previous. Both are young people. The difference on this occasion arose about some money. The defendant was bound over to keep the peace for one year.

Richard McBride, of phrenological and police court fame, had formulated a charge of assault against Mr. T. Cavanagh. The defendant appeared in court this morning but Richard was not around, so the case was dismissed.

Scott Act Infraction Campaign

Several Cases on the Tapis.

The reporter of the EXAMINER met Mr. Cochrane, Inspector, this morning when the following conversation ensued:

REPORTER—Well, Mr. Inspector, what's trump in Scott Act circles now?

INSPECTOR—I have four cases up for Monday morning. They are town cases.

REPORTER—Who are they?

INSPECTOR—Chamberlain's Restaurant, the American Hotel, the Royal Oak and the Snowden House.

REPORTER—Is there any liquor being sold outside the town do you think?

INSPECTOR—I have four county cases to be tried in Lakefield before P. M. Edmison next Wednesday. The result of these will be an answer to that question.

REPORTER—Anything more?

INSPECTOR—I have five town cases for Thursday and more to follow in due time.

REP.—Who supplied you with information in these cases?

INSP.—I worked them all up myself.

REP.—Isn't it generally understood that the information is supplied you by the Scott Act Association? Isn't that so?

INSP.—I don't know what's generally understood, but I do know that these cases are my own. I have only used one Scott Act Association information since the first of May, and I didn't get a conviction on that.

REP.—Anything more?

INSP.—Not now.

WHAT THE PEOPLE FROM FAR DISTANCES SAY

REGARDING OUR OWN MANUFACTURE.

Gratifying, it is indeed, to know that our efforts to serve the public to our best ability are not only recognised, but demonstrated by abundance of letters, of which the following are samples:—

CHICAGO, Illinois, Dec. 18, 1886.

Messrs. Wm. Lech & Sons, Peterborough:—

GENTLEMEN,—Enclosed, please find N. Y. Exchange for One Hundred & Fifty Dollars in payment of enclosed acc't which please receipt and return. I am glad to say that Mrs. Stewart is very much pleased with the garment, and hope that it is as good as it looks. Wishing you a Merry Christmas and a Happy and Prosperous New Year. I am &c., A. STEWART.

ONTARIO REFORMATORY FOR BOYS, PENETANGUISHENE, Feb. 9, 1887.

DEAR MR. LECH,—The Coat and Furs for my daughter, duly reached me last week and I am perfectly satisfied with them, indeed, they reflect the highest credit on your Establishment and thorough good taste and judgment in your selection of the skins used. I now enclose you my cheque on the Bank of Montreal for the sum of $120.00 amount of indebtness to you as per account rendered. Kindly sign recept and return it. The Coat fits me beautifully, but requires another fastening near the throat, please send me one.

WM. LECH, PETERBOROUGH. I am Yours faithfully, WILLIAM P. BAND.

But with regret we must acknowledge that instances come to our notice, which by book we have disproved, where goods of us received credit as having been bought in some larger city. The motive of this action being, no doubt, to make the articles in question appear more valuable. Such action, although not creditable, is quite useless, as we claim to manufacture only such articles in Fur Goods as will uphold that reputation of which we feel justly proud.

Comparison is courted. No other work has the BRILLIANCY and FINISH.

WHY?

Because experience and close study has developed talent in Chemistry, Lighting, and Posing. In days when such learning was required imperatively in a cocessful photography Mr. Sproule was practicing the business an i today it places his work ahead of competitors. Because only the best materials are used. No other establishment in Canada is using throughout the same class of materials. He works with no cheap instruments. THE CHOLERA AT NEW YORK.

The Health Officer Reports Regarding the Alesia's Passengers.

NEW YORK, Oct. 8.—Health Officer Smith has prepared a report of the cholera cases which were thrust upon his hands by the steamship Alesia from Naples. It states that the disease has been very virulent and rapid in its fatality in the majority of cases. In several instances the patients were well at one inspection and nearly pulseless twelve hours later. The report also tells how the ship was fumigated. It was thoroughly washed with boiling water twice and afterwards with a solution of corrosive sublimate, two parts to 1000 of water. All clothing and textile fabrics were soaked in boiling water for hours, and 100 pounds of sulphur was twice burned in the hold. Of the eight cases removed from the ship on her arrival, five died and three recovered. Of those which have developed since the removal to quarantine, nine died, four recovered, five are convalescent, and the remaining two are seriously ill. Dr. Smith thinks the infection is now entirely destroyed.

Surveyor Beattie has preferred charges against Capt. Vallet, of the steamship Alesia. It is alleged that the captain did not provide proper hospitals for his passengers; that he failed to provide tables and seats for steerage passengers, and that in his manifest of passengers he did not give the cause of death of the passengers who died on the passage. Capt. Vallet was held in $6000 for the grand jury.

The agents of the Alesia say that her misfortune has a discouraging effect on Italian emigration to this country.

How Mexicans View it.

NEW YORK, Oct. 8.—A despatch from Merida, Mexico, says that port has been closed against the United States on account of the epidemic of cholera in New York.

THE FISHERY COMMISSION.

Secretary Bayard Has a Conference With Messrs. Putnam and Angell.

WASHINGTON, Oct. 9.—Messrs. Putnam and Angell, the two gentlemen who, with Secretary Bayard, will represent this country in the negotiations between Great Britain and the United States for the settlement of the fishery trouble arising under the treaty of 1818, arrived in this city yesterday and held a preliminary conference with Secretary Bayard, at which a mutual interchange of views and a general discussion of the subject of negotiation took place. The Secretary had not met the gentlemen since their acceptance of the position offered them, and he desired to talk over the matter with them and also to bring his two colleagues together. The discussion touched generally upon all the points of the dispute, and suggestions were made as to matters which it would be well to look up closely in order that this Government might be prepared to meet any arguments raised by the negotiations on the part of Great Britain.

Messrs. Putnam and Angell will remain here for a day or so in conference with the secretary and in the examination of the voluminous official correspondence relative to the treaty, which it is necessary to study and which can be more readily obtained here.

DAVITT AT NEW YORK.

He Will Sail for Home on Wednesday on the Steamer Celtic.

NEW YORK, Oct. 8.—Michael Davitt, the Irish leader, arrived in this city from Pittsburg this evening. On Wednesday he will sail for home on the steamer Celtic. "I think," said he, speaking of the prosecution of Mr. Sullivan, "that the Government has made a mistake. It is refreshing to know that some one besides ourselves are making mistakes. The prosecution was entirely unauthorized, but I may be speaking feelingly on the subject, as I believe I shall be prosecuted when I return. Besides rest, my trip here has been because of the woolen manufacturing interests of my country. Too many Irishmen are coming here for the good of Ireland, and it is our intention to stop them coming by furnishing adequate employment at home."

MURDER OR SUICIDE.

A Man With a Bullet Hole in His Side Found Dead at Brockville.

BROCKVILLE, Oct. 8.—J. D. Raymond, who was United States Consul in Ottawa about twenty years ago, was found dead yesterday morning in McCrady & Sons' tannery here, in which he was employed. A bullet hole was found in his side, and death had evidently taken place early in the night. It is not believed that he committed suicide, but how the shooting occurred is unknown. The family of the deceased live at Ogdensburg, N.Y.

DEALING WITH MONOPOLY

THE KNIGHTS CONGRESS CONSIDERS THE STANDARD OIL COMPANY.

The Committee on Conspiracies Takes up Jay Gould and Reports that he Has Grown so Powerful that he Would Stop at Nothing.

MINNEAPOLIS, Oct. 8.—The Knights of Labor Convention opened at 9.15 this morning. Thomas H. Lowry of District 111, Bradford, Pa., moved to suspend rules in order to be given time to read an appeal on the operations of the Standard Oil monopoly. This motion was carried and the paper read by Mr. Lowry. It was of considerable length and referred in unmeasured terms to the operations of the monopoly mentioned, and will be a key note for the other papers of similar nature to be presented.

The appeal was received with applause and cheers, catcalls and cries of "Down with them," etc., and was placed in the hands of the Committee of Distribution. It will be indorsed unanimously.

The roll call of district assemblies occupied some time, and Mr. Powderly, on motion, appointed a committee of five on the labor journal and another of five on immigration.

Mr. Noyes, Chairman of the Committee on Conspiracies, resumed his report. This was quite exciting in tenor and gave rise to much spirited talk on the part of O'Reilly of New York and Secretary Litchman of Massachusetts. The latter said that Jay Gould had grown so powerful that he would stop at nothing. He had absorbed the Baltimore and Ohio Railway, certain new telegraph lines and if he saw fit he could defeat any laws or legislation passed by the senate of any state in the country. The discussion upon conspiracies occupied the remainder of the morning session.

There was no session of the General Assembly Knights of Labor this afternoon. In the evening an open meeting for the discussion of the land question was attended by about fifty Knights, and some twenty-five spoke on the subject. The land theories of Henry George were talked over. Next week the topics, Anarchy and Henry Georgeism, will be discussed in similar meetings.

The various committees appointed to report upon the numberless questions that have been introduced into the General Assembly are hard at work to-night, and the one in particular which is to consider the absorption of the Baltimore and Ohio by the Western Union has been favored with a hundred and one suggestions. Jay Gould was bitterly denounced in the debate to-day, which ended in the appointment of the committee, and there were times when half of the delegates were on their feet and claiming the recognition of the chair for the purpose of roasting the railroad magnate. His name was also brought into the discussion of the report on the conspiracy laws, and it was claimed that he could defeat any legislation, national or state, that was adverse to his views or interests.

AFFAIRS AT OTTAWA.

The Election in Colchester Will Take Place on October 27.

OTTAWA, Oct. 9.—Messrs. John Kennedy, chief engineer of the Montreal Harbor Commissioners, and Frank Turner, C.E. of Toronto, have been appointed a commission to report upon the completion of the Trent Valley canal. A third commissioner will be appointed.

His Excellency the Governor-General was at his office yesterday afternoon, and had a conference with Sir John after the council meeting.

The writ for a new election in Colchester, N.S., has been issued. The nomination takes place on Oct. 20, and the polling, if one on Oct. 27.

The work of construction is being vigorously pushed on the Pontiac Pacific Junction Railway. Four of the piers for the bridge across the Coulonge River are completed and work on the superstructure will be commenced in about two weeks. The road now extends ten miles north of the Coulonge.

Hon. Mr. Chapleau is expected here to-morrow, and Hon. Mr. Bowell and Sir Charles Tupper about Wednesday. It is anticipated that a number of important matters will be settled at the first meeting of council after their arrival.

CRONYN'S CREDITORS MEET.

It is Found That no Estate of Any Consequence is Left.

LONDON, Oct. 9.—A meeting of Benjamin Cronyn's creditors took place yesterday afternoon, only four gentlemen and lawyers being present. The meeting was held at the sheriff's office, with Sheriff Glass in the chair. It was found that Mr. Cronyn had hypothecated all his available securities and no estate of any consequence was left. Three inspectors were appointed, two of whom were bank managers, but the latter declined to act, the institutions they represent not being sufficiently interested. It will be remembered that Mr. Cronyn, who was solicitor for the Ontario Investment Association, left for parts unknown a short time since.

TALKING 190 MILES.

Telephone Communication Established Between Ottawa and Montreal.

OTTAWA, Oct. 9.—Direct telephonic communication between Ottawa and Montreal was established yesterday, and several conversations between parties in the political and commercial capitals took place. The wire will be opened to the public in a few days. The line is 190 miles in length and runs along the south bank of the Ottawa River. It was built in thirty-five days by Messrs. Abearn and Soper for the Bell Telephone Company, and cost about $18,000.

A Scotch Artillery Team Coming.

OTTAWA, Oct. 9.—It has been ascertained that the reason a Scotch artillery team did not come over, as was expected, to take part in the recent meeting at the Island of Orleans, was delay in the War Office in answering their application for permission. It is understood that the team has now got permission for next year and will surely come. It is also probable that an English team, under command of Major Cameron, will be present next year.

Attempt to Wreck an Excursion Train.

SIOUX CITY, Ia., Oct. 8.—An attempt was made last night to wreck the Yankton passenger train on the Milwaukee & St. Paul Road, on a curve a mile this side of Elk Point, by fastening an oak tie on the track. The engineer discovered the obstruction too late to stop, but luckily the train was not derailed. Over 500 excursionists were crowded into the coaches, and had the designs of the villains been accomplished the loss of life would have been frightful. A sheriff's posse is on the trail of the perpetrators.

New Steamers for the Pacific Route.

MONTREAL, Oct. 7.—Sir George Stephen, president of the Canadian Pacific Railway, will leave for England next month to arrange for the building of three powerful steamers of 4000 tons each for Pacific Ocean service.

ASSAILED BY THE POLICE.

AN OUTRAGEOUS OCCURRENCE IN NEW YORK ON SATURDAY.

The Police Wilfully Assault the Crowd at a Labor Meeting in Union-square, Using Their Clubs Vigorously—It was a Police "Mistake."

NEW YORK, Oct. 8.—The ratification mass meeting of the Progressive Labor Party in Union-square to-night was turned into a riot through a mistake of Police Capt. Reilly of the Nineteenth Precinct, who was in command of the police. From 3000 to 4000 men turned out with banners and torches to listen to addresses by the leading men of the party. Speeches were made from three places—the cottage and two trucks that were stationed at either side of the cottage near the middle of the square. For some time the people on the platform of the cottage saw that some kind of trouble was going on at the outskirts of the crowd near Broadway, and the cry of "George, George, Henry George," could be heard above the voices of the speakers and the cheering of those near at hand.

But without any apparent warning the crowd broke and ran in the direction of Fourth-avenue, and behind it was a double line of police using their long night sticks mercilessly. All who came within reach of their clubs were not spared, and the sound of the blows could be heard above the shrieks of women, the cries of men and the music of a band that, unconscious of what was going on, was playing the "Marseillaise" on the other side of the square.

Back fell the frightened crowd and when they did not move quickly enough a policeman aided their progress. Men who carried transparencies dropped them in their flight, and policemen were seen to break them with their clubs and jump upon them as with fiendish glee. American flags were torn from the trucks by officers and thrown to the ground to be trampled upon. There was only one red flag at the meeting, and that was carried away by the man who had charge of it.

While the disturbance was at its height a woman standing near the cottage was knocked down and trampled upon. Her clothing was torn, and she was carried in a faint to the stand by the park policemen. At this juncture Col. Hinton, whose friends had been trying to restrain him, rushed to the front of the stand, and cried: "Bring me an American flag; for heaven's sake, bring me a flag." A small silk flag was thrust into his hand, and he raised it high in the air and shouted: "I fought for this flag, and, by heaven, I am willing to die under it."

By this time the crowd began to assemble again around the stand. It was a fierce-looking mass, and many of them were hatless and had blood streaming down their cheeks.

Police Commissioner Voorhis had been standing back of the stand chatting with Capt. Beatty, who was in charge of the park policemen. When he saw the police charge the crowd he rushed into the midst of the crowd and sought out Capt. Reilly, who long ere this knew that a mistake had been made. The police were ordered to stop their clubbing and told to report to the Captain near the stand. They did so and the crowd returned again. As soon as any number of people were near the stand the people harangued them on the outrage that had been committed.

While this was going on Capt. Reilly came to the stand and made a statement to the reporters. He said that E. C. Thomas, a member of the committee in charge of the arrangements, came to him at his station at Fourth-avenue and Seventeenth-street and said that a crowd of George men were interfering with the speaking and asked him to disperse them. "I was afraid to send a roundsman to do it," he said, "and I went myself, taking twenty men with me. The first thing that I knew the rest, 120 of my men, were clubbing right and left. I did my best to stop them, and rushed from man to man and ordered him back to his place."

Police Commissioner Voorhis said that the affair was a disgrace and he was very sorry that it had taken place.

Another Account of the Affair.

NEW YORK, Oct. 8,—The Progressive Labor party held a meeting to-night on the plaza at Union-square to ratify their State ticket. There were a number of red flags in the procession. On reaching the plaza they found the gas jets, usually lighted when mass meetings are held there, not lighted. A bitter wrangle followed over this and the refusal of the police to allow their speakers to occupy the usual platforms. This was finally conceded, however, and speeches were made by S. E. Shevitch, Col. R. J. Hinton, J. E. Hall, candidate for Secretary of State, and others. All denounced the action of the police.

While the speaking was in progress the police, of whom 150 were present, attacked a portion of the crowd, and several were severely clubbed. There was a stampede of the crowd, and in a minute the place was almost deserted. It was a truck from which the speakers had been addressing the crowd. The police attacked this and drove the occupants off. Col. Hinton cried out: "What is the meaning of this! We will test this in the courts, so help me God." The chairman called on the crowd to disperse peaceably, and declared the meeting adjourned. The number of people in front of the platform gradually increased. Col. Hinton seized the American flag and waving it aloft, cried: "By God, I've fought for this flag and I'm willing to die under it." Mrs. Hinton stood by his side. A couple of park policemen appeared in front of the platform, and said the speaking must stop. Mrs. M. G. Wilson of Chicago leaned over the railing of the platform and cried out that they would speak anyhow.

The police finally decided that the meeting might continue and speaking was resumed. The speeches that followed consisted mainly of denunciations of the conduct of the police.

THE IRISH TROUBLES.

The Alleged Murderers of Constable Whelahan Committed for Trial—Lord Mayor Sullivan's Paper Continues to Report League Meetings.

LONDON, Oct. 8.—The collapse of the Government's prosecution of Lord Mayor Sullivan and Mr. O'Brien involves a great deal more than mere delay in the enforcement of a single clause of the Coercion Act. Since the Dublin magistrate's decision and free construction of the clause of the act forbidding the publication of reports of the proceedings of suppressed branches of the National League the matter has been submitted to the crown lawyers in England and Ireland, and their opinion thus far given supports Magistrate O'Donnell's opinion, making it extremely improbable that the Government will proceed with its appeal from his decision. The discussion of the case in court disclosed a road by which the League may drive a coach and six through the Crimes Bill.

Judge O'Donnell dismissed the case against Mr. Sullivan, on the ground that proof was wanting that the reports published were those of branches that had been suppressed by proclamation. The Crown counsel pointed to the fact that this decision implied that the Government, in event of subsequent charges of illegal publication, must prove that the meetings whose proceedings were published, were really meetings of suppressed branches of the league, and that the persons present at such meeting were really members of those branches. This construction, he contended, was tantamount to permanently disabling the prosecution, unless the charges could be supported by the admissions of indriminated parties, and further than this it would be impossible under such interpretation of the act to obtain the evidence required to convict. The position, therefore, is that if the decision of the court holds good, not only will press prosecutions be futile, but the Government will have great difficulty in proving even that meetings of suppressed branches are illegal.

Committed for Trial.

DUBLIN, Oct. 8.—At Ennis to-day the prisoners under examination for complicity in the murder of Constable Whelehan were on the testimony of Callinan, the informer, committed for trial. Bail was refused. The populace cheered the prisoners as they were led back to jail. The defendants were committed to the Galway Jail. They all protested their innocence. An appeal will be taken to the Court of Queen's Bench to admit them to bail.

Still Publishing Reports of Meetings.

DUBLIN, Oct. 8.—Lord Mayor Sullivan, in his paper, continues to publish reports of the proceedings of suppressed branches of the league. The Nation mentions, as an indication of the support upon which it can count in defense of the liberty of the press, that several influential English and Scotch newspaper proprietors have offered the use of their premises, machinery and staffs if the Government closes The Nation office in Dublin.

Healy Abuses the Landlords.

DUBLIN, Oct. 9.—A league mass meeting was held at Longford to-day. During the proceedings the platform collapsed and a Government reporter was injured. T. M. Healy, M. P., chaffed the reporter on his first trial of plank bed. Continuing, Mr. Healy said that there would soon be no landlords left in Ireland. He would deal with the landlords in securing their rights as he would in driving rats from a haystack. The landlords were more bothered by the Plan of Campaign than they were by the killing of bailiffs. The deadliest place to hit them was their pockets. He hoped that the mortgages of Lord Granard would not leave him a brass farthing to bless himself with. The Irish were strong enough to subdue the paltry loyalist crew.

THE HOMELESS OF LONDON.

At a Meeting in Trafalgar-square They Demand Work or Bread.

LONDON, Oct. 8.—Two hundred of the poor, homeless, unemployed persons, who sleep at night in Trafalgar-square, to-day paraded in a body through the principal streets in the West End. They carried a black banner bearing in white letters the inscription: "We will have Work or Bread." A large force of police, mounted and on foot, accompanied the procession, which eventually returned to Trafalgar-square, and, with the followers attracted, held a meeting. The orators who addressed this assemblage, described the hardship of the lot of those whose only resting place in London at night was in a public square, and declared that the only means they had of drawing the attention of the public to their condition was by such demonstrations as they had just made. The meeting adopted a resolution to reassemble in the same place next Monday, and continue to parade daily until relief was afforded.

STANLEY'S EXPEDITION.

At Last Accounts it Was Near to Emin Bey's Position.

LONDON, Oct. 8.—Advices from Zanzibar state that news of Stanley's expedition spread among the tribes near Albert Nyanza. King Mwanga, who is still fighting the tribes inhabiting the country south of Albert Nyanza, sent messengers to Emin Bey to obtain information regarding the expedition. Mwanga seeks to win the support of Emin Bey. The approach of Stanley will, therefore, tend to pacificate Aganda. Emin Bey sent two squads of ten men each to meet Stanley. One will go to the southern shore of Albert Nyanza and the other to Mhagi, the military post which Emin Bey established about the middle of the west shore of the lake. The latter detachment will thence advance westward across the Blue Mountains.

CHANGES AT THE EMBASSIES.

Either Lord Dufferin or Lord Lansdowne Will Go to Paris.

LONDON, Oct. 8.—A wholesale transfer of the British Ambassadors is contemplated. It is not yet certain that Sir Edward Malet will leave Berlin for Paris. Paris will probably be saved for Lord Dufferin or Lord Lansdowne, either of whom would make a perfect ambassador. Sir Edward Malet wishes to leave Berlin because he is not on good terms with the Crown Prince. But he is unpopular in Paris. The French only know him as a friend of Bismarck and an opponent of France in Egypt. His appointment would be fatal to such good relations as exist between France and England.

A Monarch Hard to Kill.

LONDON, Oct. 8.—The Sultan of Morocco is not dead, notwithstanding that dispatches from Tangier yesterday reported his death and the accession of his son to the throne. A dispatch received to-day from Tangier says it is officially announced that His Majesty is not only alive, but that his condition is better than it has been for some days.

It is reported that the attempt to poison the late Sultan was the result of a harem intrigue. Some time ago poison was discovered in some food prepared for the Sultan, and since then he had eaten nothing unless the servants partook of it first.

REOPENING SERVICES.

The reopening services of the Methodist Church, Fraserville, took place on Sunday, September 15th. Rev. T. Manning B. A., of Oshawa, delivered eloquent addresses morning and evening, many were unable to gain admittance in the evening. Mr. Manning is especially popular, not only on this circuit; one of his former fields of labour, but also in Peterborough, in Oshawa and other places where people have been fortunate enough in securing his services. His sermons on both occasions were eloquent and spiritual ones and came with unction to many christian hearts. The collections were large.

On Monday, Sept. 26th, tea was served from 4 to 7 o'clock p.m., and is acknowledged by many as the best spread ever sat at a tea-meeting in this vicinity—this speaks well for the ladies. After tea the crowd wended their way to the beautiful church which is admired by all, and had the pleasure of listening to the following gentlemen: Rev. Mr. Manning, of Oshawa; Rev. Mr. Tovell, of Peterborough; Rev. Mr. Gee, of Millbrook. Jas. Stevenson, Esq., M.P.P., occupied the chair, and addressed the meeting. Everything passed off well, and all went home delighted with the day's enjoyment.

The church is handsome, and is without doubt the most beautiful country place of worship in Peterborough district. The amount of money obtained since Sunday, 25th, is $210. The church has a debt of about $180.

The singing in connection with the above services was all that could be desired. The choir was trained by Miss Rose Hutchings, the organist of the church. Few town's choirs could equal the music rendered. All lovers of music were highly pleased with it.

RESIDENCE COMPLETED.

Mr. John Bothwell's beautiful residence is completed, and is a credit to the neighborhood—standing as it does on a hill it presents an attractive appearance and is admired by all. On approaching the building one naturally suggested as they view the finish so universally done. The house is conveniently laid out and exhibits great taste. Mr. Bothwell is to be congratulated because of the beautiful home he has procured for himself and family.

To give a description of the inside,—suffice it to say,—it is near a perfect building as it is possible to get, and reflects great praise to Mr. Wm. Fitzgerald, the contractor, who has performed his work to the very letter, verily, even more is done than agreed to. We believe a few of the farmers in this locality intend building at an early date and judging from reports, Mr. Fitzgerald will be employed. The painting was executed by Mr. Ralph Carton, and is especially good. The wood work throughout is nicely grained and evinces much artistic skill. Mr. Carton is recognized as a first-class painter. Mr. Fitzgerald, otherwise, and Mr. Carton, painter, are residents of Peterborough. Mr. Bothwell's house bears close inspection and is one of the best in the township of Cavan.

And Her Talented Company.—A Delightful Entertainment.

(Montreal Witness.)

"When the nature of yesterday's entertainment gets abroad among the children of this city, the Queen's Hall will not be (at any rate should not be) large enough to contain the audience. Tom Thumb's widow—now the Countess Magri—her husband, and her brother-in-law, all enraptured those who saw them. The Countess (though 43 years of age) looked particularly diminutive beside a little girl of eight, and a very small tot of five years almost rivalled her in stature. When the Count and Baron were about to display their capital swordmanship in a duel, they look for all the world like Tweedledum and Tweedledee in "Through the Looking-glass." The Baron is an exquisite whistler, and accompanies his brother's piccolo; the latter sang a character solo, "The Duchess of Devonshire", and a humorous duet with his wife, in which both were captivating.

"Mr. Davis' conjuring was thoroughly enjoyed—the more so that he seemed to enjoy it himself. And his ventriloquism, in which he is an expert, brought down the house over and over again.

"Perhaps the most excruciatingly funny performance that has ever been seen was that of the Marionettes in their "Minouw" scene. Two cats, of the usual size, with human faces, appeared on the tiles of a house and went through a duet of sound and action of the most realistic kind. The roars of laughter which greeted this and the other scenes of these semi-human puppets will help to keep the audience cheerful for many a day to come."

The above company plays in the Opera House here Friday next, afternoon and evening. Don't miss it.

Ladies troubled with Pimples, Blotches, Rough Hands or Face, or Sores of any description, should use McGregor & Parke's Carbolic Cerate. Be Prepared.

Many of the worst attacks of cholera morbus, cramps, dysentery, and colic comes suddenly in the night, and the most speedy and prompt means must be used to combat their dire effects. Dr. Fowler's Extract of Wild Strawberry is the remedy. Keep it at hand for emergencies. It never fails to cure or relieve. 2w40d

A Severe Attack.

"I never felt better in my life than I have since taking Burdock Blood Bitters. I had a severe bilious attack; I could not eat for several days, and was unable to work. One bottle cured me. John M. Richards, Sr., Tara, Ont. For all bilious troubles use B. B. B. 2w40d

Reasons why you should purchase Fluid Lightning in preference to all other remedies are:—Rapid result—cures instantly. It is easily applied—no trouble—no lost time. It does not require constant use—one application is effectual. One bottle will remove more pain than any other remedy in existence. Try it for Neuralgia, Toothache, Headache, Rheumatism. Sold at 25c. a bottle by John McKee, Druggist. eodw35

Murder Will Out

SO WILL THE TRUTH.

And the Truth is that GOUGH can Sell Clothing Cheaper than the Imaginary Clothier can Buy them,

OTHERWISE HIS $1000 CHALLENGE WOULD BE ACCEPTED.

It is an old game for a competitor, who cannot compete, to cry shoddy. Poor fellows, they must get up some excuse, but GOUGH has great confidence in the public's judgment. Therefore I say to intending buyers. look them all through and then come to GOUGH, and if you are not convinced that he has ten times more goods, 50 per cent better goods, and at prices at least 25 per cent lower than the cheapest of them, he will give you a Suit or an Overcoat FOR NOTHING.

I can give you an Overcoat to fit any size Man from $3 up to $18.
I can give you a Man's Suit from $2.75 up to $18.
I can give you a good, Heavy Guernsey Shirt or Drawers for 25c.
I can give you a Splendid All Wool Shirt or Drawers for 45c.
I can give you 5 Pairs Men's All Wool Home-made Socks for $1.00.
I can give you a Good Cardigan Jacket for 75 cents.
In a word, I can give you anything in GENTLEMEN'S WEAR at less, in many instances, THAN FIRST COST OF MANUFACTURE.

I have just Received another $10,000 Bankrupt Stock, bought at 61½ cents on the dollar.

If a merchant buys a Bankrupt Stock of Gold Watches at 50 cents on the dollar, it don't make the watches brass; and when GOUGH buys a Bankrupt Stock at 61½ cents on the dollar, it don't make his goods shoddy. Therefore use your own senses, take no man's word, and when you want a good Suit of Clothes or an Overcoat, don't buy until you at least see the MAGNIFICENT STOCK kept by

SPORTING NEWS.

A Bad Day at Montreal.

MONTREAL, Oct. 8.—The exhibition game of lacrosse here this afternoon between the Torontos and Shamrocks was spoiled by wet grass—a small attendance and wet weather. The first game, which was won by the Torontos in five minutes, was characterized by good lacrosse, devoid of anything like rough-house and at times the team play was brilliant, but the visitors seemed to be the faster men and handled the rubber oftener than the home team.

Before the second game had proceeded far, at which there was considerable roughness, rain prevented further play.

Steeplechasing in Montreal.

MONTREAL, Oct. 8.—The Montreal Hunt Club steeplechase meeting was brought to a close today with an excellent afternoon's sport. The judges were John Crawford and Wm. Hendrie and J. P. Dawes officiated as starter. The weather was most unfavorable and rain fell at intervals, but the attendance was one of the largest ever seen on Blue Bonnett course. The day was marked by several accidents—which in one case proved fatal to a horse and probably to a rider—and was also disastrous for backers of the favorites as only one, Prince Charlie, was successful.

Williamson's Long Throw.

During Thursday's game at Pittsburg between the Pittsburg and Chicago clubs, Mr. Williamson threw a base ball from the home plate out into the centre field, a distance of 133 yards 1 foot. This is only 7¼ inches short of the famous throw made by John Hatfield in Brooklyn on Oct. 14, 1872, but as the ball thrown by Williamson Thursday was caught on the fly by Carroll (at about waist high), it would have gone far beyond Hatfield's throw if left alone to strike the ground. Williamson is among the entries for the long throwing contest, which is to be held next week in Cincinnati, and his throw Thursday was made in practising for the contest. He is looked upon as the winner among the league players.

Betting on the World Championship Games.

ST. LOUIS, Oct. 8.—Some lively betting has been going on here to-day on the world's championship series. Frank Herdick of Cleveland backed Detroit with $1000 against $800 for the series. Five thousand dollars were put up by the Brown's backers. On Monday's game the bets, rather strangely, are $1000 to $800 on the Browns, while for the series they are $1000 to $900 on the Detroits. On prominent Detroit speculator to-night sent $1000 to back his team.

Concerning the Sale of the Mets.

NEW YORK, Oct. 8.—Concerning the sale of the Metropolitan Club to the management of the Brooklyn Club, Manager Byrne says: "Negotiations began between John B. Day and Mr. Wiman. The former offered $10,000. After consultation with Messrs. Doyle and Abell, I offered Mr. Wiman $30,000 for the franchise, players, etc. It was at once accepted. On Sept. 23 I gave a check for $6000; Oct. 1, another for $7500 was handed Mr. Wiman, and the balance, $12,500, was paid Oct. 3. The Metropolitan directors then resigned and P. A. Abell assumed the presidency of the association, while yours truly was made secretary. The Mets next season will play on Manhattan Island."

In Brief, And To The Point.

Dyspepsia is dreadful. Disordered liver is misery. Indigestion is a foe to good nature.

The human digestive apparatus is one of the most complicated and wonderful things in existence. It is easily put out of order.

Greasy food, tough food, sloppy food, bad cookery, mental worry, late hours, irregular habits, and many other things which ought not to be, have made the American people a nation of dyspeptics.

But Green's August Flower has done a wonderful work in reforming this sad business and making the American people so healthy that they can enjoy their meals and be happy.

Remember:—No happiness without health. But Green's August Flower brings health and happiness to the dyspeptic. Ask your druggist for a bottle. Seventy-five cents.

To Avoid Baldness or Keep Hair.

Use Dr. Dorenwend's Great German Hair Magic. It stops the scalp from itching, cures Dandruff, and promotes the growth of the hair. It prevents premature greyness and stops all falling out of the hair. On bald heads, where the roots have been published, it will invigorate them and force a new growth of hair. Ask for Hair Magic. It is the only reliable. For sale by J. D. Tully and all druggists.

An Old Time Favorite

The season of green fruits and summer drinks is the time when the worst forms of cholera morbus and bowel complaints generally prevail. As a safeguard Dr. Fowler's Extract of Wild Strawberry should be kept at hand. For 30 years it has been the most reliable remedy. 2w40

From a Grateful Mother.

My little child suffered from a severe cold upon the lungs, until she was like a little skeleton before she took Burdock Blood Bitters, after which she became fat and hearty, and was cured of weak lungs, constipation and debility or wasting of flesh, from which two doctors had failed to relieve her. Mrs. Samuel Todd, Stanton Bay, Ont. 2w40d

"What is McGregor's Speedy Cure for"?

It is for Dyspepsia, Liver Complaint, Indigestion, Biliousness, and it is the finest blood purifier in the known world to-day.

"Does it give satisfaction?"

We cannot point to one instance where it did not.

"Where does it have the largest sale?"

Right in the city of Hamilton, where it is manufactured, there has been over one thousand dollars' worth sold in the last year retail, and the great majority of the sales are by one recommending it to another. For sale at 50c. and $1.00 per bottle by John McKee, Druggist eodw35

Certain Cure.

A CURE FOR CHOLERA MORBUS.—A positive cure for this dangerous complaint, and for all acute or chronic forms of bowel complaint incident to summer and fall, is found in Dr. Fowler's Extract of Wild Strawberry, to be procured from any druggist. 2w40d

I have been bothered with catarrh for about twenty years. I had lost my sense of smell entirely for the last fifteen years, and I had to get some one to thread my needle. Now I have my hearing as well as I ever had, and I can see to thread as fine a needle as ever I did. My sense of smell is partly restored; it seems to be improving all the time. I think there is nothing like Ely's Cream Balm for Catarrh.—Mrs. E. E. Grimes, Rendrill, Ohio. eodw40

Grand Results.

For several years R. H. Brown, of Kincardine, suffered from dyspepsia, he says he tried several physicians and a host of remedies without relief. His druggist recommended B. B. B., which he declares produced "grand results" for which he gives it his highest recommendation. 2w40d

THE WAR CLOUD BUSTED.

VICTORY has Perched on the Banner of PETERBOROUGH'S GREAT CHEAPSIDE!

And SHEPPARD, by common consent, will get $1,000 for being the Cheapest Clothier in Peterborough, having knocked the Wonderful Cheap Man completely out. "Business is Business; Dirt is Dirt, and when it comes to throwing Dirt, then Count" the only original teddy out, and he will hand over that $1,000 like a little man: For the following reasons:—

Sheppard sells a full size Man's Suit for $2.95, and better Goods than a Suit to fit a Child about 9 years old sold by the Wonderful Cheap-Man on Saturday for $3.00; but marked $3.50. This is how it was:—A Lady purchased a Child's Suit on Saturday last, Sept. 17th, 1887, at the Store of the Wonderful Cheap-Man. It was marked thusly:—Lot 5375, Breast 27, Waist 26½, Age 9, Price $3.50. It was pure Shoddy, being held together by cotton threads, and Sheppard is free to say that that was the dearest Suit sold in the Town of Peterborough for the last two years. Full particulars are given because of the $1000 involved, and, further, that this decides who is selling the Cheapest Clothing in Peterborough. SHEPPARD would have sold that Lady a Suit, Pure Wool for that money, and worth two of the one she got.

I had first decided to give the agencies a chance of jumping up my rating that $1.000, but after considering the matter and finding that never in any case have I been asked for an endorser to my paper, and that no relative or any other persons have ever endorsed my paper to the extent of one cent, I have come to the conclusion my credit is as good as yours and will ask you to hand over the $1,000 to the Charitable Institutions of Peterborough.

Now, Sir, there is a good story told the truth of which can be vouched for, but for the honor of at least making an effort to keep up your self-styled name—The Terror of High Priced Clothiers—do not allow the same to be said of you in the case above. A man purchased a suit for $15.00 at the store of one of the largest Advertisers in that section of country. It was guaranteed pure wool; but after examining it carefully at home, he came to the conclusion that he had been dealing with some one sharper than himself. Finding a make of wool, differing some from anything he had ever seen, it dawned upon him, that he had heard of wool of that kind, so the suit was returned. The merchant bet $25.00 that it was all wool, and the bet was accepted the decision being left to a neighboring merchant, he found that the $15.00 suit, was wool faced and shoddy back, pure unadulterated shoddy, but what of the $25.00 bet, was it paid, not much—muchly—as it were.

A Port Hope Motto.

The Port Hope Times referring to an item it copied from the EXAMINER regarding the negotiations of a St. Catherines gentleman for the establishment of saw works here, says:—"There are saw works on the lookout for a location. Let the Committee consider the matter. Eternal diligence is the price of prosperity."

Conundrum Answered.

Because Wilson and Morrison's business in "The Manufacturer's Life" for the last ten weeks has exceeded over half a million dollars, being more than the combined insurance of all our competitors. The boom still continues, saying nothing of the large Fire, Accident and Plate Glass business.

"Moral"—Insure in the Manufacturer. dw

Complimentary.

The Omemee Herald says:—"Bannell Sawyer, the head of the Business College, Peterborough, showed some fine specimens of penmanship which were much admired. Mr. Sawyer has been very successful this season competing against nearly all the Business Colleges at the Provincial in Ottawa, and carrying off the highest diploma."

Miss Johnston, the new dress-maker at Turnbull's, is making up Ladies costumes in the latest city styles.

What Does It Do?

It qualifies men and women, boys and girls, desiring to enter commercial life, to fill, immediately after leaving College, responsible positions in business houses, as book-keepers and financial managers; it qualifies merchants and manufacturers to keep their own books, manage their own banking and financial affairs, and gives farmers' sons such a business training as they can nowhere else receive. It qualifies typewriters, shorthand writers, and telegraph operators.

Royal Arcanum.

Bro. H. English, Grand Guide, of Toronto and another Grand Council representitive have been directed by the Grand Regent to pay an official visit to Peterborough Council No. 735. Accordingly on Thursday evening next an open meeting will be held in the Foresters' Hall over Long Bros. store, when short addresses will be delivered by the visiting brethren and others upon the aims and plans of the Royal Arcanum. A short musical programme will also be presented. The public are invited.

Young Man! Remember, you can get a fine Scotch Tweed Suit made to order at Turnbull's for $16.

Thiev s in Sunday School.

Yesterday a lad attending a certain Sunday School in town had a silver bugle ornament cut off his cap and stolen. Thefts of a like nature are frequently reported from different schools, hats and other articles of wearing apparel being pilfered.

A Belleville Opinion.

The Ontario, commenting upon the funk of Cooper, the Belleville bicyclist, who refused to ride Greatrix here last week, says:—"For the credit of local wheelmen Cooper ought to be encouraged to stay at home or else carry out what he undertakes."

F r Last Evening.

Mr. Geo. E. Williams, the late secretary of the Y.M.C.A. here, leaves to-morrow for his new home in London, England, via Montreal. He will be at the rooms to-night for the last time to say farewell to his friends.

Returned to England.

Mr. J. Dixon Morgan, the great and "most unhappy" English poet (with indigestion), left town on Saturday evening for Montreal where he hopes to secure a passage "over the pond" to London by one of the ocean steamships. When he left he had just 35 cents in his pocket and a parcel of food large enough to last him a couple of days. He went east by the "fastest line on the earth," in charge of a car of horses.

The Scotch Evangelist.

Mr. Douglass Russell, the great Scotch evangelist, well-known in Peterborough, will revisit the town in about a fortnight and hold a week's series of evangelistic meetings. Mr. Russell is on a holiday trip to Canada, and has expressed a wish to revisit Peterborough, where he met with great success a few years ago. He will also hold evangelistic services at Belleville, Brockville and Toronto before returning home. It cannot be stated just yet where the meetings here will be held, but it will, in all probability, be in the Gospel hall. Definite announcements will be made later on.

A Point of Interest.

The Central Exhibition is over and despite the "boycott" of the weather was a gratifying success. Visitors flocked to town in hundreds, and were interested not only in the sights at the fair ground but in many places of importance and renown in the city. Among these places of interest was Elliott & Tierney's grocery store, where the cheap prices and excellent quality of the goods sold attract people from all over the district. The public are invited to call at Elliott & Tierney's and get the benefit to be had from a really cheap store. Their stock comprises groceries and provisions of every kind but only one quality—the best—and all at lowest prices.

Railway Note.

Lindsay Post:—"It is likely that the new fall time-table of the Midland Grand Trunk, on the completion of the new iron bridge at Peterborough, will effect some extensive changes in the train service. The present Port Hope-Toronto train will be discontinued. Instead of it a fast express will run from Belleville via Peterborough and Lindsay to Toronto and return. The local express on the main line now leaving Cobourg in the morning will leave Peterborough, and will go via Port Hope. The old train will run straight through from Port Hope to Midland and return. A fast mixed will leave Lindsay at 6 or 6:30 a.m., reaching Toronto at 9:30 or 10 a.m. This is merely an outline of arrangements likely to go into force, but is in no sense official or inspired."

A Military Suggestion.

During the exhibition here last week a large number of men and boys "smuggled" themselves into the grounds by surreptitiously burrowing under the fence in distant parts of the grounds or jumping over. The directors were greatly annoyed at the nuisance, but as no adequate preparations had been made to abate it they could do nothing for the present. Not only this, but sneak thieves were in the habit of prowling about the grounds at night and pilfering all they could lay hands on. The secretary, Mr. D. D Gallelly, comes forward with a suggestion that appears to be highly practicable and sensible. He proposes that in future years the fair ground, during exhibition time, be put under regular military parole night and day, the guards to be stationed at short distances apart and perform regular garrison duty. At night after a certain hour no one should be allowed to pass the gates without a pass-word, while during the day the guards could easily keep out interlopers. Thus not only would the interests of the Association and public be served, but the young soldiers of the Peterborough battalion would be given a taste of garrison duty—a very important part of a soldier's training. The appearance of armed red-coats pacing about the grounds would have a good effect upon these prowlers, and besides lend eclat to the exhibition. Mr. Gallelly, as an old soldier thinks his suggestion worthy of adoption throughout Canada, but as the proposition has its source here, the lead should be taken at our own local exhibition. The suggestion is meeting with the approbation of the directors of the exhibition, and if the battalion officers fall in with the idea it is not likely any objection will come from the government.

Rugby Football.

The Kingston Sixteen Walk Around Peterborough Club.—A Pleasing Termination to the Game.

A hundred or more persons, one-third ladies, saw the Kingston football club defeat the local team at Rugby football on the P.A.A. grounds Saturday afternoon. From start to finish it was apparent that the Kingstons would win, though in the last half time the home team rallied and played in much better form.

The game was a series of scrimmages from the beginning. In each scrimmage the Kingstons would invariably gain six or eight feet towards their opponents' goal, and when just on the point of scoring the Peterborough's would give "a long pull, a strong pull, and a pull together", and rush the ball to the other end of the field, to be gradually worked back again, with occasionally a score. In the first half the visitors made 14 points to their opponents' cipher.

In the second half the Peterboroughs played for all they were worth, shutting out the Kingstons completely, while they scored four. This was made by a magnificent run with the ball down field by Brennan, followed by Kirby, who relieved the Doctor of the bladder and scored a "try." In trying for goal Kirby made a beautiful kick, and only missed his mark by an inch.

It would be invidious to individualize the players on either teams. The Kingstons all played well together, and though having had very little practice this year, they played as veterans at the game such as they are should. The visiting team was composed of the best players in the Limestone city. The Peterboroughs were too careless at the beginning of the game, but in the second half showed that they were capable of great things.

Following are the teams, comprising only 14 men each, the visitors coming here one short.

Kingston.		Peterborough.
J. Elliott	back	H. L. Kirby
F. Patterson, A. C. Darrell, A. Bureau	half backs	G. Smith, W. D. Parker, Morris capt.
W. J. B. Waite, capt.	quarter back	J. Dr. Brennan, K. Kincaid
W. F. alick, R. Du ais, A. Gilleasp eve, C. F. Mitchell, E. B. Loucks, H. M. Mowat, W. Skinner, H. Jack	forwards	K. Stevens, G. Schofield, D. Strickland, F. Peploe, V. Halliday, C. Forbes, A. E. Scott, A. St. A. Smith

Before the visitors left for their homes they were entertained at supper at the Grand Central hotel. Dr. Burnham occupied the chair, and Capt. Morris the vice-chair. A pleasant time was had, and the Kingstonians were highly pleased with the treatment accorded them, while the Peterborough footballers sang of their guests with right goodwill "For they're jolly good fellows."

A Great Prize Getter.

The celebrated heavy draught stallion, "John Anderson", owned by Mr. W. M. Fair, North Monaghan, has a deservedly high reputation as a stock getter and as good a one as a prize getter, both by himself and through his stock. His colts always take a leading position, and the last Central Exhibition has been no exception. Mr. George McCue, Lindsay, has a fine colt which was successful in taking first prize at the Toronto Industrial, at the Port Perry Central, and at the Lindsay Central. It may be said to have carried everything before it till it came into competition with one of "John Anderson's" colts, when it had to take second place, Mr. Wm. Martin's "John Anderson" colt taking first prize. At the Peterborough Central a colt got by John Anderson and shown by Mr. Andrew Faulkner, carried off the prize, and colts sired by John Anderson took first prize at the Iowa state fair last spring and this fall. A good tree is known by its good fruit, and a good stallion is known by his good stock.

Police Court.

MONDAY, Oct. 10.

For admitted infractions of the Scott Act Mr. John Boyd was fined $50 and costs, Thos. Dunn $100 and costs, P. Lycett $50 and costs, and J. Walsh $50 and costs. The magistrate required the defendants to pay their fines immediately, and instructed the police to carry out this rule in all Scott Act cases.

W. McDonald was fined $5 for being drunk and disorderly Sunday night. It seemed that he had been arrested by P.C. McGinty early in the evening and taken to the police station. A friend came along, who promised to look after him and he was allowed to go. An hour afterwards the officer again arrested him. The magistrate in administering a fine this morning commented upon the action of the constable in allowing the prisoner to go the first time, and notified the police that in future they should not allow any prisoner but on bail without first securing authority from himself.

New Parish Priest.

Rev. Father McEvoy, late of Fenelon Falls, assumed charge of the parish of Peterborough yesterday. Rev. Father O'Brien has been appointed to the parish of Fenelon Falls. Both these appointments are temporary, pending the recovery of Rev. Father Conway.

Mr. McNaughton Replies to Mr. Loch.

To the Editor of the Examiner:—

SIR,—I would not have answered Mr. Loch's letter as there is nothing in it to answer except the low insinuations of my not being able to compose or write a letter, and I just want to say to Mr. Loch that I am plain John McNaughton and that I put on no airs, and that I do not go into the public print to advertise my business as a manufacturer and dealer in boots and shoes, and that I am responsible for everything that appears over my own signature.

As Mr. Loch in his letter of the 3rd, and in fact any and all of his letters are for the same purpose, viz:—to get an advertisement which will not cost anything, that to my mind is all that is in his last production, and in fact I have not met any person yet that could see it in any other way.

Now Mr. Editor if Mr. Loch thinks I am not qualified for my position I will challenge him to discuss the municipal questions of the town, in the Carling Rink, and will leave it to the audience to decide whether my west of Ireland brogue or Mr. Loch's Anglo-Dutch dialect will be the most entertaining to the public, or which of us understands the affairs of the town best. The expenses to be borne by the loser.

Now, one word Mr. Editor in regard to Mr. Loch and his bale of buffalo robes. If he paid sixty dollars taxes on them, he was a greater verdant than he is of later years as I find that he is a periodical visitor at the Court of Revision on an assessment of stock of fifteen hundred dollars, which at the present rate would not produce nineteen dollars taxes to the town, and I am informed that five seal sacques of which Mr. Loch carries a large number in stock, make up the total amount, and which would not be missed out of his supply. His believing in Mr. Moore's theory of fines, can easily be understood, as his nationality has a great preference for one per cent. Thanking you Mr. Editor for taking up space in your valuable paper.

Yours,
JOHN MCNAUGHTON.
Peterborough, Oct. 10th, 1887.

That Patent.

To the Editor of the Examiner:

DEAR SIR,—I notice in your local columns of Saturday, anent the departure of Mr. Carl Smart for California, that you refer to a certain patent for door-plates, the credit for the invention of which Mr. Smart appears to claim. I beg to say that I always claimed to be and was the actual inventor of those door-plates and applied for a patent for the same, but owing to a counter application of Mr. Smart for the same patent, to save litigation and expense over a patent in which there was no immediate probability of great profits, I consented to have a patent issued in the joint names of myself and Mr. Smart, which, in the course of time, will, no doubt, be granted.

Yours truly,
W. SPRINGER.

J. D. Thornton, C.D.C., reports a number of interesting suits to be disposed of before His Honor Judge Dean.

Personal.

Miss Johnston, late dress-maker for R. Walker & Sons, Toronto, has come to Peterborough and taken charge of Turnbull's dress-making. She will, no doubt, prove a valuable acquisition to Peterborough citizens and make Turnbull's the favorite resort for fashionable dress-making.

The Cardinal's Invitation.

When Cardinal Taschereau passed through Peterborough last week en route to Toronto he was waited upon at the station by His Lordship, Bishop Dowling, his secretary, Father Rudkins, and Vicar-General Rooney. The Bishop was invited to preach in Toronto yesterday, but on account of the illness of Rev. Father Conway could not absent himself.

The latest novelties of cloth are to be found in Turnbull's dress department. Miss Johnston, cuts and fits quickly, so that ladies from a distance can go home on the evening trains.

Comparison is courted. No other work has the BRILLIANCY and FINISH.

WHY?

Because experience and close study has developed talent in Chemistry, Lighting, and Posing. In days when such learning was required imperatively in successful photography Mr. Sproule was practicing the business and to-day it places his work ahead of competitors. Because only the best materials are used. No other establishment in Canada is using throughout the same class of materials. He works with no cheap instruments. His Studio is lighted and furnished the best, and all combined to give the subject ease and confidence.

His prices are not higher than competitors. He employs no person or persons to travel through the Country to puff up his business or work. It don't require such. dw

SCENE IN AN IRISH COURT.

AN M.P. THNEATENS TO CHASTIZE A CROWN OFFICIAL.

An Immense Meeting of the National League Held on Sunday Unknown to the Police—The Papal Envoy Pleased at the Devotion of the Irish to the Pope.

DUBLIN, Oct. 10.—The coroner's inquest in the case of Lonergan and others who were killed in the affray between the police and the people at Mitchelltown was continued to-day. During the proceedings there was a violent scene between Mr. Harrington and Crown Counsel Morphy, and Mr. Condon, M.P., becoming excited, jumped into the body of the court threatening to chastise Mr. Morphy and spat at him, the mob of spectators yelling in approval. Finally the coroner interfered and the tumult was quelled. Afterwards Mr. Condon, being examined, declared that the police at the meeting in the square persisted in irritating the people in order to provoke a row. He saw them raising their batons before the riot began.

The Police Outwitted.

LONDON, Oct. 10.—An immense meeting under the auspices of the National League was held on Sunday at the confluence of the Suir and Barrow rivers, Ireland. The water was covered with boats and barges bearing the participants in the meeting. The usual resolutions denouncing the course of the Government in Ireland were adopted. The police were completely outwitted, having no knowledge whatever of the meeting.

The Irish Devoted to the Pope.

DUBLIN, Oct. 10.—Mgr. Persico, the papal delegate to Ireland, in a sermon here yesterday said that he was gratified at the devotion of the Irish to the Pope. Their devotion was manifest throughout all Ireland. He stated that he was grieved at the poverty which existed in the west of Ireland, but rejoiced that in other parts of the country such an unhappy state of affairs did not so largely exist.

Started on Their Irish Tour.

LONDON, Oct. 10.—Joseph Chamberlain and Jesse Collings departed from Birmingham today on their Irish tour. A large number of their friends and followers gathered at the station to see them off. Both gentlemen made brief speeches, in which they referred to the claims of the minority in Ireland.

THE FISHERY QUESTION.

A Few Facts Provided to Meet Possibilities in American Argument.

LONDON, Oct. 10.—The Post, commenting on the fisheries dispute, says that the main contention of the Americans is that no nation has the right of jurisdiction over the sea beyond a three-mile limit. In the Pacific America is acting in flat contradiction to any such principle of interstate comity or treaty rights. British vessels have been arrested far outside of the limit, and the captains fined and crews imprisoned. In some cases the vessels and cargoes have been forfeited. America's Pacific claims form an excellent counter argument to America's Atlantic claims, and as such, will be of great and direct value to Mr. Chamberlain.

In the case of the Pacific seizures by the United States authorities, The Morning Post further says that it remains a vital fault that they occurred where the telegraph and newspapers are unknown, as the local officials can thus provide an unchecked account of their proceedings. Mr. Chamberlain, it says, in the absence of information from independent sources, is helpless to contend against the American evidence, and it urges Lord Salisbury to collect evidence lest Mr. Chamberlain be hampered in the negotiations.

Returned to Their Homes.

WASHINGTON, Oct. 10.—Messrs. Putnam and Angell, the negotiators who are to meet the British Fishery Commissioners, left Washington to-day. The object of their visit was to become acquainted with each other and to discuss the approaching negotiations in a preliminary way. Having done this they have returned to their homes and will come to Washington again before the middle of next month.

THE END OF A BAD MAN.

EDWARD GRAHAM WILL PASS HIS DAYS IN PRISON.

His Trial, Conviction and Sentence in the Police Court—His Identity Easily Proven—A Record of Crime in England.

TORONTO, Oct. 11.

Edward Graham was tried, convicted and sentenced in the Police Court yesterday of throwing vitriol into the face of young Louis Slevert in his father's cigar store on Aug. 10 last. As a result of Graham's diabolical crime, Slevert loses an eye besides suffering the most intense agonies. All the details of the horrible outrage are familiar to the people of Toronto. It was only a question of identifying Graham as the man who threw the vitriol. This Mr. Slevert conclusively did in court yesterday. He did it beyond a doubt. Other evidence besides Mr. Slevert's was then taken.

Magistrate Denison then sentenced the prisoner to the Penitentiary for the balance of his natural life.

Mr. N. Murphy and Mr. N. G. Bigelow defended the prisoner at the Magistrate's request.

A curious incident in connection with this sentence is that many wagers were laid in the city as to a Police Magistrate's power to pass the life sentence. Many persons are or were under the impression that he possessed no such power. Col. Denison thinks he has, and so does The World. It is probably the first case, however, where such a sentence has been passed by a Police Magistrate.

A Career of Crime.

During the trial Magistrate Denison ventured the opinion that Graham's motive in throwing the vitriol into Slevert's face was robbery. There are grounds for believing that such was not the case. Graham has been a lifelong criminal and suffered much torture in the three English convict prisons of which he was an inmate.

A World reporter last evening learned some interesting particulars about his past life. Detective Inspector Stark is in possession of a full line of data. In the record sent out from Scotland Yard to the police of this city it is stated that Graham served these terms of imprisonment: In July, 1872, he was sentenced at the Kent (Eng.) Assizes to eighteen months' imprisonment for forgery. In August, 1876, in the Central Criminal Court, London, he was sent to Newgate for seven years, in addition to three years' police supervision, for forgery. And again in June, 1880, he got a dose of seven years at Chichester for burglary. It was while under the ban of police supervision that he committed this burglary.

The three prisons that Graham inhabited were Dartmoor, Newgate and Maidstone. He was such a skilled convict that the prison authorities handled him without gloves. The discipline of the Mobile convict prisons is well-known to be a very harsh and often brutal method, even to well-behaved inmates. It is said Graham was so punished that he became desperate and threatened to do something that would cause it to be all up with him.

The record from Scotland Yard gives Graham's place of birth as Cheltenham, Eng., 42 years ago. This the prisoner claims to be inaccurate. Although he is desperate, he is by no means an uneducated man. When Inspector Stark visited him in jail before his trial he spoke in a highly intelligent manner. He said he was born in barracks at Halifax, N.S., his father being a Royal Artillery officer. He was well brought up. At one time he held a position in the Union Bank at Quebec, but he was discharged, for what reason it is not quite clear. He was an inmate for a short time of an insane asylum at Quebec. He first went to England with a gang of American forgers, and it was while in their company in England that he was first arrested. Mr. James L. Scarth of this city, who knew Graham while he was in the Union Bank in Quebec, paid a visit to Newgate Prison and saw Graham while he was awaiting his second trial.

Graham returned to Canada last June after his last imprisonment. It is not shown that he ever served a term in this country. Mr. Charles S. Dudman of Peterboro knew him intimately, and at one time he was in his employ. It was at Mr. Dudman's suggestion that he entered the Quebec Asylum.

THE CZAR'S NEW TOOL.

Dhuleep Singh Being Used to Spread Sedition in India.

CALCUTTA, Oct. 10.—Dhuleep Singh has written a seditious letter to the native papers, in which he says that England had offered him $750,000 in settlement of his claim against the Government, on consideration that he would not go into India. He rejected the offer. His arrest at Aden, he says, converted his loyalty to bitter hatred of England, and he has solemnly resolved to devote his life to freeing his country from the British yoke. He declares he will serve his new sovereign, the Czar, with his life's blood. It is expected that the letter will induce the journals published in the Indian vernacular to attack British rule.

THE K. OF L. CONVENTION.

Satisfaction at Powderly's Report on the Attitude of the Church.

MINNEAPOLIS, Oct. 10.—The Knights of Labor Assembly convened at the usual time this morning, with but little business of importance done. The time was consumed in hearing reports and appointing committees. There was not a very full attendance and the hotel lobbies swarmed with Knights. Among the majority there was an unmistakable feeling of satisfaction at the sentiments presented by Mr. Powderly in his report on the attitude of the order and the Catholic Church.

New Rifles for the French Army.

PARIS, Oct. 10.—Gen. Ferron, Minister of War, opened the Lycee at Chartres yesterday. He delivered an address, in which he said that the manufacture of the new rifles for the army was being carried on with undiminished vigor. He referred to the Caffarel affair, and said, "You need not anticipate the slightest weakness in dealing with faults against order and discipline. The higher the military position of the guilty parties the more severely I shall deal with them. The errors of one man do not stain the honor of the whole army. Keep intact the consideration and esteem in which you hold it."

Sunk in a Collision.

CAIRO, Ill., Oct. 10.—A collision occurred here last night between the railroad transfer steamer W. Butler Duncan, of the Mobile and Ohio Railroad, and the steamer New South. The Duncan sank with a train of sixteen freight cars loaded with flour, meal and coal, which were all partially submerged. Damage $3000.

The Triple Alliance Renewed.

BERLIN, Oct. 10.—The alliance of Italy, Germany and Austria has been renewed for five years, Italy reserving the right to maintain absolute neutrality in the event of a Franco-German war.

PRINTERS' STRIKE IN NEW YORK.

Beginning of a Movement Which May Call Out 25,000 Men.

NEW YORK, Oct. 10.—Typographical Union No. 6 made demands in the various printing offices of the city last week that on and after today only union men should be employed in these offices and that 43 cents per 1000 ems should be the wages paid and only one apprentice be kept in an office to every ten men. The matter came to a crisis to-day, when the men in the big offices of R. H. Smith & Sons, the Patent Printing and Bookbinding Company, and P. Putnam & Co.'s and several other printing houses, quit work when their demands were refused. There were 500 men in all who left work.

The whole trouble was in reference to the demand to make the offices strictly union offices. The Master Printers' Association (Typothetæ) met this afternoon, representatives of fifty of the largest houses in this city being present. The whole situation was discussed. It was resolved that the demand to discharge all non-union men and make the houses strictly union offices could not be granted. The decision involves the throwing of 25,000 compositors out of employment. It is thought that the 1000 pressmen employed in the establishments involved are in sympathy with the compositors and will go out, too.

The newspaper offices have all acceded to the demands of the compositors except The Catholic News and The Churchman.

The Typographical Union is financially in good shape, and one of the members said today that there was $250,000 in the treasury. The demand to make the offices union was a matter of principle and they could not afford to give in. They believe the employers will give in. The employers, on the other hand, say they will never discharge old employes because they are non-union men.

A BANKING HOUSE CLOSES.

A Wisconsin Concern Makes an Assignment to Its Creditors.

CHEYENNE, Wis., Oct. 10.—The banking house of Morton E. Post & Co. suspended today. The officials claim that owing to absolute impossibility in collecting moneys due the concern upon loans, to meet heavy continued drawing of funds from the bank, they are forced to suspend payment, and make an assignment for the benefit of their creditors, and according to a statement made by one of the officers to-day the assets largely exceed the liabilities. The failure was expected and causes little excitement, but a great many poor people who were depositors will likely suffer. The figures given by the bank are thought to be favorable. A branch bank at West Cliff was also closed.

OTTAWA, Oct. 10.—A good deal of excitement has been raised as to the "curtness" of the letters of Sir John and Mr. Mercier on the proposed conference. Below are both letters.

QUEBEC, Sept. 24, 1887.

To the Rt. Hon. Sir John A. Macdonald, P.C., G.C.B., and C. J. C., Ottawa.

SIR: The proposed conference of the Provincial Governments, for the purpose of considering questions which have arisen or may arise as to the autonomy of the provinces, their financial arrangements, and other matters of a common provincial interest, is to be held in the Parliament Buildings, Quebec, on Thursday, the 29th of October, at 11 o'clock a.m. Your Government is earnestly invited to be represented at the conference by yourself and one or more of your colleagues.

Your obedient servant,

HON. MERCIER.

OTTAWA, Oct. 4, 1887.

SIR: I have the honor to acknowledge the receipt of your letter of the 24th ultimo, inviting the Dominion Government to be represented at a provincial conference. In reply, I beg to state that it appears to us it would answer no good purpose to send representatives to this conference.

I have the honor to be, etc.,

JOHN A. MACDONALD.

The project of establishing a lumber board of trade here has been revived, and it is probable that the idea will be carried out. The Ottawa Board of Trade is practically dead, but a lumber board would probably be a lively institution. The intention appears to be that the lumbermen should form a "combine" for the purpose of regulating prices instead of negotiating separately with American lumbermen as they do at present.

The White Cross Guild has expelled its secretary, Mr. W. G. Lampey, and called on its president, Dr. R. J. Wykstel, to resign because they "gave away" to the press the report of the guild on the alleged traffic in young girls in Ottawa. Dr. Wykstel to-day expressed the opinion that the usefulness of the society was gone, and that it was made up of a lot of sore heads.

Mr. J. M. Courtney, Deputy Minister of Finance, returned to-day from his trip to England.

A meeting of Council was held to-day, but only routine business was transacted.

The Quebec Government has kept its promise to the lumbermen not to enforce the new ground rent of $5 a square mile instead of $3, and has passed an order-in-council fixing the rate at $3. It has done something more, however, which will scarcely please the lumbermen so well. It has "re-arranged" the timber dues, so that they will yield an increase of about 20 per cent. The old dues of so much per log has been abolished and a tariff established of $1.80 per thousand feet, board measure, on pine and 60 cents on spruce. It is stated that the Ontario Government contemplates adopting a similar course.

On the recommendation of the Superintendent-General of Indian Affairs, the following Indian agents have been appointed in the Provinces of Ontario and Quebec for the places set opposite to their names:

Ontario—J. F. Gilkison for Brant, Haldimand, Wentworth and Welland; J. C. Phipps, Manitowaning, for District of Algoma; T. R. Walker, Parry Sound, for Parry Sound and Muskoka Districts, between 44th and 48th degrees latitude and extending from Georgian Bay to River Ottawa; Wm. VanAbbott, Sault Ste. Marie, agent for Algoma between the 46th and 47th degrees of latitude, extending eastward from the water's edge to the 80th degree of longitude; J. P. Donnelly, Port Arthur, to be agent for that portion of Ontario lying between the 48th and 52nd degrees of latitude and 84th and 95th longitude; Thomas Gordon, Strathroy, agent for Middlesex, Elgin, Huron, Waterloo and Oxford; Matthew Hill, Shannonville, for Frontenac, Addington, Lennox and Hastings; E. Bennett, Castle, for Renfrew; J. W. Terneyn, Cape Croker, Counties of Grey and Bruce; J. T. Conway, Saugeen Reserve, for Grey and Bruce; John Thackeray, Rosenath, for Northumberland, Durham, Peterboro and Victoria; J. R. Stevenson, Georgina, Counties of York, Ontario and Simcoe; E. Harris, Good's Landing, Counties of Northumberland, Durham, Peterboro and Victoria; H. E. Thompson, Penetanguishene, for the County of Simcoe and islands in the Georgian Bay; D. J. McPhee, Uptergrove, Counties of Ontario-Durham, Victoria and York; G. B. McDermott, Scugog, Counties of Ontario, Durham, Victoria and York; A. McKelvoy, Wallaceburg, Counties of Kent, Lambton and Elgin and islands in the River St. Claire and Lake St. Clair; R. English, Sarnia, Counties of Kent, Lambton, Essex and Elgin; T. G. Pile, Deseronto, County of Hastings and islands in the Bay of Quinte; R. W. Ross, Cockburn Island, Townships of Gordon, Allan, Mills, Robson and Dawson on Manitoulin Island, and for Cockburn and Barrie Islands on Lake Huron; A. B. Cowan, Gananoque, for the Counties of Leeds and Frontenac; Mr. Simpson, Wiarton, for Grey and Bruce.

Quebec—A. Lebel, River du Loup, for Temiscouta and Kamaurska; L. N. Otes, Pt. Misse, Chicoutimi; Rev. J. A. Gagne, Maria, for Bonaventure, Que., and Restigouche, N.B.; P. E. Boucher, Beauharnois, Superintendent of Saguenay and Rimouski; A. D. Bastien, Lorentt, for the Counties of Quebec, Montmorenci and Port Neuf; H. W. Assel, Pierreville, Counties of Yamaska, Nicollet, Richelieu and Ste. Maurice; A. Brosseau, Laprairie, for Chateauguay, Laprairie, St. John, Napierville, Hochelaga and Montreal; George Loux, St. Regis, for Huntingdon, Beauharnois, Chateauguay, Stormont, Dundas, Glengarry and Grenville, and all islands in the St. Lawrence, from Prescott and Grenville to Lake St. Francis inclusive; James Martin, Wanivaki, for Ottawa County, Montcalm and Argentouil. Agents have also been appointed in New Brunswick, Nova Scotia, Prince Edward Island, Manitoba, Northwest Territories and British Columbia.

Wanderers from Toronto.

HAMILTON, Oct. 10.—Two Toronto small boys, John Bowman of 126 Adelaide-street west, and James Smith, 29 Adelaide-street west, arrived here this evening. They left Toronto on Sunday afternoon and walked all the way to Hamilton. The boys say they left Toronto because they were getting into too many rackets.

IT IS NOT YELLOW FEVER.

The Outbreak at Tampa, Fla., is Not the Virulent Fever of the Tropics.

WASHINGTON, Oct. 10.—The Marine Hospital Bureau is in receipt of a telegram from Deputy Collector Spencer at Tampa, Fla., stating that one death and eight new cases of fever have occurred since last advices and that funds and nurses are urgently needed.

WASHINGTON, Oct. 10.—General Superintendent Nash of the railway service has received a telegram from Postmaster Edge at Tampa, Fla., in which he says that the disease now prevalent there is not yellow fever, but dengue fever and that fumigating the mails would not prevent the spread of the disease. On the strength of this information postal clerks have been ordered to run into Tampa and to make the exchange of local mails.

Warsaw's Champions.

Annual Exhibition of the Dummer and Douro Agricultural Society.

The annual exhibition of the Dummer and Douro Agricultural Society was held at the pretty and romantically situated village of Warsaw, nestling like a toy town amongst its encircling hills, on Monday.

The exhibit of grains and roots and domestic and fancy articles was held in the agricultural hall.

The display of ladie's work was exceedingly large and creditable for an entirely rural community.

The horse ring was staked out and roped in on a field belonging to Mr. Sidney Payne just outside the village. The show of cattle was not very large but there were some good specimens of grade Holstein calves. Sheep were well represented, Messrs. A. R. Kidd, D. Forsyth, Alex. Smith, John Walsh, and Samuel Edwards being the chief exhibitors. There was also a fine show of swine, and a good exhibit of poultry. One pair of geese, shown by Mr. A. R. Kidd, have taken almost half a score of first prizes, from the Industrial Exhibition, Toronto, down through several centrals to Warsaw.

In agricultural implements there were shown several ploughs and a grain crusher.

Mr. C. C. Macdonald, Peterborough, was kept busily engaged pointing out the great merits of the Chatham fanning mills, of which he had two on the grounds.

Mr. H. Owens had samples of his model force and lift pumps combined.

There was a fairly good show of horses, and in the special trotting contest there was a good deal of fun. Mr. George Ray's gray filer was an easy winner over his three other competitors, this animal showing great speed especially for a horse daily drawing the plough and drawing a heavy buggy over a heavy course.

The attendance of visitors was good, the receipts from the sale of tickets representing an attendance of about 700 persons. This large number of paid admissions is very creditable to the honorable spirit of the people, especially when it is considered that by merely scaling a rail fence, any person so disposed could get admission to the grounds, and thus evade payment. Further particulars are supplied by the following copy of

A CONFERENCE AT HAWARDEN.

A Crisis Expected Which Will Modify the Cabinet.

LONDON, Oct. 10.—Mr. Gladstone, Earl Spencer, Mr. Morley and Lord Rosebery are at Hawarden, where they will hold a conference with the other Liberal leaders to-morrow. It is believed that they will consider an important pronunciamento, which, it is said, will be made at the Nottingham meeting next week, as well as the speech to be delivered by Mr. Gladstone at that meeting.

The Liberal Unionists will hold a meeting in London on Monday next. Lord Hartington will preside. The Government failure in Ireland will be considered.

It is expected that a a Cabinet council will be held at the end of next week. The consensus of opinion is that a crisis will arise before the end of the month, which will force a modification of the Cabinet.

SPORTING NEWS.

The Louis Club Defeat Detroit By 6 to 1.

ST. LOUIS, Oct. 10.—The St. Louis club of the American Association to-day began on their own grounds the series of fifteen games with the champions of the National League, the Detroits. This contest is for the world's championship, and the Detroits enter it somewhat handicapped. Big Dan Brouthers, the heavy hitter and crack first baseman of the Wolverines, injured his ankle so severely at Indianapolis Saturday that he has been unable to take his place, and the Detroits not only missed his good work with the bat but the change around of players which became necessary in consequence of his absence seriously interfered with the team play. The Browns are all in the pink of condition and are playing big ball.

The prospects to-day were decidedly bad—rain fell almost continuously during the forenoon and almost up to the very moment of starting play, but no rain could prevent the gathering of the vast crowd who were wild to see the two great ball teams come together. Fully 13,000 people had gathered in anticipation of a sharp contest but they were in a measure disappointed, Carruthers, who pitched for St. Louis, was too much for the Michigan sluggers. The visitors got but four hits off his delivery, and one man was out to first on called balls, while the Browns batted Getzein steadily. The home team fielded a superb game and the Detroits rather loosely. The change of positions by White from third to first and by Richardson from the field to third, which was made in consequence of Brouthers' disability rather unnerved the visitors. Two umpires officiated, Manager Gaffney of the Washington club calling strikes and Manager Kelly of Louisville the base decisions on the Browns, and changing positions when the Detroits went to bat. The score:

The Thistle Going Home.

NEW YORK, Oct. 10.—The Thistle lay at her anchorage this morning and her crew were much busier than they have been any day since the race for the cup. Mr. Bell has made up his mind she cannot be sold on this side of the Atlantic for any decent figure, so he has determined to send her back to her anchorage on the Clyde. The start will probably be made next Friday or Saturday, and all the crew will go with her.

Citizens of Decatur, Ill., assert that the Peoria, Decatur and Evansville Railway, between Decatur and Pekin, 26 miles, is in a dangerous condition, and that unless the rotten bridge at Mackinaw Creek is repaired there will soon be a repetition of the Chatsworth horror.

In Brief, And To The Point.

Dyspepsia is dreadful. Disordered liver is misery. Indigestion is a foe to good nature.

The human digestive apparatus is one of the most complicated and wonderful things in existence. It is easily put out of order.

Greasy food, tough food, sloppy food, bad cookery, mental worry, late hours, irregular habits, and many other things which ought not to be, have made the American people a nation of dyspeptics.

But Green's August Flower has done a wonderful work in reforming this sad business and making the American people so healthy that they can enjoy their meals and be happy.

Remember:—No happiness without health. But Green's August Flower brings health and happiness to the dyspeptic. Ask your druggist for a bottle. Seventy-five cents.

To Avoid Baldness or Stop Hair.

Use Dr. Brunswell's Great Germ Hair Magic. It keeps the scalp clean and free from Dandruff, and promotes the growth of the hair. It prevents premature greyness and stops all falling out of the hair. If bald heads, where the roots have not perished, it will invigorate them and force a new growth of hair. Ask for Hair Magic. It is the only reliable. For sale by J. D. Tully and all druggists.

An Old Time Favorite

The season of green fruits and summer drinks is the time when the worst forms of cholera morbus and bowel complaints generally prevail. As a safeguard Dr. Fowler's Extract of Wild Strawberry should be kept at hand. For 30 years it has been the most reliable remedy. 2w40

From a Grateful Mother.

My little child suffered from a severe cold upon the lungs, until she was like a little skeleton before she took Burdock Blood Bitters, after which she became fat and hearty, and was cured of weak lungs, constipation and debility or wasting of flesh, from which two doctors had failed to relieve her. Mrs. Samuel Todd, Sturgeon Bay, Ont. 2w40d

"What is McGregor's Speedy Cure for"?

It is for Dyspepsia, Liver Complaint, Indigestion, Biliousness, and it is the finest blood purifier in the known world to-day.

"Does it give satisfaction?"

We cannot point to one instance where it did not.

"Where does it have the largest sale?"

Right in the city of Hamilton, where it is manufactured, there has been over one thousand dollars' worth sold in the last year retail, and the great majority of the sales are by one recommending it to another. For sale at 50c. and $1.00 per bottle by John McKee, Druggist eodw35

Certain Cure.

A CURE FOR CHOLERA MORBUS.—A positive cure for this dangerous complaint, and for all acute or chronic forms of bowel complaint incident to summer and fall, is found in Dr. Fowler's Extract of Wild Strawberry; to be procured from any druggist. 2w40d

I have been bothered with catarrh for about twenty years. I had lost my sense of smell entirely for the last fifteen years, and I had to get some one to thread my needle. Now I have my hearing as well as I ever had, and I can see to thread as fine a needle as ever I did. My sense of smell is partly restored; it seems to be improving all the time. I think there is nothing like Ely's Cream Balm for Catarrh.—Mrs. E. E. Grimes, Rendrill, Ohio. eodw40

Grand Results.

For several years R. H. Brown, of Kincardine, suffered from dyspepsia, he says he tried several physicians and a host of remedies without relief. His druggist recommended B. B. B., which he declares produced "grand results" for which he gives it his highest recommendation. 2w40d

What Does It Do?

It qualifies men and women, boys and girls, desiring to enter commercial life, to fill, immediately after leaving College, responsible positions in business houses, as book-keepers and financial managers; it qualifies merchants and manufacturers to keep their own books, manage their own banking and financial affairs, and gives farmers' sons such a business training as they can nowhere else receive. It qualifies typewriters, shorthand writers, and telegraph operators.

The Uses of Fall.

The average township show is by some claimed to be a useless event, especially when we have so many excellent central exhibitions. On something the same principle it may be argued that it is of no use for country places to have churches or schools since the people could come to town to worship or send their children to school in town. There is, however, great use for the township fairs. It is to the people a civic holiday, an annual outing to which all look forward with pleasure. Where everybody meets and greets his neighbor; where the ladies exchange gossip and where swain and maiden enjoy untold delight in each others company. It is a great triumph, also, to the exhibitors to drive home with red and blue tickets exposed. But there is disappointment for some who draw blanks; but for these, as well as for competitors, there is one fall exhibition where all win a prize, that is at the great gough's great fall exhibition of fall and winter clothing—overcoats, suits, underclothing, gents furnishings, etc. Every party visiting gough's great exhibition, open every day and evening except Sundays, is sure to draw a prize in getting any of the above goods at marvellously low prices. The cheapest place for the best clothing in the Midland District. Remember gough's perennial exhibition—a prize for every purchaser of his goods.

The Town's Troublesome Drain

A Special Meeting Called by the Mayor to Consider the Nuisance—Financial Matters.—Uncollected Scott Act Fines.

Mayor Stevenson, and Councillors Menzies, Moore, Yelland, Stenson, McNeil, McNaughton, Davidson and Cahill, attended the special meeting of the Town Council last night.

The following communication was read:—

To the Mayor and Council of Peterborough:

I would call your immediate attention to the condition of the sewer on Simcoe street. The sewer is now useless, being filled so that water is standing to the depth of 18 inches over the tile pipe. I would suggest that a drain be run to the river direct on Simcoe street, as the only sure way to get proper drainage. Yours truly,

RICHARD HALL.

The Mayor stated that the communication from Mr. Hall had been the cause of his calling the special meeting this evening. He thought something should be done about the matter. It was received for the present.

ACCOUNTS.

G.N.W. Telegraph Co.	$ 1 62
J. R. Stratton	66 30
J. P. Hurley, G.T.R.	7 90
Geo. Stethem, nails	17 75

Nicholls Hospital (Dec)	320 33
Gas Co., gas, police Court	45 25
" " " clerk's office	18 90
" " " fire hall	104 80

The accounts were all referred to the Finance Committee, except that of the telegraph company, which was paid.

FINANCE.

Mr. Davidson presented the report of the Finance Committee, recommending payment of the following accounts:—Central Iron Bridge Co., $4.80; Review Printing Co., $47.25; Toronto Rubber Co., $44; G. T. R. agent, $13.30; Nicholls Hospital (June, July and August) $146.39; Mr. W. Brandrette, for wood for charity, $4.75. The report also recommended that the town solicitor prepare a by-law to permit the Water Company to issue debentures for 20 years, at 5 per cent. interest, to the extent of $50,000 the Water Co. agreeing to supply all hydrants over 60 at $40 each per annum.

The report passed with very little discussion.

Mr. Moore called attention to a matter that had been referred to the Finance Committee, namely, the application of Mr. Hilliard to have his mill placed on the same terms as Brodie's. Mr. Moore asked that the town solicitor be instructed to prepare a by-law to that effect.

SPECIAL COMMITTEE.

Mr. MOORE, chairman of the special committee, appointed to take into consideration the best means of advertising the town as a manufacturing and industrial centre, reported progess as stated in the EXAMINER some time ago. He had as yet heard from only one of the journals applied to for advertising rates.

THE TOWN DRAIN.

The communication of Mr. Hall was then taken up. Street Inspector Pope was asked for his opinion and said from what he had heard he should think the trouble was caused by an insufficient fall. The sewer was filled no doubt. Mr. McNeil, chairman of the Fire, Water and Light Committee, stated that from recent trials of flushing the pipes it was apparent that either there was not sufficient fall or the main sewer was blocked at the mouth. He thought it better though to have the drain taken up and a new drain built on Simcoe street to the river. The Mayor believed that at the time the top of the main sewer fell in, the gravel had never been cleaned out, and he felt confident that the trouble was there. Councillor McNaughton quoted the remarks of some men who worked on the drain that there was not four inches of a fall. Mr. Cahill said that if wiser councils had prevailed when this drain had been built, this difficulty would not have occurred. He and a few others in the council had opposed the building of the drain as it was now, and had advocated the running of a drain into the river on Simcoe street. Another serious mistake was the placing of water-closets in the town buildings. After a couple of motions had been presented and withdrawn, the matter was left to the street Inspector to investigate and ascertain the whereabouts of the trouble.

THE STREETS.

Mr. MOORE called attention to the pile of bricks on Hunter street, between George and Water streets. Complaints were being made by the public. The street Inspector was instructed to request the owner to have the same removed.

Mr. MCNEIL moved, seconded by Mr. Cahill, that the street Inspector be instructed to have George street scraped.—Carried.

SCOTT ACT FINES

The question of uncollected Scott Act fines came up incidentally and led to quite a lively discussion. The clerk said that there were some $1100 in fines uncollected, the warrants for which were in the constables' hands. He generally got blamed for this state of affairs, but in issuing the warrants he had done all he could do, and now the Council should issue orders to the police to collect them at once. Mr. McNeil said there had been a great deal of talk about the number of warrants in the constables' hands, but Acting-chief Adams had told him about a month ago that he had but two of the documents in his possession, and those less than two days old.

The CLERK—He tells a falsehood.

Mr. MCNEIL, Well, there it is between you.

Mr. DAVIDSON said that if the by-law making constables responsible for the moneys uncollected by them, by binding them in certain amounts, had been enforced, this trouble would not have arisen.

The MAYOR—I certainly will, Mr. Davidson; you have put me right to-night and I'll do so at once.

Mr. YELLAND said he believed that the policemen understood the Council did not want them to collect these fines and he thought it pretty hard that the town officers should let the money slip through their hands.

The Mayor stated that the police had been instructed to collect these fines.

Mr. YELLAND replied that they might, but a great deal depended on the way in which they were told, whether they understood it so or not.

After a little further parleying the Council adjourned for three weeks.

Joseph Valois, who was charged by his wife with having committed an assault, with criminal intent, upon his own daughter aged 13 years, was arraigned in the police court this morning. The court was cleared of all except witnesses in the case. Mr. R.E. Wood, C.C.A., appeared for the prosecution, and Mr. A. P. Poussette, Q.C., for the prisoner.

The alleged victim was the first and only witness called, her evidence deciding the case. Her story as told this morning was that on Saturday evening, Oct. 1st, her father took her from their home on Union street to the butcher-shop and shoe-maker's, and home again.

The MAGISTRATE—Did anything else occur?

WITNESS—No, sir.

MAGISTRATE—You are telling the truth now?

WITNESS—Yes, sir.

MAGISTRATE—Then all that you told me in my office the other day, about your father laying hands upon you (etc.)—is that all untrue?

WITNESS—Yes, sir.

MAGISTRATE—Then you told me a lot of liesthe other day, and are telling me the truth now?

WITNESS—Yes, sir.

Upon being further questioned the girl stated that she had been "put up" to tell the story she had at first told by her stepmother (Mrs. Valois) and another woman, for the purpose, the witness said, of punishing her father.

From the evidence it appeared that after the charge had been laid the little girl was taken out into the country by her uncle, and kept there till the day of trial. Her uncle, she said, had told her not to tell any lies about her father, but to tell the truth. The girl denied that they had told her what to say, only to tell the truth. She also stated that she had no complaint whatever to make against her father.

The magistrate, in dismissing the case, said he felt certain that a conspiracy had been plotted, either to injure the prisoner by the concoction of a false story, or to clear him by tampering with the witness. The girl had told two stories—one to him in his own office previous to the trial, and an entirely different one on this occasion. His own opinion was that she was lying in her evidence before the court this morning, but under the circumstances he could see no evidence to warrant him sending the prisoner up for trial.

The case was dismissed, the magistrate warning the little girl to be more truthful in future.

Imperial Federation League.

The regular monthly meeting of the Peterborough Branch of the Imperial Federation League will be held on Wednesday evening next, in the Foresters' Hall, George street, opposite the Golden Lion. The promotion of better trade relations among the various parts of the British Empire will be the question under discussion. It is hoped that all those who take an interest in the matter—whether members or not—will be present.

The Simcoe Street Bridge.

Mr. W. H. Law, contractor for the iron work of the new Simcoe street bridge, began operations to-day on his portion of the work. The first girder was strung this afternoon.

Trent Valley Canal System.

The Mail's Ottawa correspondent writes:—"A commission has been appointed consisting of Judge Clark, of Cobourg, Mr. Frank Turner, C. E., of Toronto, and Mr. John Kennedy, secretary of the Montreal Harbour Commissioners, to report on the further prosecution of the Trent Valley Canal system. The scheme of utilizing the chain of water stretches to which the the term Trent River navigation is applied for the purpose of through water communication between Lakes Huron and Ontario was projected many years ago. The series referred to, as many people doubtless are aware, is composed of a chain of lakes and rivers extending from Trenton, at the mouth of the Trent, on the Bay of Quinte, to the Georgian Bay. The course in contemplation was as follows:—Through the River Trent, Rice Lake, River Otonabee, and Lakes Clear, Buckhorn, Chemong, Pigeon, Sturgeon and Cameron to Lake Balsam, the summit water, about 166 miles from Trenton. From Lake Balsam by a canal and the River Talbot to Lake Simcoe, and thence by the Severn River to the Georgian Bay, the total distance being about 235 miles. The execution of this scheme, originally commenced in 1837, was subsequently deferred. By certain works, however, sections of these waters were made practicable for navigation and for the passage of timber. A branch of the main course, extending from Sturgeon Lake south, affords communication with the town of Lindsay and through Lake Scugog to Port Perry, a distance of 190 miles from Trenton. Of this distance 155 miles are navigable for vessels of light draught. Up to the end of the fiscal year, June 30, 1886, $358,000 had been expended on the Trent canal, and last year's expenditure brings the total up to more than half a million. The local works already completed have proved of vast benefit to the communities directly affected, and two years ago a big delegation, numbering two or three hundred persons, came to Ottawa to urge the extension of the works. As, however, the carrying out of the system will entail an expenditure of a million or two, the Government is exercising a wise discretion in appointing commissioners to make an unbiased and unprejudiced report in regard to it. The commissioners will have to travel over the proposed route, ascertain the nature of the work which would have to be done, prepare estimates of the cost and generally obtain all possible information to aid the Government in arriving at a final decision in regard to prosecuting the scheme."

Mr. Telford's Poems.

The subscribers to the book of poems now being published by the author, Mr. William Telford, Smith, will be pleased to learn that the book will be ready for delivering to subscribers in about a week. The binder has the finishing work in hand, and the completed volume will delight subscribers within the next fortnight.

The Boys' Night Out.

Already is the small boy, and the larger one, too, for that matter, preparing for Hallow E'en. Pumpkins and candles are being stored away and pea-shooters resurrected from the oblivion of the past year. Just to "get their hand in" a few of the boys are practicing pea-shooting on the streets already.

Canton Notes.

The Canton meets for drill Wednesday evening, and it is expected the new swords will be ready for distribution.

Give Them a Chance!

That is to say, your lungs. Also all your breathing machinery. Very wonderful machinery it is. Not only the larger air-passages, but the thousands of little tubes and cavities leading from them.

When these are clogged and choked with matter which ought not to be there, your lungs cannot half do their work. And what they do, they cannot do well.

Call it cold, cough, croup, pneumonia, catarrh, consumption or any of the family of throat and nose and head and lung obstructions, all are bad. All ought to be got rid of. There is just one sure way to get rid of them. That is to take Boschee's German Syrup, which any druggist will sell you at 75 cents a bottle. Even if everything else has failedyou, you may depend upon this for certain. eodw

WEDNESDAY, OCTOBER 12, 1887.

A WRECKED ASSOCIATION.

A MEETING OF THE ONTARIO INVESTMENT OF LONDON.

The Statement of the Auditor Shows the Association to be Totally Ruined—Investors, Who Paid in $600,000, Will Get About 26 Cents on the Dollar.

LONDON, Oct. 11.—The long watched for meeting of the shareholders of the Ontario Investment Association took place this afternoon in the London Board of Trade rooms, which were filled with interested financiers. The chair was occupied by D. McPhie, President. After the directors had made their report on their late actions, Auditor Jewell presented the report of the auditors showed the institution to be a total wreck. The auditors estimated its assets at $1,835,292 and its liabilities at $1,816,505, leaving a balance of $18,787. This small balance is all that remains of $734,247.96 paid in by the shareholders. The auditors count, however, on augmenting this sum by $185,512 to be received on a call made of the holders of unpaid stock, and by $32,400 to be realized from loans on association stock. This would leave $306,700 to divide among the shareholders, who paid in $600,760, giving them 26 cents on the dollar.

The institution lost by speculation in Northwest lands $110,000. A check for $56,000 was given Cronyn and Greenlees, the solicitors of the concern, to meet certain liabilities and the money was misapplied. Mr. B. Cronyn was personally lent $75,712.77 on security which will not realize the half. On this transaction the association loses $45,757.

Mr. Chas. Murray, the late manager, loaned himself $116,373 on security which will entail a loss of $65,194. Similar irregular transactions were made by W. D. Pavey and J. J. Matheson, who were employes of the company. They are responsible for $3750.

Mr. Henry Taylor, the late president and manager, was connected with money transactions directly and indirectly to the extent of $600,000, and these the auditors ask more time to look into.

The report also showed that, contrary to the rules of the association, holders of stock had been loaned on it and on the supposed premium on it $850,000. This state of affairs had been kept quiet by transferring such loans to "Loans on Mortgages" and other accounts. In this and other ways more than $705,000 of the shareholders' paid in money was swallowed up. It has evidently been the policy of those engaged in the management of the association to deceive the Board of Directors by furnishing them with statements said to be prepared from the books by the proper officers of the association, which were false in their character, and to confirm which the accounts in the ledgers of the company were tampered with in an unjustifiable and fraudulent manner.

At the close of 1882 the loans on stocks of various companies amounted to $1,170,897.70, and the balance book of the stock mortgage ledger shows that this fact was known to, and recognized by the officers of the association. The account in the general ledger is, however, altered, first by the deduction of the amount of the Savings Bank accounts, $327,456.97, and secondly, by the deduction of an amount of $332,920.08, which is entered in the annual statement as the cost values of loans on debentures. The only semblance of justification in these entries in a couple of resolutions passed by the board for the transfer of a small amount of stock. There are on the books of the association a few loans on property in Manitoba, and there is sufficient evidence that one of these was objected to and the money charged against the loan was misappropriated by Mr. Taylor to the extent of $15,000, while the remainder of such loans were not authorized, and is one instance the payment on a large loan was surreptitiously introduced into the accounts as a loan on stocks before is found its way into the mortgage ledger, while the loan so introduced was a land transaction in which both Mr. Murray and Mr. Taylor were interested.

The words that closed the report were: "While the foregoing will serve to give a fair indication of the causes which have produced such disastrous effects, it is by no means an exhaustive report. I regret also to have to add that it would have been impossible for any one of the officers of the association to have succeeded in such a course of deception as has been practiced without collusion on the part of others, which certainly existed to a large extent, whatever may have been the motives which prompted it."

Mr. Sorely, representing the English and Scotch debenture holders, said they had been deceived by fraudulent stock lists, on which nine-tenths of the signatures were forged. He insisted that the debentures be immediately paid or turned over to a responsible company.

Mr. Fitzgerald said the Ontario Loan and Debenture Company would take over the assets and liabilities of the company, provided a guarantee of $150,000 was given them.

The offer of the Ontario Loan was handed to a committee to report upon and the meeting adjourned until Thursday.

CHAMBERLIN IN IRELAND.

BELFAST GIVES HIM AN ENTHUSIASTIC RECEPTION.

He is Drawn Through the Streets in a Carriage—In a Speech He Assured the People of Ulster that They Would Not Be Handed Over to the National League.

LONDON, Oct. 11.—Joseph Chamberlain was received with much enthusiasm upon his arrival in Ireland to-day. At Lorne Chamberlain was presented with an address, in reply to which he declared that the time had passed when the Irish had cause to murmur against the Government. When Parliament represented only vested interests and privileges it tyrannized over the Irish people. Now they had a democratic Parliament, representing the voice of the people, in which every just and reasonable claim was certain of favorable consideration. Personally, he favored land law reform, so that ultimately every cultivator might own the land he tilled, and the greatest extension of local government consistent with the integrity of the empire, the supremacy of Parliament and the protection of minorities. [Cheers.]

At Belfast large crowds gathered to welcome Chamberlain and the streets and houses were decorated in his honor. Chamberlain was driven along York-street at a slow pace for a quarter of a mile and was heartily cheered. The crowd unharnessed the horses and drew the carriage themselves. Cries of "Boo" from some workmen alternated with the cheers of Chamberlain's admirers. Upon his arrival at the County Down Depot Chamberlain addressed the crowd. He said: "With the help of our Liberal-Unionist colleagues and the support of the whole Conservative party, we have at all events saved the Union, thereby preserving Great Britain from injury and Ireland from ruin and disaster. Although the danger has been temporarily averted, it seems possible that this great issue will again have to be faced, when a great deal will depend upon the attitude and determination of the men of Ulster. If the majority are animated by the spirit of those present I have no doubt of the result. It might be possible to give Ireland Home Rule if the Irish demand was unanimous, but it would be impossible to force Ulster to accept a Government she distrusted and detested."

Mr. Dillon Predicts Something Awful.

DUBLIN, Oct. 11.—At the regular fortnightly meeting of the National League held in Dublin to-day, Mr. Dillon suggested the appointment of a commission of English and Irishmen to inquire into the history and capacity of the persons governing Ireland. He advised tenants not to pay their rent until they knew the extent of the reduction the landlords were prepared to make and asserted that if these reductions were inadequate a movement would arise the like of which was never seen in Ireland.

KINGSTON ASSIZES.

There Being No Prisoners for Trial, Justice O'Connor Gets a Pair of White Gloves.

KINGSTON, Oct. 11.—At the opening of the Fall Assizes here this morning Sheriff Ferguson presented Judge O'Connor with a pair of white kids, according to the old custom when the Sheriff has no prisoners for trial. The only criminal case at this assize is a charge of shooting with intent against Wm. Rowley, who is out on bail. His Lordship remarked on the absence of crime on the whole of his circuit thus far. Of the seven civil cases on the docket three have been disposed of.

Lawson v. Hicks was referred to the County Judge.

Peters v. Whelan, seduction, was struck off because the plaintiff was unable to prosecute his suit in consequence of the absence of the material witness, his daughter, who, it is said, is under the control of the defendant or living with him. There is a talk of marriage.

Pense v. W. R. McRae and W. F. Baker. The plaintiff is proprietor of The Kingston Whig and sues the defendants, who are respectively President and Secretary of the Reform Association here, for a printing bill extending over some years. The money was, however, paid to plaintiff this morning but not by the defendants, whose counsel were duly at court in fighting trim when they were notified of the settlement.

Cunningham v. Cataraqui Bridge Company. This action was going on when court rose.

ALLEGED INCENDIARIES.

An Entire Family Arrested for a Barn-Burning in Lynden.

HAMILTON, Oct. 11.—County Constable Clements arrested George, Richard, Alice and Jane Mann and William Powell Monday for breaking into the residence of William Munzer in the township of Beverly on Oct. 9. There is a warrant out against William Powell and the two Mann women for setting fire to a barn in Lynden belonging to Mrs. Overholt of this city. The barn was burnt down on Saturday last, and it is alleged that the prisoners now in custody deliberately set fire to it. They will probably be arraigned before Judge Sinclair to-morrow morning.

A Farmer Instantly Killed.

BARRIE, Ont., Oct. 10.—John Nixon, a farmer, living about two miles south of here, was run over and instantly killed near Allandale on Saturday night by the Hamilton express. The engineer saw him lying across the rail, but not in time to stop the train. Doctors think he fell in a fit while walking on the track, it being the nearest way home. He leaves a widow and four children.

CAGED IN A BURNING CAR

A TERRIBLE DISASTER ON THE CHICAGO AND ATLANTIC RAILWAY.

A Fast Freight Demolishes a Passenger Train, the Cars Take Fire and Nine Persons, so Far as Can be Learned, are Burnt to Death.

CHICAGO, Oct. 11.—A special from Hammond, Ind., says: The passenger train eastbound on the Chicago and Atlantic Railway, leaving Hammond at 8.15 last night, broke down near Kouts Station. The engine started ahead, leaving the train and stopped for water at a switch. The engineer got on the centre and could not get back to the train. A stock train following, running on special time, crashed into the sleeper telescoping the sleeper and four coaches. So far fourteen bodies have been taken from the wreck. A doctor from Huntingdon, Ind., is the only passenger identified. The rest are burned beyond recognition, and twenty-five or thirty are wounded. The engineer and fireman of the stock train were badly hurt and are not expected to live.

Described by An Eye-Witness.

CHICAGO, Oct. 11.—W. A. Duncan of Syracuse, N.Y., has arrived from the scene of the railroad accident. He saw the wreck. Eighteen or twenty is the number at which he places those known to have been killed. A number of these were burned beyond recognition before his eyes. A little German boy was hemmed in, but not reached by the fire, and saw his father, mother and two sisters slowly roasting before his eyes. He was dying when Mr. Duncan left. There was a doctor on the train, Mr. Duncan says, who lost his wife and daughter on the burning wreck. He could do absolutely nothing for them and saw them encircled by scathing tongues of fire and cremated. The train was not taken over the track on which the wreck occurred, but switched around, the remains of the train being still too hot to move.

The night was dark and the scene was dreadful. The rear coaches of the passenger train were smashed and telescoped so that they occupied less space than one. The live coal from the freight engine ignited the debris under which the wounded and dead were lying. Before substantial assistance could be rendered thirty people had died. Some were mercifully killed by the first shock, but many were slowly roasted to death. No one in the Pullman sleeper was hurt. The conductor telegraphed to his company here that all escaped before the fire reached the car and none were injured in the collision. No means existed for checking the fire and only after it had burned itself out was it possible to do anything for those still alive imprisoned in the debris. Forty people were wounded or burned, or both. All were on the train when it left Chicago. William Perry, auditor of Stark County, and his wife and child were victims of the fire, and not one particle of their bodies was recovered.

The Engine-Driver's Story.

This morning, surrounded by an eager group of questioners at the hotel in Kouts, the engineer of the passenger train told the following story of the terrible disaster: "We passed No. 49 at Boone Grove on time and started toward Kouts. No. 49 pulled out of the station in less than two minutes behind us, when they should have waited much longer. When we were well away from the town we could see her lights but a little way behind. We were not running very fast because the engine was "on one side." We had broken an eccentric strap and were running but one pair of wheels, having been forced to disconnect the other pair, which were running loose. Of course the accident held our speed down a little, but we had no idea that the engineer of 49 would have any difficulty in keeping off from our heels. The last time I looked behind there was ample room between us. We stopped at the Boone Grove water tank and were there almost a minute before they struck us."

The Experience of a Passenger.

Several passengers who were on the ill-fated train arrived in this city this afternoon. One of them, a gentleman from Taunton, Mass., who was on his way home, was sitting in the rear car asleep with his hand on his satchel. "The first I knew," said he, "I heard a frightful crash and the car seemed shattered, and the pieces were flying past me. The next I knew I found myself almost buried in the ruins, and they seemed to keep piling up. I tried to extricate myself and found I was near a window. It was all dark, and all around me were yells and groans, and the blackness made it fearful. I did not seem to be hurt beyond being shaken up, so I called for help out of the window. Some man, I don't know who, helped me out, and I then turned in and helped to get others out. A little while after I got out the whole thing took fire and we were forced to give up working on it, but by bit and bit it burned, with the horrible cries of those held inside in our ears. At one place there were two or three women apparently altogether, and we tried to get them out. They were shrieking all the time in a manner to freeze one's blood, for the fire was coming nearer to them all the time. We worked as long as we could, but could not get them out, and the fire came all around them and finally silenced their screams. To hear their desperate cries as the fire came nearer and nearer and finally reached them was simply appalling. The wreck burned to the trucks, no facilities being at hand to extinguish the fire."

The Telegraph Operator's Account.

The night operator at Kouts gives this account of the affair: "The train was made up of five cars, the two rear ones being Pullman sleepers. Just before the train arrived at Kouts the eccentric of the engine broke and the engineer slowed up for repairs. The brakeman hung out a danger signal light, and the thing least expected was that a train would be along. The train had stopped but a short time when the train behind, which proved to be the fast Chicago "meat" train, rushed on at the rate of thirty-five miles an hour. She struck the rear coach, telescoped it and the two in front, and left nothing but the front baggage car standing. The three coaches were swept completely away, nothing but the trucks being left standing. The wreckage immediately caught fire and the wounded and dead in the ladies were burned beyond recognition."

Scenes of Awful Suffering.

KOUTS, Ind., Oct. 11.—Wm. Hughes, the conductor of a Chicago, St. Louis and Pittsburg construction train, now working between Kouts and Hobson, a small station ten miles west of Kouts, saw something of the results of the accident. His construction train runs into Kouts every evening with its load of tired workmen and the conductor drops in the one little hotel which the town boasts. He was awake at 4 o'clock this morning to take out a Wabash train that had been delayed by the wreck. Upon going downstairs in the hotel he found all in confusion. In the little parlor a boy, about 15 years of age, was stretched upon the floor literally mangled and torn to pieces, with just enough life left in his body to speak in faint whispers to those who asked about the accident. In the room off the parlor another boy was lying with serious bruises about the head. In one of the upper rooms the engineer of the meat train was lying at the point of death. So hideous were these sights and so piteous were the cries of anguish which were to be heard on all sides that the conductor made haste to escape the scene.

The Fire Slowly Claimed Its Victims.

Joseph McCool, a bartender, lies in one of the rooms of the little hotel. His injuries are for the most part internal and are not so severe but that his recovery is possible. He was able to tell of the awful occurrence as follows: "I was in the passenger coach, which was next to the last car in the train. Just before midnight I went into the smoker, which was just ahead of our car, and chatted for an hour and came back with a young man who sat down near me. That is the last I saw or expect to see of the poor fellow. Just as I had stretched myself out to go to sleep, and almost before I closed my eyes, there was an awful crash which, God help me, I never want to hear again. I could feel myself thrown violently toward the top of the car, and then I became insensible. On the way up I realized that all was confusion in the car, that canes, valises, rods of iron and lamps were in the air about me. I must have regained my consciousness in a very short time, for when I awoke all was darkness in the car and the horrible shrieks and piercing wails of agony almost deafened my ears. In the end of the car furthest from me the stove was overturned and the flames spread with magic rapidity. There was some sort of a new gas lamps in the car with reservoirs reaching from one end to the other. The flames leaped up this pipe, and in less time than I can tell it, the gas was burning the whole length of the coach over our heads. I was wedged in between two seats where I couldn't move a limb of my body, and there watched the fire slowly creep on me. It was a terrible sight. In the end of the coach near the fire I could see a lady caught between the seats as I was. The fire slowly crept across the car, she was soon enveloped in flames and then in agony she burned before my eyes. Just across from my seat I noticed, soon before the accident, a father, his wife and daughter. I saw them, also, crushed together and burned. Just as the flames were blazing a foot or two away from me a man pulled me into the aisle and said "Come to the window." He must have mistaken me for some one else, for the moment he had looked closely at my face he dropped me and hurried through the window with an exclamation of evident disappointment. I then painfully crawled after him into safety."

The Reporters Reach The Scene.

This afternoon when the reporters, who had been long delayed in reaching Kouts, owing to the secretiveness of the railroad officials, began at last to arrive, there was little in the aspect of the village to indicate the calamity that had so recently taken place. All the dead bodies had been carefully removed from sight, only two of the wounded were still in the village, and the local employes of the road were deaf and dumb to all seekers after information. The coroner had been obliged to go to Huntington, over fifty miles distant, to obtain the statements of witnesses, and the villagers seemed wholly at sea regarding the extent of the disaster. About the only person about and willing to talk of the details of the horror was Dr. W. C. McKee. The doctor had promptly responded in the dead of night to a call that he take a hand-car and go to the scene of the wreck, three miles from his house. Dr. McKee rendered good service. He had scant time to give his experience in detail, but stated that to the best of his knowledge it would not be overstating the facts to say that the collision had cost the lives of fully thirty people. It was shortly after 1 o'clock this morning when he reached the wreck, and he immediately began to give his services to the wounded. Those who were badly burn when the crash came, he says, must have had little chance for their lives, so quickly had the fire taken fire and so thorough was the work of the flames.

The Fire's Deadly Work.

As an illustration of the destruction and the difficulty of arriving at a correct idea of its magnitude, the doctor says that probably not a soul would have been made aware of the all but total wiping out of the Miller family of six had not their boy been saved. Dr. McKee stated that only nine bodies had been recovered and they were so badly charred as to be almost beyond recognition, the most left of any of them being a blackened trunk, and in some cases nothing beyond a few handfuls of ashes.

The Dead.

The Miller family of Dundee, father, mother, two brothers and girl (their 14-year-old boy Simon will probably die also).
Dr. Perry of North Judson, Ind.
Dr. Perry's wife.
Dr. Perry's daughter, aged 11.
A young Irish lady, name unknown.

Supt. Parsons of the Chicago and Atlantic was reticent but felt certain that the nine mentioned were all that had lost their lives.

DEATH OF THE HON. L. A. SENECAL.

Stricken by Paralysis a Few Weeks Ago, He Never Recovered.

MONTREAL, Oct. 11.—Hon. L. A. Senecal, President of the Richelieu and Ontario Navigation Company, died shortly after 4 o'clock this afternoon. A few weeks ago he had a stroke of paralysis and has never recovered. He was born at Varennes, Que., July 10, 1820, and has sat in both Quebec and Dominion Parliaments, being made a Senator last spring. He was also President of the Montreal Street Railway Company. He has constructed several railways in the province.

THE NEW JUGGLE.

The tender solicitude of the Dominion Government for the interests of the riding of West Peterborough is well known to be of an exceedingly emphasized character, especially about the time an election is pending. Our experience in connection with the rapid completion of the Trent Valley Canal has been exceedingly reassuring. The latest example of progress has been the appointment of the promised commission, and among the members there is no assurance of all of the three not being hostile to the work. The Toronto man will go into the work of the commission with a distinct bias against the Trent Canal, and the professional commissioner from Cobourg, we are not assured will be embarassed with any excess of friendliness towards the great and important work with whose squelching or promotion he is intrusted. The Montreal member of the commission may be and probably is favorable to the scheme, but if he is, there is every reason to think he will be in the minority. Why could not the government have found a man in this riding, capable for the work? There are many as well qualified as far as professional knowledge, and as far as the possession of the more important sine qua non of a good Tory record, are conberned. The Dominion Government seem to hold a grudge against the riding, which has for years sent them a slavish supporter. A batch of Indian agents was appointed a day or two ago by Sir John Macdonald, Superintendent General of Indian Affairs. Among these were two for the counties of Northumberland, Durham, Peterborough and Victoria. Both appointees are from Northumberland county. Neither of the Peterboroughs was thought worthy of at least one of the appointments. Peterborough can't get an Indian agent, nor even a senator. We haven't even got the the thousand labourers which Mr. Stevenson, M.P., promised on the stage in the Opera House to have at work on the Peterborough Lakefield section of the Trent Valley Canal this summer. The government, however, can pay this country some attention. For the sake of defeating local candidates in favour of the Ontario administration, they can instruct their local engineer to give employment to men in chopping, sawing, digging, etc., on utterly unnecessary government works to make their vote sure against the Mowat administration; they can also instruct a government understrapper to threaten government employes at Young's Point with loss of situation if they dared vote against the local candidate, whom the Dominion Government sympathized with. The farce is getting played out, and the commission just appointed will, as far as the present government is concerned, ring down the curtain on Trent Valley Canal construction. Of course, no work can be done while the commissioners are leisurely considering their report, and the report can be staved off till the promoters lose patience and cease to agitate in favour of the construction of a great national highway. The game is transparent enough for the blindest to see through.

Something Worth Knowing About the Manufacture of Furs.

Manufacturing for wholesale, as a rule, is largely free from the difficulties surrounding the manufacturer for the retail trade. The former starts work early in the season to make up samples for the travelling agents, who begin as early as July to take orders, and, accordingly such ordered goods are made up either good or cheap in quality. Repairing furs is out of the question, although at odd times done for favored parties. Far different is it with the manufacturer for the retail trade, who can only start early with great risk in cutting up material, which, as fashion changes, may be left unsold, whereas it might be wanted for something different. All of this the public is hardly aware of. They seldom think of their winter garments in time to have them repaired, only when required for use, when the busy season for orders of new goods has arrived do they think of repairs. The difficulties of former years, when all the work of cutting and preparing for finishing depended on myself, made it necessary to restrict the time for mending furs to the end of October, and even many of my best customers felt aggrieved to meet with a refusal when coming later, and many a time the question was asked, "Why don't you employ more hands?" But though I had but two hands of my own, yet they often performed, by working extra hours in a day, more work than two men in regular time might be able to do. A cutter that I might wish to employ, would demand from $18 to $20 per week for steady employment throughout the whole year, and such could not be done in a limited market for manufacturing, as it would end in failure, as has been proven even in Peterborough; and all the more surprising is it now to me (when the firm counts three active men in cutting and preparing material for finishing, and yet with four finishers, as well as the facility of a fur-sewing machine) that nearly two months time has been taken up with almost nothing but repairing and altering old furs; and it would have been difficult to comply will all the demands, had we not worked throughout the whole year making up our extensive stock of new furs for the coming season, involving, sometimes, great risk, as mentioned before. It is surprising, and yet we do not wonder so much about furs that come from British Columbia, the Northwest and Manitoba for repairing, but when furs come from Toronto and Montreal for the same purpose it seems almost incredible, but it can be proven. How is this accounted for then? Fur dealers, as a rule, will be met everywhere, no matter how small the place; but ere such dealers furriers? If printer's ink can do it, and there are many credulous ones who fancy the same, then any one can advertise himself a furrier; nor will capital make any one a furrier who has not acquired the knowledge by learning the trade, which requires a very long practice. In all the larger cities where fur cutters are employed, German cutters always have the preference, as not only are they compelled to cut furs but also to learn to dress and prepare raw furs, as well as to be able to sew and finish fur garments before they can pass as proper mechanics. Such is rather not the rule in other countries, and only such a furrier would I have liked to employ in former years in my business.

A DELICATE TASK.

The U. S. Will Avoid Doing Anything That Might Increase Canada's Independence.

NEW YORK, Oct. 11.—The Times Washington correspondent, speaking of the Fisheries Commission, says: The Administration hopes to come to an arrangement that will give us the benefits of Canadian trade, that will obviate troubles on the border, and that will satisfactorily arrange our relations with our neighbors along 4000 miles of frontier. It is hoped to accomplish this by pursuing methods that will not, as twenty years ago, drive Canada into a state of greater independence or possible unfriendliness.

The Behring Sea Seizures.

WASHINGTON, Oct. 11.—It can be authoritatively stated that at the recent conference between the Secretary of State and the fishery negotiators, Messrs. Putnam and Angell, the matter of free admission of Canadian fish was not agreed upon nor was a final definite position taken upon any point of the coming negotiations.

There seems to be a strong tendency in certain quarters, notably in the English newspapers to connect the seizure of the sealers in Behring Sea with the Canadian fishery negotiations. As a matter of fact, up to the present day the British Government has never raised a question of the right of the United States to exercise jurisdiction over the waters of Behring Sea, nor has the Department of State ever affirmed or disclaimed that right in the course of its correspondence with foreign Governments. The only communications on the subject received from the British Government were confined to requests to be furnished with information touching the reported seizures of British vessels in Behring Sea, and so far from withholding or concealing any facts that might be of service in the approaching negotiations the fullest information has been furnished the British Minister of all the facts attending the seizures that were known to the Department of State.

Secretary Bayard has no intention or design to compass his object, a final and satisfactory settlement of the fishery question, by any concealment of facts or chicanery, but hopes to reach this end by a full, free and open discussion of every phase of the matter. In what manner, if any, the department may be influenced in its treatment of the Alaskan sealeries (if the jurisdiction of the United States over the waters of Behring Sea should ever be questioned), by the reported seizure of foreign sealers by Russia off the Siberian coast on a similar claim of jurisdiction over waters beyond the three-mile limit, cannot now be stated for the reason that the department is ignorant of the facts connected with the reported seizures. It is known that one of the vessels was seized by the Russians for selling goods to natives in violation of Russian law, but in the cases last reported it is not known at the Department of State whether the vessels were or were not within the three-mile limit, and other important information is also lacking.

POWDERLY EXCITED.

He Vehemently Opposes a Motion Sympathizing With the Anarchists.

MINNEAPOLIS, Minn., Oct. 11.—In the General Assembly of the Knights of Labor yesterday, James E. Quinn of New York presented a resolution expressing sorrow that the seven men in Chicago were doomed to death, and that the convention use every endeavor to secure the commutation of the death sentences passed upon them. The convention was at once thrown into the wildest excitement, scores of the delegates trying at the same time to obtain the floor. General Master Workman Powderly decided the resolution out of order. Joseph Evans of Pittsburg appealed from the decision. The appeal was lost by a vote of 151 to 88. Before the appeal was taken Mr. Powderly called General Worthy Foreman Griffiths of Chicago to the chair, and in a short but vehement speech called upon the convention to defeat the resolution. He said no true Knight could be an Anarchist. He appealed to the delegates in impassioned words not to pervert the purpose of the order by the passage of any such resolutions. It was the hottest speech Powderly was ever known to make. This was the principal episode of a rather quiet day.

The general opinion among the delegates is that no serious fight will come up now before the convention closes its work. The fight that it was supposed would be made against Powderly and other general officers is said to have been given up.

Give Them a Chance!

That is to say, your lungs. Also all your breathing machinery. Very wonderful machinery it is. Not only the larger air-passages, but the thousands of little tubes and cavities leading from them.

When these are clogged and choked with matter which ought not to be there, your lungs cannot half do their work. And what they do, they cannot do well.

Call it cold, cough, croup, pneumonia, catarrh, consumption or any of the family of throat and nose and head and lung obstructions, all are bad. All ought to be got rid of. There is just one sure way to get rid of them. That is to take Boschee's German Syrup, which any druggist will sell you at 75 cents a bottle. Even if everything else has failed you, you may depend upon this for certain. eodw

THE CAFFAREL CASE.

Developments in the History of the Traffic in French Decorations.

PARIS, Oct. 10.—In the house of Madame Limousin, who has been arrested in connection with the Caffarel case, there were discovered about 200 letters to M. Wilson and others from M. Herbette, that if the Government had known the extent of the scandal Gen. Caffarel would not have been arrested. Baron Kreitmayer, the German implicated in the affair, was ostensibly a horse dealer. It is suspected he and Madame Limousin obtained and translated military papers for Germany.

Madame Ratazzi has been arrested on the charge of being implicated in the Caffarel affair. It is semi-officially denied that M. Wilson is involved in the scandal.

A tradesman named Bayle, a gentleman named Lavallois-Serrot and a Madame Courteuil have also been arrested. Many incriminating documents were found in their houses.

The Wimbledon Team.

OTTAWA, Oct. 6.—At a meeting of the Executive Committee of the Dominion Rifle Association held yesterday, it was decided to make refunds of entry fees to non-competitors applying to the secretary. The first twenty on the list of the grand aggregate, entitled to go to Wimbledon, will be communicated with in order to learn their intentions before issuing rifles and ammunition.

The End of a Dissipated Life.

NEW YORK, Oct. 6.—Alfred A. Janicke, aged 25, son of the wealthy jeweler, Albert Janicke of this city, blew his brains out while entering Police Headquarters last night in charge of a detective who had arrested him for stealing $500 worth of jewelry from a Mr. Armory. He had led a dissipated life for some time.

To Avoid Baldness or Grey Hair.

Use Dr. Dorenwend's Great German Hair Magic. It keeps the scalp clean and free from Dandruff, and promotes the growth of the hair. It prevents premature grayness and stops all falling out of the hair. On bald heads, where the roots have not perished, it will invigorate them and force a new growth of hair. Ask for Hair Magic. It is the only reliable. For sale by J. D. Tully and all druggists.

An Old Time Favorite

The season of green fruits and summer drinks is the time when the worst forms of cholera morbus and bowel complaints generally prevail. As a safeguard Dr. Fowler's Extract of Wild Strawberry should be kept at hand. For 30 years it has been the most reliable remedy. 2w40

From a Grateful Mother.

My little child suffered from a severe cold upon the lungs, until she was like a little skeleton before she took Burdock Blood Bitters, after which she became fat and hearty, and was cured of weak lungs, constipation and debility or wasting of flesh, from which two doctors had failed to relieve her. Grand Results.

For several years R. H. Brown, of Kincardine, suffered from dyspepsia, he says he tried several physicians and a host of remedies without relief. His druggist recommended B. B. B., which he declares produced "grand results" for which he gives it his highest recommendation. 2w40d

THE WAR CLOUD BUSTED.

VICTORY has Perched on the Banner of

PETERBOROUGH'S GREAT CHEAPSIDE!

And SHEPPARD, by common consent, will get $1,000 for being the Cheapest Clothier in Peterborough, having knocked the Wonderful Cheap Man completely out. "Business is Business; Dirt is Dirt, and when it comes to throwing Dirt, then Count" the only original teddy out, and he will hand over that $1,000 like a little man: For the following reasons:—

Sheppard sells a full size Man's Suit for $2.95, and better Goods than a Suit to fit a Child about 9 years old sold by the Wonderful Cheap-Man on Saturday for $3.00; but marked $3.50. This is how it was:—A Lady purchased a Child's Suit on Saturday last, Sept. 17th, 1887, at the Store of the Wonderful Cheap-Man. It was marked thusly:—Lot 5375, Breast 27, Waist 26½, Age 9, Price $3.50. It was pure Shoddy, being held together by cotton threads, and Sheppard is free to say that that was the dearest Suit sold in the Town of Peterborough for the last two years. Full particulars are given because of the $1000 involved, and, further, that this decides who is selling the Cheapest Clothing in Peterborough. SHEPPARD would have sold that Lady a Suit, Pure Wool for that money, and worth two of the one she got.

$1,000 to Go to the Charitable Institutions of Peterborough.

I had first decided to give the agencies a chance of jumping up my rating that $1.000, but after considering the matter and finding that never in any case have I been asked for an endorser to my paper, and that no relative or any other persons have ever endorsed my paper to the extent of one cent, I have come to the conclusion my credit is as good as yours and will ask you to hand over the $1,000 to the Charitable Institutions of Peterborough.

Now, Sir, there is a good story told the truth of which can be vouched for, but for the honor of at least making an effort to keep up your self-styled name—The Terror of High Priced Clothiers—do not allow the same to be said of you in the case above. A man purchased a suit for $15.00 at the store of one of the largest Advertisers in that section of country. It was guaranteed pure wool; but after examining it carefully at home, he came to the conclusion that he had been dealing with some one sharper than himself. Finding a make of wool, differing some from anything he had ever seen, it dawned upon him, that he had heard of wool of that kind, so the suit was returned. The merchant bet $25.00 that it was all wool, and the bet was accepted the decision being left to a neighboring merchant, he found that the $15.00 suit, was wool faced and shoddy back, pure unadulterated shoddy, but what of the $25.00 bet, was it paid, not much—muchly—as it were.

SHEPPARD is making Wonderful Strides in Securing Marvellous Bargains in Dry Goods, Clothing, Hats and Caps.

THE IRWIN SHANTY BURGLARY CASE.

"Augustus Montgomery and Elijah Windover, you are charged with having entered a dwelling house of Mr. J. M. Irwin, in the township of Harvey, and having feloniously taken therefrom, etc., etc. Are you guilty or not guilty?" Those were the words of the magistrate this morning to the two young men who were arraigned before the court on the charge above named. The particulars of this case were given in the Examiner at the time of the arrest. Mr. R. E. Wood, C.C.A., prosecuted; Mr. C. W. Sawers defended the prisoners.

A plea of guilty of larceny was entered, the prisoners admitting taking the goods, but denying that they broke open the premises.

Mr. John Bell, an employee of Mr. Irwin, testified to placing the goods in the house and locking the doors when he left it.

For the defence Acting-Chief Adams and Constable Cochrane were called to testify to the previous good character of the defendants as far as they knew.

The prisoners admitting the goods held by the police were the goods taken by them, the same were ordered to be returned to Mr. Irwin.

The prisoners were further remanded for one week.

A First-Rate Theatrical Treat Ahead.

Mr. T. Bradburn has shown an earnest of his desire to provide first-class entertainments at his Opera House for the public of Peterborough by engaging Miss Marguerite St. John and her English comedy company of London (Eng.) artists, for the production of Dion Boucicault's greatest play, "The Life of an Actress; or, Behind the Scenes," to conclude with the stirring musical comedy, the "Loan of a Lover." This company is one of high standing, and seldom visit any place but the larger cities. Mr. Bradburn, however, anxious to place something of unusual merit on his boards, secured their appearance here, though an engagement with Hamilton had to be cancelled to admit of it. It is to be hoped that the public will appreciate his enterprise and fill the house on Monday evening, Oct. 17th. Seats at Hartley's music store.

BULLET AND BULLS-EYE.

Annual Matches of the Peterborough Rifle Association.

High Scoring—Seasons Large Prizes—Fair Weather for the Shooters.

Monday and Tuesday the annual matches of the Peterborough Rifle Association were held at the butts. The weather on the first day was showery, but on Tuesday it cleared off fine and cool. On both days an annoying breeze blew from different directions.

The shooting this year is away ahead of last year. Mr. D. Cameron's performance is worthy of special notice. In the Volunteer match, at 400 yards range, 7 rounds, he made 3 consecutive bulls-eyes. He took two sighting shots, one an inner and the other a bull's-eye and followed with seven more consecutive "bulls." Other members of the association did nearly as well.

There were a number of visitors from Lindsay, who met with indifferent success.

Following are the scores:—

Matrimonial.

On Wednesday morning at 7 o'clock Mr. J. F. Holden, of St. Louis, Mo., formerly well known in Peterborough, was united in marriage to Miss Charlotte Elsworth, second daughter of the late Rev. Mr. Elsworth. The ceremony was performed at the residence of the bride's mother, corner of Lake and Elizabeth streets, Ashburnham, by Rev. F. H. Wallace, M.A., B.D. Mr. G. A. Schofield was best man and Miss Josie Elsworth assisted the bride. There were only a few guests present. The bride was in receipt of a large number of handsome presents. The happy pair left on the 8.20 G.T.R. train en route for St. Louis, their future home, amidst the congratulations and best wishes of numerous friends.

FASHIONABLE WEDDING.

"At the residence of Ald. Boustead, Linstock House, Jarvis street, Toronto, to-day (Oct. 11th), a large number of friends and relatives gathered to witness the marriage of his daughter, Miss Mary Louisa Boustead, to Alfred Russel Clarke, senior member of the firm of A. R. Clarke & Co., leather manufacturers. The ceremony was performed by Rev. E. A. Stafford, M.A., B.D., of the Metropolitan Church. The happy couple were the recipients of many costly and beautiful presents from their large circle of friends, accompanied by their best wishes for future happiness." The above is from the Toronto News. The groom is a brother of Dr. Clarke of Peterborough.

27th ANNUAL SEASON. 27th.

Our Stock of Furs for the Season of 1887 is one not inferior to any in the best retail stores in any City. When we say this we base the same on our knowledge in selecting the material for our manufacture, which is of the Choicest. The long winter of last season had run our stock very low, many lines, such as Men's Coats in Racoon, being completely sold out, but of which we now have on hand a large stock made of good seasoned skins in the natural color. None kept of unseasoned skins, which require coloring dark to hide bare spots.

WHY?

Because experience and close study has developed talent in Chemistry, Lighting, and Posing. In days when such learning was required imperatively in a successful photography Mr. Sproule was practicing the business and today it places his work ahead of competitors. Because only the best materials are used. No other establishment in Canada is using throughout the same class of materials. He works with no cheap instruments. His Studio is lighted and furnished the best, and all combined to give the subject ease and confidence.

His prices are not higher than competitors. He employs no person or persons to travel through the Country to puff up his business or work. It don't require such. dw

THE SEIZURES IN ALASKA.

THE POINTS OF MR. WILLOUGHBY CLARK'S APPEAL IN THE CASES.

Prof. Selwyn of the Geological Survey Makes a Highly Satisfactory Tour of Inspection—Mr. Charles Tupper's Arrival at the Capital.

OTTAWA, Oct. 12.—It will be remembered that when the British schooner W. P. Sayward and six American vessels were forfeited recently in the United States District Court of Alaska notice of appeal to the Supreme Court of the United States was given by Mr. Willoughby Clarke, who conducted the defence.

Information has now reached here of the grounds on which this appeal is made, and they may be summarized as follows: 1. That as none of the vessels were captured within the three marine mile limit they were engaged in a lawful calling in the open ocean, which is common to all. 2. That as they were outside of the three mile limit they were not in Alaskan territory or in the waters thereof within the meaning of the act. 3. That as Russia did not absolutely possess exclusive rights in Behring Sea, she could not cede such rights to the United States. 4. That Behring Sea is properly a portion of the North Pacific Ocean and was included in the treaty made with the United States and Great Britain previous to the treaty of the cession of Alaska to the United States. 5. That no great body of water can be properly claimed by any nation unless it is entirely or nearly entirely surrounded by that nation's territory. 6. That Behring Sea and Behring Straits have always been a highway to the Arctic Ocean. 7. That the imaginary boundary line mentioned in the treaty of cession could not and does not define the limits of any country, a portion of it being absolutely in mid-ocean and another portion extending north ad infinitum into the frozen ocean, which if extended definitely would strike somewhere about Nova Zembla and cannot be a portion of any boundary line. 8. That the evidence on behalf of the United States Government in no case was sufficient upon which to pass a decree of forfeiture.

Professor Selwyn, Chief of the Geological Survey, has returned to the city after an extended tour of inspection of the field work of the survey, extending to the Pacific Ocean. He first visited the Sudbury section and fully confirms the reports of the huge deposits of copper in that region, which he classes as exceptionally rich. He next visited Port Arthur and examined the iron deposits in that neighborhood, where he was shown some splendid specimens. He then proceeded to Lethbridge and was well pleased with the coal found in that section, the quantity and quality of which he considers entirely settles the question of the future fuel supply of the Northwest. He crossed the Selkirks and Rockies to British Columbia and describes that region as one vast bed of minerals almost wholly undeveloped, as there is scarcely any mining being carried on in proportion to the immense amount of mineral deposits. Altogether, the Professor's views of the regions traversed by him are of the most satisfactory character, as tending to show the immensity of the undeveloped mineral resources of Canada.

Hon. J. A. Chapleau has been very busy since his return, and visited his office in the Eastern Block both yesterday and to-day. This morning he visited Sir John at Earnscliffe, and left to-night for Montreal to attend the funeral of Senator Seneal.

Sir Hector Langevin is much better to-day and was able to transact some business at his house this afternoon. He is expected to be out again in a few days.

It is understood that Hon. Mr. Thompson, Minister of Justice, has leased for the winter months the Dennis Mansion at the corner of Metcalfe and Cooper streets, at present occupied by Hon. John Carling. The latter will shortly move into the residence he recently purchased from Sir Alex. Campbell.

Mr. John Page, Chief Engineer of Canals, left yesterday en route for Sault Ste. Marie to direct the preliminary work in connection with the proposed canal on the Canadian side.

Sir Chas. Tupper arrived to-night by the Canada Atlantic.

AN ASYLUM FIRE HORROR.

A CONFLAGRATION IN A RELIGIOUS HOUSE NEAR CLEVELAND.

Five Nuns Lost—Who the Victims Were—A Fiery Spectacle—The Last Nun to Leave the Burning Building.

CHESHEAD, Ohio., Oct. 13, 2 a.m.—The Northern Ohio Insane Asylum, at Newburg, seven miles from here, is on fire.

LATER.—The horrors of a fire in the middle and southside of Cleveland, which, for a time, visited the great insane asylum on the northern limits of the city for the second time in its history, it was the occasion of the widest spread alarm the city has known since the Chicago fire. Of those in charge of the institution were entirely ignorant of the danger that threatened them when the fury of the flames, and dense and smoking blasts of fire were upon them with bewildering suddenness. Many of those who escaped did so in their night clothes, as there was scarcely time to realize the situation when the room was filled with blinding fire and dense smoke. As soon as the first outbreak was discovered the attendants made a concerted rush into the sleeping cells and rescued all they could of the unfortunates who had been overcome. The bodies of twenty-four insane women who had died during the night were found in an injured condition. Two of the dead were unrecognizable. The names of the others are:

Mrs. Margaret Pitt.
Miss Jennie E. Hall.
Miss Evelina Bortonier.
Mrs. Charlotte Knowlton.

The injured are Miss Caroline Harrison, cousin of Charlotte, perhaps fatally; Miss Jane Black and Miss May Ogle.

But for the heroic conduct of the physicians and attendants who rushed into the smoke and flames and dragged the terror-stricken insane people from the chapel, the loss of life would have been terrible. The fire started at the laundry, a one-story building which adjoins the chapel in which the chapel is located. The prompt response and active work of the firemen prevented a disastrous spread of the flames. The loss to the property will fall below $50,000.

A QUEER CASE AT HALIFAX.

An Incendiary Prefers Penitentiary to Liberty and a Wife.

HALIFAX, N.S., Oct. 12.—A romantic case is now before the Supreme Court. The Rev. Geo Henry James was arrested for brutally treating the children of a widow named Miller and burning down her house, the family narrowly escaping with their lives. James was arrested, pleaded guilty and was committed to the Supreme Court for trial. A few weeks later the banns for a marriage between Henry James and Mrs. Miller were called in St. Luke's Cathedral. In due time Rev. F. R. Murray called at the jail and performed the ceremony. Mrs. Miller, whose children had been cruelly beaten and whose house had been burned, was the bride, James, the incendiary, was the groom. Mrs. Miller was the only witness of importance against her new husband, and as a woman is not compelled to give evidence against her husband he stood a good chance of escaping the penitentiary. Everything progressed swimmingly until the case was called for trial, when James startled his new wife and lawyers by insisting upon pleading guilty. The deluded woman is passionately attached to her husband, but he persists in going to the penitentiary, so that she has lost both her home and her husband.

TO GO INTO LIQUIDATION.

The Ontario Investment Association Will Not Sell to Another Company.

LONDON, Oct. 12.—This evening the Shareholders' Committee of the Ontario Investment Association held a lengthy conference with the directors of that institution to decide what action should be taken to dispose of what assets remained for them to the best advantage. The question was whether to sell out to the Ontario Loan and Debenture Company or go directly into liquidation.

In spite of the threat made by the English and Scotch debenture holders that they would insist on cash payment of all debentures should liquidation be proceeded with the joint meeting decided, the committee and directors both agreeing, that the affairs of the Ontario Investment Association should be placed in liquidation immediately instead of selling to another company.

TREACHERY FEARED.

Three Hundred Russian Subjects Enter Cabul Under the Guise of Merchants.

CABUL, Oct. 12.—Three hundred Russian subjects, under Syed Yakoob Ali, entered Herat in the guise of merchants. The Governor, distrusting the object of their visit, communicated with the Ameer, who ordered the Governor to refer to Merahmen Khan, the Russian Governor of Murghab, whose reply is anxiously awaited. Elaborate military precautions are being taken at Herat. Trees are being removed and the canal and ditch are being joined in one.

Five Shantymen Missing.

OTTAWA, Oct. 12.—A telegram was received in the city this morning announcing that five men and a span of horses on Messrs. McKay & Doherty's limits are missing since Monday, and it is generally believed that they were either drowned in Kippewa Lake while crossing on a frail ferry boat, or lost their way in the woods. Several of the same gang who went with the five referred to were engaged in Ottawa.

He Drank Too Much High Wines.

MONTREAL, Oct. 12.—The body of a Canadian Pacific Railway engineer named Nicholson was brought here this week for interment, and it now turns out that he met his death in a shebeen near Alexandria, Ont., by drinking too much high wines.

Cholera's Harvest.

SIMLA, Oct 11.—According to official reports there were 30,790 fatal cases of cholera in the Northwest provinces during the month of August.

Lady Brassey Dies at Sea.

LONDON, Oct. 12.—Lady Brassey, died on board the Sunbeam, her husband's yacht, while bound for Australia, and was buried at sea.

OFFICIAL TESTS OF MILK.

The Return Shows the Toronto Article to be of Poor Quality.

OTTAWA, Oct. 12.—Some time ago it was announced that the Government analysts were making tests of the milk used in the leading cities of the Dominion. The result of these tests has now been made public in a report by Mr. Thomas McFarlane, Chief Government Analyst. The milk is graded by the percentage it contains of milk solids, the best part of which is butter fat. These milk solids average from 10 to 14 per cent. of the milk, and the butter fat ranges between 3 and 5 per cent. The Government analysts found the percentages for the several districts to be as below:

	Total solids.	Butter fat.
Ottawa	12.59	4.39
Halifax	12.73	4.16
St. John	12.45	4.15
Montreal	12.39	4.02
Quebec	12.39	3.84
Toronto	12.06	3.35

From this it would appear that Ottawa has the best milk and Toronto the worst. The greatest care was exercised in collecting the samples, the milking being done in the presence of the inspectors, and there being no possibility of the milk being tampered with.

The variation in the quality of the milk is due to the difference in quality of stock and to rich or poor feed. Mr. McFarlane's report says, in this connection, that it does not seem fair to punish a milkman for watering his milk or for mixing skim milk with fresh milk and not punish the milkman who keeps poor cows, feeds them badly and sells milk which, though unadulterated, may really be worse in quality than some watered milk. The report, in short, recommends that to get over this difficulty a legal standard of milk should be established in Canada. The average standard of all the samples tested by the analysts gives a percentage of solids, of which 3.62 is fat, and 9.07 other than fat. The Massachusetts standard is 12 per cent. solids, of which 3.7 must be butter fat, but the Dominion analysts think this would be too high for the Dominion.

THE [illegible] SEIZURES.

The Deputy [illegible] Action to be [illegible] Ottawa.

BOSTON, Oct. 12.—A case is now pending before the Admiralty Commissioner, which signifies in the opinion of the proficiency of the United States Navy over Britain. In June, 1886, the supreme cutter Corwin seized the schooner Onward, of San Francisco, twenty miles off the land in Behring Sea. The owners of the vessel entered suit against Capt. Abbot of the Corwin, in the Admiralty Court, at Boston, for $25,000 damages, and the answer of the captain on behalf of the United States Government, against whom the action is practically brought, distinctly raises the question of jurisdiction beyond three miles from shore in the open sea. The case will be heard as soon as important witnesses return from their present sealing voyage. The owners of sealing schooners and firms interested in the business in San Francisco have combined and raised a large fund to fight the Sierra's test case. The Admiralty decision will no doubt be taken to the Supreme Court. Ms. Justice Field is reported to have said not long ago that the Supreme Court were anxious to get hold of the question, and that if it were brought into court it would be promptly heard and decided. It is rumored that the seizure of the Canadian sealers recently condemned at Sitka also intend appealing to the Supreme Court of the United States.

THE DISASTER IN INDIANA.

The Burial of Several of the Victims in the Churchyard at Kouts—One of the Killed Was a Young Woman Who Was on Her Way to Ireland to Visit Friends.

KOUTS, Ind., Oct. 12.—It is about settled that no one will ever know definitely how many persons perished in the Chicago and Atlantic horror. The estimates continue to vary from thirty down to ten. One more of the victims has been identified. Thomas Malone of 55 Blue Island-avenue, Chicago, arrived here this morning searching for his sister, Bridget Malone, who left on the train on Monday night en route for New York, where she was to take the steamer for Queenstown. She parted from her brother, Thomas, at the depot in Chicago, and her last words were "Good-bye, God bless you." He had a conversation here to-day with Joseph McCool, the Boston young man who escaped so miraculously from the wreck. When Mr. Malone said that his sister sat two seats from the front of the car on the side opposite the heater, McCool remembered her and at once placed her as the unknown Irish woman who was burned to death. An affecting scene ensued when Malone viewed the remains.

The bodies of Dr. Perry, his wife and child were so reduced by the action of the flames that they were easily got into a box about four feet long and fourteen inches deep.

During the morning an undertaker from Valparaiso had driven to Kouts with a sombre wagon load of three cheap caskets enclosed in pine boxes. One casket was to be devoted to the remains supposed to be A. Dindburg, who was crushed in the shattered freight cars. In one of the others were placed the incinerated bones of the Perry family, and the third rude box was assigned to Miss Malone. The victims were temporarily interred in the peaceful little graveyard near the town this afternoon. Rev. Dr. Atkins of the Christian Church conducted brief services at the cemetery.

Herman Miller, the only survivor of his family, was still alive, but it was thought a few hours at most would end his intense sufferings.

An After-Dinner Walk.

MONTREAL, Oct. 12.—A man named Gentil, who was sentenced to seven years for burglary at Rimouski, was brought to the city on his way to St. Vincent de Paul Penitentiary by an officer. On arriving here officer and prisoner proceeded to a hotel on Jacques Cartier Square for dinner. His handcuffs were removed and, after the repast, the prisoner rose and politely said good morning, helped out by the door and was not yet been recaptured.

MIDDLEBURY, Vt., Oct 12.—The first snow of the season fell here this morning.

A VERDICT BY DICTATION.

THE MITCHELLSTOWN JURY OBEYS MR. HARRINGTON.

A Verdict of Wilful Murder Against an Inspector of Police, Three Sergeants and Two Constables Who Were Implicated in the Shooting.

LONDON, Oct. 12.—At the inquest on the Mitchellstown shooting case to-day attention was drawn to the fact that the policeman charged with the shooting had been removed from the district on the eve of the jury's verdict. The police inspector said the men had been removed because their duties in the place had ceased, but they would return if necessary. The coroner declared that the removal of the police was illegal, improper and unconstitutional. After all the evidence had been submitted, Mr. Harrington asked that a verdict of wilful murder be returned against Head Constable Browning and the five policemen who fired under his general order. Mr. Harrington accused Constable Browning of deliberately planning the murder.

The jury rendered a verdict of murder against Inspector Browning, Sergts. Hanlon, [illegible] and Brinnen and Constables Gerrish and Quinn.

The coroner has issued warrants for the arrest of the men found guilty.

Another Verdict of Murder.

DUBLIN, Oct. 12.—The inquest in the case of John Kinsella, the old man who was shot and killed by conspiracy men on the estate of Mr. Brooke, at Coolgreany, County Wexford, on Sept. 28, has resulted in a verdict of murder against Capt. Hamilton, the agent of the estate, and the men and bailiffs who were engaged in the affair.

THE K. OF L. CONVENTION.

The Legislative Committee's Report, Dealing With Many Minor Matters, Adopted.

MINNEAPOLIS, Oct. 12.—The convention Knights of Labor met in secret session this morning. [illegible] the report of the legislative committee, the Dublin [illegible] that each settler may borrow $200 from Government, secured by the land as [illegible] thanking that the Government [illegible] the [illegible] by weekly payment [illegible] Parliament, and approving the [illegible] clause of the Grand Master Workman's address in favor of government control of telegraph and telephone system of the country. The report was adopted.

The principal part of the afternoon session was devoted to the report of Commissioner Burnett and Boycotts. "Inexpedient to Legislate" was the recommendation of the committee regarding a document asking that a special bureau of strikes and boycotts be established. Though the report will sharply antagonized, the [illegible] of the assembly agreed with the committee and no bureau will be formed. Continuing its report the committee offered several suggestions as to the conduct of strikes and boycotts.

Several delegates here preferred complaints against certain concerns in different parts of the country, but all were referred to the General Executive Board on the ground that the boycott must not be used except after the most careful investigation and consideration of the circumstances.

Cases of heartless blacklisting and malicious prosecution on the part of the enemies of the order were cited with freedom, but the report of the committee advising the reference of all cases for investigation was finally adopted.

A recommendation of the committee that the assistance fund be abolished, as it tends to encourage strikes, and asking for the enforcement of the strictest discipline in all cases was referred to the special committee on the constitution.

A FRIGHTFUL ACCIDENT.

A Boy Disemboweled by Falling on a Stick While a Quarter of a Mile.

HAMILTON, Oct. 12.—Tuesday evening Ernest Brown, the 8-year-old son of Wm. Brown, who lives on the mountain brow, was, in company with some comrades, attempting to climb a tree. One of the little fellow's playmates procured a stick, about four feet long and two inches in diameter, and having a rough jagged sharp end. The boy put the stick under Ernest's feet and sought to help him up the tree. The stick slipped and young Brown fell to the ground, the jagged end of the stick at the same time entering his abdomen, making a frightful looking wound from which the little fellow's bowels protruded. The plucky boy got up, and, supporting the protruding bowels in his hand walked fully a quarter of a mile and actually climbed over a picket fence. Unable to proceed further the sufferer went to the house of a neighbor. A doctor was sent for. Dr. Cockburn was soon with the boy; he did what was necessary, and the patient was taken home on a stretcher. The little fellow was in good spirits this morning, and was doing as well as could be expected.

THE ANARCHISTS' APPEAL.

Counsel for the Condemned Men on the Way to Washington.

CHICAGO, Oct. 12.—Capt. Black and Moses Solomon, counsel for the condemned Anarchists, started this afternoon for New York, where they will join Gen. Pryor and J. Randolph Tucker. Said Capt. Black: "The finishing touches to the petition for a writ of error will be added in New York. We will be there possibly for three or four days to have our printing done, but by the middle of next week we will be in Washington ready to submit our petition."

A SIOUX DECORATION.

The Hideous Necklace That Belonged to an Indian Medicine Man.

WASHINGTON, Oct. 12.—A most peculiar and hideous decoration in the shape of a necklace, probably the only one of the kind in the world, has recently been added to the curiosities in the National Museum. It consists of a cunningly wrought band of beadwork, dependent from which are eight shriveled human fingers, with tips stained a dull ochre color. The necklace was the property of a Sioux medicine man, and it is understood that each finger was cut from the hand of a different victim.

English Church Bazaar and Concert.

The congregation of the English Church, Norwood, of which Rev. John Gibson, B.A., is pastor, on Wednesday and Wednesday evening held what might be called financial mission services. During the day the Town Hall was occupied as a bazaar, where a large number of useful and fancy articles were offered for sale and met with good demand and good prices. The ladies had also a booth at the exhibition grounds for supplying meals which was well patronized, but perhaps not so well as it would have been had the object for which it was there been more widely known. In the evening a concert was given in the which was filled. An excellent musical programme was presented, to which Peterborough people liberally contributed. Miss Strickland and Miss Vair gave in their usual acceptable manner, two vocal duets, "The Venetian Boat Song" and "Life's Dream is O'er." Miss Strickland also sang the solo "Fit for Tat," and Miss Vair gave the solos "Sweet Mignonette" and "Take Me, Jamie Dear." Mr. C. S. Ardah, also of Peterborough, gave three songs in excellent style—"The Gallants of England," "True to the Last" and "Father O'Flynn." Miss Smark, of Peterborough, joined with Miss Roxburgh in the opening instrumental duet "The Silver Trumpet," and with Miss Roxburgh and Mr. Fuller in the trio "The Nymphs of the Ocean", and also gave a vocal solo entitled "A Leaf from the Spray." Mr. Charles Brown, of Peterborough, was unable to be present to give his two readings, but the Peterborough contingent present kindly filled his numbers with songs. Mr. Duffield, of Norwood, rendered a song in the first part, "O, what Would You give to be There!" The cornet band, under the leadership of Mr. Archie Freeman, also contributed two numbers to the programme. The concert was a fine success both financially and as a musical entertainment.

A CONVENTION OF BANKERS.

They Ask for Amendments to the Extradition Treaty.

PITTSBURG, Oct. 12.—The annual meeting of the American Bankers' Association commenced this morning. Two hundred representatives of the leading financial institutions of the country were present.

The following resolution was adopted by the convention upon the approval of the Executive Council:

Whereas, The failure to agree upon a proper extradition treaty between the United States and Great Britain for the return of a class of offenders who seem to be ever found with us, and

Whereas, It has come to be a matter of notoriety that the class of criminals known under the designation of defaulters and embezzlers have immunity from arrest, trial and punishment by reaching the British possessions, where now in Canada there are large numbers resident.

Resolved, That the Executive Committee is requested to appoint a committee on behalf of this association to represent to our State Department the great evils now existing, and to urge the early amendment of our extradition treaties with Great Britain, so that the existing evil may be abated.

Mr. Samuel Norment of Washington, D.C., offered the following resolutions, which were referred to the Executive Council:

Whereas, It is proposed to hold at the National Capital, in 1892, a joint celebration by the sixteen American republics in honor of the centennial anniversary of the inauguration of constitutional government upon the Western Hemisphere;

Whereas, It is also proposed to hold at the National Capital in 1892 a world exposition in honor of the four hundredth anniversary of the discovery of America by Christopher Columbus, in which exposition the history, arts and industries of the three Americas is intended to be portrayed;

Resolved, That the American Bankers' Congress heartily favor this movement toward more intimate relations between the several sister nations of the three Americas, and commend it to the people of the United States as a matter of great practical importance.

Resolved, That the secretary be instructed to send copies of these resolutions to the President of the United States, to the President of the Conference and to the Speaker of the House of Representatives.

The evening a reception was tendered the delegates at the Monongahela House.

Something Worth Knowing About the Manufacture of Furs.

Manufacturing for wholesale, as a rule, is largely free from the difficulties surrounding the manufacturer for the retail trade. The former starts work early in the season to make up samples for the travelling agents, who begin as early as July to take orders, and, accordingly such ordered goods are made up either gilted or cheap in quality. Repairing here is out of the question, although at odd times done for favored parties. Far different is it with the manufacturer for the retail trade, who can only start early with great risk in cutting up material, which, as fashion changes, may be left unsold, whereas it might be wanted for something different. All of this the public is hardly aware of. They seldom think of their winter garments in time to have them repaired, only when required for use, when the busy season for orders of new goods has arrived do they think of repairs. The difficulties of former years, when all the work of cutting and preparing for finishing depended on myself, made it necessary to restrict the time for mending furs to the end of October, and even many of my best customers felt aggrieved to meet with a refusal when coming later, and many a time the question was asked, "Why don't you employ more hands?" But though I had but two hands of my own, yet they often performed, by working extra hours in a day, more work than two men in regular time might be able to do. A cutter that I might wish to employ, would demand from $18 to $20 per week for steady employment throughout the whole year, and such could not be done in a limited market for manufacturing, as it would end in failure, as has been proven even in Peterborough; and all the more surprising is it now to us (when the firm counts three active men in cutting and preparing material for finishing, and yet with four finishers, as well as the facility of a fur-sewing machine) that nearly two months time has been taken up with almost nothing but repairing and altering old furs; and it would have been difficult to comply with all the demands, had we not worked throughout the whole year making up our extensive stock of new furs for the coming season, involving, sometimes, great risk, as mentioned before. It is surprising, and yet we do not wonder so much about furs that come from British Columbia, the Northwest and Manitoba for repairing, but when furs come from Toronto and Montreal for the same purpose it seems almost incredible, but it can be proven. How is this accounted for then? Fur dealers, as a rule, will be met everywhere, no matter how small the place; but ere such dealers furriers? If printer's ink can do it, and there are many credulous ones who fancy the same, then any one can advertise himself a furrier; nor will capital make any one a furrier who has not acquired the knowledge by learning the trade, which requires a very long practice. In all the larger cities where fur cutters are employed, German cutters always have the preference, as not only are they compelled to cut furs but also to learn to dress and prepare raw furs, as well as to be able to sew and finish fur garments before they can pass as proper mechanics. Such is rather not the rule in other countries, and only such a furrier would I have liked to employ in former years in my business.

And the Truth is that GOUGH can Sell Clothing Cheaper than the Imaginary Clothier can Buy them,

OTHERWISE HIS $1000 CHALLENGE WOULD BE ACCEPTED.

It is an old game for a competitor, who cannot compete, to cry shoddy. Poor fellows, they must get up some excuse, but GOUGH has great confidence in the public's judgment. Therefore I say to intending buyers. look them all through and then come to GOUGH, and if you are not convinced that he has ten times more goods, 50 per cent better goods, and at prices at least 25 per cent lower than the cheapest of them, he will give you a Suit or an Overcoat FOR NOTHING.

I can give you an Overcoat to fit any size Man from $3 up to $18.
I can give you a Man's Suit from $2.75 up to $18.
I can give you a good, Heavy Guernsey Shirt or Drawers for 25c.
I can give you a Splendid All Wool Shirt or Drawers for 45c.
I can give you 5 Pairs Men's All Wool Home-made Socks for $1.00.
I can give you a Good Cardigan Jacket for 75 cents.
In a word, I can give you anything in GENTLEMEN'S WEAR at less, in many instances, THAN FIRST COST OF MANUFACTURE.

I have just Received another $10,000 Bankrupt Stock, bought at 61½ cents on the dollar.

If a merchant buys a Bankrupt Stock of Gold Watches at 50 cents on the dollar, it don't make the watches brass; and when GOUGH buys a Bankrupt Stock at 61½ cents on the dollar, it don't make his goods shoddy. Therefore use your own senses, take no man's word, and when you want a good Suit of Clothes or an Overcoat, don't buy until you at least see the MAGNIFICENT STOCK kept by

A CROOKED CASHIER.

The Despatch Says That the Turf and Church Membership Ruined Him.

NORWICH, Conn., Oct. 12.—It is reported that R. S. Hicks, cashier of the Stafford National Bank of Stafford Springs, Conn., was arrested this morning on a charge of embezzling over $60,000 of the bank's money. Hicks is a patron of the turf and owns several fast horses. He is also a prominent church member. It is believed the bank has been extensively gutted by Hicks's operations and that the deficit may reach $100,000.

In Brief, And To The Point.

Dyspepsia is dreadful. Disordered liver is misery. Indigestion is a foe to good nature.

The human digestive apparatus is one of the most complicated and wonderful things in existence. It is easily put out of order.

Greasy food, tough food, sloppy food, bad cookery, mental worry, late hours, irregular habits, and many other things which ought not to be, have made the American people a nation of dyspeptics.

But Green's August Flower has done a wonderful work in reforming this sad business and making the American people so healthy that they can enjoy their meals and be happy.

Remember:—No happiness without health. But Green's August Flower brings health and happiness to the dyspeptic. Ask your druggist for a bottle. Seventy five cents.

Young's Point.

From Our Own Correspondent.

BASEBALL AT LAKEFIELD.

The local nine went down to Lakefield on Saturday morning and defeated a club of that village by a score of 25 to 10. Our boys did superior stick work and fielded fairly well. Lee on 1st and Heard on 2nd played a cool and steady game, the latter making a fine catch of a difficult liner. The Lakefield boys, with one or two exceptions, fielded nicely. In the first half of the third innings Johnston, who had been doing splendid work behind the bat, had a finger burst by a foul tip and retired to the field. Kearns then tried his hand at catching, and played a rattling game for the remainder of the match. For the Lakefields, Scorin and Cox changed, Henderson in the box and Cotton took a turn at catching. The following were the players:—

Young's Point.		Lakefield.
J A Johnston	catcher	T F Cox
T F Kearney	pitcher	S Henderson
T N Lee	1st base	W Sherin
R Heard	2nd base	F Fortier
J Bellegrhem	3rd base	R S Cotton
H Kearns	short stop	D Smith
W Young	right field	A Ball
D Godfrey	left field	C Clarin
F J Young	centre field	J Reynolds

Mr. K. Fitzgerald umpired the game and his decisions gave the utmost satisfaction.

A return match will be played at an early date.

From a Grateful Mother.

My little child suffered from a severe cold upon the lungs, until she was like a little skeleton before she took Burdock Blood Bitters, after which she became fat and hearty, and was cured of weak lungs, constipation and debility or wasting of flesh, from which two doctors had failed to relieve her. Mrs. Samuel Todd, Sturgeon Bay, Ont. 2w40d

To Avoid Baldness or Grey Hair.

Use Dr. Dorenwend's Great German Hair Magic. It keeps the scalp clean and free from Dandruff, and promotes the growth of the hair. It prevents premature grayness and stops all falling out of the hair. On bald heads, where the roots have not perished, it will invigorate them and force a new growth of hair. Ask for Hair Magic. It is the only reliable. For sale by J. D. Tully and all druggists.

Grand Results.

For several years R. H. Brown, of Kincardine, suffered from dyspepsia, he says he tried several physicians and a host of remedies without relief. His druggist recommended B. B. B., which he declares produced "grand results" for which he gives it his highest recommendation. 2w40d

Be Prepared.

Many of the worst attacks of cholera morbus, cramps, dysentery, and colic comes suddenly in the night, and the most speedy and prompt means must be used to combat their dire effects. The continued steady increase of the Company's business, now exceeding the aggregate of all the other Canadian Companies, and being more than a fourth of the entire Life Assurance business of the Dominion; its favorable mortality; its moderate expenses, and the high character of its investments, afford good grounds for highly favorable and satisfactory profits to its assurers and explains the cause of the unparalleled success of the Company for the last 41 years.

Intending Assurers should, in their own interests, examine the rates and profits of this OLD RELIABLE and Successful Institution before insuring elsewhere.

Is It Hard to Understand?

Why is it that there are more students studying shorthand at the Peterborough Business College this term than ever before? Because our students get taught by professional men and our graduates obtain responsible positions. Every graduate receives a diploma, signed by responsible professional and business men.

Cleaning the Streets.

The street-cleaning process has extended from George street over part of Hunter, Simcoe, Aylmer and Water streets. Inspector Pope seems bound to make a complete job of it this time. The mud is being carted to Spaulding's Bay and the Central Park, for filling in.

The Life of an Actress.

Miss Marguerite St. John and her English dramatic company appear in Bradburn's Opera House next Monday evening. Of her performance as Violet in "The Life of an Actress," which play will be presented here, the Jersey (Eng.) Express says:—"She performed the character of Violet with an apparent depth of feeling that won her the sympathy of the audience, who followed with unvarying interest the pathetic incidents so ably portrayed."

Three More Arrests

Last evening at 10 o'clock Acting Chief of Police Adams and County Constable Cochrane set out for Harvey, with warrants for the arrest of additional parties charged with larceny of Mr. J. M. Irwin's shanty supplies in Harvey. They reached their searching place in Harvey at 6 o'clock this morning. They effected the arrest of two Windovers and one Montgomery, which in addition to the two parties in gaol under remand on the same charge, make five persons arrested so far.

Grand Concert and Ball.

At the meeting of Canton Peterborough held on Wednesday evening, the final arrangements for holding a grand concert in Bradburn's Opera House on Tuesday, Nov. 8th, were completed. From present appearances, the concert promises to be an unqualified success. Some of the best local talent have signified their willingness to participate, among them Miss Vair, Miss A. Delaney, Miss Cottingham, Miss Errett, Miss Brandrette and Mrs. Emmerson; Messrs. T. Dunn, D. D. Galletly, C. Bagnely, W. Hill, A. Elliot, M. Tierney, M. Dunn and C. Beprne; Profs. Parker and Jaques; Mr. R. M. Roy and the Peterborough Harmony Club. The programme will consist of two parts. The first event in the second part will be an exhibition of sword drill by the new Canton, after which the ladies will present a handscope Patriarch's Militant banner and silver trumpet to the Chevaliers. The concert will conclude with a grand finale, in which the Canton and all those who took part in the programme will appear. It will be something unusual and unique, and well worthy of being the concluding number of such an excellent programme. After the concert will come the ball. The ladies who have been laboring industriously for a long time to bring about this presentation, and by their individual efforts have succeeded so admirably, will issue invitations to those who contributed towards the new banner and trumpet and other friends to a grand supper and ball, to be held directly after the concert. A good orchestra has been engaged, and the occasion will no doubt be a lasting monument to the kindness and hospitality of the ladies of Peterborough.

The Magri Midgets.

The Belleville Ontario has the following regarding the Magri midgets and their comedy company, who appear in Bradburn's Opera House Friday night:—"There was a delighted audience at the opera house last night to see the little Tom Thumb party. Tom Thumb's widow—the Countess Magri—her husband and her brother-in-law, all enraptured those who saw them. The Countess (though 45 years of age) looked particularly diminutive beside a little girl of eight and a very small boy of nine. The Baron is an exquisite whistler, and accompanies his brother's piccolo; the latter sang a character solo, "The Duchess of Devonshire," and a humorous duet with his wife, in which both were captivating. Mr. Davis' conjuring was thoroughly enjoyed—the more so that he seemed to enjoy it himself. And his ventriloquism, in which he is an expert, brought down the house over and over."

Donors of Prizes.

The Peterborough Rifle Association is indebted for the following donations to the persons who contributed them as prizes:—

F. Hall, ornamental cake, $3.00; W. H. Wrighton, 4 lbs. tea, $2.00; W. J. Mason, lamp, $1.75; Review Publishing Co., Review (weekly), $1.00; J. Clark, clock, $3.00; John McKee, mirror, $2.50; D. Fairweather, hat, $1.50; Foot & McWhinnie, slippers, $1.50; McKee & Davidson, value, $1.50; D. Belleghem, hat rack, $1.00.

Belleville's Plan.

Commenting upon the "military suggestion" published in the EXAMINER the other day, regarding the placing of military guards at the fair grounds to prevent stealing into grounds, the Belleville Intelligencer remarks:—"Belleville has a fair once a year. Human nature is the same here as at Peterborough, but the management have a very simple way of seeing that the gates instead of holes in the grounds are used to gain admittance. The grounds are large, but four men on raised platforms on the fence on either side have no difficulty in doing the work. At night four others have charge of the grounds, and it has yet to be learned that anything has been stolen. Volunteers are for a nobler purpose."

New Open.

Chamberlain's oyster parlor is now open for the season. Oysters will be served at all hours in styles to suit the tastes of our patrons. After this week shell oysters will be kept constantly on hand. Porter-house steaks, chops, etc., prepared on the shortest notice.

Oyster Rooms Open.

J. C. Craig has opened out his two comfortable oyster parlors on George street, where the delicious bivalves will be served up at all hours, in any style desired. Drop in and try Johnny's stews. Steaks, mutton chops and tea and coffee served until 12 o'clock at night. d

Two Beautiful Pictures.

Two handsome oil paintings, won by Messrs. A. LeBrun and R. H. Fortye at the last drawing of the London Art Union, value £40 and £10 respectively, are on exhibition in the window of A. L. Davis & Co's bookstore.

Police Court.

THURSDAY, Oct. 23.

Messrs. H. May and Wm. Bowman were each fined $50 and costs for infraction of the Scott Act, this morning, and Messrs. Geo. Mitchell and M. Cannon $100 each and costs.

COUNTY CASES.

P.M Edmison has been busy this week.

At Norwood on Tuesday, the 11th, Inspector Darling laid complaints of breaches of the Scott Act against Messrs. Hugh Beckett, W. Glynn and Dennis McGuire, each of whom pleaded guilty and was fined $50 and costs.

At Lakefield on Wednesday, the 12th, Joseph Watson, Thos. Eastwood and John Mowry pleaded guilty to complaints of first violations of the Scott Act, entered by Inspector Cochrane, and were each fined $50 and costs. D. Costello was fined $100 and costs for a second offence.

At Ashburnham on Thursday, the 13th, Dennis O'Brien and Geo. Greer were each fined $50 and costs. Inspector Darling was the prosecutor. The defendants pleaded guilty.

Rev. Coverdale Watson.

At the Harvest Home Festival in Charlotte St. church to-morrow (Friday) evening, the many friends of Mr. Watson will have the privilege of meeting and hearing him. The musical programme promises to be fine. Refreshments will be served from 6.30 to 8.30 in the school-room, which will be adorned with sheaves, fruits and flowers. The public invited. Admission, 25c. 2d

The Coming Fall Weather.

A day or two ago we had a dash of snow mingled with hail and the winds that sweep over the country deport themselves as if they had a search warrant for ones bones. Some persons fancy that winter will be right down on us. Other weather wiseacres say—and good luck to their prediction—that we are yet to have our Indian summer. All wise persons are, however, making preparations for cold weather, in the way of putting up stoves, etc. It is a mark of wisdom so to do, for winter is as sure to come as Collector Cumming is coming. The public, therefore, are advised to prepare for winter by visiting the great gough's wonderful cheap store, george street, peterborough. They will find amongst his mammoth stock of fall and winter clothing, overcoats, warm strong tweed suits, heavy comfortable winter clothing, just the thing for the chilling borean blasts not far ahead. The biggest stock and the best of goods at the lowest prices. Remember gough is noted for the biggest stock of the best goods at the bottomest prices. This last adjective is not strictly grammatical but the public are after good goods not good grammar, and gough's is the place to get the former and don't you neglect to refrain from forgetting it. d89

The Hunters Away

At three o'clock this morning a party of hunters, with ten hounds and a wagon-load of camping utensils, left town by the early bus over the great over-land route to the north townships. They will camp at Gold Lake for a couple of weeks, and exterminate (or attempt to) all the game in the vicinity. The happy hunters' names are:—Messrs. Wm. English (capt.), R. A. Morrow, H. W. Kent, H. LeBrun, T. E. Bradburn, R. E. Wood and Harry Winch. Mr. J. E. McIntyre and several others from town will join them on Saturday.

This afternoon about five o'clock a hunting party composed of Messrs. Geo. Fitzgerald, A. Blade, T. Rutherford, H. Matthews, H. Evans, R. Smith, J. Clancy and M. McFadden, left for their old hunting ground in the Eagle Lake district. They were fully equipped in every way for the arduous but inspiriting labors of the chase. They will be gone about ten days.

Large Apple purchase.

Messrs. Elliott & Tierney have purchased from Mr. Geo. W. Hatton the season's yield of apples of "Walkerfield" orchard. The purchase includes all kinds of apple—Red winter, Hubbardson Nonsuch, Culvert, White Bellflower, Spitzenburg, Belmont, Snow, and Redston Pippin. The apples have all been barrelled and Messrs. Elliott & Tierney are selling them at very low prices. "Walkerfield" orchard is noted not only for its size but for the quality of fruit it produces. Customers can depend on getting the best apples to be had in the market at Elliott & Tierneys, and at prices that will be found most satisfactory.

To-night.

Bros. H. English and J. W. Hickson, Grand Guide and orator respectively, of the Royal Arcanum, will make brief addresses in the Foresters' hall this evening at 8 o'clock, at an open meeting of Peterborough Council No 735. A short musical programme will also be presented. The public are cordially invited to come and hear particulars of the principles and aims of one of the best Beneficiary Societies in existence. The membership is now over 75,000, and the amount expended in fraternal charity exceeds seven millions of dollars. Remember the place, Foresters' hall, over Long Bros.' store, to-night at 8 o'clock.

Bulky Bruin.

Mr. W. C. Tobotham, the "ancient mariner", sent word to Mr. W. English yesterday that he has succeeded in killing another bear weighing 350 pounds. What a whopper!—that is, the bear; no insinuation is intended any other way. Mr. Tobotham is to be congratulated on his rare good fortune in the hunting line.

Imperial Federation.

A meeting of the Peterborough branch of the Imperial Federation League was held last night in the Foresters' Hall, at which there was a good attendance. Mr. E. J. Toker read a lengthy paper and addresses were delivered by Messrs. Geo. Hilliard, W. H. Law and W. Brundrette.

Return Match.

A team of the Peterborough foot ball club will likely go to Norwood one day next week to play the return match with the club of that place.

Another Sprint Race.

Another foot race between Messrs. Bird and Miller has been arranged and will take place in about two weeks. Each of the contestants will be on their mettle, and a fast race is expected.

THE PRESBYTERIAN TEA.—On Wednesday Sept. 28th a tea was held under the auspices of the Presbyterian congregation of this place. At about five o'clock in the evening a host had gathered around the daintily-set tables spread with every luxury necessary to satisfy the most fastidious. As soon as these had supplied themselves others flocked to partake of the apparently inexhaustable store of viands. After 100 had satisfied their physical capacities they wended their ways to the church to receive mental tuition. The first who greeted them was our genial M. P. P. for West Peterborough, Mr. J. R. Stratton, who had kindly consented to be present and preside over the entertainment. The worthy chairmen opened the evening's entertainment with a very neat address dwelling on the material benefit gained from these social gatherings.

Addresses were delivered by Rev. Messrs. McEwen and Fitzpatrick. Mr. McEwen in his address was very eulogistic in his comments on the energy and enterprise of the Harvey people, but at the same time insinuated very suavely that they should make their church and buildings present a better appearance. After rubbing by many witty remarks—directing his hints principally to politicians and the teaching profession—the reverend gentleman enlarged on that principle of character which may be called "definiteness of idea," and, by an eloquent address, showed this trait so clearly and explicitely as to call forth the thinking powers of the most indifferent. Mr. Fitzpatrick's address was in a way flattering, yet delivered with an earnestness, characteristic of the speaker. He mentioned the regret felt on his part on leaving a mission where he had received a double benefit—temporally and spiritually.

Readings were ably rendered by Messrs. Hicks and Stone, and the Misses Bowman, Bond, Douglass and Montgomery. The Chemong Brass Band appeared in their uniforms and discoursed sweet music suitable to the occasion. This Band is to be commended for the skill it has acquired in the musical art.

Under the leadership of Miss Reid and Mr. Waram the choir sang choice selections.

But we must say the most prominent feature of the entertainment was the selling of a satin quilt, presented to the congregation by Mrs. McMartin, of Lark Hall, with $31 subscribed for autographs.

It was decided that two young ladies contest for the quilt by obtaining subscriptions from the audience, and whoever secured the larger sum should become owner of the quilt. Miss Bond, teacher, 2, Harvey, and Miss Reid, of Lark Hall, were elected, with Mr. Reid and Mr. Wm. Renwick, respectively, to act as escorts. Quite an exciting time ensued, and when time was called in ten minutes Miss Reid was declared victor, she having collected $19.24, while Miss Bond's amount was $17.12. The amounts $36.36, derived from collection; $31, presented by Mrs. McMartin; and $39.75, proceeds of tea, swelled to the sum of $107.11, delivered into the hands of the treasurer.

After a vote of thanks tendered to Rev. Mr. McEwen, the chairman, Misses Bowman, Bond, Douglass, and Montgomery, Messrs. Hicks and Stone, the choir and the band, and acknowledged for all by the Rev. Mr. McEwen, the evening's enjoyment closed. Com.

SPROULE'S THE BEST PHOTOGRAPHS Are made at STUDIO SPROULE'S STUDIO On Hunter Street.

Competition is courted. No other work has the BRILLIANCY and FINISH.

WHY?

Because experience and close study has developed talent in Chemistry, Lighting, and Posing. In days when such learning was required imperatively in a cosesful photography Mr. Sproule was practicing the business as I today it places his work ahead of competitors. Because only the best materials are used. No other establishment in Canada is using throughout the same class of materials. He works with no cheap instruments. His Studio is lighted and furnished the best, and all combined to give the public: ease and confidence.

His prices are not higher than competitors. He employs no person or persons to travel through the Country to puff up his business or work. It don't require such. dw

A Pretty Play.

Miss Marguerite St. John and her London comedy company will occupy the boards at the opera house on Monday evening, appearing in Dion Boucicault's greatest play "The Life of an Actress, or Behind the Scenes." The story is of a poor girl taken under the protection of an old actor only one degree better off than herself, who educates her for the stage on which, of course, she makes a great hit. There is a very pretty story woven around this, and it is told in that clever style for which Boucicault is celebrated the Montreal Herald, speaking of the company says:—"It became evident before the first act was over that the company understood the play, and the audience appreciated their efforts by recalling the characters, and in fact it is hoped they may be induced to repeat the piece during the week. Miss St. John appeared to great advantage, and part of 'Violet' gives her opportunity not only to show her great emotional power, but her talent as a vocalist as well. Mr. G. M. Wood as 'Grimaldi', the old actor, was excellent, and the support was very good indeed". Undoubtedly Miss St. John and her company will be welcomed in Peterborough by a large and fashionable audience. The whole company are from England, having only arrived in Quebec via steamer "Sarmatian" on Sunday week. This will positively be the only opportunity our citizens will have of seeing Miss St. John and her company.

A Cowardly Attack.

Our evening contemporary says:—"It has transpired that on Wednesday night of last week Mr. H. Rossiter, who is employed by the Scott Act Association, was attacked on his way home. Mr. Rossiter says that he said nothing about it, hoping that if it was not made public he would be able to learn who his assailants were. While going down Stewart street that night, near the corner of Dalhousie street two men attacked him, and one of them threw a quantity of cayenne pepper in his face, the hot powder entering his eyes. He used his club vigorously and the men made off. He fired a couple of shots after them with his revolver, but without taking effect. He then went into a house near by and washed the pepper out of his eyes. They were sore next day but no permanent injury resulted The attack was a cowardly one, and it is to be regretted that his assailants were not recognized."

New Open.

Chamberlain's oyster parlor is now open for the season. Oysters will be served at all hours in styles to suit the tastes of our patrons. After this week shell oysters will be kept constantly on hand. Porter-house steaks, chops, etc., prepared at short notice.

Oyster Rooms Open.

J.C.Craig has opened out his two comfortable oyster parlors on George street, where the delicious bivalves will be served up at all hours, in any style desired. Drop in and try Johnny's stews. Steaks, mutton chops and tea and coffee served until 12 o'clock at night. d

The Midgets.

The Magri midgets appear at the Opera House this afternoon and evening. Of their performance in Kingston the News says:—"The Count and Countess Magri at their opening in the opera house last night were greeted with a well-filled house. The performance was a good one."

When?

The time to enter the "Business College Evening Course" is now. Students are entering every Tuesday and Thursday evening. Terms to suit and instruction the best and most practical.

NAPANEE CONVENTION.

THE W. C. T. U. DISPOSES OF A LOT OF INTERESTING BUSINESS.

A Telegram From Hon G. W. Ross and the Reply Thereto—Mrs. Youmans Takes Exception to a Remark of Hon. Mr. Foster Made in His Speech.

NAPANEE, Oct. 13.—The W.C.T.U. Convention opened at 10 o'clock this morning, the president in the chair. Mrs. Filton of Ottawa conducted the opening devotional exercises.

The Executive Committee reported the Toronto District Union an authorized institution, and its constitution and bylaws were ratified, which announcement the York County representatives loudly applauded.

The plan of work suggested by the president in her formal address to the convention was adopted, and clauses 10, 11 and 13 were acted upon.

The president, secretaries, treasurer and Madames Fawcett, Byers, Kaplit, McKenzie and Chamberlain and Miss Shipley were appointed delegates to the Dominion W.C.T.U. to be held in Montreal in the spring.

Mrs. Youmans was appointed fraternal delegate to the Woman's General Board of the Methodist Missionary Society, Mrs. Elliott, Farmersville, to the Baptist; Miss Cavers, Galt, to the Presbyterian, and Miss Tilley to Church of England Central Board.

The following officers for the incoming year were then elected: President, Mrs. Chisholm, Ottawa; First Vice-President; Mrs. Filton, Ottawa; Recording Secretary, Mrs. Rutherford, Listowel; Corresponding Secretary, Mrs. Wiley, Richmond Hill; Treasurer, Mrs. Brethour, Brantford. All presidents of county unions are ex-officio members of the Executive.

Mrs. McDonell, Toronto, conducted the opening devotional exercises at the afternoon session, and afterwards Mrs. Chisholm was presented with a check for $150 by Mrs. Fawcett and Mrs. Buthora in the name of the convention, and Mrs. Jacob Spence made a similar present to Mrs. Wylie, the Corresponding Secretary.

The following telegram from Hon. Mr. Ross was then read:

The following is the new regulation respecting temperance in public schools. The nature and effects of alcohol upon the system, and the importance of temperance and a strict observance of the laws of health as set forth in the authorized text book should form part of the regular instruction of the school, from the age of fourteen upwards, and should be taught in that by the use of text books or other books as carefully as any other subject on the program. (Signed) G. W. Ross, Minister of Education.

To which the convention immediately replied:

In answer to telegram received we still understand that the teaching of scientific temperance in the schools is optional. Does the word "should," in your telegram, mean "shall" or "must" Please reply at once, convention awaiting answer.

ADDIE CHISHOLM, President.

The following county superintendents were appointed:

Bothwell, Miss Tweedale, Ridgetown; Brant, Mrs. Powley, Brantford; Bruce, Mrs. C. McIntyre, Kinerton; Carleton, Mrs. C. C. Scott, Ottawa; Dundas, Mrs. Dr. Chamberlain, Morrisburg; Elgin, Mrs. A. B. Youmans, St. Thomas; Frontenac, Mrs. McRossie, Kingston; Grenville, Mrs. Thos. Coates, Prescott; Grey, Mrs. T. McCampbell, Owen Sound; Halton, Mrs. Bennett, Georgetown; Huron, Mrs. Leach, Goderich; Lambton, Mrs. Houston, Sarnia; Leeds, Mrs. W. Elliott, Newboro; Lincoln, Mrs. Dr. Youmans, St. Catharines; Victoria, Mrs. Caroline Stevenson, Fenelon Falls; Waterloo, Mrs. Graham, Galt; Wellington, Mrs. J. C. Budd, Guelph; Welland, Mrs. Dalgleish, Thorold.

The other counties in the province are all organized and have their own county presidents.

Superintendents of departments were also appointed: Work among lumbermen and miners, Mrs. Shortreed, Toronto; work among sailors, Mrs. A. P. Morrison, Owen Sound; unfermented wine, Mrs. Cavers, Galt; prison and police, Miss Lukster, Kingston; evangelistic, Mrs. Marshall, Stratford; flower mission, Miss Eloise Smith, Ottawa; organization, Mrs. Awrier, Richmond Hill; fair work, Mrs. Fotheringham, Toronto; young women's work, Miss Scott, Ottawa; assistant superintendent, Miss Skinner, Toronto; work among soldiers, Mrs. Greenhill, Prescott; press work, Miss Havison, Georgetown; legislation, Mrs. Rockwood, Kingston; hygiene, Mrs. Anderson, Burlington; railroad work, Mrs. Youman, Toronto; conference with influential bodies, Mrs. Wiley; temperance literature, Mrs. Alexander, Ottawa.

The appointment of a superintendent of juvenile work and scientific temperance instruction was left to the Executive.

A number of vigorous resolutions were adopted and votes of thanks passed to the Napanee friends, pastors of the churches and choirs, also to the press for their fair reports, especially The Toronto World, Mail and Globe, which papers had sent special reporters to the convention.

An invitation to hold the next annual convention in Sarnia was accepted.

A spiritual discussion on work in Scott Act counties for the better enforcement of the law was taken part in by nearly all the members of the convention. After singing and prayers the convention adjourned.

The young ladies adjourned to the Western Methodist Church at 4 o'clock to hold a juvenile meeting. A large audience of children listened to Miss Skinner of Toronto and Mrs. Fraine of St. Thomas. The evening meeting was presided over by Mr. Wilson, M.P.P., who introduced the Hon. Mr. Robinson, Minister of Education for British Columbia, who spoke of the work in his own province and thanked the women of Ontario for having sent their workers out there. He complimented the ladies on the success of the journal published by the president, but he thought it necessary that such a large and influential body should have a weekly organ and would promise to be one of a few to bear the expense.

Hon. Mr. Foster spoke on the work done and planned to be done by the women, joined Mr. Robinson in his offer of assistance to the journal and presented the ladies with a check for $25. But when he got upon the subject of license versus prohibition, and declared the country not ready for the latter, there arose an ominous muttering.

As he sat down Mrs. Youmans rose and vigorously and eloquently contested his arguments. She hoped the time would soon come when the Government of Canada would hold the lives of Canada of at least as much value as her fish.

CHAMBERLAIN IN ULSTER.

HE MEETS A DEPUTATION AT COLERAINE AND MAKES A SPEECH.

The Inspector-General of the Irish Constabulary Orders that the Warrants Against the Mitchelstown Police Be Not Executed Pending an Appeal.

BELFAST, Oct. 13.—Mr. Chamberlain visited Coleraine to-day, and received a number of Liberal-Unionist delegates from the counties of Derry, Antrim and Tyrone. In an address Mr. Chamberlain said that he rejoiced to find himself where he could speak to a loyal Irish majority which was not composed, as the followers of Mr. Gladstone and Mr. Parnell suggested, exclusively of landlords and those seeking to protect their personal rights. The most enthusiastic adherents of the connection between Great Britain and Ireland were found among the sturdy artisans of Belfast and the small agricultural tenants and laborers, who felt that the change proposed would endanger their lives and liberties, more than among persons more fortunately circumstanced.

Scotch Liberal Sympathy.

LONDON, Oct. 13.—The Scottish Liberal Association has deputed Messrs. A. L. Brown and Angus Sutherland, members of Parliament, to visit Ireland to assure the people of their sympathy.

Pending an Appeal.

DUBLIN, Oct. 13.—The Inspector General of Constables has issued an order suspending the execution of the coroners' warrants for the arrest of Inspector Brownrigg and others, against whom a verdict of murder was rendered at Mitchelstown yesterday, pending an appeal to quash the finding of the jury.

THE CAFFAREL SCANDAL.

It is Thought the Affair Will Lead to a Political Crisis in France.

LONDON, Oct. 13.—The Times' Paris correspondent says: The opinion prevails that President Grevy, being annoyed by the Caffarel complications and having shortly to face a new ministerial crisis, will resign. Francq will then face both a ministerial and a presidential crisis, of which the latter is the most [illegible]

The Herald's Paris despatch says the Procureur de la Republique yesterday asked authorization to make a formal search at the Elysee Palace in the apartments of M. Wilson for the compromising papers. M. Grevy, who is at Mont Sous Vaudrey, in the Jura, and who is expected to return to Paris on Saturday, has not yet replied to the demand of the Procureur General. This delay will give Wilson a splendid chance to burn up his compromising papers if he has any.

The council of generals which was appointed to try Gen. Caffarel on the charges preferred against him of selling civil decorations have pronounced the accused guilty of habitual misconduct.

Boulanger Asked to Explain.

PARIS, Oct. 13.—Gen. Ferron telegraphed to Gen. Boulanger at Mont Lucon ordering him to return forthwith to Clermont Ferrand, his headquarters, and asking if the words attributed to him by the newspapers in connection with the Caffarel affair were correctly reported. The newspapers alleged that Gen. Boulanger informed a reporter that he never doubted that the prosecution of Caffarel was aimed at himself.

Gen. Boulanger in reply to Gen. Ferron's telegram said: "I have returned to Clermont Ferrand. I am unable to procure the newspapers mentioned. Send them to me."

Gen. Ferron has sent a message to Gen. Boulanger demanding a categorical reply to the charges against him.

Caffarel Degraded.

PARIS, Oct. 13.—Gen. Caffarel will be deprived of his decoration of the Legion of Honor. His pension granted for thirty-nine years' service in the army will be reduced from 6000 francs to 4900 francs.

Reported Arrest of Boulanger.

LONDON, Oct. 14.—The Standard's correspondent at Paris announces the arrest of General Boulanger.

THE CROWN PRINCE'S CONDITION.

Dr. Mackenzie Says There are Symptoms Which Cause Anxiety.

BERLIN, Oct. 13.—In an interview yesterday, Dr. Mackenzie said the Crown Prince's general health is good, but unhappily there are certain symptoms which cause anxiety. The chronic catarrh of the larynx tends to induce acute inflammation of the windpipe. The Crown Prince had such an attack, accompanied by a high fever, during his stay at Toblach. The acute inflammation of the windpipe was speedily cured by treatment. The southern climate had also had a good effect, but the acute inflammation of the mucous membrane makes us fear a recurrence, in which event inflammation of the deeper-lying tissues may occur which might cause changes in those tissues. The principal part of the doctor's work now is to prevent another attack of inflammation of the windpipe. This can only be accomplished by residence in a warmer climate and the avoidance of conversation. It is likely that the Crown Prince will go to San Remo or Mexico. He suffers now from obstinate chronic laryngeal catarrh.

A STRUGGLE FOR LIFE.

A Midnight Prowler Murderously Assails Five Women.

FOND DU LAC, Wis., Oct. 13.—A burglar entered the residence of Mrs. Wm. Koehne and her four daughters, in the suburbs, early this morning. He made a criminal assault on one of the women, but was unsuccessful. He then attacked the five women with a club, nearly killing all of them. The walls and floor of the house are spattered with blood and everything indicates that a terrible struggle was made by the frenzied women. The assailant secured $3 and escaped, after first threatening his mangled victims with immediate death if they made an outcry.

The Sultan of Morocco Better.

PARIS, Oct. 13.—The Journal Des Debats says that an official despatch has been received announcing that the Sultan of Morocco is better, and that he mounted his horse before the palace and showed himself to the people.

Sir William Gull Stricken.

LONDON, Oct. 13.—Sir Wm. Gull, the distinguished physician, has been stricken with paralysis. His mind continues clear.

THE GERMAN SYNDICATE.

IT CANNOT GET THE INTERCOLNIAL RAILWAY AT PRESENT.

The Metis in the Northwest Will Ask to be Indemnified for Rebellion Losses—Valuable Documents.

OTTAWA, Oct. 13.—Hon. Mr. Chapleau stated in conversation to-day that shortly before he left England some representative of the syndicate, on whose behalf Mr. Kamper had come negotiation with the Government here during last session on the subject of purchasing the Intercolonial, establishing smelting works, etc., had an interview with Sir Charles Tupper and Hon. Mr. Bowell and submitted certain new proposals. The syndicate made an offer with regard to establishing smelting works in Nova Scotia and developing the resources of the province by means of the railway, which it is understood will be submitted for the consideration of the Government. With reference to the purchase of the Intercolonial the capitalists were informed that the Government would not consider the offer for the purchase of that road until after the completion of the Short Line Railway.

The Government has received advices that a meeting of the half-breeds at Batoche was held a few weeks ago at which various questions came up. It was decided to circulate a petition to be presented to Parliament next session asking indemnity for losses sustained by the half-breeds during the rebellion. The Metis in this case are following the example pursued by the rebels in Lower Canada in 1837.

During his recent visit to Paris Mr. Marmette, the Assistant Dominion Archivist, analysed over 100 volumes in the office of the French Minister of Marine, covering the period from 1742 to 1763. These historical records will be lodged in the Dominion archives.

A SHORT-LIVED LOVE.

A Breach of Promise Suit Disposed of at Kingston Assizes.

KINGSTON, Oct. 13.—The case of Rachel Emma Upham v. Isaac Pedlow was disposed of to-day before Judge O'Connor. It was an action for breach of promise of marriage. John Maclaren, Q.C., for the plaintiff, and B. M. Britton, Q.C., for the defendant.

The plaintiff, Miss Upham, is 27 years of age, and for the last five years has lived with her mother, a widow, who keeps a boarding-house in Kingston. She formerly lived in Sydenham. The defendant is three or four years younger than the plaintiff. He is an Irishman, and came out from Dublin to Canada in 1863. He became engaged to the plaintiff in April, 1884. He was then a clerk in the dry goods store of Hardy & Mudray. The firm opened a branch in Renfrew, and in December of 1884 the defendant was sent there to take charge of it. A loving correspondence passed between the defendant at Renfrew and the plaintiff at Kingston. He addresses her as "My dear Zip," Zip being a family nickname of hers, and sometimes as "My dear Zippier." Several of the letters were put in. The following is one of the shortest and will serve as a specimen:

RENFREW, 9th Aug., 1885.

MY DEAR ZIP: You will be glad to know that I have arrived safely and have once more got into harness. I felt rather tough all day yesterday, but hope to be equal for business tomorrow. I have felt awfully lonely since returning, everything seems to me so dull and comfortless away from you. It is raining very heavy to-day, which prevents me from accepting an invitation to visit an acquaintance about four miles out in the country. Hoping you are quite well, and with fond love,

Yours truly,
ISAAC.

P.S.—What time is it?

The cooling off process began after this. On Sept. 27, 1885, he writes a letter beginning, "Dear Zip," in which he says it would be sheer madness for them to get married. That his salary for years to come would not be sufficient to support a wife the way he would wish, etc., and intimates plainly that he wishes their engagement to terminate. This letter does not appear to have been quite sufficient, for he afterwards wrote the following, which the learned counsel characterises as an Irishman's hint:

RENFREW, Feb. 6, 1886.

Miss Upham:

MADAM—I wish it thorough understood, as indeed I thought it was so long ago, that I want no more correspondence with you in the future, nor do I wish to have any conversation with you or see you at any time.

Yours, etc.,
ISAAC PEDLOW.

The evidence of Miss Upham and her mother completed the plaintiff's case. Miss Upham stood the ordeal of her cross examination very well. No evidence was called for the defence.

Mr. Britton's address to the jury was in mitigation of damages. On behalf of the defendant he admitted the promise and the breach of it.

The jury returned a verdict for the plaintiff, damages $250.

A CASE OF SUFFOCATION.

An Ottawa Boy Choked to Death by a Piece of Candy.

OTTAWA, Oct. 13.—Yesterday afternoon a little boy named William Kelly, who resides on Wellington-street, Hull, went into a candy store, and having bought some candy proceeded to eat it in front of his father's house. Suddenly he became black in the face and the boy's mother rushed to his assistance and endeavored to remove the candy from the boy's throat, where it was stuck fast, by slapping him on the back, but of no avail. The little fellow, after suffering the most acute agony for a short time, expired, being choked to death. The candy which choked the boy was manufactured from molasses, and is commonly called taffy.

The Port Dover Knitting Mills Burned.

PORT DOVER, Oct. 13.—This morning about 10.30 a serious fire occurred causing the total destruction of the large knitting mills operated by Mr. J. Ellis. The fire commenced in the picking room in the fifth story, and on account of the inflammable nature of the material the fire gained such immense headway it was impossible to remove any part of the machinery. A small quantity of manufactured goods in the first story was removed. The property is supposed to be well insured.

The City of Mexico Shaken.

CITY OF MEXICO, Oct. 13.—Yesterday evening about 6 o'clock a slight earthquake shock was felt in some portions of the city. Inquiry at the Meteorological Observatory in the National Palace revealed the fact that it was not confined entirely to the valley but extended over several states in the republic.

The Royal Arcanum.

Addresses Upon the Aims and Benefits of the Society, by Local and Foreign Officers.

The open meeting of Peterborough Council of the Royal Arcanum in the Foresters' Hall last evening was not very largely attended, about fifty persons being present. Previous to the meeting, printed circulars, setting forth the advantages and benefits of the Society, were distributed among the audience.

Rev. Mr. BRADSHAW, Regent of Peterborough Council, was voted to the chair, and in his opening remarks gave a brief review of the history of the Order. He stated that the Order had been established in Boston in 1877, and was, therefore, in its eleventh year. That its aims were good was shown by the fact that it had expended over eight millions of dollars in benefits, and had a membership of 80,000. The reverend gentleman spoke of the excellent stamp of men to be met with in the Royal Arcanum, whose members included the best men in the country. He spoke of the low cost of the Society. The death rate was very low, the result of the strict medical examination. The dues were only 50c. per quarter, so that the Arcanum could not be called an expensive society. The speaker supported his statements by tables of figures, showing that the Arcanum was a cheap society and that in its beneficiary aspects it was unexcelled by any other.

Bro. ENGLISH, of Toronto, Grand Guide of the society, after mentioning the circumstances which led to his visit here, offered an apology for the absence of the Grand Orator, who was announced to speak. The speaker stated that he would in his address refer to what the Arcanum is, what it does, does it pay to join it? is it permanent? and other features. After referring specifically to the inner workings and extent of the Society, and its benefits and privileges, he went on to the next point, does it pay to join it? As an instance of this he mentioned the case of one gentleman who belonged to both the Royal Arcanum and a life insurance company. His payments in the latter were just three times as much as those to the Arcanum. Figures, said the speaker, could not lie. For instance, a young man of twenty-one years joining this society would be obliged to pay only $1 per call, and the highest number of calls yet made in any year never exceeded twelve. This was much cheaper than insurance associations. The older the member, the higher the assessment. It was asked how they could run it so cheaply. The reply was that they pay no commission to agents, had no marble palaces, no army of officers and clerks. There was no accumulation of surplus; insurance was furnished at absolute cost, and the two thirds thus saved goes into the members' pockets. The speaker referred to the fraternal and beneficiary aims of the Society. It did not conflict with insurance companies, but was intended to relieve distress and assist fraternally and financially its members. Regarding the permanency of the order, the speaker said it was as stable as the Freemasons or other societies. He dwelt at some length upon this point, and impressed upon his hearers by the substantiation of figures and figures, the solidity of the Order. He urged his brothers in the order to be brothers in deeds as well as words and value their membership in the order as they should, not only for its insurance, but its social benefits. He extended an earnest invitation to the friends present to place themselves in their ranks and protect themselves and their dear ones in the future.

Mr. D. W. DUMBLE spoke of the unreliability of insurance associations in general, whose management was very often dishonestly and extravagantly conducted, while in this Society, with its Christian and fraternal aims, and much lower rates of interest, a man could find a safe and sure investment. He commended the Royal Arcanum to all outside the Order, and moved a vote of thanks to the speaker of the evening.

This was seconded by Mr. Lech and carried.

After offering the unanimous thanks of the meeting to the Grand Guide, Bro. English, the chairman referred to the severe medical examination an applicant for membership to this society was compelled to undergo. No one could get into the society unless thoroughly sound physically. This, he thought, was one of the strongest features of the Order. He next compared the expenses of the Royal Arcanum with ordinary life insurance companies. It is scarcely necessary to state that the comparison was entirely in favor of the Order.

Bro. ENGLISH, in acknowledging the vote of thanks, expressed the hope that he would be sent down here again next year in the interests of the Order, as he probably would be.

The musical portion of the programme was then brought on. Messrs. Ardagh and Geale and Bro. English rendering solos, Mr. W. Lech accompanying on the organ. Mr. C. Brown also read a couple of humorous Irish stories.

At the conclusion of the evening's entertainment the members of the Peterborough Council entertained their visitor at a complimentary supper at Long Bros' oyster parlor. About twenty gentlemen sat down to the tables, and the "luscious bivalves" were served most temptingly. Bro. English returned to Toronto, his home, this morning.

Mr. McNaughton's Letter.

To the Editor of the Examiner:

DEAR SIR.—In reference to the above letter appearing over Mr McNaughton's signature, I may say that I had at first resolved to take no notice of it, for I felt that the people of Peterborough knew me well enough not to misconstrue it to my disadvantage. But as the letter has appeared in the weekly EXAMINER, I do not think a few remarks will be out of place.

Let the public know first of all that Mr. McNaughton never wrote that letter; he may have given the mention of his name, but the author of that letter is another Peterborough Councillor, who I dare say would be ashamed to put his name to such a production, but uses his brother councillor's name to have a little fun at his expense. I refrain, out of consideration to others, from making his name public, as I hope this will be sufficient to put a stop to such proceedings, or else somebody might feel sore in the end. No other remarks are necessary as I leave the rest to the public. Thanking you, Mr. Editor, for the space afforded,

WM. LECH.

Police Court.

FRIDAY, Oct. 14.

The three men arrested yesterday by Constables Adams and Cochrane, in the north of Harvey, for being implicated in the burglary of Mr. Irwin's shanty at Copper Lake, were arraigned in court this morning.

Jas. Montgomery was charged with having received stolen goods, and Harvey Thomas Windover and Ephraim Windover, with breaking into the dwelling house of Mr. James Irwin and carrying away certain goods, pork, blankets, snow shoes, bear trap, etc.

To the first charge the prisoner pleaded not guilty, stating that he did not know the goods were stolen.

The two Windovers admitted taking the goods, but it had been done, they said, in broad daylight; they found the doors open, and did not break into the premises.

They were remanded till Wednesday next.

Personal.

Rev. Coverdale Watson and Mrs. Watson are the guests of Rev. I. Tovell during their stay in Peterborough.

Miss Sanderson, of Peterborough, attended the fifth annual meeting of the Central Branch of the Women's Missionary Society of the Methodist Church, held at Toronto, yesterday.

Messrs. Wm. Graham and Samuel Curtis represented Peterborough at the 36th annual meeting of the society comprising the Western Convention of the Baptist Church, held at Toronto yesterday.

Three C.P.R. magnates passed through town last evening for Toronto. They were Mr. T. A. McKinnon, manager of the Ontario and Atlantic Division of the road; Mr. Lucius Tuttle, passenger traffic manager; and Mr. D. McNicoll, general passenger agent.

Rev. Coverdale Watson.

At the Harvest Home Festival in Charlotte St. church to-night, (Friday, Oct. 14,) the many friends of Mr. Watson will have the privilege of meeting and hearing him. The musical programme promises to be fine. Refreshments will be served from 6.30 to 8.30 in the school-room, which will be adorned with sheaves, fruits and flowers. The public invited. Admission, 25c. 2d

WEATHER NOTES.—In looking over September of 1887 we find it unsurpassed for drought during the records of weather notes in Canada, although the heat did not reach extremes like some of the preceeding months, the hottest day only being 80 degrees in the shade at 3 p.m., but continuing steady until near the end of the month, the slight rains having little effect in checking the destructive bush fires which have been causing so much loss through the country. Although falling on 8 days, rain only fell 65/100 of an inch, being considerably below the average.

The first frost of the season was on the morning of the 4th, which has been in all during the month on ten occasions, with ice on three days, our first being on the 17th. The coldest was on the twenty-sixth, when the thermometer stood at 26 degrees, leaving the mean temperature of the month at 4 24/30 degrees. We had three times thunder, one awful gale of wind on the 7th, and auroral lights on the night of the 15th. The following are the different points from which the wind was blowing at sun-rise during the month respectively, namely: South, 1 day; west, 1 day; north-west, 6 days; north-east, 3 days; east, 2 days; south-west, 4 days; south-east, 5 days; north, 4 days.

Sentenced for Life.

The Toronto Evening News gives a portrait of Edward Graham, the vitriol-thrower sentenced for life to the penitentiary, and describes the parting scenes as the prisoner, with several others, was leaving the city for his final destination. He apparently felt deeply in the matter, and attributed his crime to no personal enmity, but a temporary madness through excessive drink. As the train was starting off the vitriol-thrower partly raised in his seat, and, stretching out his free hand, exclaimed in a choking voice:—"For God's sake, tell Mr. Dodman, my friend in Peterborough, to do something for me, and get me out of prison. For life! My God, how can I bear it? You—" The two black convicts in the adjoining compartment drowned the rest of Graham's speech by singing in lusty voices, "Sally, git de hoecakes done."

No Small Potato.

Mr. J. W. Brisbin has just received a consignment of potatoes from Manitoba, and from the lot picked one which seemed to be the largest and handed it into the EXAMINER office. It weighs just a pound and a half. Evidently "the potatoes they're not small over there."

OTHERWISE HIS $1000 CHALLENGE WOULD BE ACCEPTED.

It is an old game for a competitor, who cannot compete, to cry shoddy. Poor fellows, they must get up some excuse, but GOUGH has great confidence in the public's judgment. Therefore I say to intending buyers. look them all through and then come to GOUGH, and if you are not convinced that he has ten times more goods, 50 per cent better goods, and at prices at least 25 per cent lower than the cheapest of them, he will give you a Suit or an Overcoat FOR NOTHING.

I can give you an Qvercoat to fit any size Man from $3 up to $18.
I can give you a Man's Suit from $2.75 up to $18.
I can give you a good, Heavy Guernsey Shirt or Drawers for 25c.
I can give you a Splendid All Wool Shirt or Drawers for 45c.
I can give you 5 Pairs Men's All Wool Home-made Socks for $1.00.
I can give you a Good Cardigan Jacket for 75 cents.
In a word, I can give you anything in GENTLEMEN'S WEAR at less, in many instances, THAN FIRST COST OF MANUFACTURE.

In Brief, And To The Point.

Dyspepsia is dreadful. Disordered liver is misery. Indigestion is a foe to good nature.

The human digestive apparatus is one of the most complicated and wonderful things in existence. It is easily put out of order.

Greasy food, tough food, sloppy food, bad cookery, mental worry, late hours, irregular habits, and many other things which ought not to be, have made the American people a nation of dyspeptics.

But Green's August Flower has done a wonderful work in reforming this sad business and making the American people so healthy that they can enjoy their meals and be happy.

Remember:—No happiness without health. But Green's August Flower brings health and happiness to the dyspeptic. Ask your druggist for a bottle. Seventy-five cents.

PETERBOROUGH'S GREAT CHEAPSIDE!

And SHEPPARD, by common consent, will get $1,000 for being the Cheapest Clothier in Peterborough, having knocked the Wonderful Cheap Man completely out. "Business is Business; Dirt is Dirt, and when it comes to throwing Dirt, then Count" the only original teddy out, and he will hand over that $1,000 like a little man: For the following reasons;—

Sheppard sells a full size Man's Suit for $2.95, and better Goods than a Suit to fit a Child about 9 years old sold by the Wonderful Cheap-Man on Saturday for $3.00; but marked $3.50. This is how it was:—A Lady purchased a Child's Suit on Saturday last, Sept. 17th, 1887, at the Store of the Wonderful Cheap-Man. It was marked thusly:—Lot 5375, Breast 27, Waist 26½, Age 9, Price $3.50. It was pure Shoddy, being held together by cotton threads, and Sheppard is free to say that that was the dearest Suit sold in the Town of Peterborough for the last two years. Full particulars are given because of the $1000 involved, and, further, that this decides who is selling the Cheapest Clothing in Peterborough. SHEPPARD would have sold that Lady a Suit, Pure Wool for that money, and worth two of the one she got.

$1,000 to Go to the Charitable Institutions of Peterborough.

I had first decided to give the agencies a chance of jumping up my rating that $1.000, but after considering the matter and finding that never in any case have I been asked for an endorser to my paper, and that no relative or any other persons have ever endorsed my paper to the extent of one cent, I have come to the conclusion my credit is as good as yours and will ask you to hand over the $1,000 to the Charitable Institutions of Peterborough.

Now, Sir, there is a good story told the truth of which can be vouched for, but for the honor of at least making an effort to keep up your self-styled name—The Terror of High Priced Clothiers—do not allow the same to be said of you in the case above. A man purchased a suit for $15.00 at the store of one of the largest Advertisers in that section of country. It was guaranteed pure wool; but after examining it carefully at home, he came to the conclusion that he had been dealing with some one sharper than himself. Finding a make of wool, differing some from anything he had ever seen, it dawned upon him, that he had heard of wool of that kind, so the suit was returned. The merchant bet $25.00 that it was all wool, and the bet was accepted the decision being left to a neighboring merchant, he found that the $15.00 suit, was wool faced and shoddy back, pure unadulterated shoddy, but what of the $25.00 bet, was it paid, not much—muchly—as it were.

SHEPPARD is making Wonderful Strides in Securing Marvellous Bargains in Dry Goods, Clothing, Hats and Caps.

HEATING

By Hot Water and Steam.

We desire to call special attention to their splendid Hot Water and Steam Boilers which are acknowledged to have no superior on the Continent of America. We have received orders from Ottawa and other places to replace other boilers with ours. This speaks for itself. McAndrew & Noble are prepared to back their own boilers against these or any other maker either in or out of Peterborough, and if not superior in every respect they will be removed without one cent of expense. We claim, and it has been acknowledged, that we have the best boiler for heating purposes in the world to-day; all we want is a fair test.

EAST RIDING EXHIBITION.

An Unusual Success at Norwood.

An Exceptional Exhibition.—Fair Weather.—Large Attendance of Visitors.—An All-round Success.

The annual exhibition of the East Riding of Peterborough Agricultural Society was held at Norwood on Tuesday and Wednesday last, and was successful beyond expectation. The first day was devoted to the placing of exhibits. In the evening the hall was thrown open, the village band being present, and a large number of visitors, from Norwood principally, availed themselves of the opportunity of visiting the fine collection on exhibition in the main exhibition building.

The society has been to considerable expense in erecting a new exhibition building on the grounds in the shape of an L, one side 100 feet in length, 26 feet in breadth, and they purpose making an addition of 50 feet for next year. A neat and convenient office for the secretary has been provided, and Mr. Roxburgh is worthy of the best premises, for he has, in his experience of nearly twenty years, developed a facility in the business which makes him one of the best exhibition secretaries in the country. He was elected secretary of the society on its organization—and the last exhibition was the nineteenth. And he has made the best possible use of his nearly a score of years of experience.

THE SECOND DAY

was marked by fine bright weather which contributed greatly to the success of the exhibition. There was a very large attendance and the exhibition justified the anxiety of the people to see what was presented for admiration. The receipts represented an attendance for the two days of between three and four thousand persons.

The exhibit of horses of all classes was very good, while cattle were represented creditably by Durhams, Holsteins, Ayrshires and several good grades. The show of swine chiefly Berkshires was not very large but the quality was good. The judges in this class recommended the directors to classify imported Berkshires and require pedigrees. The sheep well up to mark, there being about twenty pens of Cotswolds, Leicesters and Southdowns. There was an unusually extensive display of well bred poultry. In miscellaneous articles there were several worthy exhibits. Mr. W. H. Stacy, Norwood, had samples of pumps, J. Finlay & Son were on hand with a fine exhibit of hubs and bent stuff for buggies, cutters and wagons. Wm. Forsyth, of Peterborough, showed his IXL and Champion fanning mills. Messrs. Wright & Peyton, also of Peterborough, had samples of their pumps. Their combined force and lift pump has peculiar merit in the device for converting the lift into the force pump. It is done by means of a nut easily movable by the fingers—doing away with the necessity for a wrench. Mr. P. W. Stephenson had samples of the Brantford binder, reaper, mower, etc. Messrs. H. Owens and C. C. Macdonald showed the Chatham fanning mills. Mr. Owens pumps were also on exhibit. Messrs Curtis & Sons showed a variety of their excellent make of drain tiles.

THE INSIDE EXHIBIT

was of unusual excellence in all departments. The ladies' domestic work was worthy of especial commendation. There was a splendid show of grain, roots and vegetables. There were several creditable specimens of fine art in oil and pencil drawing. Mr. J. S. Patterson has a much admired collection of turned work in wood. Mr. J. W. Crosby was present with two Uxbridge organs, and Mr. H. Lalsley had samples of the Singer Sewing Machine.

The ladies of the Church of England congregation had a dining tent on the grounds and served excellent meals which were in good demand during the day. Below is the—

THE PRINCE DOOMED.

FREDERICK OF PRUSSIA IS SUFFERING FROM SMOKERS' CANCER.

Conservative Germans View the Probability of His Early Demise with Much Alarm, as His Son is Bold and Ambitious for a Warrior's Name.

NEW YORK, Oct. 14.—Dr. Wolfred Nelson of this city, who has just returned from Germany, says when he was in Baden-Baden a few days ago he was assured by physicians and other gentlemen who had trustworthy sources of information that the condition of the Crown Prince Frederick is unquestionably precarious. It is admitted now that he is suffering from cancer of the throat, known as tobacco smokers' cancer. The case is very similar to that of Gen. Grant. The Prince was for many years an inveterate smoker. In spite of the officials' opinions to the contrary, German physicians consider the Prince already a doomed man. The very severe caustics used have destroyed not only the tissues primarily affected, but the parts themselves. So severe has the treatment been that some portions of the bony tissue are now visible. Conservative Germans, Dr. Nelson added, view the probability of the Crown Prince's early demise with much alarm. The Emperor, already past 90, has had several pseudo apoplectic seizures, though this has been industriously denied. His death is liable to occur at any moment. With the Crown Prince as the Emperor's successor, it is believed that a peaceful policy would be maintained and that Bismarck's influence would be less predominant. But if he is at death's door the Imperial power will so fall to Prince William, the Crown Prince's eldest son. He is a young man of 28 years, and is said to be every inch a soldier. People who know him say he is bold, impetuous and ambitious to make a name as a warrior. Much apprehension is, therefore, felt in regard to Germany's proximate future.

The King and Queen of Servia have decided to maintain the existing separation for the present.

The Spanish Government, being convinced that the revolt of the natives of Ponapo was the result of religious persecution, has ordered that only those convicted of murdering Spaniards be punished, and that the indemnity demanded by America be paid.

Frederick Frey of the Arcade Saloon, Hamilton, has been fined $5 and costs for selling liquor to an Indian.

An Indian named Kalen Kwere is supposed to have committed a robbery of registered letters, etc., from the postoffice at Oka.

Ald. Prefontaine, M.P. of Montreal, has taken another action of damages against Le Monde for $5000 for having stated that he would be arrested for having bribed St. Denis, the petitioner in the Hochelaga contested election case.

A. Kerosek, the leather merchant of Montreal, who has been missing for some time, is still absent, but his bookkeeper, who is running the business, expects him back. When last heard from he was in Boston, and was engaged in shipping a carload of leather to Montreal. Outside of the banks his liabilities are said to be under $5000.

Some mysterious disease is killing the cattle in the southern part of Crittenden Township, Illinois.

A special from Tahlequah, I.T., says serious trouble over election matters is anticipated there when the Cherokee Council meets next Monday.

Fire yesterday morning slightly damaged Murray & Wilson's children's dress goods establishment, Philadelphia. Mrs. Geo. Goodman was suffocated.

A foreign corporation, the Matlador Land and Cattle Company, incorporated with a capital of £50,000, having applied for the filing of its charter to do business in the State of Texas, the Secretary of State referred the matter to the Attorney-General, who advises the Secretary of State to file the charter.

About a hundred persons assembled in the First Methodist Church, Chicago, on Thursday night, to listen to an address by Wm. Jones, M.P., one of the delegates from the Peace Society of England, in favor of the adoption of arbitration as a means of settling all disputes between nations.

Sisters of Charity as School Teachers.

PITTSBURG, Oct. 14.—The examination of eleven Sisters of Charity who had petitioned for public schools was begun by Superintendent Lecky of the Central Board of Education today. If successful the Sisters will be given positions in the 34th Ward schools under Rev. Father McTighe, the Roman Catholic priest who was recently elected principal. The new departure occasions a good deal of comment in religious circles.

AFFAIRS AT THE CAPITAL.

MR. BYRNE APPOINTED SECRETARY OF THE COMMISSION.

It is Believed That Mr. Chamberlain Will Pay Ottawa a Brief Visit—Government Savings Bank Deposits—Notices in the Gazette.

OTTAWA, Oct. 14.—There is very little that is new to-day with reference to the Fisheries Commission, except that it is understood that Lord Salisbury has appointed Mr. Byrne, who was one of the attaches of the Halifax Commission in 1877, English secretary to the present commission. It is most probable that a few Canadian officials will accompany Sir Charles to Washington to assist in the preparation of the Canadian case, but no names have been mentioned in this connection. It is understood that a room will be fitted up in the Fisheries Department for the use of such of the commissioners as may visit Ottawa.

Although the American press announce today that Mr. Chamberlain will sail for New York and go direct to Washington, it is still believed that he will pay a brief visit to Ottawa before entering on the duties of the commission.

Mr. Dodd of Regina and Dr. Powell of Calgary have been appointed assistant surgeons in the Northwest Mounted Police. The latter is a son of Adjutant-Gen. Powell, and is well known in Ottawa as a clever and rising young physician.

The statement of the Government savings banks for August shows deposits during the month of nearly $350,000, and a balance at the credit of depositors of over $21,466,000.

It is understood that Mr. G. Marman, second class clerk in the dead letter branch of the Postoffice Department, has been appointed Assistant Postoffice Inspector for the Ottawa District. This vacancy was created by the promotion of Mr. Bolduc, who accepted the Quebec district inspectorship.

Officer Drouillard, of the special custom service, has made several seizures lately in Lambton of goods smuggled from the United States.

The case of the Bridgewater, seized some time ago at Shelbourne, N.S., has been settled by the Minister of Customs ordering her release, owing to the fact that the captain of the vessel had partly chartered her for a cargo, and further delay in port would result in considerable loss.

A deputation consisting of Judges Lyon, Chadwick and Froelick waited on Hon. Mr. Thompson, Minister of Justice, to-day on behalf of the junior judges of Ontario, and requested that in any proposed rearrangement of the salaries of junior judges their claims to an increase be not overlooked. The minister promised to take a note of their representations.

Sir John gave a dinner party to-night at Earnscliffe in honor of Hon. Mr. Robson, Provincial Secretary of British Columbia. Besides Mr. Robson the guests were Sir Charles Tupper, G.C.M.G., Hon. Mr. Bowell, Sir Adolphe Caron, K.C.M.G., Hon. Mr. Costigan, Hon. Mr. White, Hon. Mr. Thompson, Hon. Mr. Foster, Hon. Mr. Clemow, Col. Baker, M.P.P. (British Columbia), and Mr. J. M. Courtney.

To-morrow's Canada Gazette will contain the appointments of Judges Richardson, McLeod and Rouleau of the Supreme Court of the Northwest Territories, and of Eugene Coste of Ottawa, as mining engineer of the geological and natural history survey of Canada.

Mr. Simon Cimon will be gazetted as member for Charlevoix to-morrow.

A proclamation will appear in to-morrow's Gazette vesting the Carleton Branch Railway in the Crown under the Act 49 Vic., chap. 16, providing for the purchase of the road for the sum of $35,000.

An order-in-council has been passed, on the recommendation of the Superintendent-General of Indian Affairs, under the authority of the "Act respecting Indians," prescribing rules and regulations governing the disposal of Indian lands containing minerals other than coal. The regulations are to be applicable to all Indian lands containing gold, silver, cinnabar, lead, tin, copper, petroleum, iron or other mineral deposit of economic value with the exception of coal.

An order-in-council has been passed, on the recommendation of the Minister of the Interior and under the provisions of the "Act respecting Public Lands," cancelling the regulations of March 7, 1884, with respect to the disposal of mineral land, other than coal lands, in Manitoba and the Northwest territories, and of such mineral lands in British Columbia as are the property of the Government of Canada. Generally it may be said that the few changes in the mining regulations have for their object the assimilation of the system of administering mining lands within the railway belt in British Columbia with the mining laws of that province, adhering, however, to the principle that the purchaser of mining lands shall acquire the right to such mines, minerals and substances as may be found within the boundaries of his claim produced vertically, but not the right to follow the lead or vein of gold or silver-bearing quartz which originates in his own claim outside of those vertical lines, as is the case under the ledge or California system which prevails in the province.

An order-in-council has been passed creating the eastern portion of Prince County, P.E.I., a district under the "Wrecks and Salvage Act."

Supplementary letters patent have been issued to the Keewatin Lumbering and Manufacturing Company, increasing the capital stock from $160,000 to $500,000.

The Government of Newfoundland gives notice in to-morrow's Gazette that the automatic whistling buoy moored off Powles Head, Trepassey, has been brought into that harbor and will not be replaced this season.

Andrew Maxwell Irving of Toronto gives notice of application to Parliament for divorce from his wife Mary Louise Irving on the ground of adultery.

Letters patent have been issued incorporating the Canada Oatmeal Milling Company with a capital of $30,000.

A circular despatch from Downing-street will appear to-morrow containing regulations respecting naval cadets, which will be in operation for the examinations in November this year and June next year.

THE FISHERY COMMISSION.

The U.S. Government Satisfied of Sir Charles Tupper's Appointment.

WASHINGTON, Oct. 14.—The Department of State has been officially advised of the appointment of Sir Charles Tupper of Canada as one of the British Fishery Commissioners. This last appointment, it is believed, completes the British Commission, which will consist of Mr. Joseph Chamberlain, Sir Lionel West, the British Minister to the United States, and Sir Charles Tupper.

It is learned at the Department of State that the approaching negotiations will be confined to the subject of the fisheries, and that this Government has never contemplated or proposed the discussion of the subject of Commercial Union by the negotiators.

In respect to the published statements that the British commissioners intend to offset our claim of jurisdiction over the waters of Behring Sea by a claim to Canadian waters lying between headlands, it is stated positively that the Department of State has never taken a position that could be construed as either asserting or denying any right of jurisdiction over the waters of Behring Sea.

DEPEW ON SPECULATION.

The Real Estate and Railway Building Craze Will Lead to a Panic, He Thinks.

ST. LOUIS, Oct. 14.—Mr. Depew, President of the New York Central Railway, says that the crazy and excessive speculation in real estate, and the building of thousands of miles of railway throughout the West, which are not needed, will surely result in a financial panic. He says: "The real estate craze, and the craze to build railways where there is nothing for them to haul, have been the direct cause of more financial disasters in this country than all else put together. However, the coming trouble will be discounted before it arrives, otherwise no enterprise could survive the shock. Nearly all the older and stronger business establishments of the country are becoming more and more conservative, and because they are the country will have safe and substantial rallying points, and hence the greatest damage will fall upon those who have invested their all wholly in prospective real estate equities and worthless railway securities, but the shock will be felt more or less sensibly in all business plants."

Mr. Depew Explains What He Said.

NEW YORK, Oct. 14.—The scare which stirred up Wall-street to-day, occasioned by the reported remark of Chauncey M. Depew to the effect that the finances of this country were in a bad way, in fact, rotten, lost all foundation when Mr. Depew's private secretary received the following despatch from Ohio from Mr. Depew:

"Your message received. I said nothing about a panic or cyclone. I commented on the fact, known to everybody, that the real estate boom in the towns had been pushed too far and there had been considerable railroad building, paralleling old lines which would be unprofitable. On the other hand the business activity all over the West and Northwest is phenomenal and healthy. A personal and careful inspection of each of the Vanderbilt lines and 3000 miles of track showed the highest degree of efficiency and a condition to both lower operating expenses and work a very long time on little expenditure if it became necessary. The financial condition of our lines was never better, and their prospects for earnings and dividends never more sure. This applies to the lines both east and west of Chicago."

KINGSTON ASSIZES.

A Suit Growing Out of the Absconding of Mr. John A. McMahon.

KINGSTON, Oct. 14.—Before Judge O'Connor at the Assizes to-day the case of Lucas & Lasher v. The Freehold Loan and Savings Company was disposed of. It was partly tried yesterday. The plaintiff is a farmer and owns a $60,000 farm in the first concession of Ernestown. In March, 1886, he gave a mortgage for $33,000 to the Freehold Loan and Savings Company of Toronto. About $20,000 of this went to pay off a former mortgage and then there were some expenses, leaving a cash balance of $2340 due to Mr. Lasher. The negotiations for the mortgage took place through John A. McMahon, at that time practising as a solicitor in Kingston, and also valuator for the Freehold Company. A check for $2340, payable to Lasher's order, was sent to the defendant company to McMahon's care.

On March 20 McMahon absconded, taking with him a large amount of other people's money. Before going he had cashed the Lasher check and got the money. The check bore Lasher's endorsement. Lasher says this is a forgery, and the Federal Bank, who cashed the check, are therefore joined as defendants with the Freehold Company. Lasher now sues for his $2340. McMahon is out of reach. Lasher claims that it was the duty of the company to see the money safely into his hands, that McMahon was the company's agent, and that either they or the bank are liable. Mr. Walkem, Q.C., and Mr. J. B. Walkem for the plaintiff; Mr. Britton, Q.C., for the company and Mr. Kirkpatrick, Q.C., for the bank. The defence set up that there was no forgery. The jury was locked up all night. There has been a previous trial of this case in which the jury disagreed.

THE EVIL OF RANCHING GRANTS.

Settlers in the Texas Panhandle Ordered to Move Off.

FORT WORTH, Tex., Oct. 14.—The settlers of the Texas Panhandle are agitated over a recent order from the manager of the Rocking Chair Ranche Company, calling upon them to leave their homes which are situated in what the company claims to be their domain along the border of Wheeler and Collinsworth Counties. The settlers have addressed a letter to Governor Ross, setting forth their claims, and stating that the order of eviction will throw thirty families out of their homes and cause a loss to each of from two to four years' labor. They state that this company have been occupying the school lands in common with them for four years, and paid no rent until last July. They appeal to the executive to protect their rights and homes which have been invaded without warning.

INTERNATIONAL ARBITRATION.

Arrival of a British Delegation to Confer With the American Congress.

NEW YORK, Oct. 14.—Sir John Swinburne, Mr. Hailey Stewart and Mr. O. V. Morgan, three members of the English House of Parliament, arrived here to-day by the steamer City of Chicago, forming a part of an arbitration delegation whose members propose to confer with the President and Congress in order to take steps to conclude with Great Britain a treaty under which the two governments shall guarantee to refer to arbitration any dispute which may arise and which cannot be settled by the ordinary course of diplomatic agency. The three gentlemen are advanced Liberals and have a memorial signed by 231 members of the House of Commons which they will present to the United States Government.

MALIGNANT PARTYISM.

A Minneapolis Paper's Gross Remarks Regarding the Wife of the President.

MINNEAPOLIS, Minn., Oct. 14.—The excitement occasioned by the appearance in The Minneapolis Tribune, on the morning after President Cleveland's visit, of an editorial containing several strictures on the Administration and manner of conducting the present "tour for votes," culminated last night, when A. J. Blethin, proprietor of The Tribune, was burned in effigy by a crowd of roughs. Exception has been particularly taken to an editorial, referring in most uncomplimentary terms to Mrs. Cleveland, and saying, among other things: "It is hard to have respect for a woman who would sell herself to so gross and repulsive a man as Grover Cleveland." The mob was led by Mayor Ames.

A HOTEL BURNED.

The Commercial House at Maxville and a Residence Destroyed.

OTTAWA, Oct. 14.—A fire occurred at Maxville, on the Canada Atlantic, about 2 o'clock this morning, resulting in the total loss of the Commercial House and a residence belonging to Norman Monsique, the inmates of both places escaping only with their lives.

The fire occurred in the Commercial Hotel, but how it originated is a mystery, and owing to the hour in which the fire occurred it had complete headway before being discovered. Mr. Cameron, the proprietor, in the haste to escape lost his pocket book containing $600. The damage done is large, but is partly covered by insurance.

BOULANGER IN DISGRACE

A FRENCH GENERAL WHO TALKED HIMSELF INTO TROUBLE.

It is Believed that M. Wilson, President Grevy's Son-in-Law, Was Concerned with Gen. Caffarel in the Traffic in Offices and Decorations.

NEW YORK, Oct. 14.—The Herald's Paris correspondent says The Intransigeant publishes the following under the "History of a Crime:" "Gen. Boulanger is relieved of his command and put under arrest. Gen. Davoust d'Auerstadt, Military Governor of Lyons, has replaced him. Gen. Boulanger assumes the full responsibility of the words imputed to him. Gen. Boulanger seems to be becoming more deeply implicated in the Legion of Honor scandals as the hours roll by. The belief steadily gains ground that Wilson, President Grevy's son-in-law, is guilty after all. It is said that when persons seeking the decoration of the Legion of Honor were presented to him by Messrs. Limousin, Kreitmeyer & Co., he would send them for a looking-glass, protesting that the thing was impossible and beneath the dignity of the Republic, but at the same time he would breathe upon the mirror, and afterward trace with his little finger on the clouded surface the figures—say, $20,000, $30,000, etc., thereby indicating the price for which the cross could be obtained, without writing or speaking. The condensed breath vanishing a few moments later effaced all trace of the transaction. A few days afterward the applicant would send his envelope full of bank-notes equal to figures traced on the magic mirror, and duly receive in return the parchment and box containing the coveted cross.

Illegal Expenditure by Boulanger.

PARIS, Oct. 14.—At the sitting of the Budget Committee to-day M. Cavaignac stated that Gen. Boulanger, in December last, ordered an outlay of 3,125,000 francs for clothing for the territorial reserve. This expenditure had not been authorized by the Chamber of Deputies and was therefore illegal.

THE UNEMPLOYED OF LONDON.

The Lord Mayor Refuses to Meet Them and the Police Drive Them Off.

LONDON, Oct. 14.—The unemployed persons who frequent Trafalgar-square formed in a body to-day and marched to the Mansion House, where they demanded an interview with the Lord Mayor. The Lord Mayor declined to hold any conversation with the mob or its representatives. The crowd insisted upon an interview, but were again refused. They then denounced the Lord Mayor, after which they started back to Trafalgar-square. They stopped at the office of The Standard and hooted and jeered. The police attempted to move the crowd, but were met with resistance. They then charged the mob and seized a black banner and a number of flags. The mob then scattered, but shortly after rallied. The leader of the crowd shouted, "Men, assert your rights," and the mob succeeded in forcing them back from their position and in recapturing the black banner. The police soon rallied, however, and again charged the mob, who became demoralized and ran in every direction.

MR. CHAMBERLAIN IN ANTRIM.

He Addresses a Large Meeting of Loyalists at Bushmills.

LONDON, Oct. 14.—Mr. Chamberlain, speaking at Bushmills, County Antrim, to-day said that it was not the upper classes but the poorer classes of Ulster that were opposed to the Parnellite proposals. The artisans and farmers did not see any chance of improving their condition under the rule of men like the Home Rule members of Parliament. The poorer classes rightly looked forward with the greatest dread to the changes that would be involved in the creation of a Parliament at Dublin. He admitted that a part of the North of Ireland was strongly in favor of Home Rule, but he was certain that if he could infuse into the people of Donegal the same resolute, law-abiding disposition as that shown by the people of Antrim, the outcry for grant constitutional changes would become little heard.

DESERTED BY THE CREW.

The Schooner Manzanilla Afloat in Lake Erie at the Mercy of the Waves.

ERIE, Pa., Oct. 14.—A vessel flying signals of distress was reported yesterday forenoon off Brocton. It was the schooner Manzanilla from Cleveland for Toronto with stone. The crew left the captain and vessel when the craft was a mile and a half off Brocton and had great difficulty in getting ashore. They afterwards tried to get back to take the captain off, but the breakers were so wicked and the boat so unseaworthy that the perilous undertaking was given up. The crew reported the vessel's port side shoved in and her rigging all gone, and that she is entirely at the mercy of the waves. The customs authorities made every effort to get a tug to go to the rescue of the captain of the vessel, but all refused. The Life Saving Crew had itself in readiness all day for a tug. The Manzanilla was built by J. Shickluna of St. Catharines, and owned by S. Murphy, of Quebec and R. Williamson of Hamilton. She was valued at $7000 and insured for $4000 in the Western of Toronto.

The London Stock Market.

LONDON, Oct. 14.—The stock market was steady at the opening to-day, but collapsed on the receipt of New York quotations. Chicago, Milwaukee and St. Paul fell 2 per cent and the rest of the American list ½ to 2. At the close the tone was panicky. Afterwards there was a slightly better feeling.

The Failures for the Week.

NEW YORK, Oct. 14.—The business failures occurring throughout the country in the last seven days number, for the United States 188, and for Canada 23, or a total of 211 failures, as compared with a total of 212 last week. For the corresponding week of 1886 the figures were: United States 160, Canada 19; total 179.

A British Vessel Lost.

LONDON, Oct. 14.—The British ship Monarch, Capt. Corbett, from Manilla, Aug. 28, to New York, has been lost on Misdore Island. The captain and three of the crew, named Drews, Riddard and Crupp, were drowned. The remainder of the crew have arrived at Manilla.

A Cotton Mill Burned.

BALTIC, Conn., Oct. 14.—The Sprague Mill, 1000 by 300 feet, was fatally wrecked by fire this morning. It has been operated by H. L. Aldrich & Co. of Providence in the manufacture of cotton cloth. Nine hundred hands are thrown out of employment. The loss is estimated at $1,500,000; insurance $257,000. The gas works were also destroyed.

The Port Dover Fire.

PORT DOVER, Ont., Oct. 14.—It is estimated that the total loss on Ellis' knitting mills, which were totally destroyed by fire yesterday, amounts to about $60,000; insurance $30,000. From seventy-five to ninety hands will be thrown out of employment.

SIX vs. HALF A DOZEN.

Mr. Baird is the member of parliament for Queen's, New Brunswick, by favour of Mr. Returning Officer Dunn. It is no high treason to make this statement now, for Judge Osler has decided in the case of Mr. Platt, of Prince Edward Island, that anybody may deposit with the returning officer $200 on behalf of the candidate. Mr. Baird received a minority by the votes cast at the last general election in Queen's County, N.B., but, ostensibly because his opponent did not personally make the required deposit of $200; in reality, however, because he was a Tory and a Government supporter, Mr. Dunn, the returning officer, appointed by and acting in the interests of the Dominion Government, declared Mr. Baird returned for the riding which had declared, by a large majority, that it did not want him to represent it. This act was an outrage upon Mr. King the Liberal candidate, who received a majority of votes, an outrage upon the riding that desired him as a representative, and an outrage upon the principle of representative government. Mr. Baird has been severely denounced for accepting and sitting in a seat to which he had no more legal right than a North-west Indian, but he is not one whit worse than every member of the Tory Government majority in parliament, which voted endorsation of the outrage. Now that two authoritive judicial decisions have settled that Mr. Baird has no right to the seat he occupies, it is to be hoped that he will resign and refund the $1,000 sessional indemnity he pocketed. If he does not do the latter he should be indicted for feloniously obtaining money under false pretenses, and his political abettors should be pilloried as participes criminis.

A REPORT of the proceedings at a recent meeting of half-breeds at Batoche has been received at Ottawa. Various subjects were considered. It was decided to circulate a petition, to be presented to Parliament next session, asking indemnity for losses sustained by half-breeds during the rebellion. The Metis, in this case, are following the example pursued by the rebels in Lower Canada in 1837. The Metis, it appears, are divided into two camps since the late Federal election in the Territories, one element claiming that all those who supported Mr. McDowall, the Conservative candidate, have had their claims adjusted, while those who voted for his opponent have been left out in the cold. Among those coming in for indemnity was Baptiste Boyer, a member of Riel's late council. This would not be unlike the methods pursued by the Dominion Government everywhere but in the Midland District. A dozen years of solid Tory support from a dozen ridings has not made the government solid on the subject of the Trent Valley Canal.

THE trial of the petition against the return of Dr. Willoughby, of Colborne, as representative of East Northumberland in the Ontario Legislature, has been going on for some days at Brighton, but it was postponed on Thursday till Friday, Oct. 28th, when the trial will be resumed at Brighton. The postponement was made in order to secure the attendance of witnesses on charges 9, 10, 40, 42, 43, 44, 47, 57, 87, 88, 89, 90 and 91. Their Lordships also adverted to the conduct of Mr. Dwight, manager of the G.N.W. Telegraph Company, and the local telegraph agent in reference to the destruction of telegrams having (or supposed to have) a bearing on the trial of the petition and they said they had determined to issue a rule upon these parties to show cause why they should not be attached for contempt of court. The rule referred to is returnable at Brighton on Oct. 28th. There is therefore a prospect that the practice of destroying telegrams required as evidence at judicial proceedings is in a fair way of having its legality tested.

PETERBORO' REAL ESTATE

Investment Company's Annual Meeting.

Report of the Directors—A Satisfactory Balance Sheet.—Officers for the Current Year.

The ninth annual meeting of the shareholders of the Peterborough Real Estate Investment Company was held at the offices, George street, Wednesday afternoon at half-past three. Among those present were:—

Richard Hall, Esq., President; G.A. Cox, Esq., Vice-President and Manager; Messrs. W. Claxton, C. McGill, H. Lefevre, J. R. Dundas, A. Mann, — Reid, J. Carnegie, W. H. Moore, Z. Burnham, W. Cumming, A. Hall, T. Sarginson, T. Hall, W. J. Hall, W. Walsh, W. G. Ferguson, Jno. Burnham, Robert Jaffray, T. G. Hazlitt, T. M. Grover, A. P. Poussette, W. Johnstone, Dr. Fife, Nathan Mann, A. L. Davis, E. W. Cox, D. W. Dumble, F. G. Cox, C. Leonard, J. Stevenson, Robert Howden, Albert Hall, G. M. Roger.

The President took the chair, and after the minutes of previous meetings had been read and confirmed, the President presented the Directors' report as follows, which was taken as read:—

Ninth Annual Report of the Directors of The Peterborough Real Estate Investment Company (Limited) for the year ending 31st of May, 1887.

1. The Directors submit herewith the usual annual statement of the business of the Company for the year ending the 31st May, with the Auditors' certificates appended.

2. The repayments on account of principal during the year have amounted to $228,110.66, and the new loans that have been made during the same period amount to $250,185, thus increasing the investment account by $22,074.34.

3. The gross interest earnings for the year was $92,926.41, and with the $311.41 at the credit of profit and loss account from the previous year amounting together to $93,237.82 has been appropriated as follows:—

General expense account including Glasgow Agents' commission and debenture expenses	$10,335 25
Interest on Sterling Debentures	47,488 14
Interest on Currency Debentures	2 320 00
Dividend paid 1st June	7,468 00

leaving a balance of $15,640; of this amount $15,000 has been transferred to a reserve fund, and $640 carried forward to the credit of profit and loss account.

The losses that were sustained under the late management, the necessity for transferring $74,680 from the paid up capital in order to provide for those losses, and the consequent change of management were all so fully discussed at the special general meetings of shareholders held on the 4th May and 21st of June that it is not necessary now to repeat that discussion, further than to explain how the amount transferred from capital has been dealt with.

The $14,107.29 that appeared in the assets last year as "Balance Debenture Expense," and the $353 09 as "Office Furniture" have both been written off. At the close of the year the real estate, that had come into the Company's hands through foreclosure and otherwise, amounted to $67,769.02, and $1,569.58 has been written off the cost of these properties reducing the value at which they are now held in the accounts to $56,199.44.

After deducting these three items amounting to $26,005.71 from the $74, 680, we have a balance of $48,674.29 at the credit of the reduced capital or contingent account to provide for losses, the extent of which are not yet fully ascertained.

The greater part, if not all, of this amount will be absorbed, as it will take about $25,000 to provide for the loss sustained through Messrs. Poussette & Roger, and the only security we will have against that large amount are two life insurance policies for $10,000 each, the premiums upon which the Company have to pay themselves; however, the balance of the $48,674.29 will, it is believed, amply provide for all other losses.

Since the last annual meeting very satisfactory progress has been made in collecting arrears of interest, getting some of the less desirable loans paid off, getting additional security in others, and generally in getting the business of the Company better in hand.

A saving in the expense of management of not less than $4000 per year will be effected by the action (approved by the special general meeting of shareholders on the 21st June,) of transferring the business of the Company to the office of the Central Canada Loan and Savings Company, where the two Companies so largely owned by the same proprietors may be managed by the same officers.

In addition to the annual statement, an interim statement for the four months (since the close of the year,) from the 1st of June to the 30th of September is also submitted herewith, from which it will be seen that the subscribed capital has been increased from $1,493,600 to $2,000 000, the paid up capital from $293,720 to $324,340, and the amount invested on mortgages from $1,141,467.81 to $1,243,387.19, leaving only $21,007.61 deposited in the Ontario Bank awaiting investment.

A new code of by-laws, strictly in accordance with the statute under which the Company is chartered, was prepared by James McLellan, Esq., Q.C., of Toronto, and passed by the directors on 14th July, and will be submitted to this meeting of the shareholders for confirmation.

Respectfully submitted on behalf of the Directors,
RICHARD HALL,
President.

The Thistle Sails for Home.

NEW YORK, Oct. 14.—The Thistle started for home this morning.

A Six-Day Walk Arranged For.

PHILADELPHIA, Oct. 14.—George Littlewood, the champion pedestrian of England, arrived here this afternoon with his manager and will immediately go into training at the University Athletic grounds for a six-day go-as-you-please international race, to be contested in this city Thanksgiving week.

Striving for Honors at Jerome.

FORDHAM, N.Y., Oct. 14.—This was an extra day at Jerome Park. The weather was fine and attendance large. Following are the results:

FIRST RACE—¾ mile—Stuyvesant won, Mamie Hunt 2d and Wilfred 3d. Time 1.17.

SECOND RACE—For 3-year-olds, ½ mile—Regency of Norfolk won, Leo H. 2d and Cascade 3d. Time 53¾.

THIRD RACE—¾ mile—Theodosius won, Ostario 2d and Tom 3d. Time—1.17¼.

FOURTH RACE—1 1-16 miles—Richmond won, Stockton 2d and Enlan 3d. Time 1.51¾.

FIFTH RACE—5 furlongs—Rowland won, Armstrong 2d and Skobeloff 3d. Time 1.03.

SIXTH RACE—Steeplechase, short course—Wellington won, Harborough 2d and Hercules 3d. Time 3.18.

The Late George Fordham.

The famous English jockey, George Fordham, who died at Brighton on Wednesday last, was born at Cambridge on Sept. 29, 1833. As the University town is certain twelve miles of Newmarket, and his tastes inclined to horses, he at a very early age found his way into an apprenticeship there. It is impossible to particularize the various owners or trainers for whom he rode. He won his first race on Hampton at Brighton as early as Oct., 1851, and up to the end of the season 1858 had won no less than 2327 races, so that the number he had ridden to achieve such a feat can be easily imagined. Since that time he has not ridden to any great extent. He had no great chance of winning either Derby or St. Leger until 1868, when he rode Lord Clifden at Epsom. Middle-aged English turfites still draw a deep breath when they tell how Chaloner came with a rush, and how Lord Clifden was beaten at the post. In spite of his extraordinary successes he only won the Derby once, on Baron Rothschild's Sir Bevys in 1879 and The Oaks on Sammerside in 1859, Formosa in 1868, Gamos in 1870, Motne in 1873 and Thebais in 1881. The Leger never fell to his lot, but he was twice a winner of the Two Thousand Guineas on Vauban and Petrosel, and seven times of the One Thousand on Mayonaise, Nemesis, Siberia, Formosa, Scottish Queen, Thebais and Hauteur.

When Chester ranked as one of the leading meetings the Chester Cup was the biggest betting handicap of the year, but no power could induce Fordham to ride round the track. It is as large as and somewhat similar to American tracks, but he had a presentiment of accident there, and never would accept a mount on it. In 1857 he rode the American mare Prioress for Mr. Richard Ten Broeck, when she won the Cesarewitch. Among his best masters may be named Mr. Graham, Mr. Lefevre, Mr. Crawford, Count Lagrange and Baron Rothschild, and it is in the colors of one or other of these we can generally find his picture painted. For Mr. Lefevre, a Frenchman, he had marvelous good fortune, and so much money had he accumulated that he decided to retire from his profession, and went to live at Slough, near Windsor. He invested his earnings, which amounted to several thousands of pounds, with M. Lefevre in the Honduras loan, and by means of this was very shortly financially ruined. He was nothing daunted, but started out in his profession once more, and should have been in as much request as ever only for the fact that he had taken too kindly to the bottle at nights, and his nerve was no longer what it had been, nor was he the same "Dromeo" which the jockeys had aforetimes christened him. In 1883 ill-health at last caused him to retire, Fordham was considered by many, especially by Mr. Leopold de Rothschild and the Duke of Beaufort, all the best jockey of the last twenty-five years. He was very shrewd, independent and honest. No one dared patronize him, and no one ever accused him of any of the despicable practices which render the turf reputable. He made two mistakes in his life—he married, the saddle to look at Macaroni, and he once trusted a French financier.

A BIG SCHEME FOR CHICAGO.

A Project to Connect Lake Michigan With the Mississippi.

CHICAGO, Oct. 10.—About 100 prominent citizens of Chicago left for Peoria this afternoon, as delegates to a convention to be held there to-morrow, which is of the first importance to Chicago and the State of Illinois, besides possessing national interest. The object of the convention is to decide upon ways and means of obtaining a channel way from the lower end of Lake Michigan to the Mississippi River, of sufficient capacity to accommodate large sized Mississippi River boats, so that the products of the country may be carried from the lakes to the gulf without breaking bulk.

Give Them a Chance!

That is to say, your lungs. Also all your breathing machinery. Very wonderful machinery it is. Not only the larger air-passages, but the thousands of little tubes and cavities leading from them.

When these are clogged and choked with matter which ought not to be there, your lungs cannot half do their work. And what they do, they cannot do well.

Call it cold, cough, croup, pneumonia, catarrh, consumption or any of the family of throat and nose and head and lung obstructions, all are bad. All ought to be got rid of. There is just one sure way to get rid of them. That is to take Boschee's German Syrup, which any druggist will sell you at 75 cents a bottle. Even if everything else has failedyou, you may depend upon this for certain. eodw

From a Grateful Mother.

My little child suffered from a severe cold upon the lungs, until she was like a little skeleton before she took Burdock Blood Bitters, after which she became fat and hearty, and was saved of weak lungs, constipation and debility or wasting of flesh, from which two doctors had failed to relieve her. Mrs. Samuel Todd, Sturgeon Bay, Ont. 2w40d

To Avoid Baldness or Grey Hair.

Use Dr. Dorenwend's Great German Hair Magic. It keeps the scalp clean and free from Dandruff, and promotes the growth of the hair. It prevents premature grayness and stops all falling out of the hair. On bald heads, where the roots have not perished, it will invigorate them and force a new growth of hair. Ask for Hair Magic. It is the only reliable. For sale by J. D. Tully and all druggists.

Grand Results.

For several years R. H. Brown, of Kincardine, suffered from dyspepsia, he says he tried several physicians and a host of remedies without relief. His druggist recommended B. B. B., which he declares produced "grand results" for which he gives it his highest recommendation. 2w40d

Be Prepared.

Many of the worst attacks of cholera morbus, cramps, dysentery, and colic comes suddenly in the night, and the most speedy and prompt means must be used to combat their dire effects. Dr. Fowler's Extract of Wild Strawberry is the remedy. Keep it at hand for emergencies. It never fails to cure or relieve. 2w40d

When Baby was sick, we gave her Castoria,
When she was a Child, she cried for Castoria,
When she became Miss, she clung to Castoria,
When she had Children, she gave them Castoria,

Still They Come.

We mean Grey Flannel, 1000 yards received this morning at J.J.Sheehy's. The prices are 20c., 22c., and 25c. a yard.

On the Move.

Grain was moving briskly to-day. At the warehouses there were long strings of wagons waiting their turn to deliver their loads of grain, while on the market the buyers were busy.

The latest novelties of cloth are to be found in Turnbull's dress department. Miss Johnston, cute and its quickly, so that ladies from a distance can go home on the evening trains.

The Midget Company.

The Magri midgets performed last night to only half a house. The show gave every satisfaction to the audience, particularly to the young people, who enjoyed it immensely. They show in Lindsay to-day.

Annual Meeting.

Sewing School.

Miss Leach, who is well known in town as a first-class cutter and fitter, has opened a sewing school and dress and mantle making establishment in the old music hall. She has room for a few more pupils, both for plain sewing and dress and mantle making. She guarantees first-class work at moderate prices.

Hunters Home.

Last evening a hunting party composed of Messrs. Felix Brownscombe, B. Yelland, T. E. Pratt, Jas. Ruth and A. Tebb returned to town after a two weeks cruise through Chemong, Buckhorn, Deer and Stony Lakes. They report partridge plentiful, with ducks just coming in. They brought home a large quantity of feathered game. Three porcupines were killed by them, and they got sight of just one bear.

Cheap wall paper at A. L. Davis & Co's clearing sale—Mr. Davis is retiring from the business.

The Town Drain.

Workmen have been excavating on Simcoe street for the purpose of locating the trouble with the town drain. As far as they have gone no obstructions in the drain have been encountered, but, what is worse, in places the pipe is running up hill. One length of pipe of three feet was tested with a spirit level, and found to have an incline of two inches—the wrong way. If found to be practicable, the drain will be re-constructed; otherwise the drain will have to be run down Simcoe street to the river in order to secure sufficient fall.

A Dramatic Treat

Mr. T. Bradbura has secured at great trouble and expense Miss Marguerite St. John and her English comedy company, to appear in Bouccicault's great play, "The Life of an Actress", on Monday evening next. Miss St. John and her company have just arrived from England, and it is only by chance that Peterborough is to be favored with their appearance. But, Mr. Bradbura offering better inducements, a much larger town was cancelled to fill the night here. It is sincerely hoped our citizens will show their appreciation of Mr. Bradbura's efforts by filling the house to its capacity on Monday evening. Miss St. John and her company are very highly recommended by the English press, and the performance will no doubt be the treat of the season.

The Summer Is Ended.

Among the surest signs of the ending of summer is the fact that Mr. J.J. Turner is engaged in removing awnings and stowing them away for the winter. No man is better qualified for the work than the man who makes and erects awnings, therefore those who want their awnings carefully removed should apply to Mr. Turner.

EMPLOYMENT

Selling Off.

Mr. Johnston Carey announces that he has decided to retire from the retail boot and shoe trade, but will in future confine his operations to the wholesale manufacturing business in Toronto. He is accordingly selling off his large stock of boots and shoes at cost. This is not a subterfuge to clear off old goods, but a genuine clearing out sale without reserve. The time to secure bargains is now.

IN DESIRABLE

A Conductor Injured.

Conductor Joseph Ryan, of the Grand Junction ballast train, was operating a gravel plow on one of the cars in the yard here this morning, when the nose of the plow caught in something and Mr. Ryan was thrown off the car, alighting heavily on the ground. It was at first feared his injuries would prove fatal, but it now appears that a severe shaking up and a few cuts and bruises are the extent of his injuries.

LOCATIONS.

Division Court.

Twenty cases were disposed of at the Division Court yesterday by Judge Weller. In one case a point of law came up which may be of public interest. A certain grocer in town had been filling written orders signed by the name of a responsible citizen, and presented by his son, for a considerable amount. When the bill was presented the father refused to pay it, stating that he had never ordered the goods. His Honor held that the defendant was responsible in that he had retained the goods, whether he ordered them or not, and gave judgment accordingly.

Mrs Mary Thompson, of Toronto, was afflicted with Tape Worm, 6 feet of which was removed by one bottle of Dr. Low's Worm Syrup. dw

The Harvest Home.

Charlotte Street Methodist Church Harvest Home Festival—An old Pastor in the Pulpit.

The Charlotte street church with which were nicely decorated with choice and vegetable products last evening, upon the occasion of the Harvest Home Festival. In the school room a dozen or more small tables, each capable of accommodating from three to six persons, were for an hour or more continuously occupied by the constantly-arriving visitors, who after satisfying their hunger passed on into the church, which was well filled before the concert began. A large number from the George street church were present. The viands provided by the ladies of the church were of the best, and they all united in putting their guests at perfect ease and attending to their wants.

About the altar and choir-railing of the church, as in the school-room, the work of the decorative artist was apparent. The produce of the field, garden and orchard skilfully were interwoven and given an exceedingly pretty effect.

Shortly after eight o'clock Rev. Mr. Tovell opened proceedings. After singing and prayer, he made a few introductory remarks appropriate to the occasion. This was followed by an organ solo by Mr. Snyder, organist of the church. Rev. Mr. Wallace then made a brief address. Mr. Harry Stephens rendered a solo, after which Rev. Coverdale Watson, the speaker of the evening, was introduced. The reverend gentleman said he felt considerably like Rip Van-Winkle must have have felt after awakening from his long sleep. It seemed almost a dream to him to be again addressing the people of the Charlotte street church, after his absence of eight or nine years. But though so long away from them his heart had always been with them. He noted a great many changes which had taken place in his absence, in the church and in the congregation, and also in the town of Peterborough itself—the town he had always liked, he supposed because of the warm-hearted people in it. This brought him to a reference to the genius of adaptation of the Methodist church to the ever-changing order of things in the world, a genius which she ought never to lose. He would like, he said, to tell his audience all about British Columbia, his present home, but he would not have time on this occasion. He said he esteemed it the greatest privilege of his life to have crossed this wonderful continent to the most wonderful part of it, the Pacific coast. He dwelt eloquently upon the wild grandeur of the scenery in that land of distances and mountains. When he viewed the wondrous works of nature, he said, it filled his soul with thoughts of the Creator of all things. In referring to the climate, he said that at Victoria the same underclothing could be worn the year round, and flowers kept in bloom continually. It was seldom below zero there in winter, and never very warm in summer. He urged his hearers never to believe those who have visited the country for a short time only and returned with mistaken ideas. One could not understand the place until one has had experience. A tourist or casual visitor got merely a superficial opinion. He mentioned a few of the most striking aspects of the Pacific coast, and referred to the great field for moral reform presented there. He had had great success, he said, and all attempts in this line met with almost instantaneous success. In conclusion he expressed his pleasure at being present, and announced that he would preach Sunday.

A solo by Miss Ella Cox, and the Doxology and benediction, brought a most successful meeting to a close.

Church Chimes.

Rev. Coverdale Watson will preach in the Charlotte street church to-morrow, morning and evening.

Personal.

Rev. W. C. Bradshaw, chairman of the diocesan Sunday school committee of the diocese of Toronto, at the annual meeting of the Toronto Sunday school Association, was selected to preach the annual sermon in St. Philip's church, on Nov. 10th. He was also made an honorary member of the Association together with Rev. W. S. Rainsford, St. George's church, New York, and Rev. H. Carmichael.

An Ottawa despatch states that Mr. H. Calcutt, of Ashburnham, and Mr. Globensky, of Montreal, are spoken of as probable successors of Senator McMaster and Senator Senecal, respectively.

An Interesting Suit.

An interesting suit to local Oddfellows was prosecuted at the Division Court yesterday, in which Mr. S. Clegg, as chairman of a sub-committee of the Oddfellow's Demonstration Committee, was plaintiff, and Messrs. J. R. McIntyre and F. J. Daly were defendants. The suit was for the recovery of $50 and $25 respectively, being subscriptions to the Oddfellow's Demonstration Committee in the form of a note. The defendants set up as their defence that they were guaranteed certain conditions which had not been fulfilled, and which were an inducement to them to sign the paper. Several witnesses were examined, but the decision of the court was not given, the argument being adjourned until some future day. A large number of technical legal points were raised. Mr. D. W. Dumble acted as solicitor for plaintiff, and Mr. J. O'Meara for defendants.

A Pioneer Passes Away.

This morning the funeral of Mr. Walter Wilkins Boswell took place from the C.P.R. station to Little Lake Cemetery at 9 o'clock, he having died at Trent Bridge on Thursday. Deceased was at one time a well known resident of Peterborough. In 1818 he came to Canada from the island of Jersey. He came to North Monagan, from Cobourg, where his father had first settled, in 1840. He built a mill on what is now known as a trout stream in that township. He served in the militia during the rebellion of 1837. He will be well remembered by the older residents of this district as an enterprising and estimable citizen. He leaves behind him two sons, Mr. W. F. Boswell, of Trent Bridge and Mr. H. G. Boswell, of Florida, and four married daughters, Mrs Fowler, Mrs. Nesbitt, Mrs. Sawden and Mrs. Leonard. The deceased gentleman died of apoplexy at the age of 80 years.

Something Worth Knowing About the Manufacture of Furs.

Manufacturing for wholesale, as a rule, is largely free from the difficulties surrounding the manufacturer for the retail trade. The former starts work early in the season to make up samples for the travelling agents, who begin as early as July to take orders, and practically such ordered goods are made up after most of the season's trade is over. Repairing work is out of the question although at this time some few orders are given. For different is it with the manufacturer for the retail trade, who one day after early with great work, requiring up-to-date, which, as fashion changes, may be left unsold, whereas it might be wanted for something different. All of this the public is hardly aware of. They seldom think of their winter garments in time to have them repaired, only when required for use, when the they appear for orders of new goods has arrived do they think of repairs. The difficulties of former years, when all the work of cutting and preparing for finishing depended on myself, made it necessary to restrict the time for mending furs to the end of October, and even many of my best customers felt aggrieved to meet with a refusal when coming later, and many a time the question was asked, "Why don't you employ more hands?" But though I had but two hands of my own, yet they often performed, by working extra hours in a day, more work than two men in regular time might be able to do. A cutter that I might wish to employ, would demand from $16 to $20 per week for steady employment throughout the whole year, and such could not be done in a limited market for manufacturing, as it would end in failure, as has been proven even in Peterborough; and all the more surprising is it now to us (when the firm counts three active men in cutting and preparing material for finishing, and yet with four finishers, as well as the facility of a fur-sewing machine) that nearly two months time has been taken up with almost nothing but repairing and altering old furs; and it would have been difficult to comply will all the demands, had we not worked throughout the whole year making up our extensive stock of new furs for the coming season, involving, sometimes, great risk, as mentioned before. It is surprising, and yet we do not wonder so much about furs that come from British Columbia, the Northwest and Manitoba for repairing, but when furs come from Toronto and Montreal for the same purpose it seems almost incredible, but it can be proven. How is this accounted for then? Fur dealers, as a rule, will be met everywhere, no matter how small the place; but are such dealers furriers? If printer's ink can do it, and there are many credulous ones who fancy the same, then any one can advertise himself a furrier; nor will capital make any one a furrier who has not acquired the knowledge by learning the trade, which requires a very long practice. In all the larger cities where fur cutters are employed, German cutters always have the preference, as not only are they compelled to cut furs but also to learn to dress and prepare raw furs, as well as to be able to sew and finish fur garments before they can pass as proper mechanics. Such is rather not the rule in other countries, and only such a furrier would I have liked to employ in former years in my business.

The Tax Question.

To the Editor of the Examiner:—

DEAR SIR—There has been a vast amount of correspondence in the columns of the EXAMINER respecting the question of the collection of the taxes, especially in the matter of the penalty to be imposed for the failure to pay before a certain date. This is a question of some moment, for the taxes have to be paid and the amount is heavy enough to make the individual ratepayer take some interest in it. The matter needs to be settled in some equitable way, for there are grave complaints that the assessment has not been levied with sufficient good judgment to do justice as between the poor and the rich man. The matter does not affect me, for I have paid my taxes, and peculiar circumstances have reconciled me to make the payment willingly. We have heard a great deal of the "poor man's" friend from mouthy members of the Council. That goes for what it is worth. But I have found the real friend of the poor man—a public benefactor. My tax bill amounted to $11.83, which at another time I would have thought large. But the day before I saved $7 and therefore paid my taxes with pleasure. I bought for $9 and $8 respectively, an excellent overcoat, and tweed suit, which would have cost me at any other place $24. I got them at gough's, the wonderful cheap man, the poor man's friend the public benefactor. Go there and do likewise and your taxes won't trouble you.

Yours truly,
JOHN BLANK

27th. ANNUAL SEASON. 27th.

Our Stock of Furs for the Season of 1887 is one not inferior to any in the best retail stores in any City. When we say this we base the same on our knowledge in selecting the material for our manufacture, which is of the Choicest. The long winter of last season had run our stock very low, many lines, such as Men's Coats in Racoon, being completely sold out, but of which we now have on hand a large stock made of good seasoned skins in the natural color. None kept of unseasoned skins, which require coloring dark to hide bare spots.

AT SIR CHARLES' REQUEST

HON. MR. THOMPSON TO BE LEGAL ADVISER OF THE COMMISSION.

A Proposition from an English Firm to Build the Prince Edward Island Tunnel—Mr. Mercier's Kind Invitation is Not Accepted.

OTTAWA, Oct. 10.—It is understood that Hon. Mr. Thompson, Minister of Justice, has at the request of Sir Charles Tupper, consented to accompany him to Washington as the legal adviser in connection with the Fisheries Commission, as it is expected that many points requiring special legal knowledge will come before the commission.

A proposition is said to have been made to the Government by Mr. Greathead, C.E., of London, who is at present building the London and Southark Subway under the Thames, to form a company to build a subway to Prince Edward Island and take over and operate the Island Railway on a tariff to be approved by the Government, in consideration of an annual subsidy of $80,000 sterling for fifty years.

Hon. Mr. Mercier has invited Sir John Macdonald and other members of the Cabinet to attend the soiree to be given by him during the sitting of the Provincial Conference, but as the Dominion Government will not be represented at the conference it is not probable that it will be represented at the soiree either.

The memorial of the Manitoba Government to Her Majesty on the disallowance question has been received by the Secretary of State, and will be referred to the council for action in the usual manner.

It is understood that a warrant for the extradition of Clinchamps, the Virginia forger now in jail at Brantford, will be issued to-morrow from the Department of Justice.

The Government steamer Sir James Douglas left Victoria, B.C., yesterday for the Naas River, with the commissioners from the Dominion and British Columbia governments appointed some time ago to settle the difficulties existing between two tribes of Indians in that locality with reference to certain fishing privileges, etc.

Mr. Charlebois, contractor for the Northwest Central Railway, left here for Winnipeg on Friday night. He says he expects that the road from Brandon to Rapid City, about twenty-five miles, will be in operation before the close of the season, and an additional twenty-five miles nearly completed.

ON TRIAL FOR HIS LIFE.

A Marylander Who Shot a Friend in Mistake for a Rival.

BALTIMORE, Oct. 15.—The old Court House at Princess Anne, Somerset County, has been crowded the last three days. Dow Minter, a youth of 20, is on trial for his life. He killed Elija Sterling, his best friend, in mistake for Robert Ford, his rival in love. The killing took place on the night of June 15 last within a few yards of the house of Minter's sweetheart, Donah Sterling, a near relative of the man her lover killed. It appears that "Bob" Ford had been a suitor for Donah's hand, but Minter supplanted him. On the night of the killing Donah had been telling Minter that Ford had threatened to kill them both. The story of the shooting is best told in Minter's own words: "On the night of the shooting I went to Mabion Sterling's house about dark, and between 10 and 11 o'clock I started home. When about fifty yards from the house I saw a man coming toward me. He came up to me with his hand in his back pocket and said: 'I have caught you, have I?' I then pulled out my pistol and shot him. I shot him because I thought he would shoot me. I thought he was 'Bob' Ford."

More Deaths From Cholera at New York.

NEW YORK, Oct. 15.—There were two more deaths from cholera on Swinburne Island last night among the Alesia's passengers. This brings the total deaths from cholera up to date to twenty-eight since the Alesia left Mediterranean ports.

A MESSENGER'S BRAVERY.

HE SUCCESSFULLY RESISTS THE ROBBERY OF HIS CAR.

J. R. Smith of San Antonio, Tex., Employed by Wells, Fargo & Co., Kills Two Train Robbers Near El Paso—His Admirers to Present Him With a Medal.

EL PASO, TEX., Oct. 15.—The meager reports sent from here last night regarding the attempted train robbery gave but a fraction of the tale. The Galveston, Harrisburg and San Antonio express which should have started east yesterday at 4.30 p.m. was delayed till about 8.30 in waiting for the Southern Pacific train from the west. Engineer Lobroy says that when his train had gone about a mile, two men, wearing cloth masks, came over the tender with revolver in each hand. The engineer tried to stop the train, but the men ordered him to run on to a curve and stop quick. When he reached the curve, he supposed they meant, five miles from the city, they ordered him and his firemen to get off the engine and took them back to the express car. The robbers in the meantime were firing off their revolvers and shouting and cursing. Reaching the express car, one of them threw dynamite against the front door on one side of the car. The explosion knocked a large hole in the door and broke out the glass in the other doors. The robbers called the express messenger to come out. The messenger was J. Ernest Smith, and with him was J. R. Beardsley, clerk in Wells Fargo office at Fort Worth. When they heard the firing they put out the lights and went to the rear end of the car. At the command of the robbers they came out, Smith leaving his revolver just inside the door. The robbers ordered Smith and Beardsley to hold up their hands and then searched them. Smith was then ordered to go back into the car and light the lamp. He climbed back and the foremost robber started to follow. Smith seized his pistol, placed it almost against the robber's breast and fired, sending a bullet through his heart. The robber fell back dead, but fired twice at Smith while falling. Smith and the other robber also exchanged shots. The robber then attempted to get his comrade's body on the engine, intending to uncouple it from the train and run on. While he was trying to lift the body upon the engine the messenger got his double-barreled shotgun, leaned out of the car and shot at him. The robber sank down, then sprang up and ran out of sight.

Search was made in the vicinity of the place where the train was stopped. Less than fifty yards from where he was shot lay the second robber, dead. His body was brought back to the city and placed beside his late comrade in crime. An examination showed only one buckshot had struck him, that it entered the front side of the left shoulder and cut the artery just above the heart. The officers are reticent, but it is learned that they believe they are on the trail of more robbers. The theory is that the pals of the two men on the train were waiting a little beyond where the train was held up. The shots fired by the two robbers were the signals that after getting their plunder the two robbers intended to run forward with the engine and leave the rest of the train.

Messenger Smith is from St. Louis, living now at San Antonio. He has been employed by Wells, Fargo & Co. for four years and runs between El Paso and San Antonio. The citizens of El Paso presented him with a suit of clothes to-day and have raised over $100 for a medal.

BOULANGER'S SELF-CONCEIT.

He is Believed to be Delighted with His Present Prominence.

LONDON, Oct. 15.—Gen. Boulanger has accepted the punishment imposed upon him by the War Office and owns that he has been indiscreet. M. Henri Rochefort, in L'Intransigeant, makes a specific charge against M. Wilson of receiving 1000 francs for a decoration. Gen. d'Andlau has been exonerated of complicity in the affair. The numerous phases and wide ramifications of the issues growing out of the conspiracy have already involved persons who find themselves at last in the position they have long sought to occupy, that of being in public controversy with the Government, and, without great care on the part of the Minister of War to guard against such results, these malcontents will no doubt succeed in plunging France into a state of confusion in which the primary cause of the trouble will be lost sight of in the new issues presenting themselves. Chief among those persons is Gen. Boulanger. From the moment of his leaving the War Office to the present time he has posed as a martyr to his patriotism and exceptional abilities, and has lost no opportunity arising, nor neglected any chance of making one, to give the public to understand that he is suffering humiliation and partial disgrace for his devotion to the people of France. Every act of the Government affecting the army in the remotest degree has been construed by him into an insult to himself, and there are thousands upon thousands of men in France to-day who believe his assertions and assumptions to be true. Nothing can be plainer to the calm observer than that Boulanger hailed with delight the circumstance of his card having been found in Mme. Limousin's apartments. In a straightforward reply to the very proper interrogations of the Minister of War he could have in twenty words disposed of any suspicion of his actions, and in fewer words he could have given his opinion of the matter had he been called upon to do so without attacking the Minister of War or questioning his motive. But the opportunity the affair afforded to put forth his accustomed assumption that the unearthing of the scandal and the pursuit of the offenders was an apparent attack upon himself was not to be lost. Instead of preserving the dignity of a soldier of France he chose to act like an insolent school boy. The impudent answer he gave to the inquiries of Gen. Ferron, his superior, would have in some countries cost him his life, and he himself, as Minister of War, would have punished similar conduct on the part of a subordinate with the utmost severity. It may be said that Boulanger has played his last card. If he can succeed in convincing the people that he is really being persecuted, a very difficult thing for him to accomplish, he may yet become an important factor in the future of his country, but if he cannot he will henceforth be known as a man who ended a bright career by sacrificing himself upon the altar of his self-conceit.

German Sentiment Gratified.

BERLIN, Oct. 15.—The French military scandal occupies the attention of both public and official circles. It is impossible to deny that the revelations gratify German sentiment toward France, chiefly because of the disclosure of internal disorders and of corruption and discord in high places.

THE HOME RULE STRUGGLE.

Articles by Earl Spencer and Mr. Gladstone in the New Handbook.

LONDON, Oct. 15.—Messrs. Gladstone and Morley each contribute articles for the "Home Rule Handbook," which will be issued on Monday, preparatory to a Liberal Federation meeting in Nottingham. Earl Spencer, in the preface to the work, says:

"We are apt to think that what worked well in England will work well in Ireland. We do not allow for soreness of feeling. Parliament at its last session fell into the same error. The English majority passed measures to which the Irish political leaders and a majority of the Irish are vehemently opposed, and which are only agreeable to a small minority in Ireland. This action can only succeed if the Irish can be persuaded to relinquish the national sentiment of Home Rule, which is stronger and more vigorous than ever. We hear that the land question is settled, that dual ownership is abolished, that the tenants are satisfied, and that Home Rule is no longer actively supported. Without entering into the whole argument we don't know how Parliament can safely pass a large land purchase scheme without establishing some strong Irish government in Dublin to act between the Imperial Government and the tenants."

In conclusion Earl Spencer urges that Home Rule possesses a vitality which will survive the land question.

Mr. Gladstone's article is entitled "The Lessons of Irish History." He traces the history of Ireland for the past 700 years, and deals with the necessity during the present crisis of becoming acquainted with the true state of the account between the islands of the United Kingdom. Mr. Gladstone then traces at length the progress of measures designed to give effect to the Irish aspirations to national life, and gives a sketch of the history of the eighteenth century. He says:

Awful as is the force of bigotry, hidden under the mask of religion but fighting for plunder and power with all the advantages of possession, prescription and extraneous support, there is a David who can kill this Goliath. That conquering force lies in the principle of nationality, and a growing sense of nationality prompted the Irish Parliament and developed its earlier struggles for privileges on a narrow ground into a genuine contest for freedom on a ground as broad as Ireland and humanity at large.

A Surprise for Nationalists.

QUEENSTOWN, Oct. 15.—An election for municipal officers was held here to-day. The result caused general astonishment, five Unionists being elected by large majorities over five Nationalists and a staunch Conservative heading the poll by a vote of two to one.

To Totally Suppress the League.

LONDON, Oct. 15.—The Irish Privy Council will meet in Dublin early next week for the purpose of adopting measures for the total suppression of the National League. The Nationalists are determined to hold a demonstration at Woodford on Sunday, despite the fact a proclamation has been issued forbidding any meeting.

An Enquiry to Be Held.

DUBLIN, Oct. 15.—The Government authorities have decided to hold a police enquiry into the conduct of Magistrate Irwin and Inspector Brownrigg at Mitchelstown.

THE FISHERIES COMMISSION.

The English Officials Will Sail for America on Oct. 20.

LONDON, Oct. 16.—The English officials who have been appointed to assist in the fisheries conference will sail for America on Oct. 20, probably accompanying Mr. Chamberlain.

CHAMBERLAIN'S VIEW OF IT.

Commercial Union Means Political Separation from Great Britain.

LONDON, Oct. 16.—In his speech at Belfast Joseph Chamberlain referred to Commercial Union between the United States and Canada. He said it meant a protective tariff against Great Britain, and that if Canada had Commercial Union she must be made to know it means a political separation from Great Britain.

A FIGHTING NOVA SCOTIAN.

He is Going to Alaska Sealing and He Warns Yankee Cutters to Stand Off.

NEW YORK, Oct. 13.—A Halifax special says: Great interest attaches to the approaching departure from this port of the schooner Houlette for the Alaska seal fisheries. The Houlette for two years has been employed as a Canadian fishery cruiser, and was the vessel that effected the capture of the Provincetown schooner Highland Light. Capt. Grant, a Nova Scotian, who is extensively engaged in Alaskan seal fisheries from Victoria, B.C., came all the way to Halifax to purchase vessels to engage in that fishery. He says there are eighteen British Columbian vessels sailing in Alaskan waters, and that their catch aggregates $500,000 yearly. He denounces in violent language the action of the United States Government in capturing Canadian vessels and alleged brutal ill-treatment of Canadian fishermen taken prisoners, which he says is nothing but retaliation for the Canadian's strict enforcement of her treaty rights in the Atlantic waters. But Capt. Grant says he will teach the Yankees a lesson if any attempt is made to capture the Houlette. He is arranging to obtain a cannon and a complete outfit of small arms and ammunition similar to that carried by the Houlette when engaged in the fishery protection service.

Capt. Grant says he is going to take seals on the open sea, and if any American cutter attempts to interfere with him or his vessel there will be a fight. Capt. Grant is a determined looking man, who has already led a wild life sailing the South Pacific and Chinese seas. He commanded the clipper ship Louisa Hatch when she was captured and burned by the Alabama, and Grant and his crew were placed in irons and afterwards put ashore and left by Capt. Semmes upon an island near the equator.

Suicide at Mimico.

MIMICO, Oct. 16.—An old woman named Polson, residing at Mimico, committed suicide on Saturday afternoon by taking a dose of strychnine. As the deceased was in comfortable circumstances no cause can be assigned for the deed.

Confessed Her Crime and Took Poison.

LOS ANGELES, Oct. 15.—Hattie Wolstern, the girl who is under arrest here on suspicion of killing Dr. Harlan, a dentist and sporting man, and afterwards burning the body, made a confession of her guilt to-night and then took poison. She was still alive at a late hour.

SHOT DOWN BY STEPSON.

A CHICAGO BANK PRESIDENT ASSAILED AT A CHURCH DOOR.

Stephen W. Rawson, a Millionaire, Who is Separated From His Wife, Who, He Says, is a Bad Woman, Fatally Wounded by Her Son, Who is Under Arrest.

CHICAGO, Oct. 16.—In a throng of people at the church door of one of the most fashionable congregations in Chicago, a gray-haired millionaire bank president was remorselessly shot down to-day by his stepson to avenge or shield a woman, charged with continued adultery. The woman was no less a person than Mrs. Mesekie Rawson, wife of the banker shot and mother of the assailant. The banker is Stephen W. Rawson, president of the Union Trust Company of Chicago. William Lee, aged 17, is the stepson.

Banker Rawson, with five bullets in his body and apparently in a dying condition, was hastily raised off the blood-spattered curb and bundled into one of the score of carriages that had been waiting for the wealthy worshippers. Young Lee, with the empty and still smoking revolver in hand, was as hurriedly thrown into a strikingly different conveyance, the wagon of the police patrol.

Young Lee had been seen for half an hour previous pacing the stone sidewalk on Ashland Avenue, near Madison, fronting the Third Presbyterian Church. Of this church Banker Rawson has long been a leading light, and was still an honored member notwithstanding that he had been charged by his wife with perjury and other offences. He, on the other hand, alleged that she, although prominent in society and a beautiful woman in appearance, was really a disreputable, blasphemous, devilish-tempered adventuress who coveted only his money. For a year or more the two have been fighting each other in the divorce courts and within a week the banker has filed against her additional charges of adultery.

Little attention had been paid to young Lee as he stalked backward and forward past the church entrance. He was lost in the crowd when the gaily dressed congregation began to come out, among them the well known form of the bank president. Mr. Rawson was about to step to his carriage when breaking the majestic tones of the great organ came the sharp crack of a revolver followed by a dozen more. An earthquake could scarcely have produced much confusion as the moment among the throng of gentlemen, ladies and children and the long line of carriages and coachmen that lined the sidewalks in every direction. A din of screams began but subsided almost instantly.

Lee was seen to quickly but coolly steady his shining pistol with his left hand, while with his right he again and again pulled the fatal trigger. With the stifled cry "I'm killed," the aged millionaire fell prostrate on the stone flags, uptorning his agonized, white face of the cold-set countenance of his step-son. Lee, turning to an officer who had just appeared on the scene, hoarsely whispered, "Take me to jail quick." It seemed scarcely a moment till the patrol wagon bore him away.

When the dying banker reached his home the physicians had been called. They probed for the bullets and found that all had lodged in the legs or arms, save one that entered near the small of the back and nearly as could be judged had plunged through his abdomen. If his life is saved it will be little short of a miracle.

A reporter found Mrs. Rawson at the Centennial Hotel, where she occupied apartments, shortly after the tragedy, and upon being asked what she had to say in regard to the affair replied: "I am glad of it. He deserved all he got. I intended to do it myself."

Lee declared he had nothing to say, except that he was entirely responsible for what he did. The career of the young man's mother is in many respects remarkable. She has been married several times, was divorced once, and as a department clerk in the Government service at Washington is understood to have been concerned in some decidedly sensational incidents. She first became acquainted with Rawson about five years ago and their marriage soon followed. Rawson is 65 years old.

Agricultural Competition at Centreville.

The Annual Exhibition the Usual Annual Success.

The two days' exhibition of the South Monaghan Agricultural Society, held at Centreville on Thursday and Friday last was a pleasing success. The first day was, of course, devoted to the placing of exhibits and the judging of articles. The second day was favoured with good weather and a large attendance of spectators. The exhibits of stock, embracing cattle, sheep and pigs, though not large, was a good one, but the same can hardly be said of the show of poultry, which was quite insignificant. Mr. Robt Hammett, representing Mr. Peter Hamilton, had an exhibition one of the latter's sulky ploughs, of which a practical test was made by ploughing in a neighbouring field. No exhibitory was its work that orders were received from the farmers for several of these ploughs. Mr. John Fair also had on hand samples of the Cockshutt Riding Plough, and in a practical test it also found its admirers.

The inside exhibit was of great merit, the ladies' department being particularly creditable, as always obtains at Centreville.

During the day the Millbrook band was on the grounds and lent the charms of music to the enlivening features of the scene.

The Directors desire to return their heartiest thanks for the following donations for prizes:—Mr. Geo. A. Cox, $10; Mr. J. R. Stratton, M.P.P., $10; Mr. James Stevenson, M.P., $50; Mr. Peter Hamilton, iron scuffler; Mr. R. Fair, Golden Lion, goods; Mr. E. LONDON STOCK MARKET.

Failure of Five Firms Dealing in American Securities.

LONDON, Oct. 16.—Discount was easy and in small demand during the past week at ½ to ⅝. The Stock Exchange loan rate to next account is 4 to 4½. The past week was a troubled one on the Stock Exchange. The strain was of long continuance. The collapse of the American market brought affairs to a crisis, and forced weak concerns into liquidation. During the settlement five failures occurred among dealers in American securities, but none was of the first importance. Although the markets remain weak, a better feeling prevails and the belief is that the worst is over and the position sounder. Yesterday's dealing showed that investors were buying the stocks thrown upon the market by speculators and the result was a marked improvement. American railroad securities were especially strong under steady purchases for investment, which caused prices to harden as the highest point reached during the week. Still the rise was not nearly enough to cover the previous fall.

MURDERED BY HIGHWAYMEN.

A Methodist Minister at Walton, W. Va., Killed by Thieves.

CHARLESTON, W. Va., Oct. 15.—News has just reached here to the effect that on last Thursday night a gang of highwaymen entered the home of Rev. Thomas P. Ryan, a Methodist minister, who lives near Walton, Roane Co. They made demands for money, but several hundred dollars, but missed a large sum which had been but a day or two before sent to the bank in this city. Ryan, who is a brother of the Rev. Edward Ryan of Michigan, was shot dead by one of the masked robbers. The murdered man was 60 years old, and was quite well-to-do. There is great excitement, and if the gang is captured they will be lynched, as they have committed many outrages in the section referred to during the past few months. Officers and detectives are in hot pursuit. Large rewards have been offered.

WONG CHIN FOO IS ANGRY.

The "Why I Am a Heathen" Chinaman Charged $30 to Enter Canada.

KINGSTON, Oct. 15.—Wong Chin Foo of New York, an enlightened Chinaman and the writer of a late essay in the North American Review on "Why I Am a Heathen," is in this city in a towering rage. He says he has been a naturalized American since 1874, when he took out final papers at Grand Rapids, Mich.; that he is an assistant inspector of the New York port, and yet on his entry to Canada last Thursday he was duly appraised, tagged and taxed by customs officials and condemned to pay $30 duty. He protested long and loud, put in an affidavit made before a United States Consul at Clifton, Canada, and yet Collector Wyan was obdurate. "You are a born Chinaman," he said, "and must either pay a tax or return to the United States." The money was paid under protest. Wong Chin Foo is angry, and insists that he will make it hot for the collector.

"BLINKEY" MORGAN ON TRIAL.

Every Precaution Taken to Prevent an Attempt at Escape.

CLEVELAND, Oct. 15.—A jury in the "Blinkey" Morgan case at Ravenna, O., was secured this afternoon and the court adjourned until Monday morning, when the taking of testimony will begin. Morgan appears in court each day attired in a black suit and spotless linen. He is always clean-shaven and has more the appearance of a college professor than a burglar and murderer. During the examination of the jurors Morgan has been even more watchful than his attorneys. He reads human nature at a glance and was wont to tell his attorneys to challenge jurors who did not please him before a question was asked. While in court the prisoner is guarded by two deputy-sheriffs, and a guard of six deputies escort him to and from the jail. Every precaution is being taken to prevent an attempt at escape.

Belva Lockwood's New Party.

SPRINGFIELD, Ill., Oct. 15.—The Convention of Social Reformers, presided over by Mrs. Belva Lockwood, in session here the past few days, has organized a new political party, adopting a lengthy platform and naming a national committee. The name of the new organization is the "Industrial Reform Party." Another meeting will be held in Washington Feb. 22. The platform embraces an extraordinarily wide range, including woman suffrage, prohibition and government ownership of transportation and telegraph lines.

In Brief, And To The Point.

Dyspepsia is dreadful. Disordered liver is misery. Indigestion is a foe to good nature.

The human digestive apparatus is one of the most complicated and wonderful things in existence. It is easily put out of order.

Greasy food, tough food, sloppy food, bad cookery, mental worry, late hours, irregular habits, and many other things which ought not to be, have made the American people a nation of dyspeptics.

But Green's August Flower has done a wonderful work in reforming this sad business and making the American people so healthy that they can enjoy their meals and be happy.

Remember:—No happiness without health. But Green's August Flower brings health and happiness to the dyspeptic. Ask your druggist for a bottle. Seventy five cents.

Children Cry for Pitcher's Castoria.

Down a Quarter Sinner.

My little girl suffered from soreness of throat, tonsilitis, and then from a bad cough. She was very low. Dr. Pitcher, after which she began to improve nearly, and was cured of weak lungs, constipation and debility or wasting of flesh, from which two doctors had failed to relieve her. Mrs. Samuel Todd, Sturgeon Bay, Oct. 2w34d

To Avoid Baldness or Gray Hair.

Use Dr. Dorenwend's Great German Hair Magic. It keeps the scalp clean and free from Dandruff, and promotes the growth of the hair. It prevents premature grayness and stops all falling out of the hair. On bald heads, where the roots have not perished, it will invigorate them and force a new growth of hair. Ask for Hair Magic. It is the only reliable. For sale by J. D. Tully and all druggists.

Grand Results.

For several years R. H. Brown, of Kincardine, suffered from dyspepsia, he says he tried several physicians and a host of remedies without relief. He brought recommended B. B. B., which he declares produced "grand results" for which he gives it the highest recommendation. 2w40d

Ladies troubled with Pimples, Blotches, Rough Hands or Face, or Sores of any description, should use McGregor & Parke's Carbolic Citrate. It will leave the skin in perfect health, smooth, clean and good color. Be sure and get the genuine, made by McGregor & Parke. Price 25c. Sold at John McKee's Drug Store. eodw35

Be Prepared.

Many of the worst attacks of cholera morbus, cramps, dysentery, and colic comes suddenly in the night, and the most speedy and prompt means must be used to combat their dire effects. Dr. Fowler's Extract of Wild Strawberry is the remedy. Keep it at hand for emergencies. It never fails to cure or relieve. 2w40d

"What is McGregor's Speedy Cure for"?
It is for Dyspepsia, Liver Complaint, Indigestion, Biliousness, and it is the finest blood purifier in the known world to-day.
"Does it give satisfaction?"
We cannot point to one instance where it did not.
"Where does it have the largest sale?"
Right in the city of Hamilton, where it is manufactured, there has been over one thousand dollars' worth sold in the last year retail, and the great majority of the sales are by one recommending it to another. For sale at 50c. and $1.00 per bottle by John McKee, Druggist eodw35

I have been bothered with catarrh for about twenty years. I had lost my sense of smell entirely for the last fifteen years, and I had to get some one to thread my needle. Now I have my hearing as well as I ever had, and I can see to thread as fine a needle as ever I did. My sense of smell is partly restored; it seems to be improving all the time. I think there is nothing like Ely's Cream Balm for Catarrh.—Mrs. R. E. Grimes, Rendrill, Ohio. eodw42

Certain Cure.

A CURE FOR CHOLERA MORBUS.—A positive cure for this dangerous complaint, and for all acute or chronic forms of bowel complaint incident to summer and fall, is found in Dr. Fowler's Extract of Wild Strawberry; to be procured from any druggist. 2w40d

Reasons why you should purchase Fluid Lightning in preference to all other remedies are:—Rapid result—cures instantly. It is easily applied—no trouble—no lost time. It does not require constant use—one application is effectual. One bottle will remove more pain than any other remedy in existence. Try it for Neuralgia, Toothache, Headache, Rheumatism. Sold at 25c. a bottle by John McKee, Druggist. eodw35

THE WAR CLOUD BUSTED.

VICTORY has Perched on the Banner of

PETERBOROUGH'S GREAT CHEAPSIDE!

And SHEPPARD, by common consent, will get $1,000 for being the Cheapest Clothier in Peterborough, having knocked the Wonderful Cheap Man completely out. "Business is Business; Dirt is Dirt, and when it comes to throwing Dirt, then Count" the only original teddy out, and he will hand over that $1,000 like a little man: For the following reasons;—

Sheppard sells a full size Man's Suit for $2.95, and better Goods than a Suit to fit a Child about 9 years old sold by the Wonderful Cheap-Man on Saturday for $3.00; but marked $3.50. This is how it was:—A Lady purchased a Child's Suit on Saturday last, Sept. 17th, 1887, at the Store of the Wonderful Cheap-Man. It was marked thusly:—Lot 5375, Breast 27, Waist 26½, Age 9, Price $3.50. It was pure Shoddy, being held together by cotton threads, and Sheppard is free to say that that was the dearest Suit sold in the Town of Peterborough for the last two years. Full particulars are given because of the $1000 involved, and, further, that this decides who is selling the Cheapest Clothing in Peterborough. SHEPPARD would have sold that Lady a Suit, Pure Wool for that money, and worth two of the one she got.

$1,000 to Go to the Charitable Institutions of Peterborough.

I had first decided to give the agencies a chance of jumping up my rating that $1.000, but after considering the matter and finding that never in any case have I been asked for an endorser to my paper, and that no relative or any other persons have ever endorsed my paper to the extent of one cent, I have come to the conclusion my credit is as good as yours and will ask you to hand over the $1,000 to the Charitable Institutions of Peterborough.

Now, Sir, there is a good story told the truth of which can be vouched for, but for the honor of at least making an effort to keep up your self-styled name—The Terror of High Priced Clothiers—do not allow the same to be said of you in the case above. A man purchased a suit for $15.00 at the store of one of the largest Advertisers in that section of country. It was guaranteed pure wool; but after examining it carefully at home, he came to the conclusion that he had been dealing with some one sharper than himself. Finding a make of wool, differing some from anything he had ever seen, it dawned upon him, that he had heard of wool of that kind, so the suit was returned. The merchant bet $25.00 that it was all wool, and the bet was accepted the decision being left to a neighboring merchant, he found that the $15.00 suit, was wool faced and shoddy back, pure unadulterated shoddy, but what of the $25.00 bet, was it paid, not much—muchly—as it were.

SHEPPARD is making Wonderful Strides in Securing Marvellous Bargains in Dry Goods, Clothing, Hats and Caps.

HEATING

By Hot Water and Steam.

We desire to call special attention to their splendid Hot Water and Steam Boilers which are acknowledged to have no superior on the Continent of America. We have received orders from Ottawa and other places to replace other boilers with ours. This speaks for itself. McAndrew & Noble are prepared to back their own boilers against these or any other maker either in or out of Peterborough, and if not superior in every respect they will be removed without one cent of expense. We claim, and it has been acknowledged, that we have the best boiler for heating purposes in the world to-day; all we want is a fair test.

An Old Time Favorite

The season of green fruits and summer drinks is the time when the worst forms of cholera morbus and bowel complaints generally prevail. As a safeguard Dr. Fowler's Extract of Wild Strawberry should be kept at hand. For 30 years it has been the most reliable remedy. 2w40

POTATOES—Manitoba Potatoes. Car load just received. Very fine. Call and see them at BRISBIN'S Feed Store on Hunter Street.

A Correction.

Mr. J. H. Daubes called at this office to correct a mis-statement in the report of the Lakefield show, to the effect that he was an exhibitor of poultry, while in the prize list his name never appears as a winner, thus creating the impression that his birds were of an inferior class. Mr. Daubez states that he did not exhibit any poultry at all at Lakefield. At the Peterborough Central, where they were exhibited, his birds took a number of first and other prizes.

Scotland's Martyrs.

A lecture on "Scotland's Martyrs, and the principles for which they suffered" is to be given this evening at eight o'clock in the Lecture Room of St. Paul's Presbyterian Church by Rev. A. Wilson, of Toronto. There is to be no admission fee, but a collection is to be taken up at the close. This lecture has been favorably noticed in several papers of the province. The Presbyterian Review says:—"It has been prepared with care and was delivered with great energy and telling effects." The London Free Press says:—"The Rev. A. Wilson last night delivered a lecture in the Lecture Room of St. Andrew's Presbyterian Church before a deeply interested audience." And the Toronto Mail says:—"It was an able, interesting and instructive lecture and greatly enjoyed." We advise all who can to go and hear it.

Cumming-McDonald.

This is not exactly a wedding notice, though the heading is entirely in keeping with hymeneal paragraphs. It is rather a tale of bloodshed and strife. The names are familiar to our readers in connection with the "horse deal" that furnished a number of breezy items for the local papers a short time ago. The police magistrate apparently settled the difficulty the last time they appeared before him; but it would now appear that ever since that time a soulful determination to "have that 'ere horse or—blood" has filled Cummings' bosom and agitated his shirt-front. Opportunity offered this morning. The lad Macdonald was driving a team of horses (one of them the "horse of contention") attached to a load of slabs up George street. When near the Peter Hamilton Manufacturing Company's Works he was pounced upon by Cumming, who began unhitching his horse. Of course, Macdonald objected. The two engaged in a choking contest, each doing his best to close off the other's breath. A crowd quickly gathered and blocked up the street. After a few minutes' violent struggle, Macdonald yielded and told Cumming to take the horse if he wanted it—adding "I'll git it agin if I have to break your back." Cumming went off with the horse, Macdonald retained the other and peace reigned once more. It is safe to assert, though, that the end has not yet been reached of this interesting fracas.

OBTAIN

A Large Wheat Consignment.

Since Saturday evening up till ten o'clock this forenoon no less than 31 cars of Manitoba wheat were received at the C.P.R. depot here for Messrs. Meldrum & Davidson's roller mills. In all 37 car-loads of freight have been left at the Peterborough station since Saturday night, the other 6 cars containing various kinds of goods. The capacity of the C.P.R. yard is severely taxed, and the income of freight still continues. This is a significant fact, as showing the growing importance of Peterborough as a commercial centre.

EMPLOYMENT

Broke His Leg.

This morning a number of employees of Porter Bros'. carriage works were tearing down the shed at the exhibition grounds in which the exhibits of the firm had been displayed. One of the young men, Wm. Forster, fell from the top of the structure to the ground, breaking his leg at the thigh. The sufferer was taken to the Nicholl's Hospital. Dr. Kincaid is in attendance upon him.

Two Saturday Night Fires.

Incendiary Attempts Made to the Premises of Messrs. Wm. Yelland and H. Rossiter.

On Saturday evening, fire was discovered burning in the back kitchen of Mr. Wm. Yelland's residence. The alarm was sounded, the brigade turned out promptly and the fire, which had made small progress, was put out without great difficulty; but had it broken out at a later hour there would have been great probability of the house being destroyed and the lives of the inmates endangered. As it was, however, the damage done only amounted to about $50, covered by insurance in the Royal. Mr. Yelland thought at first that the blaze resulted from hot ashes, but in the morning closer investigation revealed the presence near the source of the fire of two empty beer bottles, which, from their odor, had evidently contained coal oil. This discovery gave grave reason for thinking that the fire was of incendiary origin. The same evening about eight o'clock the verandah of the residence of Mr. Rossiter was also discovered to be on fire, and the presence of two beer bottles with similar contents, judging by the smell, to those discovered at Mr. Yelland's, combined to make the suspicion of incendiarism a certainty. Mr. Yelland and Mr. Rossiter ascribe the attempted incendiarism to hostility evoked by the active part taken by them in the enforcement of the Scott Act. If their opinion is correct, the town has come to a very sad pass. Peterborough as a law abiding community will not tolerate for a moment the rule of mob law. Mr. Yelland, as a member of the Scott Act Association, and Mr. Rossiter, as an informer in the service of the Association, are acting, it will be admitted, within their rights, if they feel it their duty to assist in enforcing a statute which has been adopted by popular majority. If persons feel aggrieved on account of such enforcement, it is their duty, out of respect to law and order, to submit with as good grace as possible, but all such attempts as those indicated above must and will be frowned down by every respectable citizen. Respect for law and order must be taught—by mild and ordinary means if possible, by strong and extraordinary if necessary. Public safety demands the adoption of the most vigorous measures to detect the guilty parties and bring them to justice.

The Bobcaygeon Independent says:—Owing to the serious illness of Rev. F. Conway, parish priest of Peterborough, His Lordship Bishop Dowling has been pleased to call upon Rev. F. McEvay, of this parish to take charge of Peterborough. If it should occur that the preferment becomes permanent, the Catholics of the Fenelon, Bobcaygeon and Galway parish will have to regret the loss of a good pastor. In the meantime the parish is in charge of Rev. F. O'Brien, who celebrated service in St. Joseph's last Sunday

The Letter That Killeth.

Rev. Coverdale Watson preached in the Charlotte street Methodist church Sunday morning and evening. On both occasions the congregations were large; in the evening sufficient seating capacity could scarcely be procured for the numbers who poured into the edifice. He chose for the text of his evening's discourse Corinthians iii, 5 6:—

Not that we are sufficient of ourselves to think anything of ourselves; but our sufficiency is of God;

Who also hath made us able ministers of the New Testament; not of the letter, but of the spirit; for the letter killeth, but the spirit giveth life.

The reverend gentleman combatted the idea often drawn from these passages that the Gospel itself had no saving grace; that unless it was accompanied and aided by supernatural influences and power, the preaching of the word of God would be useless. This idea, he said, enfeebled all Christian effort wherever it prevailed. It tended also to the aimless reading of the Bible, when the reader was filled with the idea that God was not with him and that therefore the Bible could not be God's own expressions towards him. This supposition had been used to cast a dark pall over the human mind. Instead of going to church in the belief that by listening attentively to the Gospel preaching one might be benefitted, the idea predominates that no lasting benefit can accrue unless some interposition of divine power and influence takes place. Was that the conception of these passages God intended? So it came to pass that people were looking for mysterious influences. But the Bible was all that! It was the exposure of the divine feeling toward man. It was the miracle of communication between the mind of God and the mind of man. In expounding his text, the reverend speaker said that by "the letter that killeth" was undoubtedly meant the ten commandments, which were the condemning law of the Jews. The speaker concluded with an urgent appeal to the unconverted to accept this great love, and become happy in the Lord,

First of the Play.

Miss Maguerite St. John and her London Company appear at the Opera House this (Monday) evening, in "The Life of an Actress," followed by "The Loan of a Lover." Wherever this company has appeared the press have been unanimous in their praises. The Ottawa Citizen says: The plot of "The Life of an Actress" is simple. A young nobleman falls in love with Violet, an actress. A polished villain appears. Violet has a father who dotes upon her. The young lord doubts her love, and in despair volunteers for active service abroad. Things come to a climax. The villain arranges a plot and by means of a note, obtained from Lord Arthur in a drunken moment, carries Violet off to a lonely retreat. Tableau—Violet in the villain's power. Opium. At the critical moment Violet's father bursts through a casement, pistol in hand, and makes villain take water. Lord Arthur arrives in the nick of time denounces villain and folds Violet to his heart. Certain. As Violet the abducted actress, Miss St. John, did complete justice to the author. She carefully avoided extremes and gave a quiet, consistent rendition of her part, fine voice is "sweet and low," her stage presence pleasing and her captivating powers beyond question. The remainder of the company were cultured actors, and scored a great success. In the after part, when the musical comedy, "The Loan of a Lover," was presented, Miss St. John received great applause for her characterization of the role of Gertrude, a country maid with a longing for a lover. A duet between her and Mr. H. A. Rignold (Peter Spyke) was loudly encored.

The Bicycle Contention.

To the Editor of the Examiner:—

DEAR SIR,—I see that I am severely censured in your paper for not riding with Mr. Greatrix on Oct. 6th, and am notified that he claims the race. I told Mr. Greatrix, before I knew of his tactics in importing a light wheel, that the track was not fit to race, and I could do nothing but wait and come to Peterborough when the weather was good. In regard to objecting to the light wheel, I said and still say that it would not be a race on equal terms, and I think any one that would like to see fair play will say the same. Mr. Greatrix cannot claim the race as being the better wheelman or that he won it. He admits he did not do the right thing in a letter to me, in which he says:—"Now, Cooper, if you had told me when here that your father had $200 on you and that that was the reason you did not want the race run, I would have done the square thing with you." Now, for Mr. Greatrix's benefit, I will say that my father did not have one dollar on me; and that would make no difference, as I only want to meet my man on equal terms to decide an unsettled question.

Trusting you will give this letter space in your paper and oblige, I am,

Yours respectfully,

L. B. COOPER.

NOT SETTLED YET.

An Excited Meeting of Those Interested in the Ontario Investment.

LONDON, Oct. 13.—The London Board of Trade rooms were again crowded to the doors this morning and afternoon when the shareholders of the Ontario Investment Association held their second meeting. The shareholders' committee and the directors reported in favor of liquidating.

W. R. Meredith explained that Mr. Sorley and his clients were still obdurate and insisted either on payment or transfer.

Geo. C. Gibbons moved for liquidation, saying that Mr. Sorley and the English capitalists would have to wait a reasonable time for payment.

W. P. R. Street moved for transfer, holding it would be dishonest to realize the profits on moneys obtained by fraud. Mr. Street's motion carried.

Several vacancies on the Board of Directors were filled. Those elected are: Thomas Long, W. J. McIntosh, Allen Pasfitt and J. H. Flack.

The following disclosures were made: Mr. Long of Toronto, who has paid in $40,000, said that in event of following the suggestions of the English bondholders there would not be one cent left for the stockholders out of the assets.

Mr. T. G. Blackstock confirmed the statement made by Mr. Long.

One of the auditors pointed out a list of stockholders who had paid into the association $20,000 in all, and on the strength of those payments have borrowed $239,000.

The vote on the motion for the transfer of the assets was carried on a division of 14,301 for and 10,837 against.

George C. Gibbons said, and Auditor Jewell confirmed the remark, that out of all the votes in favor of transference 10,837 were put in by stockholders who have borrowed more money on their stock than they have paid in.

M. D. Fraser and Thomas Long said they would not submit to the decision of the meeting in the face of so many bogus votes. Others declared they would not submit and several protests were entered against the decision. Bitter personalities were indulged in by several of those present, and it is the general opinion the courts will have to settle the matter yet. The prospect of realising 28 per cent, has faded away, and most, if not all, the stockholders will be glad to accept anything.

REMOVAL.

AN OTTAWA SCANDAL.

A Young Married Woman Said to Have Run Away With a Bank Clerk.

OTTAWA, Oct. 17.—There is great excitement in society circles over the runaway elopement of a young married woman, who is very highly connected and moved in the best society here, with an ex-bank clerk, also well connected and quite a society young man, who has been paying great attention to the lady both before and since her marriage. The lady left here on Saturday, telling some friends whom she met at the depot that she was going to meet her husband; but she did not meet him and has not returned, and it is told that she was seen on Saturday night in a town not far across the border with the ex-bank clerk.

The lady has only been married a short time, is young and attractive and very well known in the city, and her disappearance has caused a great sensation, although her intimacy with the ex-bank clerk has been the cause of some comment. A hope is expressed that the lady, who is somewhat erratic, has only gone on a visit to some friends and will return, and in that hope the names are suppressed for the present.

McGARIGLE'S WHEREABOUTS.

He is Said to be at Jordan, Six Miles from St. Catharines.

ST. CATHARINES, Oct. 17.—William J. McGarigle, the ex-warden of the Cook County, Ill., Hospital, is still in the neighborhood of this city, despite the claims of the detectives that he had sailed for Australia. He has been seen about the streets of St. Catharines very often of late, but appears to be living outside the city. It is believed he is stopping at Jordan, six miles from St. Catharines on the Grand Trunk Road, with a family named Orow, relatives of Fred St. John. The captain of the schooner Blake, who is also here, admits that McGarigle is in this neighborhood. Mrs. McGarigle is with him.

The schooner Blake, on which he escaped from Chicago, still lies at the dock here, not having earned a dollar since her return from Kingston, where her grain cargo, which she had on, was unloaded. She will be seized as soon as she goes into American waters, and as a result her owners are in a quandary as to what to do with her. It is probable she will be given a load for England this fall. She has already made one trip across the ocean.

A FIRE AT RIDGETOWN.

The Inmates of the Grand Central Hotel Have a Narrow Escape.

RIDGETOWN, Oct. 17.—There was a very narrow escape from a frightful holocaust here Sunday morning. About 6 o'clock Simmons, clerk in the Grand Central Hotel, got up and, on coming down stairs, discovered the barber shop in the basement in flames. With great presence of mind he alarmed the guests and other inmates to the number of seventy, who escaped in their night clothes. The smoke in great volumes was pouring out of the doors and upper windows, while the basement was like a roaring furnace. The fire brigade soon got to work, and by hard work kept the fire under control and confined to the basement. The loss is about $2000; fully covered by insurance. The fire was undoubtedly caused by the antics of the proprietor of the barber shop, one Stone, and a companion named Arendorf, who were intoxicated, and, it is supposed, upset a coal oil lamp during a scuffle between them.

FATAL FIRE AT PAISLEY.

A Mysterious Occurrence, in Which a Young Man Loses His Life.

PAISLEY, Oct. 17.—This morning about 3.30 fire was discovered in a dwelling house occupied by Mrs. S. R. Ritchie. She and her youngest son, visiting in Toronto, left the eldest son, about 25 years of age, alone in the house. When first seen the fire was burning in the kitchen, which adjoined the bedroom of the young man. The bedroom window was broken in as speedily as possible and young Ritchie taken out unconscious. The four downs of the town worked for several hours with him, but could not save his life.

ANOTHER ELECTION WRIT.

Sir Hector Langevin Still Ill—The Election of Mr. Barthier, the French Repatriation Agent—The Outfit for the New Printing Bureau.

OTTAWA, Oct. 17.—The writ for Cumberland has been issued, nomination on Nov. 2, polling [illegible] on Nov. 9. An effort is being made to induce Hon. Mr. Pipes, late Attorney-General of the province, to run against him. Sir Charles will leave for Amherst on Thursday.

There was a meeting of council to-day, but it is understood that only routine business was transacted.

Sir Hector Langevin continues to improve in health, but is not yet able to leave his house. It is expected, however, that he will be out in a few days.

The Minister of Justice to-day issued his warrant for the extradition of Chisebure, the Virginia forger, now in Brantford jail.

The Department of Militia and Defence has authorized the formation of a company of infantry at Moncton, N.B.

Lord Lansdowne and staff and several members of his household left yesterday for Long Point, Lake Erie, for a few weeks' duck shooting. Lady Lansdowne remained at Rideau Hall.

The Department of Justice is considering a petition from the electors of Stanstead asking for a vote to repeal the operation of the Scott Act in that county.

Two Indian chiefs of the Chippewa tribe from Manitoulin Island had an interview with Hon. Thos. White to-day with reference to the claims of their tribe to recompense for Indian reserve lands sold to the Government, and also with regard to their fishing rights in the bay, which they claim have been encroached on. The Minister promised that the matter should be looked into.

Mr. Barteau, ex-M.P., the French repatriation agent, has returned from his official trip to Winnipeg. His mission is to look up the different parts of the Dominion available for settlement, with the object of inducing the French Canadian people now settled in the United States to come back to Canada. Mr. Barteau has visited Manitoba, Temiscamingue Lake, St. John County, and up the Gatineau. He now goes to the lower end of Quebec Province. When he has got all the information possible he will place himself in communication with French Canadians in the United States desirous of returning here. His scheme of colonization will also embrace immigration from France.

Col. Chamberlain, Queen's printer, and Mr. Senecal, director of the new printing bureau, have returned from an official trip to the United States, whither they went to inspect various printing establishments. They visited New York, Philadelphia, Washington and Chicago and made provisional arrangements for the purchase of part of the outfit required for the new government printing office.

THE BROCKVILLE ASSIZES.

A Prisoner Sentenced for Larceny Causes a Scene in Court.

BROCKVILLE, Oct. 17.—Mr. Justice O'Connor opened the Leeds and Grenville Assizes at 1 o'clock to-day.

An indictment for murder against Morris for fatally stabbing Doel is before the Grand Jury.

George Hoover was indicted for the larceny of clothing, the property of Mr. Vineborg. He pleaded guilty. Hoover is a hardened offender, having been in prison at least once before, and has been the hero of a successful escape from the custody of the law. Lately he has been living out in a cave in the woods, from which he made predatory excursions on hen roosts, etc.

Judge O'Connor decided to keep him out of mischief for the next seven years by giving him that term in the penitentiary.

Hoover objected. He said he would rather go to hell, and asked the judge to send him there. He went on cursing, blaspheming and using foul language till he was removed. He said he would blow out his brains at once if he had a pistol and told the judge to go to the place that Hoover preferred to Kingston. There has not been such a scene in court for a long time. The civil docket will not be long, it consisting of only five jury cases and three non-jury.

A BIG BLAZE AT PITTSBURG.

A Glass Works Plant, a Row of Tenements and a Livery Stable Burned.

PITTSBURG, Oct. 17.—A large fire broke out in the packing department of Adams & Co.'s glass works, on Carson-street, South Side, shortly before 3 o'clock this afternoon. The flames spread rapidly to all parts of the extensive works, and before the fire engines reached the ground the entire plant was burning. The flames then communicated to a row of dwellings on the opposite side of the street and then to adjoining buildings on both sides, taking in the entire block bounded by Carson, Washington, Eighth and Ninth-streets.

The fire was under control at 4 o'clock. The entire glassworks plant, a row of tenements and a portion of Jackson's livery stables were consumed. A number of other dwellings were damaged. The loss is estimated at $50,000.

A Bank Thief's Punishment.

PHILADELPHIA, Oct. 17.—The United States District Court to-day over-ruled the motion for a new trial in the case of William Herbst, the former president of the First National Bank of Glen Rock, Pa., convicted of embezzling the bank's money, and sentenced him to five years' imprisonment. Jacob S. Herbst, the son, who was a partner in a store at Glen Rock, and who was found guilty of aiding his father in defrauding the bank, was also sentenced to five years' imprisonment.

The Brule Indians Pacified.

WASHINGTON, Oct. 17.—The Commissioner of Indian Affairs to-day received the following telegram from Agent Anderson at the lower Brule Indian Agency, Dakota: "The disturbing Indians were surprised and captured by police and the danger is all over. What promised to be a serious trouble has been nipped in the bud. The survey is going forward, and the majority of Indians want to take allotments."

His Policy Was Too Liberal.

SAN FRANCISCO, Oct. 17.—The steamship Rio de Janeiro, which arrived from China and Japan this morning, brings advices that Count Pinoreya, Minister of Foreign Affairs in the Japanese Cabinet, has resigned. The alleged cause for his retirement is said to be that his policy in the matter of the treaty revision was too liberal.

DEATH OF THE REV. DR. NELLES.

The Honorable Chancellor of Victoria University Passes Away.

COBOURG, Oct. 17.—At 4.30 o'clock this afternoon Rev. Dr. Nelles, Chancellor of Victoria University, died of typhoid fever after only six days' illness. He was conscious to the last. The town and college is in deep mourning over an irreparable loss.

Samuel S. Nelles, D.D., LL.D., for thirty-seven years at the head of the University of Victoria College, was a son of William and Mary Hardy Nelles, and was born at Mount Pleasant, near Brantford, Ont., Oct. 17, 1803. His paternal ancestors were originally from Germany, and were among the early settlers in the Mohawk Valley, N.Y. In 1820 he went to Lewiston Academy, N.Y., where John G. Saxe, the poet, was his tutor.

In June, 1828, Dr. Nelles was one of the first two students matriculated at Victoria College, Cobourg. After spending two years in this institution he finished his undergraduate course at the Wesleyan University, Middletown, Conn., and received the degrees of B.A. in 1832. Returning to Canada Dr. Nelles was appointed to the presidency of Victoria College, and since September, 1850, has held that responsible position. Under his administration Victoria College has greatly prospered. The degree of D.D. was conferred upon him by Queen's University in 1859 and that of LL.D. by Victoria University in 1873.

He was held in high esteem by the educators of the province, and was loved and revered by all who knew him. As a lecturer and preacher on educational subjects he had but few peers in the Dominion.

In July, 1851, he married Miss Mary B. Wood, daughter of the Rev. Dr. Enoch Wood of Toronto. Mrs. Nelles and five children, two sons and three daughters, survived the loss of a husband and father who was uniformly kind and good. Dr. Nelles died on the anniversary of his 64th birthday. The funeral will take place at Cobourg on Wednesday afternoon.

Dr. Nelles' Birthplace.

Dr. Nelles had a warm corner in his heart for the old village of Mount Pleasant, five miles from Brantford, where he was born. It is a straggling street, with old houses, and fine old trees on either side of it, running through a rich and beautiful country, settled by the Nellesses, Bigsars, Hardys, Ellises and Eadies seventy years ago. The Doctor would go a long pace out of his way to see a Mount Pleasant boy, and once found he would sit and talk with him, altogether unmindful of time, of the chronicles and characters of his native place.

A WOMAN'S BRAVERY.

She Rescues Three Children and a Woman From a Burning Building.

QUEBEC, Oct. 17.—A fire broke out at about 10.45 p.m. yesterday in Robert Neil's boarding-house, situated at Lake Edward. The alarm was given by one of the boarders, who had retired and was not asleep. There were about fifteen boarders in the house, besides Neil's family of six. The cause of the fire is supposed to be from a lamp which was placed on the table in the sitting-room for the convenience of the boarders who had not come in. The fire taking so suddenly, there was no chance of escape to those upstairs but to jump from the windows, which are about eighteen feet high. The first man to jump was one of the engine-drivers named A. B. White, who escaped with a dislocated ankle. The balance of the boarders succeeded in escaping with the exception of three, who were burned to a crisp. Those who did escape were badly burnt, some having the hair burned from their heads and faces, and necks badly blistered.

The greatest gallantry displayed was that by Mrs. Neil, who succeeded in taking from the burning house her two children and Mr. Neil's mother, who was upstairs. The following are the names of the parties burnt: T. Landers, aged 55, resides at Norton Mills, Vermont, is married and leaves a family of several small children; William Buchanan, aged about 18, son of Alex. Buchanan, farmer, of Little River; also Geo. Scottos, aged about 20 years. His parents reside in California.

The Largest Telescope in the World.

CLEVELAND, Oct. 15.—The great telescope for the Lick Observatory of California, which was being manufactured in this city, has just been completed and will be shipped in a few days. R. S. Floyd of San Francisco, who is one of the trustees of the Lick fund, Prof. S. Newcomb of Washington, D.C., the eminent astronomer, and Prof. S. W. Burnham of Chicago, are here examining the telescope, which is the largest in the world.

Changes in the French Cabinet.

PARIS, Oct. 17.—M. Spuller, the present Minister of Public Instruction and Worship will succeed M. Mazeau, who recently resigned as Minister of Justice, and M. Fallieres, Minister of the Interior, will assume the portfolio of Public Instruction and Worship. M. Ricard, member of the Chamber of Deputies from the department of the Seine-inferieure, will succeed M. Fallieres.

The Pope Addresses the French Pilgrims.

ROME, Oct. 17.—In addressing the French pilgrims yesterday the Pope dealt with the industrial question, speaking unfavorably of state socialism, but insisting that Governments should make the material interests of the working class of the population their care. At the same time he urged his listeners to turn a deaf ear to revolutionary incitements, nay, yielding to which could only result in bitter deception. The Pope purposely avoided making any allusion to the Roman question so as not to give offence to the Italian Government.

Murder and Suicide.

MIDLAND, Oct. 17.—Lyndon Deshane and his son were to-day buried underneath a large stone, weighing about four tons, which they were attempting to sink. They were both dug out alive, but Mr. Deshane died two hours afterwards. The son still remains under cover. One leg is broken and bruised but otherwise he is not seriously hurt.

COLLAPSE OF A BUILDING.

HALF A DOZEN WORKMEN KILLED AND MANY WOUNDED.

A Four-Story Structure in New York to be Used as a Catholic Schoolhouse Falls In and Buries a Number of Laborers and Others in the Ruins.

NEW YORK, Oct. 17.—A four-story building in the course of erection at 643 East 115th-street, to be used as a schoolhouse, tumbled in this afternoon about 4 o'clock, and a number of mechanics who were at work were buried in the ruins. The building had reached the fourth story. It was intended for a parish school for the parish church of Our Lady of Mount Carmel. The whole front wall fell a few minutes before 4 o'clock. At the time there were over twenty men in the building at work and they were all buried in the ruins. The search was at once commenced, and at 6 o'clock this evening six dead bodies had been taken from the ruins. Four men were taken out seriously wounded and almost suffocated. The supposition is that there are still fourteen men under neath the debris. Most of the fifteen men were engaged in the lower part of the building at the time of the accident. The side walls fell in immediately after the front wall gave way. The workmen were all Italians, and the school house was intended for the education of Italian children.

Two hook and ladder companies and numerous citizens are searching the ruins for the men still unaccounted for. There are no sounds to be heard from the wreck, and it is supposed those buried are all dead.

Five lives were sacrificed and over a dozen persons were more or less severely injured by the falling of the walls. The following were killed: John Dunkin, bricklayer; Henry Rotinlts, blacksmith; P. Gilliebert, laborer; G. Lanna, laborer. Among the injured is A. Kirner, priest in charge of the Church of Our Lady of Mount Carmel.

Robert Young was badly hurt about the body and head; Thomas Eisman, leg and back; Dunn, head and back; Edward Welch, legs and spine, badly; Frank Benace, bricklayer, elbow smashed; Robt. Levy, 14 years, legs and ankles; John A. Conway, painter, cut; Wenzeslaus Wm. Pramond, bricklayer, cut. Ten others were in and above the building at the time of the collapse, but all have been accounted for, some slightly injured, with the exception of James Mullarthy, a bricklayer; a boy named Rogers, 14 years old, who was standing at the entrance of the building at the time; Michael Lanigan, a bricklayer, whose friends had searched for six hours after the accident in vain. John Dunkin, who was killed, leaves a wife and six children in almost destitute circumstances.

REFERRED TO THE WORKHOUSE.

The London Board of Aldermen Reply to the Request of the Unemployed.

LONDON, Oct. 17.—A deputation of unemployed workingmen went to the Mansion House to-day and demanded that they be supplied with work. The Board of Aldermen referred them to the workhouse. When the deputation reported the result of their mission to those who had sent them, the mob became infuriated and marched toward the city.

The mob proceeded without committing any overt act until the Strand was reached when they turned upon the police and attacked them with stones. The police charged upon the crowd and scattered them, capturing a number of banners. The mob then went to Trafalgar-square, where several of the leaders made speeches which had the effect of exciting the crowd. The police again made a charge, and after some resistance succeeded in clearing the square. After a time the mob, which had now gained some reinforcements, attempted to again enter the square, but after a general fight they were prevented from doing so by the police. Several policemen were injured.

Twenty arrests were made during the meeting in Trafalgar-square and many of the contestants were so badly wounded that they had to be sent to the hospital.

THE BEHRING SEA QUESTION.

It Will be One of the Matters the Commission Will Consider.

NEW YORK, Oct. 17.—The Herald's London special, says The Observer, the editor of which, Mr. Dicksy, is close to the confidence of ministers, thus states what is really the Government's view of the Alaska question. Mr. Secretary Bayard may say that the Behring Sea question has no connection with the Canadian fisheries dispute, but he will find it difficult to persuade any reasonable being that it has not. For two years past—indeed at intervals during the last fifty years—the Americans have been working themselves into a bellicose humor because the British North American provinces claim jurisdiction over certain bays which are wider than six miles at the mouth. Yet now we find that they themselves claim jurisdiction over waters in the North Pacific more extensive than the Gulf of St. Lawrence, the North and Baltic all put together.

The State Department at Washington has pointed out that the British Government has never raised the question of the right of the United States to exercise jurisdiction over the waters in Behring Sea. But surely our Foreign Office would have been acting indiscreetly in raising such a question before it was not only claimed, but actually exercised. The last Republican President, Gen. Arthur, suggested in a presidential message, that this question of sealing in Behring Sea should be dealt with by an international commission. This shows that the present exercise of a shadowy claim to exclusive jurisdiction is quite an afterthought on the part of the Washington Government.

The Chatsworth Disaster.

PONTIAC, ILL., Oct. 15.—For the past week the Livingston County Grand Jury has been investigating the case of Timothy Coughlin, who was held responsible by the coroner's jury for the Chatsworth railroad disaster. After hearing all the evidence the charge was ignored, the evidence not being deemed sufficient to find a bill and Timothy was released from jail and went to his family rejoicing.

The Wounded Millionaire.

CHICAGO, Oct. 17.—The condition of Benley Bowers, who was shot by his stepson, is not changed this morning. The physicians have a little hope that he will pull through, but owing to his advanced age and physical weakness from the great loss of blood, any prognosis is attended with much speculation.

Exhibition at Keene.

Annual Show of Otonabee Township Agricultural Society.

A fairly successful exhibition under the auspices of the Otonabee Agricultural Society was held at Keene on Friday. The number of entries was in excess of the last exhibition held. The attendance of visitors was from 800 to 1000, as shown by the gate receipts, $106.

Horses were well represented, as also were cattle, though the number of entries in this class was small. The exhibit of sheep and swine was good. There was a splendid show of grains and a good display of roots, fruits, etc. The ladies did themselves credit by their display of fancy work and home manufactures.

Mr. H. Owens, of Peterborough, was on hand with samples of his Model Force and lift pumps. Mr. C. C. McDonald, also of Peterborough, showing the Chatham fanning mill. Messrs. Wright & Payton, Peterborough, showed samples of their manufacture of pumps. Mr. W. T. Mather showed an open carriage, two buggies, and a "Ferry patent" cart. Mr. J. H. Brown, of Jerseys, had a sleigh showing how Mr. P. G. Walker's sleigh brake works. Mr. J. Thompson, Westwood, showed ploughs and harrows. Mr. J. W. Crosby, of Peterborough, was present with two Uxbridge organs.

A HORSE TRAINER KILLED.

A Brantford Man Sustains Fatal Injuries While Breaking a Colt.

BRANTFORD, Oct. 17.—Michael Cheevers, employed by Humphrey Davis, a horse trainer, was seriously injured on Saturday afternoon by a colt he was training. The animal took fright and ran away, throwing Cheevers out of the rig. He clung to the reins and was dragged some distance and thrown against a fence, rendering him unconscious. Medical aid was summoned, but little could be done for him and he died this evening from his injuries. He leaves a wife and seven children.

In Brief, And To The Point.

Dyspepsia is dreadful. Disordered liver is misery. Indigestion is a foe to good nature. The human digestive apparatus is one of the most complicated and wonderful things in existence. It is easily put out of order.

Greasy food, tough food, sloppy food, bad cookery, mental worry, late hours, irregular habits, and many other things which ought not to be, have made the American people a nation of dyspeptics.

But Green's August Flower has done a wonderful work in reforming this sad business and making the American people so healthy that they can enjoy their meals and be happy.

Remember:—No happiness without health. But Green's August Flower brings health and happiness to the dyspeptic. Ask your druggist for a bottle. Seventy-five cents.

THE BOY HORSE THIEVES.

Chesterfield and Williams Will Be Sentenced at London and Returned to Hamilton.

HAMILTON, Oct. 17.—The two lads Chesterfield and William Bell, who were arrested in London Saturday by County Constable Wetherston for stealing a horse from Wallace Findlay, and quietly in the prisoners' dock at the Police Court this morning. They both look quite respectable in their new clothing and did not appear to realize what a serious charge was laid against them. Although the boys received $20 from the auctioneer for the horse, harness and wagon, all the money they had left was $5. Their mother is a widow, lives on Rae-street, and, from appearances, has very respectable friends. She knew nothing whatever about the boys' escapade until the constable called at her house. The younger one, William, has been living with his uncle in Beverly, for some time. The other one was an errand boy in a dry goods shop. They both pleaded guilty to the charge of stealing the horse, and admitted that the one belonging to James Johnston, and stabled in Conmee's stable. Findlay got the horse from Charles Vesper, who purchased it from James Johnston, the auctioneer. Findlay came to look to Johnston for the money he paid for the horse. The magistrate allowed the Findlay boy to go home with his mother. He remanded Frederick until Tuesday morning.

From a Grateful Mother.

My little child suffered from a severe cold upon the lungs, until she was like a little skeleton before she took Burdock Blood Bitters, after which she became fat and hearty, and was cured of weak lungs, constipation and debility or wasting of flesh, from which two doctors had failed to relieve her. Mrs. Samuel Todd, Sturgeon Bay, Ont. 2w40d

To Avoid Baldness or Grey Hair.

Use Dr. Dorenwend's Great German Hair Magic. It keeps the scalp clean and free from Dandruff, and promotes the growth of the hair. It prevents premature grayness and stops all falling out of the hair. On bald heads, where the roots have not perished, it will invigorate them and force a new growth of hair. Ask for Hair Magic. It is the only reliable. For sale by J. D. Tully and all druggists.

Grand Results.

For several years R. H. Brown, of Kincardine, suffered from dyspepsia, he says he tried several physicians and a host of remedies without relief. His druggist recommended B. B. B., which he declares produced "grand results" for which he gives it his highest recommendation. 2w40d

Be Prepared.

Many of the worst attacks of cholera morbus, cramps, dysentery, and colic comes suddenly in the night, and the most speedy and prompt means must be used to combat their dire effects. Dr. Fowler's Extract of Wild Strawberry is the remedy. Keep it at hand for emergencies. It never fails to cure or relieve. 2w40d

Certain Cure.

A CURE FOR CHOLERA MORBUS.—A positive cure for this dangerous complaint, and for all acute or chronic forms of bowel complaint incident to summer and fall, is found in Dr. Fowler's Extract of Wild Strawberry; to be procured from any druggist. 2w40d

Evangelistic Services.

Mr. Douglass Russell, at one time in town with Mr. Charles Carroll, will hold a meeting in the Gospel Hall, over China Hall, on Thursday evening next. The public are cordially invited.

The Town Drain.

The entire length of drain from the town buildings to the George street sewer has been excavated, and the pipes raised. It has not yet been decided whether the drain will be reconstructed or not. This cannot be accomplished unless the depth of the drain at the town buildings can be decreased, as otherwise there would not be sufficient fall.

Railway Collision.

At an early hour this morning a collision occurred between two freight trains at the junction of the Canadian Pacific and Central Ontario railways in Hastings county. No lives were lost, but a bad wreckage ensued. The early morning express did not pass through town till 10 o'clock this forenoon.

The Association team goes to Norwood tomorrow to play a return match with the high school club of that place.

OBTAIN

A Call for Improvements.

On account of increasing business, Mr. J. J. Sheehy has found it necessary to enlarge and beautify his premises. Workmen are at present engaged in putting in plate glass front and sides, and when completed the appearance of this place of business will compare favourably with any on George street.

EMPLOYMENT

A Burglar Captured.

Constable Mitchell, of Fenelon Falls, was in town yesterday looking for a young man named Swanton, suspected of burglarizing the store of Mr. Mills at the Falls, and carrying away $200 worth of furs. While he was here Constable Adams received a telegram from Lindsay stating that Swanton had been arrested there while trying to dispose of his plunder. Constable Mitchell went up on the 5.15 train for his prisoner.

IN DESIRABLE

Third Party Question.

The first members' meeting of the season in connection with the Young Mens Christian Association will be held Thursday evening, the 20th instant, in the Association Lecture Hall. The Lecture-Literary Committee have arranged for a debate on the following question: "Resolved, that the formation of a third party in Canadian politics would be a benefit to the temperance cause." Affirmative, Bannell Sawyer, J. J. Wright; Negative, S. R. Armstrong, A. E. Scott. Members are requested to remember the date.

LOCATIONS.

Examiner Bindery.

Merchants and business men, now is the time to call at the EXAMINER bindery and leave your orders for journals, day books, ledgers, invoice books, cheque books, and all blank books used in business. Don't wait till the moment you want to use them. All blank books last longer for not being used immediately after being finished.

KEEP AWAY from Kidd's if you don't want boot, for if you see his goods and compare prices you can't help buying.

Mrs Mary Thompson, of Toronto, was afflicted with Tape Worm, 8 feet of which was removed by one bottle of Dr. Low's Worm Syrup. dw

The Martyrs of Scotland.

An Impressionist Address upon the Subject by Rev. Mr. Wilson.

A fair-sized audience assembled in the school room of St. Paul's Church Monday evening, in response to the announcement that Rev. Mr. Wilson was to deliver an address upon "The Martyrs of Scotland, and the principles for which they suffered."

Rev. Messrs. Torrance and Bell were present and assisted in the opening service.

A theological newspaper report cannot do justice to Rev. Mr. Wilson's lecture, as it was composed largely of rhetorical eulogies of the personal traits of character of the great martyrs and their pure and primitive doctrines.

The lecture throughout was most interesting, and secured the rapt attention of the audience.

At the close a vote of thanks was moved to Rev. Mr. Wilson by Mr. Peter Hamilton which was seconded by Mr. Cameron and carried unanimously.

The pronunciation of the benediction by Rev. A. Bell terminated the proceedings. A handsome collection was taken up before the close of the meeting.

The Thrilling Story Ended.

The thrilling serial story which has been continued in the columns of the EXAMINER for the past few weeks is ended, and now the prancing steed, the thorough-bred bull, the muchly stitched bed-spread, the plethoric pumpkin, the dropsical squash, the tumid potato and all the complicated et cetera that go to the composition of the fall show, is laid on the shelf for another year. The exhibitions generally have been fairly successful, but nothing like the success that has followed the great sale of fall and winter clothing at the store of the wonderful cheap man, gough. Just marvel at the figures:—an overcoat to fit any sized man from $3 up to $18; a man's suit from $2.75 up to $18; a good, heavy guernsey shirt or drawers for 25c; a splendid all wool shirt or drawers for 45c; five pairs men's all wool home-made socks for $1; a good cardigan jacket for 75c. Remember these goods are many of them offered at less than the cost of manufacture, a $10,000 stock having been bought for 61½c. on the dollar. This is how the prices can be put down so low. The stock is as good as gold. The original buyer could not pay for them, his creditors swooped down upon him and gough swooped down upon the goods and now offers them at almost gift prices.

Booming.

The Lindsay Warder says:—"We learn that the managers for Eastern Ontario of the Manufacturers' Life Insurance Company have written up over half a million dollars worth of business since the company commenced writing risks a little over two months ago. The total amount done by the company in the Dominion during that period reaches the magnificent sum of two million dollars. In this connection we are pleased to learn that Mr. Gallon, competing for a prize in gold offered for the largest business done in September, has captured the prize. The advertisement of this young and vigorous company appears in another column, to which we direct attention. We understand that several of our prominent citizens have subscribed for stock therein." Messrs. Wilson & Morrison are the managers above referred to. 3d93-1w42

"Terrible Fire in Canada."

"TOWN IN TORONTO THREATENED WITH DESTRUCTION."

Such is the heading with which the Glasgow Herald of Sept. 24th conveys to its readers the news of the recent Gravenhurst fire. If the publishers of so important a paper in a city having such extensive commercial relations with Canada as Glasgow has, display such ignorance with regard to Canada, what can be expected from the British public generally. No wonder our interests suffer when left to their hands. The above displays about as much knowledge of Canada as the Barnardo Home boy who, when asked what he expected to find Canada like, said he thought it "would be a kind of a palace."

Nearly a Collision.

A lady who was nearly run into by a hand car when driving over the railway crossing on McDonnell street, last evening, complains of the danger arising from the use of these cars under such circumstances. She looked both ways as she approached the crossing but in the darkness saw nothing until the shout of the men warned her of the proximity of the car, the man in charge of which scarcely slackened speed. She makes the appropriate suggestion, that either means should be taken by sight and sound to give ample warning of the approach of such cars or that they should be compelled to give way to ordinary traffic.

The Opera House.

Miss Marguerite St. John and her English company occupied the boards at the Opera House last night, presenting "Violet, the Life of an Actress," by Dion Boucicault, to a good house with but indifferent success. Miss St. John was fairly satisfactory herself, but the remainder of the company were hardly up to expectations. The after-play, "The Loan of a Lover", seemed to afford Miss St. John more scope for her abilities, and proved more acceptable to the audience. The company plays in Port Hope to-night.

Musical Commanders.

The new leaders of the Salvation Army here are musicians, and the local corps can boast of quite a brass band—first and second cornet, trombone, drums, etc. Last night the cornets were replaced by violins, and when the drum was silent (which was seldom) the music produced was really good, the stringed instruments lending a softening charm to the singing of the soldiers.

Canton Notes.

The Canton meets for drill to-morrow evening.

The swords and trimmings for the uniforms are expected to-day, as they were shipped from Windsor on Monday. The remainder of the paraphernalia will be forwarded next week.

Rambling Rhymes.

Addressed to Mr. Peter Hamilton, implement manufacturer; inspired upon seeing a large umbrella placed upon his new sulky plow, said to be put upon his reaping machines:—

Well, Peter, what next? that's a question
That startles your most earnest attention.
For the umbrella's weather and watering
Try your next labor-saving invention.

Most [illegible] which you patent—
If [illegible] and the hammer
But [illegible] and insurers
And then call them to an quite instanter.

A smart boy he can now run the farm,
If handy can handle the binder, sir.
Your machinery, and horses, do all
From the sowing to binding in twine, sir.

The old joint snathe scythe is all rust,
As [illegible] in the shed by the wall, sir.
On your Hummingbird mower the driver
Sits and mows as he eats the grass fall, sir.

The hand rake it is almost neglected,
It has scarcely [illegible] hand, sir,
For your [illegible] on sweeping
The hay into winrows instead, sir.

With the grain cradle one swath around,
Then it, into the fence row, we poke, sir,
When here goes your binding machine
Cuts, binds it and lays it in shock, sir.

You will next have to stretch a'l your brains,
And invent if you only know how, sir,
A wire track through the air, or balloons
That will drop it right into the mow, sir.

The last great invention you made
For machines and your plow was a charmer,
Your adjustible large umbrella,
A protection at work for the farmer.

At the Fall Exhibition last week
Your agent Squire Dick looked a swell, sir,
As he sat on your nice sulky plough
Like a lord, under that umbrell', sir.

You will next have a neat, handy table,
Also room for a small stove allowing,
There the farmer his dinner may cook,
And eat at his leisure while plowing.

Both the sickly and lazy will smile,
Not of heat nor wet weather complain, sir—
They may mow, reap or plough under cover,
And laugh at the sun or the rain, sir.

If we just had our horses well trained
To grass, grain and furrow straight keep, sir,
They would cut all and plough all the farm,
While we were laid snugly asleep, sir.

Police Court.

TUESDAY, Oct. 18.

George Gray was charged by P.C. Pidgeon with having been drunk and disorderly last night. He was fined $3 and costs.

Messrs. Linton, Cyrille Squires and Wm. Whelan pleaded guilty to charges of first violations of the Scott Act and were fined $50 and costs. John Boyd, charged with a second offence, pleaded not guilty. Several witnesses were examined and evidence of a convicting nature elicited. The defendant was fined $100 and costs. The defendants in all of these cases paid "spot cash." Isaac Meron, who had been summoned to appear to answer a similar complaint, did not turn up. A warrant for his arrest was at once placed in the hands of the police.

AN ASTRONOMER'S FIND.

A New Planetoid Discovered Relatively Near the Earth.

UTICA, N.Y., Oct. 13.—The Utica Herald will publish to-morrow the following letter from Dr. C. H. F. Peters, of Litchfield Observatory, Hamilton College: "A new planetoid discovered here last Saturday was observed again Wednesday evening in right ascension one hour, fourteen minutes fourteen seconds, and north declination twelve degrees, five minutes, forty-four seconds. Hence its daily motion from the three days' interval is concluded to be fifteen about in right ascension with seven minutes towards the north. This strong apparent motion together with the great brightness, about the tenth magnitude, seems to indicate that the planet is relatively near to the earth. Its number in the asteroid group will be 270."

A SERIOUS MATTER.

A Young Man at Hagersville With Counterfeit Dies in His Possession.

HAMILTON, Oct. 13.—A young man who gives the name of Richard Robertson, and claims to hold an agency from James Laut for selling teas, spices, etc., was brought before the local Magistrate at Hagersville on Tuesday, charged with the double offence of having in his possession moulds for counterfeiting American silver, and also for being accessory to the theft of $47 from the hotel at which he was stopping. After hearing the preliminary evidence the prisoner was committed to the County Jail for trial. The evidence did not establish anything about any use which had been made of the moulds. From circumstances things look suspicious, and no one here would be much surprised if further evidence implicated others beside the prisoner.

Commercial Union Approved of.

BRAMPTON, Oct. 13.—Erastus Wiman spoke here to-day on commercial union. The town hall was filled with a good representative gathering of the county. Mr. Richard Hewson, a farmer of Chinguacousy, was called to the chair. Besides Mr. Wiman, Mr. E. Chisholm, M.P.P., Hon. Wm. Macdougall and W. A. McCulla, M.P., made short speeches. Mr. Wiman was attentively listened to by his hearers. The following resolution was carried unanimously. Whereas this meeting, largely composed of the farmers of the County of Peel, have listened with great interest to the addresses of Mr. Wiman and Mr. Macdougall on the question of commercial union, or unrestricted reciprocity with the United States, and are convinced it would be advantageous to the people of Canada; therefore, be it resolved, that this meeting commends to the people of this country the favorable consideration of this important question.

The Canadian Packers' Association.

HAMILTON, Oct. 13.—A meeting of the association formed for the mutual benefit of those interested in the canning business, called the Canadian Packers' Association, was held here to-day. F. M. Nairn, M.P.P. of Aylmer, was elected President, and A. E. Carpenter of Hamilton Vice-President. The principle matter of discussion was the failure, to a large extent, of the tomato crop, owing to the great drouth and the later bad weather. This has occasioned a scarcity of the article for canning purposes, and though various schemes were suggested the fact of an almost immediate advance in price was conceded on all hands. Other matters of interest to the association were discussed at length.

Comparison is courted. No other work has the BRILLIANCY and FINISH.

WHY?

Because experience and close study has developed talent in Chemistry, Lighting, and Posing, in days when such learning was required imperatively in a successful photography. Mr. Sproule was practicing the business and today it places his work ahead of competitors. Because only the best materials are used. No other establishment in Canada is using throughout the same class of materials. His works with no cheap instruments. His Studio is lighted and furnished the best, and all combined to give the subject ease and confidence.

His prices are not higher than competitors. He employs no person or persons to travel through the Country to puff up his business or work. It don't require such. dw

ANOTHER CHOLERA SHIP.

Four Cases Said to Have Developed on a Vessel at New York Quarantine.

NEW YORK, Oct. 18.—The French steamship Britannia, which arrived here on Oct. 13 from Marseilles and Naples, and held by the health officer at upper quarantine for observation, was this morning sent down to lower quarantine, four cases of cholera having been found aboard of her. The Britannia is a sister ship to the Alesia, which brought cholera here some weeks ago.

There are 400 steerage passengers on board the steamer. It is said she is in a filthy condition. When she was at quarantine last evening there were boats all around her, and conversation was passing between their occupants and the people on board.

The steamer Independent arrived on Saturday last from Mediterranean ports, but was released from quarantine yesterday. It is now an interesting question whether there may not have been seeds of the contagion on board the Independent also.

Dr. Smith, the Health Officer, in reply to an enquiry as to why the steamship Britannia was sent to the lower bay, said if the sickness on board was cholera, answered as follows: "The cases of sickness that have occurred on the Britannia have led to her detention for observations. I sent her to the lower bay for better isolation from persons who wished to communicate with friends on board. The boat men who earn a living about the upper Quarantine Station say that four cases of cholera have developed aboard the Britannia. They hint that Dr. Smith is trying to keep the facts from the press and public.

DISORDERS IN LONDON.

The Police Kept Busy Suppressing the Frequenters of Trafalgar Square.

LONDON, Oct. 18.—The disturbances created by the unemployed persons who frequent Trafalgar Square still continue. Six more arrests were made to-day. The police are preventing any demonstration. A number of isolated fights occurred to-day. Several of the rioters who were arrested yesterday have been imprisoned.

A number of unemployed workingmen also met in Hyde Park for the purpose of making a demonstration. A squad of mounted police rode among the crowd and a collision occurred. The mob after a serious conflict drove the police back.

The police, fearing that the mob would pillage the shops in the vicinity of Hyde Park, locked the gates of the park on them. This action infuriated the crowd and a sharp conflict occurred. In their efforts to get out of the park many of the crowd were thrown down and trampled upon. Three arrests were made. The police finally permitted the crowd to make their egress through the Marble Arch.

THE LYNCHERS' DEADLY WORK.

Only One of the Roane County, W. Va., Murderers Remains to be Disposed Of.

CHARLESTON, W. Va., Oct. 18.—News was brought here to-day saying that Dan Cunningham, the Eureka detective, who stands charged with having been the instigator of the robbery of the Rev. Mr. Ryan and others in Roane and Jackson Counties, was caught yesterday and lynched last night. It is certain that there were only seven engaged in the murder and robbery of Mr. Ryan. Of this number the Vigilants have disposed of Owen, George Duff, jr., Bob Duff and Drake. The two Duffs, Owen and Drake confessed and said that Cunningham and his nephew were the two not caught. The nephew now alone remains.

A Shameless Fiends Not Guilty.

WINDSOR, Ont., Oct. 18.—At the Sandwich Assizes yesterday Thomas Heaton, the bigamist, was arraigned and pleaded not guilty. His counsel asked to have the case postponed until the Spring Assizes because of the absence of two material witnesses and the court so ordered.

PREPARING FOR THE FRAY

HON. MR. FOSTER ALSO TO ASSIST SIR CHARLES TUPPER.

An Indian Claim in Quebec to be Settled by a Committee—The Hudson Bay Railway —Chinamen Coming Through Canada in Bond.

OTTAWA, Oct. 18.—The investigation to be held by Judge Burbidge, Hon. W. W. Lynch and Mr. Dingman, Inspector of Indian Agencies, into the trouble between the settlers in Dundee township, Huntington County, P.Q., and the Iroquois Indians, who claim possession of the lands as part of their reserve, will be proceeded with Nov. 8. The investigation will be held in the county, but it is not yet decided whether it will be at Dundee or at Huntington village.

Sir Charles Tupper is busily engaged in preparing for the work of the Fisheries Commission. He held a long interview with Sir John to-day and also with Hon. Mr. Foster. It is somewhat premature to announce that the latter gentleman will accompany Sir Charles to Washington. He will probably remain here, but may proceed to Washington after the commission has commenced its labors and it is decided on precisely what lines the investigation is to proceed.

Mr. Hugh Sutherland, President of the Hudson Bay Railway, is in the city on business with the Government. Forty miles of the road has been built and Mr. Sutherland says that ten additional miles will be completed this fall.

An attempt is being made to organize here "The League of the Rose," which it is intended shall be somewhat similar to the Primrose League in England.

Mr. Charles Drinkwater, Secretary-Treasurer of the Canadian Pacific Railway, was in the city to-day and had an interview with Mr. Palmeiro, Assistant Commissioner of Customs, with reference to the Chinese question. The company are carrying over their line a number of Chinese immigrants from Hong Kong destined for New York, and an amendment to the Chinese Act last session makes provision for allowing the Celestials to pass through our territory in bond from one foreign port to another. Mr. Drinkwater desired to familiarize himself with the details of the department machinery for the enforcement of the act, so as to prevent any violation of the conditions imposed by Parliament.

Mr. M. J. Griffin, Librarian of Parliament, is endeavoring to change the present system of catalogueing the books in the library from the ledger to what is known as the card or American system, which has been found to be more convenient.

The Marine Department has been notified that the lightship at Isle Traverse, sixty miles below Quebec, lies in thirty feet of water, having been cast by the inward bound ship Leyd. Mr. Smith, Deputy Minister, has given orders to have the boat raised. In the meantime the steamer Druid will be placed on the station.

Under British Protection.

LONDON, Oct. 18.—It is officially announced that the Niger district in West Africa, including the coast line between Lagos and the western bank of the Rio Del Rey and the Niger Company's land, are under British protection.

A SENSATION AT OTTAWA.

A FAST BANK CLERK ELOPES WITH HIS FRIEND'S WIFE.

The Woman in the Case is Mrs. Middleton, Wife of a Nephew of the General, and the Kind Man is Fenwick Williams Hamilton, Late of the Montreal Bank.

OTTAWA, Oct. 18.—The rumor telegraphed last night of an elopement in high life turns out to be only too true, and there can be now no doubt but that the young lady referred to has left her husband and friends and sought "fresh fields and pastures new" in company with her lover. The parties implicated are Mrs. Middleton, wife of Mr. Wm. Middleton, who is a nephew of Gen. Sir Frederick Middleton and a daughter of Mr. F. Wise, Superintendent of the Rideau Canal, and Mr. Fenwick Williams Hamilton, a godson and namesake of the late Gen. Sir Fenwick Williams of Kars.

Young Hamilton, who is well connected in Montreal, was employed in the Bank of Montreal in that city, but getting into a scrape there about a girl some two years ago, was transferred to the Ottawa branch of the bank, where he remained until about three months ago. He is said to have become acquainted with Miss Wise during her school days in Montreal and renewed the acquaintance on his arrival here, and the intimacy was continued after the lady's marriage to Mr. Middleton last fall. Indeed the intimacy between the two was so great as to attract general attention and remark from almost everyone acquainted with them except the husband, who, until quite recently, was on the most friendly terms with Hamilton, and the three were constantly together. This summer they camped out together for some time, and the "terms of intimacy between Hamilton and the lady were so great that her name was dropped from the lawn tennis club of which she was a member.

Hamilton, although only getting a small salary in the bank, lived at a very expensive rate, went a great deal into the best society here and ran considerably into debt; his liabilities being placed by some of his friends at over $1,000, one tailor in Montreal being a creditor to the extent of $200, and several other tradesmen in Ottawa and Montreal being also creditors to large amounts. A tobacconist here, from whom he obtained the choice Havanas he was wont to smoke, had a bill for over $30 against him, for which he lately obtained judgment. Hamilton's habits were generally fast and his dissipation grew so great that it is said it was intimated to him that his services in the bank could be dispensed with.

About this time he appears to have conceived the idea of swindling Middleton out of some of his money as well as the affections of his wife and made a proposal to him that they should go into business in Montreal as stock brokers, Hamilton drawing glowing pictures of the money which they would make if he, with the great business experience he had acquired in the Bank of Montreal, could obtain a seat at the Stock Exchange. Middleton, who has some means and who at that time trusted Hamilton, fell in with the idea and arrangements were made for the partnership. Hamilton left the bank and he and Middleton, accompanied by Mrs. Middleton, went to Montreal for a visit. There some difficulty appears to have arisen and Middleton refused to carry out the arrangement. Hamilton then had a notice served on him in an action for $20,000 for breach of contract, alleging that he had resigned his position in the Bank of Montreal on the strength of the agreement with Middleton, and had thereby suffered great pecuniary loss.

After some negotiation Middleton, to avoid the suit, agreed to compromise the matter and paid over $12,000. This money Hamilton deposited to his credit in the Bank of Montreal about two weeks ago, and there is a rumor that he paid his debts with part of it, but this lacks confirmation. He was boarding on Albert-street here and appears to have commenced preparations for his contemplated flight with his friend's wife, as he brought two trunks to his lodgings, one of which was partly filled with female clothing. He made several trips to Montreal, and was there on Friday night, when he informed some Ottawa friends that he intended taking a trip to Cuba for the winter.

On Saturday Mrs. Middleton left the house of her parents, where she and her husband lived, and took the 1.40 train on the Canada Atlantic for St. Albans. At the depot she met some lady friends and said she was going as far as Coteau Landing to meet her husband, who was on his way up from Montreal, but this was only a ruse, as her husband was in Ottawa on Saturday. It is supposed that Hamilton met her at Coteau and the two proceeded together to the States and are said to have been seen together in an hotel in St. Albans, Vt., on Saturday night.

There is rumor that Mrs. Middleton took $5,000 with her, but there is considerable doubt about this. Mrs. Middleton is about 25 years of age, a petite blonde of prepossessing appearance and pleasing manners and had a large circle of friends and acquaintances, many of whom are greatly shocked at the scandal, but others of the "I told you so" class shake their wise heads and say that they knew all along that the intimacy between her and Hamilton must lead to an exposure sometime.

No definite information has been obtained as to what direction the pair took from St. Albans. One rumor is that they have gone to Cuba, while another is to the effect that they will go no farther than New York. Capt. Wise, A.D.C. to Gen. Middleton, and a brother of Mrs. Middleton's, is said to have obtained some clue to their whereabouts, and left this afternoon by the Canada Atlantic, but his destination is unknown.

Great sympathy is felt for Gen. Middleton and Mr. Wise, who is an old and highly esteemed citizen, and for the family of the lady generally; but great surprise is also expressed at the apparent blindness of those most interested to the state of things which has existed between the erring couple for some time past.

SULLIVAN'S INDIGNATION.

THE LORD MAYOR OF DUBLIN'S ANSWER TO CHAMBERLAIN.

The Irish Privy Council Considering the Rigorous Suppression of the National League — A Letter From Archbishop Walsh to the Landlords.

DUBLIN, Oct. 18.—At a meeting of the corporation yesterday the Lord Mayor criticised Mr. Chamberlain's attack upon them as a display of malice, ignorance and untruthfulness. The course pursued by Chamberlain, he said, was part of a Unionist scheme to bind Orangemen, and heap scorn and insult on three-fourths of the Irish race, and the object of the plot was to indispose the sentiment of the people. "Mr. Chamberlain," continued the Lord Mayor, "would have done better with the Tory Countess, whose hand he has been led to believe he will obtain as the price of his political apostasy."

GLADSTONE AT NOTTINGHAM.

At the Opening of the Liberal Congress He Assails the Government.

LONDON, Oct. 18.—The congress of the Liberal Federation opened at Nottingham to-day. Mr. Gladstone made a speech in which he reviewed the situation in Ireland and denounced the Government for the passage in which it was dealing with the Irish question. His rising to speak was the signal for loud and prolonged cheering.

Mr. Gladstone said he would tell them plainly that he was not there to say smooth things. It was a deplorable fact that the settling of the great Irish questions which might have been settled last year had there been a disposition to discuss it in a spirit of candor and fairness, had been again set aside and was still pending, its difficulties aggravated and its prospects uncertain. He had always told the Conservatives that the choice lay between coercion and Home Rule. The Conservatives had told them that Home Rule was an idle dream, but events had shown them that it was not. A coercion bill had been passed against combinations, against the liberty of the press, the rights of public meeting and not against crime. The Irish spectacle was now a grave and anxious one, and if it continued it would drive Ireland into such a state that the difficulties of the Government would be some almost insurmountable.

He denied that he proposed Home Rule simply to advance liberal principles. It was doubtful, he said, whether the Tories accepted Home Rule in its broad principles in the same way that they accepted his proposals in 1872 and in 1883. He wanted a subordinate parliament in Dublin subject to Imperial control. There was nothing to prevent a reasonable man from agreeing with the Liberals' Irish proposals without reference to this or that particular detail. The immediate necessity of the day was to stop the way in which Ireland was now governed. If the Government persisted in their rash and foolish policy it would naturally lead to political demoralization and render it in the highest degree difficult even for Englishmen and a Parliament truly representing their best and most enlightened conclusion to deal beneficially with Ireland. Only one word could describe the present system of Irish government. It was "Imperience." The events of the last few weeks in Ireland would not have been tolerated in England.

He condemned the action of the authorities at Mitchellstown. He admitted having used the words, "Remember Mitchellstown." The affair must and would be remembered. The country had an account to settle with the Government in connection with the affair. The Mitchellstown authorities were undoubtedly wrong, yet Mr. Balfour in behalf of the Government unequivocally assumed the responsibility for their acts. The worst feature of the Mitchellstown incident was that the action of the authorities did become a model and pattern for the whole of Ireland. The whole system of Government in Ireland required to be thoroughly reformed, root and branch. There had been a breakdown in the Government in all essentials. A radical change was wanted, and such a change as enfranchised people alone could accomplish. [Cheers.]

Meeting of the Irish Privy Council.

DUBLIN, Oct. 18.—A meeting of the Privy Council was held to-day for the purpose of considering measures for the suppression of the National League. The Marquis of Londonderry, Lord Lieutenant of Ireland, presided. No definite course of procedure was decided upon, and probably none will be until the next meeting of the Cabinet.

Advice Worthy of Consideration.

LONDON, Oct. 18.—Wm. S. Caine, the chief whip of the Liberal Unionist party in Parliament, writes from Manitoba suggesting that the Government, instead of embarking in a dangerous policy of land purchase, help the distressed Irish families to emigrate to that magnificent country.

A Letter From Archbishop Walsh.

DUBLIN, Oct. 18.—Archbishop Walsh has written a letter to the Landlords' Committee concerning his proposal for a conference between the landlords and tenants on the Irish land question. The Archbishop says the committee has only taken action when its own deliberate and persistent silence and the open repudiation of the proposal by some of the more outspoken of those they represent have virtually extinguished all hope of a realization of the scheme. If the suggestion made in his letter written in August is considered now, however, he is not altogether without hope that the conference will succeed in its object.

FIRE AT NAPANEE.

Three Stores in the Rennie Block Burned Out—Losses and Insurance.

NAPANEE, Oct. 18.—The boot and shoe store of Rose & Co. in the Rennie Block was discovered to be on fire about 11.45 to-night. The fire was confined to the stores of Rose & Co., boots and shoes; Lahey, McKenly & Co., dry goods, and J. H. Gallagher, book store.

Rose & Co. occupied the corner store; loss $5000, reported insured. Lahey, McKenly & Co. loss about $15,000; insured for about $10,000. J. H. Gallagher's loss is about $2000; insured for $1000.

The Express printing office came next and was badly damaged, although not consumed. The building belongs to John Rennie, Toronto, who is fully insured.

THE LATE REV. DR. NELLES.

The lamented death of Rev. Dr. Nelles, president of Victoria University, is a severe loss to the cause of Methodist higher education, especially at a time when the pending changes in the collegiate arrangements need the counsel and active assistance of every loyal minister of that body, and especially of him who took so leading and chief a part in the preparation and successful prosecution of the scheme of College Federation up to its present status of success. He has been the staunch friend of higher education, especially as represented by the efforts of the Methodist church. For the nearly forty years during which he has been the head of Victoria University, he has been singularly zealous and efficient in his efforts for its advancement. His unusual natural abilities and unusual culture have been devoted to the work with full heart, and the high position his University holds to-day, the splendid record of results it can show are very largely due to the personal influence and personal exertions of Rev. Dr. Dr. Nelles—for the work that was beyond the capacity of his individual efforts, he supplied a large share of the stimulus; when not the actual agent he was largely the exciting cause. The death of Dr. Nelles is a great loss to the Methodist Church, but except in his personal relations thereto, not an irreparable one—among the many men of ability, energy and devotion embraced within its pale, a worthy successor will be found in the good time of Divine Providence.

THE "STRETCHER" IN HARNESS.

It is definitely settled that Sir Charles Tupper is to be the Canadian commissioner at the forthcoming convention to settle the fishery dispute, and his assistants will be Hon. Mr. Foster, Minister of Marine and Fisheries, and Hon. Mr. Thompson, Minister of Justice. In some respects these persons are well qualified for the position to which they are appointed. All three were born and bred, physically and politically, down by the "sounding sea". All three are well versed on the subject in hand, for all three have more or less "fishy" political reputations. Sir Charles Tupper, in addition to the liberal supply of brass with which Dame Nature endowed him, has had that essential quality developed by contact with big-wigs in London. He is a man of great energy and decision of character, and if he makes as big a "haul" on behalf of Canada as he is credited with having made for himself, Canada will have no reason to repent of her share in the outcome of the convention. Sir Charles will, no doubt, stand up manfully for Canada, for Canada is too profitable a milker to be allowed to come to harm. The noble knight's patriotism cannot be doubted—he has made so much out of the country that he has a personal interest in it. Sir Charles may be counted on to oppose unrestricted reciprocity tooth and nail—unrestricted receptivity is his strong point. He should make a good commissioner. He has undoubted ability, great force of character, even if his political character is not of the best; he is thoroughly well informed (or should be from the opportunities he has enjoyed) upon the subjects involved in the fishery dispute, and it is safe to say that, selecting from the Dominion cabinet as now constituted, no better man could have been chosen.

The Buffalo Times says:—"From a reply sent to Philadelphia by the authorities of Montreal, P.Q., as to how they disposed of their garbage, we glean the following, from which it appears that a crematory can be built at a cost of $4 for each furnace, exclusive of the cost of the shed covering. It can be worked by four men. In twelve hours each furnace will cremate 60 to 70 cubic yards or carloads of garbage. There is no smell, and the crematory can be erected within the city limits without detriment to public health. It will require two and a half tons of the cheapest coal, screened, for each twelve hours." It would not be a bad idea for the corporate authorities of Peterborough to turn their attention to something of this kind. Especially is this necessary in the absence of a system of sewers; some arrangement must be made for disposing of the garbage and refuse which accumulates rapidly in a thickly-populated town. As at present, the person will underlying the town receives and readily absorbs the liquid portions, thus polluting the source of water supply from wells. That this pollution results is shown by the fact that the wells along George street in the most thickly-built part of that street are unfit for use. Soil so thoroughly saturated with organic matter must, in addition to polluting wells, give off noxious exhalations, favoring the production of zymotic diseases. It is high time that some practical steps were taken to deal with the matters tending to affect the sanitary condition of the town.

Our Yankee neighbors are continually in the throes of political travail, and almost every day chronicles the birth of some statesman and office holder. The nearest State to us, New York, holds its state elections on the 8th of November. The campaign is being carried on with great vigor. The electorate is greatly divided. Besides the two great parties, Republican and Democrat, there are two labor parties, a prohibitionist party, a greenback party and a party for the promotion of individual liberty in the matter of liquor selling and liquor drinking; so that the burning political question is not in regard to the formation of a third party as in Canada, but the formation of a ninth party. Both the great parties appear to be confident of victory, but impartial, cool-headed men find it difficult to form an opinion as to which stands the best chance of winning. The conclusion that this class seems to have come to is that the contest will be close and that neither party will have much to boast of except a bare victory—but that implies a good deal. The distribution of office depends upon the victorious party—for, "to the victors belong the spoils."

The increase in fire losses in the United States and Canada for the first nine months of this year as compared with the same period of last year is remarkably large, being almost $10,000,000. The year 1887 has so far been an extraordinary one in other respects as well, notably in regard to the great number of railway accidents involving serious loss of life and property. The list of losses and casualities of all sorts to be made on the first of January next will be a formidable one.

A Nova Scotia "revising barrister" (under the Franchise Act), Judge De Wolfe, has married a Salvation Army captainess. He evidently had an eye to business. In addition to making Conservative votes with the facility the act admits of, he will, with the help of his wife, be able "to fire a volley" of them.

The following will interest many of our readers who spend the winter months in the lumbering camps:—An old Mount Washington guide says that he never carries a compass in the woods. There are three sure ways, says he, that I have for finding the points of the compass. You will notice that three-fourths of the moss on trees grows on the north side; the heaviest limbs on the spruce trees are always on the south side; and thirdly, the topmost twig of every uninjured hemlock tips to the east.

Reasons why you should purchase Fluid Lightning in preference to all other remedies are:—Rapid result—cures instantly. It is easily applied—no trouble—no lost time. It does not require constant use—one application is effectual. One bottle will remove more pain than any other remedy in existence. Try it for Neuralgia, Toothache, Headache, Rheumatism. Sold at 25c. a bottle by John McKee, Druggist. eodw35

STRUCK BY A TIDAL WAVE.

The Story of the Abandonment of the American Bark Oasis.

NEW YORK, Oct. 18.—Howard C. Minnett of Canton, Ill., and W. F. Hohenschild of San Francisco, two young shipwrecked seamen, arrived this afternoon on the steamer Queen. They shipped from Philadelphia Aug. 18 on the bark Oasis, loaded with 46,000 cases of oil bound for Hiogo, Japan. William Shadbourne of Freeport, Me., was the captain. There were nineteen souls aboard, including the captain's wife. On Sept. 2 a tidal wave struck the vessel 500 miles east of Newfoundland, their boats were carried away and four seamen were washed overboard. Two water casks, in being swept overboard, crushed three men, one of whom died of his injuries. The mate, it is believed, is in hospital now. No vessel drifted for thirty hours, when a Norwegian steamer bound for Lisbon, Portugal, took them aboard, and the Oasis was abandoned. They were sent to Liverpool by the American Consul.

THE BOODLERS OF FRANCE.

The Expose Does Not Appear to Affect Boulanger's Popularity.

PARIS, Oct. 18.—Gen. Boulanger has received thousands of missives from all parts of France expressing sympathy for him. A demonstration in his favor was made in Nimes on the occasion of the opening of the college there by M. Spuller, Minister of Public Instruction. The crowd shouted "Vive Boulanger!" and the bands played Boulanger airs.

The Matin states that President Grevy refuses to sign the order dismissing Gen. Caffarel from the army for dishonorable conduct.

The Gaulois says the judicial enquiry proved that Gen. Caffarel was not guilty of the charge of trafficking in decorations.

The Petit Journal declares that President Grevy immediately informed in the Wilson affair. It is monstrous, the paper says, that Wilson should be allowed to take advantage of his privileged position as son-in-law of the President to defy the law and to transform the Elysee into a doubtful harem.

In Brief, And To The Point.

Dyspepsia is dreadful. Disordered liver is misery. Indigestion is a foe to good nature.

The human digestive apparatus is one of the most complicated and wonderful things in existence. It is easily put out of order.

Greasy food, tough food, sloppy food, bad cookery, mental worry, late hours, irregular habits, and many other things which ought not to be, have made the American people a nation of dyspeptics.

But Green's August Flower has done a wonderful work in reforming this sad business and making the American people so healthy that they can enjoy their meals and be happy.

Remember:—No happiness without health. But Green's August Flower brings health and happiness to the dyspeptic. Ask your druggist for a bottle. Seventy-five cents.

Children Cry for Pitcher's Castoria.

From a Grateful Mother.

My little child suffered from a severe attack of [illegible] until she was [illegible] a half skeleton before she took Burdock Blood Bitters, after which she became fat and hearty, and was cured of weak lungs, constipation and debility or wasting of flesh, from which two doctors had failed to relieve her. Mrs. Samuel Todd, Sturgeon Bay, Ont. 2w40d

To Avoid Baldness or Gray Hair.

Use Dr. Dorenwend's Great German Hair Magic. It keeps the scalp clean and free from Dandruff, and promotes the growth of the hair. It generates premature grayness and stops all falling out of the hair. On bald heads, where the roots have not perished, it will invigorate them and force a new growth of hair. Ask for Hair Magic. It is the only reliable. For sale by J. D. Tully and all druggists.

Grand Results.

For several years R. H. Brown, of Kincardine, suffered from dyspepsia, he says he tried several physicians and a host of remedies without relief. His druggist recommended B. B. B., which he declares produced "grand results" for which he gives it his highest recommendation. 2w40d

I have been bothered with catarrh for about twenty years. I had lost my sense of smell entirely for the last fifteen years, and I had to get some one to thread my needle. Now I have my hearing as well as I ever had, and I can see to thread as fine a needle as ever I did. My sense of smell is partly restored; it seems to be improving all the time. I think there is nothing like Ely's Cream Balm for Catarrh.—Mrs. E. E. Grimes, Rendrill, Ohio. eodw42

Be Prepared.

Many of the worst attacks of cholera morbus, cramps, dysentery, and colic comes suddenly in the night, and the most speedy and prompt means must be used to combat their dire effects. Dr. Fowler's Extract of Wild Strawberry is the remedy. Keep it at hand for emergencies. It never fails to cure or relieve. 2w40d

Certain Cure.

A CURE FOR CHOLERA MORBUS.—A positive cure for this dangerous complaint, and for all acute or chronic forms of bowel complaint incident to summer and fall, is found in Dr. Fowler's Extract of Wild Strawberry; to be procured from any druggist. 2w40d

THE WAR CLOUD BUSTED.

VICTORY has Perched on the Banner of PETERBOROUGH'S GREAT CHEAPSIDE!

And SHEPPARD, by common consent, will get $1,000 for being the Cheapest Clothier in Peterborough, having knocked the Wonderful Cheap Man completely out. "Business is Business; Dirt is Dirt, and when it comes to throwing Dirt, then Count" the only original teddy out, and he will hand over that $1,000 like a little man: For the following reasons;—

Sheppard sells a full size Man's Suit for $2.95, and better Goods than a Suit to fit a Child about 9 years old sold by the Wonderful Cheap-Man on Saturday for $3.00; but marked $3.50. This is how it was:—A Lady purchased a Child's Suit on Saturday last, Sept. 17th, 1887, at the Store of the Wonderful Cheap-Man. It was marked thusly:—Lot 5375, Breast 27, Waist 26½, Age 9, Price $3.50. It was pure Shoddy, being held together by cotton threads, and Sheppard is free to say that that was the dearest Suit sold in the Town of Peterborough for the last two years. Full particulars are given because of the $1000 involved, and, further, that this decides who is selling the Cheapest Clothing in Peterborough. SHEPPARD would have sold that Lady a Suit, Pure Wool for that money, and worth two of the one she got.

$1,000 to Go to the Charitable Institutions of Peterborough.

I had first decided to give the agencies a chance of jumping up my rating that $1.000, but after considering the matter and finding that never in any case have I been asked for an endorser to my paper, and that no relative or any other persons have ever endorsed my paper to the extent of one cent, I have come to the conclusion my credit is as good as yours and will ask you to hand over the $1,000 to the Charitable Institutions of Peterborough.

Now, Sir, there is a good story told the truth of which can be vouched for, but for the honor of at least making an effort to keep up your self-styled name—The Terror of High Priced Clothiers—do not allow the same to be said of you in the case above. A man purchased a suit for $15.00 at the store of one of the largest Advertisers in that section of country. It was guaranteed pure wool; but after examining it carefully at home, he came to the conclusion that he had been dealing with some one sharper than himself. Finding a make of wool, differing some from anything he had ever seen, it dawned upon him, that he had heard of wool of that kind, so the suit was returned. The merchant bet $25.00 that it was all wool, and the bet was accepted the decision being left to a neighboring merchant, he found that the $15.00 suit, was wool faced and shoddy back, pure unadulterated shoddy, but what of the $25.00 bet, was it paid, not much—muchly—as it were.

SHEPPARD is making Wonderful Strides in Securing Marvellous Bargains in Dry Goods, Clothing, Hats and Caps.

The amount of subscriptions on hand, with interest, is $3,686.91, and it is estimated the monument will cost $5,500.

Can These Things be Taught?

Every experienced business man knows the necessity of having this fundamental knowledge, and the grand question with him in the past has been, Can these principles be taught and learned in a school of business? Now he finds that they can be, for young gentlemen and ladies come directly from the business college to his desk who are able to grapple with the most difficult problems his books present and solve them with ease. There is no longer any doubt about this matter; and so certain is the course of training now pursued in the Peterborough Business College to produce this result, that the Principal does not hesitate to affirm that out of the large number of pupils who have borne off the diploma of the school, there was not one who could not manage a set of books and show himself perfectly at home in all the work of the counting-room.

Matrimonial.

The Miss McKee referred to in the following paragraph from a Kansas paper, the Salem Bower News, is the daughter of Mr. John McKee who removed to that state from the township of Smith not long since:—

Married at Salem Bower on Monday, 26th at the residence of the bride's father, Attorney T. H. Talbot and Miss Florence E. McKee. The ceremony took place at the residence of John McKee, Esq., in Centre township, Monday morning, at nine o'clock, the Rev. Jas. Mayou officiating, only a select company of friends being present. The happy couple departed at once on their wedding tour with St. Louis and Chicago as their main points of destination. Their visit will be protracted until the middle of next month.

The bride's costume was of white silk and white silk brocade looped with illusion and orange blossoms.

The groom is a member of the law firm of Glass & Polack of this city and is one of the brightest young lawyers of northern Kansas. The bride is the handsome and talented daughter of Mr. and Mrs. John McKee, who are among the most respected citizens of Marshall county.

The congratulations of the News is extended to the happy couple, with best wishes for a long life of unalloyed happiness and prosperity.

Intense Excitement at Young's Point.

A local bicyclist who visited Young's Point on Sunday returned home with a thrilling bear story, which is about as follows. Early on Saturday evening a woman ran frantically into the village, wringing her hands and crying in agonized tones that her child had been eaten by a bear. The baby had been missing for a long time from the house, and on going in search of it the mother was horrified at seeing the tracks of a huge bear near the house. Instantly she comprehended the terrible truth—her child had been devoured by the wild beast. Such was her story to the crowd of excited villagers who gathered about her, and instantly a hunting party was formed, leaving scarcely a man or boy in the place. All were anxious and determined to have revenge upon the bear for the loss of an innocent human life. They formed into parties and prepared to scour the country in search of their prey. They had not gone far, though, before they found the lost child asleep on a pile of stones. It had evidently wandered about till tired, and then laid down to sleep. As it was then getting dark the brave hunters decided to give up the chase till morning, their feelings of vengeance having been considerably allayed by the recovery of the supposed victim to bruin's hunger. And here endeth the tale, for the brave bicyclist left for home Sunday afternoon before the bear-hunters had returned; so that whether they captured the beast or not he is unable to say. While the excitement over the lost child lasted Young's Point was convulsed to the core, and everyone heaved a sigh of relief when the missing one was discovered.

The Roarin' Game.

The half-yearly meeting of the Ontario branch of the Royal Caledonian Curling Club was held at the Walker House, Toronto, Tuesday afternoon. The customary routine business was transacted. Dr. Boucher, of Peterborough, was elected a member of the Committee of Management. In the allocation list, Lakefield was pitted against Keene, with Dr. Boucher for umpire; Peterborough against the Toronto Granites, with their own umpire. In the grouping of clubs in the primary competition for the Ontario tankard, were the following:—

Group No. 1—Belleville convener, Brockville, Ogdensburg, Cobourg, Port Hope, Campbellford.

Group No. 2—Oshawa convener, Peterborough, Lindsay, Orillia, Whitby, Bowmanville.

Group No. 3—Lakefield convener, Bobcaygeon, Stouffville, Markham.

Opera House Dates.

From the register of Bradburn's Opera House the following dates are taken:—

Oct. 31—Sons of England Entertainment.
Nov. 15 and 16—J. S. Murphy and company.
Nov. 19—The Mlle. Rhea company.
Nov. 22—Mrs. Scott-Siddons.
Nov. 26—Frank C. Bangs and company.
Dec. 19—Harry Lindley, for one week.
Dec. 26—Baird's company, for one week.

This is the list of engagements only as far as registered. It is understood there will be a number of other entertainments of a local character, besides the engagements which are yet expected from outside travelling companies. The theatre-going people of Peterborough have a choice selection of dates and companies to choose from.

Booming.

The Lindsay Warder says:—"We learn that the managers for Eastern Ontario of the Manufacturers' Life Insurance Company have written up over half a million dollars worth of business since the company commenced writing risks a little over two months ago. The total amount done by the company in the Dominion during that period reaches the magnificent sum of two million dollars. In this connection we are pleased to learn that Mr. Gallon, competing for a prize in gold offered for the largest business done in September, has captured the prize. The advertisement of this young and vigorous company appears in another column, to which we direct attention. We understand that several of our prominent citizens have subscribed for stock therein." Messrs. Wilson & Morrison are the managers above referred to. 3d93-1w42

Mortuary Statistics.

The mortuary returns for September have been received by the town clerk, and from a comparison it would appear that the death-rate of Peterborough was exceedingly small last month. A few of the towns are given:—Peterborough, 6 deaths; Sherbrooke, (Que.) 13; Chatham, 8; Three Rivers, (Que.) 12; St. Thomas, 16; Belleville, 19; Guelph, 13; Kingston, 22; Brantford, 21; Woodstock, 12; Galt 12; Toronto, 197; Montreal, 472; Hamilton, 68; Ottawa, 55; London, 44. Of the deaths in Peterborough, 3 were males and 3 females.

Hymeneal.

This morning at 9:30 Mr. John McPherson of Peterborough was united in marriage to Miss Davidson, daughter of the late James Davidson, of Spring Valley, Smith. The wedding was a quiet one, none but the immediate friends of the contracting parties being present. Mr. and Mrs. McPherson left on the 11:55 C.P.R. train for the east on a honeymoon tour. The EXAMINER begs to add its congratulations and best wishes for a happy wedded life to those of the many friends of the newly-wedded pair.

Yarns a speciality at Turnbull's. All kinds now in stock at right prices.

Police Court.

The Windovers and one Montgomery get one year each in the Central—An Assault Case Dismissed.

WEDNESDAY, Oct. 19.

The first case on the docket at the police court this morning was the adjourned charge of burglary of Mr. Irwin's shanty in Harvey, preferred against Elijah, Harvey and Ephraim Windover (brothers), and Augustus Montgomery. The prisoners, it will be remembered, pleaded guilty to larceny, but denied having broken into the premises. Mr. E. B. Edwards appeared for the prosecution; Mr. C. W. Sawers defended the prisoners.

Mr. Geo. Cochrane, county constable, was examined relative to the arrest of the prisoners and finding of the goods on their premises. Mr. Edwin Dissette, who had been left in charge of Mr. Irwin's shanty, stated that the door of the shanty had been left closed, but not locked. The only part locked was the office, in which some goods were stored. The office had been broken into and some of the goods stolen. He identified the property shown in the court as that of Mr. Irwin's. This closed the case.

RECEIVING STOLEN PROPERTY.

Before giving judgement in the first case, the charge against James Montgomery, father of the prisoner, of having received certain articles knowing the same to have been stolen, was taken up. The prisoner pleaded not guilty and was defended by Mr. C. W. Sawers, Mr. E. B. Edwards prosecuting. The prisoner elected to be tried by jury.

In the preliminary trial before the police magistrate, Constable Cochrane and Mr. Dissette gave evidence as before, and Acting-Chief Adams testified to having found the stolen goods in the house of the prisoner.

JUDGMENT.

In passing sentence upon the four young men arraigned on the first charge, the Magistrate said the people of the back townships ought to protect the premises of lumbermen who do so much towards developing the resources of the country, instead of stealing their property, as the prisoners had done; but in view of their youth he would not make the sentence as heavy as the law would allow. He hoped this would be a lesson to them, and lead them to reform. He then sentenced them to one year each in the Central Prison in Toronto.

The prisoners did not appear to be much downcast at the prospect of a year's term in prison. They stood together in a group, and during the Shuter assault case which followed conversed with some friends in whispers, frequently laughing heartily.

AN ASSAULT CASE.

Mary Shuter brought a charge of assault against her husband, William. Mr. J. Burnham conducted the case for her.

Her story was that on Sunday morning the father ordered his little son to go for milk for breakfast. Mrs. Shuter asked him to wait till the boy's stockings dried, but her husband objected, and the boy had to go out barefooted over the frosty ground. A quarrel resulted, in which the husband threw his wife down, beat her on the arms, and held her on the floor. Mrs. Shuter also exhibited a wound on her forehead, which she said had been inflicted by her husband about two o'clock this morning. She declared she was not safe with him day or night. Two of the children were called, who mainly corroborated her story, though the oldest girl said she didn't see her father strike her mother, and that he repeatedly told her mother to let go of his beard.

HIS STORY.

The defendant made a statement which was altogether different. He declared the boy's stockings were dry as could be, that the ground was not at all frosty, as it happened about ten o'clock in the morning, and that the mother always defended the boy when he tried to make him obey. He declared he never struck his wife, but that she grabbed his beard and would not let go; he merely held her by the wrists. He said she pulled a lot of hair out of his head and tore his suspenders. He said he repeatedly asked her to let go of him, that he would not hurt her, but she would not until some neighbors arrived. As regards the wound on her head he said that was caused by her standing between him and the boy when he was punishing him, and she received the blow instead of him.

DISMISSED.

The magistrate said so far as he could judge it was a squabble for which they were equally to blame. In dismissing Mr. Shuter the magistrate remarked that he had been up before on similar charges, and that if he ever appeared again and there was the least evidence against him, he would send him where he could trouble his wife no more.

MERON'S CASE.

The enlarged Scott Act case against Isaac Meron was further enlarged till next week. A warrant was issued for his arrest yesterday, but the police were unable to find him, and it is presumed he has left the town.

Catholic Temperance Society.

Bishop Dowling Encourages His Flock in the Good Work.

In response to a circular of his Lordship Bishop Dowling, a number of the gentlemen of the Cathedral Congregation assembled in the Murray Street school house. His Lordship was present, and, after opening the meeting with prayer, announced that he had been approached by certain gentlemen, who who had asked him to take measures for the formation of a temperance association, and literary and debating societies for the young men. In a few brief, but eloquent, remarks he expressed his hearty approval of the proposed societies and asked for the opinions of the gentlemen present on the matter. In answer to calls Messrs. T. Hurley, J. W. Fitzgerald and J. O'Meara made short addresses advocating the formation of temperance and literary associations amongst the male members of the congregation.

Moved by J. O'Meara, seconded by J. J. Sheehy, that a branch of Cardinal Manning's Temperance Association, "League of the Cross" be forthwith formed.—Carried.

After the charter members had given in their names to the acting-secretary, Mr. O'Meara, it was decided to hold a meeting at the same place on next Tuesday evening at 7:30 for the election of officers and the adoption of a constitution.

The formation of a literary and debating society was then resolved on, on motion of J. D. McIlmoyle, seconded by Thomas Kelly.

The election of officers and adoption of a constitution will take place on Thursday evening at the school house.

After discussing various other matters of parochial interest, a very pleasant mission was brought to a close with prayer and benediction by his Lordship.

Mistaken Identity.

A gentleman who entered the police court room this morning while the Irwin shanty burglary case was in progress, observed two very modest and innocent looking young men sitting beside Constable Cochrane. He expressed his surprise to a bystander that two youths with such meek and guileless expressions of countenance could be accused of such a crime, and declared his immediate belief in their innocence. When told that the objects of his sympathy were the reporters for the two afternoon papers, the gentleman wilted.

Our Stock of Furs for the Season of 1887 is one not inferior to any in the best retail stores in any City. When we say this we base the same on our knowledge in selecting the material for our manufacture, which is of the Choicest. The long winter of last season had run our stock very low, many lines, such as Men's Coats in Racoon, being completely sold out, but of which we now have on hand a large stock made of good seasoned skins in the natural color. None kept of unseasoned skins, which require coloring dark to hide bare spots.

DEATH OF FARMER DOOL.

THE MAN WHO STABBED HIM ON TRIAL AT BROCKVILLE.

The Defence Tried to Establish That John Morris Acted in Self-Defence—The Jury Returns a Verdict of Manslaughter Against the Prisoner.

BROCKVILLE, Oct. 19.—John Morris was tried to-day at the Assizes, before Hon. Mr. Justice O'Connor, for the wilful murder of Henry Dool on Aug. 12 last. D. B. McLennan was for the Crown and Mr. E. Saunders of Kemptville defended the prisoner.

The prisoner, John Morris, is a farmer and rented from the deceased, Henry Dool, a house and half an acre of land on lot 3, in the tenth concession of Augusta. There was a dispute between them as to the ownership of a yoke of oxen. Dool went to Morris' house on the afternoon of Aug. 12 to demand either possession of the steers or a guarantee for their return or their value. He had been reaping near Morris' house that day and on his way there the previous evening a man named Malcolm Boyd asked him if he was going to reap on the Morris place. He replied that he did not know whether he was going to reap or to have "a goldarned good fight."

When Morris and Dool met near Morris' house on the afternoon of the 12th an altercation at once commenced about the oxen. The only other persons present were Thomas Streight and a daughter of Morris'. Morris had a whipstock in his hand and was threatening Dool with violence if he laid his hands on the oxen, whereupon Dool deliberately put his hands on the oxen. This occurred twice or three times, when Streight, not wishing to be a party to the fight that was evidently impending, advised the men to settle the matter quietly and left them. Hearing some noise and shouts he looked back and saw Dool chasing Morris towards the house and beating him with the whipstock which he had taken from Morris. Dool at this time had been fatally stabbed by Morris, and it was upon the occurrences during the few moments preceding that the case turned. The two men disappeared behind a clump of trees. Streight returned to the house, and as he went he met Dool, who was bleeding from a deep wound in the left breast between the fourth and fifth ribs and about an inch and a half long. Dool refused to go into Morris' house and was taken to the house of John Cooper, about three quarters of a mile away, where he died the next day, at noon.

Dool made a dying declaration before a magistrate to the following effect: There was a difficulty between John Morris and myself about a yoke of steers that he Morris, had got from me to break. We had some words and Morris drew his whip stock to strike me with it and I caught hold of the whip and took it from him. Then Morris drew out his knife and I struck him on the arm with the whipstock, thinking to knock the knife out of his hand. Then Morris stabbed me in the left breast in the left lung. It was a long dirk knife that he stabbed me with. Then he ran to the house and I went after him with the whipstock.

Dool told a similar story by word of mouth.

The defence was that Dool struck Morris over the head three or four times before the stab was given and that Morris acted in self-defence. Evidence to this effect was given by Morris' 14-year-old daughter Margaret.

After about three-quarters of an hour's absence the jury found the prisoner guilty of manslaughter. He will probably be sentenced to-morrow.

OTTAWA, Oct. 19.—Martin Flynn, the seducer of Minnie Allen, who committed suicide at Chelsea some weeks ago, has been arrested under the Seduction Act, sometimes called the Charlton Act, at the instance of the girl's father. The act provides a penalty of two years' imprisonment for seducing an unmarried woman under 21 years of age. Miss Allen was less than 21 at the time of her death.

THE CHANCELLOR AT REST

FUNERAL OF REV. DR. SAMUEL S. NELLES AT COBOURG.

The Whole Methodist Body of Ontario Mourns the Departure of One of Their Leading Lights—An Imposing Cortege—He Passes Away on His Birthday.

COBOURG, Oct. 19.—To-day the remains of Rev. S. S. Nelles, D.D., LL.D., Chancellor of Victoria University, were laid at rest, accompanied to the grave by the leading Methodist divines of this province, some of other denominations, graduates and undergraduates of his beloved institution, and a large number of prominent persons of this and surrounding towns. The death of Dr. Nelles was the chief topic in the town. Regret was generally expressed and it was shown by flags being at half-mast and by the places of business closing from 3 to 5, during the hours of the funeral. The morning train from Toronto brought a large number of mourners and others from further west would have arrived but for an accident on the Great Western division of the G.T.R., which made connection at Toronto impossible.

At 1 o'clock the Senate of the University met, Vice-Chancellor Kerr presiding, and about thirty-five other members being in attendance. It was decided that in the meantime the duties of the chancellorship should be assumed by the vice-chancellor, and that Prof. Wilson, the senior professor, should be requested to discharge the duties of Dr. Nelles as president of the faculty until his successor was appointed. On motion of Rev. Dr. Carman, seconded by Rev. Dr. Burwash, this resolution was adopted:

That we, the members of the Senate of Victoria University, desire to express the profound sorrow and regret which we feel at the death of our beloved and honored Chancellor, the Rev. Dr. Nelles, whose life has been for the last thirty-seven years faithfully devoted to the promotion of the interests of this University.

In the patient energy with which he has met and conquered difficulties which to most men would have been insuperable, the zeal and eloquence with which he has advocated the claims of higher education in this province, the ripe scholarship, the administrative ability, the kindly sympathy and unequalled versatility with which he discharged the duties of his high position, he has placed this university, the Methodist Church, and the country at large under a debt of gratitude which no words of ours can adequately express.

We also desire to record our high appreciation of his consistent Christian character, his invaluable services as a minister of the gospel, and the catholicity of spirit which characterized his relations to all movements designed to promote the well-being of humanity and the glory of God.

We take this opportunity of expressing our unfeigned and heartfelt sympathy with his bereaved wife and family under the shadow of the painful bereavement that has fallen upon them. We earnestly pray that the God of all grace, who has sustained our departed brother during his long and useful life and in his last hours, may comfort and support them in their unspeakable sorrow.

AN IRISH CLAIMANT.

James Madole of Armagh Trying to Establish His Title to Hamilton Property.

HAMILTON, Oct. 19.—James Madole, from the county of Armagh, Ireland, accompanied by Dennis Murphy of Toronto, is here endeavoring to establish his title to three lots on King-street west, between Pearl and Locke streets, at present owned by William Hall. He says that his father came to Hamilton in 1834. His wife died shortly afterwards and the old man was found dead in his house in 1854 and left no will. He was possessed at the time of his death of the lots in question and £1100 in cash.

Letters of administration were taken out by three neighbors named Samuel McKittrick, John Ryckman, now of Thorold, and J. Williams, who, Madole says, appropriated the lands and turned over £900 of the cash to a young man named Adams, whose right to it the present claimant denies. Young Adams spent the money in riotous living and returned to Ireland without any of it. The property is now in the possession of William Hall, who has owned it for many years. Madole is without any means to press the claim.

Hon. Frank Ireland, formerly U.S. consul in Hamilton and now president of the First National Bank of Geneva, Wis., was married here to-day to Mrs. Wm. Bickle, daughter of E. C. Briggs of this city.

NO NEW DEVELOPMENTS.

Mr. Middleton Has Confidence Still in His Wife's Honesty.

OTTAWA, Oct. 19.—There are no new developments in the Middleton-Hamilton case, which is still almost the sole topic of conversation, although it has only been referred to by one of the local papers. The couple are said to be in New York, but those who are supposed to be cognizant of their whereabouts are very reticent, and nothing positive is known. Mr. Middleton is still confident that things are entirely misunderstood, and that his wife's absence will be perfectly explained. He says she received an invitation a short time ago to accompany a party of yachting friends to Florida and that the probability is she has accepted it.

Hamilton, who is about 28 years of age, is a grandson of the late Senator John Hamilton of Kingston and nephew of Judge Hamilton of Western Ontario and Collector of Customs Clarke Hamilton of Kingston. His father, Robert Hamilton, who was in business in Montreal, is dead, but Mrs. Hamilton resides there still.

AN ABSCONDER FROM TORONTO.

Barnett, Loan Fakir and Diamond Broker, Arrested at Philadelphia.

MONTREAL, Oct. 19.—News has been received here that Rolland I. G. Barnett, who absconded from Toronto, leaving behind him creditors with claims against him amounting to $50,000, was arrested in Philadelphia yesterday by Mr. Ed. Guerin, at the instance of Mr. James Baxter of this city, who had a claim of $3500 against him for money advanced and for diamonds sold, as well as for diamonds forwarded to Barnett to be delivered to customers at Toronto.

A Lumber Firm in Chicago Assigns.

CHICAGO, Oct. 19.—The assignment of Charles M. Charnley, the well-known lumber merchant, and the confession of judgments by Thomas Lovedall for over $100,000, are the sole topic of discussion in lumber circles. The liabilities of Charnley & Lovedall are between $180,000 and $190,000, with estimated assets of $170,000. The liabilities of the Sturgeon Bay Lumber Company, which has also gone under, are large, but cannot be definitely stated.

KINCARDINE, Oct. 19.—James Rowand of Saugeen was to-day elected M.P. for West Bruce by acclamation.

AFFAIRS AT OTTAWA.

A Despatch From England Showing That Secretary Bayard Did Issue the Order Regarding Alaskan Seizures Which He Denied Issuing.

OTTAWA, Oct. 19.—Hon. Mr. Robson, Provincial Secretary of British Columbia, had a long interview with Sir John Macdonald and Hon. Mr. White to-day with reference to the relative responsibility of the Dominion and Local Governments to the Indians in British Columbia and other matters which have been the subject of correspondence between the two governments for some time. It is understood that the questions at issue between the two governments are being discussed in an amicable way and are gradually reaching a satisfactory settlement.

The rumors afloat about the appointment of Judge Angers to the Lieutenant-Governorship of Quebec and the calling of Mr. John Macdonald to the Senate are incorrect. There has been no meeting of Council for two days and consequently no appointments have been made.

An Imperial despatch has been received containing a copy of a despatch from Secretary Bayard with reference to the seizure of Canadian sealers in Behring Sea over a year ago, in which he apologizes for the non-execution of the order issued by the Attorney-General to release the schooners Onward, Carolina and Thornton, and promises that a new order for their release will be issued.

Speaker Ouimet was in the city to-day. He has not received the report of the Judge in the Haldimand election case. He has signed warrants for elections in Dorchester and Yarmouth, but the writs have not been issued. Some correspondents seem not to understand the difference between a warrant and a writ and are constantly misusing the terms. The warrant of the Speaker is issued to the Clerk of the Crown in Chancery authorizing him to issue a writ for an election, after which a returning officer has to be appointed and then a writ is issued to him to hold an election.

Mr. Louis H. Taché, private secretary to Hon. Mr. Chapleau, will shortly publish a volume of five or six hundred pages regarding the Secretary of State. This volume will contain a biography of Mr. Chapleau with numerous extracts from his speeches and writings since confederation.

The official mortuary statistics for the month of September give the number of deaths in the leading Canadian cities as follows: Montreal, 472; Toronto, 197; Quebec, 171; Hamilton, 68; Ottawa, 55; Kingston, 23; Winnipeg, 54.

Senator MacInnes of Hamilton and Mr. G. R. Pugsley are here interviewing the Government in regard to the land subsidy granted to Regina and Long Lake Railway.

DETERMINED IN ITS POLICY.

The Government Will Enforce Law and Order in Ireland.

LONDON, Oct. 19.—Mr. Goschen, speaking at Bradford yesterday, said the Government had not abated one jot of its policy, and would not falter in enforcing law and order in Ireland.

News Agents Warned.

DUBLIN, Oct. 19.—The police have warned the Irish news agents against exposing papers or placards containing any references to meetings of suppressed branches of the National League.

Mgr. Persico Banqueted.

DUBLIN, Oct. 19.—Mgr. Persico, who came to Ireland some weeks ago on a mission from the Pope, made a speech this evening at a banquet given in his honor by Catholic clergymen of this city. In the course of his remarks he said that his experience in Ireland had shown him that the Irish Catholic clergy sided with the tenants and opposed the landlords. His remarks were heartily applauded.

The League Paralyzes Trade.

DUBLIN, Oct 19.—At the Tuam fair to-day thousands of head of cattle and sheep were offered for sale at ruinous figures, but despite the exceedingly low prices there were no purchasers. Large graziers declare they cannot continue business any longer and must take advantage of the bankrupt law.

THE LION AT NOTTINGHAM

GLADSTONE CHEERED BY CROWDS WHEREVER HE GOES.

Two Thousand Delegates Attend the Liberal Conference—A Resolution Condemning Coercion in Ireland Carried by Acclamation.

LONDON, Oct. 19.—The conference at Nottingham was attended by 2000 delegates from Liberal associations in all parts of the Kingdom. Baron Wolverton, Hugh C. Childers, George Shaw Lefebvre, A. J. Mundella and other leading lights of the Liberal party were present. Joseph Kitson, President of the Federation, presided. Herbert A. Asquith, member of Parliament for East Fife, made a telling speech, and several other Commoners addressed the meeting briefly. A resolution condemning the Coercive policy in Ireland was carried by acclamation. Other business connected with the conference was then concluded. As Mr. Gladstone entered the hall he was cheered lustily, the whole audience singing "See the Conquering Hero Comes," and "Auld Lang Syne," etc.

The congress resolved unanimously that when the Irish question was settled the disestablishment of the Church in Wales should be made the leading point of the policy of the Liberal party. The congress also adopted a resolution in favor of a reform of the franchise so that one man shall have only one vote. It was decided to hold a meeting of the federation at an early date in Ireland.

The chairman, Alderman Gripper, made a speech in which he declared that the Government's attempt on the liberties of the Irish people was not intended to end there. The Government meant to go further, and to interfere with the liberties of Englishmen.

On a motion by Sir James Kitson resolutions heartily welcoming Mr. Gladstone, expressing confidence in his leadership and declaring that the congress anticipated an early settlement of the Irish question on the lines of the ex-Premier's policy were unanimously carried, amid tremendous cheering.

Crowds Cheer the Ex-Premier.

Mr. Gladstone made a visit to the Congregational Institute at Nottingham to-day. Crowds lined the streets through which his carriage passed, and he was heartily cheered. Mr. Gladstone made an address at the institute, in which he said that the pains and anxieties of the present political controversy were greatly mitigated by the conviction that the work of the Liberal party, though momentarily one of strife, aimed at peace. He trusted it was not profane or irreverent to say that the Prince of Peace would recognize and bless their efforts. They sought to unite kingdoms now estranged and to promote harmony among different classes.

This evening Mr. Gladstone, while driving to the rink, was enthusiastically greeted by the throngs that lined the route. On arriving at the rink he received an ovation from an assemblage of 8000 persons. In a speech he said he would budily sweep away the law of entail. He strongly condemned the revision of the phantasy of protection. He urged the extension of local government in the direction of decentralization, but said that these, together with the questions of the liquor traffic and the disestablishment of the church in Scotland and Wales, could not be touched until a sound adjustment had been effected in regard to Ireland.

LAWLESS GANGS IN LONDON.

The "Unemployed" Said to be Vicious Idlers From the Slums of the Great City.

LONDON, Oct. 19.—The tradesmen of London are preparing to take energetic steps to put a stop to demonstrations of lawless gangs now infesting the streets. Business has been almost suspended in several important thoroughfares, people are afraid to go about, shopkeepers who are paying heavy rents and taxes insist on their right to protection. The police are nearly worked out with their incessant work, night and day. Everybody perceives the serious nature of the crisis. If politicians paralyze the police force, Judge Lynch will set up his court, and there will be serious trouble. The genuine workingmen have no sympathy with the present agitation, which is led by desperadoes from the slums of London.

Another Parade of the Mob.

LONDON, Oct. 19.—This afternoon a mob sallied from Hyde Park into the streets and was followed by a force of policemen. The mob paraded through a number of streets in the West End and made riotous demonstrations. It became so threatening in Berkeley-square that the police charged upon and scattered it. The mob again assembled and proceeded along Piccadilly, where the police again attacked it, and a sharp fight took place. Several persons were injured, and many rioters were taken into custody. Some of the shopkeepers closed their places, fearing they would be pillaged.

AT LONDON THIS TIME.

A Man Leaves a Wife and Five Children and Flees With Another Love.

LONDON, Oct. 19.—The people of London West were startled this morning by the news of an elopement from their midst which was altogether unexpected, though for a year past gossips have connected the names of the parties concerned. They are Miss Vadden, daughter of Mr. Wm. Vadden, shoemaker, who lives near the corner of Dundas and Centre-streets, and George Moore, who resided on Oak-street, and who leaves behind him a wife and five children.

About a week ago Miss Vadden announced her intention of visiting a Mrs. Rogers in the country and on Saturday last started off. The same afternoon Mr. Moore left ostensibly to visit an uncle at Port Stanley. Mrs. Vadden's parents, after her departure, finding all her clothes, etc., gone, had their suspicions aroused, and on Monday a messenger was despatched to the place she was visiting, when it was learned that she had never been there at all. A telegram to Mr. Moore's uncle at Port Stanley brought the same reply. The parties have not since been heard of.

The woman in the case is said to be about 30 years of age, small, and not over good looking. Mr. Moore was a popular resident of the village, had some nice property there, and was in prosperous circumstances.

"SNOW NOW FIELDS WERE WON."

In the election courts the Conservatives are falling like grain before a deft reaper's sharp sickle. Two cabnet ministers have fallen and several private supporters are counted among the victims harvested, and the prospects are prophetic of other additions to the crop. It has for years been an acknowledged fact that Sir John Macdonald's system of retaining himself in power primarily consists of the application of the principle of barter—purchase and sale. He himself has been several times unseated, only escaping disqualification "by the skin of his teeth," and it is probable that when the petition against his return for Kingston, is tried, the court will save him the trouble of electing between being the representation of Carleton and Kingston. In the school of bribery direct and indirect the Conservative party have shown themselves to be apt pupils, and they have no hesitation in applying the lessons they have learned under their political pedagogue-in-chief. The revelations of the election court sometimes supply striking examples. The Megantic election case is worth citing. The contestation of the Megantic local election has just shed some very important light on the way Mr. John White, one of Mr. Mercier's ablest and most valued English supporters, lost his election and the Tory organ candidate, Johnson, carried the seat by a small majority at the last general elections. Wm. Johnson, brother of the sitting member, admitted on examination that jointly with his brother he signed a promissory note for $1,000, which was cashed by Mr. King, lumber merchant of Lister, and that on nomination day he passed money in two envelopes to Dr. Hume, another Conservative pull-er, who swore in turn that he transferred it to Johnson's Central Committee. A witness named Pidgeon testified as to the distribution of the money, which seems to have been effected in quite a melodramatic fashion. All the Tory canvassers, himself of the number, were notified to meet at a vacant house in Inverness Village. On arriving in front of it Pidgeon heard his name called, and on approaching the door he was invited to enter. In the first room there were three or four persons. The second room, into which he was told to pass, was vacant, but while he was standing in it another mysterious voice called upon him to pass into a third apartment. There the lamp was turned down so low that he could recognise nobody, but there were a number of persons present ranged like statues against the wall. One of them ordered him to take a sealed envelope off the table and go. When Pidgeon afterwards opened the envelope he found that it contained $35, which he transferred to the committee and for which he was never asked to account. Between nomination and polling days he received a number of other sums in the same mysterious way. The distribution of other corruption moneys in sums of $125, $50, $30, $25, $20 and $5, and of dozens of flasks of gin to various parties parties was also proven, and it was conclusively shown that the same orgie of corruption and demoralisation was practised in almost every polling district. There is said to be no doubt that Johnson's election will be annulled, and there is apparently good reason for such a conclusion.

Omemee.

(From Our Own Correspondent.)

Our high school is largely attended by outsiders.

The low water of Pigeon river at present is a wonder to the oldest citizen.

The Rev. Mr. Flisk, of Pittsburg, nephew of Rev. J. Ewing, Presbyterian Minister, occupied Mr. Ewing's pulpit here on Sunday last and delivered an excellent sermon, in a most finished style, to a large and appreciative congregation.

The Salvation Army here has not gained any popularity by their apparent attempts to demolish our Citizens' Band concerts on Saturday evenings. The music of the band proves too pleasing a contrast.

THE missionary spirit of the Presbyterian Church is well known to be of a most aggressive character, and the province of Manitoba furnishes a good example of the success that has attended their labours. They have been making rapid progress in that province. From 1881 to 1886, they exhibited an increase of 15,009 or 104 per cent., and had passed from second place to a decided lead. In the same period of time the adherents of the Church of England increased from 13,715 to 23,306, and the Methodists from 9,-992 to 14,648. Of the larger denominations the Roman Catholics show the least increase, only 22 per cent., the reason being that this church has benefitted to a smaller extent than the others from a large immigration into the country since 1881. With such results as these it may well be fancied that no obstacle can be tolerated which will interfere with the Presbyterian march of progress. This explains the vigorous onslaughts which prominent Presbyterian ministers have made upon the odious mal-administration of affairs in the Northwest. Not the persistence of the natives in pagan beliefs and practices has been the stumbling-stone in the path of their evangelists, so much as the corrupting and paralysing examples and practices of the Indian agents. When these persons in the form of Christian individuals take the lead in the most degrading vices, and when the distribution of supplies involve all sorts of rascality and dishonesty, the task of inducing the Indians to accept Christianity as an improvement on their paganism, is rendered immensely more difficult.

Frazerville.

(From Our Own Correspondent.)

We have learned with pleasure that the Rev. T. Manning, B.A., has consented to deliver in Frazerville Methodist church, sometime in January 1888, his very popular lecture entitled "Patriotism." His presence bespeake a full house—further notice will be given.

We believe in giving "honor and praise" to whom such is due, therefore permit us to say a few words regarding some of our prominent farmers in this vicinity, who have been so successful at the exhibitions held this fall. Mr. James Baptie of Springville is truly a very successful competitor, and is known as a leading exhibitor throughout the province. His poultry is the finest in our land, enabling him thereby to obtain prizes for all exhibited. This year a diploma has been awarded him for the best collection of fowl. Not only does he take first place in the poultry line, but, we are pleased to learn, he obtained first for heavy draught team at both Millbrook and Peterborough. His beautiful roan colt is admired by all. His cattle compare favorably with those coming from great stock farms. In honey, vegetables and grains again do we see his name as a prize winner.

Mr. John Bothwell exhibits his beautiful black entire colt (two years old) in draught class and obtains first place. For a number of years past the Bothwell Bros. have been very successful in the line of horses, and obtained a number of prizes at the various exhibitions held in these adjoining counties. They have also obtained prizes in grain, vegetables, etc.

Mr. John Mouncey, who is the owner of a number of thorough-bred cattle, obtains several prizes.

Such farmers as these are to be congratulated, as they are a great boon to a neighborhood, and the lively interest manifested by them is not only a benefit to them but also to all who desire a better class of stock, etc. in our country.

The Oyster.

With the advent of cooler weather the use of this inoffensive little mollusk will become quite general among our readers, and a few words about its habits will not be out of place. As everyone knows, the oyster is among the lowest and simplest of mollusks, and has no power of locomotion except when very young. When we come to look at the matter in the calm light of facts, we have no fear that the crop will run out, as competent authority estimates that a single oyster produces over a million eggs. The egg is hatched within the shell of the parent. The young are only a hundred and twentieth part of an inch in length when started out on their own account, and two million may be packed in the space of a cubic inch. Although a large proportion never reach maturity, still under favorable circumstances oyster banks increase very rapidly. It is said that on the alluvial shores of Georgia, oysters increase so fast as to fill up shallow parts of the sea and form walls which effectually resist the waves and tide. But the oysters of commerce are principally from artificial beds, and seem to be a remarkably profitable and easily-managed crop. If the "seed is planted" in a favorable situation it is certain of good results, as the crop is immovable and of rapid growth. As the principal oyster beds are owned by private individuals or companies, the State laws give those who own property on the sea shore the right to keep oyster beds there. It is very generally believed, though erroneously, that oysters, more especially when eaten raw, are very nutritious. There is said to be little nutriment in oysters, either cooked or raw, though the latter are more readily digested, and therefore excellent for invalids or those with impaired digestion.

New Open.

Chamberlain's oyster parlor is now open for the season. Oysters will be served at all hours in styles to suit the tastes of our patrons. After this week shell oysters will be kept constantly on hand. Porter-house steaks, chops, etc., prepared on the shortest notice.

AN EXPLOSION OF NATURAL GAS.

A Business Block Severely Shaken and Many Persons Injured.

PITTSBURG, Oct. 19.—The first serious natural gas explosion in this city in two years occurred a few minutes after 10 o'clock this morning in the Hotel Albermarle and Bijou Theatre block, Sixth-avenue. The explosion was attended with frightful injuries to a number of people and great destruction to some of the finest property in the city. For several days past workmen employed by the People's Gas Company have been repairing the pipes running into the theatre and hotel. The odor of escaping gas was noticed early this morning but for some reason not yet explained nothing was done to have the gas turned off. About 10.15 o'clock there were three terrific explosions simultaneously in the cellars of D. T. Reed, optician; the Hotel Albermarle and the Bijou Theatre. The concussion shook buildings for several squares and broke every plate glass window in the block. Almost instantly flames shot up from various parts of the block, but before they gained much headway they were controlled by the prompt work of the fire department. A crowd quickly gathered to view the ruins.

The Hotel Albermarle, the Bijou Theatre entrance and the shops which fronted on Sixth-avenue, between the hotel entrance and library hall, were terribly shattered. An investigation showed that eight persons had been seriously hurt, two of them fatally, and at least as many more were slightly hurt.

The names of the most seriously injured are: Jacob Dinger, gas employe, internally injured, legs and arms broken, recovery impossible; Thomas Scanlon, gas employe, badly burned, will die. Two colored men, a German and an Italian whose names could not be learned were terribly burned, but will probably recover. Fireman Gus Dalte was painfully cut and bruised. A large number of others sustained bruises and burns. The damage will be very heavy.

The damage by the explosion will reach $20,000. When the explosion occurred the guests in the Hotel Albermarle became panic-stricken, and several were slightly injured in making their escape from the building. A number of persons who were confined to their beds with typhoid fever were carried from the house to places of safety. The exposure may seriously retard their recovery. Fifteen persons in all were injured, five of them, it is believed, fatally.

THE ASSEMBLY AT AN END.

The Next K. of L. Convention Will be Held at Indianapolis.

MINNEAPOLIS, Oct. 19.—The General Assembly of Knights of Labor remained in session all day, only taking the final adjournment at 5 o'clock in the afternoon. All the business was disposed of and the eleventh assembly has the record of accomplishing more than any of its predecessors.

Among the enormous number of documents passed upon to-day rather the most important was a resolution granting cigarmakers who belong to the Cigarmakers' International Union, which was expelled by action of the Richmond convention, the privilege of reinstatement without the payment of a fee.

A report from the Committee on Finance recommended economy for the coming year.

The invitation from Indianapolis was accepted, and the convention will be held in that city next year.

KATKOFF'S DEATH.

It is Said to Have Been Hastened by the Discovery of an Intrigue With Boulanger.

LONDON, Oct. 19.—The Paris correspondent of The Daily Chronicle learns that the late M. Katkoff and Gen. Boulanger were in close communication. The former is even said to have promised to aid Gen. Boulanger to launch himself as dictator. Katkoff, who employed Gen. Bogdanovitch as an intermediary, advised Boulanger to pay scant attention to the Russian and German ambassies, but to push on in the direction of war. Gen. Schevenitz, the German Ambassador at St. Petersburg, managed to intercept one of Katkoff's letters and conveyed it to Emperor William. The Emperor complained to the Czar, who became greatly incensed when he heard of the affair, and declared that he would never admit Katkoff to his presence again. The disgrace hastened Katkoff's death.

In Brief, And To The Point.

Dyspepsia is dreadful. Disordered liver is misery. Indigestion is a foe to good nature.

The human digestive apparatus is one of the most complicated and wonderful things in existence. It is easily put out of order.

Greasy food, tough food, sloppy food, bad cookery, mental worry, late hours, irregular habits, and many other things which ought not to be, have made the American people a nation of dyspeptics.

But Green's August Flower has done a wonderful work in reforming this sad business and making the American people so healthy that they can enjoy their meals and be happy.

Remember:—No happiness without health. But Green's August Flower brings health and happiness to the dyspeptic. Ask your druggist for a bottle. Seventy-five cents.

Children Cry for Pitcher's Castoria.

A Rare Combination.

There is no other remedy or combination of medicines that equals in many respects, so dear Burdock Blood Bitters in its wide range of power over such diseases as Dyspepsia, Liver and Kidney Complaint, Scrofula and all humors of the blood. 2w42d

To Avoid Baldness or Gray Hair.

Use Dr. Dorenwend's Great German Hair Magic. It keeps the scalp clean and free from Dandruff, and promotes the growth of the hair. It prevents premature grayness and stops all falling out of the hair. On bald heads, where the roots have not perished, it will invigorate them and force a new growth of hair. Ask for Hair Magic. It is the only reliable. For sale by J. D. Tully and all druggists.

I have been bothered with catarrh for about twenty years. I had lost my sense of smell entirely for the last fifteen years, and I had to get some one to thread my needle. Now I have my hearing as well as I ever had, and I can see to thread as fine a needle as ever I did. My sense of smell is partly restored; it seems to be improving all the time. I think there is nothing like Ely's Cream Balm for Catarrh.—Mrs. R. E. Grimes, Rendrill, Ohio. eodw42

Invariable Indications.

If you have Sour Stomach, Heartburn Sick Headache, rising and souring of food, wind in the stomach, a choking or gnawing sensation at the pit of the stomach, then you have sure indications of Dyspepsia, which Burdock Blood Bitters will surely cure. It has cured the worst cases on record. 2w42d

Among the Indians.

"While my husband was trading in furs he came across an Indian who was taken to his lodge to die. He had inward pains and pains in all his limbs. He gave some Yellow Oil internally and applied it externally and cured him. It also cured my husband of rheumatism, and I find it valuable for coughs and colds, sore throat etc." Mrs. A. Beshaw, Cook's Mills, Serpent River, Ont. 2w42d

A Cure For Deafness.

There have been many remarkable cures of deafness made by the use of Hagyard's Yellow Oil, the great household remedy for pain, inflammation and soreness. Yellow Oil cures Rheumatism, Sore Throat and Croup, and is useful internally and externally for all pains and injuries. 2w42d

Beyond Dispute.

There is no better, safer or more pleasant cough remedy made than Hagyard's Pectoral Balsam. It cures Hoarseness, Sore Throat, Coughs, Colds, Bronchitis and all throat and lung troubles. 2w42d

THE WAR CLOUD BUSTED.

VICTORY has Perched on the Banner of

PETERBOROUGH'S GREAT CHEAPSIDE!

And SHEPPARD, by common consent, will get $1,000 for being the Cheapest Clothier in Peterborough, having knocked the Wonderful Cheap Man completely out. "Business is Business; Dirt is Dirt, and when it comes to throwing Dirt, then Count" the only original teddy out, and he will hand over that $1,000 like a little man: For the following reasons;—

Sheppard sells a full size Man's Suit for $2.95, and better Goods than a Suit to fit a Child about 9 years old sold by the Wonderful Cheap-Man on Saturday for $3.00; but marked $3.50. This is how it was:—A Lady purchased a Child's Suit on Saturday last, Sept. 17th, 1887, at the Store of the Wonderful Cheap-Man. It was marked thusly:—Lot 5375, Breast 27, Waist 26½, Age 9, Price $3.50. It was pure Shoddy, being held together by cotton threads, and Sheppard is free to say that that was the dearest Suit sold in the Town of Peterborough for the last two years. Full particulars are given because of the $1000 involved, and, further, that this decides who is selling the Cheapest Clothing in Peterborough. SHEPPARD would have sold that Lady a Suit, Pure Wool for that money, and worth two of the one she got.

$1,000 to Go to the Charitable Institutions of Peterborough.

I had first decided to give the agencies a chance of jumping up my rating that $1.000, but after considering the matter and finding that never in any case have I been asked for an endorser to my paper, and that no relative or any other persons have ever endorsed my paper to the extent of one cent, I have come to the conclusion my credit is as good as yours and will ask you to hand over the $1,000 to the Charitable Institutions of Peterborough.

Now, Sir, there is a good story told the truth of which can be vouched for, but for the honor of at least making an effort to keep up your self-styled name—The Terror of High Priced Clothiers—do not allow the same to be said of you in the case above. A man purchased a suit for $15.00 at the store of one of the largest Advertisers in that section of country. It was guaranteed pure wool; but after examining it carefully at home, he came to the conclusion that he had been dealing with some one sharper than himself. Finding a make of wool, differing some from anything he had ever seen, it dawned upon him, that he had heard of wool of that kind, so the suit was returned. The merchant bet $25.00 that it was all wool, and the bet was accepted the decision being left to a neighboring merchant, he found that the $15.00 suit, was wool faced and shoddy back, pure unadulterated shoddy, but what of the $25.00 bet, was it paid, not much—muchly—as it were.

SHEPPARD is making Wonderful Strides in Securing Marvellous Bargains in Dry Goods, Clothing, Hats and Caps.

Fire in the South Ward.

This morning a plaster tenement house on Chamberlen street, belonging to the Chamberlen estate and occupied by Mr. Quinn, was totally destroyed. The occupants lost everything, having barely time to escape with their lives. There was no alarm rung and it would have been useless, for there is no water available, and a large district is at the mercy of any fire that breaks out. The fire is supposed to have been caused by the explosion of a lamp. The residence of Mr. John Russell, close by, was also damaged, but the loss is covered by insurance.

Meeting of the Directors.

The Peterborough Central Exhibition Affairs Discussed.—Protests Disposed of.—The Storekeeper Medal.

At a meeting of the directors of the Peterborough Central Exhibition held in the council chamber Wednesday afternoon, the President, Wm. Rutherford, occupied the chair. There were present Messrs. McClelland, Vance, Garbutt, Fitzgerald, Forster, Collins, Fair, Davidson and Stephenson.

The protest of Fitzgerald & Stenger against the award of a diploma to Parker Bros. for display of waggons, buggies, etc., when said articles had been exhibited for two or three years consecutively, was dismissed.

Mr. J. H. Dunbar, of Lakefield, protested against the award of first prize for the best peck of any new variety of potato, claiming that the identical class of potato that won the prize at the last exhibition had been shown by himself twice before, and that the man winning the prize got the seed from him. The protest was sustained.

The claim of Mr. W. R. Greatrix to the medal put up for competition between himself and Mr. Cooper, of Belleville, in the five mile bicycle race, was next discussed. Mr. Greatrix laid his claim in person before the meeting, but it was held by the directors that the Association was in no way responsible for the race falling through, and therefore they could not be held liable for their share of the medal. Mr. McClelland moved, seconded by Mr. Fair, that the Society still hold itself ready and willing to pay its share of the prize should the race be run at the next exhibition.—Carried.

On motion, the medal won by Mr. Millar in the foot race was ordered to be handed over to him.

The protest of Messrs. Elmhirst and Pettitt against the award of first prize in the Jubilee trotting purse, $25 worth of silverware, donated by Kingan Bros., to Mr. Wilson, of Lifford, whose team had won the race, on the ground that he had not fulfilled the conditions in having the horses in his possession the fixed length of time, was upheld, and the president and secretary were authorized to regain the articles if possible, Mr. Wilson having, though agreeing to await the judges' decision on the protest, improperly collected the prize before the case had been decided.

A protest, entered by Messrs. Davidson, Blezzard and Kerr, against the award of 1st prize for single carriage horse under 15½ hands high to Mr. F. G. Cox, on the ground that the animal had been exhibited in both the single and the double sections, was sustained and the prize withdrawn.

On motion, a china tea set was substituted for the first prize for thorough-bred horse, instead of the money on the list.

The protest of Mr. T. E. Fitzgerald against the award of first prize to G. W. Fitzgerald for two bushels of beans, because exhibitor did not show the full quantity, was dismissed and the award ratified.

The fair ground committee were empowered to settle with the caretakers.

A rebate of $5, license fee, was made to the W.C.T.U.

Messrs. McClelland, Davidson and Gallety were appointed a finance committee to scrutinize all the accounts.

The meeting then adjourned till Friday, 28th inst.

Burglary at Omemee.

Midnight Mechanics Carry off Between $300 and $400 worth of Jewellery and Watches.

Omemee was this morning greatly excited over a burglary which took place some time during the night. The store of Mr. R. Mulligan, druggist and jeweller, was entered by burglars and a large quantity of silverware and watches, variously estimated at between $200 and $400 worth, carried off. The burglars previously made an attempt upon the residence of Dr. Cochrane, but were frightened away by the Doctor's large dog. Two men known in the village are suspected of the crime. Acting-Chief Adams received a telegram to-day giving descriptions of the men.

A Successful Concert.

A most successful concert, under the auspices of the ladies of the St. John's (south ward) Sunday School, was given in St. John's school room on Wednesday evening. The room was crowded to the doors, standing space being at a premium, a fact showing that an appeal on behalf of a worthy object is not made to the public in vain, especially when the inducement of an excellent programme is included. A programme not too long was presented with good effect. It opened with a well-rendered duet by Misses M. Beck and F. Stevenson, followed by a beautiful vocal duet, "I Sing Because I Love to Sing," by Mrs. Seward and Miss (Ella) Cox, given with excellent effect. Mr. A. St. A. Smith gave a reading from Coleridge in a very satisfactory manner. Mr. M. Tierney's song by Birch, "I am Waiting," was so capitally rendered, both as to voice and expression, that he was compelled to respond to an encore. Miss Louise Yokome followed with a violin solo—Witchl's arrangement of the "Carnival of Venice". It was a rather difficult selection for a young performer, abounding in difficult shifts and rapid phrasing, but it was executed with very creditable success, which was improved upon in her second number, "L'Eclair" Jersey, a very pretty and piquant composition by Prof. Doucet. Mr. W. A. Dixon's entr'acte, an exhibition of ventriloquism, was done with exceeding cleverness. The entertainment by "Darby and Nellie" was exceedingly amusing, and elicited repeated peals of laughter. The mimetic portions were capitably done and the entire entertainment by Mr. Dixon was an exhibition of more than ordinary ventriloquial powers. Miss Nellie Wrighton opened the second part with a brilliantly rendered pianoforte selection showing her to be a young pianist of great merit with promise of greater excellence as future practice gives opportunity for the application of her firm and vigorous style. Mr. C. Brown's capital humorous reading, "Paudeen O'Rafferty's Say Voyage", elicited the invariable stormy encore that follows his readings. Mr. Bannell Sawyer gave a good rendering of "The Ship on Fire," doing credit to a very difficult selection. Mrs. Seward's song "Banbury Cross" was very sweetly sung. The programme was an excellent one, well and smoothly presented and the concert throughout was a very gratifying success, about $30 having been realized. The ladies of the Sunday School wish to take this means of thanking the several ladies and gentlemen who assisted in the programme, especially Prof. Seward and Prof. Doucet; the encroachment on their professional time was very obligingly permitted, and to all others who in any other way contributed to the success of the concert.

C. P. R. Collision.

A pitch-in occurred on the C.P.R. about 3 o'clock this morning at Green River, near Toronto, on the C.P.R. A freight train parted and another freight following collided with the standing portion of the train, smashing several cars. No lives are reported lost.

Peterborough Water Company

Annual Meeting of Shareholders—Details of Work Done.

The annual general meeting of the shareholders of the Peterborough Water Company was held at the Company's offices, Hunter street, on Monday evening, October the 17th.

The President, Mr. John Burnham, presented his report, giving statistics of the distribution of mains and services, and details of the work of the present season to date, particulars of which are more fully given in the extracts made below from the superintendent's statement. The report referred to the fairly satisfactory condition of the affairs of the Company, and closed with the following reference to the services of the efficient superintendent, Mr. Wilson Henderson:—

"The directors have to express their high opinion of Mr. Henderson, the Superintendent, and have much pleasure in certifying to his unremitting attention to the interests of the Company."

The old officers were re-elected as follows:—

PRESIDENT—Mr. John Burnham.
VICE-PRESIDENT—Mr. R. A. Morrow.
DIRECTORS—Messrs. R. P. Boucher, M. D., Chas. Stapleton and Geo. W. Hatton.

Mr. Hatton was reappointed secretary-treasurer.

The Bicycle Controversy.

To the Editor of the Examiner:

DEAR SIR,—In your issue of the 17th Mr. Cooper, the so-called champion of Belleville, writes a letter in which he makes a poor effort to paint me in dishonorable colors. In regard to part of my letter which he publishes, every word is correct; but he does not go any further than (as he thinks) suits his purpose. But I will do so. Before I thought of writing Mr. Cooper, I mentioned to a few of my friends that I was very sorry Cooper did not let me know of his father having $200 upon him, as I had been so informed was the case by a Belleville gentleman. Knowing he was not a betting man, and did not wish it to become public, I wrote Mr. Cooper and used those words, meaning that I would not have gone over the course and claimed the race, as I did do, in the belief that Mr. Cooper's backers would lose their bets. Regarding the wheel argument, I had a perfect right to fit myself out in the best way possible, and if Mr. Cooper did not, that was his own look-out, not mine. Then as to the track not being in good condition. Mr. Cooper wrote me he would race at the Fair, and we could not expect to have the Fair postponed till we had good weather. The track was just as good a track for him as for me. Mr. Cooper also forgot to mention that he distinctly said he would not run the race against my 30 lb wheel (not 22 lb as stated in the Intelligencer). I stated to him that I intended riding the race on the wheel I imported, as I had got a fall off my heavier machine, damaging the hind wheel so it would not track. However, I was perfectly willing to run the second race the following day on the heavier machine for the same prize, but it was no go with Mr. Cooper, as the "blood" in his eye had vanished. Now, for Mr. Cooper's benefit, I will say if it is possible to make him pay his share of the prize I will do so. He has not considered his word of honor worth anything. I told him if he went home and did not run the race I would cover the ground and claim it.

Thanking you for your space in the paper, I remain,

Yours truly,
W. R. GREATRIX.

Police Court.

Patrick Guirk, an old man who hails from Port Hope, and has lately been employed at Harry Winch's butchering establishment, got on a "bender" and was captured by the vigilant police. Mr. Guerin, also in Mr. Winch's employ, appeared in court this morning and vouched for the steady character of the defendant, who he stated had been made drunk on this occasion by other men who wanted to get him away from them. As this was Patrick's first appearance before the magistrate he was allowed to go.

A cow by-law case and a charge of using abusive language will before the court to-morrow.

Personal.

Mr. G. B. Sproule, after having apparently recovered from a recent illness, suffered a relapse last night.

Mr. Geo. A. Cox and Rev. Messrs. F. H. Wallace, J. C. Wilson and I. Tovell, from Peterborough, attended the funeral of the late Rev. Dr. Nelles at Cobourg yesterday.

Mr. T. E. Flaherty, of Belleville, formerly of the firm of Flaherty & Clark, Peterborough, is in town to-day in the interests of his business. Mr. Flaherty is a pushing business man and is making things hum in Belleville by keeping a large stock of ready-made clothing in connection with his gents' furnishing and shirt-manufacturing business. Mr. Flaherty knows the benefit of printers' ink, and uses the Belleville papers freely.

Examiner Bindery.

Merchants and business men, now is the time to call at the EXAMINER bindery and leave your orders for journals, day books, ledgers, invoice books, cheque books, and all blank books used in business. Don't wait till the moment you want to use them. All blank books last longer for not being used immediately after being finished.

Booming.

The Lindsay Warder says:—"We learn that the managers for Eastern Ontario of the Manufacturers' Life Insurance Company have written up over half a million dollars worth of business since the company commenced writing risks a little over two months ago. The total amount done by the company in the Dominion during that period reaches the magnificent sum of two million dollars. In this connection we are pleased to learn that Mr. Gallon, competing for a prize in gold offered for the largest business done in September, has captured the prize. The advertisement of this young and vigorous company appears in another column, to which we direct attention. We understand that several of our prominent citizens have subscribed for stock therein." Messrs. Wilson & Morrison are the managers above referred to. 2d93-1w42

Turnbull's direct importations of Mantle Cloths please everybody. The styles are New and the prices are very low.

Can These Things be Taught?

Every experienced business man knows the necessity of having this fundamental knowledge, and the grand question with him in the past has been, Can these principles be taught and learned in a school of business? Now he finds that they can be, for young gentlemen and ladies come directly from the business college to his desk who are able to grapple with the most difficult problems his books present and solve them with ease. There is no longer any doubt about this matter; and so certain is the course of training now pursued in the Peterborough Business College to produce this result, that the Principal does not hesitate to affirm that out of the large number of pupils who have borne off the diploma of the school, there was not one who could not manage a set of books and show himself perfectly at home in all the work of the counting-room.

Matrimonial.

Last night at the residence of Mr. Wm. Forster, North Monaghan, a happy matrimonial event occurred, the two young people united in holy wedlock being Mr. Harry T. Adamson and Mr. Forster's eldest daughter Lizzie. Rev. I. Tovell performed the ceremony. Miss Minnie Eastland, cousin of the bride, was bridesmaid, while Mr. Will Adamson acted in a similar capacity for the groom, his brother. There were a large number of guests present from town and country, and the presents to the bride were elegant and numerous. The bride is a niece of Mr. W. J. Green, town. The happy couple have taken up residence on the groom's farm in Monaghan.

THE MITCHELLSTOWN ROW

A MOTION TO QUASH THE FINDING OF THE JURY.

Evictions Resumed on the Estate of Lord Clanricarde — The Tenants Resist the Police—The Appeal of Messrs. O'Brien and Mandeville.

DUBLIN, Oct. 20.—An application was made before Judge O'Brien of the Court of Queen's Bench to-day for a writ of certiorari to quash the verdict of wilful murder rendered by the coroner's jury against the policemen who did the shooting at Mitchellstown. The application, being unopposed by the Attorney-General, was granted.

More Evictions.

DUBLIN, Oct. 20.—Three tenants on the estate of Lord Clanricarde were evicted to-day. Patrick Campbell strenuously resisted the officers, and during the melee his daughter Margaret was struck on the head with a crowbar and severely injured. Eight women and two men were arrested.

A number of ejectment notices against tenants on the Kingston estate have been posted in Mitchellstown.

O'Brien and Mandeville's Appeal.

DUBLIN, Oct. 20.—The appeals of Messrs. O'Brien and Mandeville from the sentence pronounced upon them will be heard by the Recorder of Cork at Mitchellstown on Oct. 31.

GLADSTONIAN WISDOM.

He Prefers That the Ulster Question Should be Left in Abeyance.

LONDON, Oct. 20.—Mr. Gladstone, in his speech at Nottingham last evening, said: "In regard to the Ulster question often pressed upon me by Lord Hartington and other gentlemen of importance, I tell you fairly, gentlemen, that I am not with my eyes open going to be drawn into a trap. [Laughter.] When I am asked at this juncture, without knowing the sentiments of my own friends or of the English, Scotch and Welsh people or of the people of Leinster, Munster, Connaught and Ulster, to bind myself to the proposal that Ulster or a part of Ulster shall be absolutely excluded from any Irish settlement, I tell you that that is rather too large a demand upon the credulity or even the folly of a man." [Laughter and cheers.]

He expressed his determination to leave this matter an open question as on the introduction of the home rule proposals.

In a speech at Derby to-day, in replying to those persons who had criticised his conduct, he said the policy of the Nationalist party did not now include rapine. The demands of the Nationalists had been moderate since 1881. It was not true that they desired to dismember the Empire, and there was no reason now why he should not approve of their conduct.

A $200,000 Fire in San Francisco.

SAN FRANCISCO, Oct. 20.—The Fulton Iron Works, the third largest in the city, were burned last night. The machine shops, with much machinery, including completed castings for six steam schooners, were destroyed; loss $200,000. The California Car Works, adjoining the iron works, were also burned; loss $50,000.

An Embezzler Pleads Guilty.

NEW YORK, Oct. 20.—Thos. H. Davis, assistant freight agent of the New York Central and Hudson River Railway, who absconded on Oct. 14 leaving a deficiency in his accounts of $13,000, was caught in Canada last Wednesday and brought to New York. He pleaded guilty and was held in $2500 bail.

The Assizes at Brockville.

BROCKVILLE, Oct. 18.—At the Assizes today one case occupied all day. It was a dispute as to the ownership of a strip of land between Landon Bay and the St. Lawrence River, in Lansdowne township. E. L. Simmons, plaintiff, and Charles Shipman, defendant. The case was not concluded.

J. Morris, indicted for the murder of Henry Donal, pleaded not guilty.

THE C. P. R. THE MAIL ROUTE TO JAPAN AND CHINA.

The Loss of the California—Protection of The Fisheries—The Eastern Rail Route—The Roulleliers' Grievance.

OTTAWA, Oct. 20.—The contract for the construction of the Short Line section between New Glasgow and Oxford, N.S., has not yet been awarded, and it is not likely that any action will be taken for a few days. Tenders for a section of the line between Oxford and the boundary line of Pictou County, also from Pugwash Junction to Pugwash will soon be called for.

The fishery protective service is pretty well over for the season, nearly all the American fishermen having gone home, most of them with very small fares. The steamer Acadia will be laid up in a few days and the Critic is being paid off. This will leave only the Vigilant and the Druid in commission.

It is understood that the Government is making arrangements for the handling and distribution of the mails between Japan and England via the C.P.R., and in this connection Vancouver will become a considerable postal centre, as all foreign mails coming east for Canada and the United States will be distributed from there. The sorting of foreign mails will probably be done at Montreal. Chief Postoffice Inspector Dewe and Inspector Fletcher of British Columbia are at present arranging the matter.

The Department of Marine has received an informal report from the commissioners enquiring into the loss of the propeller California, informing it that so far the evidence does not enable them to arrive at a definite conclusion. The department has ordered the mate and wheelman, now at Kingston, to be examined.

It is understood that no action will be taken this year with reference to the protest of the Canadian booksellers against the arrangement which permits publications mailed in the United States to come into Canada free of charge. The Canadian newsdealers claim that they are placed at a disadvantage when they have to put stamps on all American papers addressed to customers in Canada.

Advices from the Fort Pitt district state that Big Bear, who gave so much trouble during the rebellion, is living a very quiet life. He does not give the Mounted Police any trouble, and his braves, since the execution of the Frog Lake murderers, have been doing good work on their reserves.

Mr. Perley, Chief Engineer of the Department of Public Works, who has been in British Columbia inspecting the Esquimault graving dock, left for home yesterday. It is not at all probable that the dock will be enlarged at present, as it is considered quite large enough for the largest war ships in use on the Pacific coast.

Sir Hector Langevin was well enough to-day to attend Council, but will probably not resume his departmental duties for a few days yet, until he has quite recovered.

DEATH OF A CHIEF JUSTICE.

Hon. Lewis Wallbridge of Manitoba Dead at Winnipeg.

WINNIPEG, Oct. 20.—Chief Justice Wallbridge died this morning from kidney complaint. The remains will be sent east to-morrow evening for interment.

[The deceased gentleman was born at Belleville on Nov. 29, 1816, was called to the bar in 1839, was appointed a Queen's Counsel in 1856, and entered Parliament in 1867. During 1863-4 Mr. Wallbridge was Speaker of the Canadian Assembly. He was appointed Chief Justice of Manitoba in 1882.]

MARTIN FLYNN STRIKES BACK.

He Sues the Father of the Girl it is Alleged He Seduced for Defamation of Character.

OTTAWA, Oct. 20.—Martin Flynn, the alleged seducer of Minnie Allen who suicided recently at Chelsea, was up for preliminary examination before Stipendary Magistrate Prentice in Aylmer last night and was admitted to bail. The girl's father has also entered a civil suit against him for $5000.

Flynn appears determined that all the fun shall not be on one side as he has caused action to be taken against Jas. Allen, the father of the girl, for $5000 for defamation of character, by allowing certain letters to be published in the newspapers, and also maintaining that the letters in question were forgeries.

The preliminary examination in the case took place this morning at Hull and the case was sent down to the next assizes.

GENERAL CAFFAREL'S DISGRACE.

Deprived of His Office and to be Stripped of His Decorations.

PARIS, Oct. 20.—It is officially announced that Gen. Caffarel has been removed from his post of Chief of Staff of the War Office, and that his name has been struck from the army list. He will receive a yearly pension of 3000 francs. The Council of the Legion of Honor has recommended that his name be struck from the list of members, and that he be deprived of the right of wearing any decorations of the order.

The War Office having disposed of the matter, the case of Gen. Caffarel and the others implicated in the sale of decorations will now be handed over to the correctional police.

M. Wilson Will Defend His Conduct.

PARIS, Oct. 20.—M. Wilson has promised to attend a meeting, which has been called for Tuesday next at Tours, to discuss the charges recently brought against him. In his letter, accepting the invitation to be present he thanks the organizers of the meeting for affording him an opportunity to publicly defend his conduct.

Gen. Caffarel Arrested.

PARIS, Oct. 21.—Gen. Caffarel has been lodged in the Conciergerie.

A DEVILISH CRIME.

A Ship Engineer Kills a Coal Handler by Pouring Live Coals on Him.

GALVESTON, Tex., Oct. 20.—William R. McCullough, chief engineer of the steamship Comal, one of the Mallory line, which arrived here yesterday from New York, was arrested, charged with the murder of John H. Grahame, one of the coal handlers on the Comal. Grahame died when four days out from New York. A coal passer named Riley makes affidavit that Grahame's death resulted from McCullough pouring live coals over him and beating him while he was down. McCullough and several witnesses were jailed.

THE QUEBEC CONFERENCE

HON. OLIVER MOWAT CHOSEN CHAIRMAN OF THE GATHERING.

The Meeting to Held With Closed Doors, but Mr. Mercier Furnishes the Press With Copies of His Address of Welcome to the Delegates.

QUEBEC, Oct. 20.—The celebrated Interprovincial Conference has at last begun its session and the people of this staid old village, who will no doubt benefit pecuniarily at least by the crowd of entertainments proposed, are on the tiptoe of excitement as to what will be the outcome. All delegates are sworn to secrecy and as a consequence only speak in modulated tones in a non-committal manner of what took place. It is certain, however, from information derived from various sources that but little has been done to-day beyond the arrangement of details.

Shortly after midday the delegates met in the room of the Council of Public Instruction, which was elaborately decorated for the occasion, and at the suggestion of Mr. Mercier elected the Hon. Mr. Mowat chairman and Quebec's Premier vice. They remained in session for two hours and then adjourned, soon after which Clerk of the Executive Council Grenier handed a copy of Mr. Mercier's introductory remarks to the press. It was a document of 1300 words [illegible]. After reproducing the says from the Speech from the Throne at the opening of the last session of the Legislature, in which the proposal to hold an Interprovincial Conference was made, he welcomed the delegates in the name of the Quebec Government to the ancient capital, and proceeded: 'The kind manner in which you have accepted the invitation tendered you shows conclusively that you appreciate all the importance of this Interprovincial Conference, the first which has been held since 1864, which was attended by distinguished statesmen from Upper and Lower Canada, New Brunswick and Nova Scotia, and whose resolutions served, in some respects, as the basis of the Union Act of 1867.

"I am happy to observe that amongst the distinguished men who took part in the conference of 1864 was the Hon. Mr. Mowat, the present Premier of the Province of Ontario, which he has governed so successfully for fifteen years and who has so ably defended the cause of provincial autonomy.

"You as well as ourselves feel that it is not out of place nor opposed to the general interests of Canada, still less of the provinces, to convene, after a lapse of twenty years, representatives from the Governments of all the provinces, for the purpose of examining certain questions, an amicable solution of which the experience of past years may have shown to be necessary.

"The Government which has taken the initiative in connection with this conference deems it its duty to declare at once that the conference must not be considered in the light of a hostile movement against the Federal authorities, but that its sole object is to endeavor to solve, in the general interest of the whole of Canada, such difficulties as experience has shown to exist in the relations between the general and the provincial governments.

"The Government of Quebec desires that our Federal institutions be maintained, and in order that their maintenance and proper working may be secured it asks you to adopt means to remove all possibility of conflict between the general government and those of the provinces.

"In meeting to-day for the purpose of discussing the general interests of the confederation and of the provinces, and of ascertaining the defects and omissions in the working of our constitution, we must admit that we but imitate the example given by the most distinguished statesmen of confederated countries, in which at various periods of their history it has been found necessary to do what we are doing.

"I can give you no more convincing proof that the feeling which prompted the idea of this conference was devoid of all hostility against the Federal power than by reminding you that, following to the letter the declaration made by the head of the executive of this province, we have specially invited the Federal authorities to take part in our deliberations in order to assist us with their experience and their good will. It is with sincere regret that I am compelled to inform you that these authorities have declined the friendly invitation we tendered them. I may safely say that the result of this conference will establish the sincerity of this declaration and that our labors, inspired by the most enlightened patriotism and guided by the experience of the distinguished men whom I see about me, will be beneficial to the general interest of Canada and specially further those of the provinces which we respectively represent.

"Although the Government of this province has suggested the idea of this conference, I may state, and I hasten at once to do so, that it has no intention of dictating the subjects which are to be discussed. It merely indicates the chief points which have attracted its attention, and which might, perhaps, with others which you are invited to suggest, be the subject of your deliberations.

"Such are, gentlemen, some of the remarks which I deem it my duty to make at the opening of this conference to justify our action in the matter. I submit these remarks with all the respect due to our sister provinces and to the distinguished representatives they have sent here. I may be permitted to add that the members of the Government of this province, as well as the officers of the various departments, place themselves at your disposal, so as to lighten your labors and render your stay in our ancient capital as pleasant as possible.

"The Province of Quebec, which we have the honor to represent, trusts that the relations between the local governments will be as cordial in the future as they have been in the past, and that the deliberations of this conference will have the effect of strengthening our institutions, of contributing to the material, moral and intellectual welfare of the confederation, and of giving birth to a true Canadian spirit which, rising above all questions of race and creed, will enable the country to fulfil the great destiny which is in store for it."

Mr. Mercier concluded by asking heaven's blessing on their deliberations and moving Mr. Mowat to the chair.

The rock on which a split is expected is the subject of provincial subsidies, an increase of which the smaller provinces will endeavor to urge, while Ontario's delegates may be expected to object forcibly to this proposal, as Mr. Mowat well knows the interior will eventually have to come out of his province.

Mr. Norquay is reported to have prepared a most elaborate statement of Manitoba's case, but is as mum as the proverbial oyster and refuses to talk on the subject.

This afternoon the entire party, including their ladies, drove out to Spencerwood, the Lieutenant-Governor's residence, and were received by Mr. Masson's secretary, Mr. Burroughs.

To-morrow evening Madame Mercier's reception, to which several thousand invitations have been issued, will take place.

ANOTHER CONFERENCE.

It is Hinted that Mr. Mercier Meditates a Territorial Grab.

QUEBEC, Oct. 21.—Hon. John Norquay and C. E. Hamilton, representatives of Manitoba at the Interprovincial Congress, arrived here this morning. The conference commenced at 11 o'clock closed doors, but it has leaked out that Hon. O. Mowat was unanimously elected chairman on account of his long standing as a leader of Government and his former experience at the Congress on Confederation.

Mr. Mercier commenced his address this morning, setting forth the purposes of the convention. Beyond the fact that the speech covers six or seven columns nothing could be learned, as the convention is conducted in private. The representatives are being treated with princely hospitality.

Hon. Mr. McLelan is expected from New Brunswick to-morrow, and British Columbia's representative will probably arrive to-night or early in the morning.

It was hinted this morning that one of Mr. Mercier's points will be the boundary line of the Province of Quebec, and a vast portion of territory now under the Hudson's Bay Company will be claimed. Another feature will be to bring the Quebec and Lake St. John Railway into a closer connection with the Northwest, it being claimed that a shorter line to the seaboard can be obtained in this way by about some 300 miles. It is also stated that, pending this action on the part of the Province of Quebec, a number of capitalists are prepared to interest themselves to any extent financially.

AN ATTEMPT AT SUICIDE.

A Pensioner at Hamilton Cuts His Throat—A Tobacconist Arrested.

HAMILTON, Oct. 20.—This morning John Mooney, a pensioner, was found lying by the roadside near the toll-gate at Stoney Creek by the toll-gate keeper. He had two cuts upon his throat, one on each side, and was smeared and spattered with blood. He handed him over to County Constable O'Neil. That officer brought him into this city. The man retained strength considerable under the treatment he got at Stoney Creek, and when he arrived in this city was able to talk about himself. He said that he had tried to kill himself by cutting his throat with a tobacco knife. The cut upon the left side of the neck was a deep and pretty extensive one, but none of the important organs were cut. The cut on the right side was not so deep. From the King William-street Police Station the constable took him to the City Hospital. There his wounds were dressed, and Dr. Olmsted thinks he will soon pull through.

H. O. Sountag, wholesale and retail tobacconist, was arrested here this afternoon on a warrant from St. Thomas charging him with obtaining the acceptance of two notes from John McKillop, hotel-keeper of that city, under false pretenses. The notes are for $70 each. The prisoner was released on bail.

A MYSTERY SOLVED.

The Identity of the Woman Found Dead at Railway Embankment.

NEW BRUNSWICK, N.J., Oct. 20.—It is stated that the detectives have at last succeeded in establishing the identity of the woman mysteriously murdered at Railway several months ago, in the person of a Mrs. Annie Ingram, who two years ago came to America from Birmingham, Eng. The last seen of her was when she left Bound Brook, where she was employed as a domestic. While in the latter place she became acquainted with a man to whom she was married on Dec. 8, but she left her husband the next morning and went to Philadelphia, leaving all her effects behind. The man disappeared a few days later and has not been seen since. Who he is the officers refuse to say. Shortly before she was murdered the woman returned here, and remained a short time at the United States Hotel, but disappeared suddenly, and was not seen again. The detectives expect to arrest their man by midnight.

WAVING THE RED FLAG.

A Demonstration of Socialists in Hyde Park, London.

LONDON, Oct. 20.—A number of Socialists and unemployed workmen gathered in Hyde Park to-day. One of the speakers unrolled and waved a red flag, crying "The glorious commune." A section of the mob thereupon stampeded, scores of persons in the crowd were thrown down and trampled upon. Those who stampeded reassembled later, in another portion of the park.

The crowd appointed a deputation to visit the Home Office. The deputation found that the Home Secretary was absent, but secured an interview with a minor secretary, who promised that he would represent their views to the Home Secretary upon his return. A large crowd followed the deputation from the park to the Home Office and congregated about the building. After the interview the police charged the crowd, but were met with resistance. A short but sharp struggle followed, in which the police were successful in dispersing the mob. Many persons were injured.

Amputated With an Axe.

LINCOLN, Neb., Oct. 20.—On the B. and M. road, three miles from this city, yesterday, two freight trains collided; both engines and seventeen loaded cars were burned. Brakeman Isaac Davenport was caught in the wreck, and in order to release him, to prevent cremation, a trainman chopped off his imprisoned leg with an axe. He lived but a few hours.

A Tragedy on a Russian Ship.

COPENHAGEN, Oct. 20.—The Russian schooner Johannes was towed into this port to-day. The supercargo had murdered the captain and five of the crew, and thrown their bodies overboard.

STILL WANTS AN ORGAN.

The following from the Hamilton Times, contains the truth in every line :—Sir John Macdonald continues to write begging letters to Tory manufacturers, urging them to subscribe money to start a new Tory newspaper in Toronto. One was received the other day by a Hamilton firm, which is certainly not in a position to waste any money in such an enterprise. Sir John's persistent adherence to his scheme goes to show that he does not feel the most implicit confidence in the ability of the organs he already possesses—the Hamilton Spectator, London Free Press, Toronto World and Belleville Intelligencer—to permanently induce the people of Ontario to vote against their own interests. He cannot want an organ more slavish than all of these, but he evidently wants to enlist greater ability in his service than is already at his command. Why should Tories be called upon to put up their good money to establish and maintain organs? A newspaper which tells the truth and serves the people does not need any subsidizing. It gives its customers value for their money every time, and with ordinary good management it pays its way Mr. Blake has never had to send letters to wealthy Reformers urging them to subscribe money to keep the Times, or the London Advertiser, or the Toronto Globe afloat. The Reform papers take the popular side and do not have to be paid to tell the truth. The "organs" which uphold monopoly are in a different position. They naturally look to the monopolists, and not to the public, for compensation. Sir John Macdonald is a sort of "missing link" between the monopolists and the organs. One of these fine days the people will repudiate the organs, the monopolists and Sir John all together.

During the last Federal elections we heard it advanced on every platform by spouters of the Dominion Government that the increase in the government savings banks deposits was a true index of the prosperity of the masses, and a vindication of the wisdom of the fiscal policy of the government. On the other hand it was contended by Liberals that the increase was due to men of means putting their spare funds into the savings bank—the failure of the "N.P." making investment of "millions" in manufacturing enterprises risky and unprofitable. That the latter contention was right is easily shown. The change in Government savings bank regulations, under which the amount allowed to be placed on deposit in any year is put at $300, while the total deposit of any individual cannot exceed $1,000, is making itself felt. There is a falling off in the deposits in the government banks and an increase by $371,000 in those in the ordinary banking institutions. These facts and figures utterly disprove the contentions made by Hon. Thomas White and Hon. Mr. Foster on the stage af the Opera House last February.

MR. JAMES ROWAND, the nominee of the Reform Convention, has been elected for West Bruce by acclamation. Thereupon that unattached and self-constituted Tory organ, the Toronto World, remarks that "the Conservatives have acted prudently in deciding not to contest West Bruce. That riding is a "hive" which contains nothing for them but the stings of defeat." Sir John must have had a "bee in his bonnet" when he originated his "hive" factory—by the way, about the only new industry started in Canada under the N.P. He himself sharpened the "sting" which gave Mr. J. H. Scott, the Conservative candidate last February, 1065 prods—Mr. Blake's majority over him.

THE sum collected through the efforts of Principal Grant towards the endowment of Queen's University is $190,000, and $60,000 is yet required. It is now proposed that the graduates and friends of the college try their hands at securing subscriptions to make up the deficiency. The endowment certainly should not be allowed to fall through for the want of the balance.

GEN. BOULANGER, the erstwhile pet of the French people, is now in disgrace. His case is, however, not utterly hopeless: a new style of ladies' hats has been named after the fire-eating "Baker." It is in the shape of a clown's hat pranked out with feathers, not on a foundation like a military helmet.

THE following gentlemen are in attendance at the Inter-provincial Conference, which opened in Quebec on Thursday:—

Hon. Messrs. Mowat (Premier), Fraser, A. M. Ross, G. W. Ross, and Hardy, of the Ontario Government;

Hon. Messrs. Norquay (Premier), and Hamilton, of the Manitoba Government;

Hon. Messrs. Blair (Premier), and McLellan, of the New Brunswick Government;

Hon. Messrs. Fielding (Premier), Longley, and McGillivray, of the Nova Scotian Government;

Hon. Mr. Mercier (Premier), and his colleagues of the Quebec Government.

A QUEBEC JUDGE GETS IT.

Hon. Auguste Angers Appointed Lieutenant-Governor of Quebec.

OTTAWA, Oct. 20.—The question of the Lieutenant-Governorship of the Province of Quebec was settled to-day by the appointment of the Hon. Auguste Leal Angers, Judge of the Superior Court of Quebec, to the position. Judge Angers was in town to-day and had a conference with Sir John and other members of the Cabinet, at which he consented to accept the office. He will be sworn in on the return of His Excellency to the capital.

Judge Angers was born in Quebec in 1838 and educated there. He was called to the bar of that province in 1860, and was for many years a member of the extensive law firm of Langlois, Angers & Colston. He was first returned to the Local House for Montmorenci in 1881 and represented that constituency until the famous coup d'etat of Lieutenant-Governor Letellier in 1878, at which time he was leader in the Assembly. He was defeated by Hon. C. Langelier at the general election for the local in 1878, but elected for the Commons at the by-election in February, 1880, on the unseating of Mr. Valin. On November 13, 1880, he was appointed a puisne judge of the Superior Court of Quebec in place of Judge Rosse, resigned.

Mr. Chamberlain Will Sail From Liverpool on October 29.

LONDON, Oct. 20.—Joseph Chamberlain, who goes to America as a member of the Fisheries Commission, will sail for New York on the steamer Etruria, which leaves Liverpool on Oct. 29. John H. C. Bergne, chief clerk of the American Department of the Foreign Office, and Willoughby D. Maycock of the Commercial Department of the same office will accompany him.

THE ALASKAN SEIZURES.

How American Officials Honor the Instructions of Their Superiors.

WASHINGTON, Oct. 20.—The correspondence between the Department of Justice and its officers in Alaska in regard to the release of the British vessels seized during the summer of 1886 for alleged violation of the seal fishery laws was made public to-day. Following is the text of the telegram directing the release

WASHINGTON, Jan. 26, 1887.

To Judge Lafayette Dawson and M. D. Ball, United States Attorney, Sitka, Alaska:

I am directed by the President to instruct you to discontinue all further proceedings in the matter of the seizure of the British vessels Carolina, Onward and Thornton, and discharge all vessels now held under such seizures, and release all persons that may be under arrest in connection therewith. (Signed)

A. H. GARLAND, Attorney General.

This was followed by a letter from Barton Atkins, U.S. Marshal at Sitka, dated Sept. 20, 1887, in which he acknowledged the receipt of the above telegram, but says that there it was considered a fraudulent despatch, notwithstanding which belief Judge Dawson had delayed further proceedings in the cases and had written the departments for further instructions in the matter. Judge Dawson's letter has not been received at the department.

Under date of Oct. 12, 1887, the Attorney-General sent a telegram to Marshal Atkins at Sitka, granting him leave of absence to go to San Francisco for the purpose of selling about 2000 fur skins which were condemned and ordered sold by the court in Alaska last year, and which are now reported as being in a perishable condition.

The telegram concluded as follows: "Let the vessels Carolina, Onward and Thornton be released, as ordered in my telegram of Jan. 26 last.

Then, under date of Oct. 15, 1887, the Attorney-General mailed a letter to Marshal Atkins, in which he said: "That there may be no misunderstanding as to the meaning of my telegram of Oct. 12 to you, I repeat the instruction to release the vessels Jaroline, Onward and Thornton, ordered to be released by my telegram to Judge Dawson and Attorney Ball, dated Jan. 6 last."

BOTH ENGINEERS KILLED.

A Disastrous Collision on a South Carolina Railway.

CHARLESTON, S.C., Oct. 20.—A freight train from Spartanburg and a passenger train from Atlanta collided at Greers, twelve miles east of Greenville, this morning. Both engineers were killed and the total killed is variously estimated at from three to ten. The Morgan Rifles of Spartanburg were on the passenger train returning from Atlanta.

The collision occurred three miles west of Greers, and was caused by the freight train not reaching at Greers to let the passenger train pass. The latter train consisted of nine coaches and passed Greenville four hours late. Both engines were wrecked, also the postal, baggage and express car of the passenger train and the first three cars of the freight. Engineer Harris and Conductor Reville of the freight train disappeared. A negro saw them running through the woods.

The killed are: Mrs. H. McDonnell of Asheville, N.C., and Robt. Ward, the passenger train engineer.

The injured are: J. B. Erwin of Asheville, N.C., leg broken and foot badly crushed; Ed. Harnell, fireman of the passenger train, arm amputated and badly scalded, expected to die; J. L. Webster, Columbus, Ga., train man, right arm amputated and otherwise seriously injured; James Kingan, Greenville, S. M. Dickman and W. R. Wilson, Atlanta, Ga., painfully bruised: Misses Mary and Nancy Erwin and Willie Erwin of Asheville, badly bruised, and Philip Black (colored) brakeman of freight train, concussion of the brain, very serious.

In Brief, And To The Point.

Dyspepsia is dreadful. Disordered liver is misery. Indigestion is a foe to good nature.

The human digestive apparatus is one of the most complicated and wonderful things in existence. It is easily put out of order.

Greasy food, tough food, sloppy food, bad cookery, mental worry, late hours, irregular habits, and many other things which ought not to be, have made the American people a nation of dyspeptics.

But Green's August Flower has done a wonderful work in reforming this sad business and making the American people so healthy that they can enjoy their meals and be happy.

Remember:—No happiness without health. But Green's August Flower brings health and happiness to the dyspeptic. Ask your druggist for a bottle. Seventy-five cents.

To Avoid Baldness or Gray Hair.

Use Dr. Dorenwend's Great German Hair Magic. It keeps the scalp clean and free from Dandruff, and promotes the growth of the hair. It prevents premature grayness and stops all falling out of the hair. On bald heads, where the roots have not perished, it will invigorate them and force a new growth of hair. Ask for Hair Magic. It is the only reliable. For sale by J. D. Tully and all druggists.

I have been bothered with catarrh for about twenty years. I had lost my sense of smell entirely for the last fifteen years, and I had to get some one to thread my needle. Now I have my hearing as well as I ever had, and I can see to thread as fine a needle as ever I did. My sense of smell is partly restored; it seems to be improving all the time. I think there is nothing like Ely's Cream Balm for Catarrh.—Mrs. R. E. Grimes, Rondrill, Ohio. eodw42

Invariable Indications.

If you have Sour Stomach, Heartburn Sick Headache, rising and souring of food, wind in the stomach, a choking or gnawing sensation at the pit of the stomach, then you have sure indications of Dyspepsia, which Burdock Blood Bitters will surely cure. It has cured the worst cases on record. 2w42d

VICTORY has Perched on the Banner of

PETERBOROUGH'S GREAT CHEAPSIDE!

And SHEPPARD, by common consent, will get $1,000 for being the Cheapest Clothier in Peterborough, having knocked the Wonderful Cheap Man completely out. "Business is Business; Dirt is Dirt, and when it comes to throwing Dirt, then Count" the only original teddy out, and he will hand over that $1,000 like a little man: For the following reasons:—

Sheppard sells a full size Man's Suit for $2.95, and better Goods than a Suit to fit a Child about 9 years old sold by the Wonderful Cheap-Man on Saturday for $3.00; but marked $3.50. This is how it was:—A Lady purchased a Child's Suit on Saturday last, Sept. 17th, 1887, at the Store of the Wonderful Cheap-Man. It was marked thusly:—Lot 5375, Breast 27, Waist 26½, Age 9, Price $3.50. It was pure Shoddy, being held together by cotton threads, and Sheppard is free to say that that was the dearest Suit sold in the Town of Peterborough for the last two years. Full particulars are given because of the $1000 involved, and, further, that this decides who is selling the Cheapest Clothing in Peterborough. SHEPPARD would have sold that Lady a Suit, Pure Wool for that money, and worth two of the one she got.

$1,000 to Go to the Charitable Institutions of Peterborough.

I had first decided to give the agencies a chance of jumping up my rating that $1.000, but after considering the matter and finding that never in any case have I been asked for an endorser to my paper, and that no relative or any other persons have ever endorsed my paper to the extent of one cent, I have come to the conclusion my credit is as good as yours and will ask you to hand over the $1,000 to the Charitable Institutions of Peterborough.

Now, Sir, there is a good story told the truth of which can be vouched for, but for the honor of at least making an effort to keep up your self-styled name—The Terror of High Priced Clothiers—do not allow the same to be said of you in the case above. A man purchased a suit for $15.00 at the store of one of the largest Advertisers in that section of country. It was guaranteed pure wool; but after examining it carefully at home, he came to the conclusion that he had been dealing with some one sharper than himself. Finding a make of wool, differing some from anything he had ever seen, it dawned upon him, that he had heard of wool of that kind, so the suit was returned. The merchant bet $25.00 that it was all wool, and the bet was accepted the decision being left to a neighboring merchant, he found that the $15.00 suit, was wool faced and shoddy back, pure unadulterated shoddy, but what of the $25.00 bet, was it paid, not much—muchly—as it were.

SHEPPARD is making Wonderful Strides in Securing Marvellous Bargains in Dry Goods, Clothing, Hats and Caps.

Can These Things be Taught?

Every experienced business man knows the necessity of having this fundamental knowledge, and the grand question with him in the past has been, Can these principles be taught and learned in a school of business? Now he finds that they can be, for young gentlemen and ladies come directly from the business college to his desk who are able to grapple with the most difficult problems his books present and solve them with ease. There is no longer any doubt about this matter; and so certain is the course of training now pursued in the Peterborough Business College to produce this result, that the Principal does not hesitate to affirm that out of the large number of pupils who have borne off the diploma of the school, there was not one who could not manage a set of books and show himself perfectly at home in all the work of the counting-room.

Officers Elected.

The election of officers of the Iteman Catholic young mens' temperance, literary and debating society took place last evening, resulting as follows:—

HONORARY PRESIDENT—J. W. Fitzgerald.
PRESIDENT—J. D. McIlmoyle.
VICE-PRESIDENTS—Doctors Brennan and Collins.
SECRETARY—John Corkery.
TREASURER—J. Dolan.

A committee of seven was also appointed to choose the subjects of debate, etc. The first debate will take place next Wednesday evening, the subject being, "Who is the best informed man, the one who reads or the one who travels?" Dr. Collins upholds the man who reads, and Mr. Frank Wilson leads the opposition. Meetings will be held in the Murray street school every Wednesday evening at eight o'clock.

A "Correction" Corrected.

On Tuesday morning a person giving the name of George Gray was fined $5 at the police court for being drunk and disorderly. On Wednesday morning the EXAMINER, on behalf of Mr. George Gray, late of the Grand Central Hotel, was requested to state that the George Gray referred to was a book agent. This morning Mr. George Gray, the book agent, called, somewhat indignant that he should be identified with the alcoholic offender. It is certain that Mr. Gray the agent is not the person who was fined, and it seems very unfair of the other Mr. Gray, if not misinformed, to use the similarity of names to remove the odium from himself. The genuine Gray is—but it is better, perhaps, not to say who he, is for fear of further complications of a gray-ve madde.

Presentation and Address.

A Signal Compliment to Mr. J. B. McWilliams.

Yesterday at the West Peterborough County Orange meeting at Lakefield, after the routine business had been concluded, J. H. Campbell, Esq., County Chaplain, presented the following address to the County Master:—

J. B. McWilliams, Esq., W. C. M. West Peterborough L.O.L., and R.W.J.D.G.M. of the Grand Lodge of Ontario, East.

DEAR SIR AND BRO.—

Learning that you are about to retire from active connection with the Orange Association, many of your friends, members thereof, beg leave to present you with a slight recognition both of their personal esteem and regard for yourself and also of your many pecuniary and fraternal services heretofore, both to your brother Orangemen and to the order to which you belong.

Whilst we very much regret that your voice will no longer be heard in the councils of the Association and whilst we regret the reasons which now impel you to so final and important a conclusion we have the greatest pleasure in acknowledging the fact that as long as you have continued a member of our Order, you have always been true to its principles, faithful to its laws and ever ready and willing both in word and deed to do your utmost to advance and cherish its primary and essential objects.

It is gratifying to know that the duty you owed to yourself and to your country has never been inconsistent with the duty you owed to the Association, and we feel assured that the good you have accomplished in our order has been a sufficient reward in itself, and whether inside or outside of the Orange Association we feel confident that you will ever bear a true allegiance to the grand truths and principles which underlie and are the very foundation of our Association.

We trust that both yourself and your wife may be long spared to use and enjoy our present, knowing well that you ever have the respect and good wishes not only of this order but of the public at large.

At the conclusion of his address Mr. Campbell, in a few complimentary remarks, presented the County Master with a handsome hand-decorated French china dinner set of 128 pieces, valued at about $100.

Mr. J. B. McWilliams, County Master, replied briefly, and said that it was with mingled feelings of pleasure and regret he met with them this evening and received the address and token of respect from his friends in the Orange Association. It was a pleasure to meet again with so many old friends whom he knew to be true to every principle of the Order, but he regretted that the actions of some Orangemen have been such that he could not consistently and conscientiously remain any longer in the position of County Master. He had been often annoyed at the unkind treatment received at the Grand Lodge meetings and public demonstrations, and that only on account of his being a Liberal in politics. He had almost determined years ago to retire from the Order, but when he returned home and met with the brethren of Peterborough, that feeling would pass away, for he always felt proud of the Peterborough Orangemen, and until the last two or three years ago had every reason to feel proud of them for there never was a body of men who had worked more harmoniously together. For some time he had been anxious to retire from the position of County Master, and were it not for the open boastings of some that he could not be elected he would not have consented to be a candidate the last two years. On many public questions he held diverse views from a large number of the Orangemen and he claimed the right to exercise his own judgment. Under present circumstances he felt there was no other course open to him but to withdraw from the order. He thanked thanked the Orangemen for the kind wishes expressed in their address and for the valuable present, and hoped that he might long retain the good wishes of his many orange friends.

Messrs. J. Graham Weir, Christopher Quinn, Robert Weir and others spoke very flatteringly and eulogistically of the ability, energy and faithfulness of the retiring County Master, and it was carried by a standing vote that the address should be suitably engrossed and after being signed by the principal officers of the lodge should have the county L.O.L. seal attached.

After the ceremony, Mr. J. B. McWilliams resigned the office of County Master for reasons as stated in his valedictory. Richard Waram, Esq., of Smith, was unanimously elected in his stead and Mr. John Smith, of Ashburnham, was elected to the vice-chair.

Peterborough Riflemen.

The annual matches of the East Durham Rifle Association were held at Port Hope Wednesday and Thursday. Among those who attended from a distance was a delegation of Peterborough riflemen, Capt. Sanderson and Messrs. F. Hall, W. A. Mason, J. B. Pentland and D. Cameron. Mr. Pentland finished but one match, he having to return home Wednesday night. In the Association match, Mr. Hall ranked first with a score of 59 points, winning $8. In the all-comers match Capt. Sanderson won $4, Mr Mason $2, Mr Cameron $1. Capt. Sanderson, the only one of the Peterborough delegation who shot in the military match, won $3. In the extra series match Mr Mason won another $2. The scoring was admirable throughout the matches. Some 45 riflemen were in the lists, including 15 who have been and are at present on the Wimbledon team. Considering the heavy odds pitted against them the Peterborough men made a good showing.

Their Annual Tea.

The congregational tea of the George street Methodist church, held in the school room last night, was a pronounced success. The room was well filled by members of the congregation and a few outside friends, who were liberally supplied with substantial refreshments about eight o'clock. The ladies of the church provided the edibles in their usual completely satisfactory manner. After tea, Rev. Mr. Wallace called the assembly to order, and in a few happy preliminary remarks, anent the duties of church people towards visitors and their pastor, introduced the first number of the programme, a solo, "Rock of Ages," nicely sung by Miss Sophie Cameron. Mr. D. W. Dumble followed in a brief address, appropriate to the occasion, after which Mrs. W. Daly rendered "Only a Little Mountain Lad," in her customary admirable style. A short address from Mr. H. S. Griffin upon the work of the Sunday School, a well sung solo, "Beautiful Isle of the Sea," by Major Rundell, a few remarks from Mr. Wm. Yelland, and a vocal solo, "Jamany Town," by Mr. J. E. Jaques, one of the most pleasing numbers on the programme, brought the entertainment to a close, but not before a vote of thanks to those who had so generously provided the physical and intellectual entertainment of the evening, had been moved by Mr. Dumble, seconded by Dr. Fife, and carried with hearty unanimity.

Police Court.

FRIDAY, October 21.

This morning P. C. McGinty charged Thomas Pope with being drunk and disorderly. He was fined $2.

He was arrested immediately afterwards for the non-payment of a Scott Act fine, having been convicted in April last. He was ordered to pay the amount or assume the penalty of two months in gaol.

OFF THE DOCKET.

The "abusive language" case, Mr. McConnell vs. Joseph Valois, was settled before coming into court.

In the cow by-law case, no action could be taken, as the necessary papers had not been served

Peterborough's Prime Cheese

The September Makes Being Shipped—The Local Buyers Straightforward Men.

Part of the September makes of cheese of Peterborough and Victoria counties is being shipped to-day; the remainder goes to-morrow. Messrs. Dundas and Flavelle are shipping as follows:—

	Boxes.
Warminster	220
North Smith	200
Central Smith	100
Lakefield	140
Warsaw	165
Total	825

Mr. W. Cluxton is shipping:—

	Boxes.
Downeyville	144
Starr	194
North Oppe	74
Roseboro	115
Total	527

Mr. Cluxton's shipments to-morrow will be:—

	Boxes.
Shearer	250
Central	49
Shearer	120
Pine Grove	150
Otonabee Union	65
Glenthorne	75
	709

The local cheese buyers, though the market is a cent against them, are fulfilling their contracts with the makers to the letter. The makes of September and October cheese were purchased at 12½c. for both counties. Newspaper reports indicate that buyers elsewhere are breaking their contracts with the makers on account of the unsatisfactory state of the market. The dairymen of Peterborough and Victoria are fortunate in having among them buyers of such integrity of character that they carry out their agreements in spite of adverse circumstances. The buyers do not even take any advantage over the makers in testing, as Mr. W. H. Wrighton has acted for them and his decisions have been accepted without murmur. Mr. Cluxton does more than he is by contract called upon to do, in accepting any surplus over the stipulated make there might be. Such honorable conduct under discouraging circumstances should earn for the buyers the highest esteem of all dairymen.

CRIMINAL NEGLIGENCE.

The Inspector of the New York Building which Fell will be Indicted.

NEW YORK, Oct. 19.—Rev. Father Kiernan, pastor of the Church of Our Lady of Mount Carmel, who was buried in the school house he was building, died this morning.

Wm. J. Martin, the inspector of the school house, was dismissed to-day by the commissioners. It is probable that the Grand Jury will indict Martin for criminal negligence.

The boy Levi died to-day after having a leg amputated. This makes the record seven killed and twelve wounded by the disaster.

Both Were Shot Dead.

POTTSVILLE, Pa., Oct. 19.—A year ago Henry Shaffner, a widower aged 74, married Mrs. Swedley, a widow, aged 26. Shaffner was well off but of a penurious and morose disposition, and the couple lived unhappily. This morning the neighbors heard the couple quarreling and shortly afterward the reports of several pistol shots. Rushing in they found the door of an upstair room locked, and breaking it open discovered Mrs. Shaffner lying upon her face on the garret stairway with a bullet wound in her back, and near by her husband lying upon the floor shot in the mouth. Both were dead. Near the body of Shaffner lay a revolver with four chambers empty. Each of the victims leaves a family of adult children.

Committed to the Central Prison.

PETERBORO, Oct. 19.—Elijah Windover, Ephraim Windover, Harvey T. Windover and Augustus Montgomery, all young men under 25 years of age, were sentenced this morning by Police Magistrate Dumble to one year in the Central Prison, on conviction of having stolen a quantity of supplies from a lumber shanty belonging to J. M. Irwin, situated in the Township of Anstruther, about fifty miles north of this place. Montgomery's father awaits trial on the charge of acting as a "fence."

Withdrawn From the Knights.

CHICAGO, Oct. 19.—The Local Assembly of Steam Engineers has withdrawn from the Knights of Labor and formed an independent order of its own.

Personal.

Mr. Melville Millar has purchased the hardware business of Mr. Peter Bertram, of Orillia, and again entered into active business pursuits. He will take up his residence there for the future. His family leave on Tuesday for their new home. The numerous friends of Mr. and Mrs. Millar will regret their removal from Peterborough. During their stay here they have won a warm place in many hearts. Mr. Millar's departure makes a vacancy in the presidency of the Reform Association of West Peterborough, a position which he has most satisfactorily and efficiently filled. In losing Mr. Millar, Peterborough parts with one of its most solid and respected citizens, and Orillia is to be congratulated on its acquisition. It is to be hoped that Mr. Millar and family may at some future time come back to us as residents.

A New Cemetery.

The rate of mortality in Peterborough is low, and therefore it will be a surprise to many that our town fathers have established a new cemetery in town. A most undesirable location has been selected—Simcoe street, from the town buildings to the George street sewer. This distance is now one yawning grave for the burial of town funds. Within the past year there have been several interments of large and respectable sums of the town funds. The city fathers find it rather difficult to make water run up hill without some proper vis a tergo. Fault finders have the "cheek" to say that this perpetual burial of public funds is a waste of money. It seems like it, but while there is a waste in one direction there is a chance to save money presented to the people at the great establishment on george street of gough the wonderful cheap man. There the public will find a perfect pyramid of cheap clothing as good as it is cheap. Call and investigate, you will save money. If not convenient to go now read his advertisement in the local papers, and gough will see you later. d96

SATURDAY, OCTOBER 22, 1887.

SECRECY SURROUNDS THE INTER-PROVINCIAL CONFERENCE.

Mr. Norquay Said to Have Made a Bitter Attack Upon the Federal Government—Madame Mercier's Reception a Brilliant Success.

QUEBEC, Oct. 21.—The conference met at 11 this morning and sat until 4, with the usual intermission for lunch, but owing to the great secrecy surrounding their deliberations it is impossible to obtain any authentic statement of their doings. Despite this mystery, however, it has leaked out that after Mr. Mowat had been chosen President of the conference yesterday, Mr. Norquay arose and delivered a short but exceedingly clear speech, in which he mentioned the awkward position Sir John had placed him in with regard to the Red River Railway dispute.

One of the delegates is authority for the statement that he made use of the bitterest terms when he referred to the federal authorities. He did not doubt that great good would result for the whole country from the conference and informed the delegates that, although he was a Conservative, they might rely upon him to endorse any measure that might go to benefit the provinces in particular and the whole Dominion. One of the ministers of the local cabinet said: "That was a great speech of Norquay's. He is with us entirely. His utterances made a great impression upon the other delegates who had no reason to expect so much from him."

All sorts of rumors are being circulated with regard to the question to be discussed by the conference. From a trustworthy source it is learned the probabilities are that the subsidy question will be one of the first to be discussed, and that an agreement will be come to favoring a basis of $1 a head according to population as determined by every decennial census. The abolition of the Federal veto powers will, it is said, be strongly pressed by Mr. Norquay, supported by his colleagues of the other provinces, who favor submitting to the Supreme Court any legislation which might be considered by the Federal Government as unconstitutional. Regarding the appointment of judges it will probably be decided to endeavor to limit the appointing power of the Federal Government to a list of benchers previously elected by the bars of each province. The franking privilege on all official postoffice matter will, it is rumored, be asked in favor of the provincial departments. So far the General Postoffice Department at Ottawa has been levying a large revenue from provincial Government correspondence.

The provincial boundaries will probably be definitely revised and settled so as to leave no doubt as to the limits of their territorial jurisdiction. The Premier of Quebec will claim all that immense territory lying north to Hudson Bay from Labrador to the Ottawa, which strictly belongs to this province, although claimed so far by the Federal Government as the Northeast Territory.

The representation of the provinces in the Senate will, it is said, also be discussed, the appointment of senators being left to the Legislature or Government of each province, as some other mode of nominating senators being devised, so as to secure a fair provincial representation in that most important house.

The wet weather spoiled all the plans to-day for a drive to Montmorenci Falls and all the delegates had to look forward to Madame Mercier's reception this evening, which from every point of view was a social success, the like of which has never been equalled in the ancient capital, whose citizens, as well as others from Montreal and other parts of the province, attended without political distinction. Cardinal Taschereau wrote a letter to the Premier regretting very much his inability to be present, as he has made it a rule to himself of attending only gatherings in his family circle.

The fact that the Premier of Prince Edward Island has failed to answer Mr. Mercier's invitation to send a delegate to the conference is causing much comment in political circles here. "This is not to be wondered at," said Hon. Mr. Fielding last evening. "The Island people don't care to come forward in such an important matter as that which brings us to Quebec, but if any good should come out of the conference you will then hear them clamor for their share. The fact that no answer was received by Mr. Mercier should not astonish him. I have on several occasions been the victim of an unfortunate mania the authorities of the Island seem to be laboring under of not answering letters, even the most official."

FROM THE CANADA GAZETTE.

The Regulations for the Disposal of Coal Lands on Indian Reserves.

OTTAWA, Oct. 21.—To-morrow's Canada Gazette will contain the appointment of Judge Lyon of Ottawa to be deputy judge of the united Counties of Prescott and Russell for two months from Oct. 1, and of H. J. Bennett as postwarden at Hopewell Cape, N.B.

A proclamation will appear to-morrow fixing Thursday, Nov. 24, for polling in the City of Charlottetown, P.E.I., for the repeal of the Canada Temperance Act, which has been in force since Aug. 2, 1881, and appointing Sheriff Curtis returning officer.

An order-in-council has been passed, on the recommendation of the Minister of the Interior, providing that all fines collected for violation of the act prohibiting the introduction of intoxicants into the Northwest Territories be paid over to the general revenue fund of the Northwest Territories.

An order-in-council has been passed, on the recommendation of the Superintendent-General of Indian Affairs, prescribing regulations for the disposal of the coal lands within the Indian reserves in the Province of Manitoba and in the Northwest Territories which have been, or may be surrendered by the Indians to be disposed of for their benefit. The regulations provide for a royalty of ten cents per ton, to be paid by the purchaser of the lands, fix the upset price of the lands at twelve dollars and a half an acre, limit the quantity of land to be sold to one applicant to 320 acres, define the boundaries beneath the surface as vertical lines or planes in which the surface boundaries lie; prescribe that all employes, not being Indians of the reserve, engaged in mining on an Indian reserve, must be married men living with their wives and families at or in the vicinity of the mines, and provide for the employment by the purchasers of the coal lands of constables to preserve the peace and see that there is no intercourse between the Indian residents upon the reserve and the employes engaged in mining.

An order-in-council has been passed permanently reserving certain lands in the neighborhood of Battleford for the use of the Indians of the Battleford agency for hay cutting purposes.

Notice is given that the regulations and forms of application for an examination of candidates for the civil service of India, to be held in June next year, can be obtained from the Secretary of State, the secretaries of the several provinces and the Lieutenant-Governor of the Northwest Territories.

Letters patent have been issued incorporating the Dominion Subway Company, with a capital of $100,000, for the purpose of constructing, maintaining and operating underground conduits, for conducting underground electric and other wires and plant and pneumatic tubes.

Notice is given of application to Parliament to incorporate the Tobique, Gypsum and Colonization Railway Company, to construct a line from a point on the New Brunswick Railway at Perth Centre up the St. John and Tobique Rivers, with a view to connecting with the proposed Restigouche and Victoria Colonization Railway at or near Nictaux Lake.

Notice is given that the annual meeting of the Toronto Brewing and Malting Company will be held at Toronto on Oct. 31.

An order-in-council has been passed approving the tariff rates on the Northern and Pacific Junction Railway between Gravenhurst and Callendar.

The statement of circulation and specie for September shows the amount outstanding at end of month to be $15,216,772, being a decrease of $286,135 on August. The excess of specie and guaranteed debentures held is $632,007.

Two Killed and Several Wounded.

CHATTANOOGA, Oct. 21.—A collision on the Nashville, Chattanooga and St. Louis Railway between two freight trains this morning resulted in the death of A. W. Wallace and an unknown man, besides injuring three other persons on one of the trains. The road was blocked for fifteen hours.

The Anarchists's Appeal.

WASHINGTON, Oct. 21.—At the hearing of the application for a writ of error in the case of the Chicago Anarchists, this morning, Justice Harlan made an order directing that counsel apply for a writ of error directly to the whole court in open session and said that the application might be made at noon to-day.

The Suspected Railway Murderer.

INLAND REVENUE TOTALS.

AN INCREASE IN EXCISE AND A DECREASE IN OTHER SOURCES.

A Montreal Paper Having Suspected the Arrest of Several School Girls for Immoral Practices, the School Board Demands a Contradiction.

OTTAWA, Oct. 21.—The unrevised statement of inland revenue for August and September shows the total amount accrued during the two months to have been $1,987,550, of which excise amounted to $939,745, and canals and other sources of revenue to $262,822. Compared with the same months of last year this shows an increase of $45,315 in excise and a decrease of $13,695 in canals and other sources of revenue.

The new postal map of the Provinces of Nova Scotia and Prince Edward Island, prepared under the direction of Chief Postoffice Inspector Dewe, is now in the hands of the lithographers and will be issued in a few weeks. It gives all the mail routes and shows over 2000 postoffices, distinguishing the telegraph, money order and saving bank offices. The new postal maps of New Brunswick, Quebec, Ontario, Manitoba and British Columbia will be issued in the order named.

A Council meeting was held this afternoon, but what business was transacted did not transpire.

The Public School Board indignantly denies the statement made in The Montreal Witness of "the arrest of a number of school girls who have made confessions involving many school companions of the ages from 12 to 15" for alleged immoral practices. The Chief of Police asserts that no arrests have been made, and the president of the School Board, Mr. Hiram Robinson, has written The Witness, demanding a justification of the statement or a retraction.

Lieut.-Col. Baker, M.P.P., British Columbia, a brother of the famous Baker Pasha, has been in Ottawa for some time past. He contemplates undertaking a scheme for the propagation of the South American Llama in the Kootenay Valley district. The wool obtained from the animals produces alpaca, which, as a commercial commodity, possesses a high value. Experiments at llama raising in Australia failed.

Senator McKenzie and Mr. McGibbon of Milton had an interview with Hon. Mr. Thompson, Minister of Justice, to-day with reference to the repeal of the Scott Act in Halton, as a result of which it is understood that a date will shortly be fixed for submitting the question of repeal to a vote of the people. The Senator is very confident that the Act has proved so great a failure in the county that it will be repealed by a large majority.

Great excitement is being caused in Ottawa County by the reported discovery of gold-bearing quartz of very rich quality on the Upper Gatineau. Reports so far are very meagre, and the location of the gold is being kept as quiet as possible.

CANADA'S COMMISSIONERS.

Who Will Help to Settle the Fisheries Dispute at Washington.

The Right Hon. Joseph Chamberlain, M.P., is the eldest son of the late Mr. Joseph Chamberlain of London. He was born in 1836, educated at University College School; became a member of a firm of wood screw makers at Birmingham; retired from business in 1874 shortly after the decease of his father. At this time he had obtained a certain local celebrity in consequence of his advanced radical opinion and fluency of his speech. A member of the Birmingham Town Council, he was also elected in 1873 Chairman of the Birmingham School Board and was three times successively elected Mayor of the borough. In 1874 he opposed Mr. Roebuck at Sheffield, but was unsuccessful. In 1876, however, he was returned for Birmingham, which constituency he has represented ever since. He was made a member of the Gladstone Administration after the election of 1880, being given the portfolio of President of the Board of Trade, with a seat in the Cabinet. In this position he passed the Bankruptcy Act, and made his strong but abortive attempt to pass a stringent Merchants' Shipping Bill. At the general election of 1885 he was regarded as the leader of the advance radical wing of the Liberal party, and as such was returned as a member of the Administration, but resigned from the Cabinet in 1886 from inability to agree with Gladstone's Home Rule policy. In the elections of that year he was returned unopposed for West Birmingham as a strong unionist, having severed his connection entirely with Mr. Gladstone, and he is still looked upon as a leader of the dissidents. In the late session of Parliament he allied himself closely with the Salisbury Administration and his recent speeches in Ulster show that his views upon that subject have undergone no change.

Mr. Chamberlain has contributed numerous articles to The Fortnightly Review chiefly on political and social questions.

A CAPTAIN DESERTS HIS SHIP.

The Crew and Passengers to the Number of Thirty-six Refuse to Leave Her.

ANTWERP, Oct. 21.—The bark Bravo, from Charleston, reports that on Sept. 20, in lat. 32, long. 39 west, she picked up Capt. Cunha, his wife, two sailors and sixteen passengers of the American schooner Carrie W. Clark. The Clark was bound from Fayal to Boston. She had encountered a hurricane on Sept. 17, and after terrific laboring, caused by the tremendous sea, a gust of wind struck the vessel and the main mast went by the board, breaking off thirty feet above the deck. While the captain thought best to desert the schooner the crew and passengers, to the number of thirty-six, remained aboard, depending upon what was left of the main mast to rig sail on and bring the vessel into port. The Carrie W. Clark is a two-masted fishing schooner hailing from Provincetown, Mass.

A HORRIBLE AFFAIR.

How the Engineer of the Comal Treated a Sick Coal Handler.

GALVESTON, Tex., Oct. 21.—William R. McCullough, chief engineer of the steamship Comal, who was arrested charged with brutally murdering a coal hand, John Graham, while en route from New York, was brought before United States Commissioner Spain yesterday for examination. Witnesses Dougherty and Flynn testified that McCullough threw red hot coals on Graham while he was lying down complaining of being sick, and overcome by the intense heat of the fireroom. Dougherty also swore he saw the chief engineer strike Graham with an iron bar. Graham was naked to the waist at the time, and he (witness) could smell the man's flesh burning from the coals heaped on his back by McCullough. The Commissioner held the prisoner in $3000 to appear for trial.

HE STABBED THE BARTENDER.

A Young Tough's Narrow Escape From the Charge of Murder.

TORONTO, Oct. 22.

John Wilson is a young tough of about 21, well-known in police circles. Last night he was registered at Headquarters as living at 105 Jarvis-street, and the charge against him was the felonious wounding of a young man named John Welsh, the bartender of the Royal Hotel at Front and George streets. He comes of a bad stock and he and his relatives have been occupants of police cells before this.

Last night Wilson and a couple of fellow-toughs had been playing pool in the Royal. He wanted to buy some bottles of ale and thought that he was being charged too much. Finally he became abusive and called Bartender Welsh some very bad names. The proprietor of the hotel entered and relieved Welsh from duty. Welsh set on his coat and to escape a row walked out the George-street door and started north. Wilson followed and assaulted him and was knocked down by Welsh. Then Wilson, after rising, rushed at him and drawing a knife slashed at him, cutting him in the stomach, the back of the head, and in both wrists.

The trouble was quickly stopped by friends of Welsh, who went to Millar's drug store and then to the Hospital, where his injuries were attended to. The stab in the stomach was found to be a small puncture which, however, bled freely. The cuts in the head were not serious and only the wrists had to be bandaged. He walked back to the hotel.

After the affray Wilson coolly put the knife in an outside pocket and returned to the Royal's barroom. In the meantime word had been sent to Police Headquarters. Detective McGrath hurried down and, finding Wilson in the bar-room arrested him and found the knife in his pocket.

THROWN UNDER THE WHEELS.

An Old Woman Instantly Killed at the G.T.R. at Detroit.

DETROIT, Oct. 21.—A shocking accident, resulting in the almost instant death of an aged woman, occurred last evening at the intersection of Scott-street with the Grand Trunk Railway. Mrs. Mary Callaghan, a widow 60 years old, residing at Fraser Station, twelve miles from Detroit, was a passenger on the Grand Trunk train which was due to arrive in the city at 5.10 p.m. She was accompanied by her son Thomas, aged 13. Both were to have debarked at Grattot-avenue crossing. On arriving at Scott-street the train stopped and mother and son supposed they had reached their destination. The stoppage, however, was very brief, and as Mrs. Callaghan started to step off the train it resumed its motion. She was thrown under the wheels, one leg was cut off, the other broken and her head crushed. An ambulance was summoned, but the woman died before its arrival. Mrs. Callaghan was coming to the city to pay a visit to two daughters.

CHURCHILL ON IRISH LAW

HE ASSERTS THAT IT IS THE SAME AS THAT OF ENGLAND.

The Landlords' Association Accept Archbishop Walsh's Proposal and Will Hold a Conference With the Tenants—A Meeting to be Held in Galway.

LONDON, Oct. 21.—Lord Randolph Churchill made an address at Banbury to-day, in which he said that a comparison of the administrations in Ireland of Lord Londonderry and his predecessor, the Earl of Aberdeen, would show that Lord Londonderry's government was marked with a gravity, propriety and decency which it would be difficult to discern in that of the Earl of Aberdeen. That of Lord Londonderry was free from the melancholy and unfortunate eccentricities of behavior which astonished the public during the Earl of Aberdeen's Government. Lord Churchill also said that he believed Mr. Gladstone and his supporters, judging from their language, supposed Ireland to be governed by Turkish pashas or by a system similar to that of the Spanish Inquisition, but the Government was composed of men as respectable and honorable as Mr. Gladstone. The law of Ireland was the same as that of England. The Government were unable to fix the terms of special criminal laws, because they had no knowledge that would enable them to say at what time these laws would cease to be necessary. At a time when the air was thick with the enemies' darts it was necessary for the Conservative Association to spread correct information. If the people were correctly informed they would favor the maintenance of the Union.

Archbishop Walsh's Proposal.

DUBLIN, Oct. 21.—The committee of the Landlords' Association held a meeting at Tuam to-day and decided in favor of Archbishop Walsh's new proposals for a conference with delegates of the tenants.

A Sunday Meeting Arranged For.

DUBLIN, Oct. 21.—A meeting under the auspices of the English Home Rule Union is announced to be held at Woodford, County Galway, on Sunday next. Several English members of Parliament will deliver addresses.

CAUGHT BETWEEN TWO COGS.

A Young Millwright of Thamesville Meets With a Terrible Death.

ESSEX CENTRE, Ont., Oct. 21.—A most horrible and distressing accident occurred here this morning about 8 o'clock, whereby one Arthur Gillies, a millwright of Thamesville, was ushered into eternity without a moment's warning. Mr. Gillies has been working in Bickle & Dyson's grist mill for the last six weeks and had nearly finished his job. This morning, while attempting to put on a belt with the machinery in motion he was tripped up by another loose belt lying at his feet, and was immediately thrown between two large cog-wheels, which drew his head through their terrible grasp, grinding the back of his head into a jelly. It is then supposed he was caught in the revolving shaft and whirled round and round until the machinery was stopped. When found, nearly all his clothing was torn from him, and the sight was a most ghastly one to behold. The poor man's brains and parts of his skull were scattered all round the immediate vicinity of the accident. Mr. Gillies was a young man, unmarried, about 25 years old, and was well liked by those with whom he was acquainted. His untimely end has cast a gloom over our whole village.

WHAT A CANON SAW.

Revolting Scenes of Drunkenness in the Scottish Highlands.

DUBLIN, Oct. 21.—At a meeting of the Church of Ireland Temperance Society Canon Weldon, who recently received an appointment in England, made an address in which he said he hoped the Queen would find a more suitable way to honor her husband's memory than by sending her sons and sons-in-law to the top of a Highland mountain to drink raw whisky. He was present, he said, at this year's festival in honor of the presence of the Queen, and he never saw a more disgusting and revolting scene of drunkenness. It surpassed the tragi-tions of Donnybrook Fair. The effect was visible for many days in the men, with sodden eyes and staggering gait.

Killed by Dynamite.

HALIFAX, Oct. 21.—A man named McKenzie of St. Anne's, C.B., while working on the Cape Breton Railway at Luther Creek, was killed this morning by an explosion of dynamite. He lived for an hour after the accident. Another man named McCormick was badly injured. The dynamite was drying round a fire and exploded suddenly.

Fire at Arnprior.

ARNPRIOR, Oct. 21.—Fire last night destroyed two double tenement houses, one belonging to Mr. Neil and the other to Mr. Carthy. The insurance on the house and contents belonging to the former amounts to $500. Carthy's insurance is $600.

The Number of Failures.

NEW YORK, Oct. 21.—The business failures occurring throughout the country during the last seven days number for the United States 172, and for Canada 28, or a total of 200 failures, as compared with a total of 208 last week and 212 the week previous to the last. In the corresponding week last year the figures were 198, 182 in the United States and 16 in Canada.

The Oregon Navigation Company Leased.

NEW YORK, Oct. 21.—A joint contract was to-day entered into between the Northern Pacific, Union Pacific and the Oregon Navigation companies, by which the latter corporation is leased and jointly operated by the two former companies, who guarantee 6 per cent. per annum on the Oregon Navigation stock.

Fired by Lightning.

MOUNT ALBERT, Oct. 21.—About 3 o'clock last night there was a heavy hail storm passed over this place, and the lightning was very sharp, striking and setting on fire the barn of Robert Kaye, near here, which was burned to the ground. The loss is heavy, as there was all this year's grain and part of last year's in the barn. Less partly covered by insurance.

Sympathetic Knights.

CHICAGO, Oct. 21.—The doomed Anarchists were visited to-day by forty delegates, who are on their way home from the Knights of Labor Convention at Minneapolis. Their visit was for the purpose of expressing condolence and the hope that the Anarchists will obtain a new trial.

The Brotherhood of Engineers.

CHICAGO, Oct. 21.—The Brotherhood of Locomotive Engineers devoted the morning to a trip to Park Ridge, for the purpose of investigating the Westinghouse air brake. On their return to the city they assembled in secret session.

THE DRUNKARD AND HIS FAMILY.

SERMON BY LAYMAN.

(Written for the Examiner.)

The greatest curse of the world is drunkenness. It destroys both soul and body. It paralyses every wish to do good. It leaves its victim a wreck and unable to help himself. It causes him to neglect and abuse his wife and family. It destroys all natural feelings and it destroys all ambition and shame. Drink, drink, more drink is all his cry. And he would prostitute himself and his offspring under its degrading influences. His sense of duty and right is gone. His feelings of religious obligation are obliterated. And he can look upon the destitution of his wife and children with indifference and hear their cries for bread with unconcern. He goes around among his fellow men knowing that he is a ruined man, with his head bowed down in shame, and the once proud man will descend to the greatest degradation and even beg of the passer-by the means to buy him more drink. He will rob the house of its last article of furniture for the purpose of feeding his burning appetite for whiskey. And thus he will abuse his wife and family for not providing him with food and clothing and drive them from the door. Go into the streets of any large city and see the hundreds and thousands of poor naked, half frozen and starved children, wandering along and crying for food. See them at night clustering together under the walls and on door steps, shivering and moaning with no one to give them relief. Go to the poor homes and look upon the broken hearted wives who mourn over their hard lot and know not what to do. Thinking of their once comfortable homes, but now desolate and helpless, wondering what has become of their once happy children and whether they are as well off. Look upon that dying mother, with her little infant at her heart, killed by a drunken father. Look at that young woman cast out upon the street a wanderer, and without friends or a home, through the cruelties and oppressions of her drunken, brutish father. He, who should have been her guardian and protector. Look upon that ruined son, an outcast and a wanderer through the example and guidance of his drunken father, staggering along the street and going down to death and ruin with daily accelerated speed. Look at yonder house and surroundings, once the home of a happy and respected family, but now in ruins and fast going to decay by means of the neglect of the drunken owner who once walked with his head erect and respected by all who knew him. Look again, and teach your children to look also, in order that you and they may take warning by the sight and so shun the dreadful fate. Look at that foolish father, who once laughed at the thought that his sons could ever become drunkards, and who refused to assist in removing the dreadful temptation from their way, but now bowed down in grief and shame, and, worse still, hears the curses of those sons, in their drunken moods, cast upon that father for the dreadful misery which, through his fault, has overtaken them. And these are sights of daily occurrence, bringing warnings which are unheeded, and carrying desolation and death all around. Young boys and young girls, fathers and mothers, old men and old women, all tasting of the poison, and continuing to taste until the foul habit to drink is confirmed, and all going down to a worse than sudden death. Shouting their ribald songs and then dragged off to the drunkards' prison, leaving little, helpless children starving and crying in their miserable homes or wandering out upon the streets begging of the passer-by for a penny or a small piece of bread. How long, how long, O Lord, will Thy judgment rest upon our land? See the great rivers of drinking poison flowing through the land, bearing in its rapid force all classes of our population down, down to a terrible death—with their substance all wasted and an awful eternity of misery and woe before them.

Wild was the winter evening and heavy fell the snow,
As through an English city I passed some years ago.
Across the cold white pavement streamed out the ready light
Of homes, around whose firesides were happy eyes and bright,
The voices of the children that knew no grief or care,
Rang out their pleasant music upon the frosty air.
But there were lights and voices that through me rent a chill,
That made me pause a moment, though so e against my will.
I stood before the palace of that fell tyrant sin,
Whose halls are gorgeous mate rooms to pover-ty and sin.
And through the open doorway I saw the mat'ning sight
Of men and women drifting to hopeless end-less night.
I saw young men and maidens just stepping on the path,
Dark with the cloudy shadows of darkness and of wrath.
I hastened from the horrors that met my eye and ear,
And, as I hurried onwards amid the darkness drear,
I heard a sound of anguish, a low and sobbing moan,
As if a lifelong agony were breathed from out the tone.
Beside the freezing footway a little maiden stood,
The snow was falling on her, the wind was blowing rude.
A harp was placed beside her on which she did not play,
For with the cold and darkness all hope had gone away
Of earning a few pennies to buy a little bread,
And pay the needful shelter to shield her youthful head.
Tell me, poor girl, your story and thus she made reply:
I have indeed a father and yet no friend have I,
He, sir, he spends his money and half the night and day
Drinking within the public house you see across the way.
My mother died heartbroken about a year ago,
And through the streets I've wandered since that time to and fro,
For father sold our blankets, our beds, our all for gin,
And drove me from the lodging a sad life to begin.
Sometimes I earn a little to pay my food and bed,
And sometimes I wander foodless, no shelter for my head.
My father is an artist, once he was praised by all,
And money showered upon him till drink began his fall.
We once rode in our carriage, we feasted with the great,
Now we are houseless, what further is our fate?
I gave her all the money I honestly could share,
And told her for the future her case should be my care.
Poor girl, before a fortnight from earth she passed away,
To meet, she hoped, her Savior in realms of endless day.
Over the father's ending I closely drew the veil,
One chapter more is added to the sad familiar tale.
Oh! if thou art a father with children by thy side,
Along the path of temperance be both their guard and guide.
Oh! if thou art a mother with children round thy knee,
Show to them the misery of those that drunkards be.
Oh! if thou art a sister with all thy loving care,
Win back thy tempted brother from drink's destroying snare.
Oh! if thou are a brother, true to thy sister be,
Never let the glass be lifted onto her lips by thee.
Oh, if thou art a teacher thy pupils teach to shun
The drink by which so many are ruined and undone.
Oh, if thou art a preacher, unto thy people tell
That with the saints in Glory the drunkard shall not dwell.

That great man, Dr. Talmage, of New York, says the people of the United States spend fifteen hundred millions of dollars in strong drink every year. But I will place it at ten hundred millions of dollars, then I will be sure to be within the mark. All this is in hard cash. But this is only a portion of the loss and damage caused by strong drink. Calculate the loss of property the loss of health, the loss of life, the robberies and murders, all traceable directly to this cause, and we will have a total of fifty hundred millions of dollars yearly loss to the state by the use of intoxicating liquors, saying nothing of the shivering, naked, starving wives and children, and their anguish, and misery, and degradation, and depravity, all coming from the same cause. If we take the population of Canada at one twelfth that of the United States we have an annual waste, and worse than waste, of ninty millions, besides all the other losses and miseries above enumerated. Dr. Talmage says, and says truly, that if the working classes would abandon strong drink and use the money thus saved in providing for their own comforts, they would have no need of strikes or labor organizations, and they would be able, in a few years time—each—to provide himself with a comfortable home of his own, would be able to educate and clothe his family, could bring them up in respectability and comfort, and in a few years, instead of being a hired man, he would be an employer himself, and thus the whole course of the business of the world would be revolutionized and would be in other hands. And all this is true. And peace and comfort would exist everywhere and the voice of happiness and joy would be heard on every side. If the people of Canada would spend those ninety millions of dollars as they ought to do just think of the good they might accomplish with it. I invite each person to estimate for himself what good might be done, and to think of the comforts to happy homes and the smiling faces and the glad hearts of the wives and children under the influence of this altered state of things. Of this ninety millions of dollars the share of the people of the County of Peterborough is its loss would be five hundred and forty thousand dollars a year. And, taking the people of the town of Peterborough separately, their share of the loss would be a hundred and eighty thousand dollars a year. And this is saying nothing of their indirect losses in sickness, brokendown health, in robbery and murder, and other sudden deaths, nor of the anguish and poverty and misery of wives and children. Nor the loss of property, nor the failure to acquire property. And yet we are told that to stop the liquor traffic is to impoverish the town and country. As if a population of drunkards was better and more profitable than a population of industrious, sober men. No one will employ a drunken man to do his work if he knows it. And when he does know it he will discharge him and get a sober man. What does this prove? Does it show that a community of drunkards is preferable to a community of sober, steady men? Does it not show the contrary! And yet we are told that to waste our money in strong drink is to build up and enrich our country. That to fill our gaols with drunkards and with criminals, all arising through strong drink, is the salvation and prosperity of our country. That it is profitable and beneficial to have our asylums filled with insane persons, who, but for this drink, would be in the enjoyment of sound minds and health. Look at the millions of dollars spent yearly to keep up judges and police magistrates and a vast army of policemen and other conservators of the peace, all the outcome of the use of strong drink. And yet we hear otherwise sensible people say that strong drink shall not be prohibited. That to prohibit it is to take away man's liberties, even though the doing so enriches a country and makes a happy and contented people.

Memphis Races Declared off.

MEMPHIS, Tenn., Oct. 21.—A meeting of owners of horses who had entries in the stakes to be run during the Fall Meeting of the club was held this afternoon, and it was resolved that "in view of the calamity which has fallen upon the Memphis Jockey Club through the sudden death of its President, Henry A. Montgomery, the officers of the club decline all stakes as well as purses now due." The directors and officers of the club, in compliance with the universal wishes of horse owners, declared off all stakes and purse races and announced the Fall Meeting as closed.

Give Them a Chance!

That is to say, your lungs. Also all your breathing machinery. Very wonderful machinery it is. Not only the larger air-passages but the thousands of little tubes and cells leading from them.

When these are clogged and choked with matter which ought not to be there, your lungs cannot half do their work. And what they do, they cannot do well.

Call it cold, cough, croup, pneumonia, catarrh, consumption or any of the family of throat and nose and head and lung abominations, all are bad. All ought to be got rid of. There is just one sure way to get rid of them. That is to take Brodbent's German Syrup, which any druggist will sell you at 75 cents a bottle. Bear in everything else has failed you, you may depend upon this for certain. eodw

Grand Duke Sergius, President of the Palestine Society, invites subscriptions to a fund for the purpose of preserving these relics.

Bishop Kopp Takes the Oath.

BERLIN, Oct. 21.—Bishop Kopp, the new Prince Bishop of Breslau, took the oath of civil allegiance to the Emperor yesterday. This is the first instance of such an oath being taken since the opening of the Culturkampf, and it is due to the fact that the oath has recently been modified so as to render it unobjectionable to the prelates.

The Humane Convention Adjourns.

ROCHESTER, Oct. 21.—The annual convention of the American Humane Association concluded its labors here to-day. Several papers were read and much time taken up with a discussion of hydrophobia and its dangers. The treasurer's report showed a deficit of $1200. The sum of $450 was subscribed in the convention. At its conclusion the delegates were driven about the city.

The Burning of the City of Montreal.

LONDON, Oct. 21.—The Board of Trade has concluded its enquiry into the loss of Inman Line steamer City of Montreal, which was burned at sea Aug. 12. The board finds that neither owners nor officers of the ship were blamable for the disaster, and that cotton in the steamer's cargo in which fire was first discovered was not properly packed.

A Rare Combination.

There is no other remedy or combination of medecines that meets so many requirements, as does Burdock Blood Bitters in its wide range of power over such chronic diseases as Dyspepsia, Liver and Kidney Complaint, Scrofula and all humors of the blood. 2w42d

To Avoid Baldness or Grey Hair.

Use Dr. Dorenwend's Great German Hair Magic. It keeps the scalp clean and free from Dandruff, and promotes the growth of the hair. It prevents premature grayness and stops all falling out of the hair. On bald heads, where the roots have not perished, it will invigorate them and force a new growth of hair. Ask for Hair Magic. It is the only reliable. For sale by J. D. Tully and all druggists.

Market Items.

Despite the chilling and uncomfortable state of the weather there was a large market and good attendance this morning. Meat and fowl were the principal offerings. Turkeys went at 50c. and 75c., geese 50c., ducks 30c and 40c., beef 2c. and 5c., mutton 6c, and 7c., lamb and pork 7c. and 8c., butter 24c. and 25c., Eggs 18c. Apples, potatoes and vegetables remain unchanged in price.

POTATOES—Manitoba Potatoes. Car load just received. Very fine. Call and see them at BRISBIN'S Feed Store on Hunter Street.

Pocket-Picking on the Market.

A lady who attended the market this morning complains that she was robbed. After making a purchase at a wagon she returned her purse to the satchel she carried in her hand, and almost the next moment, in paying for another purchase, discovered that her purse had been abstracted. It contained only about $3 in cash. At the time she made the first purchase she was surrounded by a number of other women, and it is presumed that the pick-pocket was of the female sex and a deft one at the business.

Not a Fair "Deal."

Not unfrequently representatives of Toronto printing houses make a descent on Peterborough, soliciting orders for work, and carry back with them large orders. The work furnished is not one whit better done—as a general thing more carelessly—than can be turned out by the town printing establishments and their prices are no lower. This is not fair to the local printers who pay their rent and taxes and, as citizens do their full share in keeping up the town. The local newspapers, do everything in their power to bring outsiders to town in the interests of business men, and it is only reasonable that the local printers should be allowed to do the work in their line which the persons they do so much to benefit may have to be done. The man who makes his money in town is in honor bound to spend it in town, especially when he can be as well and cheaply served as by outside establishments, which pay no taxes here and are under no expense here. The greatest sinners in the respect complained of are some professional men and others of a somewhat similar business demanding considerable printing, stationery etc., and they are the most exacting in regard to the press. If, for instance, a lawyer fails through inadvertence to get due credit for his share in conducting a case in court, in a newspaper report, he comes down on the publisher with an air of making, like Falstaff, "a star-chamber matter of it." His "wrongs" are redressed in every case and the correction gives the complaining party special prominence and publicity, yet in return a peddler of printing gets his patronage and the involved prodt. If circumstances arise in which a legitimate newspaper paragraph contains the name of any of the other persons mentioned, he begs the paper to suppress his name for fear a truthful report might adversely affect his business or his personal standing. A reasonable request of this kind is complied with, yet when this individual needs printing or stationery he instead of giving, as common gratitude and fair play would suggest, his order to a local establishment he trusts to a wandering agent and pays bigger prices for less satisfactory work and articles than he would at home. Fair play is a jewel, but unfortunately a great many gentlemen in Peterborough are not in that kind of jewelry business especially as regards local printing establishments. How would these gentlemen like it a lawyer for instance, if all business men in town should employ Toronto legal talent instead of local talent?—a money leader for instance if all his clients should borrow money from outside lenders?—a doctor for instance if sick persons employed Toronto physicians? and so on through all the list. Yet they do not hesitate to give orders for printing to a Toronto firm—to buy a box of pens from a peddler, paying double prices for what they might get as good in a local stationery shop. Local establishments do not complain of competition but they do object to men making all their money it town, patronizing printing poachers when they can get as good work at as low prices at home, and give employment to men who bear their share in supporting the institutions of the town, and promoting its prosperity to the benefit of every individual citizen. "Patronize home industries", is a motto which some Peterborough citizens forget when distributing patronage, but very conveniently recollect when wanting favors.

Turabull's direct importations of Mantle Cloths please everybody. The styles are New and the prices are very low.

Runaway Accident.

Mr. Daniel Shanahan, of Emismore, was in town yesterday. He is still suffering from the results of a runaway accident with which he met last Wednesday. He was returning home along the Bridgenorth road from Peterborough, in company with his daughter, when a loose whiffletree startled the horses into a runaway. Both the occupants of the wagon were thrown out, Mr. Shanahan receiving a fracture of his shoulder bone. Miss Shanahan escaped. Mr. Shanahan, under Dr. Collin's care, is doing well. His many friends will be sorry to learn of the accident. Those already acquainted with it express the deepest sympathy for Mr. Shanahan.

A Lively Runaway.

Last night about eight o'clock a rattling runaway occurred on Hunter street. Mr. Peter Moffat's team of cab horses were frightened while standing in front of the Morgan House, and dashed westward along Hunter street. At the corner of George street the runaway team shied to the left and darted towards the plate-glass front of Dolan & Co.'s store. A crash appeared inevitable, when they collided with terrific force with the telegraph pole directly in front of the store, the force of the shock casting the pole over several feet. One of the horses was apparently killed; it could not move for a long time. The only damage done to the cab was the decapitation of the pole. The injured horse was in harness this morning and appeared to be sound.

Booming.

The Lindsay Warder says:—We learn that the managers for Eastern Ontario of the Manufacturers' Life Insurance Company have written up over half a million dollars worth of business since the company commenced writing risks a little over two months ago. The total amount done by the company in the Dominion during that period reaches the magnificent sum of two million dollars. In this connection we are pleased to learn that Mr. Gallon, competing for a prize in gold offered for the largest business done in September, has captured the prize. The advertisement for this young and vigorous company appears in another column, to which we direct attention. We understand that several of our prominent citizens have subscribed for stock therein." Messrs. Wilson & Morrison are the managers above referred to. 3393-1w43

C. E. T. S.

At the annual meeting of St. Luke's Church of England Temperance Society, Tuesday evening, the following officers were elected for the year:—

PRESIDENT—Rev. W. C. Bradshaw.

VICE-PRESIDENTS—Messrs. H. Nesbitt, J. J. Rooney and F. Hall.

SECRETARY—Mr. E. W. Pickford.

TREASURER—Mr. W. Manicee.

ORGANISTS—Mrs. Jackson and Miss Burritt.

COMMITTEE—Mrs. Bradshaw, Mrs. Jackson, Miss Burritt, Miss Eva Tivey, Miss Chrow, and Messrs. W. Manicee, W. Wallbrook, F. Saunders, A. Geekies and R. Manicee.

Reports of committees and the Secretary were read, and a short musical and literary programme lent enlivenment to the proceedings.

Women's Methodist Missionary Society.

Annual Meeting of Central Branch.—Report of Peterborough Delegates.

Members of the above branch convened in the Hope street Methodist church, Tuesday, for their annual meeting, on Thursday and Friday of last week. This gathering is composed of the officers, with representatives from each Auxiliary and Mission Band. The President, Mrs. Dawson Kerr, of Toronto, occupied the chair.

Thursday afternoon (first session) opened with devotional exercises, after which the roll of delegates was called. Representatives from a number of new Auxiliaries responded, among others that of Peterborough, which was organized last March in George street church.

A very beautiful "Address of Welcome" was read by Mrs. Brett, of Toronto, and responded to, on behalf of the delegates, by Mrs. Lewis, of Belleville.

One gem of thought from the latter was that, just as in the great organ the perfect harmony is attained only when each part contributes its share of the melody, so this grand anthem, acted, not sung, by this Women's Missionary Society, is complete only when each Auxiliary and Band brings its quota of praise and help to them. To fully appreciate the beauty of this simile, one needs to see Mrs. Lewis—a lady with a pale Madonna face, bearing the marks of life's heavy storms—a face which suggests some finely constructed instrument, upon which the great Master has laid His hand with the high purpose of attuning it to His righteous will, and each chord having been stretched to its utmost tension, it gives to us the perfected harmony of sanctified emotion and consecrated thought.

The President's annual address followed, with encouraging statements about the work in Japan and British Columbia. The scheme of a new school in the Northwest was strongly urged.

The Secretary's report showed an increase, during the year, of nine Auxiliaries, and eight Mission Bands. Number of auxiliaries now in working order, 39; mission bands, 19. These contain a membership of over two thousand, of which 64 are life members. The payment of $25 constitutes a life member.

Total receipts of the year, according to the Treasurer's report, $5,036.92, an increase over last year of $970.82; expenses, $109.39; balance, $4,927.53.

Reports from sister societies were called for. Among others, Mrs. Robinson, representing Women's Foreign Mission Board of the Presbyterian Church, and Miss Clark of the McCaul Mission Hall, gave statements of facts indicating progress in their work. These were followed by reports from Auxiliaries which continued into the Friday morning session. It was a night to see the representatives of Mission Bands—young, bright girls—putting the freshness of youth and energy into this grand enterprise—"The world for Christ!"

The Band of Metropolitan Church, Toronto, last year raised $300. In looking at their President, Mrs. Dr. Wilmot (Recording Secretary of the branch) wonder ceased that they should accomplish great things. Picture a woman, graceful in person, highly cultured, with a large heart and more than ordinary intellect, wholly consecrated to the Master's service.

Another glowing record came from Madoc Band, represented by Mrs. Clarke, a young married woman, and a minister's daughter, whose report of a large membership and receipts for the year of over $100, was received with marked enthusiasm.

On Friday afternoon a number of interesting communications from various fields were read by the Cor-Sec., Mrs. (Dr.) Brigg. Reports from Japan show that there is a steadily increasing call for light. Letters from Mrs. Crosby and Miss Knight of the Crosby House, at Fort Simpson, give encouragement regarding the work in that institution. In September, 1887, there were 20 inmates, the girls being, on the whole, easily managed and quite happy. But the work is laborious and an assistant is pleaded for. The accounts of traffic in Chinese girls are heartrending. While we as Christian churches, are sending the Gospel to China, numbers of young girls are being either bought for a trifle or stolen there, brought to our own land and sold in Victoria, B. C., for lives of slavery and shame. Let us think of it—we whose homes are hedged in with every protection which law and love can devise—then let us ask "What is my duty?" A refuge for these girls when rescued is a new scheme of mission work. Now in the face of these facts, and in view of the needs of God's other children (our brothers and sisters) who still sit the region and shadow of death, how will each one of us answer the question "how much owest thou unto my Lord." In view of the call for workers, strong and earnest,

"Who will answer, gladly saying,
Here am I, Oh Lord, send me."

The Town Drain.

A special emergent meeting of the committee of the whole Town Council was held last night to decide upon a course of action in connection with the town drain. Councillor Cahill explained the trouble met with in the drain. Not only was, there not a sufficient fall, but there was according to Mr. Belcher, some eighteen inches of gravel lodged in the main sewer where it was joined by the town drain. After some discussion, a motion was passed instructing inspector Pope to have the drain cleaned out in order if possible to secure sufficient fall and re-lay the pipes properly. Mr. Pope will begin the work at once and it is to be hoped it will be done well this time.

Banquet and Presentation.

A complimentary banquet was tendered Mr. P. Bertram, of Orillia, (brother of Mr. John Bertram, Peterborough) by his friends, last Tuesday evening, prior to his departure from Orillia to Dundas, Ont. About 75 of the leading men of the town sat down to the table. The Mayor occupied the chair and read an address highly complimentary to the guest of the evening, accompanying it with the gift of a handsome gold watch valued at $130. An address from the Mechanics' Institute was also read. Toast, song and sentiment followed, and a most pleasant evening was spent. Mrs. and Miss Bertram on Wednesday evening were entertained at tea by the Sunday school teachers of the Presbyterian Church, who assembled in force to bid farewell to two of their number. After supper Mrs. Bertram was presented with a large and handsomely framed group photograph of the teachers and officers of the schools, and Miss Bertram with a beautiful psalm and hymn book.

27th. ANNUAL SEASON. 27th.

Our Stock of Furs for the Season of 1887 is one not inferior to any in the best retail stores in any City. When we say this we base the same on our knowledge in selecting the material for our manufacture, which is of the Choicest. The long winter of last season had run our stock very low, many lines, such as Men's Coats in Racoon, being completely sold out, but of which we now have on hand a large stock made of good seasoned skins in the natural color. None kept of unseasoned skins, which require coloring dark to hide bare spots.

WHY?
Because experience and close study has developed talent in Chemistry, Lighting, and Posing. In days when such learning was required imperatively in a successful photography Mr. Sproule was practicing the business and to-day it places his work ahead of competitors. Because only the best materials are used. No other establishment in Canada is using throughout the same class of materials. He works with no cheap instruments. His Studio is lighted and furnished the best, and all combined to give the subject ease and confidence.
His prices are not higher than competitors, he employs no person or persons to travel through the Country to puff up his business or vert. He don't require such. dw

MANITOBA'S CHIEF JUDGE

JUSTICE WALLBRIDGE'S SUCCESSOR APPOINTED.

Judge Taylor of the Court of Queen's Bench Promoted to Fill the Vacancy — No Changes in Ontario Judgeships Will be Made Until Next Term.

OTTAWA, Oct. 23.—His Honor Judge Taylor of the Court of Queen's Bench, Manitoba, has been promoted to the Chief Justiceship in place of the late Chief Justice Wallbridge. No successor to Judge Taylor has as yet been appointed.

Mr. Jean Baptiste Rolland of Montreal has been called to the Senate for the Mille Isles division in place of the late Senator Seneal.

The recent rumors about changes in Ontario judgeships are still premature. No changes will be made until shortly before the opening of next term, when it is understood that the vacancy now existing, and any others which may occur in the meantime, will be filled.

The Department of Justice is applying for the extradition of Wm. Kaiser Herres, now in custody at St. Paul, Minn., on the ground of forgery committed at Berlin, Ont.

The Mail announced on Friday in its Ottawa correspondence that it was informed by the Secretary of State's Department that Mr. Dansereau of Montreal and Col. Audet, Keeper of the Records, were to be appointed commissioners of patents and Dominion archivists. Hon. Mr. Chapleau being shown the paragraph said: "The Mail has been at it again. A paper which starts rumors ought to keep them more in accord with one another. Mr. Dansereau only a few weeks ago was set down in the same manner as the prospective Under-Secretary of State. As a matter of fact, Mr. Dansereau never sought nor was asked to accept the commissionership of patents. The transfer of the archives branch of the Department of Agriculture to the Secretary of State's department has not been contemplated. Even were such a step carried out the archives under the able direction of Mr. Brymner would be left under his control, as at present. It is true that the archives and records will be removed to the new Departmental block. This step, however, is undertaken simply as a matter of convenience. The sections will remain distinctly separate as heretofore.

The Minister of the Interior on Saturday received a telegram from Dr. George M. Dawson announcing his safe arrival at Victoria. He reports his work, in some respects the most important that has been undertaken for many years by the Geological Survey Department, as having been successfully carried out as planned before his departure. He left Mr. Ogilvie, D.L.S., at the confluence of the Lewis and Pelly with provisions and outfit complete for the winter. Mr. Ogilvie had since been heard from twenty miles below Rellcure on Sept. 5. Mr. McConnell, another member of the party, had been heard from near Fort Laird on July 20.

Mr. Hugh Alexander, who for two years past has been caterer for the Senate and House of Commons, has been reappointed for the coming session. Mr. Alexander has given general satisfaction in his position and members of the Senate and Commons will no doubt be pleased at his reappointment.

Mr. Chamberlain Threatened.

LONDON, Oct. 22.—Mr. Chamberlain has completed his arrangements for his departure and absence until the middle of February, and his last public appearance prior to his sailing for New York will be made at Islington on Oct. 28. Since his speeches in Ulster Mr. Chamberlain has been the recipient daily of numerous threats of personal injury and even murder, but he has paid no attention to them whatsoever.

A Panic Averted.

NEW YORK, Oct. 22.—The throng which gathered at Plymouth Church in Brooklyn this morning to hear Iter. Chas. H. Berry of Wolverhampton, England, narrowly escaped the perils of a panic. A fresh fire had been started in the basement and little by little the smoke ascended to the auditorium. Many left the church and uneasiness was becoming manifest when Rev. Dr. Halliday interrupted the speaker and quieted the audience's apprehensions.

CONFIDENT OF HER POWER

RUSSIAN MENACES DO NOT ALARM GERMANY.

A St. Petersburg Paper Says the Czar Proposes Such Early Action in Bulgaria as Will Defeat the Objects of the Triple Alliance.

BERLIN, Oct. 22.—The official press in repeating its denial of the report that the Czar was to have a meeting with Emperor William, uses language of plain and almost ostentatious enmity towards Russia. The interview is declared to be not a mere matter of indifference, but as objected to by high personages in Germany. The personal relations between the Czar and Emperor William, once an important factor in European politics, can no longer continue in their old footing of intimacy, as the position of Germany towards her allies, Austria and Italy, forbids it. Besides these strongly suggestive comments there is increasing evidence of the strained relations between Berlin and St. Petersburg. The Russian press censor permitted yesterday's Novoe Vremya to predict such early action by Russia in Bulgaria as would defeat the objects of the triple alliance and show that Russia is neither isolated nor incapable of carrying out her victorious policy. The Panslavist papers are having free play in denouncing Germany.

The economic war between Russia and Germany has had a fresh development in the Czar's ukase giving English and French imports preferential rates, English goods obtaining a remission of 20 per cent. because England levies no duty on Russian corn, and French goods 10 per cent. rebate because of the limited duty levied by France on Russian corn. The obvious aim of the edict is to strike a blow at German trade.

To these evidences of hostility are now added increased military preparations on the frontier. A notable sensation occurred in this work during the progress of the negotiations between Prince Bismarck and M. de Giers for entente on the Eastern question, but since the triple alliance became known there has been a feverish acceleration of the work on the fortifications at Warsaw, Ivan-Gorod and Brest-Litovsk. Gen. Gourko is to organize an immense camp near Warsaw. New fortifications are also being constructed around Kovno, Grodno and Bielostock. The same activity is noticeable along the Austrian frontier.

The German War Office responded by enlarging the camp at Grandenz, constructing six new forts around Thorn, and strengthening the works at Posen, Glogau, Pillau and Konigsberg. The energies of the War Office are at present concentrated on the eastern frontier.

The Russian press prophesies that important diplomatic action will be taken by the Czar's government soon after his return from Moscow. These menaces, however, do not alarm Germany, who is confident of her own strength and the security of the triple alliance.

It Has Not Prospered.

BERLIN, Oct. 22.—The Bismarck-Crispi arrangement to establish a modus vivendi between the Holy See and Italy has not prospered. Advices from Rome to The Germania state that Prince Bismarck intimated to the Vatican that he was authorized to inform the Holy See what concessions the Italian Government was disposed to offer. At the same time Prince Bismarck declined to be responsible for the conduct officially of the negotiations and merely offered to be a friendly medium. The Vatican's reply was a query whether Italy would acknowledge the absolute independence of the Holy See, with the restitution of a part of Rome as the Pope's sine qua non. Signor Crispi did not entertain these terms and Prince Bismarck's action, in the meantime, has ceased.

FAITHFUL TO THE HOLY SEE.

English and Irish Catholics Have Full Confidence in the Pope.

ROME, Oct. 22.—The Osservatore Romana publishes a report of an interview with Mgr. Gualdi, who accompanied Mgr. Persico, the Pope's special commissioner to Ireland, in which he says that all of the addresses that were presented to Mgr. Persico in Ireland express the utmost fidelity to the church and boundless confidence in the Holy See. There exists, he says, agitation based not only upon the memory of ancient wrongs which England has inflicted but also upon the serious necessities of the present which demand attention. Mgr. Persico's presence in Ireland has contributed largely toward keeping the country tranquil, and there is every ground for hope that means will be found to settle the differences between the landlords and the tenants, especially as the Irish are very far from desiring separation. In England Mgr. Gualdi says Catholics and Protestants alike have full confidence in the Pope.

ROMAN CATHOLIC CONGRESS.

A Proposition Long Held in View Likely to be Realized.

LONDON, Oct. 22.—It is now decided that next summer there shall be held in London a great congress of lay and clerical delegates from all English speaking communities in the world. Preliminary meetings were recently held at which three main subjects for discussion were suggested, namely: The attitude of the Catholic Church toward education in general, whether it is possible to arrange for greater co-operation of the laity in the work of the church, and to consider what steps should be taken for the diffusion of Catholic literature among the masses. Cardinal Newman, Cardinal Manning and a majority of the Catholic hierarchy in England approved the proposal, which is to be submitted to a full meeting of the principal and most influential Catholics. This scheme has been afoot for two years and now seems likely to be realized.

A Gunboat Given Up as Lost.

LONDON, Oct. 22.—Although search for the gunboat Wasp is still being prosecuted, the naval officers at the Admiralty Office have abandoned all hope regarding her safety. They do not hesitate to express their opinion that the vessel should not have been sent to the China Seas, because her build was not fitted to stand the typhoons. The two young officers under Commander Adamson were thoroughly experienced, and the general impression is that the gunboat went down in spite of the best seamanship.

After arriving from Baden Friday the Emperor appeared as usual at a window of the palace looking on Linden-avenue and saluted the crowd outside. He walks without a stick and his step seems to be more elastic.

AN OLD SWINDLE WORKS WELL.

A Baltimore Grocer Pays $582.50 For a Forged Check.

BALTIMORE, Oct. 22.—Wednesday last a man entered the large grocery store of Hopper & Colesen, North Charles-street, and introduced himself as P. P. Ovington, of the firm of Ovington Bros., stating that their headquarters were in Brooklyn, N.Y. He told Mr. Hopper that he, his partner and a number of friends were going on a yachting cruise on Edison's yacht Electro. He said it had just arrived at the pier and wanted to get a stock of groceries and cigars. He produced a memorandum and Mr. Hopper took the order, the amount of the bill being $992.50. The stranger drew from a bank book a check for $1500 drawn up and signed by himself. It was certified on the back by the Sprague National Bank of Brooklyn. Mr. Hopper took the check and gave the stranger the difference between the $1500 and the amount of the grocery bill, which was $557.50. Shortly after the stranger left Mr. Hopper became suspicious of the check and telegraphed to the Brooklyn Bank and received a reply that the check was an outright forgery. No trace of the forger has yet been obtained.

THE CHATSWORTH DISASTER.

The Railway Company Settles a Portion of the Claims Against It.

GALESBURG, Ill., Oct. 22.—The attorney representing the Toledo, Peoria and Western Railroad was here yesterday and arranged for paying the following amounts as settlements in full for deaths and injuries occurring at the Chatsworth wreck to Knox County people: To Mrs. W. M. Truvillo, Abingdon, husband killed, $2000; to Rev. Mr. Snedaker, Abingdon, death of wife, $1400; injury to son, $2000; to J. H. Armstrong, Abingdon, loss of eye, $500; to Mrs. Sydney Smith, Galesburg, injury to back, $1175. The following adjustments have been practically agreed upon: To Mrs. W. M. Collins, husband killed, $2000; to Mrs. H. H. Van Liew, husband killed, $2000. Minor claims of W. C. Parker and Mrs. Walter Gucker were settled. An offer of $650 to Mrs. C. Allen, injured in the wreck, was refused. The attorney in the cases settled here gave drafts that were promptly honored.

THE MOROCCO QUESTION.

A Conference by the Powers Called to Discuss the Matter.

LONDON, Oct. 22.—The invitation of the Madrid Government to the Powers, including the United States, for a conference on Morocco, is an important step in international diplomacy. The proposal originated with the British Government and the object is to guarantee the independence of Morocco if Morocco can be thereby thrown open to trade. Germany gives the scheme cordial approval, for, like Italy, she recognizes the step as a bar to French aggrandizement. It is not known here how France regards this invitation, which is intended to deprive her of a great prize for which she has long been hankering. She might satisfy Spain to allow her to round off her colonial corners, but neither Italy nor England would consent to any further French acquisitions on the Mediterranean. The French action toward England in regard to Egypt is certainly bearing fruit now that French aspirations are becoming directed toward Morocco.

Mr. Spurgeon Displeased.

LONDON, Oct. 22.—At the inauguration of the revival movement of the Methodist Central Mission, Mr. Spurgeon, in his sermon opening the exercises, strongly denounced the laxity of the remarks of non-conformist preachers, and pointed to the speeches of the members of the Congregational Union, where a number of speakers admitted the decay of dogma, openly accepted the doctrine of evolution, and avowed that their theology was no the same as Spurgeon's. The meeting of the Congregational Union is considered an important epoch in Congregationalism.

The Hughes-Hallett Case.

LONDON, Oct. 22.—The final blow in the case of Col. Hughes-Hallett, making that person's position as a member of Parliament untenable, has been delivered by Solicitor Lewis. Miss Selwyn's legal adviser, in a letter stating that Hallett's infamous conduct towards the lady, together with the circumstances under which he obtained £3000 from her, would have been the basis of the colonel's trial in a Criminal Court, but for the fact that Capt. Selwyn objected to his sister's appearing in any court.

The New York Printers' Strike.

NEW YORK, Oct. 22.—The committee in charge of the job printers' strike sent the men employed by the Trow Directory Company back to work this morning, the men being led to believe that all their demands had been conceded. Subsequently they discovered that they were mistaken and that no concessions had been made. The men, thereupon, at once struck again.

Montreal Police Fire on Students.

MONTREAL, Oct. 22.—Some McGill students, after attending a theatrical performance here last night, paraded the streets and kicked up quite a disturbance with the result that some of their number were arrested. They then obtained reinforcements and marched down to the police station on St. George-street, but finding that the arrested students were at Chaboiller-street Station they marched thither and attempted to take possession, but they were driven off by the police, who had to fire on them.

Methodist Foreign Missions.

LINCOLN, Neb., Oct. 22.—The eighteenth annual meeting of the National Committee of the Woman's Foreign Mission Society of the Methodist Episcopal Church has been in session here three days. There are twenty-seven delegates, representing the nine districts of the United States, which embrace the country from Maine to California. The reports of the officers show the society in a flourishing condition. The collections for the past year amounted to $190,000, an increase of $23,000 over the previous year. The board will remain in session all of next week.

Killed by Stage Robbers.

SAN FRANCISCO, Oct. 22.—Masked highwaymen halted a stage coach near Redding, Cal., last night, and when the stage horses became frightened and started to run one of the robbers fired, killing a passenger named Henderson, a prominent citizen of Adin, Cal. Armed parties are out in search of the robbers.

GOVERNOR ANGERS.

The New Chief Magistrate of The Province of Quebec.

The appointment of Judge Angers to the Lieutenant-Governorship of the Province of Quebec recalls to the political arena a man who, previous to his elevation to the Bench, was regarded as the keenest politician in the Conservative party in the Province of Quebec. He was, during his earlier political career, practically the leader of his party, and his ability as a political manager was remarkable. A good example of his persistency and fertility of resources was afforded at the time of the Letellier coup d'etat, of which he was really the head and front. His acceptance of a judgeship was universally regretted by his friends, as it removed him from the sphere of active politics, in which he appeared destined to become so conspicuous a figure. The new Governor belongs to a wealthy family, and had acquired considerable wealth himself in the practice of his profession, so that he will be well able to sustain his new dignity as it should be.—Montreal Star.

THE IRISH AGITATION.

Evictors in Wexford Assailed With Vitriol and Burning Tar.

DUBLIN, Oct. 22.—An attempt was made to evict the widow Foley at Bally Kerogue, County Wexford, to-day, but the evictors were repulsed and the eviction was not accomplished. Twenty-eight men assembled within the widow's cottage and undertook the task of defending it. The police and emergency men attacked the stronghold, but after being frightfully burned and nearly suffocated with vitriol and burning tar and seared with hot irons they withdrew amid the jeers and laughter of the occupants of the house and the crowd outside. The military has been summoned and another attempt to storm the house will be made.

Churchill Criticises Gladstone.

LONDON, Oct. 22.—Lord Randolph Churchill, speaking at Newcastle to-day, declared that Gladstone's proposals regarding Ireland, as they now stand, meant the breaking up of the Union and the ruin of the Empire. He denied that the Government had lightly adopted coercion. They had tried to rule Ireland by ordinary law until the plan of campaign rendered this impossible. The plan of campaign was exactly similar to the "No-rent" manifesto which had been Gladstone's justification for coercion. Lord Randolph ridiculed the idea that the Parnellites had changed their methods and aims. He said Gladstone ought to be the last to denounce the Irish police for they got as loggerheads with the people in carrying out repeated Gladstone Coercion Acts. If political changes henceforth were to be effected by public disturbance and defiance of law England's prosperity would quickly fade.

Mr. Gladstone Confined to Bed.

LONDON, Oct. 22.—Mr. Gladstone is suffering from a severe cold and is confined to his bed. He is also suffering from excessive fatigue superinduced by his travels of the past few days and the many speeches made by him in that time.

An Irish M. P. Arrested.

DUBLIN, Oct. 22.—Mr. Thomas J. Condon, member of Parliament for East Tipperary and a prominent member of the National League, was arrested at Mitchellstown to-day for intimidating a witness.

A GREAT FIRE AT ST. LOUIS.

Over Half a Million Dollars' Worth of Property Destroyed.

ST. LOUIS, Mo., Oct. 22.—The most destructive fire that has occurred in this city in more than a year broke out at 6 o'clock to-night in the Woolman-Todd Company's wholesale boot and shoe establishment, No. 412 Washington-avenue. It soon communicated to John Martin & Co.'s wholesale clothing house, next door on the east, in the same building, and then sweeping swiftly through both stores, ignited the rear part of the large five-story warerooms of the Scarrett Furniture Company, Nos. 609, 611 and 613 Fourth-street, which was filled from cellar to garret with all grades of furniture. Here the fire raged with great fury, and in the course of an hour the entire building was gutted and all its contents destroyed. South of the Scarrett building, No. 607, was the Mitchell furniture, the fourth and fifth stories of which were entirely ruined and the lower floors flooded with water. North of the Scarrett building, Nos. 615 and 617, were occupied by Leonard Roos, extensive furrier. These stores were also completely gutted, and their contents either wholly destroyed or damaged beyond repair.

Adjoining the Woolman-Todd Company, on Washington-avenue, was Koerner's saloon and restaurant. This was crushed by a falling wall and afterwards burned. On the corner of Fourth-street and Washington-avenue, within the angle made by the stores of John Martin & Co. and the Scarrett Furniture Company, stands the large retail dry goods store of William F. Crow & Co., which escaped the fire, but a part of its wall was broken in by the falling of the east wall of Martin & Co.'s building, and the goods were damaged by water and smoke to the amount of $10,000, which is covered by insurance. The second and third floors over Koerner's saloon were occupied by A. Weiss & Co., manufacturers of underwear and cloaks. Their loss is $30,000, insurance $10,000.

The other losses, as near as they can be ascertained to-night are: Scarrett Furniture Company, loss $125,000, insurance $75,000; Woolman-Todd Company, loss $100,000, insurance $50,000; John Martin & Co., loss $75,000 to $100,000, insurance $50,000; Leonard Roos, loss on stock, fixtures, etc., $75,000, nearly covered by insurance. Mitchell Furniture Company, loss $15,000; insured $12,000; Koerner's loss, $12,000; insured $6000. The total loss will fall but little short of half a million.

THE CONDEMNED ANARCHISTS.

The Supreme Court Will Hear Arguments on the Writ of Error.

WASHINGTON, Oct. 22.—The United States Supreme Court has decided to hear further argument upon the application for a writ of error in the condemned Chicago Anarchists' case, and has set the hearing for Tuesday next at noon. The Court has also decided to allow the State of Illinois to appear in these proceedings and has notified Attorney-General Hunt to be present, and make the argument in behalf of the State in opposition to the petition for a writ of error. A further order in the case will be made when the Court reassembles on Monday.

MONDAY, OCTOBER 24, 1887.

A BUSY SICK MAN.

Sir Charles Tupper would seem to be remarkably busy for a man who was obliged to retire from active public life on account of ill health. "He took an active part," remarks the London Advertiser, "in the elections in Nova Scotia, and used arguments which served to convert an insignificant minority into a considerable majority. He assumed the position of Finance Minister. He made alterations in the tariff. He returned to England, assumed the duties of High Commissioner, undertook negotiations with the Spanish Minister in London—which attempt came to nothing, discussed with the Foreign Office the subject of the fisheries, has returned to Canada again, has appeared at the election trial, and having been unseated for bribery is ready to undertake the duties of British commissioner in references to the fisheries dispute at Washington.

Sir Charles, although remarkably busy, as High Commissioner accomplished very little. His active exertions in the line of diplomacy have as yet borne no fruit, and it remains to be seen whether Sir John Macdonald has offered him the post of representative of Canada upon this commission because he regarded the position as in substance Dead Sea fruit." Sir Charles poses as a sick man by virtue of his activity, and poses as a temperance man by virtue of his opposition to temperance measures. On this principle when Sir Charles professes to be an honest man it will be time to keep a sharp look out.

A new Tory Organization at Ottawa is called the "League of the Rose." Considering that its object is to give another form to the dark and snaky manner of investing corruption funds to advantage and extracting boodle from the public chest, the "League of Under the Rose" would be a more significant and fitting title.

The death is announced of the Hon. Lewis T. Wallbridge, Chief Justice of Manitoba. Mr. Wallbridge was a well-known citizen and lawyer of Belleville, and represented one of the divisions of Hastings in the parliament of the old Province of Canada, over the lower chamber of which he, for some time, presided over as Speaker. He was the last Speaker before Confederation, having been the immediate successor of Sir Henry Smith. He was a gentleman of good ability and enjoyed a full measure of respect both in his private and public capacity.

The Toronto News sadly enquires:—"Would it not be a good idea if the business men of Toronto held a meeting to consider the present condition of the city's finances, and to devise a scheme for a proper superintendance of the three or four million dollars for courthouse, city hall, harbor improvements, parks and drives, drill shed, sewer mains, waterworks, Don improvement, etc?" The idea would, perhaps, be a good one but it would be a better one to elect honest and capable civic representatives. A city or town council is elected to look after the affairs of the people, including the spending of their money, and to appoint a committee would be like setting a thief to catch a thief and he might in turn need watching. If the people's money is fooled away they are alone responsible—at least for a perpetuation of it. By dropping offenders at the end of their term and electing other men they would teach aspirants for office that the proper and honest discharge of a public trust is the only condition on which re-election will be considered. A remedy like this might not be immediate in its effect but it would be more effective than listening to the sophistical explanation of recreant representatives at election times and, by re-electing them, condoning the civic crimes they may have committed. The public are to blame very largely for not taking an intelligent and active interest in the conduct of their affairs. By thus keeping themselves in ignorance of the course of civic events they put themselves at the mercy of the designing who may find it to their interest to deceive the people. Wide-awake and careful representatives are an impossibility without wide-awake watchful constituents.

Love of Souls and Zeal for God's Law.

(For the Examiner.)

"Down from mine eyes like rivers of water teams do flow,"
Said Israel's Royal Psalmist some centuries ago;
Because the Lord's commandments men break and do not keep,
Was why the godly monarch so grievously did weep.

And later seers and prophets, from yearning hearts of pain,
In deep pathetic measures repeat the same refrain,
And through the years' dim vista, down the stream of time,
The strain from God's own children is heard in many a chime.

Ah! yet, saints' hearts are saddened with sorrow even while
They are serenely dwelling beneath their Father's smile.
Yes, and to see so many from God's law go astray,
Pursuing death and folly along the downward way.

Well may their tears flow freely to see the hardened state
Of many who the Savior will seek when 'tis too late,
And not o'er sinners only who wilfully reject
Christ, do they weep, nay, thousands are lost through mere neglect.

Their hearts are moved to anguish when those they love refuse
To follow Christ, determined another King to choose,
And they behold them wand'ring in paths of vanity
Whose early youth gave promise of heavenly piety.

No marvel then if sadness is theirs in look and mien,
When thousands all around them of careless souls are seen,
And like the great Apostle they're full of heaviness,
When on their hearts the burden of souls doth heavy press.

Sad, when those who have open profession
  made are found,
In gay assemblies mingling where vanities abound,
Sad that they love the Saviour so little or they'd wake
To such delights, that gladly earth's joys they would forsake.

Most sad their tears and bitter when they themselves have shame
Brought, in unguarded moments, upon the Saviour's name.
And should have been as living epistles seen and read
Of all men, stones of stumbling, to some have been instead.

As tears of deep compassion Christ o'er Jerusalem shed,
And o'er their pending sufferings His heart in pity bled,
So with the Lord saints mingle their tears in tender grace
O'er those who for earth barter eternal blessedness.

As Christ to saints more precious from day to day doth grow,
The more they long that others the same dear
  Savior know,
That in life's stormy billows an Anchor they might find,
To bear them up in perfect serenity of mind,
Have an abundant entrance to Heaven's harbor fair,
And enter on the fulness of joys forever there.

The Race for the Senatorship.

Opinions of the Press.

The Toronto World says:—"The people of the Peterborough district think that they have a claim on the vacant senatorship (Mr. McMaster having died), and his many friends of that part of Ontario are pushing the name of Mr. Henry Calcutt for the position. Peterborough town has never had a senator though it is the most enterprising town between Toronto and Ottawa, and is the centre of a rich and prosperous country. Mr. Calcutt has been a persistent advocate of the Trent Valley Canal."

The Port Hope Times says:—"Mr. Calcutt is a gentleman held in the highest esteem wherever known, and we are quite sure his appointment would meet with general approval. He is a go-ahead business man of excellent abilities, and has done much by his enterprise and energy to develop the resources of the country to the north of us. We think Mr. W. Craig of Port Hope, has a stronger claim to the position, but in the event of his not receiving the appointment, we would like to see Mr. Calcutt get it."

The Lindsay Post says:—"The names of Mr. Globensky of Montreal and Mr. Calcutt of Peterborough are mentioned in connection with vacancies in the senate caused by the death of Senators Seneral and McMaster. If a senator is to be chosen from that wing of the party Sir John Macdonald should not forget the long services and energetic zeal of Mr. John Dobson of this town. It is high time that Lindsay had a distinction of this kind, and when Sir John reads the Post to-morrow morning or Sunday afternoon as he generally does, he will for once agree with us, which we regret to observe, he does not always do. We expect, therefore, ere long to have the pleasure of congratulating our fellow-townsman.

I have been bothered with catarrh for about twenty years. I had lost my sense of smell entirely for the last fifteen years, and I had to get some one to thread my needle. Now I have my hearing as well as I ever had, and I can see to thread as fine a needle as ever I did. My sense of smell is partly restored; it seems to be improving all the time. I think there is nothing like Ely's Cream Balm for Catarrh.—Mrs. E. E. Grimes, Rendrill, Ohio. eodw43

It is for Dyspepsia, Liver Complaint, Indigestion, Biliousness, and it is the finest blood purifier in the known world to-day.
"Does it give satisfaction?"
We cannot point to one instance where it did not.
"Where does it have the largest sale?"
Right in the city of Hamilton, where it is manufactured, there has been over one thousand dollars' worth sold in the last year retail, and the great majority of the sales are by one recommending it to another. For sale at 50c. and $1.00 per bottle by John McKee, Druggist eodw35

A Cure For Deafness.

There have been many remarkable cures of deafness made by the use of Haggyard's Yellow Oil, the great household remedy for pain, inflammation and soreness. Yellow Oil cures Rheumatism, Sore Throat and Croup, and is useful internally and externally for all pains and injuries. 2w42d

Beyond Dispute.

There is no better, safer or more pleasant cough remedy made than Haggyard's Pectoral Balsam. It cures Hoarseness, Sore Throat, Coughs, Colds, Bronchitis and all throat and lung troubles. 2w42d

Nature in Force.

There is much in little, as regards Burdock Blood Bitters. You do not have to take quarts and gallons to get at the medicine it contains. Every drop in every dose has medicinal virtue as a blood purifying, system regulating tonic. 2w42d

In Brief, And To The Point.

Dyspepsia is dreadful. Disordered liver is misery. Indigestion is a foe to good nature.

The human digestive apparatus is one of the most complicated and wonderful things in existence. It is easily put out of order.

Greasy food, tough food, sloppy food, bad cookery, mental worry, late hours, irregular habits, and many other things which ought not to be, have made the American people a nation of dyspeptics.

But Green's August Flower has done a wonderful work in reforming this sad business and making the American people so healthy that they can enjoy their meals and be happy.

Remember:—No happiness without health. But Green's August Flower brings health & happiness to the dyspeptic. Ask your druggist for a bottle. Seventy-five cents.

A Rare Combination.

There is no other remedy or combination of medicines that equals as Burdock Blood Bitters in its wide range of power over such diseases as Dyspepsia, Liver and Kidney Complaint, Scrofula and all humors of the blood. 2w42d

To Avoid Baldness or Gray Hair.

Use Dr. Dorenwend's Great German Hair Magic. It keeps the scalp clean and free from Dandruff, and promotes the growth of the hair. It prevents premature grayness and stops all falling out of the hair. On bald heads, where the roots have not perished, it will invigorate them and force a new growth of hair. Ask for Hair Magic. It is the only reliable. For sale by J. D. Tully and all druggists.

Ladies troubled with Pimples, Blotches, Rough Hands or Face, or Sores of any description, should use McGregor & Parke's Carbolic Cerate. It will leave the skin in perfect health, smooth, clean and good color. Be sure and get the genuine, made by McGregor & Parke. Price 25c. Sold at John McKee's Drug Store. eodw35

Invariable Indications.

If you have Sour Stomach, Heartburn Sick Headache, rising and spuring of food, wind in the stomach, a choking or gnawing sensation at the pit of the stomach, these you have sure indications of Dyspepsia, which Burdock Blood Bitters will surely cure. It has cured the worst cases on record. 2w42d

Among the Indians.

"While my husband was trading in furs he came across an Indian who was taken to his lodge to die. He had inward pains and pains in all his limbs. He gave some Yellow Oil internally and applied it externally and cured him. It also cured my husband of rheumatism, and I find it valuable for coughs and colds, sore throat etc." Mrs. A. Beshaw, Cook's Mills, Serpent River, Ont. 2w42d

Reasons why you should purchase Fluid Lightning in preference to all other remedies are:—Rapid result—cures instantly. It is easily applied—no trouble—no lost time. It does not require constant use—one application is effectual. One bottle will remove more pain than any other remedy in existence. Try it for Neuralgia, Toothache, Headache, Rheumatism. Sold at 25c. a bottle by John McKee, Druggist. eodw35

THE WAR CLOUD BUSTED.

VICTORY has Perched on the Banner of

PETERBOROUGH'S GREAT CHEAPSIDE!

And SHEPPARD, by common consent, will get $1,000 for being the Cheapest Clothier in Peterborough, having knocked the Wonderful Cheap Man completely out. "Business is Business; Dirt is Dirt, and when it comes to throwing Dirt, then Count" the only original teddy out, and he will hand over that $1,000 like a little man: For the following reasons:—

Sheppard sells a full size Man's Suit for $2.95, and better Goods than a Suit to fit a Child about 9 years old sold by the Wonderful Cheap-Man on Saturday for $3.00; but marked $3.50. This is how it was:—A Lady purchased a Child's Suit on Saturday last, Sept. 17th, 1887, at the Store of the Wonderful Cheap-Man. It was marked thusly:—Lot 5375, Breast 27, Waist 26½, Age 9, Price $3.50. It was pure Shoddy, being held together by cotton threads, and Sheppard is free to say that that was the dearest Suit sold in the Town of Peterborough for the last two years. Full particulars are given because of the $1000 involved, and, further, that this decides who is selling the Cheapest Clothing in Peterborough. SHEPPARD would have sold that Lady a Suit, Pure Wool for that money, and worth two of the one she got.

$1,000 to Go to the Charitable Institutions of Peterborough.

I had first decided to give the agencies a chance of jumping up my rating that $1.000, but after considering the matter and finding that never in any case have I been asked for an endorser to my paper, and that no relative or any other persons have ever endorsed my paper to the extent of one cent, I have come to the conclusion my credit is as good as yours and will ask you to hand over the $1,000 to the Charitable Institutions of Peterborough.

Now, Sir, there is a good story told the truth of which can be vouched for, but for the honor of at least making an effort to keep up your self-styled name—The Terror of High Priced Clothiers—do not allow the same to be said of you in the case above. A man purchased a suit for $15.00 at the store of one of the largest Advertisers in that section of country. It was guaranteed pure wool; but after examining it carefully at home, he came to the conclusion that he had been dealing with some one sharper than himself. Finding a make of wool, differing some from anything he had ever seen, it dawned upon him, that he had heard of wool of that kind, so the suit was returned. The merchant bet $25.00 that it was all wool, and the bet was accepted the decision being left to a neighboring merchant, he found that the $15.00 suit, was wool faced and shoddy back, pure unadulterated shoddy, but what of the $25.00 bet, was it paid, not much—muchly—as it were.

SHEPPARD is making Wonderful Strides in Securing Marvellous Bargains in Dry Goods, Clothing, Hats and Caps.

The Mayoralty.

Civic politicians are beginning to feel an interest in the coming mayoralty contest for 1888. Several names are mentioned in this connection, but nothing sufficiently definite to warrant the association of any particular names with the candidature has yet been evolved.

Salvation Army.

The Salvation Army held a "Jubilee" Saturday night and Sunday. The musical Quintette of the Army, Griff, Wigg & Co., who have appeared here before, were the attraction. The parades were led by a brass band. The Sunday services were held in the Opera House, which was crowded afternoon and evening.

POTATOES—Manitoba Potatoes.

Car load just received. Very fine. Call and see them at BRISBIN'S Feed Store on Hunter Street.

Owned in Peterborough.

A Winnipeg despatch states that a row of wooden buildings in that city was destroyed by fire on Friday. Among the principal losers were Messrs. D. W. Dumble and Geo. A. Cox, of Peterborough. The property of the former though bringing in a fair rental was not a very valuable building. There was no insurance and the construction of better buildings will probably increase the value of the property.

Enlargement.

Operations have begun in the improvement and enlargement of Otonabee Lodge rooms. The enlargement contemplates the conversion of the whole of the third and fourth stories of the Cox block, corner of George and Hunter streets, to Otonabee Lodge and encampment purposes. The work is being prosecuted under the supervision of Mr. Jas. McLelland, who has returned from Toronto. When the alterations are completed a full description will be given of these elegant premises, which will probably be the most handsome and commodious in the Midland district.

The Same Old Score.

Peterborough Rugby Football Club Gets the Small End of a 14-4 Score, and Upper Canada College Team the Other.

A chilling wind and raw atmosphere prevented a large attendance at the football match on the P.A.A.A. grounds Saturday afternoon between Peterborough and Upper Canada College (Toronto) teams. The game was a signal victory for the visitors, who defeated the home team by 14 points to 4—the same score by which the Peterboroughs were defeated in their last match with Kingston. Dr. Brennan secured the only touch-down scored by the home team. In the first half time the visitors scored 8 points and the home team 4; in the second half, by a series of rouges, the visitors piled up six more points.

The teams on the whole were more evenly matched than in the late Peterborough-Kingston contest, but one or two weak points were successfully taken advantage of by the visitors. The home team ascribe their defeat to an injudicious placing of the men. Kirby, the stout back of the club, could not play, and the team felt his loss severely.

The match as a game of football was very exciting and interesting. The visitors were highly elated over their success, and lost no time in acquainting their Toronto friends by telegraph of the victory. Following are the teams:—

The Toronto papers in their accounts of the match notice in particular the playing of Brennan, Strickland, Morris, Halliday, Stevens and G. J. Smith for Peterborough.

Tributes to Hamilton's Sulky Plough.

Mr. Peter Hamilton has received the following letters in reference to the working of his excellent Sulky Plough:—

PETER HAMILTON ESQ.:—

DEAR SIR,—I have the pleasure to tell you that the work done with your sulky plough is beyond expectation. A man unacquainted up to the time with the working of your plough, with three horses ploughed one and a quarter acres in three hours and 55 minutes, on my "Model farm" in very difficult ground. I believe your sulky ploughs are by far the best in the market. Agents of ploughs of a somewhat similar make are trying to make the people believe theirs are the best, but they can't succeed when yours are tried.

Yours truly,
A. GOODFELLOW.

Springville, Oct. 21st, 1887.

HE LIKES IT WELL.

DEAR SIR,—I have been asked by a great many people how I liked Hamilton's Sulky Plough. Now as I have tried it in all kinds of ground I like it well and think it a better plough than the plough Mr. Bowie is selling, although Mr. Bowie has been telling around that I took Mr. Hamilton's back and got one of his, but it is not so. I have been using my plough all summer and would not take one of Bowie's new ploughs and $20 for it now.

DAVID STOREY.

Attempted Suicide.

On Saturday evening an employee of the Grand Central hotel found the dead body, or what he thought the dead body, of a man in the sheds attached to the hotel. An examination, however, revealed traces of life, while a bottle of poison, nearly emptied, found near where he was lying, told of the attempt at self destruction. Medical assistance was summoned, and by the application of proper restoratives the man was sufficiently recovered to give some account of himself and the condition he was found in. His name was John Hope and he came from the county near Kingston and was on his way north to work in the timberwoods. He arrived in town too late on Saturday to catch the train and was compelled to stay in town till Monday. While strolling around town he dropped into a shop and made the discovery which brought on his trouble. Previous to setting out on his journey he had gone to Kingston and bought a complete outfit of winter clothing, but when he priced the goods of gough, the wonderful cheap man, and found that he had paid the Kingston dealer nearly twice what the same goods could have been bought for just as good at gough's, he became so despondent and disgusted that he bought a bottle of poison commonly called old rye, and, drinking it down, was reduced to the condition in which he was found. The moral is as plain as a pike-staff.

A Lamentable Accident.

On Saturday afternoon a severe and painful accident happened to little Johnny Millar, aged about ten years, son of Mr. M. Millar. A farmer was delivering apples in front of Mr. Millar's residence, and the farmer invited several little fellows who were playing in the vicinity to come and get some. Among those who responded was little "Jack" Millar. Some apples fell under the wagon, and Master Millar went after them, when, the horses starting suddenly, he was thrown under the wheel, which passed over the side of his face and his arm, thrown up instinctively to shield his face. His jaw bone was broken in two places and other injuries inflicted. Dr. Kincaid was promptly on hand and attended to the little sufferer's injuries. This accident is especially unfortunate, coming at a time when Mr. Millar had made arrangements for removal to Orillia, and he has the cordial sympathy of his many friends.

The Late Mrs. Macdougal.

The EXAMINER chronicles with deep regret the death of Janet Gilmour, wife of Mr. Macdougal, and eldest daughter of the late John Gilmour. Her death took place at 5 o'clock Sunday morning, at "Maplehurst", the residence of Mrs. Gilmour. The deceased lady was held in the highest esteem by a very large circle of friends, who join in condolence and sympathy for the bereaved husband and family. Her demise makes the second daughter of the family removed by death within three weeks. The funeral, which took place this (Monday) afternoon at three o'clock, was largely attended.

Water Filters

At this season of the year all drinking water should be properly filtered before using. The best filter made is for sale at "China Hall" for only $3.00. Call and see them.

The Late Dr. Nelles.

A Touching Tribute to the Memory of the Great Methodist Divine.

Sunday morning in the George Street Methodist Church, after the regular sermon, the pastor, Rev. E. H. Williams, B.A., B.D., paid a glowing tribute to the memory of the late Dr. Nelles, Chancellor of Victoria University. The choir sang an appropriate anthem, and at the close of the services the solemn notes of the Dead March pealed forth from the organ. Following are Rev. Mr. Wallace's remarks:—

BRETHREN,—I feel to-day that in common with the Methodist Church of this land, you and I stand under the deep shadow of a great grief—a shadow cast over us all by the unexpected death of that distinguished and beloved man of God and Minister of the Gospel, who so often spoke from this pulpit in defence and exposition of the truth as it is in Jesus, the Rev. Dr. Nelles, Chancellor of Victoria University.

I had not the privilege of being a student of Dr. Nelles', but as a young minister of the Methodist Church I soon became acquainted with him; as his pastor in the University church in Cobourg, I learned to love him, both for his own merits and for his generous consideration and unfailing kindness to me; and now I feel it a melancholy pleasure to lay my humble tribute of loving admiration and regret upon his new-made grave.

It is not needful that I should rehearse the story of Dr. Nelles' life. His career was in the eye of this church and this land. His name was synonymous with Victoria University from that day thirty-seven years ago when he stood alone to rebuild her from her academical ruins, to the day when the flag of the old College drooped half-mast in mournful honor of his memory. Inspiring students with the love of learning, training young men up into Christian character, pleading the cause of higher education in Methodist Conferences and among the Methodist people, defending the Christian or church ideal of University work, and yet finally with the most magnanimous self-abnegation giving such an impulse to a scheme for the wise and patriotic union of the resources of the church and of the state in the Provincial University that not even his own subsequent hesitation could turn back the tide which had begun to flow obedient to his eloquent persuasions—such was the work of our departed Chancellor, work whose issues shall be recognized with gratitude in generations yet to come.

At his death, he had been far longer College president than any other man in America. And for all those thirty-seven years he had without stint lavished upon the work which God and the Church had committed to his care all the energies of his noble nature. For Victoria College he lived, in her service he died. The terrible anxieties of this period of transition doubtless hastened his death. He rests now from his labors and his works do follow him. "Work done for God, it doth not."

As a preacher, I need not tell you how he soared into regions of sublime thought and rapturous emotion, how he developed and illustrated great principles, how his Christian faith set his accurate logic gloriously on fire, and how his exquisite literary taste turned his metaphysics into poetry and thrilled entranced hearers with felicitous phrase, apt quotation and delicate allusion. He was not an even speaker. Sometimes he did not kindle, but when he kindled into a blaze of thought and feeling, I know no man in England or America who gave me, for one, profounder pleasure. He was a very great preacher. He was not a phophet without honor among his own people. He would have been yet better appreciated in London, Edinburgh or New York.

Dr. Nelles was a man of a very subtle intellect, of very wide reading, and of sympathies as wide as his reading. His mind was hospitable to all truth. He was no fierce polemic. His thought and sympathy could not be sectarian. He was in the truest sense a Catholic Christian. And even beyond the Christian pale he had his sympathy with all good in all men. The spirit of the good Samaritan—that was his spirit. He loved his neighbor, and his neighborhood was all the world. The words of his favorite poet, Whittier, express his broad and loving temper:—

"O brother man! fold to thy heart thy brother:
Where pity dwells, the peace of God is there:
To worship rightly is to love each other.
Each smile a hymn, each kindly deed a prayer."

Such a spirit endeared him to men of every church, every creed, every rank in life. When amid the tolling of the church bells of the town, men representing various institutions of learning, various professions, various denominations of this land followed his remains to the church, where he had worshipped, and to the grave where he now lies, all the people of Cobourg, who had known him, a large proportion of them from their childhood, stood silent stricken, mourning by. To all who had the rare privilege of knowing him, his loss has come as a personal bereavement. We did not know how much we loved him until he was gone.

Deep beneath the surface of the soul, on which the waves of multifarious thoughts rolled ceaselessly, on whose foam the sunbeams played in the rainbow hues of wit, there set the steady current of a life consecrated to God. And when the end approached there was no preparation to be made. His last request to his students was that they should sing those words which expressed so well his faith. "There is a fountain filled with blood." In a letter to Dr. Potts dictated shortly before his death he said that God had taken from him that burden of anxiety regarding the future of the University which he had borne so long. Oh! heavy, heavy burden. Oh! happy, happy rest.

One who was with him when he died says that he went off like a bird. Ah! at last the cage was opened, and the liberated spirit took wing to that summer clime "where everlasting spring abides and never withering flowers."

Brethren, let us pray for the stricken wife and children of the dear departed, who amid the general grief, have a grief peculiarly and profoundly their own; let us pray for the University left without a head in the hour of its uncertainty and transition; let us pray for the Methodist Church, bereaved of one of her most brilliant and most useful sons; let us pray for ourselves, that amid the chances and changes of our mortality, we may ever be prepared for God's will concerning us and ours.

I long for household voices gone,
For vanished smiles I long:
But God hath led my dear ones on,
And He can do no wrong.

And so beside the silent sea
I wait the muffled oar;
No harm from Him can come to me
On ocean or on shore

I know not where His islands lift
Their fronded palms in air;
I only know I cannot drift
Beyond his love and care.

The Season for Feasting.

Halloween, Thanksgiving Day and the Christmas festive season are fast approaching, and prudent housekeepers are preparing for their oncoming by laying in an extra supply of eatibles. It is a paramount question just now with them where they shall purchase their supplies for these prospective feasts, and Messrs. Elliott & Tierney, the popular down-town grocers, are right on hand with an answer. They call attention to the fact that their stock of groceries, provisions, etc., is unsurpassed in the county for extent, compass and cheapness. Their advertisement in another column contains a more definite announcement. Read it and govern yourself accordingly.

WHY?

Because experience and close study has developed talent in Chemistry, Lighting, and Posing. In days when such learning was received imperatively in a cocessful photography Mr. Sproule was practicing the business an t today it places his work ahead of competitors. Because only the best materials are used. No other establishment in Canada is using throughout the same class of materials. He works with no cheap instruments. His Studio is lighted and furnished the best, and all combined to give the subject ease and confidence.

His prices are not higher than competitors. He employs no person or persons to travel through the Country to puff up his business or work. It don't require such. dw

THE STORM KING'S BLAST.

WIDE-SPREAD DAMAGE DONE BY THE RECENT GALES.

A Steam Wrecked Near Fort Stillanole and All Hands Supposed to Have Been Lost—A Chicago Schooner Cast Away Near Milwaukee.

MILWAUKEE, Oct. 24.—The gale that prevailed Saturday night is reported to have been the severest of the season. It continued last night with flurries of snow. The schooner Maine of Chicago was wrecked here early yesterday morning and is a total loss. She struck 150 feet off the shore, and for half an hour six men comprising her crew clung desperately to the rigging while the seas broke clear over her. The life-saving crew rescued them in a nearly exhausted condition. No other wrecks are reported.

Havoc at Montreal.

MONTREAL, Oct. 24.—A strong wind has been blowing all morning and has played general havoc. Awnings have been blown down and plate glass windows smashed. Trees have also been blown down. Two houses, one a brick and the other frame, at Ste. Cunegonde, and another in St. Jean Baptiste were also blown down. The yachts of the Montreal Yacht Club at Longueuil were also much damaged.

A Cleveland Vessel Lost.

CLEVELAND, Oct. 24.—The three-masted schooner Zach Chandler of Cleveland left Ashtabula with coal for Escanaba on Sunday morning. Last night she was driven on a bar at Noble Station on the Lake Shore Railroad. All night long the waves broke over the decks, and the officers and crew, ten in number, were compelled to lash themselves to the rigging. At 9 o'clock this morning the disaster was reported at this port, and Captain Goodwin of the Life Saving Station went to the rescue on a special train. The crew was rescued after considerable difficulty. The Chandler is evidently broken in two.

A Batteau Breaks from Her Moorings.

BELLEVILLE, Oct. 24.—Messrs. Gilmour & Co.'s sloop-rigged batteau Sydney left Kingston at 8 a.m. Sunday for Trenton. After 6 p.m., when in the neighborhood of Redneysville, the jib was blown away. The captain, not caring to attempt the passage of the intricate channel off Nigger Island, anchored. When the wind shifted and increased in violence he put out a second anchor, but the gale was so great that both anchors dragged, and finally the chain cable of one and the rope line of the other parted. The craft was then at the mercy of the elements. After drifting some distance she went aground on Lawrence's Point.

All Hands Believed to Be Lost.

PORT DALHOUSIE, Oct. 24.—The barge Oriental went down about two miles off this port and about one and one-half miles out east of the lighthouse here about 2 o'clock this morning, and it is feared all hands were lost. The Oriental left Charlotte on Saturday night in tow of the propeller Scotia bound for Toronto with 700 tons of coal. The weather being bad the Captain of the Scotia tried to reach here, but was unable to do so, and then tried to get into Niagara. Shortly after turning round the tow line parted and it was with the utmost difficulty the Scotia managed to get into Niagara. It is supposed that the straining of the Oriental in the heavy sea opened her seams causing her to fill and sink.

Capt. Fraser of the Scotia, accompanied by his purser, arrived from Niagara to-day searching for any signs of the Oriental's yawl or crew, but found no trace of them, and it is feared the entire crew were lost. The crew consisted of Capt. George Hewart of Port Dalhousie; Edward Stark of South Bay, mate; Charles Baker and Herbert Storey, both of Kingston, and Minnie Hobart of Kingston, cook. The spars of the sunken vessel are above water and plainly visible from here, and she appears to be lying on an even keel. The Oriental was owned by Capt. Samuel Fraser of Kingston, and was not insured.

Little Damage Done at Hamilton.

HAMILTON, Oct. 24.—The unusually heavy wind storm of last night did very little serious damage in the city. A number of shade and fruit trees and some fences were blown down in various parts of the city. At the beach the roof was blown off a shed at McNeil's, and John Dynes' barn was crushed in by a falling tree.

THE WOODFORD MARTYRS.

SIR WILFRED BLUNT MARCHES HEROICALLY TO JAIL.

The Scotch Liberals Sent to Ireland to Express Sympathy Arrive at Mitchellstown—Leaguers at Kilrush Cut the Telegraph Wires.

DUBLIN, Oct. 24.—Sir Wilfrid Blunt and Mr. Roche, a Poor-Law Guardian, who were arrested at Woodford yesterday for taking part in a proclaimed meeting, were taken from Loughrea jail to Woodford to-day under a strong escort. At the station they were met by Messrs. Rowlands and Sheehy, members of Parliament, who led a procession and band which followed the procession to the Court House. Both prisoners were remanded until to-morrow for a hearing. Sir Wilfrid Blunt refused to give bail and was again sent to jail.

The Bearers of Scotch Sympathy.

DUBLIN, Oct. 24.—The two Scotch members of Parliament sent to Ireland by the Scottish Liberal Association to assure the people of their sympathy, have arrived at Mitchellstown, where they met with an enthusiastic reception.

Leaguers Cut Telegraph Wires.

DUBLIN, Oct. 24.—A league meeting announced to be held at Kilrush on Sunday was proclaimed by the authorities. The leaguers outwitted the police and 6000 of them marched with bands and banners to a spot a few miles from Kilrush and held a meeting. To prevent the authorities from summoning help the leaguers cut the telegraph wires.

HARTINGTON AT NOTTINGHAM.

He Describes the Liberal Federation as a One-Man Association.

LONDON, Oct. 24.—Lord Hartington delivered a speech at Nottingham this evening. He described the Liberal Federation as nothing but a one-man association without a permanent national character. As proof of this he said that after the elections of 1885 nine-tenths of the Liberals would have repudiated as a calumny the assertion that the party was pledged to Home Rule or the repeal of the Union. Last week's meeting of the federation had not either a consultative or a deliberative character. The members simply assembled to hear Mr. Gladstone declare in vague terms what he chose that the association policy should be. The demands of the unionists met practically with a flat refusal. He personally never believed that any modifications would be granted. He declined to examine the federation's new political program, as it had no more practical bearing upon the immediate future than the resolves passed by the three Tooley street tailors. [Laughter and cheers.] As soon as the elections of 1885 were over Mr. Gladstone's copiously announced program disappeared. Votes were used for purposes which the party did not dream of. Let them take warning and not attach importance to the semblance of an explanation of policy which to some politicians was a necessary part of politics. He reiterated that the question of the disestablishment of the Church in Scotland ought to be settled by the popular will, but not so Welsh disestablishment, which could not be separated from English disestablishment, as Mr. Gladstone himself had formerly argued when the question was raised.

Artistic Harmony.

"I'm going to have a crayon of my father hung over the mantelpiece," remarked the proud owner of a new and beautiful mansion, as he expressed his perfect satisfaction with the decorations of the library. "Oh, pardon me, it is impossible!" exclaimed the architect. "The room is Turkish!" "All right," said the master of the house, gravely; "of course, we mustn't spoil the decorations. But if I have the artist touch him up a little, and put a fez on the old gentleman's head, you'll let him in, won't you?"

THAT ALLEGED CROOKEDNESS.

Mr. W. R. Bingham Released on One Charge and Held on Another.

OTTAWA, Oct. 24.—The end of the Bethune-Unknown foot race is not yet reached. This morning W. R. Bingham and J. D. Caverly appeared at the Police Court to answer the charge made by Jack Jenkins of Montreal of having $4500 of stolen money in their possession. Jenkins failed to put in an appearance and they were discharged.

Then the case against Jenkins, charged by Harry Bethune with having stolen his gold watch, was called. Bethune did not appear, and the policeman who made the arrest having volunteered the information that "there weren't no watch stolen," the charge against Jenkins was dismissed.

It was supposed that this ended the case, and the Toronto party prepared to leave by the midday train. But the circus was not over. Within an hour of the close of the proceedings in the Police Court Mr. Bingham was again arrested, this time at the instance of "Toby" Elliott of the American House, Montreal, on a charge of the larceny of $10,300. Bingham was admitted to bail, himself in $4000 and Ald. Lewis, Ald. Roger and W. C. Perkins in $2000 each, and will again appear at the Police Court to-morrow morning.

There is still a great diversity of opinion as to whether or not the race was a square one; but the impression is gaining ground that "The Unknown" is Gent, the fastest sprinter in England, bar Hutchins, and that Bethune could not beat him under any circumstances.

It is Gent.

There is no doubt among the Toronto sporting men who know about such matters that "The Unknown" is Gent of England. He arrived in Boston a couple of weeks ago and at once reported himself to "Jim" Keenan, who sent him to Toronto with a letter of introduction to Mr. Bingham. Whatever may be at the bottom of the dispute between the Toronto and Montreal sports in the division of the spoils, there is no doubt that "The Unknown" can play with Bethune and that he beat him easily. But there are other things in the "deal" that the public have not yet learned. Bethune arrived in Toronto yesterday morning from Ottawa; that is the reason he didn't appear against Jenkins. He had a good boodle with him, it is said, and evidently was no loser by the result of the match.

BAILEY IS SATISFIED.

The K. of L. Kicker Says He Has no Grievances to Air and no Complaints to Make.

PITTSBURG, Oct. 24.—W. H. Bailey, one of the members of the General Executive Board of the Knights of Labor about whom there was such a contention at Minneapolis, arrived in the city to-day en route to Philadelphia. This morning, when questioned in regard to the proceedings of the recent General Assembly, he said: "I am not satisfied with the result of the convention, but I have no grievances to air and no complaints to make. The vote to reduce the Executive Board was in my favor. While I am not satisfied, I accept the inevitable, and will do my best for the good of the entire order. No, I did not attend the Chicago meeting, and know nothing about it."

Walking Delegates Arrested.

NEW YORK, Oct. 24.—The entire board of walking delegates of the building trade were to-day arrested on a charge of conspiracy. The complaint was made by Peck & Martin, dealers in building materials. They charge that the board has ordered strikes wherever the materials of the firm were used. Bail was given for the prisoners and examination adjourned until to-morrow.

THE BROKEN ASSOCIATION.

Application to Wind up the Affairs of the Ontario Investment.

LONDON, Oct. 24.—An application was made by Messrs. Street & Becher, on behalf of the estate of the late H. C. R. Becher, to the Queen's Bench division to compel the Ontario Investment association to show cause why the affairs of the Association should not be wound up under the Ontario Act. This morning Judge Davis granted an order to that effect, and informed the applicant that the argument would have to take place on Saturday next.

Several directors of the association who lent money to themselves have been examined under oath as to the nature of the securities put in by them for their loans. In all cases it was found that the securities were such as to entail heavy loss, and in some cases they were utterly worthless.

So far, eighteen writs have been issued against the association by the stockholders claiming the money they have paid in on the ground that they were induced to invest it by fraud and misrepresentation. At a late meeting held by the directors over 10,000 shares, upon which more money has been borrowed than had been paid in, were written off.

A ROTTEN DEPARTMENT.

Judge McDougall Finds City Officials Guilty of Fraud and Negligence.

TORONTO, Oct. 25.—Yesterday Judge McDougall made his report on the Waterworks Investigation which has been going on since March last. The report makes about six columns of type, and denounces the whole system under which the department is managed in Toronto, and refers to some of the officers connected with the works in the strongest language. Mr. John H. Venables, the waterworks engineer, is found guilty of gross and culpable carelessness and neglect of duty, of keeping untrue records and of issuing false certificates. His Honor holds City Engineer Sproatt and Mr. Hamilton, Superintendent of the Waterworks, guilty of gross and culpable carelessness. The new Inglis & Hunter engine is reported as altogether failing to do the work guaranteed by the builders. Large quantities of coal have been paid for that were never received. In fact the report depicts the Toronto Waterworks Department as fairly honeycombed with fraud and culpable negligence. The judge recommends putting the department under the control of a commissioner. The report concludes: This enquiry has disclosed incompetency, dishonesty, extravagant management, utter lack of check and entire absence of system in every branch of the department—in the receiving, rating and inspecting branches, in the pressure house and in the pumping house.

Killed by a Falling Wall.

MITCHELL, Ont., Oct. 24.—A heavy wind storm swept over here last night about 11 o'clock, demolishing a large opera hall in the course of erection. The walls were blown down on a small frame house occupied by N. Green and family. Mr. Green and a female servant were instantly killed, his wife escaping with a few bruises.

TWO DESIRABLE OFFICES.

A VACANT JUDGESHIP IN QUEBEC AND ANOTHER IN QUEBEC.

Additions to the Labor Commission Reported—Rich Deposits of Gold Said to Have Been Found at Sudbury—A Profligate Who Victimized Several Priests.

OTTAWA, Sept. 24.—There is a great deal of speculation as to who will be the successors to Judge Angers in Quebec and Judge Taylor in Manitoba. For the position rendered vacant by the appointment of Judge Angers to the Lieutenant-Governorship, two names are mentioned, Hon. J. Blanchet, who was Provincial Secretary in the Ross Administration in Quebec, and Mr. Isidore N. Belleau, ex-M.P. for Leeds. For the latter position there are said to be a number of aspirants, but it is generally believed that the appointment will this time be made from the Manitoba and not the Ontario bar, and that the choice is likely to be between Mr. Howell and Mr. J. M. Aikens, a son of the Lieutenant-Governor. It is not very probable that the position will be left vacant any length of time.

The Labor Commission appointed last winter is expected to commence operations shortly. It is said that the commission will be enlarged by the addition of several new names to those of Judge Armstrong, chairman; A. T. Freed, S. R. Heakes, John Armstrong and Jules Hellbrouner, originally appointed, and that some delay has been caused by a little difficulty in selecting a representative from Ottawa.

There is great excitement in and around Sudbury over the reported discoveries of gold. It is said that in blasting for other metals a vein of gold was struck of great richness and extent, and the whole neighborhood is worked up to fever heat about it.

Sergt.-Major Conroy of the Governor-General's Foot Guards has taken the trouble to investigate the number of Imperial pensioners now under pay from the headquarters at Halifax. The result of this investigation shows that 3000 Imperial army pensioners in Canada are paid from Halifax, 200 navy pensioners, and 600 superannuated pensioners, including half-pay officers, officers' widows, dock laborers, etc. These figures are exclusive of those pensioners who are paid in the Toronto district by Col. Mulligan, and those employed on the Esquimalt dry dock in British Columbia who are paid by the naval store keeper there.

Several of the Catholic clergy in Russell and Carleton Counties have been victimized by a pedlar who represented himself as a cousin of Rev. Father Dussert of South Gloucester. The man was peddling fine linen goods which he offered at very low prices, taking only promissory notes in payment. These notes are now found to be for much larger sums than the makers supposed when signing them. One signed by Rev. Father McGooey of Osgood, which he supposed was for $3.50, turned out to be for $350, and there are said to be a number of similar cases. It is also said that an attempt was made to swindle Archbishop Duhamel out of $1000, but it failed. Some of the notes are being sued, and the cases will come up at next assizes. Meantime efforts are being made to catch the pedlar, but so far without success.

Quite a little flurry of excitement has been caused amongst local merchants by the threat made by Police Sergeant Moylan on Saturday to arrest Mr. George Ashfield, dealer in fancy goods, Sparke-street, who is displaying a large collection of mechanical toys in his window, on the ground of collecting a crowd and causing an obstruction of the street. The policeman claimed that he was acting under a city bylaw and the merchant is very indignant at the interference, holding that he has the right to make such displays in his window as will attract attention.

McGARIGLE THE FUGITIVE.

It is Suspected That the Chicago Boodler is in Hiding at Hamilton.

HAMILTON, Oct. 24.—Last Thursday Capt. John Irving, accompanied by a man named J. C. Dunn, arrived at the Dominion Hotel. They both registered from St. Catharines. There is nothing very startling in the above information except for the fact that Irving was the captain of the Edward Blake, the vessel that brought Wm. McGarigle from Chicago to Sarnia, after his famous escape from Sheriff Matson while under conviction for three years' term in the penitentiary. Dunn's identity is enshrouded in mystery, but from information gathered this morning there is a strong suspicion that he is none other than the noted boodler who has successfully eluded the detectives for the past three months. On being shown a photograph of McGarigle, one of the proprietors of the hotel said it resembled Dunn very much. The captain of the Blake, however, told the reporter that his friend was not McGarigle, nor did he resemble the boodler. He also said that Dunn came from New York, but it seems strange that he registered from St. Catharines. He left the Dominion Hotel Sunday, and if Irving can be believed he will return to-morrow.

EIGHT HOUSES BURNED.

Fire Consumes $50,000 Worth of Property in Montreal.

MONTREAL, Oct. 24.—This morning fire broke out in a stable in rear of Mr. Chamberlain's store, corner of Maple and St. Jean Baptiste-streets, in St. Jean Baptiste ward, and before it could be extinguished eight two story brick houses were burned.

The houses were occupied by twelve families most of whom were left entirely destitute. The names of the proprietors are as follows: Messrs Fressman, Laverdiere, Ratel, Chamberlain, Chartier, De Brault, Charbonneau and Horne. Damage $50,000, but very little in urance.

Salvation Army Barracks Burned.

MONTREAL, Oct. 24.—Shortly after 11 o'clock this morning fire broke out in the Mechanics' Hall, at present occupied by the Salvation Army. The fire was, however, soon got under control, but not before a large amount of damage had been done by water. The hall is situated on the second flat of the building, the first flat being taken up with the Mechanics' Institute, library and reading room, and the ground floor by Anderson, tailors, and by the Southeastern and Montreal and Boston Air Line Railway offices, and these two flats are damaged by water. The loss will probably be $10,000 to $12,000, partly covered by insurance.

PROMISE AND PERFORMANCE.

At the last election, for the purpose of making a show of interest in the working man, the Tory government promised a Labor Commission, and in redemption of its promise appointed a commission whose majority is composed of the most rabid Tory politicians and monopolists, whose interests are in direct conflict with those of the working man. Since its appointment the commission has done nothing but draw its salary. This circumstance leads the Montreal Star, a strong erstwhile supporter of the Dominion Government, to remark thus:—"It is very singular that the Labor Commission which was appointed immediately previous to the last general election has never been set to work. It was said by the Opposition at the time that the Government did not want to know anything about the condition of the working classes or their grievances, and that their object in feigning an interest which they did not feel was to capture the labor vote, that and nothing more. The inaction of the Government since the appointment of the Commission makes it appear that the Opposition were right in divining their motives. An Administration which is really desirous of obtaining the important information which it is the business of the Commission to procure would long ere this have done what was necessary to enable it to commence its labors." While the Dominion Government are dwaddling and trifling with this important question, it is only a continuation of their policy of contempt for the working man and his rights. Since about the year 1883, a bill devised in the interests of ameliorating the wrongs of the laboring classes has been bundled in and kicked out again regularly every session since that time. Meanwhile the Mowat administration, in spite of Sir John's threat of interference on constitutional grounds to prevent such legislation, has placed a Factory Act upon the statute book. This act which provides in a very full manner for the protection of the persons of operatives and their families as well as their rights, is not only now in full force, but the inspectors appointed under it are engaged at their duties, in seeing that its provisions are enforced. They will also report as to amendments which their inspection may have suggested as desirable to make the act more efficient in protecting the interests of working men. The comparison between the two methods—the one of trifling and delay, the other of prompt and decisive action, does not doubtfully indicate which is the better and truer friend of the workingman.

Mr. W. R. Meredith, M.P.P., denies the current rumor that he had been appointed a Chief Justice. He says the position has not been offered to him. Sir John is not such a fool as to offer Mr. Meredith a position that would involve his retirement from the Legislature of Ontario. The "Chieftan" may be well enough inclined to rob Ontario of her territory and timber, but he is too sharp to rob the Ontario Opposition of the larger quantity of brains carried on that side of the house.

The St. John, N.B., Telegraph wants the Senate mended or ended. The ending for a country whose expenses are brought by misgovernment in excess of her revenue, would be the most satisfactory way of dealing with the question, especially when British precedent, which Tory defenders of the Senate and so fond of quoting, ranks horse-racing on a higher level than the Imperial prototype of our Canadian collection of political fossils. The Marquis of Aylesbury of malodorous reputation is ruled off an English racecourse while he is permitted to retain his seat in the House of Lords. In Canada a man's recommendation to the Senate is generally the fact that he is a failure in politics—a man whom any constituency refuses to elect to parliament, is, as a rule considered good enough for the Senate or the Senate as a constituted is good enough for him or good enough for a $1000 a year of the good people's good money.

It costs $10,000 a day to govern the city of Toronto, and according to the Globe these huge figures are within the mark. The total expenditure of the city of Toronto, as given in the city accounts is $3,702,643.63. Toronto is a great city and everything is superficially booming but their is a good deal of rottenness under the civic cuticle. It has come to the end of its tether in borrowing from the banks. Toronto plumes itself on being the most moral city on the continent, yet its public men are denominated ringsters, and Mayor Howland as a city paper asserts, "while devoting most of his energies to making a moral example to the continent has signally failed as vice was never more open and glaring." It's all very well to try to make people moral and honest, but it's unwise take the padlock off the safe till the reformation has been completed. Besides, isn't Toronto a little hypocritical in its moral fads? Her temperance advocates refused to submit the Scott Act, and there are people uncharitable enough to say that they took this course in view of the profit in the liquor traffic which would be derived if the surrounding counties generally adopted the Act. And their astute provisions have been justified by the result, that is, if one may judge by the immense horde of drunks which comes down every morning on the police court "like a wolf on the fold."

Peterborough and the Central Exhibition.

As Seen Through Metropolitan Spectacles

The Montreal Witness has the following in reference to the Central Exhibition and the Town of Peterborough:—

In Peterborough town is held one of the principal exhibitions of Central or Eastern Ontario. The town itself is a busy and beautiful one; the farms and farmers of the surrounding district are rich; the townspeople are enterprising, and the railway accommodation is ample. But all these do not make a successful exhibition, nor if to them are added a crowded central building, stables and sheds overflowing with the finest stock and incidental attractions of unusual merit.

THE WEATHER MUST BE CONSIDERED.

Although during the first week in October the trees in this district were gorgeous in their foliage of crimson, and brown, and green,—like the boiling lobster growing resplendent in death; although the expectations and preparations of the Agricultural Society and exhibitors were high and ample, the rain came, converting hard roads into miry, the springy grass into sodden, bringing visions of colds, and dampening high spirits, causing delays from day to day in expectation of a change for the better, and ending in the disappointment of nearly all who expected pleasure or profit from the fair. Thus it was at Peterborough, and although those in charge of the fair did their best and all that could be done to please everybody, and although the exhibits were in place and well worthy a visit, comparatively few had courage sufficient to spend an hour at it. Many of those who did go, however, were well pleased, notwithstanding that they missed the best sight of all, the smiles and frolics of thousands of the favorable representatives of younger Canada, and the almost equally pleasant though more sedate representatives of older Canada.

PETERBOROUGH TOWN

is one of those in Canada which is making substantial progress. Its sinking fund equals its debt; its assets are $167,436 in excess of its liabilities, which are but $185,436; its population is nearly 9,000 and with Ashburnham, its suburb, 11,500. It has the electric light, gas, water-works, excellent water power and the Scott Act. Its Insurance was changed from tariff C to B. It is not hampered with votes to railways, except that to the Grand Junction, which is now in appeal before the Privy Council. It has shown a wonderful facility in getting rid of these incumbrances. It is the focal point of the Trent Valley canal, where locks at Burleigh are to completed about Christmas, and whether this great scheme will do any public good or not it will cause the dispersal of much public funds in this neighborhood, particularly before Dominion elections. It is pleasantly situated on the Otonabee river. Its hills form favorable sites for fine houses; the lakes near by are charming for boating and fishing. Much wealth has centred in this town and there is little sign of its prosperity being absorbed by the over-weening ambition and attractions of the Queen City of the West, although there are some who look upon the removal to Toronto of perhaps its most influential citizen, Mr. George A. Cox, as an evidence that even Peterborough is not free from the influence which is gradually drawing from the smaller towns of Ontario about everything most worth preserving.

Peterborough was first selected as the site for a settlement in 1818; laid out for a town plot by actual survey in 1825, when the first store was opened, and named Peterborough after the Hon. Peter Robinson in 1827. The present courthouse was completed in 1841, the gaol in 1865, the registry office in 1872 and Bradburn's opera house in 1875. Its churches are numerous, and, as a rule, commodious and beautiful. It has many handsome stores, amongst which that of Messrs. Davis & Co., booksellers, news dealers and Witness agents, is well worthy of mention. Its manufactures do a wide business and employ many men. Amongst these are Hamilton's agricultural works, which turn out plows, reapers and similar articles, to the general satisfaction of those who use them. It is also well supplied with hotels, which are endeavoring to arrive at the answer to the question whether the Scott Act prohibits or not, and the general consensus of opinion is that if it does not prohibit now it will before very long.

A Cure For Deafness.

There have been many remarkable cures of deafness made by the use of Hagyard's Yellow Oil, the great household remedy for pain, inflammation and soreness. Yellow Oil cures Rheumatism, Sore Throat and Croup, and is useful internally and externally for all pains and injuries. 2w42d

Beyond Dispute.

There is no better, safer or more pleasant cough remedy made than Hagyard's Pectoral Balsam. It cures Hoarseness, Sore Throat, Coughs, Colds, Bronchitis and all throat and lung troubles. 2w42d Medicine in Force.

There is much in little, as regards Burdock Blood Bitters. You do not have to take quarts and gallons to get at the medicine it contains. Every drop in every dose has medicinal virtue as a blood purifying, system regulating tonic. 2w42d

SUSPECTED OF MURDER.

A Farmer's Death Brought About by His Wife and a Farm Hand.

HALIFAX, N.S., Oct. 24.—Peter Doyle, the Musquodoboit farmer whose dead body was discovered in unfrequented woods a mile and a half from his home with a shot in his back, has been found to have been deliberately murdered. Doyle was last seen in the neighborhood of his home over a week ago, but his wife and a man employed by the farmer state that he did not disappear until last Sunday. Three days before that he went to confession and received the sacrament, and the priest who administered it believed the man was murdered on that day on his way home.

When found he was lying on his side in a big pool of blood. His gun was lying ahead of him and his horn of powder at his side, the articles having apparently been left where found in order to create the impression that the man shot himself accidentally or committed suicide. The wound, however, was in the back between the shoulders, and could not have been self-inflicted. A coroner's jury was summoned, and after hearing the evidence, returned the verdict, "Murdered by some unknown person." Doyle's wife and his workman, whose name is Proper, are thought to have planned the murder, suspicions of that kind being expressed openly. Proper has assumed the position of master of Doyle's former household, and is said to have been intimate with the woman before her husband's disappearance. The wife had a bad reputation before Doyle married her. Doyle was a quiet and inoffensive man of about 50 years of age and had three children by his wife, one of them being dead. The friends of the murdered man say they will have Proper and the woman arrested.

AN ANGRY MAN FROM BAY CITY.

He Follows His Recreant Wife to Detroit and Tries to Shoot Her.

DETROIT, Oct. 24.—Mrs. James Gilroy was supposed to have lived happily with her husband, an engineer, at Bay City, until he found she had a lockbox in the postoffice, and was receiving letters from correspondents he knew nothing of. He soon got a key that got him in possession of a letter from a Detroit dude who invited her to come to Detroit. Gilroy confronted his wife with the letter, and upon her promising to do better in future, burned the letter. She then disappeared, and he came to Detroit, soon locating her at the home of her sister, Mrs. John Bell, Randolph-street.

Last evening Gilroy called and had an interview with his wife, but not being able to persuade her to return with him, he took his departure, Mrs. Gilroy following him to the door. When Gilroy was about ten feet from the door he suddenly pulled a revolver and fired in the direction of his wife, but fortunately did not hit her. A policeman heard the shot, and running over arrested Gilroy. He had little to say in regard to the affair. He was locked up at the Central Station on a charge of assault, with intent to kill.

Give Them a Chance!

That is to say, your lungs. Also all your breathing machinery. Very wonderful machinery it is. Not only the larger air-passages, but the thousands of little tubes and cavities leading from them.

When these are clogged and choked with matter which ought not to be there, your lungs cannot half do their work. And what they do, they cannot do well.

Call it cold, cough, croup, pneumonia, catarrh, consumption or any of the family of throat and nose and head and lung obstructions, all are bad. All ought to be got rid of. There is just one sure way to get rid of them. That is to take Boschee's German Syrup, which any druggist will sell you at 75 cents a bottle. Even if everything else has failed you, you may depend upon this for certain. eodw

A MARQUIS' ESTATE.

Widespread Interest Taken in the Sale of the Aldenbury Property.

LONDON, Oct. 24.—The forthcoming sale of the estate of the Marquis of Aldenbury's property, within the borough of Marchbridge, with the exception of the Aldenbury's Arms Hotel, is naturally attracting widespread interest. It comprises all classes of real and dental property, and also tells of the fair and the Marquis' interest in the Corn Exchange. The property will be sold under the provisions of the Settled Estates Act. In Marchborough, as in many towns of similar character, where land for building purposes is difficult to acquire, there is considerable demand for house property, and it is therefore probable that the houses will sell well.

Tidings of Stanley's Expedition.

LONDON, Oct. 24.—Private advices from Stanley Pool report that Henry M. Stanley has gone 150 miles further up the Aruwhimi, and had sent the steamer Florida back to Stanley Pool for more supplies and men. The natives showed no disposition to molest the expedition, and all were in good health. Mr. Stanley was waiting for the return of the Florida before advancing.

The Y. P. A.

The regular weekly meeting of the Young Peoples' Association of the George Street Methodist Church was held in the school room last evening, at which there was a large attendance. After routine business had been transacted, a short musical and literary programme was brought on, the first number being a vocal solo by Major Rundell. An extemporaneous debate between six members, three gentlemen on one side and two ladies and a gentleman on the other, on the subject: "Resolved: that it is not proper for a gentleman to raise his hat to any lady whom he may meet upon the street." The discussion was carried on vigorously and afforded much amusement, the negative side winning by a vote of the house. A vocal solo by Mrs. Hamilton, a recitation by Mr. R. A. Sanderson, and a couple of choruses by the entire society concluded the programme. The next entertainment two weeks hence will be "An evening with Longfellow". These entertainments are public, and all are invited to attend. At a subsequent meeting of the executive committee it was decided to bring Jerrold Arlington Cooke, of New Orleans, a popular lecturer, to Peterborough on Friday, Nov. 4th. He will lecture in the George street church.

Qualified Voters.

Statistics Gleaned from the Voters' Lists for this Year.

The voters' list for the town of Peterborough for 1887 has just been issued from the EXAMINER office in neat form, and from it some interesting items can be extracted. Compared with last year, there has been a slight increase in the total number of qualified voters. Following are the comparisons:—

	1887	1886
Ward No. 1	665	641
Ward No. 2	610	616
Ward No. 3	676	668
Ward No. 4	389	379
	2370	2302

Part First, composed of persons entitled to vote at both municipal and Legislative Assembly elections, compares as follows:—

	1887	1886
Ward No. 1	487	443
Ward No. 2	376	398
Ward No. 3	478	448
Ward No. 4	291	258
	1632	1517

Of those included in Part Two, entitled to vote at municipal elections only, the following comparisons are made:—

	1887	1886
Ward No. 1	120	140
Ward No. 2	211	210
Ward No. 3	143	154
Ward No. 4	83	88
	557	592

The third part comprises those entitled to vote only at elections to the Legislative Assembly:—

	1887	1886
Ward No. 1	78	58
Ward No. 2	23	38
Ward No. 3	55	64
Ward No. 4	25	33
	181	193

The aggregate number of names of persons upon the list, qualified to serve as jurors, is 1,177.

The number of women entitled to vote (under part two) is slightly increased as follows:—

	1887	1886
Ward No. 1	63	60
Ward No. 2	90	76
Ward No. 3	95	85
Ward No. 4	45	42
	293	263

Police Court,

TUESDAY, Oct. 25.

Mr. Andrew Moffat was charged by Acting-Chief Adams with a breach of the cow by-law, in allowing his cow to trespass upon a neighbor's premises and damage his garden. Mr. G. W. Hatton appeared for the defendant. Mr. Joseph Peacock, the injured party, stated that the cows had done about $2 damage to his garden before he could eject them. Mr. Moffat's cows, he admitted, were pastured, but the fence was broken down and but an insufficient enclosure. The magistrate held that as no wilful malice or negligence could be proven against Mr. Moffatt, he would dismiss the case. The complainant's proper course would have been to impound the cattle. He had no grounds for bringing an action for damages.

The magistrate made a request, however, that the defendant allow Mr. Peacock some compensation for the damage done to his garden.

RECEIVING STOLEN GOODS.

The adjourned charge against James Montgomery, of having received stolen goods, was taken up this morning. This case is the outcome of the Irwin shanty burglary, for which four young men were last week sentenced to a year each in the Central. The prisoner was charged with having received into his house the goods stolen by them, knowing the same to have been pilfered.

At the previous trial evidence as to the finding of the articles in the house of the prisoner was adduced. This morning Mr. Copeland testified that Augustus Montgomery, one of the four convicted parties, had borrowed his team of horses ostensibly to go to a neighbor's to see about some wages. The goods were brought from the shanty in this to the prisoner's house, but the witness declared he knew nothing whatever of the transaction.

Augustus Montgomery, son of the prisoner, who with the others were brought down from gaol to give evidence, said that he got the wagon as Mr. Copeland had stated. He brought the pork home about 11 o'clock at night. The next morning his father asked him where it came from, and he replied, "I fetched it." That was all that ever passed between them on this subject, until a few days before his (the witness') arrest, when he made a clean breast to his father. This was after the first search, when his brother had been arrested.

Thomas, Alex. (or Ephraim) and Elijah Windover also gave evidence, stating that the goods, when first taken away, were carried to a swamp and hidden. On going to the spot one day they found everything taken except seven pieces of pork, which they carried to their own homes. They did not know who took the other stuff at all. They recognized the goods previously produced in court as being the articles they had stolen. They stated that they did not know whether the prisoner was aware of the larceny or not.

The magistrate held that no evidence showing the prisoner to have had any knowledge of the theft, or that the goods had been stolen, had been adduced, and he dismissed the case, adding a few words of good advice, urging the latter to use his influence with his boys to induce them to lead better lives in future.

Mr. E. B. Edwards conducted the prosecution; Mr. C. W. Sawers defended the prisoner.

Destroyed by Fire.

This morning about 6, shortly after rising to prepare for the day's work, Mr. Alex. Gibson, who resides on Simcoe street just west of the railway, found the rear of his residence enveloped in flames. Quickly the alarm was rung and in a short time the fire brigade were on hand, but the fire had gained such headway before being observed that before the flames could be extinguished the building was almost totally destroyed. It was a two-story frame residence, owned by Mr. Gibson, and insured in the Liverpool, London & Globe for $600. Most of the contents, on which there was an insurance of $200 in the Citizens and $200 in the Liverpool, London and Globe, were saved, though a quantity of kitchen utensils and winter clothing was destroyed. A barn on adjacent premises, owned by Mr. J. Stevenson, was also considerably burned. Alex. realizes the truth of the old saw: "misfortunes never come singly." This destruction of his house, following close upon the heels of recent heavy pecuniary losses, falls with double severity upon him. Heart-felt sympathy is expressed for him and his family in their trouble.

The City of the Dead.

Little Lake Cemetery in Autumn Attire—The Season's Alterations and Improvements.

Winter or summer, Peterborough's necropolis presents to the eye of the visitor a sense of beauty and order. Even now when the chilling winds of autumn have robbed the trees of their leafy garments and blighted the floral splendor of the mother earth, Little Lake Cemetery is not devoid of that attraction which in the warm summer months draws crowds of people to enjoy the delights of its fragrance and intrinsic beauty. Harmony prevails everywhere in this little "city of the dead," and to Mr. Kelly, the capable caretaker, it is largely owing. With a staff of five assistants, during the especially dry and hot months of the past season, he kept the Cemetery "up to the mark," and is just now busily engaged with two assistants in preparing everything about the place for the cold embrace of winter. The fallen leaves which have been scattered over the sward by the wild winds are being raked into piles and removed, tender plants are being cared for, the hedges carefully trimmed, and the entire premises rendered snug and impregnable to the effects of a winter frost.

A number of alterations, enlargements and improvements have been effected during the past year, though Mr. Kelly and his staff were kept busy most of the summer watering the sward, flowers and trees. At the present time the grass in some places is much greener than during the summer, which will be remembered by all as being the hottest and dryest on record for a long number of years.

THE MOST SWEEPING CHANGE

is of course noticed in the large plot of land added to the Cemetery last year, but which was not until this season brought into shape. It was all seeded last fall and re-seeded this spring, so that next year its verdure will be all that is desirable. Some four hundred shade trees were planted thereon, among them a few Canadian spruce saplings taken from the swamps, which are thriving even better than the others. The water service of the Cemetery has been extended to this newer portion, entailing the laying of some 2,000 feet of pipe and the erection of eight hydrants. The new plot, which comprises some six acres, is all staked out and ready for use. The eastern section of this part, divided from the main addition by a drive, which was scarcely touched last year, has been planted with trees, nicely levelled and seeded, and will next year be clothed with rich verdure. A considerable space of ground, comprising about 300 lots, situated north of it, on which the old Magoun shanty rested, has been also reclaimed. This is probably the only entirely fresh addition to the available burying-ground of the Cemetery that has been made this season.

In the older portion of the Cemetery also improvements have taken place. With commendable forethought Mr. Kelly has laid out a system of water-tables about the new portion of the cemetery, covering a distance of 2,000 feet. Then outside the fence on the western boundary, from the main entrance to the railway track, a handsome boulevard, planted with shade trees, has been stretched the entire length of the cemetery on Weir Street.

At the head of the drive leading from the main entrance further improvements have been made. In the centre of a circular gravel plot at the left-hand side is an oblong section of sward, on which were traced in the letters L L C. Several new flower beds have also been put down at the junction of the entrance drive with Chapel Avenue.

VARIEGATED SHRUBS AND FLOWERS

Mr. Kelly's residence has undergone a few necessary repairs, a new chimney has been placed on the chapel, and the front of the vault has been tuck-pointed.

The usual number of interments have taken place during the summer, and a few monuments have been erected, notably a beautiful granite memorial to the late Jno. E. Hammond. The I. O. O. F. plot, though now strewn with faded flowers and withered foliage, was, during the season, one of the most beautiful spots in the cemetery. Mr. Kelly cared for the graves under his charge with exemplary faithfulness, and in consequence Little Lake Cemetery was a beauty-spot on the face of the earth throughout the entire season.

Great as has been the work of improvement during the past year, Mr. Kelly proposes other alterations which will still further enhance the appearance of the cemetery. On the southern side of the cemetery proper, between it and the river, is a large space of ground at present covered with pines and shrubbery. It is Mr. Kelly's ambition to have this plot reclaimed, in which case he intends exercising his every talent upon making it a miniature "park of nature." Among other propositions is one to sink an artificial pond. This would certainly add to the place, and make it a favorite quarter.

Next spring Mr. Kelly intends establishing a better system of drainage for the eastern portion of the cemetery, where at present the water lies too long upon the ground in the spring time. Drains will be laid in the pathways leading from the summit of the cemetery to connect with a main drain which will be constructed along the drive passing around the base of the declivity, by which means it is hoped to avoid all annoyance from this source in the future.

The past year's improvements have fully kept pace with Mr. Kelly's progressive spirit, and encouraged by the approbation of an appreciative public and a reasonable amount of license from the directors, next year's operations promise to be even more marked in their results.

Mr. Bowie's Denial.

To the Editor of the Examiner:

DEAR SIR,—I see a letter in your paper written by David Storey, of Emily, stating that he got a sulky plough from Mr. Peter Hamilton, and thinks it is a better plough than I am selling; and also stating that I have been telling around that David Storey returned one of Mr. Peter Hamilton's ploughs. This I most emphatically deny, and dare him to come forward or bring any one and state in my presence what he has written in his letter. I never knew David Storey had a sulky plough until I saw his letter in the paper.

Yours truly,
E. E. BOWIE.

(From Our Own Correspondent.)

Very cold, bleak weather. Late rains have made ploughing easier.

Our grain buyers cannot account for the high prices paid in Peterborough markets, for barley particularly, and it is no rare thing to see half dozen teams passing through here heavily laden for Peterborough.

It still remains a mystery about the burglary of R. J. Mulligan's jewelry store who has the sympathy of the public having lost about $460. It is supposed to be committed by some of the gang who are visiting similar sized places.

A valuable spaniel dog protected Dr. Cochrane's store the same night that Mulligan's store was entered.

Our citizens are aroused over the burglary boom throughout the country and it will be made hot for the next burglars who visit our town.

A Cincinnati Mystery.

CINCINNATI, Oct. 22.—Every day's investigation into the case of P. R. Warman, Superintendent of the Cincinnati Commercial Agency, who disappeared mysteriously last Sunday, and has not yet been heard from goes to show that the first story of the affair was a highly colored sensation. The opening of the office safe by experts yesterday revealed nothing, and thus far all the claims against Mr. Warman presented to the receiver are less than $800. Nothing whatever is known of Warman's whereabouts.

Rebellious Crow Indians.

WASHINGTON, Oct. 22.—The Secretary of the Interior has received a telegram from Indian Inspector Armstrong at the Crow agency in Montana to the effect that "Medicine Man" and his seventeen followers have gone to the Tongue River agency and are endeavoring to induce the Northern Cheyennes to join them in resisting the authority of the Government.

The Necessity for French Unity.

PARIS, Oct. 22.—M. Clemenceau, in a speech at Toulon last night, said that union among Republicans in home and foreign affairs is more necessary than ever. The condition of Europe everywhere is one of disquiet and uncertainty. Referring to the interview between Crispi, the Italian Prime Minister, and Bismarck at Friedrichsruhe, Clemenceau said when the two statesmen met and conferred the nations asked who would pay the cost of their agreement and what rights would be violated. The meeting at which Clemenceau spoke was noisy. No resolutions were adopted.

How Lady Brassey Ended Her Suffering.

LONDON, Oct. 24.—It is stated that the death of Lady Brassey, which was reported several days ago, was most tragic. Maddened by fever, she jumped overboard from the yacht, and her husband, who quickly dived after her, was with difficulty rescued from sharing the fate of his wife.

A Wexford Editor Gets a Month.

DUBLIN, Oct. 24.—Mr. Walsh, the proprietor of The People, a Wexford paper, was to-day sentenced to one month's imprisonment for publishing reports of meetings of suppressed branches of the National League. An appeal was allowed and he will be admitted to bail.

The Princess of Wales' Return.

LONDON, Oct. 24.—The Princess of Wales and her daughters, it is announced, will be able to return to England from Copenhagen in time to celebrate the anniversary of the Prince of Wales' birth on Nov. 9.

An Interesting Event at Balmoral.

LONDON, Oct. 24.—A despatch from Balmoral Castle announces that the Princess Beatrice, wife of Prince Henry of Battenberg, has been delivered of a daughter. Both are doing well.

No New Cases at Tampa.

WASHINGTON, Oct. 24.—A telegram was received at the Marine Hospital Bureau today from Deputy Collector Spencer at Tampa, Fla., saying that there were some new cases of yellow fever but no new deaths since the last report. The weather is warm with a southeasterly breeze.

Eight Inches of Snow in Dakota.

FORT MEAD, Dak., Oct. 24.—One of the severest snow and wind storms ever known at the Black Hills set in Saturday evening and continued all night. Eight inches of snow fell, and the drifts seriously impede travel.

WHY?
Because experience and close study has developed talent in Chemistry, Lighting, and Posing. In days when such learning was required imperatively in a cosseful photography Mr. Sproule was practicing the business as it today is places his work ahead of competitors. Because only the best materials are used. No other establishment in Canada is using throughout the same class of materials. He works with up-to-date instruments. His Studio is lighted and furnished the best, and all combined to serve the subject ease and confidence.
His prices are not higher than competitors, he employs no person or persons to travel through the Country to puff up his business or work. It don't require such. dw

THE CAPITAL'S BUSY DAY.

THE SUPREME COURT DEALS WITH SEVERA ELECTION CASES.

A Sitting of the Railway Committee—Mr. VanHorne Denies a Mail Statement—The Experiment in the Transplanting of Lobsters to the Pacific Ocean.

OTTAWA, Oct. 25.—The fall term of the Supreme Court opened this morning, all the judges, with the exception of Judge Gwynne, being present. The election cases were taken up, the first being Lincoln and Niagara, Rykert v. Patteson. The appeal was allowed, with costs, the respondent, Mr. Patteson of St. Catharines, not appearing.

The next case was that of Prince County, P.E.I., being the appeal of Mr. Hackett, Conservative, against the decision of Judge Hensley of the Supreme Court of Prince Edward Island, who dismissed the petition against the return of Mr. Perry, Liberal. The appellant, Hackett, was represented by Mr. Hodgson Q.C., who held that Perry was disqualified at the time he ran for the Commons because he had been elected to the Local Legislature in June, 1886, and had not resigned. In fact he could not resign as the Legislature had not met and no Speaker had been appointed.

Mr. F. Peters, who appeared for Mr. Perry, contended that at the time of his nomination Mr. Perry was not a member of the local House, as he had placed his resignation in the hands of two members, as required by the locallaw in the event of there being no Speaker. Besides this Mr. Perry had purchased an interest in a ferry contract which he held, vacated the seat. The case was taken en delibere, but it is most probable that decision will be given before the close of the term.

The last election appeal on the list, Robertson v. Laurie, from Shelburne, N.S., was also heard, Mr. Scott, Q.C., appearing for the appellant, the sitting member, and Mr. Graham, Q.C., for the respondent. This was a preliminary objection that notice of presentation of the petition was not served within the time prescribed by the Election Act, and that an order to extend the time was obtained by misrepresentation, there being no special circumstances to warrant it. This case will be resumed to-morrow morning.

This was a busy day with the Railway Committee of the Privy Council, which was in session nearly all day in the office of the Minister of Railways, hearing arguments in dispute between different railway companies and corporations. The ministers present were: Messrs. Thompson, Pope, Chapleau and Carling. The first case was that of the City of Kingston and several townships in the County of Frontenac against the Grand Trunk and Kingston and Pembroke railways with reference to level crossings.

Hon. Mr. Kirkpatrick, M.P., introduced a deputation which was composed of Mr. Wilmot, M.P.P., John McIntyre, Q.C., Thos. Clyde and F. W. Greaves. Messrs. John Bell, Q.C., E. Wragge and E. P. Hannaford appeared for the Grand Trunk. President Folger looked after the interests of the Kingston and Pembroke Road.

Mr. McIntyre presented the case for the city and municipalities, which was to the effect that the present level crossings at Collins Bay, Tete du Pont Barracks, Yorkroad, Station-road and Cataraqu Bridge, were very dangerous.

After some discussion it was decided that the Government should be recommended to do away with the crossing at Tete du Pont Barracks, whilst the Kingston and Pembroke Railway agreed to carry the road leading from the township of Pittsburg right up to King-street, Kingston. With regard to Station-road bridge the Grand Trunk was to build an under crossing. At the Collins Bay crossing an overhead crossing was to be built whilst at Cataraqu; the county authorities agreed to divide the cost of keeping a flagman there.

Mr. VanHorne, who was here to-day, flatly contradicts The Mail story that one of the C.P.R. steamers on the Pacific was flying the Stars and Stripes. He said that it was possible that one of the vessels of the Pacific Navigation Company, which has vessels running between Vancouver and Victoria, might have been mistaken for a vessel belonging to the railway. The Navigation Company has fourteen steamers, thirteen of which fly the Union Jack, but the other, which does coasting trade on Puget Sound, is necessarily an American vessel. Mr. VanHorne says that the through traffic on the road is exceptionally good, the sleeping cars being full every trip. He does not expect that the new steamers will be on the route for a year, as it will take that time to build them. Referring to the statement that the Northern and Union Pacific Railways had ratified a joint lease of the Oregon Navigation Company for the purpose of fighting the Canadian Pacific Railway, he said the Canadian Pacific Railway had nothing to fear. They had the shortest route, the inside track, in fact, and other companies had not a ghost of a chance in the fight.

Mr. VanHorne added that the Sault Ste. Marie branch of the Canadian Pacific Railway will be completed in about three weeks.

The contract for the Pictou and Mingan branch of the Intercolonial, about twenty-eight miles, has been awarded to Messrs. Clark, Gray & Trite of Salisbury, N.B., and J. L. & C. P. Harris of Moncton, N.B. The price is understood to be in the neighborhood of $300,000.

The Public Works Department has lately let the following contracts: Heating apparatus at Pictou, N.S., custom house to C. B. Thompson of New Glasgow, N.S.; four residences for the staff at the experimental farm, Ottawa, to Tobin O'Keefe, Ottawa; wharf at Toloma Bay, Cookburn Island, to David Porter of Wiarton; heating apparatus at Pictou (N.S.) Marine Hospital to Muirhead & Co., Halifax; wharf at Bayfield, N.S., to Sylvester O'Donoghue of Port Hood, N.S.; heating apparatus, Three Rivers Custom House, to Drapeau, Savignac & Co., Montreal; copper roofing for main tower western block, Ottawa, to Douglas Bros., Toronto.

In order to ensure exporters of lumber and other goods from Canada making their entries as required by law, it has been ordered that a penalty of $200 shall be incurred by any infringement of the rules, and, as a first step, the collector at Moncton, N.B., has detained a number of Intercolonial Railway cars with a view to carrying this into effect. Hitherto the customs authorities have had much difficulty in getting exporters to comply with the regulations in many parts.

The transportation of live lobsters to the Pacific coast for the purpose of introducing those crustaceans to the western waters which, it was mentioned some time ago in this correspondence, would be tried by the Fisheries Department, will be made in a few days.

A specially fitted up car is now being loaded at Campbellton, N.B., and will be taken through to Vancouver. The situation for the lobster deposits is being fixed by the Inspector of Fisheries, and the cargoes will be under the charge of Mr. Mowatt.

A general order has been issued from the Supreme Court, under the amendment to the Supreme Court Act of Canada, which was passed last session, conferring upon Mr. Robert Cassels, registrar of the court, the jurisdiction of a Judge of Chambers, except where there is an appeal from the registrar's decision. Mr. Cassels heard his first case, that of Lewis v. Wilson, which was an application for leave to appeal direct to the Supreme Court from a decree of the Judge of Equity, yesterday. The registrar reserved judgment.

The dispute between the Brockville, Westport and Sault Ste. Marie Railway Company and the Grand Trunk, as to whether the crossing at Lynn shall be a level or a bridge crossing, and the difficulty with reference to the crossing of the Burlington Channel by the St. Catharines and Niagara Central Railway, have been reserved for the decision of the Railway Committee of the Privy Council.

AN UNRESTRAINED MOB.

The Police no Longer Interfere With the Demonstrations in London.

NEW YORK, Oct. 25.—The World's London despatch says the remarkable demonstrations in the streets of London continue. The police no longer pretend to stop the meetings in Hyde Park and Trafalgar-square. Neither do they seek to prevent the parade of the Socialists in the streets. Trafalgar-square was crowded yesterday afternoon with people listening to labor orators. Mounted and foot police marched around with the Socialists when they paraded. Every one wonders at the vacillating policy of the police. Last week and before, they would not permit any meetings or parades; now the workingmen meet where they like and their orators say what they please. Since the police have ceased to interfere there have been no scenes of violence, but there is a great feeling of uneasiness in business circles over these daily scenes in the streets. The shopkeepers fear riots, and are constantly on the alert to guard their property. The weather is cold and sharp, threatening snow. Any severe change will augment the distress and threaten trouble.

A Great Meeting at Rotherhithe.

LONDON, Oct. 25.—Fully 10,000 persons attended an open air demonstration under the auspices of Radical clubs at Rotherhithe, last evening. Resolutions were adopted protesting against the Government's interference with the liberty of the press, and the right of public meetings in Ireland and England, and condemning Sir Charles Warren's action against the unemployed of London. Speeches were made from five platforms. Mr. Redmond, the Nationalist member of Parliament was the principal speaker.

Two-thirds of the town of Spencer, Roane County, Virginia, was destroyed by fire on Friday last, including the Capital Church, Central Hotel, Postoffice, Masonic Hall, Clevinger House and stables, schoolhouse, courthouse and jail. Loss, $75,000.

The first of the three volumes of Renan's "History of Israel" have appeared.

The city and County of Cork have been placed under the minor clauses of the Crimes Act.

MR. CHAMBERLAIN'S ADIEU

HIS LAST SPEECH BEFORE HIS DEPARTURE FOR AMERICA.

He Has No Fear That Irish Americans Will Hamper His Mission Further—He Gives a Few Moments' Attention to a Statement in The Toronto Globe.

LONDON, Oct. 25.—A meeting was held at Islington to-day in honor of Joseph Chamberlain. Resolutions were adopted expressing satisfaction at his appointment to the Fisheries Commission and the trust that he would be successful in his announced intention to promote harmony and good will between the United States and England.

Mr. Chamberlain replied that he appreciated this reference to the honorable and important mission upon which he would embark in the course of a few days. He was well aware that the task was full of difficulty. The question was a complicated one and involved enormous interests. [Cries of "hear, hear."] On several occasions during the present century it had gone far toward endangering the amicable relations existing between the two great branches of the Anglo-Saxon race, whose cordial amity must be the earnest desire of every friend of peace and civilization. [Cheers]. Unfortunately the difficulties in his way were not those inherent in the case or directly involved in the issue to be decided.

They all had seen a telegram stating that Irish Americans would do all in their power to mar his mission and would be able to prevent its success. The sources of this statement might be tainted, yet it represented the undoubted fact that Irish Americans were ready to use every effort to prevent a settlement.

There had never been a time during the last thirty years when the Irish in America had not been willing to use the privileges conceded to them by their adopted county in order to sow dissension and promote illfeeling between Great Britain and America. [Hear, hear.] More than once they had shown their readiness to jeopardize the interests of their adopted country in order to avenge real or fancied injuries. He was not sanguine enough to anticipate that on the present occasion they would change their policy, but he was encouraged by the belief that the vast majority of native Americans [cheers] and every Englishman and Scotchman in the United Kingdom would regard a fratricidal conflict between the two countries as a crime of the deepest dye. They were earnestly desirous of an amicable and honorable settlement and would not allow it to be jeopardized by party rancor or personal feelings. [Hear, hear.]

This would be his last speech before leaving for America, Mr. Chamberlain declared, so he would refer to another telegram stating that The Toronto Globe had commented upon some words in one of his speeches in Ulster, construing them into an insult to all Canadians. There was great misapprehension of his meaning. What he had said was that there was a part of Canada seeking Commercial Union with the United States, which would practically mean free trade between Canada and the United States, while at the same time Canada was to continue to impose protective duties on imports from the Mother Country. Canada was to give preference to every article of manufacture from the United States over manufactures from Great Britain. He had said that if the people of Canada had desired an arrangement of that kind he did not doubt that they would be able to secure it. He did not think anybody in England would attempt to prevent such an arrangement by force, but he had remarked that in that case all the advantages of the slender tie which still bound Canada to England would disappear as far as England was concerned, and it was not likely that the people of Great Britain would continue much longer to sustain the obligations and responsibilities of a relationship all the reciprocal benefits of which had been withdrawn. So he had said that Commercial Union of this kind, if it ever came about, would be the first step towards signal and practical separation. That was a matter of fact. He could not conceive how any human being with a grain of reason could deem that there was anything wrong in this statement. [Hear, hear.]

He was not sorry for the occasion to make this reference. What a vivid light it threw upon the general question of Ireland. Mr. Gladstone had again and again quoted Canada as an illustration of how England might maintain imperial control over matters of imperial interest while allowing entire independence on all domestic business. The Toronto Globe in the same article had said that Canada had reached a stage of development where her choice must prevail over all considerations. That meant that Canada had the right—and he would not dispute it—whenever her interest demanded it, to follow her own interests, without reference to the views of the Mother Country, although the subject of disagreement might be among those expressly withdrawn from her cognizance by the constitution. Let that be applied to Ireland. If ever Ireland obtained a practically independent Parliament a separation would be at the discretion of the Parliament. The Gladstonians might not intend to bring about a separation, but they were blind to the results which must inevitably follow the adoption of their policy. [Cheers.] They failed to see what the example of Canada clearly showed, that if their policy were adopted England would have to give up all control over the Union and hand it over to Parnell or to some successor who might be less moderate in his views and more hostile to the British connection than Parnell.

Criticizing Mr. Gladstone's speeches at Nottingham, he said they gave evidence that it was hopeless to attempt to reconcile the opposing factions of the Liberal party. He claimed that every item of Gladstone's program had been borrowed from his own authorized program, every measure of which had been delayed and defeated by Gladstone's policy.

In concluding, he denounced Gladstone's attacks upon the police in Ireland and the police of London. These attacks, he said, had the effect of promoting a spirit of disorder.

During the latter portion of his speech Mr. Chamberlain was disturbed by a band of music stationed outside the hall, and on departing he was hooted by a large crowd.

The Comptroller of Currency yesterday declared a dividend of 25 per cent in favor of the creditors of the Fidelity National Bank of Cincinnati on the claims proved, amounting to $2,285,669. The dividend will be paid on and after Oct. 31.

THE DOORS STILL CLOSED

THE QUEBEC CONFERENCE WILL PROBABLY END ON FRIDAY.

The Delegates are Expected to Visit Montreal Before Going Home.

QUEBEC, Oct. 25.—The conference will probably close on Friday next and if it should the delegates will pay Montreal a visit on Saturday. They have been hard at work day and night, yesterday's sitting lasting until midnight, and are evidently anxious to get home again. Not the slightest indication can be found in any of the papers here as to what they have done, and the general impression is they have done nothing. The probability is that they will meet again after the Ministers have had time to consult their friends at home and test public feeling in their respective provinces concerning any new phases the questions which have come up before the conference may have taken.

All the indications are now that no definite conclusion will be reached on any subject except, perhaps, the veto question and possibly some matters of minor import and that another conference will have to be held if any common accord is by any possibility to be reached.

This view is borne out by an article, evidently inspired, in The Chronicle this morning in which, after expressing regret that each province did not, as Ontario did, send a full delegation to the conference, that organ says "there must be another meeting in the near future and at this meeting there should be full cabinets."

THE END DRAWING NEAR.

Little Hope of the Condemned Anarchists Getting a Writ of Error.

NEW YORK, Oct. 25.—Moses Salomon, one of the counsel for the Anarchists, telegraphed his clients from Washington last evening that here was little hope that a writ of error would be granted by the Supreme Court, and that the whole matter would come back to the State to rest with the Governor. The seven men held a conference as soon as they were liberated and seemed to feel more depressed than at any time since they were incarcerated. Parsons afterwards admitted to a reporter that Salomon's despatch had almost destroyed their last hope, and they were ready for anything now. Nina Vannant was present when the news came. Spies told her the contents of the message. "Well, if you die," said Nina, "you will not die alone. I will go into the grave with you." Lingg shed tears, and the wife of Engel, who was present, was almost prostrated by the news.

The Central Detective Force, composed of thirty patrolmen in citizens' clothes, has been reinforced by six expert officers. This increase results from the apprehensions of the general public concerning the coming date of the Anarchists' execution, and is merely one of the precautionary measures taken by the police to insure peace and order.

A RIEST MURDERED.

He Died Without Revealing the Names of His Assailants.

NAUGATUCK, Conn., Oct. 25.—Father Fitzgerald, pastor of the Catholic Church here, died last night of injuries received the night before at the hands of two men. As the priest was leaving the house of a sick person he was suddenly set upon, beaten, kicked and left senseless. Physicians restored him, but he refused to name his assailants.

The police late night arrested Timothy Sweeney and Joseph McKernan. Sweeney's sister was recently married by Father Fitzgerald to a man much disliked by her brother. He called on the priest and demanded satisfaction, but was ejected.

A SLIGHT VARIATION.

In This Instance it is the Hired Man Who is Left Behind.

BRANTFORD, Oct. 25.—John Gamble, jr., of Troy, Brant County, and a farmer, eloped with Mrs. Coleman, the wife of his hired man, on Thursday. It appears both Gamble and Coleman were in this city on Thursday, and the former left Coleman and went to Paris Station, where he met Mrs. Coleman. The parties purchased tickets for Michigan. Coleman had supposed that his wife was merely going away on a visit, and his consternation on learning of the true state of affairs may better be imagined than described. Gamble leaves a wife and six children behind him. Mrs. Coleman had no children. Coleman had recently sold his farm, and Mrs. Coleman took a good share of the proceeds away with her. Gamble was also well supplied with money on leaving. Coleman is very indignant at the action of his wife and Gamble, and wishes that someone would shoot the latter.

The Case Will Probably be Dismissed.

OTTAWA, Oct. 25.—At the Police Court this morning W. R. Bingham was brought up on the charge of stealing $10,200, made by "Toby" Elliott of Montreal, arising out of Saturday's foot race. He was remanded until to-morrow at the request of complainant's attorney for the production of witnesses said to be in Montreal and Toronto. Elliott has gone home, and is not expected to return. The case will probably be dismissed.

Chancery Sittings of the High Court of Justice—List of Cases on the Docket.

The Bench at the Chancery Sittings to-morrow will be occupied by Vice-Chancellor Robertson, the latest appointed judge. He is expected to arrive to-night and open court at 1 o'clock to-morrow.

Following is a list of cases on the docket:

CHARLTON VS ARMSTRONG.—Wm. Charlton brings suit against Mary Armstrong and others for alleged breach of land contract. The parties live in Douro. Mr. E. B. Edwards, for plaintiff; Mr. Jno. Barnham, for defendants.

MERRIAM VS MCCREA.—The parties to this suit, Jno. M. Merriam and James N. McCrea, et al, live in Percy township. The case arose out of a deal in some land. Mr. E. B. Stone, for plaintiff; Messrs. Irwin and Colwell for defendants.

HAMILTON VS. POUSSETTE, et al.—An action brought by Mr. Wm. Hamilton against Messrs. A. P. Poussette, G. M. Roger, and Geo. A. Cox, for $226 50 and interest thereon, due upon a promissory note for $1200 made by Messrs. Poussette and Roger to Mr. Cox, and afterwards transferred to the plaintiff. The defendants claim that before action they satisfied and discharged the plaintiff's claim. Dumble and Leonard for plaintiff; A. P. Poussette for defendants.

MCMURTRY VS. MCMURTRY.—The plaintiffs are the executors of Mary Ann McMurtry, late of Midland, and the defendants are the children of the deceased. The case arises out of the distribution of death indemnity money, deceased having held a beneficiary certificate with the Royal Templars of Temperance at the time of her death. Dumble & Leonard for plaintiffs; E. B. Stone for defendants.

PETERBOROUGH VS. WATT.—In the case of the Peterborough Real Estate Investment Co. against Jane Ann Watt, the plaintiffs hold a mortgage on the defendant's premises in Cavan, on which nothing has ever been paid, and they seek possession. Hall & Hayes for plaintiffs; John Cruickshanks, Cobourg, for defendant.

A "Balker" Balked.

A balky horse, one of the team driven to Patterson's biscuit wagon, caused a commotion on Hunter street near the Oriental hotel this forenoon and attracted a large crowd. It resisted all attempts at cajolery or coercion for about an hour. Various plans to overcome its obstinacy were tried, and at last a dozen or more men surrounded the vehicle, put their shoulders to the wheel, and with the assistance of the other horses forced the balky animal to move forward. Once in motion it determined to make up for lost time, and started off at a pace that kept its mate on the run. In passing by Devlin's harness shop, the flying equipage frightened a horse held by a boy, and off it went too, tearing up Water street till out of sight. The driver of the biscuit waggon kept his team on the go until all the "balk" was taken out of the obstinate one.

Mrs. Scott-Siddons.

A meeting of the directors of the P. A. A. A. was held last night and the arrangements completed for the appearance in Peterborough of Mrs. Scott-Siddons, on Tuesday, November 22nd. The plan of the hall is now open at Hartley's music store. Though only opened yesterday morning a large number seats have already been taken, and those wishing to attend one of the finest entertainments ever held in Peterborough, should lose no time in securing their seats.

The Prize Pump.

Messrs Wright & Payton's prize force and lift pumps, exhibited at the fall faire, attracted much attention and received many encomiums wherever shown. That the excellence of their workmanship is realised and appreciated is evidenced by the fact that orders for these pumps have been received from Sherbrooke, Que. These orders have been filled and the articles shipped to-day.

I have been bothered with catarrh for about twenty years. I had lost my sense of smell entirely for the last fifteen years, and I had to get some one to thread my needle. Now I have my hearing as well as I ever had, and I can see to thread as fine a needle as ever I did. My sense of smell is partly restored; it seems to be improving all the time. I think there is nothing like Ely's Cream Balm for Catarrh.—Mrs. E. E. Grimes, Rendrill, Ohio. eodw43

SIR WILFRID BLUNT'S TRIAL.

Mr. Harrington Defends Him and Makes the Usual Objections.

DUBLIN, Oct. 25.—The trial of Sir Wilfrid Blunt opened this morning at Woodford. Mr. [illegible] appeared as counsel for the prosecution and Mr. Harrington, M.P., for the defense. Mr. Harrington objected to the constitution of the court on the ground that the magistrates lacked special authority from the Viceroy to hold an adjourned court. The objection was over-ruled. Mr. Harrington then applied for summonses against Magistrate Byrne for assault upon Mr. Blunt. The decision of this point was postponed.

Mr. Byrne was called to the witness stand. He testified that he warned Mr. Blunt twice on the platform at the meeting on Sunday to desist from speaking, but he went on all the same. Witness did not see anybody assault Mr. Blunt, but before he gave the order for his arrest he found him lying on the ground and Lady Blunt lying over him.

The Scotch Delegation.

LONDON, Oct. 25.—The Scottish delegates were welcomed with enthusiasm on their arrival at Cork. A large number of members of the National League met them at the railway station and presented to them an address of welcome, to which they made suitable replies. The Mayor of Limerick has received from Mr. Dillon a letter stating that he and the two Scotch members of Parliament will attend the National League demonstration, which is to be held in Limerick on Nov. 1. Invitations to be present have been sent to Mr. Parnell and other Nationalist leaders. The promoters of the demonstration are hopeful that it will be the largest yet held in Ireland.

At a meeting of the Sarsfield branch of the National League to-night Mr. Conway moved a resolution, rescinding the motion to send a donation to the Central branch, on the ground that the Central body had received over £1300, and had apportioned only £400 for the relief of evicted tenants.

Making the Most of Sir Wilfrid.

DUBLIN, Oct. 25.—Mr. Blunt says he was treated with consideration while in prison. His wife is none the worse for her experience, but she suffered for some hours from the effects of the harsh treatment to which she was subjected, having been roughly seized by the neck by a policeman.

At a banquet last evening, at which Father Clan presided, Sir Wilfrid, responding to a toast to his wife's health, said that he came to Ireland to join Messrs. O'Brien and Dillon in a battle which undoubtedly would be a stiff one. Mr. O'Brien, in behalf of the Irish National members of Parliament, expressed admiration for the brave Englishman, and his still braver wife, who had suffered for the Irish cause and won the gratitude of the Irish throughout the world.

The Hard Luck of a Wexford Editor.

DUBLIN, Oct. 25.—Mr. Walsh, the editor of The Wexford People, who was sentenced yesterday to a month's imprisonment for publishing reports of meetings of suppressed branches of the National League, was condemned to-day to two months' imprisonment at hard labor on another charge. Four of the summonses against him were dismissed.

THE CAFFAREL SCANDAL.

The Chamber of Deputies Grants a Committee to Deal With It.

PARIS, Oct. 25.—In the Chamber of Deputies to-day M. D'Ornano (Bonapartist), moved that a committee be appointed to enquire into the Caffarel-Wilson Legion of Honor decoration scandals, and demanded urgency for his motion.

Prime Minister Rouvier opposed the granting of urgency. He said the scandals were being dealt with in the course of law and the voting of urgency would create a confusion of jurisdiction. The motion for urgency was carried, however, by a vote of 379 to 185.

The Yellow Fever Outbreak.

WASHINGTON, Oct. 25.—A telegram was received from Deputy Collector Spencer, at Tampa, Fla., saying that there have been six or eight new cases since the last report, and that there were two deaths yesterday and three this morning. Dr. Porter is in charge of the hospital and was to-day authorized to employ four nurses.

In Brief, And To The Point.

Dyspepsia is dreadful. Disordered liver is misery. Indigestion is a foe to good nature.

The human digestive apparatus is one of the most complicated and wonderful things in existence. It is easily put out of order.

Greasy food, tough food, sloppy food, bad cookery, mental worry, late hours, irregular habits, and many other things which ought not to be, have made the American people a nation of dyspeptics.

But Green's August Flower has done a wonderful work in reforming this sad business and making the American people so healthy that they can enjoy their meals and be happy.

Remember:—No happiness without health. But Green's August Flower brings health & happiness to the dyspeptic. Ask your druggist for a bottle. Seventy-five cents.

Important News From.

COOKSTOWN.—Mrs. Campbell had been troubled for a number of years with Indigestion and Constipation, and was induced by McGregor's Speedy Cure and found it a [illegible] and was restored to able to do her [illegible] treatment. This invaluable remedy is sold in every part of Canada at 50c. and $1.00 per bottle. Sold at John McKee's Drug Store. eodw43

A Rare Combination.

There is no other remedy or combination of medicines that meets so many requirements, as does Burdock Blood Bitters in its wide range of power over such chronic diseases as Dyspepsia, Liver and Kidney Complaints, Scrofula and all humors of the blood. 2w42d

To Avoid Baldness or Grey Hair.

Use Dr. Doresewend's Great German Hair Magic. It keeps the scalp clean and free from Dandruff, and promotes the growth of the hair. It prevents premature grayness and stops all falling out of the hair. On bald heads, where the roots have not perished, it will invigorate them and force a new growth of hair. Ask for Hair Magic. It is the only reliable. For sale by J. D. Tully and all druggists.

Invariable Indications.

If you have Sour Stomach, Heartburn Sick Headache, rising and scouring of food, wind in the stomach, a choking or gnawing sensation at the pit of the stomach, then you have sure indications of Dyspepsia, which Burdock Blood Bitters will surely cure. It has cured the worst cases on record. 2w42d

Invisible but Instantaneous.

All pains or aches will be instantly removed by a few drops of Fluid Lightning applied over the affected parts. No blister; no nauseous medicines needed; no poulticing or using greasy liniments. It will not blister or discolor the skin. Sold at 25c. per bottle by John McKee Druggist. Sufferers from Neuralgia assure us that they never fear it when their house contains a bottle of Fluid Lightning. eodw43

Among the Indians.

"While my husband was trading in furs he came across an Indian who was taken to his lodge to die. He had inward pains and pains in all his limbs. He gave some Yellow Oil internally and applied it externally and cured him. It also cured my husband of rheumatism, and I find it valuable for coughs and colds, sore throat etc." Mrs. A. THE WAR CLOUD BUSTED.

VICTORY has Perched on the Banner of

PETERBOROUGH'S GREAT CHEAPSIDE!

And SHEPPARD, by common consent, will get $1,000 for being the Cheapest Clothier in Peterborough, having knocked the Wonderful Cheap Man completely out. "Business is Business; Dirt is Dirt, and when it comes to throwing Dirt, then Count" the only original teddy out, and he will hand over that $1,000 like a little man: For the following reasons;—

Sheppard sells a full size Man's Suit for $2.95, and better Goods than a Suit to fit a Child about 9 years old sold by the Wonderful Cheap-Man on Saturday for $3.00; but marked $3.50. This is how it was:—A Lady purchased a Child's Suit on Saturday last, Sept. 17th, 1887, at the Store of the Wonderful Cheap-Man. It was marked thusly:—Lot 5375, Breast 27, Waist 26½, Age 9, Price $3.50. It was pure Shoddy, being held together by cotton threads, and Sheppard is free to say that that was the dearest Suit sold in the Town of Peterborough for the last two years. Full particulars are given because of the $1000 involved, and, further, that this decides who is selling the Cheapest Clothing in Peterborough. SHEPPARD would have sold that Lady a Suit, Pure Wool for that money, and worth two of the one she got.

$1,000 to Go to the Charitable Institutions of Peterborough.

I had first decided to give the agencies a chance of jumping up my rating that $1.000, but after considering the matter and finding that never in any case have I been asked for an endorser to my paper, and that no relative or any other persons have ever endorsed my paper to the extent of one cent, I have come to the conclusion my credit is as good as yours and will ask you to hand over the $1,000 to the Charitable Institutions of Peterborough.

Now, Sir, there is a good story told the truth of which can be vouched for, but for the honor of at least making an effort to keep up your self-styled name—The Terror of High Priced Clothiers—do not allow the same to be said of you in the case above. A man purchased a suit for $15.00 at the store of one of the largest Advertisers in that section of country. It was guaranteed pure wool; but after examining it carefully at home, he came to the conclusion that he had been dealing with some one sharper than himself. Finding a make of wool, differing some from anything he had ever seen, it dawned upon him, that he had heard of wool of that kind, so the suit was returned. The merchant bet $25.00 that it was all wool, and the bet was accepted the decision being left to a neighboring merchant, he found that the $15.00 suit, was wool faced and shoddy back, pure unadulterated shoddy, but what of the $25.00 bet, was it paid, not much—muchly—as it were.

SHEPPARD is making Wonderful Strides in Securing Marvellous Bargains in Dry Goods, Clothing, Hats and Caps.

We have received orders from Ottawa and other places to replace other boilers with ours. This speaks for itself. McAndrew & Noble are prepared to back their own boilers against these or any other maker either in or out of Peterborough, and if not superior in every respect they will be removed without one cent of expense. We claim, and it has been acknowledged, that we have the best boiler for heating purposes in the world to-day; all we want is a fair test.

JOHN BERTRAM BANQUETTED

Farewell Entertainment to an Honored Citizen.

A Representative Good-bye Gathering at the Oriental—The Banquet—The Presentation of an Address—Eloquent Reply of Mr. Bertram—Toasts and Speeches.

On Tuesday evening a most representative gathering composed of both political parties and of all creeds and classes of citizens assembled for the purpose of entertaining John Bertram, Esq., ex-M P., at a complimentary banquet on the occasion of his departure to become a resident of Toronto. The following gentlemen played host to the honored guest of the evening:—Messrs. Jas. Stevenson, M. P., mayor of the town; J. R. Stratton, M.P.P., Geo. A. Cox, W. E. Roxburgh, Norwood, Robt. Jaffray, Toronto, Geo. Edmison, County Police Magistrate; Thos. Blezzard, M.P.P., East Peterborough, Col. Deacon, Lindsay, W. Manson, J. M. Irwin, S. A. McMurtry, Lindsay; D. W. Dumble, Police Magistrate, Peterborough; C. McGill, D. J. McIntyre, Lindsay; A. E. Lech, W. H. Moore, W. W. Johnston, G. M. Roger, J. H. Roper, Chas. Wallis, W. G. Ferguson, Thos. Kelly, town councillor; Robt. Innes, D. Belleghem, J. D. Moltmoyle, A. Rutherford, W. Rudkins, Wm. Lech Chas. Cameron, G. H. Bertram, Toronto; John Moloney, Chas. Stapleton, W. A. Stratton; Hugh Bertram, Dundas; J. J. Hartley, town councillor; J. W. T. Fairweather, J. A. Hartley, Peter Hamilton, D. H. Moore, Wm. Hamilton, John McKee; Jas. Stratton, Collector of Customs; Ed. Phalen, J. B. McWilliams; C. D. Barr, Lindsay Post; Major (Dr.) Bell, Lieut. R. J. Lee, E. D. Gough, Joseph Griffin, V. Best, Geo. Stevenson, Thos. Dolan, Harry Phalen, E. E. Henderson, L. M. Hayes, John Nugent, M. Tierney, and the representatives of the local press.

Mine Host McIntyre, of the Oriental, had prepared an excellent dinner, as may be judged from the following

BILL OF FARE.

SOUP—Oyster.
FISH—Boiled maskinonge, sauce piquant.
BOILED—Leg of mutton and caper sauce. Turkey and oyster sauce.
ENTREES—Partridge on toast. Maccaroni and cheese.
ROAST—Sirloin of beef and horse radish. Turkey and cranberry sauce.
GAME—Wild duck and apple sauce.
VEGETABLES—Mashed potatoes. Tomatoes. Corn.
PUDDINGS AND PASTRY—English plum pudding and brandy sauce. Snow pudding and whipped cream. Deep apple pie and cream. Mince pie. Wine jelly.
DESSERT—Apples. Grapes. Nuts. Raisins. Tea. Coffee. Ice cream.

The dining hall had been tastefully and appropriately decorated for the occasion. Beginning on the eastern wall the following mottoes appeared in succession, surrounding the four sides of the room: "An Honoured Resident"; "For a Quarter of a Century": 1862-87, and the word "Farewell" encircling the universally accepted emblem of good luck—a horseshoe. An elaborate and tasteful display of Canadian and British flags added greatly to the brightness of the decorations.

Prof. Doucet's orchestra of five pieces was present and rendered several choice overtures during the progress of the banquet and at intervals during the evening.

Mr. Charles McGill, the secretary of the committee read several letters of regret which also contained highly complimentary allusions to Mr. Bertram's worth and ability from Sir John Macdonald, Hon. T. B. Pardee, Mayor Howland, Toronto, Mellville Millar and others. After ample justice had been done to the choice viands the toast list was entered upon. Mr. James Stevenson, M.P., occupied the chair, having on his right the guest of the evening and on his left Mr. Geo. A. Cox. Mr. J. R. Stratton, M.P.P., filled the position of vice-chairman, supported on his right by Mr. C. D. Barr, of the Lindsay Post, and on his left by Mr. J. B. McWilliams. The first toast was "The Queen" received with royal honors. Song, "God save the Queen."

"The Prince of Wales and Royal Family". Song, "God Bless the Prince of Wales," Mr. D. D. Galletly.

"The Governor-General and Lieutenant Governor." Song, "The Maple Leaf Forever." Mr. Galletly.

"Army, Navy and Volunteers." Song, Mr. Galletly and chorus by company, "Red, White and Blue."

COL. DEACON, of Lindsay, in response to to the toast, gave a neat and comprehensive speech. He referred to the regret that must be felt at the fairest and most progressive town in Ontario losing the advantage of the citizenship of a man like Mr. Bertram. (Cheers) He referred to the British army as the only one in Europe whose strength was kept up by voluntary enlistment, and he traced the triumphs of the prowess of its soldiers down through successive centuries, the deeds of the one surpassing those of the preceeding. He brought the references down to the Crimean war in which the gallant Colonel was a participant, that day, Oct. 25th, being the anniversary of the unparalleled charge of the 600. (Cheers.) The British army had always been equal to the occasion, a remark which applied with equal force to the volunteers. The services of the latter were particularly referred to in reference to the North-west Rebellion, and while acknowledging the liberality with which the government had equipped the force, particular praise was given to the noble provision made for the wants and comforts of the soldiers by the ladies, and especial reference to the leading part taken by Mrs. Geo. A. COX, eliciting loud applause.

MAJOR BELL followed, claiming the sympathy and practical help of the public in encouraging the volunteers, and appealing to the chairman to use his influence to have the tariff which put a tax of 40 per cent. on clothing and equipment for volunteer officers, removed.

LIEUT. LEE and CAPT. STAPLETON, the latter of the 3rd cavalry, also responded in brief speeches.

THE TOAST OF THE EVENING.

The CHAIRMAN in proposing the toast of evening, "Our Guest", said it was a source of great gratification to see so large a turn out to bid good-bye to Mr. Bertram, but that the loss of his removal was one that could with difficulty be appreciated. His loss was to be deeply regretted, but, as Peterborough could not furnish scope for his business operations, his removal was in his interests. The Chairman asserted that he had known Mr. Bertram for a long time and there was no man he held in higher respect than John Bertram. (Cheers.) He had known him intimately but could place his finger on no dishonorable act he had done. (Applause.) He had found Mr. Bertram that noblest work of God, an honest man. (Loud applause.) Mr. Stevenson then read the following

ADDRESS:

JOHN BERTRAM, Esq., Ex-M.P.:—

DEAR SIR,—On behalf of the people of the Town and County of Peterborough, you are welcomed this evening as their guest. Those whom you see around you are assembled on the eve of your departure from this county, to do you honor, and, in so doing, they have reason to feel that they themselves share in the honor of the occasion.

It is considered a privilege to have an opportunity of extending to you in a formal manner, an expression of the high esteem in which you are held by all classes of the community.

For a quarter of a century you have been in our midst, and, by virtue of the position you have so efficiently filled in public affairs, have become one of the most prominent men in this district. This fact would, of itself, be scant justification of praise, but occupying, as you have done, a conspicuous position, the object of particular attention on the part of the public, your sterling integrity, public spirit and general excellence of both public and private character, have not only disarmed detraction, but placed you upon an exalted plane of public esteem, reached by few men, as a sequence of an active citizenship of twenty-five years.

Such a man it is a pleasure to honor, and the departure of such a man from amongst us creates a keenness of regret, to which any words that might be employed, would serve to give very imperfect expression.

It would hardly be becoming, on the present occasion to refer with any particular definiteness to your public career; but, while many who now surround you, might not have agreed with you on all public questions, they will doubtless agree in conceding that you discharged the important duties of a public trust in your capacity of representative of the people in Parliament, with an honesty of purpose, and singleness of aim, worthy a patriotic Canadian. As one of our foremost public speakers, whose fluent and incisive eloquence, has been admired and appreciated even by those not in sympathy with the opinions you may have expressed, your removal from us is regretted.

Though your departure makes a wide breach in the ranks of Peterborough citizenship, it is gratifying to believe that this county gives to Toronto a resident worthy of taking place in the ranks of the leading men of that city, both as regards solidity of personal and commercial character, high principles and intellectual resources.

In conclusion your acceptance is asked, on behalf of the people of Peterborough town and county, of the most cordial assurances of respect and esteem, coupled with the wish that your new home may in time supply you with as many warm friends as you leave behind, and that prosperity may attend you in your business relations and worldly pursuits, and that health and happiness may be the abiding lot of both yourself and of your estimable family.

On behalf of the people of Peterborough town and county.

J. STEVENSON,
Chairman of Committee.
J. R. STRATTON,
Vice-Chairman of Committee.

C. MCGILL,
Secretary of Committee.

At the conclusion of the reading of the address the toast of "Our Guest" was drunk with great enthusiasm, the whole company singing lustily, "For He's a Jolly Good Fellow."

Mr. BERTRAM, in rising to respond, was honored with a genuine ovation. He said that he felt that the company had highly honored him in the gathering of that evening. The embracing as it did all classes, creeds, and religions, was an especial source of gratification and pride. He took the rather too complimentary expressions of the address, with which he had been presented, not literally—he was not vain enough to think himself worthy of them in that sense—but as a profound expression of esteem and confidence which he heartily reciprocated. (Cheers.) Twenty-six years ago he landed in Canada without friends and with but little capital, and the present circumstances in which he found himself showed how fortunate it was that he had selected Peterborough as a home.

REPRESENTATIVE CHARACTER OF THE ASSEMBLY,

He referred to the great strides of progress the town had made since 1862, when he first came to it, and contrasted its then condition, and, though a bright, stirring place, it was not for a moment to be compared to the Peterborough of to-day. He wished the town a continuance of the

that mark her present condition. He gave the reasons for leaving Peterborough. After retiring from the retail trade he had built his home near town and expected to remain there, but investments he had made had so expanded and branched out that it became necessary to transfer his his headquarters to Toronto. Referring to his political life the speaker claimed the right to appropriate to himself the portion of the address alluding to his "honesty of purpose" and "singleness of aim," but he had always believed in difference of opinion and was ready to tolerate opinions differing from his own, and as a consequence of holding this position he was happy to say that in his political career he had not been compelled to sacrifice personal friendship to the earnest, and sometimes strongly vigorous, advocacy of his own opinions. The speaker cited several illustrations and related several amusing campaign incidents to show that personally friendly relations could happily co-exist with hard political blows given and received. Referring to his new home, where he would strengthen existing friendships, and doubtless form new ones he assured his hearers that he in Peterborough. In conclusion he heartily thanked the gentlemen present for their hearty hospitality. The present occasion was a bright spot in his life which he would look back upon with the sincerest pleasure. He took his seat amidst round after round of applause.

WOULD NOT FORGET HIS OLD FRIENDS

ONTARIO AND THE DOMINION.

Mr. C. D. BARR, of the Lindsay Post, in a few felicitous remarks, proposed the next toast, "The House of Commons and the Legislative Assembly."

Mr. JAMES STEVENSON, M.P., on rising to respond said that he didn't wish to take up the time of the assembly, but he would give a bit of his experience at Ottawa, as far as that was worth anything. He did'nt, he said, like it at all, and he hadn't the least idea, when he went there, of all the trouble involved in such a position. He said his aims were to see equal justice on all sides, and this had always been the principle he advocated in parliament. There were a great many things this country wanted, and he always did his best to secure them, but, as those who have been there know, it is no easy matter. With regard to the new armory for the 57th Battalion mentioned by Lieut. Lee, he had secured promises of it, but he would not say when they would be fulfilled. He also concurred in Dr. Bell's contention that the officers of battalions were not sufficiently supported by government. He concluded with an allusion to the friendship existing between politicians off the platform, as before intimated by Mr. Bertram, which he said was carried on just the same at Ottawa, outside the House.

Mr. THOS. BLEZARD, M.P.P. for East Peterborough, expressed his pleasure at being at the banquet, though it was tinged with regret at the prospective loss of one of his dearest friends. He could not understand why Mr. Bertram was leaving this bright little city, but no doubt he had good reasons. As to the Ontario Legislature, for which he was expected to reply, it was, he said, able to take care of itself. It was said that the legislative machinery of the Dominion was too heavy and should be reduced, but he maintained that the local legislature was an absolute necessity. It was urged that the local assembly could be reduced by about half; for instance, by allowing only one representative for the whole county of Peterborough. He regarded this proposition as a source of danger; the country was safer as things were at present. After a few further remarks he resumed his seat.

MR. J. R. STRATTON, M. P. P. for the West Riding of Peterborough, said he regarded this toast as one of the most important of the evening, because Ontario was the most important province in the whole Dominion. Referring to the relative merits of the Legislative and Dominion Assemblies, he said he believed there was less political bitterness in the local house, because their political differences were fought out at the elections, and the representatives went there prepared to give their whole time and energies to the performance of their duties. Then again he believed the Ontario Legislature a more representative body, because there were neither facilities nor inducements inviting as many professional politicians to enter it as were offered by the Dominion House. He would not, however, attempt to elevate the local legislature at the expenses of the Dominion Parliament, which, as a body, was composed of men of ability, eloquence and integrity. In conclusion, Mr. Stratton referred to the general sorrow of the Reform party at Mr. Bertram's departure, and to his own personal regret. In conclusion the speaker hoped Mr. Bertram would, in his new home, realize the brightest anticipations of success and happiness, which the contemplation of his departure and the maturing of his plans may have led him to indulge.

THE LEARNED PROFESSIONS.

The VICE-CHAIRMAN then proposed a toast to "The Learned Professions," which was well represented at the festive board. Mr. Dumble responded first, followed by Mr. McIntyre, of Lindsay, Messrs. W. H. Moore, Geo. M. Roger, W. A. Stratton, L. M. Hay, for the legal fraternity, and Dr. Bell for the medical. The speeches were humorous, practical or touching by turns, according to the spirit of the speakers, who all expressed with hearty unanimity, the sincerest regret at Mr. Bertram's departure from their midst.

MERCANTILE AND MANUFACTURING.

The toast to the "Mercantile and Manufacturing Interests" brought to their feet several of the oldest and most respected residents of Peterborough.

For the Mercantile, MR. JAFFRAY, of Toronto, replied first, in the course of his speech referring to the brilliant mercantile record and prospects of Peterborough. And while Peterborough had reason to regret Mr. Bertrams departure, Toronto would experience a proportionate joy at his entrance into the Queen City.

Mr. GEO. BERTRAM, also of Toronto, followed with a lively speech which called for repeated applause. He paid a glowing compliment to the wealth, enterprise and superior abilities of Peterborough's business men; they were, he said, just the kind of men they wanted in Toronto; and to the guest of the evening he extended a most hearty welcome.

Mr. E. D. Gough made a brief, but happy, response, the humor of which elicited hearty laughter. He co-incided with those present in their feelings of regret at Mr. Bertram's departure.

For the "Manufacturing Interests" Mr. Wm. Lech responded in a felicitous manner, loud applause greeting his speech.

Mr. Wm. HAMILTON, the veteran and successful machine manufacturer, followed, and in the course of his remarks said that the manufacturing interests of Peterborough were doing "tolerably well." This sally, accompanied as it was by a knowing look and smile, brought on a burst of laughter from the assembly.

Mr. PETER HAMILTON also spoke briefly, in the beginning expressing his disapproval of commercial union, not because the manufacturing industries could not compete with those of the United States, but because it would be unfavorable to the country at large. He referred in pleasing terms to Mr. Bertram's long residence in town, and expressed his sincere regret at his departure.

BRINGING TO A CLOSE.

As the hour had become unexpectedly later than was anticipated at this stage of the proceedings, the remaining toasts, to the Mayor and town council, the ladies and the press, were unavoidably dispensed with.

Before the proceedings were brought to a close the chairman asked a hearing for Geo. A. Cox, whom he called upon for a brief address.

A toast to Mr. Cox was drunk most heartily, and three cheers and a "tiger" given with right good will. After expressing the pleasure he felt at being able to appear upon this occasion, he referred particularly to the guest of the evening, whose loss would be deeply felt in Peterborough. He would not, he said, attempt to say all that was in his heart and mind in regard to Mr. Bertram, whom he esteemed as a sincere friend and valuable citizen. In conclusion he jocosely referred to Mr. Stevenson's complaints of the hard work at Ottawa, and said it was not his (Mr. Cox's) fault that he was sent there. (Laughter.) But he could say with many others that there was no bitter feeling between them on account of the election. He returned thanks for the hearty manner in which his toast had been drunk, and resumed his seat amidst applause.

Proceedings were finally terminated by the singing of Auld Lang Syne by the company, and the National Anthem.

As the assembly broke up three rousing cheers and a tiger were given for the guest of the evening, Mr. John Bertram.

Our Stock of Furs for the Season of 1887 is one not inferior to any in the best retail stores in any City. When we say this we base the same on our knowledge in selecting the material for our manufacture, which is of the Choicest. The long winter of last season had run our stock very low, many lines, such as Men's Coats in Racoon, being completely sold out, but of which we now have on hand a large stock made of good seasoned skins in the natural color. None kept of unseasoned skins, which require coloring dark to hide bare spots.

Peterborough Markets.

[Supplied by W. H. Wrighton, Grain and Produce Dealer & General Grocer, George St.]

WEDNESDAY, OCT. 26.

Considerable grain moving. Barley is the principal offering. Market still continues firm and advancing, looks about high enough. Barley sold to-day from 65 to 77c., to morrow it may be down 5c, these prices are too high for present market. Wheat is selling at 80 and 81c. for spring, about the same for fall. Peas, few offering, 63 to 65c. Rye, nothing doing. Oats, 34 to 35c. On the market: Fresh butter selling from 23 to 24c., eggs, scarce, 17 to 18c, keg butter 18 to 21c., few kegs offering for the season of the year. In poultry there is no change in price. Beef very dull, selling $3 to $5. Dressed hogs 5½ to 6¼c., and few offering. Potatoes and apples no change in price.

A gentleman well acquainted with the grain markets asserts that the prices quoted for grain in the Lindsay papers are in excess of the prices actually paid to farmers. He says he knows scores of instances in which from fifteen to twenty cents in advance of Lindsay prices have been paid on the Peterborough market.

Important Auction Sale.

Attention is called to the fact of an auction sale of all the farm stock of Mr. John Bertram at his residence Spring Garden, Smith, on Wednesday, November 2nd. The stock includes horses and cows. Besides there will be sold a large quantity of first-class farm implements of all kinds, and a large quantity of household furniture. For particulars see bills. Sale at 1 o'clock. A bus will run from the post office every half hour. No reserve.

Good Threshing.

Mr. John Montgomery recently threshed for Mr. W. M. Farr, North Monaghan, with his steam threshing machine, 1200 bushels of grain in 10 hours and 15 minutes. This big work not only indicates an excellent threshing machine, but excellent farming to produce grain contributing to such results.

WAR ON THE K. OF L. EXECUTIVE.

The Dissenters From the Action of the Convention Issue Their Circular.

CHICAGO, Oct. 25.—The circular issued by the dissenters from the action taken at the Minneapolis convention of the Knights of Labor expresses indignation at the ever-increasing usurpation of power by those who manage the affairs of the order; and calls upon all honest men to free themselves from "the most autocratic and tyrannical clique that ever controlled any labor organization."

It states that the general office has become the "luxurious haunt" for self-seeking men; and that a conspiracy has been formed to make the salaried positions in the order permanent.

The system of appointing general lecturers is severely condemned, while the charge is made that local assemblies have been suspended to get rid of dissentients.

The annual expenditure of the order is said to be controlled by a ring, the members of which apply funds to their own personal use.

The boycott has been used to injure the labor press, union establishments and the products of Knights of Labor and union labor, and persons not members of the order have been appointed to lucrative positions in the general office.

This circular concludes by pointing out that nearly all the strikes in which the general officers interfered were lost, and that although the membership decreased 217,924 last year, the expenditure of the general officers has been increased to $750,000.

GETTING THE BAIT READY.

The Next Move Will be to Procure a New York Assay to Float the Stock.

DULUTH, Minn., Oct. 25.—Frank and Geo. Spencer and Louis Baubein, the latter an old half-breed explorer, yesterday brought to Duluth a large box of gold nuggets which indicate a find of unusual richness and value. The find is situated about forty miles north of Grand Marais, Cook County, Minn., and in a range of townships five or six miles south of the International boundary line. Only a few here know of the find. There was shown a nugget nearly as large as a man's hand and from a quarter to three-quarters of an inch thick.

About thirty miles inland from Grand Marais are ancient diggings of rich silver mines, which are supposed to have been worked by the Toltecs. The gold discoveries are a dozen miles northeast of this location, where land is pretty generally taken up, though considerable mineral land remains vacant. The gold has a very dull yellow appearance. Two kinds of samples were shown, one taken from near the shore of a small lake, and the other in quartz. The Spencer brothers also brought here a few specimens of rich native silver, and a curiously fashioned vessel made of what seems to be very hard copper. The vessel was found near the place where the richest gold nugget was discovered.

Anglo-Saxonism at Cornwall.

CORNWALL, Oct. 24.—Judge O'Connor opened the Stormont, Dundas and Glengarry Assizes to-day. There were for trial twelve civil actions and five criminal indictments. Four of the civil cases went off the docket in various ways before the court adjourned this afternoon.

JAPAN AND AMERICA.

Contrasts in Customs Noted by a Japanese Student in This Country.

While I hear in most cases two noises in your homes—the piano sound or the clatterings of a sewing machine, mostly in the forenoon—you will hear invariably in many of our families in Japan two noises, especially late in the afternoon—the cradle songs repeated by the kind mother lying beside her baby, who joins her songs with inarticulate enunciations broken by cries, and the loud and musical readings of the master or husband, who is resting at his ease after having finished his daily duty in his office—I mean our official class.

While you call a thing which is made up of three pieces of bread and meat, including mustard—a "sandwich," we call a third part of anything "sambuichi." While our san to ichi (three and one) make four your sandwich is resolved into three pieces.

While our common people used to shave their hair and make a bald head when they had repented of some sins which they had committed, and in this disguise they would go around the streets and subsist on alms, some of your criminals may escape to Canada or the northwest and grow long locks and disguise as the red man.

While drinking wine on funeral occasions is a custom with most of our people, the smell of the alcoholic stimulus does not seem to attend upon such occasions here.

Holding a tobacco pipe in the mouth while walking, as is seen in your streets, is only seen at home, on picnic occasions, or in foot travelers.

While playing billiards and cards seem to be your principal gambling media, we used to have cock-fighting as a chief agent of accomplishing our gambling desires.

The dancing-schools are made almost exclusively for girls, except those men who intend to acquire the dancing art for their profession. I have seen in some of your dancing-schools little boys of 10 or 13 years practicing proudly some waltz with the teacher, a sight which would not fail to surprise my eyes.

While our house is so built to have the top part of the building heavier than its lower portion, thus making it able to receive equally shocks from the frequent earthquakes which haunt the country so often, your houses have their heaviest part near the foundation.

We do not wear gloves in parties, concerts, balls, or at weddings, considering it impolite to do so, but you seem to regard it to be in accord with ceremony to wear the article on those occasions. Not only that, but you carry gloves both in winter and summer when you go out—most of your genteel class of people. In our case, if young men wear gloves when they go out, even on very cold days in our northern climes, some of which are as cold as some of your Canadian winters, they are called "feminine." Even ladies do not take gloves with them when they go out, except in very cold days. They never carry them in summer, although they are very careful otherwise to keep their face and hands as white as possible. But there is a class among our poor women who go from house to house on New Year's day or other holidays, playing on the guitar. They wrap their hands, which are constantly exposed to the sun, with white cloth resembling somewhat your white kid gloves, used in ballrooms. Among our male society who always wear gloves there are men who sit on the public highway as the repairer of shoes, and also our firemen, who wear thick cotton gloves when they go to fires. These three persons are nearly the only persons at home who would not go out without gloves. Gloves are to them, therefore, as necessary an article as a simple ring is to your married persons. I never used to wear any kind of gloves, either in my summer travels or in the midst of our coldest winter, which is so cold in some places as to make most people wear very thick mittens.

While you seem to like to ride on horseback, keeping your body straight or bent a little backward, our old way of riding is to stoop a little forward. While you ride side by side when there are two riders, we ride in a line.

Our stockings are divided at the end into two portions, the one for the large toe and the other for the rest of the toes, somewhat in the shape of your mittens.

While your officers carry their sword turning the sharp edge of the blade downward, our old way of carrying a sword is to turn the sharper edge upward.

While you have long arms compared with your body, we have short arms and comparatively long body.

Our old maps represent mountains in profile, while you represent them on your maps as though looking down them.

We hang on the upper beam of a front room near the entrance of our house a large mask of the smiling face of a happy woman—fat, slanting-eyed, open-mouthed, red-cheeked—instead of a horseshoe as you do, with the motive of inviting luck into the building. For preventing the advent of devils into the house we attach the head of the sardines together with a little branch of a prickly tree to the entrance posts, gate posts, kitchen doors, or strips of paper of a few inches' length inscribed with the term "Guarding Card," which was written by a priest in the temple whence the card is issued.

While according to your custom one has to pay the expenses incurred in playing billiards or to sacrifice something on his part when he has lost his game, we have to drink a cup of wine when we are beaten in games—especially games which are played with hands, so that those who are fond of drinking will not be disappointed, but rather be glad when they have lost the contest.

Some fields near our habitations at home are so nicely kept, so free from weeds, as to disappoint a naturalist in botanizing, while some vacant lots or grounds adjoining your dwelling houses are so barren or weedy as to disappoint your gentlemen-horse in rolling upon them.—Detroit Free Press.

There is a striking similarity in the summer temperatures of Norfolk, Charleston, Savannah, Mobile, New Orleans, and Galveston, and as a rule the summer range of the thermometer in these cities is not so high as it is farther north. This leads the southern papers to advocate southern summer resorts as more desirable for southern people than northern resorts.

The Baltimore Sun says: "It was mentioned a few days since that a local photographer was in ecstasies because he had obtained a series of negatives of Mrs. Cleveland in various poses and costumes. His expectations of realising a handsome return from the sale of photographs are in danger of disappointment. It was understood that the president and Mrs. Cleveland would make a selection of the negatives to be used, but when he called at the White House a day or two ago and broached the subject of placing the photographs on sale the president promptly interposed his objection, and insisted that he did not propose to have his wife's pictures put upon the market. The disappointed artist hopes, however, that after a while the president will listen to reason."

AGRICULTURAL INTERESTS.

The annual report of the Ontario Bureau of Industries for 1886 is a voluminous and interesting document, and it contains new departments embracing items of information not given in previous reports. A section which will be of general interest is that dealing with the question of Ontario farm values. The report shows that during the year there has been a gratifying and decided increase in the valuation of farms. What is known as the "Manitoba boom" had a very marked effect in depreciating the value of farm property in Ontario. This is shown by the fact that the total value of farm property, including land, buildings, stock and implements, declined from $966 1,428,565 in 1883 to $949,803,170 in 1884, a decrease of over ten millions in a single year. But the effects of the Manatoba exodus have passed away and farming affairs not only have regained their normal condition but shows a satisfactory advance. In 1886 the increased farm values represented a total investment of $989,497,911. This shows that, after all, Ontario has nothing to fear from the competition of the Northwest as the home of the farmer. The soil of this province is fertile, the climatic conditions are of superior attractiveness to those of Manitoba and the Northwest, while the commercial, educational, religious and social advantages are infinitely superior to what Manitoba and the Northwest can ever hope to become, for, as the latter advances in these respects, Ontario will keep pace, thus retaining her lead. But while the farmers and the country generally (for the prosperity of the farmer involves that of the whole community) can congratulate themselves on the increase of farm value, the depreciation of produce values is a subject of regret. The tables embraced in the report referred to, giving the prices of produce, show that in almost every article there has been a steady decline since 1883. Selecting the six principal articles of grain, a comparison with the average of the five previous years reveals the fact that the crop of 1886 represents nearly ten millions of dollars less than the average. This unsatisfactory state of affairs leads the farmer to cast about for some means of improving his condition. He may be told to increase the output of products by improved methods of tillage, but that will only add to his difficulty. The greater the amount of grain the lower the price—with a restricted market. In the existing condition of affairs it is not surprising that the farmer is casting about for a better market. The high taxation policy of Sir John Macdonald has more than failed to supply the farmer with either a remunerative market or paying prices—it has imposed upon him a grievous burden of taxation, which renders his condition most embarrassing. Reciprocity of national products with the United States would, doubtless, tend to supply the farmer with a wider market and an advance in prices corresponding to the amount of tariff restriction thus removed. The farming community have evidently come to the conclusion that the manufacturing monopolists have had a sufficiently long run at the fodder rack, to now stand aside and give the farmer a fair chance.

The Brotherhood of Locomotive Engineers has 25,000 members, of whom 6,267 are insured under the insurance plan of the Order. During last year over a quarter of a million of dollars was paid out to widows and orphans. The Order exercises great caution and economy in the use of the strikes and is therefore better able to do its work as a mutual benefit association. Its sound financial condition, coupled with its great outlay for relief, is suggested as strong proof of the wisdom and capacity of its management.

The Toronto News truthfully says:—"The Trent Valley Canal Commissioners are instructed to enquire what openings for trade there are likely to be on the canal. Hitherto the principal openings of that character in connection with the work have led to a lively trade in votes, and there are no signs of any fall in the market."

The Canadian Cattle Trade.

An Industry Which Works Both Ways—Shipping and Receiving—Exporting and Importing.

A cable despatch states that the second cargo of Canadian store cattle to Aberdeen, Scotland, arrived in good condition and have been sold. Three hundred and fifty head of cattle realized an average of fourteen pounds eleven shillings and sixpence. There was a good attendance at the sale and the buyers were generally well pleased with the quality of the stock. The company had effected a reduction of fifteen shillings per head freight, but had to pay twelve shillings per head more for the cattle. The prices realized were just about sufficient to clear the company from loss. In addition to his former shipment Mr. John Dryden, who sails in the Carthaginian, has left Glasgow with a large draft of shorthorns. Various other breeders in Canada are purchasers, including Mr. Johnson, of Greenwood, Mr. Russell, of Richmond Hill, Mr. Redmond of Peterborough and Mr. Russell, Unionville.

[The shipment above alluded to, of thorough bred short horns, to Mr. Joseph Redmond, of "Elm Grove Stock Farm", Otonabee, has a history. The stock which is now on its way was purchased a year ago by Mr. Redmond, but owing to the embargo placed upon exporting stock on account of the presence of pleuro-pneumonia, the animals were detained and Mr. Redmond has been paying for their board and care since that time. After so much difficulty it is to be hoped that his investment will turn out a paying one and that his enterprise in importing blood animals to improve the stock of the county will meet with abundant reward.

The Essex Review, a good Tory sheet, complains that the Tories are too strong in the Senate. Does it mean that the curiosities are "blue-moulding"?

The trial of the Kingston (Sir John Macdonald's) election petition will likely take place in November, when the Chieftain will probably learn that the Gunn is loaded.

The Toronto self-constituted Tory organ, the World, is about to desert the Tory ranks and become Liberal—at least so one would be led to infer from the heading to its leading article of Monday—"Let us be Hostes."

Charlottetown, P.E.I., citizens will vote on the 24th November whether or not to repeal the Scott Act. The petition presented by Senator McKindsey, asking for a Scott Art repeal vote in Halton County, is signed by over sixteen hundred persons.

Bradstreet estimates that the wheat surplus of the United States is 110,000,000 of bushels from the States and Territories east of the Rocky Mountains and 25,000,000 from those upon the Pacific coast. Of this surplus 40,000,000 have already been shipped; 15,000,000 bushels will be required for consumption in the Atlantic States, leaving an available surplus for the European market of 55,000,000 bushels east of the Rocky Mountains. This is much below the surplus available in some former years.

The London Times is a good enough hater of Gladstone and his grand schemes for doing national justice, to satisfy even the brilliant and bilious Dr. Johnson, yet it has the frankness to make the following admission:—"It is a fact beyond question that Gladstone's oratorical performance beats the record of all statesmen who ever attempted to govern the country by the gift of speech. We stand amazed at the fecundity of language and physical endurance displayed by a man completing his 78th year." It the Grand Old Man lives as long as some of his political predecessors, and he is in a fair way to do so, he will yet see the triumph of the cause to which he has consecrated the closing years of his busy life.

OUR $18.00 OVERCOAT

It is made of an English Knap Beaver, lined throughout with Black Satin, Mother of Pearl Buttons, and being made by one of the best Tailors in Canada, it is therefore equal to the finest of fine Custom Made. This Overcoat I sell for $18.00. if you left your measure for it, it would cost and be considered cheap at $30.00. Any Person in want of a very fine Overcoat Should not fail to see it.

Our Overcoats at $3.00 $4.00 $5.00 $6.00 $7.00 $8.00 $9.00 & $10.00;

Beat anything in Canada either Wholesale or Retail; and why should they not, when I bought them at 50c. on the Dollar. When Wholesale Houses cannot compete with the Wonderful Cheap Man it is simply impossible for Small Retail Houses to compete. 60 per cent of the goods I sell, I buy at less than the First Cost of Manufacture, and hence the reason I can defy any Wholesale House in Canada to touch my prices. It is one thing to make an assertion and another thing to prove it. If any man doubts what I herein state let him come to my store and I will prove to his satisfaction that it is the absolute truth.

The Country Store.

Did you ever glance through a country or suburban "general store?" When the usual economical man whose taste does not run to the plow, the rather gentle and unambitious gentleman, with the pretty blonde wife and a new baby every year, looks around in a quiet spot to see what he can bring into the village for a little capital to sell at a moderate profit, he sees the limits of any special article except whisky, and he goes in for everything. Of course he has school books, some of them rather out of date, but still full of questions and answers and figures and facts. Toys he must have, and here and there you will find the transparent slate, the brilliant top, the puzzle of the last century, the old, old figures that we—if you are old enough to be included—were brought up to consider the height of ingenuity, the acme of entertainment. You will find candles in bottles, made on old principles and healthy to eat if pasty to look at. There may be flies in the bottles, but with ingenuous youth they pass for currants, and once in a while the storekeeper comes across a drummer who sells him a lot of old faded fancy paper boxes from dead Christmas times and birthdays of the past, and breaks up the village with the sensation. Then you'll find slate pencils. They have but little faith in the general comprehension of their customers, these country storekeepers, and so they always tie the pencil to the slate so that there can be no mistake. Stacks of picture-books of a pattern the city kid would turn up his contemptuous nose at will be found in kind of boxes or mangers, all bundled up together, and sold apparently by their thickness. Balls of twine, Bohemian glass inkstands of cheap price; note paper with fashions in crests and monograms and things that have passed into limbo, lead pencils that have "job lot" written all over them; motto lozanges, with the mottoes half melted away; all sorts of toys and useful things in thin metal and painted wood, and the open-eyed child wanders through the place as if it were in fairyland.—San Francisco Chronicle.

For Those Who Sleep in Church.

A physician who was asked for reasons why people became drowsy in church, and if there was any remedy for chronic cases, said that the drowsy feeling in church was often due to bad construction, to over-heating, and to the general quiet and composing surroundings. "I have often," said he, "advised patients of mine who are troubled with insomnia to try a quiet church where the preacher was not too energetic in his manner, and in most cases the result has been gratifying. The poor man who has almost become wild through want of sleep generally obtains relief and falls off into a gentle and refreshing slumber. Many people suffering in this way take a ride in a railroad train for relief, and often get it, but nothing has succeeded so well as the Sunday morning service in a quiet church. If those people, however, who do not need to sleep in church and do not want to would drink very strong tea or coffee before going to the church they might find it effective, but by no means healthy. Why do you see the bald heads nodding most in church? Because the old are more susceptible to the influence of such surroundings. The women seldom go to sleep, because they are so dressed that to sleep would be almost impossible. If the men would lace themselves up tight they might keep awake, too, but in the words of Gen. Knickerbocker, 'They cawn't do it, you know.' "—Philadelphia Record.

"Last fall," said my Alexandria friend, "when the Norfolk boat stopped at Alexandria one night on its way down the river, a well known Alexandrian, who had more liquor than was good for him, walked on board and said to a gentleman who was talking to some ladies: 'I want a cigar or blood,' in bloodcurdling tones. 'Have a cigar, sir?' said the stranger, handing him one in a most conciliatory way, and then the Alexandrian came on shore

To Avoid Baldness or Gray Hair.

Use Dr. Dorenwend's Great German Hair Magic. It keeps the scalp clean and free from Dandruff, and promotes the growth of the hair. It prevents premature grayness and stops all falling out of the hair. On bald heads, where the roots have not perished, it will invigorate them and force a new growth of hair. Ask for Hair Magic. It is the only reliable. For sale by J. D. Tully and all druggists.

Invariable Indications.

If you have Sour Stomach, Heartburn Sick Headache, rising and searing of food, wind in the stomach, a choking or gnawing sensation at the pit of the stomach, then you have sure indications of Dyspepsia, which Burdock Blood Bitters will surely cure. It has cured the worst cases on record. 2w42d

Among the Indians.

"While my husband was trading in furs he came across an Indian who was taken to his lodge to die. He had inward pains and pains in all his limbs. He gave some Yellow Oil internally and applied it externally and cured him. It also cured my husband of rheumatism, and I find it valuable for coughs and colds, sore throat etc." Mrs. A. HEATING

By Hot Water and Steam.

We desire to call special attention to their splendid Hot Water and Steam Boilers which are acknowledged to have no superior on the Continent of America. We have received orders from Ottawa and other places to replace other boilers with ours. This speaks for itself. McAndrew & Noble are prepared to back their own boilers against these or any other maker either in or out of Peterborough, and if not superior in every respect they will be removed without one cent of expense. We claim, and it has been acknowledged, that we have the best boiler for heating purposes in the world to-day; all we want is a fair test.

Appeals Dismissed.

Last January Messrs. W. H. Chamberlain and M. Halpin appealed against decisions of the police magistrate here, whereby each were found guilty of a second offence against the Scott Act and fined $100 and costs. Writs of certiorari were granted, and the appeals carried to Toronto, but as the defendants took no further action the appeal was dismissed with costs, and the papers returned to Peterborough for enforcement of the judgment.

A Shorthand Remedy.

An excellent paper contributed by an eminent member of the society at the last annual convention of the Canadian Shorthand Society in Toronto, on the above subject, is well worthy of perusal. Touching on the dissemination of the knowledge of shorthand the writer queried: "Don't you think that the interests of shorthand would be greatly furthered if all of us would lend plenty of encouragement to those reaching for the first rung of the ladder? I truly and conscientiously believe that the more shorthand is studied the greater will be the demand for shorthand writers. If I study shorthand, either for personal or general use, you may be sure that my neighbor before long will know something of the art and its advantages, intellectual and practical. This will create a more widespread knowledge of shorthand and its worth as a time saver; and if a time-saver, a money-saver; money saved is money made; business and professional men wish to save money; see the point?" Anticipating the cry about overcrowding the profession the writer proceeded: "Do men of ability feel that their calling is unsafe? Surely worthy, capable men are ever in demand, and at a good market value. Have any of us ever heard of a first class steno complaining of this bug-bear—overcrowding? It is a 'bug' I cannot 'bear.'" Miss E. Harper, a member of the Association and a graduate of Beaugough's Shorthand Bureau in Toronto, has formed a class for instruction in shorthand in the Mechanic's Institute building. She devotes her whole time to teaching the stenographic art, and pupils are assured of careful tuition under her instruction. Miss Harper's rates are most reasonable, and can be learned by calling at the Mechanic's Institute building.

The Punishment Fits the Crime.

A night or two since two men were caught red-handed in an attempt at incendiary fires in Kingston. While the Salvation Army barracks was in flames from the incendiaries' torch, these two villains were caught by the police in the act of setting fire to the Third Methodist Church, having made a bon-fire in the basement of Bibles, hymn books, etc. Being thus caught, they made a full confession, stating that they had burned the Salvation Army barracks also, both out of pure devilry. On Wednesday morning Police Magistrate Duff, of Kingston, sentenced the offenders to imprisonment in the penitentiary—one for life, and the other for twenty-one years. These are said to be the severest sentences ever passed by a Canadian police magistrate. Both men pay dearly for their folly; they will miss many good things, but the greatest deprivation of all will be that they will not have a chance of buying any of the great stock of cheap fall and winter clothing now offered at the shop of gough, the wonderful cheap man. His bargains in overcoats beat all previous records. Read his advertisement elsewhere in this paper. d101

Another Incendiary Attempt.

Last night, or rather this morning, about 1:30, Dr. Fife awoke, and, startled by the fumes of burning coal oil, arose and investigated. On going down stairs he found that coal oil had been poured profusely over the angle of the front hall door and set on fire. It had poured into the hall under the door and was briskly blazing. The flames were fortunately extinguished without much trouble. The fire happening at the same time as that of a small building near Hamilton's machine shops, which, being tentantless, was doubtless also incendiary, leads Dr. Fife to express the belief that the latter fire was set as a ruse to get the fire brigade engaged so that the fire at his residence might work its way without molestation from the firemen. Dr. Fife has issued posters offering a reward of $200 for the detection of the incendiaries, and the authorities should unite with him in endeavoring to see that such dastardly attempts are not allowed to be made without vigorous efforts being put forth to detect and punish the perpetrators. The public safety demands prompt action. When persons feel that they can safely vent their spite against individual citizens by burning their houses over their heads, no citizen can retire at night with a feeling of safety.

The Coal Question.

The Belleville Intelligencer says:—"In Oswego the prices on all grades of coal advanced 50 cents on Monday. In Canadian towns and cities the tendency is to advance the price. In Brockville there is a coal famine, the dealers have but a limited supply on hand, not sufficient th fill pressing orders. In Belleville nut coal was $5.50 in August but advanced to $5.75 in September. It is now understood that the price wil advance to $6 on the 1st of November.

In Peterborough the price of coal has been all summer and still remains $6.50 a ton, though there is a corresponding tendency to advance as in other places. A prominent coal dealer stated this morning that as soon as navigation closed the price of coal would undoubtedly be increased. Peterborough prices are necessarily in advance of those along the front and in Toronto, from extra freight transportation charges. Still the local dealers have kept the prices here about the same as at Toronto, though some 90c. a ton is charged for transportation from that city. The freight rate from the front is about 80c.

An Early Morning Fire.

An old rough-cast cottage on Reid street, next the railway track, in which the Italian Joe Murphy was shot last January, was burned almost to the ground about half-past one o'clock this morning. It had been unoccupied since spring. Mr. T. Stoddard owned the building. There can scarcely be a doubt that the fire was the result of incendiarism. The fire brigade were called out, but could not do much good.

The Best Place in Town.

The best place in town to get supplies of the freshest groceries, teas, sugars, etc., is at W. J. Morrow's Grocery, Opera House Block. A large, choice, often-renewed stock of groceries at the very lowest prices consistent with first class goods.

The Chemong Chieftainship.

The selection of a chief of the Chemong Lake Indians, instead of Chief Joseph Wheetung, deceased, will be held to-morrow. The candidates are Mr. Joseph Irons and Mr. Jacob Jacobs.

A Guide For Tax-payers.

Arriving in Sections.

The iron work for the new railway bridge over the Otonabee, on the locks loop line, is arriving in sections every day. The erection of this bridge will complete the line.

The Way of Life.

Mr. Russell, the Evangelist, on the Above Subject—"Christ is the Way of Life".

The two weeks' series of evangelistic meetings, conducted every evening in the Gospel Hall, over Chinn Hall, by Mr. Douglas Russell, the great Scotch evangelist, are drawing to a close, but continue to attract large audiences. Last evening the room was nearly filled, and the greatest interest was evinced in the services by those present.

Proceedings were opened by singing, Mr. Russell leading with his fine voice. Four page circulars containing a number of gospel hymns are distributed among the audience, from which suitable selections are made.

Mr. Russell, the evangelist, is well known in Peterborough as a gentleman imbued with an intense Christian fervor, which he endeavors to impart to his hearers. His commanding presence, earnest manner and musical voice all combine to give him that power as an evangelist without which success could not be won. As a speaker he has the faculty of deeply impressing his hearers with the strength of his own convictions. His address throughout abounded with apt illustrations and comparisons of Bible truths, interesting anecdotes and ready interpretations of those passages of the Bible which came up incidentally, and which had for some a doubtful meaning.

After the singing, Mr. Russell read a portion of the new Testament:—John v, 19th verse to the finish. Then an earnest prayer was offered up, followed by another gospel hymn.

The evangelist took for the subject of his remarks the 39th and 40th verses of the 5th chapter of the Gospel of St. John:—

"Search ye the Scriptures, for in them ye think ye have eternal life; and they are they which testify of me.

"And ye will not come to me, that ye might have life."

The speaker began with the subject of the authenticity of the old scriptures, upon which doubts were thrown by skeptics. He contended in a forcible manner that the Scriptures were God's writings, supporting his statements by arguments which appeared incontrovertible. Jesus said to the people, ye search the Scriptures, thinking to find eternal life, yet when I come to you, the living person having the life, ye reject me. It was necessary to search the Scriptures, but searching the Scriptures and at the same time rejecting Jesus—there was where the mistake was made. Life in the highest and truest sense could not be had apart from Jesus, and all who believed on him were God's heritage. Here the speaker diverted momentarily to prove this assertion. The word Clerus, (from which "clergy" was derived) was the term used in the original untranslated Bible to denote this qualification—therefore Christians were all the "clergy" of the Lord. Some ministers referred sneeringly to the "laity", as they were called, but "laymen" were as much "clergymen" as these ministers. The distinction of an ordained minister of the gospel should be in the title Reverend. That was a holy term—God's seal of holiness, and could not be applied to unordained persons. Continuing he asked: "What is life?" Young men went out into the world to see "life," as they call it, but it turned out that they only saw a little more death. Was that the "life" referred to in the text? No. Christ was life, and in him alone could be found life. After all, he said, life was not found in the mere letter of the scriptures. The scriptures were a guide to Him, and unless they did eventually lead the reader to Him, the reading of the Scriptures was useless. He likened the Bible to the time-table of a railway. It would not carry one on a journey, but one must catch the trains indicated on it to reach the journey's end. He spoke, he said, in all reverence in making this comparison, and he asked his hearers had they studied their time-tables, and put their knowledge to good account by catching the train that would take them to Christ. The results of an aimless, though perhaps doubtful reading of the Bible, was illustrated by the reading of a bill of fare at an hotel without tasting of the deliencies indicated on it. Of what use was the studying of the bill-of-fare, no matter how carefully done, unless one's hunger was satisfied. He put the question to the audience, "Have you read this precious bill-of-fare, the Bible, and enjoyed the repast; or have you merely read it, admired the beautiful truths contained therein, and yet never tasted its sweets."

"And ye will not come unto me that ye might have life." This verse, he said, implied two things—an invitation and a command—ye will not come, therefore ye may; ye will not come, therefore ye must come. A great responsibility rested upon everyone. The invitation was always ready for acceptance; and it must be accepted, for life could be found nowhere else than in the loving Savior. The question was sometimes asked, "but how am I to come?" He pointed them to the 10th chapter of Romans, which he read and explained to his hearers very explicitly. It appeared to him to exactly meet the case. The only way was to come to Christ, and he urged sinners to accept the invitation to "Come."

At the conclusion of the address Mr. Russell announced that services would be held Thursday and Friday evenings and on Sunday, when the present series would terminate. He also announced that a Bible study upon the subject of the Four Judges would be held Friday afternoon. He extended an earnest invitation to everyone to attend.

Singing and prayer closed the meeting.

Personal.

Mr. John Macpherson and wife have returned to town and taken up their residence on Aylmer street, near Murray street.

Mr. J. R. Stratton, M.P.P., has been appointed by the Grand Master of the I.O.O.F., District Deputy Grand Master for district No. 13, which comprises the Peterborough lodges.

Mr. J. A. Richardson Canadian Passenger Agent of the Great Wabash Railway is in town to-day. He informs us that over one-hundred passengers with their effects have left the vicinity of London for Southern California, within the last three weeks.

Mr. J. F. Jeffers, M.A., a former resident of Peterborough, takes a leading position at the London Sunday School Convention. He is a member of the nominating committee, and at yesterday's session conducted an institute exercise on the process of teaching.

Mr. E. B. Edwards, county solicitor, leaves to-morrow morning for London, England, where he will look after the interests of the county in the appeal case brought by the Grand Junction Railway Company, adjourned from the last sitting of the Privy Council. It is sixth on the list, and Mr. Edwards hopes for a settlement of the case this time.

I have been bothered with catarrh for about twenty years. I had lost my sense of smell entirely for the last fifteen years, and I had to get some one to thread my needle. Now I have my hearing as well as I ever had, and I can see to thread as fine a needle as ever I did. My sense of smell is partly restored; it seems to be improving all the time. I think there is nothing like Ely's Cream Balm for Catarrh.—Mrs. E. E. Grimes. Rendrill, Ohio. eodw43

In Brief. And To The Point.

Dyspepsia is dreadful. Disordered liver is misery. Indigestion is a foe to good nature. The human digestive apparatus is one of the most complicated and wonderful things in existense. It is easily put out of order. Greasy food, tough food, sloppy food, bad cookery, mental worry, late hours, irregular habits, and many other things which ought not to be, have made the American people a nation of dyspeptics.

But Green's August Flower has done a wonderful work in reforming this sad business and making the American people so healthy that they can enjoy their meals and be happy. Remember:—No happiness without health. But Green's August Flower brings healtand happiness to the dyspeptic. Ask your druggist for a bottle. Seventy-five cents.

A JUDICIAL RESIGNATION.

CHIEF JUSTICE WILSON WILL STEP DOWN AND OUT.

Movements of Sir Charles Tupper—A Rumored Big Timber Limit Sale—Political and Social Talk from the Capital—A Footballer's Death.

OTTAWA, Oct. 27.—The resignation of Chief Justice Adam Wilson of the Court of Queen's Bench for Ontario, which has been expected for some time, has been received and will take effect from Nov. 14. As has been already stated, this vacancy as well as any which have or may occur on the Ontario bench will be filled before the opening of next term.

A despatch from Halifax says that Sir Charles Tupper left last night for Ottawa on important Government business but would return to conduct his campaign in Cumberland as soon as possible. Several ministers who were shown the despatch had not heard of the intention of Sir Charles to return and could give no information as to what the alleged important business was.

It is rumored among lumbermen that the E. B. Eddy Manufacturing Company will this winter purchase the extensive timber limits of Messrs. McLachlan Bros. on the Upper Ottawa. The price mentioned is in the neighborhood of $2,000,000. For a number of years back the E. B. Eddy Company have had an insufficient supply of saw logs and have been compelled to purchase from jobbers and other lumbermen. This season the company ran short of logs and were somewhat hampered in their operations. In consequence of this the firm have, it is said, decided to purchase the extensive limits of Messrs. McLachlan Bros.

In the Supreme Court this morning argument in Dickson vs. Kearney was concluded and judgment reserved. The Quebec list was then taken up, the first case being the North Shore Railway Company v. Trudel. The point in dispute is whether the appellant company is responsible for the balance of purchase price of 3307 feet of land sold to them by respondent, the company claiming that 707 feet of the land sold was never delivered because the vendor sold subsequently on the same day the undelivered portion to one Vannesse. The case was not concluded when the court rose.

Private advices received here to-night state that Postmaster-General McLelan was elected in Colchester to-day by over 700.

Mr. Blackwood, hardware appraiser in the customs office at Toronto, had an interview with the Department of Customs yesterday with reference to the proper administration of the tariff, especially as respects the duty on manufactures of iron and steel.

The proposed visit of Sir Adolphe Caron and General Middleton to the Pacific coast is still delayed by the non-arrival of the plans of the proposed Imperial defenses, and it is possible that the visit may not take place at all this fall.

Commander Boulton has concluded work for this season on his hydrographic survey of Georgian Bay. He returns to Ottawa on Monday.

The Citizen printing office is about to be moved from its present location on Metcalfe-street to more commodious quarters on Sussex-street.

The city assessment for the current year has been completed. The total assessment amounts to $14,337 645, being an increase of $1,551,440 over last year. Of this $445,125 is for New Edinburgh Ward, which was not included last year, but even omitting this, the increase is the largest for several years.

A fashionable wedding took place at Christ Church this afternoon, when Mr. P. B. Douglas, Assistant Secretary of the Department of the Interior, was united to Miss Emily Hill, daughter of Dr. Hammet Hill, one of Ottawa's oldest residents. It is said that the bride received a present of $30,000 from her father.

Robert Surtees, Jr., son of the City Waterworks Engineer, died this morning at the early age of 21, from the result of a kick received while playing football some time ago.

A complimentary dinner to Judge Burbidge was given in the Rideau Club to-night by the deputy heads of departments. Mr. Griffin, Deputy Postmaster-General, presided. Hon. Mr. Thompson was present as a guest.

Mr. C. A. Wulff, who has been sent to Ottawa by the Royal Association of Agriculture of Sweden for the purpose of making a report on agriculture in Canada, is now in the city, and to-day paid a visit to the Department of Agriculture. He subsequently inspected the Experimental Farm.

FOLLOWING THE SUSPECTS.

The London Police's Knowledge of Cohen's Associations.

LONDON, Oct. 27.—In reference to the statement of Commissioner Monro of the Detective Department at the inquest over the body of Cohen, the alleged dynamiter, yesterday, that General Millen, the head of the Clan-na-Gael Society, was in London during the Jubilee, the police state that Millen has never set foot in England. They say he has resided at Boulogne and Paris. A detective called on him at Boulogne before the Jubilee celebration and warned him that he knew of the plot against the Queen. Millen then fled to Paris. From there he went to Brussels, then to Rotterdam, and from that city to Amsterdam. At the latter place he took passage with his wife and daughter on Oct. 22 on the steamer Edam for New York. With regard to Melville, the London agent of the society, the police say that when he arrived in London he took lodgings in a mean quarter in Gladstone street and was in impecunious circumstances. Melville had visited Joseph Nolan, the Irish member of Parliament, in company with Michael Hawkins; both Melville and Hawkins had been seen in Cohen's company. Melville went to Paris and saw Dennehey and Maloney, who sailed for America on Aug. 17. Dennehey is a member of the Clan-na-Gael society, and resides in Brooklyn. Melville returned to London in a more prosperous condition. He lived at the Metropole Hotel and spent money freely. He was constantly in the company of a Miss Kennedy, with whom he traveled through Ireland then to Paris.

They lived in grand style. In Paris he called on General Millen at the Hotel du Palais. Melville formerly sailed from Havre on Sept. 17 for New York. Miss Kennedy accompanied him. On reaching New York Miss Kennedy was arrested for smuggling. Burchall's address in Philadelphia is 2251 North Sixth street. The police claim to have proof against him and Hawkins, but it is not known what they will do now that Melville has fled. Melville's address is: Care of Moroney, 925 Tenth-avenue, New York.

Mr. Joseph Nolan, M.P., denies emphatically that he has any knowledge of the dynamiters. He says he believes a base attempt has been made to implicate him with such persons. The inquest proceedings in the Cohen case in his opinion had been designed to assist the nefarious policy of the Government.

MR. CHAMBERLAIN'S FITNESS.

He is Not to be Daunted by the Malice of Opponents.

LONDON, Oct. 27.—The Morning Post says Mr. Chamberlain has brushed away with a few vigorous words the entire gravamen of the accusation levelled at his fitness to hold the post of chief commissioner. There is no reason to suppose that the views of The Toronto Mail or Globe represent any great amount of Canadian opinion on the subject of Commercial Union leading to ultimate separation from England. It is entirely a matter for national congratulation to find that Mr. Chamberlain does not mean to be daunted by a flash in the pan which has been absurdly magnified by the malice of his opponents. The day has long passed when Canada is to accept advice from the Mother Country, and it is too late to expect from us any acceptance of the principle of taxation without representation. The language of a portion of the Canadian press shows that separation, though not desired, is understood to be within the power of our great colony without any forcible opposition from the Imperial Government.

A Bold Dash for Liberty.

YUMA, Ariz., Oct. 27.—A desperate break for liberty was made at the penitentiary this morning. As Supt. Gales was passing through the North sallyport of the prison he was seized by a convict and marched out followed by seven others. One of the convicts rushed into the office, wrenched open a drawer and secured a pistol. The Superintendent called upon the guards to shoot the convict holding him. Riggs, a life convict, secured the pistol from the escaping convict and killed the convict who held and was stabbing the superintendent. Two prisoners were killed, one mortally and two seriously wounded. Superintendent Gales was badly wounded. There were no escapes.

A Crank on Scientific Warfare.

NEW YORK, Oct. 27.—Prof. Mizzard spoke to-night about scientific warfare. Among other things he said: "At the solicitation of Parnell & Co. I have refrained from springing my system upon the world till now, but I will do so right away. Ireland don't want simple Home Rule and to remain as a tail to the English kite but to become a national . . . Free trade be —— England is a thief among the nations . . . Twenty-five dollars judiciously expended will destroy England's navy; $500 judiciously expended will wipe her off God's earth."

To be Left to the Committee.

NEW YORK, Oct. 27.—At a meeting of Typographical Union, No. 6, to-night, called for the purpose of deciding whether the strike should be continued against those offices which resisted the orders of the union, it was decided to leave the issue of the further settlement of the strike in the hands of the Strike Committee. This is thought to mean the end of the strike, as it has been openly declared in meeting that a further struggle would only result in defeat and loss of much money to the union.

A Mississippi Steamer Burned.

MEMPHIS, Tenn., Oct. 27.—The Alberta No. 3, a small steamer running as a regular Memphis and White River packet, was burned today near the mouth of White River. She was on route to Memphis and her cargo, consisting of 372 bales of cotton and a large lot of cotton seed, together with books and papers, were destroyed. Capt. W. Gibbs, her first clerk, is the only person reported lost. The Alberta was owned by the Memphis and White River Packet Company, and was valued as $10,000.

STARTLING DISCLOSURES.

TAYLOR'S MISMANAGEMENT OF THE ONTARIO INVESTMENT CO'S FUNDS.

Auditor Jewett Presents Another Statement to the Indignant Shareholders—No Definite Action Taken Beyond Deciding to Fight Compulsory Liquidation.

LONDON, Oct. 27.—The Board of Trade rooms were again crowded with excited financiers this afternoon on the occasion of another meeting of Ontario Investment shareholders. F. A. Fitzgerald was elected chairman. T. G. Blackstock of Toronto suggested as a method of settlement the acceptance of the offer made by the syndicate of loan companies of Canada, who were willing to assume the assets and liabilities of the Ontario Investment, exchanging for its debentures their own at 4 and 4½ per cent. and to wind up the affairs, paying over to every shareholder every cent realized above the debts. This it was held would keep up the credit of Western Ontario in the London markets.

Thomas Long of Toronto was proposed as liquidator. He refused to act.

On behalf of the Scotch and English bondholders Mr. Sorley requested that the directors should take action to relieve the debenture holders.

W. R. Meredith stated that interest and debentures would be due in England in a few days amounting to $35,000. This amount would have to be met by money. He thought they could do so, but something had to be done to make the possibility a certainty.

W. P. R. Street warned the shareholders that the Judge would issue notice for them to attend the argument of the writs and the motion to wind up on Saturday.

The question of guaranteeing debenture holders against any prejudice in future actions was settled by deciding to pay the amounts that were due. This decision was arrived at against the protestations of Archdeacon Marsh, R. M. Meredith and other shareholders, who held that the output of $35,000 would be most unfortunate, when it could be held off for some time.

Many proposals were made for the settlement of affairs, but none were entertained.

Arthur Wallace of London violently denounced the shareholders and directors, who had borrowed from the association's funds to so large amounts in exchange of their paid up stock.

Auditor Jewett made another disclosure. Samuel Crawford, capitalist, London, held 3236 shares, $12 paid up, $218 accumulating, against this he had borrowed $78,000, being upwards of $50,000 in excess of amount paid in. Mr. Jewett asked for an extension of time to complete the investigations of Henry Taylor's sharp practices, as in his deals many fictitious names had been used which caused embarrassment.

A motion was passed ordering the collection of all debts, and the board were given power to settle with indignant shareholders as best they could. The big move of the meeting was to proceed with friendly liquidation with debenture holders and other creditors, and to fight off compulsory liquidation as long as possible.

R. M. Meredith, at the close of the meeting, said that the decision as to what should be done with Henry Taylor et al., who had stolen money from the association, should be laid over. In the course of the debates much violent language was used.

THE SHELBURNE ELECTION CASE.

Agents' Illegal Practices Established and the Respondent Unseated.

HALIFAX, N.S., Oct. 27.—The Election Court met in Shelburne to-day to try the case of Gen. Laurie, petitioner, and Thomas Robertson, respondent. On opening, the respondent's counsel admitted agents' guilt in hiring teams, and the seat was declared vacant; the other charges were dropped.

After the result of the election trial to-day the Liberal party held a convention in the Court House and unanimously renominated Thomas Robertson to contest the county.

THE COLCHESTER ELECTION.

Postmaster-General McLelan Re-elected by a Majority of 700.

HALIFAX, N.S., Oct. 27.—Postmaster-General McLelan was to-day re-elected to the House of Commons for Colchester by a large majority. Returns are not all in, but the majority will not be less than 700.

Ontario Plowmen Carry Off the Honors.

MONTREAL, Oct. 27.—The awards in the County of Hochelaga Agricultural Society's annual plowing match were only made known at a late hour to-day. In the senior class there were thirty seven entries, including several plowmen from Ontario. First prize was awarded to Andrew Hood of the Township of Scarboro, who wins a handsome gold medal presented by Hugh Paton, Master of the Montreal Hunt Club, and $75. The second prize was won by William Milliken of the Township of Markham, Ont., and third by Thomas McLean of the Township of Vaughan, Ont., with Amile Delorme of the County of Hochelaga fourth.

In the young plowman's class the first four prizes were won by Quebec men, the fifth being won by A. McPhail of Dundas, Ont. The plowing was unusually good.

A Shocking Case of Depravity.

HAMILTON, Oct. 27.—At the Chancery Court to-day an alimony case was tried in which the evidence adduced showed an unnatural and horrible depravity on the part of the defendant, George Bridgewood. Bridgewood, who is an elderly man, has been living in habitual criminal intimacy with his granddaughter, a girl of 13, the illegitimate child of his daughter. The child has lived with him from her birth, and he has kept her in a state of almost brutal ignorance. Bridgewood's wife sues him for alimony on the ground of harsh treatment. Alimony was granted and the amount was left to be fixed by the local master.

The Silver Martin's Crew Safe.

TOBERMORAY, Oct. 27.—The steamer Alderson, which arrived to-day from Owen Sound, reports the tow barge Silver Martin of Detroit ashore on the sandy beach near Michael's Bay, Manitoulin, having drifted from Lake Michigan. With the exception of losing her anchor and chain her damages are slight, and she can be floated without difficulty. The crew of five persons are safe. The same vessel reports the wreckage of an unknown schooner near Providence Bay. Part of her hull, spars with sails attached, and other wreckage lie on the beach.

IT CANNOT BE SHELVED.

THE "IRISH QUESTION" HAS COME TO STAY ON THE PROGRAM.

That is the Opinion of Sir William Vernon Harcourt as Expressed at a Meeting at Portsmouth—"Randy's" Predictions Not of a Confidential Nature.

LONDON, Oct. 27.—Sir William Vernon Harcourt, speaking at Portsmouth to-day, denied that it was possible to shelve the Irish question, which he said came back always with renewed force. Mr. Goschen recently, after telling the people of Ireland that the question was now put aside, talked of nothing else. Coercion would not settle the question. It was like the fabled hydra, when one head was cut off another would grow in its place. Lord Randolph Churchill had told them that the trouble would be all over in six months, coercion doing it. But he wouldn't take that ghost's word for £1000. [Laughter.]

Lord Randolph Churchill had not managed his own public duties with so much prescience as to justify confidence in his predictions. The Coercion Act was already a dead failure. Other Governments had failed after trying coercion; the present Government failed before it had begun to apply coercion. Nobody believed that Unionist gatherings represented any section of the Liberal party. They were really Tory meetings got together to cheer up deserters. The Unionists were played out. That fact their leaders knew, and as shown in recent speeches they lost temper over it.

COMMITTED FOR SWINDLING.

The Legion of Honor Prisoners All Found Guilty.

PARIS, Oct. 27.—The judicial enquiry into the matter has been concluded. All the prisoners were committed on the charge of swindling.

M. Wilson declares he has no intention of resigning his seat in the Chamber of Deputies for Tours, because of connection of his name with the Legion of Honor scandals. He says he will attend the meeting of the Committee of the Chamber of Deputies which is inquiring into the scandals to-day and support a motion for a Parliamentary enquiry, which will give him a chance to clear himself.

SIR WILFRID BLUNT GUILTY.

He Appeals Against the Sentence of Imprisonment.

DUBLIN, Oct. 22.—Sir Wilfrid Blunt was to-day found guilty of violating the Irish Crimes Act, and sentenced to two months' imprisonment. Notice of appeal was given.

Mr. Roche, a Poor Law Guardian of Woodford, who was also arrested at Sunday's meeting, was sentenced to three weeks' imprisonment without hard labor.

Put Into Port for Repairs.

HALIFAX, Oct. 27.—The steamer Scotia from New York, bound to Dunkirk, France, oil laden, arrived to-day for repairs. She was nine days on passage from New York, during which she encountered most severe weather. Her pumps became partially choked, and some of her machinery got out of order. Owing to heavy seas outside she was unable to make the necessary repairs, and in consequence bore up for this port. She will remain here about five days, and will likely be able to make all repairs while in stream.

The Harbor to be Improved.

OTTAWA, Oct. 27.—Mr. H. F. Perley, Chief Engineer of the Department of Public Works, will return to-morrow from the Pacific coast. While at Esquimalt Mr. Perley made arrangements for the commencement of the work for the removal of the Nickel rock. This work will be similar to the removal of the Hell Gate rock at the entrance to New York harbor. The Nickel rock is about 100 feet long by 60 feet wide and six feet under water at low tide. It is proposed to remove sufficient of the rock to leave eighteen feet of water. The work will take nearly three years to accomplish, and will cost in the neighborhood of $50,000.

The Grand Trunk Railway Earnings.

MONTREAL, Oct. 27.—The earnings of the Grand Trunk Railway Company for the week ending Oct. 22, 1887, are: Passenger train earnings $121,560, freight train earnings $373,761, making a total of $500,321, which, compared with the earnings for the same period of last year, which amounted to $282,235, shows an increase of $18,086.

The Prince's Address to The Sobranje.

SOFIA, Oct. 27.—The Sobranje was opened to-day. Prince Ferdinand, attended by civil and military officers, drove to the Chamber in state. He was received by the people with acclamation. In his address to the Sobranje the Prince said the Government was working for the prosperity and greatness of Bulgaria. Since his accession to the throne order, tranquility and security had been restored and the people were now happily occupied with pacific labors. They had the sympathies of the Sultan and sovereigns of the other great powers.

The Suez Canal Negotiations.

LONDON, Oct. 27.—The French Government has thanked Signor Crispi, the Italian Premier, for his efforts to bring about the happy issue of the Suez Canal negotiations. The North German Gazette says that Germany receives the Suez Canal convention with satisfaction as calculated to offer a further pledge of European peace.

A War in Zululand Imminent.

LONDON, Oct. 27.—War is imminent in Zululand against annexation to Natal. Sir Arthur Havelock, Governor of Natal, with 1500 troops drafted from the colony has started for the territory formerly possessed by Cetewayo, where the latter's son Dinizulu heads the malcontents.

An Alliance Proposed.

PARIS, Oct. 27.—The newspapers here comment with reservation upon the speech of Signor Crispi. They advise Italy if she wants peace to seek an alliance with France, not with Germany, who alone menaces the peace of Europe.

Hamilton bricklayers have ordered corporation workmen to strike because a man is employed by the corporation who is obnoxious to the union.

AMATEUR ATHLETICS.

The Peterborough Amateur Athletic Association is an organization which deserves every encouragement from the people of Peterborough and Ashburnham. It furnishes a grand medium for the exercise of all healthy, invigorating sports, free from the evil influences which sometimes surround the practice of athletic exercises. It is exclusively amateur in its character, and offers no inducement for the introduction of gambling devices which too often mar and demoralize modern sports. It is an association maintained in the interests of the young men of the town at great expense and by the vigorous exertions of a few enterprising individuals. The grounds of the Association in Ashburnham have, by the efforts of the officials and members, been reserved for purposes of recreation. They have been well fitted up to serve their intended use, and still greater improvements are contemplated, which are only kept back by the lack of funds. To assist in placing the finances of the Association on a better footing, it is proposed to give a series of public entertainments this winter, under Association auspices. They will all be of an exceptionally excellent character, as is shown by the initial one on Nov. 22nd, when Mrs. Scott-Siddons, the celebrated elocutionist, will appear in the Opera House. Here is an opportunity for the public to show its appreciation of an organization like the Peterborough Amateur Athletic Association. It is a duty which all parents owe to their sons to encourage and promote the practice of manly sports, especially when the associations are robbed of all that can debase or degrade. Youthful spirits require an outlet, and if it is not found in the shape the Association presents, it will assuredly be found in some other direction where moral safeguards are not provided, and where the temptation to dissipated habits will, in too many cases, be found too strong to resist. Physical exercise is necessary to health. The bright eye, the clear skin, the elastic muscles, the springy gait, the well knit form, can be secured and maintained in no other way so well as that presented by the Peterborough Amateur Athletic Association. There is a moral aspect to this matter deserving attention. No young man can hope to excel in athletic sports, whose manner of living is not temperate and regular. The drinking of intoxicants, the undue use of tobacco, the keeping of late hours are all forbidden to the athlete if he hopes to succeed. The Association by a series of matches and sports and games incite the spirit of rivalry, and thus the members who compete and hope to win have to avoid the evils enumerated above. Fathers, who can make their sons interested members of the Association, need have little disquietude as to where a son may spend his nights. If the lad is desirous of excelling as an amateur athlete, he will not be found indulging in bad habits and the train of evil which follows them. The Association aims to keep manly sports pure and honest and it succeeds. Never in connection with any of its meetings has the least sign of gambling been witnessed and if detected it would not for a moment be tolerated. Professionalism has made baseball the occasion of unseemly scenes of gambling, squabbling and dispute; professionalism threatens to destroy the noble game of lacrosse, and professional athletics have degenerated till they have become the occasion of the development of the worst vices of the gambler and the sharp. Amateur athletics rightly managed, as is the local Association, avoid all these evils, while giving facilities for all sports and games squarely and fairly conducted. The Peterborough Amateur Athletic Association is doing a good work in its sphere, in refining and elevating manly sports and keeping them free from all undesirable or immoral adjuncts, and it deserves the hearty support of our best citizens. Its usefulness is only limited by the lack of funds and a certain lack of interest on the part of those who should be active in the encouragement of manly sports. Now that opportunity is presented for assisting the Association in a manner which involves the return of an equivalent, it is to be hoped that the public will not be backward in helping to strengthen an organization of so much intrinsic merit and of such laudable aims as those possessed by and animating the Peterborough Amateur Athletic Association.

HENCE THEIR OPPOSITION.

The conference of ministerial delegates from the several provinces of the Dominion which has been sitting at Quebec for some days, is regarded with indignation by the pap-fed Tory newspapers. The delegates are denounced as "plotters against Confederation" and having no aim worthy of respect. If the delegates are "plotting" at all, it is to save Confederation, instead of destroying it. The attacks made upon the rights of the provinces by Sir John Macdonald and his mischievous interference with provincial politics, have strained the bond to a dangerous tension. If the machinery of Confederation has worked with considerable friction, a large share of that friction is due to the intermeddling of the Dominion premier. His abuse of the disallowance system, his assaults on the jurisdictory rights of the provinces have made a gathering like the interprovincial conference, a necessity. If the union is to be a stable one several things have to be settled. It must be clearly understood what are the constitutional limits to the policy of centralization which Sir John has for years been carrying out. It must be decided how far provincial rights are to be interfered with by the central power. It was necessary by mutual counsel and advice to see if Imperial legislation could not be secured to settle doubts and do away with difficulties in connection with the application of the federal constitution. It is to be presumed that these subjects occupied the attention of the members of the conference, for the proceedings of the conference have been conducted with closed doors. A Tory journal has declared this to be an insult to people living under representative institutions. A cabinet meeting is not open to the public and the press and why should a meeting of cabinets be subject to any other mode of procedure? The government organs, as well as their master, view the conference with alarm. They and Sir John have in the past put Confederation in peril by setting province against province, and the sign of unity of action and recognition of the possession of common interests, by the representatives of half a dozen provinces, suggests an unwelcome checkmate. If the inter-provincial conference has for its object the disruption of Confederation and the return to Legislative Union, Sir John would hail the assembled cabinet ministers as valuable allies.

Letter of Thanks

To the Sun Life Assurance Company of Canada.

(From the Quebec Morning Chronicle, Oct. 19)

LEVIS, Que., Oct. 15th, 1887.

R. Macaulay, Esq., Managing Director Sun Life Assurance Co'y.

DEAR SIR.—It affords me much pleasure to acknowledge the prompt payment of the policy No. 8776 for $5,261.00 on the life of my late husband, C. W. Carrier, principal partner of the firm Carrier, Laine & Co'y of this city.

I am pleased to state that your Company has shown the utmost promptness and courtesy. My husband died on the 18th September last. Proofs of death were completed and forwarded only on October 12th, and on this day, October 15th, Mr. L. Tessier, Manager of your Company at Quebec, hands me a cheque for the full amount insured, $5,000—and in addition $261.00, being for profits accumulated to the policy since Nov. 1882. Such excellent showing commends the "Sun" to all those desiring insurance, as one can feel satisfied that their claim will be met promptly.

I wish to add that the "Sun" is the first to pay my claim under the Life Insurance Policies of my late husband. Such action should convince the most sceptical of the value and advantages of the "Unconditional Policies" furnished by your Company. Please accept my sincerest thanks and the same to the directors of your Company.

Yours very respectfully,
MRS. C. W. CARRIER.

In addition, we wish to state that not only in the above case the "Sun" has headed the list in paying its claims, but has done also the same with the case of J. S. McLachlan, a prominent wholesale merchant of Montreal, who while out hunting last Fall, was, along with his companion, drowned in the St. Lawrence River. At any rate their boat and certain articles of clothing were found in such manner as to point to a drowning accident. After every effort had been made by the friends, no trace of the body could be found. Under such circumstances several of the Companies with whom Mr. McLachlan was insured refused to settle, as one of the conditions in the policies was that the body ad to be produced, which was then considered almost impossible. But the "Sun", having no conditions in its Policies, promptly paid the full amount of the policy, being $17,130.70. These are facts that we thought well to mention as such ought to encourage every man to insure in a Company like the "Sun." Furthermore it has in it the elements of growth, which promise a brilliant future. The enthusiasm and esprit de corps prevailing among the fine body of Agents which the Company has here, assisted by Mr. L. Tessier, Manager at Quebec, is surely a guarantee of a Grand Success.

This Overcoat I sell for $18.00, if you left your measure for it, it would cost and be considered cheap at $30.00. Any Person in want of a very fine Overcoat Should not fail to see it.

Our Overcoats at $3.00 $4.00 $5.00 $6.00 $7.00 $8.00 $9.00 & $10.00,

Beat anything in Canada either Wholesale or Retail; and why should they not, when I bought them at 50c. on the Dollar. When Wholesale Houses cannot compete with the Wonderful Cheap Man it is simply impossible for Small Retail Houses to compete. 60 per cent of the goods I sell, I buy at less than the First Cost of Manufacture, and hence the reason I can defy any Wholesale House in Canada to touch my prices. It is one thing to make an assertion and another thing to prove it. If any man doubts what I herein state let him come to my store and I will prove to his satisfaction that it is the absolute truth.

Sheppard sells a full size Man's Suit for $2.95, and better Goods than a Suit to fit a Child about 9 years old sold by the Wonderful Cheap-Man on Saturday for $3.00; but marked $3.50. This is how it was:—A Lady purchased a Child's Suit on Saturday last, Sept. 17th, 1887, at the Store of the Wonderful Cheap-Man. It was marked thusly:—Lot 5375, Breast 27, Waist 26½, Age 9, Price $3.50. It was pure Shoddy, being held together by cotton threads, and Sheppard is free to say that that was the dearest Suit sold in the Town of Peterborough for the last two years. Full particulars are given because of the $1000 involved, and, further, that this decides who is selling the Cheapest Clothing in Peterborough. SHEPPARD would have sold that Lady a Suit, Pure Wool for that money, and worth two of the one she got.

$1,000 to Go to the Charitable Institutions of Peterborough.

I had first decided to give the agencies a chance of jumping up my rating that $1.000, but after considering the matter and finding that never in any case have I been asked for an endorser to my paper, and that no relative or any other persons have ever endorsed my paper to the extent of one cent, I have come to the conclusion my credit is as good as yours and will ask you to hand over the $1,000 to the Charitable Institutions of Peterborough.

Now, Sir, there is a good story told the truth of which can be vouched for, but for the honor of at least making an effort to keep up your self-styled name—The Terror of High Priced Clothiers—do not allow the same to be said of you in the case above. A man purchased a suit for $15.00 at the store of one of the largest Advertisers in that section of country. It was guaranteed pure wool; but after examining it carefully at home, he came to the conclusion that he had been dealing with some one sharper than himself. Finding a make of wool, differing some from anything he had ever seen, it dawned upon him, that he had heard of wool of that kind, so the suit was returned. The merchant bet $25.00 that it was all wool, and the bet was accepted the decision being left to a neighboring merchant, he found that the $15.00 suit, was wool faced and shoddy back, pure unadulterated shoddy, but what of the $25.00 bet, was it paid, not much—muchly—as it were.

Obituary.

The EXAMINER chronicles with regret the death of Mr James McPherson, of Mount Pleasant, brother of Mr. John McPherson, which said event took place on Oct. 17, as the termination of an illness of two years. The funeral was a testimony of the high respects in which deceased was held, having been very largely attended. The body was interred in the Church of England burying ground, near Cavanville.

Farewell.

The following appears in the Weekly Review of to-day.—The undersigned, having sold to Messrs. F. H. Dobbin and S. R. Armstrong his interest in the Peterborough Review Printing and Publishing Co.'y (Limited), the business of the Company, in all its departments, will henceforth be conducted by them, and, although retaining for a time the nominal position of President of the Company, the limited responsibility which the undersigned has had for some years past for what has appeared in these columns and for the business management of the Company's affairs, will cease on the 1st November next.

In severing his connection with the Review and its large circle of readers and patrons, the undersigned desires to return them his most sincere thanks for the many kindnesses which he has received at their hands, and especially for their having been so wondrous kind to his many faults both of commission and omission, and to solicit for the new management that kindly and active support, without which it will be impossible for them, or anyone else, to render the Review an efficient exponent of the views and interests which it represents, and, at the same time, yield them a modest pecuniary return for the at all times arduous, trying, and too often thankless, duties devolving upon them as conductors of a public journal.

JOHN CARNEGIE.

October 27th, 1887.

"A Case in Point."

The following from the Toronto World refers to the remarks made by the EXAMINER respecting local business men patronizing outside printers:

"The Belleville Ontario endorses the objections of the Peterborough EXAMINER to the practice of some merchants in sending their job printing away to larger cities to be executed, for the sake of saving a few cents. The complaint is that Toronto (job) printing houses make a descent on Peterborough * * and carry back large orders.'" "The World is not in that line, but even if it were it would advise those concerned to help to build up their own towns, so long as said towns are in a position to supply the things needed at a reasonable rate. It is the poorest kind of poor policy to starve your own horse because your neighbor's horse may be eating cheaper and generally inferior oats The man who spends his money in his own town stands a chance of quickly getting it back from his fellow townsmen. The farther away he sends what he spends the longer it takes the money to get back, if it ever comes back at all. This is a self-evident proposition, and quite as applicable to a large country as to a small town."

An immense stock of Millinery Goods to select from at Turnbulls. Prices right.

Building Operations.

Extensive additions are being made to the Peter Hamilton Implement Manufacturing Works. A new moulding shop, 62x40, with a fourteen-foot wall, and another building 31x40, to be used as a pattern room, are being erected in rear of the works. The annexes are both of brick.

The brickwork of Mr. T. Cavanagh's hotel, corner Water and Charlotte streets, is nearly completed. "Ted" will have a fine hotel.

The Lindsay-Seldon factory across the river has reached its highest altitude. When completed it will present a commanding appearance.

The improvements to Messrs. Hall, Innes & Co.'s Simcoe street premises are rapidly nearing completion. The plate glasses are being put in. The firm expect to move in in two or three weeks.

The Snowden block is now about finished. The hall will be opened by a grand ball next Monday evening.

Norwood on the Move.

Norwood is elate over the fact that the roller process is to be introduced into Buck's flour mills at that village. The change will cost about $8,000. The work will be begun in a few weeks. The Register takes advantage of the occasion to dilate as follows:—"Now that our citizens are bestirring themselves to secure the location of manufacturing establishments in our midst, it may not be out of order to draw the attention of the public at large to the necessity there exists for a first-class cooper shop in our town." It then goes on to point out the facilities Norwood offers for such an establishment, and the trade that could be developed.

MORE Competent shorthand writers have been prepared at the Peterborough Business College during the past two and a half years than at any similar institution in Ontario during the same period.

An Amusing Mistake.

Local sports were all agog yesterday afternoon. Some event of rare importance appeared to be on the tapis, and a number of sporting character from a a distance were observed about the streets. Everyone wanted to know where the "parlor social" was to be held, but as the newspaper reporters were "not in the ring" public curiosity cannot be fully gratified. An amusing mistake occurred in this connection. One enthusiastic sport, after telling a friend all about the mysterious movements of these strangers, led him down street to an hotel and pointed out two foreigners as being of the number. The other burst out laughing—he had indicated two eminent legal lights from Toronto who were here attending the Chancery sittings. No doubt the lawyers would feel highly complimented if informed of the mistaken importance thus accredited to them.

Missionary Committee.

The Missionary Committee of the Bay of Quinte Conference of the Methodist Church will meet in the church at Campbellford, on Tuesday next, at 9 o'clock. The committee consists of the Chairman of each district and one lay gentleman, appointed by the lay representatives at the May District meeting. The business of the committee is the allotment of the missionary money to the various missions within the bounds of the conference. Peterborough district is represented by Rev. I. Tovell and Mr. Edward Kerr.

Accident.

On Thursday evening a little daughter of Mr. Robert Hall, Stewart street, aged about five years, fell over the railing around the well of the stairway of her father's residence. By striking the railing below and thence bounding to the floor, the force of the fall was considerably broken. Though the shock was severe it is hoped that no serious nor permanent injuries were received.

The S. S. Convention.

During the second day's proceedings of the provincial convention at London, a subscription of $50 was received from Peterborough for the Association fund. Rev. Jno. McEwen, of Lakefield, is taking a prominent part in the proceedings. The session was brought to a close yesterday afternoon The Peterborough representatives on the Executive Committee for the ensuing year are Sheriff Hall and Rev. F. H. Wallace.

High Court of Justice.

The following cases were disposed of at yesterday afternoon's and this morning's sitting of the courts—

CHARLTON VS ARMSTRONG.—An action for specific performance of a contract to buy land in the township of Dysart. The defendant, Mrs. Armstrong, repudiates the contract and this action has to be moved her to carry it out. There were questions as to the validity of a certain note in connection with it. Judgment was reserved. E. B. Edwards, for plaintiff; Messrs. N. W. Hoyle (Toronto), E. A. Peck, W. H. Moore and Jno. Burnham, for defendant.

MCMURTRY VS. MCMURTRY.—Action to determine the respective rights of the plaintiffs and defendants to the proceeds of a policy of insurance in the Royal Templars of Temperance. Plaintiffs claim it under the will, and defendants under beneficiary certificate. Judgment reserved. Dumble and Leonard, for plaintiffs; E. B. Stone, for defendants.

HAMILTON VS. POUSSETTE.—An action on a promissory note. It was agreed that a verdict be rendered for the plaintiff for $240.75, and costs to be taxed. Dumble & Leonard for plaintiff; A. P. Poussette for defendant.

MERRIAM VS. MCCREA, et al.—This case was not completed when the court rose at noon.

Explanatory.

To the Editor of the Examiner:—

SIR.—I see in the Times for Oct. 26, under the heading of "Fishing for Sympathy," some statements that are lies. About the pepper—anyone wishing to know the truth, please apply to Lewis Spry and his wife, or to John Ryan and his wife, Stewart street. About the fire—please apply to C. Brown at J. W. Flavelle's store, as I was in there three times between 8 p.m. and 8:30, the last time to speak to a lady. I left home about 7:30 that evening and can account for all the time up to 9:15 p.m. Also apply to the neighbours, near my residence. I asked the Times to publish the truth but it has not done so.

I remain, yours truly,
H. ROSSITER.

Peterborough, Oct. 28th, 1887.

BARRING Toronto, we now have nearly as many students in shorthand as all other similar (Ontario) institutions.

Home From the Chase.

Last night a general home-coming of hunters occurred. The Fitzgerald-Smith party arrived early in the evening, bringing seven deer. They shot ten altogether, but could not bring the others. They report game plentiful, with a greater number of bear and wolves than they ever remember before. But as they were not looking for "b'ar" they did not shoot any, though a couple were accidentally run across in the course of their trips. Wolves are increasing in number, they say. Their dogs were badly frightened by them, and one was lost altogether. It was undoubtedly devoured by the voracious wild beasts. Other parties also lost dogs the same way. One of the party thought the government should increase the bounty upon wolves' heads in order to get rid of the pests. The party hunted around Eagle, Gold and other lakes, and report having had an exceedingly jolly time. There were Messrs. Geo. Fitzgerald, A. Blade, T Rutherford, H. Matthews, H. Evans, R. Smith, J. Clancy, and M. McFadden. The Wm. English party arrived in town about ten o'clock last night, after a two weeks' absence, with seven deer. They shot altogether eleven, one of them a magnificent buck which weighed almost 300 pounds dressed. Mr. H. W. Kent had the proud pleasure of bringing it down. This party also camped in the Gold Lake district, where there were about forty hunters located searching for game. The field, they say, was over-run. On one occasion three canoes were after a deer which entered the lake, and after 28 shots had been fired it was killed. Mr. W. C. DeBotham (who accompanied them to Peterborough), camped with this party, and delighted them thrilling accounts of his recent bear adventures. The other members were Harry LeBrun, Fred and Harry Winch, T.E. Bradburn, R. A. Morrow and R E. Wood. When "Harry" appeared upon the streets with his face covered by a bushy beard his friends didn't know him. A barber soon set matters right and "Harry was himself again." Besides the deer-hunting, the party put in several days at trout-fishing, which was excellent. Messrs. W. Kennedy and W. McGregor returned also last night, bringing several fine deer.

Personal

The subject of Mr. D. W. Dumble's lecture in the Business College, yesterday, was "Lease".

The Rev. E. P. Torrance, of Peterborough, preached at the preparatory services in the First Presbyterian church, [illegible] Hope, Thursday forenoon and evening.

Mr. J. C. T. Lacey, of Toronto, was in town yesterday and disposed of a desirable land stocking with his many friends in Peterborough. Any person wishing a desirable residence should examine the dwelling recently erected by Mr. Lacey on Downey street and which is now offered for sale owing to Mr. Lacey's removal to Toronto.

Previous to his removal to Peterborough from Lindsay, Mr. F. H. Dobbin was entertained by the Lindsay Canoe Club and by the Masonic Fraternity to complimentary banquets. Mr. and Mrs. Dobbin were also referred to in complimentary terms by the choir of the Methodist Church in bidding them farewell.

Referring to Rev. Father McEvay's removal to Peterborough, the Lindsay Post says:—Rev. F. McEvay, of Fenelon Falls, has been appointed to the charge of the Peterborough congregation, as it is not likely that Rev. Father Conway will be able to resume his duties. The reverend gentleman has week said farewell to his congregation at Fenelon Falls and Bobcaygeon. His many friends in this town and county will heartily congratulate him on promotion to so important a position, which is a deserved recognition of his ability and zeal.

In the same connection the Fenelon Fall's correspondent of the Post says:—"The people of this parish very much regret the removal of Rev. Father McEvay to Peterborough, as he was very popular among his parishioners and many friends.

WHY?

Because experience and close study has developed talent in Chemistry, Lighting, and Posing. In days when such learning was required imperatively in a successful photography Mr. Sproule was practicing the business as it today it places his work ahead of competitors. Because only the best materials are used. No other establishment in Canada is using throughout the same class of materials. He works with no cheap instruments. His Studio is lighted and furnished the best, and all combined to give the subject ease and confidence.

His prices are not higher than competitors, he employs no person or persons to travel through the Country to puff up his business or work. It don't require such. dw

OTTAWA'S CONTRIBUTION.

FINANCIAL STATEMENT FOR THE MONTH OF SEPTEMBER.

Exports and Imports—Sir John Goes to Montreal—The Middleton-Hamilton Case Goes to the Senate Divorce Committee.

OTTAWA, Oct. 28.—Mr. W. Smith, Deputy Minister of Marine, has received a telegram from Mr. A. M. Smith, President of the Lake Superior Transportation Company, asking for the Government steamer Bayfield to visit the wreck of the steamer City of Owen Sound near Clapperton Island, Georgian Bay. The Department is enquiring whether the Bayfield is available or not.

Following is a statement of the exports for the month of September:

	Produce of Canada.	Produce of other Countries.
Produce of the mine	$ 475,391	$ 33,558
Produce of the fisheries	983,894	17,392
Produce of the forest	2,778,896	201,930
Animals and their produce	2,483,641	125,071
Agricultural products	698,291	1,054,748
Manufactures	139,129	47,556
Miscellaneous articles	73,402	3,839
Totals	$8,804,796	$1,543,973

Making a grand total of $10,348,771 as compared with $9,193,677 last year, being an increase of $1,155,094.

The Postoffice Savings Bank's statement for September shows deposits during the month of $505,674; withdrawals $573,763; balance at the credit of depositors $19,709,304, which is an increase of more than two millions since the same month last year.

Taking the first three months of the fiscal year the export trade of Canada shows a remarkable increase, the total being $30,808,623 as compared with $28,254,090 for the same period last year, being an increase of $2,554,090, of which $1,256,910 is in goods the produce of Canada and $1,297,180 in goods the produce of other countries. In produce of Canada the increases are: Mine, $113,200; fisheries, $221,102; animals and their products, $1,920,176; manufactures, $294,815; miscellaneous, $37,177; and the decreases: forest, $273,996, and agricultural products, $1,063,564. In goods not the product of Canada the increase is almost wholly in agricultural products, which show an increase of $1,220,842.

The statement of goods entered for consumption during month of September is: Dutiable goods $6,737,306, coin and bullion $21,004, free goods $2,946,528, total $9,524,838.

The quarterly statement of the quantity of sugar and molasses entered for consumption shows the total quantity of sugar remaining in the warehouse from last quarter and imported during the quarter to have been 116,012,113 pounds, of the value of $2,660,944; syrups, cane juice, etc., 74,376 pounds, value $3026, and molasses 3,255,083 gallons, value $383,405. The quantity entered for consumption was: sugar, 72,000,811 pounds, value $1,637,859; syrups, etc., 54,609 pounds, value $2254; molasses 1,495,114 gallons, value $250,741.

The Middleton-Hamilton scandal has advanced another step. In to-morrow's Canada Gazette Messrs. Gormally & Sinclair, solicitors for William Henry Middleton, give notice that he will apply to the Parliament of Canada at its next session for a bill of divorce from his wife, Mary Froude Middleton, on the grounds of adultery and desertion.

There was a meeting of council, Hon. J. H. Pope presiding, at which it is understood only routine business was transacted.

To-morrow's Canada Gazette will contain the return of Mr. James Rowand for West Bruce.

The following banks give notice of half-yearly dividends: Imperial and Hamilton, 4 per cent.; Ville Marie, Commerce, Ontario and Merchants, 3½; Central, Jacques Cartier, Federal and Traders, 3 per cent.

The writ for Victoria, N.S., was issued today. Nomination takes place Nov. 14 and polling on Nov. 21.

Sir John A. Macdonald left for Montreal this afternoon.

A BIG FIRE AT PEMBROKE

BEATTY'S MILLS AND OTHER BUILDINGS DESTROYED.

The Total Loss $27,000, Insurance $8000—Mr. Beatty Loses Nearly Everything—A Practical Token of Sympathy—The Work of an Incendiary.

PEMBROKE, Oct. 28.—Fire was discovered in Mr. Walter Beatty's sash and door factory this morning about 4.30 o'clock, and before the alarm could be sounded and the brigade called out the whole of his large factory, together with Angus' paint shop, outbuildings adjoining, Shield's Hotel, outbuildings and stables adjoining, Mrs. Rowan's properties and Mr. Beatty's lumber yard were enveloped in flames. The firemen worked nobly and got the fire under complete control before it had much chance to spread. No doubt, however, had there been a strong wind blowing at the time half the town would have been swept away. Mr. Beatty was one of the largest contractors and builders in the place, and his loss at this time of the year will be more particularly felt. He has a large number of contracts well under way and much of the stock is consumed. The telegraph and telephone wires were badly damaged, communication over both systems being completely blocked for a time. Mr. Beatty will rebuild at once.

The amount of damage is as follows: Mr. Walter Beatty's loss $17,000, insurance $1200 in British America, $1250 in the Glasgow and London; total insurance $2450. R. H. Ros, lumber and machinery, loss $700, no insurance. John Shield, outbuildings, loss $1000, no insurance. S. Richardson, loss $300, no insurance. Mrs. Esther Rowan, house, loss $1000, no insurance. J. G. Angus, sign writer's shops, loss $700; no insurance. G. Code, shops, loss $300, no insurance; mens' tools, etc., $1000; total loss $22,000, insurance $8500. Mr. Beatty was Mayor of Pembroke during 1882 and 1883, and loses the greater part of his fortune by this calamity. The feeling of sympathy is so strong that a subscription was organized on the spot for Mr. Beatty. At 5 o'clock this afternoon it amounted to $1700. The fire is supposed to have been caused by an incendiary.

THE FISHERIES QUESTION.

The Standard Hopeful of Success—American Commissioners at Work.

LONDON, Oct. 28.—The Standard, referring to the attacks upon Mr. Chamberlain, says: "Irishmen before now have found to their cost that their aspirations will not be allowed to interfere with civil order in America. It will be something new if an otherwise satisfactory arrangement shall be rejected because it clashes with Irish predilections. Nor ought it be forgotten that the decision of America's foreign policy practically lies with the Senate, in which Irish wire pullers have no overpowering influence. We are hopeful, therefore, that Mr. Chamberlain will be successful in his mission."

Movements in Washington.

WASHINGTON, Oct. 28.—Messrs. Angell and Putnam, the fisheries negotiators, have returned to Washington and are in frequent consultation with Secretary Bayard regarding the approaching negotiations. The English commissioners are expected here about the end of the first week in November. Instructions will be given the United States custom officers to extend to the commissioners the courtesies usually accorded visiting diplomats in the matter of admission of personal effects, etc. It is the present intention to have the negotiators meet in the department building and the large room near the secretary's office, known as the diplomatic reception room, will be set apart for their consultations.

Telegraph Rates Go Up.

NEW YORK, Oct. 28.—The officials of the Postal Telegraph Company announce that as a result of yesterday's conference the rates of the Postal Company will be advanced to the Western Union standard on all messages under twenty-five cents, and where the standard is higher than that figure the competing companies will make a slightly lower rate. The advance will take effect Nov. 1.

Go Inside and Find Out.

MONTGOMERY, Ala., Oct. 28.—Yesterday afternoon two detectives, Scarborough and Brown, went to a house near Lafayette, where Buckalew, an outlaw, was known to be. As they approached the outlaw shot Scarborough in the neck and head, killing him. Brown went into the house, and fifteen shots were heard between him and Buckalew. Whether both or neither were killed is not known, as the place is in the country.

To Look After the Heathen.

PHILADELPHIA, Oct. 28.—The House of Bishops of the Protestant Episcopal Church to-day elected Rev. Abiel Leonard of Atchison, Kansas, missionary bishop of the new jurisdiction of Nevada and Utah. Rev. J. S. Johnson of Mobile, Ala., was elected missionary bishop of Western Texas. Alaska has been made a missionary jurisdiction, but the election of a bishop was postponed until the next meeting of the House.

A Wrecked Funeral.

SYCAMORE, O., Oct. 28.—At a funeral here yesterday the team attached to the hearse ran away, and the vehicle was smashed to pieces. The coffin was dashed to the ground, the lid torn off and the corpse rolled into a ditch. A general panic ensued; several persons were injured. Rev. Mr. Howell, who was to have conducted the funeral exercises, was dangerously injured.

Another Railway Crash.

LANCASTER, Pa., Oct. 28.—Two freight trains east bound on the Pennsylvania Railroad collided to-day near Glenlock. One locomotive and six cars were badly wrecked and William Stedder, engineer, was seriously and probably fatally injured. Joseph Dennison, fireman, was badly hurt.

Wilson Does the Square Thing.

PARIS, Oct. 28.—Newspapers here assert that M. Wilson has sent to the Ministry of Finance 40,000 francs to cover the postage on matter he franked with President Grevy's stamp. Wilson has taken a private house and is removing his effects from the palace of the Elysee.

The Printers' Strike Ended.

NEW YORK, Oct. 28.—The backbone of the printers' strike is thought to be broken. A considerable number of the strikers went to work to-day.

THE SUPREME COURT.

A Case Arising Out of the Proper Method of Kneeling in Church.

OTTAWA, Oct. 28.—In the Supreme Court to-day the case of the North Shore Railway v. Trudel was dismissed, and the case of Beaudet v. North Shore Railway was taken en delibere.

The case of Poitras v. Lebeau was next taken up. The suit arose out of the refusal of the appellant to kneel on both knees during high mass in the church of Ste. Anne Du Bout de Isle, near Montreal. The action (for $2000 damages) was brought against the respondent for having instituted proceedings charging the appellant with having committed in said church an irreverent act for which he (said appellant) had to pay $020 penalty. The case was tried by a jury and a verdict was rendered in favor of the respondent. This verdict was moved against before the Court of Review, and that court granted a new trial on the ground that the answers of the jury were contradictory and that plaintiff had suffered damage. The Court of Appeal reversed the judgment of the Court of Review and confirmed the verdict. The appeal is from the judgment of the Court of Appeal. Case not concluded.

EMIN BEY HEARD FROM.

All Quiet Along the Shores of the Albert Nyanza.

ZANZIBAR, Oct. 28.—Advices have been received from Emin Bey to the effect that the King of Uganda recently threatened to attack Emin's station on the southern shores of Albert Nyanza. The King, entertaining a suspicion that the Stanley expedition was designed to attack him, sent envoys to Emin to ascertain the object of the expedition. Emin explained the pacific purpose of the expedition and sent presents to the King. The preparations for war ceased immediately. Wadelai was quiet and prosperous. Emin remained at the station awaiting news from Stanley.

A CORPSE IN A CARRIAGE.

The Dead Body of a Murdered Man Shipped From New York to Chicago.

CHICAGO, Oct. 28.—In a carriage shipped from New York to Studebaker Bros. at the Pennsylvania Depot at Adams-street was found this afternoon the body of a murdered man lying face downwards across the seat. The corpse was that of a young man 21 or 22 years of age, five feet eight inches in height, slight moustache, light brown beard, dark trousers, soft felt hat, laced boots and a rubber coat. Under his hat was a bullet hole. In the pockets were found a ticket for a reception and a restaurant check. The former was for an entertainment to be given to-night by Beaver Valley Assembly of Glass Packers, No. 10,690, at the Workingmen's Rink, Rochester, Pa. The check was for forty cents at "Abel's restaurant." The murder is supposed to have occurred in New York.

CIVIL AND MILITARY LAW.

Likely to Cause the Effusion of Blood on the Plains of California.

SAN FRANCISCO, Oct. 28.—United States District Attorney Carey has received a telegram from the Sheriff of Mendocino County informing him that he was gathering a posse to capture Capt. Shaw, whom Gen Howard had sent in command of United States troops to eject sheep herders and others from the Round Valley Indian reservation in this state. The telegram also states that the State Court had issued a writ of injunction ordering Capt. Shaw to desist from removing the trespassers. District Attorney Carey advised Gen. Howard to order Capt. Shaw to surrender to the sheriff, which Gen. Howard declined to do without an order from the President or the Secretary of War. Thereupon Carey sent a despatch to the Attorney-General at Washington in which he states that if the Sheriff persists and General Howard continues to refuse, it will probably result in bloodshed.

THE DANGER OF CHOLERA.

Negligence of New York Health Officers Endangers the Whole Country.

CHICAGO, Oct. 28.—Health Officer DeWolf has found thirteen of the immigrants who arrived on the steamer Independent. They are all well. He also found eight cases and six bundles of bedding and clothing which had been packed within twenty-one miles of Paterson and not opened by the quarantine officers at New York. In 1873 the New York officers did precisely the same thing. Some of the immigrants at that time drifted to New Orleans and others to Minnesota, and cholera broke out the following spring caused by the clothing. Dr. DeWolff says the United States authorities should take hold of the matter. The other Italians have not been found.

Speak Now or Hold Your Peace.

OTTAWA, Oct. 28.—The British Life Association (limited) having ceased to carry on the business of life assurance in Canada, and having re-insured outstanding or existing risks, will apply to the Minister of Finance on Feb. 1 next (1888) for the release of the securities deposited by the said association with the Minister of Finance; and notice is given to Canadian policyholders who may desire to oppose such release that any opposition to the same must be filed with the Minister of Finance on or before the day above-named.

Shoot the Editors.

SHREVEPORT, La., Oct. 28.—Mr. Schaeffer, editor of The Times, and Mr. Puckett, editor of The Democrat, the rival McEnery and Nicholls organs, have become involved in a serious row. Challenges were issued two days ago and shotguns were agreed upon as weapons, but the police have so far prevented a meeting. Some twenty persons on each side, from whom trouble was apprehended, have already been arrested, including Speaker Ogden and Col. Collingsworth.

It Was a Sober Crowd.

LONDON, Oct. 28.—Gen. Sir H. F. Ponsonby, the Queen's Private Secretary, has written a letter in reference to the statement made by Canon Weldon at a recent meeting of the Church of Ireland Temperance Society in Dublin, that the last festival in the Highlands in honor of the Queen's presence was the occasion of much drunkenness. Gen. Ponsonby says that he was present during the festival, and that he did not see any drunken persons

The Dynamite Scare—Was Balfour to be Assassinated?—Gladstone Speaks Again—Bart Spencer Declares the Parnellites Are Not Dynamiters—The Latest Phase.

NEW YORK, Oct. 28.—The Tribune's London despatch says the police take a very serious view of the facts brought out in the Cuban inquest. By no means were all the facts brought out, only enough to put the public to a certain extent on its guard. The chief of the detective force believes dynamite outrages are imminent, and precautions are now taken on a great scale. Public buildings are watched with no less care than during the last dynamite campaign. Assassination, they say, was to accompany explosion. Mr. Balfour, now hated by the Irish, as every chief secretary but Mr. Morley was hated, was to have been the first victim. It was supposed that the attempt would be made when he speaks next week at Birmingham.

Blunt and Gladstone Speak.

DUBLIN, Oct. 28.—Sir Wilfrid Blunt, while traveling to Loughrea to-day, addressed three meetings and was cheered by crowds. At Loughrea the police charged the crowd that had gathered to meet him, using their batons. The mob replied with sticks and stones, but were compelled to disperse.

LONDON, Oct. 28.—Mr. Gladstone, on his way back to Hawarden, made a speech at Staleybridge, in which he advised the people to settle the Irish question, otherwise no English business could be transacted in Parliament.

The Pope Disappointed.

ROME, Oct. 28.—The Pope is disappointed at the failure of Mgr. Persico's mission to Ireland. Mgr. Persico obtained only vague declarations which will be useless in furthering the Pope's desire to pave the way for a renewal of diplomatic relations with England.

LONDON, Oct. 28.—The Morning Post denies that the Government intends to seize United Ireland. The latter paper announced that Wilfrid Blunt's appeal will not be heard until the Quarter Sessions in January.

Parnellites, Not Dynamiters.

LONDON, Oct. 28.—Earl Spencer, speaking at Bedford to-day, said there was no doubt that there were men in both England and in Ireland who were ready to commit dynamite outrages in order to effect their purposes, but nothing was more mischievous than to attempt to confuse the Irish in one body by mixing up the party of Parnell with the dynamiters. [Cheers.] He was happy to think such efforts had failed. The Parnellites had no greater enemies than O'Donovan Rossa and his crew. [Hear, hear.] If the Liberal policy of conciliation prevailed it would end these abominable crimes, but if coercion prevailed for any length of time he saw the greatest danger from secret societies reviving and extremists with their dynamite coming to the front. The present Liberal policy was not founded on despair—unless it were despair of the old and worn out methods. It was a policy bright with hope in the future and with confidence in the result of reliance on the Irish people in throwing upon them the responsibility of governing their own country. [Cheers.]

TO THE FOOT OF THE THRONE.

Goes the Case of the Grand Junction Railway Versus Peterboro County.

Mr. E. Burritt Edwards, County Solicitor, left here for England to watch proceedings in the case of the Grand Junction Railway Company (F. O. Bickford) vs. the County of Peterborough. This case was entered in 1879 by the plaintiff to collect $75,000 from the county, this amount it was held, being voted as a bonus to the railway company. The county refused to pay the amount on the ground that it was illegal to do so, no bylaw having been passed for that purpose. The by-law was carried by the people in the present County of Haliburton, which was then a part of the County of Peterborough But the Council refused to pass the third reading. The plaintiff succeeded in getting the Provincial Legislature to declare the bylaw valid notwithstanding the refusal of the Council to read it a third time. A suit was then brought. It has been before the single judge, the full court, the Court of Appeal and the Supreme Court, and the county has won every time. It now awaits final decision before the Privy Council.

THE PRICE OF LIBERTY IS ETERNAL VIGILANCE.

SERMON BY LAYMAN.

(Written for the Examiner.)

This is an old and true saying and wise as it is true, for without liberty men would be slaves. There are two kinds of liberty, political liberty and religious liberty. The latter is the outcome of the former. A despotic government is never a free government, and where despotism exists the Bible is not free. Political tyranny is sure, while it can do so, to take to itself the power to control men's consciences and to make religion the support of its temporal authority, and by means of the two to rule both soul and body. This is called "Church and State", though the state rules the church. From the time of Constantine to the present day the policy of civil rulers has been to govern the people by means of the influences of religion. And to this end the church was clothed with the powers of the state which it used, when necessary, to force people into subjection The result was that the clerical power became at last supreme, and it was not long in making the people its slaves. Such has been the past history of the world, and it is a history written with the blood of men who dared to even think for themselves. But the world is moving on and the light of reason and truth is fast filling the dark places and men's minds are being enlightened by education and are being opened to a knowledge of their own rights. But time and perseverance will be required to establish the true relation of the people to the church and of the church to the people. And as man become more enlightened and understand and properly appreciate their civil privileges, they will learn to lay aside their individual and party prejudices and learn that the true principles of government consists in the exercise of truth and justice. There is always a tendency on the part of both the government and the church to take to themselves more power. Human nature is ever striving to gain authority and rule. And where men are indifferent to their rights and leave to others the management of their temporal and spiritual affairs, they will be sure to discover their error and learn the lesson that the price of liberty is eternal vigilance. We have only to look back over the past history of the world to discover the truth of this saying. And the records of the past will also show the trials and the struggles of the people to free themselves from their awful hardships, and from the tyrannies of those who, in order to rule, kept the world in mental darkness by means of oppressions and cruelties, not excepting the use of fire and the sword. For thousands of years the political and spiritual history of the world has been written with the blood of the people; and thousands and tens of thousands of human lives have been sacrificed in order to keep down free thought, and thus to keep the people in darkness and in bondage. And it is now only within the last two hundred years that even a ray of the light of liberty has been allowed to penetrate the gloom. And people begin to wonder how much longer time it will take to illumine men's minds and bring about the freedom which will no doubt come as the result of many struggles, both in church and state. When the people learn the great lesson of truth and justice, learn to work together and for the general good, learn to avoid jealousies and divisions, learn to march on together, to work together and to help each other, then will come the time when civil and religious freedom will reward them for their exercise of common sense, and they will no longer honour the foot-steps of those who now, by means of their divisions and their prejudices, rule them for their own selfish purposes and desires. When they learn that the price of liberty is eternal vigilance then and not till then will they stand by their rights as men and Christians. It is strange that, after so many thousand years, people have not learnt the first principles of the Bible, which teach that all men are equal in the sight of God, and that there are no privileges which all cannot enjoy. And that a minister of the gospel, as he is called, is only a man. People seem as if they must have some one to look up to. Some one whom they can consider better than themselves. Both in political and religious life this is the same. They will follow a political leader through mud and mire, because he is a leader, and through good and evil report they will stand by their leader even to the sacrifice of their own liberties. They don't understand what the enjoyment of liberty requires. Some of them don't know what liberty means. And even many of them who do know will sell their birthright for a mess of pottage. And then they will exclaim that they have won the day. But they either don't know, or they don't care to know, that by so doing they have sold their country and bartered away its dearest rights. How, under such a state of things, can liberty flourish and a people be free. Now then, let us look to our religious liberties and see what they are and what they ought to be and what they might be. Some think that religious freedom consists in being allowed to read the Bible without fear or molestation. They profess to be willing to give up their lives rather than give up their Bible. And while saying this they ignore the first principles of the Bible, equality, civil and religious, and a refusal to do man worship, no matter who or what that man may be. For if a man, like themselves, and from amongst themselves, only sets himself up to be their superior in religious matters, and undertakes to be the only ordained expounder of the Bible, and only says that he is called of God to read and expound the Bible, although the people must pay him a good salary for doing so, they, the people, as a rule stand ready to believe him and obey his commands. Even as the poor benighted heathen throw themselves, from religious fanaticism, under the car of Juggernaut and are crushed, so many of the people of Bible lands bow down to one of their number calling himself a minister, and stand ready to follow his leading and to obey his calls, even contrary to the dictates of their own judgment. Now, how long will religious liberty last in the midst of such circumstances as these. Two hundred years ago it was thought that the Reformation had inaugurated civil and religious liberty, but it looks to-day as if men had but transferred their obedience from one set of men to another set of men, who have held their iron hand as firmly grasped around them as ever was done before. They put up costly buildings, which they call churches, and they inaugurate them, when finished, with much pomp and ceremony and religious zeal, and then the minister takes possession, and ascends what he calls "the holy pulpit," a mere pine box made with human hands, and from henceforth he is the lord of all, although the people have to supply the funds. And the man, thus called of God, looks down patronizingly upon "his people" and tells them what to do. And they obey. The minister thus becomes a distinct person from the rest of the people, and is looked up to as one to be sought after and courted, and he feels that the church is "my church" and his word is law. In the days of Christ there was no such building designated exclusively as a church. In all the letters of the Apostles of His time they speak of writing "to the Churches", that is, to the brethren, who often met in an upper room of some dwelling where they performed their religious duties, and worshipped God in simplicity and in faith. The heathens and the Jews possessed churches, or temples, where they performed their ceremonies with magnificence and pomp. And their priests occupied the first places and to them the people gave homage. And in two thirds of the world the same rule holds good to-day. Christ and his apostles were men of the people, and they went about among the people in humility and kindness, never claiming any superiority, always seeking out the lowly and the poor, taking them by the hand and exhorting them to be faithful and true in the worship of their God. But who looks after the lowly and the poor in these days? Who goes out and brings them to places of worship and encourages them to acts of love and holiness? Not the well paid ministers, certainly. His duty is not with the poor. It would soil his dainty clothes to go into their humble dwellings and it would soil his kid gloves to take them by the hand. If any of them do go to church they are told to take a back seat, and the place which should know no distinction is full of pride and there is no room there for the poor. Their souls are not worth saving. The church, which should be a type of heaven, is for the rich only and the poor may look after themselves. Is it any wonder then that we hear so much about empty churches? And is it not worse than a farce to hear those whose especial duty it is to look after these things, asking what is to be done to fill the churches. My answer to them is, do as Christ and his apostles did. Be humble and kind and above all be Christians, working for God and the salvation of the souls of men. Verily the price of liberty is eternal vigilance.

SAFE ON THE OTHER SIDE.

A Law Student Supposed to Have Amassed Gains.

ST. CATHARINES, Oct. 28.—A most startling rumor is current upon the streets regarding the escape of a student in Messrs Rykert & Ingersoll's office named Mort Burtch, son of Joshua Burtch, who resides on the Great Western Hill in rear of the city. It seems that Mr. Rykert received two drafts yesterday morning for $3800 and $2000 respectively. The former was made on the Quebec Bank, Thorold, and the other on the Bank of Toronto in this city. He desired Burtch to proceed to Toronto and cash the draft drawn upon the bank there and deposit the proceeds together with the draft upon the Bank of Toronto to his account at the Imperial Bank. Burtch went to Thorold as desired and secured the $2000 and then proceeded to the Bank of Toronto and endeavored to cash the other draft. Mr. Leitch, the pay clerk, offered to cash the draft in notes of small denominations, but these Burtch refused to accept and left. There is little doubt that he succeeded in getting larger notes elsewhere, else he would have taken the $5 bills tendered.

This occurred at about 2.30 yesterday afternoon, since which time nothing has been seen of the young man or the money. Every possible effort was made this morning to ascertain Burtch's whereabouts. Finally Mr. A. Camp, another student in Mr. Rykert's office, was sent to Lockport to find the young man if possible, and procure all or a part of the funds. Young Burtch was in the habit of going to Lockport to visit friends every few weeks, and this is why he is supposed to have gone there now. The offence is not an extraditable one, and if Burtch chooses to hang on to his gains and remains under the protection of the United States flag the law cannot touch him.

DEPOSITORS TO BE MADE HAPPY.

The London Bank Will Resume Payment Early in November.

LONDON, Oct. 28.—The directors of the London Bank have decided to resume payment to depositors and other creditors during the first week in November. The payment in London will be conducted by the London Bank itself. The Ingersoll, Watford and Brantford depositors will be paid by the Traders' Bank of Toronto. The payment of creditors at the other branches of the bank, including Petrolia depositors, will be conducted by the Bank of Toronto. In the case of unforeseen difficulties arising the payment of the depositors will be delayed, but not more than two weeks, and this is not considered likely.

TRAIN WRECKERS AT WORK.

They Smash a Freight Train and Kill Three Men.

JOLIET, Ill., Oct. 28.—A telegraph pole laid across the Rock Island Railroad, between Minooka and Morris, this morning about 3 o'clock wrecked freight train No. 16. Engineer Mills and Fireman Orff were instantly killed and the head brakeman fatally injured. The miscreants doubtless intended to wreck the Kansas City express due here at 4.20 a.m. The passenger train was fifteen minutes late and the freight pulled ahead to run to Minooka, striking the obstruction with the result stated. There is great excitement here since it has been definitely ascertained that the obstruction was placed on the track with the deliberate purpose of wrecking the passenger train. General Manager St. John has offered a reward of $2000 for the conviction of the perpetrators.

Three Fishermen Lost in a Storm.

HALIFAX, N.S., Oct. 27.—Private advices received here from Ecum Secum, East Halifax, state that a fishing boat owned by Freeman Pye sank off White Islands yesterday and all on board, three men, were lost. It was blowing very hard at the time and the sea was running high. The men on board were Freeman Pye, Henry Fleet and August Barnard. The two first named were married and leave families. Pye's father and brother were speaking to those on the boat from another only a few minutes before. The vessel suddenly disappeared unobserved, and when search was made for traces of those on board all that could be found was a hat and a couple of gang boards floating about.

The report telegraphed from Halifax yesterday that Sir Charles Tupper had left for Ottawa was incorrect. Sir Charles is still in Cumberland, and will remain there until after the election.

In Brief, And To The Point.

Dyspepsia is dreadful. Disordered liver is misery. Indigestion is a foe to good nature. The human digestive apparatus is one of the most complicated and wonderful things in existence. It is easily put out of order.

Greasy food, tough food, sloppy food, bad cookery, mental worry, late hours, irregular habits, and many other things which ought not to be, have made the American people a nation of dyspeptics.

But Green's August Flower has done a wonderful work in reforming this sad business and making the American people so healthy that they can enjoy their meals and be happy.

Remember:—No happiness without health. But Green's August Flower brings health and happiness to the dyspeptic. Ask your druggist for a bottle. Seventy-five cents.

What a Grassy Specimen the World Elects.

WASHINGTON, Oct. 28.—A man named Kennedy has just come from San Diego, Cal., to the Interstate Commerce Commission a complaint, beginning as follows: "Gentlemen—Being in the Republic of Mexico about the time you held your highly indispensable and impartial, just and moral investigation into the malfeasances and unwarrantable, outrageous, imbecile, monstrous malversation carried on illegally, and especially by the Central as well as the Southern Pacific Railroad Companies, who set every law, justice and morality aside to fill their coffers with such damning, swindling and plunder as these facts irrefragable and incontrovertible manifest fraud, chicanery, misrepresentation, sordid stupidity, and dishonesty of their servants, Gray and Stubbs, and other base tricksters, whose villainy can be easily demonstrated by due investigation of the facts beyond all cavil or dispute. . . . ." The burden of the complaint is that the man lost his baggage, and Gray, Stubbs, et al., agents of the railroad, refuse to make reparation.

To Avoid Baldness or Grey Hair.

Use Dr. Dorenwend's Great German Hair Magic. It keeps the scalp clean and free from Dandruff, and promotes the growth of the hair. It prevents premature grayness and stops all falling out of the hair. On bald heads, where the roots have not perished, it will invigorate them and force a new growth of hair. Ask for Hair Magic. It is the only reliable. For sale by J. D. Tully and all druggists.

Invariable Indications.

If you have Sour Stomach, Heartburn Sick Headache, rising and souring of food, wind in the stomach, a choking or gnawing sensation at the pit of the stomach, then you have sure indications of Dyspepsia, which Burdock Blood Bitters will surely cure. It has cured the worst cases on record. 2w42d

Among the Indians.

"While my husband was trading in furs he came across an Indian who was taken to his lodge to die. He had inward pains and pains in all his limbs. He gave some Yellow Oil internally and applied it externally and cured him. It also cured my husband of rheumatism, and I find it valuable for coughs and colds, sore throat etc." Mrs. A. Directors' Meeting.

A meeting of the directors of the Agricultural Society was held yesterday afternoon. There were present: President, W. Rutherford; and Messrs. Collins, Davidson, Fair Fitzgerald, Garbutt, McGill (Treasurer) and W. Vance. The unfair actions of some exhibitors in showing articles at the exhibition which had previously taken prizes, or in otherwise breaking the rules, was severely commented upon, and it was resolved to more strictly enforce the provisions of the constitution in future. The treasurer presented an incomplete statement of the finances. As a number of account and other money items had not yet been handed in, he was unable, he said, to give a full report. He estimated that the receipts and expenditures would about balance. Gate money at the last exhibition amounted to $1,347.90. On motion Fitzgerald & Stanger's protest against the award of a diploma to Messrs. Porter Bros.' exhibit of carriages, etc., upon which no action was taken at the last meeting, was re-considered, and upon a close vote their appeal was sustained and the award withdrawn. As a number of protests against first prizes among horses had been sustained at the last meeting, it was decided at this meeting to award the second prize animals the first prizes withdrawn from the horses first granted them. Accordingly the special prize given Mr. McNeil, orginally awarded by the judges to Mr. F. G. Cox's team, which had been disqualified at the last directors' meeting, was given to Mr. Davidson's team, the second prize animals. As Mr. Pettitt's protest against Mr. Wilson's team (first prize) had been sustained, the former was awarded the first prize, silverware donation by Kingan Bros.; second prize was dispensed with altogether as Mr. Westlington, the other competetor, had not completed the race. Messrs. Rutherford, Fair and Davidson were appointed a committee to arrange for the payment of the prize list, after which the board adjourned.

The Coming Concert.

Canton Peterborough No. 10, I.O.O.F., announces a grand concert for Tuesday evening, Nov. 8th, which promises to be the most brilliant and successful of the season. Among those whose names are on the programme are all the vocal "stars" of the town, a gentleman gifted with rare ventriloquial powers, and another who may be justly titled a "king of legerdemain". Besides this peerless array of local talent, the Canton itself will participate. The members have been drilling industriously ever since organization, and Canton Peterborough will yield the palm to none other corps of Patriarchs Militant. They will give an exhibition of marching and sword exercise. A beautiful banner will also be presented them on this occasion. Tickets for the concert can be had from any of the Chevaliers. Reserved seats can be secured at Hartley's.

An Open Route.

The Lindsay Warder suggests that as the locks are now completed at Buckhorn and Burleigh, Lindsay Council and the Board of Trade, with the County Council, take a trip over the new waterways opened to Lindsay The various steam yachts in town, it says, might be obtained, and a pleasant and profitable trip indulged in. The waters to be traversed are:—Scugog river, Sturgeon Lake, Big Bob river, Pigeon, Buckhorn, Deer, Love Sick, Stony and Clear Lakes, and the Otonabee river.

The Lakefield Chronicle says:—"Little by little—section by section—slowly, it is true, the Trent Valley Canal is becoming an accomplished fact. Last week a dredge was taken by the canal from Lindsay to Burleigh, and this week Messrs. Stark, Rubidge, and others intend to take a run, in a steam yacht, from Lakefield to Fenelon Falls."

Hopeless Cases.

The Linday Warder this week has the following:—"The Peterborough EXAMINER last week had a very able article against the practice of merchants, and business men generally, giving printing to Toronto houses who send drummers around soliciting jobs at cheap rates. We long ago pointed out the same weakness on the part of some of our townsmen. But it is a free country, and though we are anti-"Commercial-Unionist" and pro-N.P., yet we say let Toronto drummers come along. If Lindsay merchants cannot see past the ends of their noses their cases are hopeless. They kick against "shoddy" pedlars Few business men in Lindsay get printing done away from town. No one worthy the name of business man does."

FARM Accounts taught by a brief and handy method, at the Peterborough Business College.

Chevaliers Promoted.

Peterborough Canton met for drill last evening twenty-six chevaliers being in line. A letter which had been received by the Captain from Major Lauder, of Belleville, stated that he had two vacancies on his staff and asked the Canton to appoint two of its members. Accordingly by a unanimous resolution Chevalier C. H. Clementi was appointed to the position of Commissary, with the rank of Lieutenant, and Chevalier J. B. Ferris, Acting-Commissary Sergeant. The Chevaliers should be, and doubtless are, proud of the honor conferred upon them, in which the whole Canton shares.

A Good Send-off.

Mr. W. H. Stafford, student-at-law in the office of Mr. R. J. Dowdall, Almonte, says the Gazette, left for Peterborough on Tuesday, where he will act as manager of Mr. E. B. Edwards' law business during the latter's absence in Europe. On Monday evening Mr. Stafford was waited upon at the law office and presented with a purse of $53, accompanied with an address printed on blue satin. The recipient was deeply affected by such an unexpected evidence of esteem, but expressed his thanks in a neat speech.

The Hall Failure.

A meeting of the creditors of Mr. Geo. W. Hall, biscuit manufacturer, was held on Friday afternoon in the law office of Mr. C. W. Sawers. It was decided to have the affairs of the estate wound up as speedily as possible. The stock, accounts and plant are to be advertised for sale by tender in separate lots. Mr. John Carnegie was appointed assignee, and Messrs. H. A. Mulhern & Charles Porter were appointed inspectors to consult with the assignee. The liabilities are over $7000. The privileged claims, amounting to about $200, were directed to be paid.

An immense stock of Millinery Goods to select from at Turnbulls. Prices right.

MORE Competent shorthand writers have been prepared at the Peterborough Business College during the past two and a half years than at any similar institution in Ontario during the same period.

Evangelistic.

Mr. Douglas Russell will conduct another meeting to-night (Saturday) in the Gospel Hall, at 7.30 o'clock. Meetings to-morrow at 3.30 and 7 p.m.

Cost of the Franchise Act.

$22,000 Public Funds Unnecessarily Distributed in this County.

From the report of the Dominion Auditor-General it is learned that the cost of preparing the Dominion Voters' lists under the Franchise Act was as follows:—

EAST PETERBOROUGH.

Weller, Judge, C.A., part salary	$333 33
Expenses of Revision	336 70
Printing 1st list	633 45
" 2nd "	112 05
" 3rd "	165 00
Total	$1584 53

WEST PETERBOROUGH.

Weller, Judge, C.A., part salary	$333 33
Expenses of Revision	279 75
Printing 1st list	451 67
" 2nd "	169 00
" 3rd "	69 00
Total	$1977 75
Total East Peterborough	$1584 53
Total West Peterborough	1977 75
Grand Total	$3562 28

Here we have for these two ridings an altogether unnecessary expense of at least $2392.06 —at least, for the report does not indicate what portion of the revising officers' salary is yet to be paid. Unnecessary expense—because the municipal lists would have answered every purpose, with every guarantee of correctness, with much less expensive preparation and with a single expense for voting for Dominion, Provincial and municipal purposes. The municipal lists serve for both the municipal and Provincial elections, and there is no reason why they should not be used for Dominion elections—except this, that they are not prepared expressly in the interests of the Dominion Government and Tory party, and of furnishing pap to party sympathisers and workers.

In this connection it may be mentioned that our local contemporary, the Review, a thick and thin government supporter, "scooped in" $1322.67 on this head, not including charges for advertising in this connection, which are doubtless mixed up with the $159.32 it also scooped in for general government advertising, though in this respect the Times with a total advertising bill of some $800, shows itself a government organ which has reduced the game of grab to a science.

High Court of Justice.

The case Merriam vs. McCrea, begun yesterday at 11 a.m., was not concluded till 1.30 this afternoon. It was an action for reformation of a deed. McCrea, it appears, sold some land in Percy to Merriam, the deed describing it as "the north-east quarter of a lot, being composed of 46 acres, north of a certain road." There was by admeasurement afterwards shown to be an overplus of 6 acres in the lot. The defendant claimed that his deed covered the whole "north East quarter"; while the plaintiff contended that the deed only allowed the defendant 46 acres, and brought action to have the deed reformed by so stating it. Judgment was reserved. E. B. Stone for plaintiff; Irvine and Colwell, solicitors, and G. T. Blackstock, counsel, for defendant.

This concluded the present sitting of the court.

Church Chimes.

The 57th battalion parade to St Andrew's Church to-morrow forenoon.

Baptist church—Services to-morrow will be conducted by Rev. Dr. Newman of Toronto.

Charlotte street church—11 a.m., Rev. F. H. Wallace, B. D.; 7 p.m., Rev. I. Tovell. Evening service in memory of the late Rev. Dr. Nelles, Chancellor of Victoria University.

Mr. J. Goforth, who is shortly to start as a missionary to China, will preach in Peterborough to-morrow, in the morning in St. Paul's church; in the evening in St. Andrew's church.

Rev. J. Goforth will preach in St. Paul's church in the morning and Mr. Torrance will continue the series of sermons on "The Pilgrims' Progress" in the evening. The congregation is reminded of the special collection for the building fund, to be taken up at both services.

Mark street Methodist church.—Services conducted by the pastor, Rev. J. C. Wilson. 11 a.m., subject, "The fire ever burning on the Altar", followed by the quarterly Lovefeast and Holy Communion. 7 p.m., subject, "The Valley of dry bones." Evangelistic services each evening next week; song service from 7.30 to 8; public meeting at 8. All are most cordially invited to attend.

BARRING Toronto, we now have nearly as many students in shorthand as all other similar (Ontario) institutions.

The Coming Winter.

The indications are that the advance guard of a long and dreary winter is here. The winds are howling and the sleet drives in the blast. The early approach of winter is terrible to all, and especially to the poor, who lack warm houses, fuel and proper clothing. For them and all classes, however, winter is robbed of half its terrors by the presence in town of a generous benefactor of the people. No person—or at least very few—need go cold for lack of warm clothing when gough, the wonderful cheap man, almost gives away overcoats, strong, warm tweed suits and underclothing. Almost gives away, for his prices, compared with other dealers, are so low that the goods seem like a gift. Now is the time to gather in the bargains and good warm winter clothing. The cheapest clothing house on the continent is gough's, george street, peterborough.

Chemong Chieftainship.

The election of chief of the branch of the tribe of Chippewa Indians at Chemong lake took place at the Reserve school house on Friday. Mr. Jacob Irons, nominated by Mr. Daniel Whetung, and Mr. James Taylor, nominated by Mr. Moses McCue, were the candidates. The election was conducted by the agent, Mr. Edwin Harris, with Mr. Sampson Fawn, poll clerk. Irons polled twenty-two votes and Taylor ten. The former was declared elected chief and will be formally installed as soon as the answer to the election returns are received from Ottawa. There was little excitement over the election and no bribery although it was pay day and the Indians had received their quarterly stipend before the election.

TOWN CASES.

Before P. M. Dumble—Dennis Slattery, the veteran vag, received another prize for his usual six months' winter lodging in the county gaol.

UNRULY BOYS.

Acting-Chief Adams last evening arrested a couple of boys who, with a number of others, were acting in a disorderly manner about the corner of Charlotte and Aylmer streets. They were brought before the magistrate this morning for a reprimand. After the officer had stated the facts of the case to the magistrate, the latter said:—"Boys, you are charged with being unruly. Now, if the police let you go this time will you undertake to keep off the streets and go home at nights?

"Yes, sir."

"Well, I'll let you go, but if you don't do so, and he brings you here again, I'll send you up, because the police can't be annoyed by boys behaving badly."

The magistrate instructed the officer to keep his eye on the boys, and if he ever caught them acting that way again to arrest them.

Acting-Chief Adams states that a large crowd of boys, averaging about 20 in number, congregate every night at the corner near the Queen's hotel, throw stones, eggs and other offensive matter at the houses, shout at and "ease" pedestrians, and make themselves generally obnoxious. He says he doesn't like to bring small boys before the magistrate, but something must be done to put a stop to it.

A WAGES CASE.

Mrs. Margaret Drake, who was lately employed as a domestic by Mr. R. Hamilton, brought suit against the latter to recover $9, alleged to be due her for wages. The dispute arose from a misunderstanding as to the wages bargained for between them, the plaintiff stating that she contracted for $10 a month, while the defendant claimed that she was to work for him on trial, and he was to give her "whatever he thought right." He considered $6 a month sufficient. After both sides of the case had been heard, it was enlarged till Wednesday next. Mr. W. A. Stratton appeared for the defendant.

27th. ANNUAL SEASON. 27th.

Our Stock of Furs for the Season of 1887 is one not inferior to any in the best retail stores in any City. When we say this we base the same on our knowledge in selecting the material for our manufacture, which is of the Choicest. The long winter of last season had run our stock very low, many lines, such as Men's Coats in Racoon, being completely sold out, but of which we now have on hand a large stock made of good seasoned skins in the natural color. None kept of unseasoned skins, which require coloring dark to hide bare spots.

Competition is courted. No other work has the BRILLIANCY and FINISH.

WHY?
Because experience and close study has developed talent in Chemistry, Lighting, and Posing. In days when such learning was required imperatively in a cosmful photography Mr. Sproule was practicing the business and to-day it places his work ahead of competitors. Because only the best materials are used. No other establishment in Canada is using throughout the same class of materials. He works with an eye to permanents. His Studio is lighted and furnished the best, and all combined to give the subject ease and confidence.
His prices are not higher than competitors. He employs no person or persons to travel through the Country to puff up his business or work. It don't require such. dw

JAY GOULD OFF TO EUROPE

HE SAILS AWAY WAVING ADIEUS TO HIS FRIENDS.

No Obstacle in the Shape of an Appeal—The District Attorney Has Doubts About the Grand Larceny—A Weeky Story About Being Frightened by Anarchists.

NEW YORK, Oct. 29.—The steamship Umbria sailed for Liverpool at 3 o'clock this afternoon with Jay Gould and members of his family, including Mrs. Gould, Misses Helen and Anna Gould, Messrs. Howard and Frank Gould and Mrs. Noyes, Mrs. Gould's sister. Despite the rumors of arrest which had been freely asserted, no obstacle was placed in Mr. Gould's way, and when the steamship left the pier he was standing near the forward foot railing surrounded by his family, waving adieus to his friends on the pier.

Delancey's Protest Not Heeded.

NEW YORK, Oct. 29.—Lawyer Delancey, who seeks to bring action again Messrs. Gould and Sage for alleged grand larceny, has written a letter to the District Attorney demanding a copy of the brief and authorities of the defense, protesting against the permission to Mr. Gould to leave the country, and casting upon the District Attorney the responsibility for his return. In closing the lawyer writes: "A prima facie case for embezzlement has been presented, and we do not understand why it should be treated differently from similar cases."

The District Attorney replied that upon careful consideration of the question, he has grave doubts of the success of a prosecution upon the facts presented; and hence would not arrest or indict Messrs. Gould and Sage, at least until further attention had been given the subject.

This Sounds Very Fishy.

NEW YORK, Oct. 29.—An evening paper prints a story in which it connects the departure of Jay Gould for Europe with the approaching execution of the Chicago Anarchists. The story says that the Anarchist leaders "fixed upon Gould as the man who, by a bold and liberal use of his enormous money power, could stay the hand of justice and prevent what they look upon as the slaughter of the martyrs." Absurd as this notion is, they have not hesitated to act upon it boldly.

At first Gould was approached in a neutral rather than a threatening manner. The reliance of the Anarchist brotherhood upon his great power and upon his exercise of it in their behalf was set forth in mysterious communications which he received sometimes by mail and sometimes by the hands of furtive messengers in the street. As time passed on and the case of the condemned seven became more desperate the anonymous messages became sharper in tone and of a distinctly threatening character. After this change of attitude the mails alone were used for their transmission, none of the really minatory letters being delivered to Mr. Gould in person. Latterly the warnings have been of so decided a character and so explicit in their terms that Gould, who is not naturally a man of timid disposition, became thoroughly frightened and began somewhat hasty preparations for a long-contemplated pleasure trip to Europe. His departure to-day is believed to be chiefly due to an entire and natural willingness to pass the day of the Anarchist executions somewhere remote from the reach of any possibility of their insane misdoings.

BURTCH ARRESTED IN NEW YORK.

Said He Was Following the Example of Sub-Treasurer Jackson.

NEW YORK, Oct. 29.—Police Inspector Thomas Byrnes to-day arrested Morden Burtch of St. Catharines, Canada, for robbing the law firm of Rykert & Ingersoll of a draft for $3800 and cash amounting to $2400, which had been paid to the firm in exchange for a farm. He was captured after he had exchanged the Canadian money for United States notes at a broker's office in Wall-street. When asked why he had stolen the money, he explained that Paying Teller Jackson of the Sub-Treasury in this city had taken $10,000 into Canada, and he knew of no reason why he should not bring some Canadian money here. He is held until the Canadian officers appear. The technical charge against him is bringing stolen property into this country.

ST. CATHARINES, Oct. 30.—Since the disappearance of Mordaunt P. Burtch, law student at Rykert & Ingersol's office, who embezzled his employers out of $6800, it has been discovered that he has been systematically defrauding them. It appears Burtch was usually given the money to deposit at the bank, but instead of doing so he entered the amount he should have deposited in the bank book himself. Before leaving Burtch also secured a $100 diamond ring from Fowler's jewelry store, which he had charged to him.

STILLWELL'S SEVERE PUNISHMENT.

Condemned to Pay Costs in Two Cases and Both Fined and Imprisoned.

CORNWALL, Oct. 29.—This morning Mr. Charles John Stillwell, editor of The Glengarrian, appeared before Judge O'Connor to receive sentence for the criminal libel of which he was yesterday convicted. Mr. Leitch stated the substance of an affidavit made by Mr. Stillwell in mitigation of punishment. It was to the effect that defendant did not write the libel himself; that owing to being a stranger in the county he had to depend on others for information. Mr. Leitch added that the defendant now admitted that he had been misled.

Mr. McLennan said that he did not press for severe punishment or even for imprisonment. Vindication of character was what Mr. Purcell wanted.

His Lordship commented fully on the case and the sentence which should be given, and said imprisonment was the only way to prevent indemnity by outsiders for pecuniary punishment.

Mr. Stillwell, in reply to the judge, said he had nothing to say.

Mr. Leitch said the defendant had no idea of indemnity.

His Lordship sentenced the defendant as follows: That he pay the costs; that he be imprisoned in the Cornwall jail for 4 month; that he pay a fine of $200 to Her Majesty, to be levied off his goods and lands, and if the fine be not paid in one month that he be further imprisoned for three months in fulfilment of the fine.

In the matter of the civil action against Mr. Purcell, which was dismissed, His Lordship decided that Mr. Stillwell must pay the costs.

The assizes closed to-day.

LABOR GETS ON ITS MUSCLE

THE CENTRAL UNION MEETING HAS AN ALTERCATION WITH ITSELF.

A George Man Hit a Socialist, the Brother Retorted, the Chairman said "Fool," the Delegates Said "Loafer" and the Belligerents Thrown out.

NEW YORK, Oct. 30.—There was great excitement at the Central Labor Union meeting to-day when a communication from Branch 4 of the Carpenters and Joiners was received. This branch had been suspended by the central body for taking a decided stand against Henry George. They demanded to be re-admitted. The members of the building trades who are favoring George's theories jumped from their seats declaring that Branch 4 was no longer represented in the Central Labor Union and that therefore the matter could not be discussed. They moved that the communication should be tabled. There were 66 votes for and 53 against that motion. The Socialists demanded a recount. The George men yelled so as to drown the voices of their opponents. At this point one of the Socialists was struck on the head, in which he had his delegate's card, knocking it out of his grasp. This was the signal for a general fight. One of the George men was about to strike Mr. Jablinowsky, who had been conspicuously demonstrative when others interfered. The Socialists then demanded that the offending George man be expelled, and upon opposition being made they attempted to throw him out of the hall. It was only after Chairman Fowler declared that he would expel the aggressor for the remainder of the session that the uproar was quieted. But now the delegate refused to leave the hall. When the sergeant-at-arms attempted to eject him he resisted, and it required about 45 minutes to get the doors finally closed upon him. Steps were then taken to assist the locked-out brass workers, but before this was fairly done one of the George men complained to the chair that a Socialist had called him a monkey. The expulsion of the Socialist was demanded, and then the chairman cut his temper. He called one of the delegates a fool. The delegate retorted, "And you are a loafer." The row was again started, and soon assumed such an aspect that the chairman had to leave his chair. The vice-chairman took his place and began a long speech in which he appealed to the better instincts of the delegates and entreated them to behave like gentlemen. They would not listen to him. Dozens of delegates moved to adjourn, but the majority decided not to, and then forced Chairman Fowler to retract his remarks.

ITEMS FROM OTTAWA.

Northwest Central Railway—Scott Act Repeal in Renfrew—Court Matters.

OTTAWA, Oct. 30.—W. A. Allan and A. Charlebois have returned from a trip over the Northwest Central Railroad. They report the progress made on the road as highly satisfactory. Over thirty miles of the road are graded, and it is expected that fifty miles will be ready for track laying before the winter sets in.

A petition for the repeal of the Canada Temperance Act in Renfrew County has been received at the Department of the Secretary of State.

A hotel keeper named Chevrier has been fined under the election act one $100 and $10 costs for selling liquor on last Dominion election day. This is the first case of the kind in this district. From the evidence it appears that the informer, a hackman named Ray and a friend, called at Chevrier's to settle a dispute about a rig, Mr. Chevrier gave strict orders that the bar should not be opened, but it afterwards was, and Ray and his friend indulged in 20 cents worth of liquor. The dispute was not settled, and Mr. Chevrier went to Ray to obtain payment of the drinks. The latter turned round and gave information against Chevrier. The fine goes to the informer.

THE FREIGHT CAR HORROR.

A Clue in Pittsburg That may Solve the Mystery.

PITTSBURG, Pa., Oct. 29.—A clue has been obtained that may lead to the solving of the Chicago freight car mystery. The relatives of Frank Hara, not Haran, as stated last night, are in the city investigating the case. They are positive that the young man was murdered in Pittsburg and the body afterwards placed in the carriage on the car in this city.

The train arrived from the east about 2 o'clock on Sunday afternoon, and was immediately made up for the West. It did not leave until 11.55 o'clock that night, however, and in the meantime was side-tracked in the yards at Strawberry-lane, a very lonely part of Allegheny City. No stop was made between Allegheny City and Ashtown, O., so that the body must have been placed in the carriage before the train started. Hara was alive and well at 2 o'clock on Sunday afternoon, and the indications are that he never got as far as the Union Station in this city.

CHICAGO, Oct. 29.—The inquest on the murdered man supposed to be Barney Horan of Rochester, Pa., who was taken from a gamble car at the Union Depot yesterday morning, was held at the County Hospital to-day. Very little was developed to throw further light on the mystery of the man's death. The jury returned a verdict of death by a pistol shot fired by an unknown hand.

IGNAROD, IGNAROD, WINNIPEG,

If the Story Told in the Following Despatches be True.

MINNEAPOLIS, Minn., Oct. 29.—Contracts for the completion of the Red River Valley Railroad have been signed, and the road will be finished at once if the City of Winnipeg furnishes the $200,000 promised. A delay has arisen through the failure of the banks, which are largely controlled by the Bank of Montreal, to accommodate with loans.

Can This Be True?

CHICAGO, Oct. 30.—A Winnipeg special says—The Red River Valley Railroad scheme has finally collapsed. The Provincial Government did all in its power to carry out the construction of the road, but it was necessary in order to complete it that Winnipeg should contribute $208,600 by taking up provincial bonds to that amount. When the question came to the point deputations were organized to interview the Government and talk the matter up, but it was anticipated that the patriotism of citizens would not extend to their pockets, and this view had been verified. After some six months of loud talking and assurances about overthrowing monopoly, etc., the city and citizens of Winnipeg have ignominiously backed down. When the question resolved itself in an appeal to their pockets the deputation pretended to find flaws in the contract and excused themselves from putting up the money. The action of the city has brought unmitigated contempt on them not only of the province but of the whole Dominion as well. Miserliness and political jealousies are the primary causes of the failure of an heroic attempt which has been made by Manitoba and the Provincial Government to rid the province of railroad monopoly.

A DISJOINTED SUBJECT.

A Conductor Finds a Box of Bones on His Train.

ELMIRA, N.Y., Oct. 29.—A box of bones, which proved upon examination to be the skeleton of a woman, was found on a Lehigh Valley wild train this morning. Conductor Raymond says he stopped his train just outside of the city limits of Elmira, and that the box was not on board then. When next he went over the train at Waverly he found it, and he concludes from this that the ghastly freight must have been put on board at Elmira. The bones are all disjointed and the top of the skull is sawed evenly off. The skeleton, though not much decayed, has the appearance of having lain in the earth for some time. There are no marks on the box which give any clue as to where it came from. The general opinion here is that the skeleton came from some doctor's office or medical institution.

ANOTHER LAKE DISASTER.

The Propeller Vernon Supposed Lost With all Hands.

MILWAUKEE, Oct. 30.—The steamship Superior arriving here last night brought the first news of the total wreck of a large passenger propellor off Manitowoc, Wis. That the wreck is that of the propeller Vernon of the Northern Michigan line is proved almost beyond doubt. She was due here yesterday, and from the description of fragments seen by the crew of the Superior her owners consider her identity fully established. She had on board a crew of twenty-two men and several passengers, the exact number not being known and it is supposed that all hands perished. Capt. Moran of the Superior saw three or four rafts with men clinging to them and also a small boat containing a woman and three men. Although he made an effort to rescue them the high sea prevented the rendering of any assistance, the Superior being herself disabled and requiring the crew's best efforts. It was about 10 o'clock in the morning when the first signs of the wreck in the shape of floating cargo and furniture were seen. About an hour later the rafts were sighted. On some the occupants were almost gone, while others signalled the Superior.

P. J. Klein, of Klein & Buele, who chartered the Vernon to replace the Champlain burned early in the season, received the first information from a reporter. After hearing the account as reported by Captain Moran, he felt sure that the vessel was the Vernon. He did not know what passengers were on board, and of the crew could give only the following names: Captain George Thorpe of Ogdensburg, N.Y., master; Capt. Collins, who formerly sailed the schooner Golden West, first mate; Capt. Higgins, who sailed the barge Leland last year, second mate; F. W. Burke, oldest son of one of the owners of the vessel, clerk; Charles Marcus, first engineer; M. Hall, second engineer; Martin Bean and a brother, steward and porter, respectively. The Vernon was owned by A. Booth of Chicago, valued at $75,000 and insured for $37,000. She was a year old, and ran between Chicago and Mackinaw and picked up freight at the ports where she touched, carrying it at the risk of the owners.

Capt. Williams, of the schooner Joseph Page, arrived last night at 9 o'clock and reported having seen wreckage about six miles east of Two Rivers Point, evidently of a passenger vessel.

MR. CHAMBERLAIN SAILS

AMID THE CHEERS AND HOOTS OF A LIVERPOOL POPULACE.

Gladstone's Favorable Opinion of the Commissioner—A Pilot Warning to the Irish-Americans—Guarded by Detectives—To Meet Sir Charles in New York.

LONDON, Oct. 29.—Mr. Chamberlain started from Birmingham to-day on his way to America to take part in the fisheries negotiations. Before leaving the city he addressed the crowds which had gathered to see him off. He said he hoped that the relations between England and the United States would continue to be cordial. He also said that these might be the last words he would ever address to his hearers and advised them to stick firmly to the union and maintain the inheritance bequeathed them by their forefathers. The greatest enemies of the commonwealth, he declared, were those who would do anything to weaken or impair the integrity of the Empire.

Minister West and Sir Charles Tupper, the Canadian High Commissioner, will meet Mr. Chamberlain on his arrival in New York, and the three will consult with a view of arranging for a conference with Secretary Bayard at Washington on Nov. 14. Two English detectives accompany Mr. Chamberlain on his voyage to America and two American detectives will join them on their arrival and remain with the British Commissioner during his stay in the United States.

Gladstone's Opinion of Chamberlain.

LONDON, Oct. 29.—In conversation with several delegates to the conference of the Liberal Federation, Mr. Gladstone expressed his opinion that Mr. Chamberlain's appointment was an admirable one, as he was thoroughly qualified by his knowledge of commercial questions, his experience in the Board of Trade, and other special abilities for the post, and these are certainly the sentiments of the leading Gladstonians, who one and all regret at the same time Mr. Chamberlain's recent attacks, but do not believe that the statesmen of Washington will allow themselves to be influenced by any other than purely state considerations.

A Canard Denied.

LONDON, Oct. 29.—An official denial has been made of the rumor which has been in circulation here that President Cleveland had requested Lord Salisbury to cancel the appointment of Mr. Chamberlain to represent England in the fisheries negotiations. It is announced that Mr. Chamberlain is assured of a cordial reception by the American authorities despite the attacks made upon him.

Straight Through Liverpool.

LIVERPOOL, Oct. 29.—Upon the arrival of Mr. Chamberlain at Liverpool the station was cleared and the public was not admitted. The station was strongly guarded by police. A number of detectives followed Mr. Chamberlain from the station to the dock where he took the tender for the Etruria, it being expected that an attack would be made upon him on the streets. He was cheered and hooted as he passed along.

Mr. Chamberlain, before embarking on the Etruria, declined an invitation to a luncheon extended to him by dissident Liberals, explaining that want of time compelled him to do so. In replying to the invitation he expressed himself as gratified at receiving proofs of continued confidence and sympathy.

His Idea of American Threats.

NEW YORK, Oct. 30.—The New York Herald's London cable says: Mr. Chamberlain, speaking of the reported threats made against him, said recently: "In America the law-abiding people are in the majority. No threats of assassination should deter any one from becoming their guest. Some things that I have spoken may have been misunderstood, but in the main neither the Canadians nor the Americans can doubt my earnest desire to come to a settlement of the fisheries question on terms fair and honorable to both countries." A friend having again recurred to threats received, Mr. Chamberlain quietly said: "All right; I am not so fond of life that I should desire to keep it by running away from duty. But I don't believe a bit in the threats."

The public generally respect his decision. With regard to statements more than once repeated that nobody but a stanch Gladstonian will be accepted as Washington they still refuse to believe that the American people side with any particular faction in English politics.

Will Go Direct to Washington.

LONDON, Oct. 30.—Mr. Chamberlain was interviewed on board the Etruria at Queenstown to-day. He said he had thoroughly enjoyed his trip from Liverpool, though the weather had been squally and cold. On his arrival in New York he intends to go direct to Washington, not to Ottawa first, as Canadian papers have stated. He laughed heartily on hearing the rumor that the Irish Attorney-General would accompany him, and said that the Canadian press ought to have known that the Attorney-General's work was cut out for him in Ireland. He attached no importance to the strictures which certain Canadian and American papers had thought fit to pass upon him. He said: "I shall enter upon my duties unaffected in the slightest degree by any outside hostile criticism. I do not intend to return to England directly my labors are finished. Not having been in America before, I am awfully anxious to see the country. It is also my purpose to see Canada. It is therefore unlikely that I shall return until shortly before the assembling of Parliament." On being questioned regarding Home Rule he said he had ceased to be a politician for a couple of months. He had, however, no hesitation in saying that those whowere cognizne of soon seeing a parliament in Dublin would have to wait much longer than they expected. "I will go a step further," he continued, "and say that I am inclined to think that if a great and generous scheme of local government were granted to Ireland, the feeling which is represented as being so intense, especially in the south, in favor of a separate parliament would gradually die away. I think that much of it is mere sentiment. Previous to the passing of the Disestablishment Bill religious feeling between the Protestants and Catholics was very high, but now it has almost disappeared. I firmly believe that it is not beyond the reach of statesmanship to make Ireland peaceable and contented with a full measure of local government."

ALL HALLOW E'EN.

Old customs cling to us with the tenacity of old habits. None of us is so old as not to recollect that his earliest impressions hold among them reminiscences of the festival of Hallow E'en, and the boyish pranks and domestic merry-makings incidental to it. The history of the custom of observing this occasion shows that it is one of purely Scotch origin, and that its observance has become so general is a tribute to the ubiquitous habitat of the Scot and the leavening power of Scotch character. Go where you will a Scotchman will be found, and it is not improbable that if Columbus, when he discovered America, had made investigation, he would have also discovered among the inhabitants of the new world a Scotchman, accumulating baubees and teaching the savages how to have fun on Oct. 31. In olden times the Gaelic inhabitants of Scotland and Ireland had two great annual festivals. One of them was May-day or Bealtian, when the sun-god Bel was worshipped and the presence of summer indicated. The other festival was Samhuin or Hallow E'en, the ceremonies in connection with which inaugurated winter. No ceremony was considered complete without Samhuag or fire in the open field and a water tub in the hall for apple ducking. The same central idea affected the celebrations of later days. At one time a wide-spread belief prevailed that upon a certain Hallow E'en the devil was let loose and that the reign of the Lord of Misrule then began, continuing till Candlemas. Hence it was considered venturesome to be out alone after nightfall, and few cared to brave the recited dangers from the evil spirits roaming abroad unless when banded together to perform the neighbourly pranks which were considered the licensed privilege of the occasion. The time is within living memory when the tacksman assembled his neighbours to witness the samhuag and while its blazing fire lighted up the scene, oaten cakes, cheese and mountain dew went generously around. Leaving the burning fagots, or tar-barrel, the younger men of the party would proceed in groups to the high amusement of the evening, which was often found in the removing of convenient goods and implements from the premises of an obnoxious person and placing them on the premises of a popular neighbour. Here we have the origin of the pranks which the youth of to-day is proud of playing on this festival. The pulling of kail or cabbage stocks on this eve, the weight of the clump of earth lifted representing the dower of a bride, led to the association of matrimonial significance with the mysterious rites performed by maidens to find out their future matrimonially, A clew of blue yarn thrown into a kiln-pot, and while being unwound to form a new clew, the name of the maiden's future husband was pronounced. Knotting the garter—that of the left leg held the charm—and repeating a rhyme at each knot, was followed by placing the garter under the pillow—the damsel's true love would appear in her dreams. There are scores of other harmless fooleries relevant to the occasion, but if the ancient programmes are not followed out to the letter to-night, it is pretty certain that something else will take their place. The evening will be celebrated by the boys in any way the spirit of mischief and the influence of the Lord of Misrule may suggest, and the girls will gather in parties at some designated home, with innocent fun, maidenly mirth and dainty dipping into matrimonial futurity Everybody will be affected by the occasion and all will welcome Hallow E'en, in spite of the differing feelings will which it may be regarded, as a welcome break in the dull routine and treadmill tenor of the ways of daily life.

I have been bothered with catarrh for about twenty years. I had lost my sense of smell entirely for the last fifteen years, and I had to get some one to thread my needle. Now I have my hearing as well as I ever had, and I can see to thread as fine a needle as ever I did. My sense of smell is partly restored; it seems to be improving all the time. I think there is nothing like Ely's Cream Balm for Catarrh.—Mrs. E. E. Grimes, Bendrill, Ohio. eodw43

Total, Trent River Navigation		75,163 39

This is exceedingly interesting reading. The reader will observe that of the total amount $75,163.39 expended there are only $57,950 expended on actual work. The rest is spent on aside "services." Mr. Rubidge as engineer absorbed $1,800 as half-year's salary, and almost half as much ($634.32) as "travelling expenses." During the same year, it might be remarked en passant, Mr. Rubidge was paid $1000 for engineering services on the St. Lawrence Canals, Mr. Aylmer, Assistant Engineer, drew $2083.55, of which about one-third was for "board allowance;" so it is shown that, if other expedients for wasting money fail, it can be eaten, Messrs. J. Dinwoodie and E. Thompson (not Elias) drew $1301 for inspecting dams, a pretty liberal expenditure for looking after three or four small dams. The tidy sum of $1293.92 is spent for "legal services"—all to good Tory lawyers. Taking all canals under government control, there was the smallest proportion spent on actual work on the Trent Valley Canal. The proportion spent on actual work in comparison to the total expenditure was as follows :—Lachine Canal, 16 to 21 ; Cornwall Canal, 51 to 57 ; Williamsburgh Canal, 61 to 71 ; Galops Canal, 76 to 78 ; St. Lawrence Canals, 100 to 116 ; Murray Canal, 16 to 17 ; Welland Canal, 15 to 10 ; St. Anne's Locks, 121 to 129 Grenville Canal, 65 to 72 and the Trent Valley Canal, 57 to 75. It is no wonder that a good, though disgusted, Tory remarked, on seeing the figures quoted from the report, that "if all the political hangers-on and parasites that have clung like leeches to the public money in connection with the Trent Valley Canal, had had shovels and pick put into their hands the work would have, by this time, been finished." This is but another proof of the dilly-dallying policy of the government in reference to this work. A little money is spent on actual construction while a good deal is distributed amongst party supporters, and the total outlay is heralded as the amount spent on building the Trent Valley Canal, while in fact the large share of it goes to political election workers. Even members of the Ontario legislature are in a manner bought into support or kept in loyalty to the Dominion government, by giving them a slice of Trent Valley Canal appropriations Mr. A.F. Wood, M.P.P. North Hastings, it will be seen above, drew $330.-84 for 19½ days' service as land valuator, and the same year the same gentleman drew $557.39 for one month's work as valuator on the Welland Canal. How can one expect a member of the Ontario legislature to stand up for this province against the assaults of the Dominion government in whose pay he is? How can we expect the local supporters of the Dominion government, who are making money at the expense of canal construction, to condemn the delay and waste of money by which they profit? The Government is using this work only as a political expedient—their chief concern is to see how much political capital can be made out of it.

The California Central Railway freight depot and its contents at Los Angeles, California, was burned last evening. The loss is roughly estimated at $200,000; no insurance.

The old New York John-street Methodist Church, the oldest Methodist church in America, yesterday celebrated its 121st anniversary. Five services were held and all were largely attended.

About 10,000 Irishmen attended the mass meeting at Battery D, Chicago, to hear Arthur O'Connor, M.P., and Sir Thomas Esmonde, M.P., on Home Rule in Ireland. Resolutions were adopted extending sympathy to Gladstone and Parnell in their efforts to secure Ireland's deliverance.

A. J. Kellogg, Secretary of the Michigan State Fish Commission, says whitefishhave already begun to run in the Detroit River. This is at least ten days earlier than on any previous year of which note has been taken. At the fishing grounds of Mrs. George R. Clark on Grassy Island a net was drawn on Friday which contained 240 whitefish.

Burglars entered the residence of Deputy Sheriff George Anderson, 126 Specht-avenue, Detroit, at an early hour yesterday morning, gathered up the silverware in a tablecloth and left the bundle on the front steps while they returned in search of more plunder. One of the ladies of the household heard the intruders and bravely made a dash at them, which they escaped, leaving their booty behind.

Troops for the Pacific Slope.

QUEBEC, Oct. 30.—Capt. Peters leaves Quebec in a few days for British Columbia with the fifty men of B battery, R.C.A., who have been transferred into the new C battery, which he is to command on the way. The fifty men who have been transferred from A battery at Kingston will join him, and the new battery will thus be brought together for the first time.

Steamer on Fire.

PORT PERRY, Oct. 29.—The Mary Louise steamer and a covered pleasure scow, the former just returned from Bobcaygeon, were discovered to be on fire last night, but the flames were speedily extinguished and but little damage was sustained.

Give Them a Chance!

That is to say, your lungs. Also all your breathing machinery. Very wonderful machinery it is. Not only the larger air-passages, but the thousands of little tubes and cavities leading from them.

When these are clogged and choked with matter which ought not to be there, your lungs cannot half do their work. And what they do, they cannot do well.

Call it cold, cough, croup, pneumonia, catarrh, consumption or any of the family of throat and nose and head and lung obstructions, all are bad. All ought to be got rid of. There is just one sure way to get rid of them. That is to take Boschee's German Syrup, which any druggist will sell you at 75 cents a bottle. Even if everything else has failedyou, you may depend upon this for certain. eod w

"Last January," says J. B. Temple, of Iowa, "there [illegible] Malaria [illegible] and nearly killed. Hop Bitters saved my life, and [illegible] my children through the attack. Yellow Oil cures all painful complaints and injuries. 2w44d

To Avoid Baldness or Gray Hair.

Use Dr. Dorenwend's Great German Hair Magic. It keeps the scalp clean and free from Dandruff, and promotes the growth of the hair. It prevents premature grayness and stops all falling out of the hair. On bald heads, where the roots have not perished, it will invigorate them and force a new growth of hair. Ask for Hair Magic. It is the only reliable. For sale by J. D. Tully and all druggists.

Reliable Remedy For Rheumatism.

Procure a bottle of Hagyard's Yellow Oil from your medicine dealer, and use according to the directions. It cured Ida Johnson, of Cornell, Ont., of that complaint, and she recommends it as a sure cure. For 25 years it has never failed to give satisfaction. 1w44d

Invisible but Instantaneous.

All pains or aches will be instantly removed by a few drops of Fluid Lightning applied over the affected parts. No time lost; no nauseous medicines needed; be not stifling or using greasy liniments. It will not blister or discolor the skin. Sold at 25c. per bottle by John McKee Druggist. Sufferers from Neuralgia assure us that they never fear it when their house contains a bottle of Fluid Lightning. eodw52

A Narrow Escape.

People who are exposed to the sudden changes of our northern climate have little chance of escaping colds, coughs, sore throat and lung troubles. The best safe-guard is to keep Hagyard's Pectoral Balsam at hand. It is a quick relief and reliable cure for such complaints. 2w44d

The Modus Operandi.

The mode of operating Burdock Blood Bitters is that it acts at once and the same time upon the Stomach, Liver, Bowels, Kidneys, and the Blood, to cleanse, regulate and strengthen. Hence its almost universal use in Chronic complaints. 2w44d

Cured By B.B.B. When All Else Failed.

Mr. Samuel Allan, of Lisle, Ont., states that he tried all doctors in his locality while suffering for years with Liver and Kidney trouble; nothing benefited him until he took Burdock Blood Bitters, four bottles of which cured him. 2w44d

Palmo-Sulphur Soap.

Is Marvelously Efficient in clearing the Skin of Impurities, and keeping it in a perfect state of health. It beautifies the complexion, while as a Healing agent for Sores or Wounds it passes all praise. There is no Form of Eruptive Disease for which this Renowned Soap has not proved efficacious. In the Bath it is as beneficial as the waters of the Renowned Sulphur Springs. Linens and Woolens washed with it are rendered superlatively white, and are disinfected when germs of disease linger in the material. The value of Sulphur as a Cleansing and Purifying agent is everywhere recognized. Ask for Palmo-Sulphur, and refuse all others, and you won't be deceived.

THE WAR CLOUD BUSTED.

VICTORY has Perched on the Banner of

PETERBOROUGH'S GREAT CHEAPSIDE!

And SHEPPARD, by common consent, will get $1,000 for being the Cheapest Clothier in Peterborough, having knocked the Wonderful Cheap Man completely out. "Business is Business; Dirt is Dirt, and when it comes to throwing Dirt, then Count" the only original teddy out, and he will hand over that $1,000 like a little man: For the following reasons:—

Sheppard sells a full size Man's Suit for $2.95, and better Goods than a Suit to fit a Child about 9 years old sold by the Wonderful Cheap-Man on Saturday for $3.00; but marked $3.50. This is how it was:—A Lady purchased a Child's Suit on Saturday last, Sept. 17th, 1887, at the Store of the Wonderful Cheap-Man. It was marked thusly:—Lot 5375, Breast 27, Waist 26½, Age 9, Price $3.50. It was pure Shoddy, being held together by cotton threads, and Sheppard is free to say that that was the dearest Suit sold in the Town of Peterborough for the last two years. Full particulars are given because of the $1000 involved, and, further, that this decides who is selling the Cheapest Clothing in Peterborough. SHEPPARD would have sold that Lady a Suit, Pure Wool for that money, and worth two of the one she got.

$1,000 to Go to the Charitable Institutions of Peterborough.

I had first decided to give the agencies a chance of jumping up my rating that $1.000, but after considering the matter and finding that never in any case have I been asked for an endorser to my paper, and that no relative or any other persons have ever endorsed my paper to the extent of one cent, I have come to the conclusion my credit is as good as yours and will ask you to hand over the $1,000 to the Charitable Institutions of Peterborough.

Now, Sir, there is a good story told the truth of which can be vouched for, but for the honor of at least making an effort to keep up your self-styled name—The Terror of High Priced Clothiers—do not allow the same to be said of you in the case above. A man purchased a suit for $15.00 at the store of one of the largest Advertisers in that section of country. It was guaranteed pure wool; but after examining it carefully at home, he came to the conclusion that he had been dealing with some one sharper than himself. Finding a make of wool, differing some from anything he had ever seen, it dawned upon him, that he had heard of wool of that kind, so the suit was returned. The merchant bet $25.00 that it was all wool, and the bet was accepted the decision being left to a neighboring merchant, he found that the $15.00 suit, was wool faced and shoddy back, pure unadulterated shoddy, but what of the $25.00 bet, was it paid, not much—muchly—as it were.

SHEPPARD is making Wonderful Strides in Securing Marvellous Bargains in Dry Goods, Clothing, Hats and Caps.

Canton Peterborough.

A Toronto correspondent of the Dominion Oddfellow writes as follows:—"The beautiful banner for Canton Peterborough, manufactured by Bro. W. C. Morrison, of Toronto, was shipped by C. P. R. last Wednesday morning, 26th October. Accountant McCrae and Colour-sergeant W. A. Ryan took it to the depot and saw it safely on the train. It is a beautiful piece of work, and there is not a flaw to be found in the work. The chevaliers of Peterborough ought to feel proud when they receive such a beautiful present from the ladies of their town, who on two occasions have done a good deal of work for the I.O.C.F. Our canton have received invitations to go to Peterborough, and take part in the banner presentation and ball. Some of our boys will be there. Our Captain is going; you will generally find him where there is any fun to be had."

Children Cry for Pitcher's Castoria.

Police Court,

MONDAY, Oct. 31st.

Three persons were gathered in by the police Saturday night for being drunk and disorderly. Two of them, Johnnie Stevenson and Joe Graham, lads of 12 and 10 years respectively, were, it appears, to use a common expression, "howling drunk." The Mayor who occupied the bench this morning, in place of the magistrate, gave them a sound "talking to" and let them go.

James Farley was remanded till Tuesday.

Who Were They?

Several of Lakefield's maidens have beaux who reside at a distance, and it frequently happens that Sunday is the day fixed on by the loving swain for these agreeable visits. The Chronicle says that Sunday last two young men happened that way from Peterborough, and put up at one of the hotels. In the evening when about to return home the horse and buggy was brought to the door of the hotel and left there for a short time, when some mischievous individual led the horse away by a circuitous route into the back yard of a neighbor. The boys on missing their horse and vehicle came to the conclusion that the beast had got tired waiting and had made for the town. Another rig was secured and old "Tom" made his best gait towards the Nassau Mills where the trio concluded that the horse had not come that way, and accordingly made their way back to Lakefield. Search and inquiry was made during the night but to no avail, and it was not until daylight dawned that the missing equipage was found within fifteen yards of the hotel yard. The boys will, no doubt, take better care of their steeds when next they pay the village a visit and not lay themselves open again to the practical joker.

His First Order.

A certain young man, who is at present boarding at an hotel, having determined to keep "bachelors' hall" this winter, sent in his first order to the "editors and proprietors" of a prominent grocery firm in town this morning. It is as follows:—"One barrel bottled ale, half pound of tea, five gallons best old rye, half pound of sugar, one case plain soda, small loaf of bread, some more whiskey, quarter pound Keene's mustard, three bottles of rum, half pound cheese, one octave of brandy, two candles, one bottle pickles, more whiskey, half pound soda biscuits, one can of duck, case of porter, more ale, one pound soda biscuits, one case apollinaris water, 1,000 good cigars." All his friends are anxiously waiting for the aforesaid young man to start "house-keeping," that they may call upon him and help him dispose of his large stock of "etceteras."

Hymeneal.

The Coldwater Tribune publishes the following among its Waubashene local items:—"As we go to press, we chronicle the marriage of Mr. Fred. S. Cochrane, of Peterboro', to Miss Lizzie Lewis, of this village, which took place here to-day. The Rev. W. H. French officiated. A number of well-wishing friends of the contracting parties witnessed the ceremony. The presents were numerous and costly, the spread did honor to those who provided it, and the cake was something unusually handsome. The happy couple left on the four o'clock train for their home in Peterborough, many old acquaintances accompanying them to the station, and mingling congratulations with their farewells."

Sermon to Volunteers.

The 57th Battalion had parade to St. Andrew's church Sunday morning. Rev. A. Bell, the pastor, delivered an appropriate sermon, from the text:—"Put off the old man and put on the new." He pointed out that volunteers in assuming the Queen's uniform were subjected to strict discipline and requirements of conduct becoming their position, and they were urged when they resumed the clothing of civilians to regulate their conduct by the standard to which they were required to conform while on military duty. Applying this spiritually, they were urged to put "on the new man," and under every circumstance to fulfill the obligations they assumed in becoming soldiers of the cross. In this crusade they were enlisted for life.

The Immensity of Heathendom

Rev. J. Goforth, a Missionary to China, Preaches at St. Paul's Church—An Appeal to the Hearts of the People.

Rev. J. Goforth, of Toronto, who is about to leave for the mission field in China, preached in town Sunday, in the morning in St. Paul's church, and in the evening at St. Andrew's. He also addressed the Sunday School of St. Paul's church in the afternoon.

At the morning service the reverend speaker read several passages of scripture for a text, showing God's great love for the heathen of the world, and commanding his disciples to go forth and preach the Gospel unto them. The sermon was a particularly impressive one, the minister by means of charts and startling comparisons displaying the adverse ratio of the Christian population of the world to the heathen, and the meagreness of the gifts of the people of God towards the evangelization of the great mass of heathen humanity. It abounded, too, with touching appeals for greater exertion in this line on the part of the Christian church.

The first chart introduced was one classifying the Christians and heathens, and their ratio to each other. The churches represented were the Protestant, Roman Catholic, Jewish and Greek, the Mahommadan faith and the heathens who professed no belief. Each was represented on the map by a colored section, in size equal to the numerical ratio it bore to the others. More than half of the chart was black, representing the heathen population of the world. Of a population of 1,424,000,000 on the earth, over one half of that number, 856 millions, were heathen; and among these there were only 3,000 laboring Christians, or one to every 330,000 of the heathen, while in Canada the proportion was one to every 500. Surely, he said, the Christian people of this country could not take unto themselves the "well done, good and faithful servant" of God. In the Soudan, in Africa, there was a population of about 50,000,000, and yet up to 1887 there was not one witness for Christ among them. The Africans, he said, were dying at the rate of 720 every hour, and not more than two out of that host have ever had a chance of knowing that Jesus came to save. In India there was one missionary for every 200,000 of the inhabitants. Its people are dying at the rate of 300 every fifteen minutes, and very few of them know of Jesus Christ. The Presbyterian Church, he said, was responsible for ten million people in Central India, but they had only sent five missionaries, to them. Look at China, said the reverend speaker, that mighty heathen nation, where there is only one male missionary for every 700,000 people. Twelve hundred of these people are dying every hour, or from eight to ten millions every year. In the province of Honan, where it was proposed to send himself and Mr. Smith, of Toronto, there were twenty million people. They have three missionaries amongst them, and only three natives are known to have been converted. Three among twenty millions! When he and Mr. Smith arrived there would be five of them, and each would have a parish of some four million souls. "Friends," said he, "every time my watch ticks—and it is ticking rapidly—one of these poor heathens is dying." That would mean, he said, the death of the whole population of Peterborough in three hours; and yet, these poor heathens were in as much need of Christ as the people of Peterborough. And how were they to be saved without the Gospel? Some people, he said, lulled themselves into the belief that by some means or other the heathen would be saved without the Gospel, but that was indirect opposition to the word of God. God has given the Christians of to-day a knowledge of the Gospel, and can any one believe He will be satisfied if they do not their duty by telling the heathen of its life-saving power?

Another chart was introduced showing the ratio of the church's missionary contributions to the public expenditures for staple articles of the United States and England, compiled from government statistics. Reaching across the top of the map was a heavy black line, representing the liquor traffic; at the bottom was a mere black speck representing in its exact proportion to the former the mission funds of the church. Other lines came in between, representing the expenditure on tobacco, public amusements, and articles of necessity, such as bread, woolens, etc. The sum of $10,000,000, subscribed by the Church last year for missionary purposes seemed large; yet one hundred and fifty times that amount was expended in the same time for liquor. Ten million dollars was a large sum, yet divided up among the heathen population of the world it would leave to each of them just one cent. One cent a year to each heathen for his soul's salvation! The tobacco line was next taken up. Sixty dollars were spent on tobacco for every one dollar given to God. To show the enormous disparity between the two, the reverend speaker said that if the money spent on tobacco one day out of every week in these two countries could be saved and given to the missionary cause, it would result in $3,000,000 a year for God. Another comparison made was between the cost of each discharge of one of the modern siege guns and the amount devoted to foreign missions by the church in Canada. Every shot from one of these monster cannons cost $900; yet only $709 was subscribed for the foreign mission work by the church in Canada last year.

Recurring to the first chart, the preacher pointed out three small white squares in the middle of the black space representing the heathen population. These, he said, signified the 900,000 converts to Christianity from heathendom. But those white squares, he said, did not represent the whole influence of the Lord upon these heathen lands. The Gospel of the Lord was slowly but surely undermining all heathenish institutions. There were wonderful results gathered in those little squares, and the reverend speaker instanced the complete subjugation to God of some islands in the Pacific ocean whose inhabitants eighty years ago were cannibals, sunk in the deepest and darkest of heathen superstition; but the sun of the Lord Jesus Christ had risen over that island, and now out of 100,000 population there were 30,000 church members. He also instanced the conversion of a fierce African prince through the instrumentality of Andrew Moffat, a brave missionary.

If the entire world was to be conquered for Jesus, he said, it would require hard work and great sacrifice. And more money was required to carry on the work. He advised a systematic giving to the mission fund; for instance, if each family put by 5 cts. a day for this purpose, there would be a great increase. The average last year was only 2 cents per family. Some people might urge that as they had to give to the support of their church, they could not give much to the missionary cause. But they should not look on their gifts to the church as charity. They received a direct benefit for all money given to the church—dollar for dollar. Surely then the poorest family could devote 5c. a day to charity.

He urged upon young men and women the great field for work that lay open before them, in which they could aquire renown and gain a heavenly reward. He also appealed to his hearers to cherish the good resolutions which might have been impressed upon them by the sermon, and give more liberally to the great cause of foreign missions.

Servant of God, Well Done!

A Touching Reference to the Late Dr. Nelles by one of His Students—"A Man of God gone to His Reward."

At the Charlotte street Methodist church last night before a large congregation Rev. I. Tovell, pastor of the church, conducted special services in memory of the late Dr. Nelles. The musical portion of the services was most appropriate, the anthems and hymns being selected with regard to the occasion. Mr. Davis also sang a beautiful solo. The choir of the Charlotte street church is a good one, and improving rapidly. His sermon was divided into two parts, the first consisting of a brief introductory address upon the subject of "The Christian's Rest," from the text in Hebrew iv, 9:—"There remaineth, therefore, a rest unto the people of God."

In beginning the second part of his address, the Rev. I. Tovell said:—

Dear Friends, I want to address a few words to you touching the deep sorrow that has overtaken the Methodist church of this land through the death of the distinguished Chancellor of Victoria University. I know in doing so I am speaking to those who feel deeply affected in consequence of his departure, for his usefulness has been so well known, so varied and so great. It is our melancholy pleasure, therefore, to add this humble tribute to the beautiful tribute already paid in Peterborough to the memory of the late Dr. Nelles, one who so often visited our churches here and lifted up the cross as the sinners refuge and hope.

It was while we were all busy with our work, not thinking of an approaching trial that Dr. Nelles fell asleep. The public scarcely knew of his affliction before the news went everywhere that he was numbered with the dead. We were not expecting it. Yet such is life. All men are mortal.

"Thou know'st 'tis common; all men must die,
Passing through nature to Eternity."

It was on the 64th anniversary of his birthday that

"Heaven opened wide
Her ever 'during gates, harmonious sound
On golden hinges moving."

The Rev. Mr. Tovell then went on to give a brief biography of the late Dr. Nelles. The years of his boyhood were spent in the neighborhood of Mount Pleasant, near Brantford; at sixteen he went to Lewiston academy and studied, then to the Genesee Wesleyan Seminary of the United States, thence to Victoria College, and back again to the States to complete his graduating course in Wesleyan University in the 23rd year of his age. This variety of circumstance, said the reverend gentleman, must have had much to do in the developement of his mind into a versatility, sagacity, brilliance, breadth and power for which he was so famous among his brethren. Soon the ministry was opened to him, and Port Hope, Toronto and London respectively shared in the fervor, thoughtfulness and eloquence of one not destined long to remain in the pastorate. Victoria College, like a vessel with timbers slender and sails not strong, had just drifted out from shore into an unknown sea. There was need of a man of tact, courage and skill to take the helm and guide. In 1850 the choice fell on Samuel Sobieski Nelles, and a wise choice it was. For 37 years he held to his post, surrounded by loyal helpers and achieving results that have made his name immortal.

The reverend speaker then paid a glowing tribute to the excellent personal traits of character, his ability as a preacher, the true piety and christian zeal of the late Dr. Nelles. The Methodist church, he said, would be slow to forget Dr. Nelles, to whose interests he was ever alive and active. Dr. Nelles did a great work, and noble. In promoting higher education he spent his best years. The building up of a Christian University under the auspices of the Methodist church was the dream of his life. To this end every available force was used. To the task he brought a ripened scholarship, a wise administrative ability, a cautious judgment, a gentlemanly manner, a large, catholic spirit and a well-tried faith. The result had been wonderful. It is not all seen in piles of brick and college halls, in chairs endowed and multiplied faculties. But to know the work one must move out amongst the alumni and other students; mingle with the missionaries of Japan, with ministers, barristers, judges, statesmen and presidents of colleges in this land in order to grasp the significance of the work done.

Rev. Mr. Tovell referred to the losses to the Church in the death of Dr. Ryerson and Dr. Rice, and now Dr. Nelles. Speaking of his personal acquaintance with the deceased Chancellor, Rev. Mr. Tovell referred to his kind encouragement to him when a student, which had urged him to greater things. He was the same to all the students under his care, and equally beloved by all.

This eloquent address was followed by prayer for the bereft family and all those interests most dear in life to the late Dr. Nelles. The opening words of the closing hymn began as follows:—

Servant of God, well done!
Thy glorious warfare's past,
The battle's fought, the race is won,
And thou art crowned at last,

In Brief, And To The Point.

Dyspepsia is dreadful. Disordered liver is misery. Indigestion is a foe to good nature. The human digestive apparatus is one of the most complicated and wonderful things in existence. It is easily put out of order.

Greasy food, tough food, sloppy food, bad cookery, mental worry, late hours, irregular habits, and many other things which ought not to be, have made the American people a nation of dyspeptics.

But Green's August Flower has done a wonderful work in reforming this sad business and making the American people so healthy that they can enjoy their meals and be happy.

Remember:—No happiness without health. But Green's August Flower brings health and happiness to the dyspeptic. Ask your druggist for a bottle. Seventy-five cents.

Tender Dignity.

The small girl had a request to prefer to her mother. She wanted to be permitted to go to the grocery for something that was needed. She was only seven. Her mother said:—

"Well, you can go. But mind you must not stop on the street and talk to the boys."

"Mamma," she said, drawing herself up to her full height, "Mamma, you insult me!"

DUBLIN, Oct. 31.—An affray between moonlighters and constables has occurred at Castle Island, and two constables are reported to have been shot.

Joseph R. Cox, member of Parliament for East Clare, has received three summonses for attending proclaimed meetings in County Clare. He will have a hearing at Ennis on Friday and another at Kilrush on Tuesday next.

LONDON, Oct. 31.—Lord Salisbury, in a letter to the Conservative League, says he trusts the measures passed by Parliament will suffice to restore peace in Ireland, and that prosperity, which has long been denied to the Irish people owing to the tyranny of the enemies of law and order, will soon be enjoyed.

Mr. Beith, of the Scottish deputation to Ireland, has written a letter to Mr. Harrington thanking the Irish people for the noble reception given them, and saying that the deputation will inform their fellow-Scotchmen of the cruel despotism to which the noble people of Ireland are subjected and of the energy of the Irish leaders to maintain social order.

Mr. Hayden, who was arrested in Ireland on Saturday for violating the Crimes Act, is not the Irish member of Parliament of that name, but his brother.

DES MOINES, Oct. 31—Arthur O'Connor, M.P., and Sir Thos. Grattan Esmonde, M.P., arrived here yesterday and were met by a large delegation of Irish citizens. Last night they addressed a great mass meeting. Governor Larabee presided.

QUEBEC, Oct. 31.—The branch of the Irish National Land League in this city have forwarded another $100 to Rev. Mr. O'Reilly for Irish sufferers in Ireland.

GOSSIP FROM THE CAPITAL

That Will Interest the General Public as Well as Politicians.

OTTAWA, Oct. 31.—There is no truth in the statement that Sir Hector Langevin contemplates a trip to Florida for the benefit of his health. He is in Quebec and is rapidly recovering from his recent indisposition.

A deputation of Caughnawaga Indians arrived in the city to-day and will have an interview with Hon. Thomas White to-morrow.

The Finance Department to-day received $36 conscience money from some unknown persons.

Mr. Ross, M.P. for Lisgar, is here pressing upon the Minister of Agriculture the advantages the County of Lisgar offers as a site for the Manitoba Experimental Farm.

The Marine Department is calling for tenders for the erection of a revolving light on Cape St. Lawrence, the most northerly point of Cape Breton.

The Department of Agriculture is in receipt of advices which indicate that the influx of Icelanders next season will be far in advance of any previous year.

There is no truth in the report started in Winnipeg that the present Commissioner of the Northwest Mounted Police will in future reside in Ottawa, or that a second commissioner will be appointed to locally direct the force in the Northwest.

Mr. James Dickey, C.E., who is in charge of that section of the Short Line Railway from Oxford to Purwash, is in the city. The route has been all located and three miles of construction work done in that section. Tenders for the completion of the section have been called for by the Department of Railways.

The Department of Justice has received a petition for the repeal of the Canada Temperance Act in Dufferin.

LOST WITH ALL ON BOARD

NO DOUBT LEFT THAT THE VERNON FOUNDERED IN THE STORM.

Her Pilot House and Life Raft Picked Up by a Tug—It is Believed That Not a Single Soul Escaped—Three Dead Bodies Seen.

CHICAGO, Oct. 31.—The Inter-Ocean's special from Manitowoc says: The propeller Vernon foundered about six miles north-east of Two Rivers. Capt. Heron of the schooner John Wesley, which arrived here this evening, reports seeing some wreckage off Two Rivers Point at 4 o'clock yesterday morning, and also passed a lot of wreckage six miles south of this place. The master of the schooner Phoenix says he passed white painted boards six miles south of here but could not distinguish what vessel they came from. However all doubts were set at rest this afternoon when a tug picked up a pilot house with the name "Vernon" on it and five life preservers off Two Rivers. Owing to this fact probably not a soul of the twenty-five or thirty people on board was saved, and the cause of the terrible disaster will probably remain a mystery for ever. It is quite generally believed here that not a single soul has survived, as it would have been impossible for any person to live in such a sea and exposed to the intense cold that prevailed on the night of the wreck. It is reported that Boiler Inspectors Reid and Fitzgerald of Milwaukee were on board the ill-fated propeller, and are undoubtedly lost. The captain of the steamer Lawrence estimates the number of people on the ill-fated vessel at fifty.

Capt. Hawkins of the schooner William Home, which arrived yesterday morning, reports passing three dead bodies on Saturday afternoon about six miles southwest of Manitowoc. One body was that of a woman with long black hair. She had a life-preserver on. The other two bodies were those of men.

SHEBOYGAN, Wis., Oct. 31.—The fishing tug Welcome returned at 1.30 with the life raft of the lost steamer Vernon, which she picked up about fourteen miles northeast of this port. On the raft were a coat, vest and soft felt hat which evidently belonged to a seaman. The hat was ripped through the crown and had been sewed up. The life raft had two chambers and bore the name "Vernon." The fishing tug Sheboygan has just started on a cruise down the lake. She will go as far as Two Rivers Point.

GRAND TRUNK SAFES BURST.

Bonaventure Station at Montreal Burglarized to the Extent of $1500.

MONTREAL, Oct. 31.—The safe room at the Bonaventure depot was burglarized last night and two iron boxes which contained receipts from Rouses Point and the western division of the Grand Trunk Railway were robbed of their contents. It is believed that at least $1500 has been stolen. The burglary was only discovered this morning and not a sign of anything that belonged to the empty boxes could be seen. Detective Cullen said to-day. "This has been the work of two men who know the place. They must have had a duplicate key, and one of them got inside last night while the other locked him in until he had finished the job. By some sign this was told the outsider who then unlocked the door and the two decamped with their booty. They must have had a hammer and a jimmy." There were three nightwatchmen around at the time, and yet not one of them heard a sound nor saw any suspicious characters around. Nightwatchman Hill said that all he saw last night was two boys who asked him if there was a late western train going out. Telegrams have been sent to the various stations to ascertain the amounts remitted. The remittances on Saturday are always light, consisting mostly of cheques, the payment of which has been stopped.

THE ANARCHIST BRETHREN

Continue to Monopolize a Good Deal of Uncle Sam's Attention.

WASHINGTON, Oct. 31.—There was no decision in the Anarchist cases to-day. The Chief Justice announced that a decision would be rendered on Wednesday, or at the latest on Thursday.

CHICAGO, Oct. 31.—The sheriff and police department were considerably agitated over the circulation from an unknown source through the mails, of a circular calling on the workingmen to rescue the imprisoned Anarchists.

NEW YORK, Oct. 31.—A meeting held under the auspices of the Knights of Labor took place last night in Union-square to protest against the hanging of the condemned Chicago Anarchists. Not more than 2000 persons were present. Inspector Williams commanded the police force of 150 in the square, and kept them as well as possible out of sight. None of the organizations except the Machinists' Progressive Union No. 1, marched to the meeting in a body. The machinists carried their red flag. T. B. McGuire, James Quinn and others were among the speakers. Resolutions were passed calling upon the courts of the nation to immediately release the condemned men and providing for the appointment of a committee to proceed to Illinois and wait upon Governor Oglesby if the Supreme Court fails to grant the stay.

RAVENNA, Oct. 31.—A meeting of socialists here yesterday passed resolutions protesting against the execution of the Chicago anarchists.

The Delay in Judgment.

WASHINGTON, Oct. 31.—The failure of the United States Supreme Court to render a decision to-day in the Anarchists' cases and the announcement of the Chief Justice that the court would not be ready to make public such decision until Wednesday or Thursday are thought to indicate nothing more than that the court's judgment will be set forth in a more or less elaborate opinion and that the Justice to whom the preparation of that opinion has been assigned is not yet ready with it. It is the universal belief of lawyers who practice as the Supreme Court bar that the petition for a writ of error will be denied, but this belief is based only upon their own views of constitutional law and the impression made upon their minds by the argument. The Justices of the court will not allow any intimation to escape them as to their views until the opinion has been formally announced.

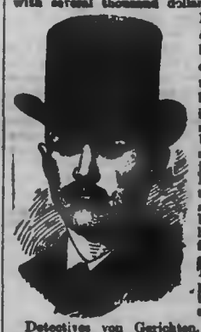
Fire in Paris.

PARIS, Oct. 31.—About 6 o'clock this evening a fire broke out and partly destroyed the brick dwelling house owned and occupied by George Arnold. The fire originated in the cellar from some unknown cause. Loss $600; insurance not known.

YOUNG MORDAUNT BURTCH.

Who Undertook to Blockade Sub-Treasurer Jackson.

When "Mort" Burtch left St. Catharines with several thousand dollars belonging to Messrs. Rykert & Ingersoll, he had figured it out that he could not be taken back to Canada if once he reached the United States, and so skipped joyfully away to New York, intending to have a real nice time. Inspector Byrnes had been notified by telegraph, however. The New York papers tell the balance of the story.



Detectives von Gerichten, Mulvey and Mulry were instructed to watch for Burtch around the banks and money exchanges down town, which also were warned not to cash the stolen draft. While looking around Wall-street for their man yesterday, the detectives stumbled across a green-looking youth with a Canadian accent who answered Burtch's description to a T. They followed him to the banking house of Walsh & Sons, 5 Wall-street, who make a specialty of dealing in foreign money. He there got $2400 of Canadian money changed to American, $2000 of which he left on deposit. The rest he put in his pocket.

Although certain he was the man they wanted, the detectives did not then and there collar him, as they wanted to see if he would connect with any confederates. They followed him to his room in Smith & McNeil's Hotel, in Washington-street, where he had registered as Howard Barton, and arrested him there. He proved to have no pals. The stolen draft was found in the room, as well as the money he had just got. When taken to the Central Office he told Inspector Byrnes that he had been four years in the employ of Charles Rykert and J. H. Ingersoll, leading lawyers of St. Catharines, to whom the stolen draft was payable. The draft and the Canadian money he had exchanged for American were paid to his employers for a farm, and the opportunity coming in his way, he pocketed both. He added that he had read in the papers of a man named Jackson, who had run away from New York with $10,000, being safe from arrest in Canada, and he thought that he could play a similar game in Canada and be equally safe from arrest here. When the inspector called his attention to the law making it a felony to bring stolen property into the state, he looked sick.

THE WEBSTER TRAGEDY.

A Dime Novel Story From the Wild and Woody West.

WORCESTER, Mass., Oct. 31.—A new and startling story in connection with the mysterious disappearance and death of Lilla Hoyle of Webster has developed to-day. Saturday the Webster postmaster received a letter from a man living a few miles outside El Paso, Tex., in which the following story is told, the writer saying he sends the story for what it is worth, deeming it his duty: A week ago an Irishman applied to him for work on his plantation, and one day displayed a great deal of interest in the Webster tragedy, which his employer read in a New York paper. The employer afterwards alluded to his interest, and a darkey told him the stranger had told him the following story while partly intoxicated: He (the Irishman) had lived in Webster for four months preceding Sept. 1. Dixon R. Cowie, the uncle of the girl with whom she lived, was the father of her unborn child. The night of her disappearance, Sept. 1, she went with him by appointment to a local doctor's office. The doctor was drunk, and under Cowie's hands she died. Cowie hired the Irishman to assist in the removal of the body and young Eddie Grimley was also in the job. The girl's body was hidden in the water for a day and then removed to where it was discovered. The Irishman was paid $50 and sold to go to Little Rock, Ark., where he would receive $150 more. After discovering that his employer knew his story the man fled, going towards El Paso. The matter has been placed in the hands of the authorities.

BRITISH AMERICAN ASSOCIATION.

Declaration of Principles at Union-square, New York, Last Night.

NEW YORK, Oct. 31.—The first public meeting of the British American Association of the State of New York for promoting the naturalization of British subjects, was held this afternoon at Union-square. There was a large attendance and a good deal of enthusiasm. Among the principles of the association as read by the President, Mr. W. N. Bartram, is the following:

"This association maintains first, last and always its adherence to the principles of the constitution of the United States and the determination to know no other test among those who seek citizenship than a loyal acceptance of these principles and an honest renunciation and dissociation from foreign politics and alien agitation. The association also emphatically declares its abiding faith in the public schools as the chief element in the perpetuation of the Republic, and declares its hostility to all measures, men or influence antagonistic to the common school system.

The membership was fixed at $1 per year, which includes the cost of providing naturalization papers. In the course of the president's address he stated the number of English residents in New York City and Brooklyn unnaturalized to be over 250,000, while the number of French Canadian male adults in New York State was over 90,000. The movement excites a great deal of attention among British and Canadian residents here.

LOSS OF THE DERRY CASTLE.

Fifteen Persons Drowned—Eight Rescued After Five Months.

SAN FRANCISCO, Oct. 31.—On March 20 last the iron bark Derry Castle, belonging to Limerick, Ireland, left Geling for Falmouth, with wheat. No trace of her could be found at any port, and she was reported as missing on Sept. 22. Eight survivors of the Derry Castle's crew reached Melbourne on the sealer Awarua. They stated that the missing bark had been cast away on Enderby Island, one of the Auckland group, eight days after commencing the homeward voyage. The captain and both mates and twelve seamen were drowned in trying to reach the reef. Seven of the crew and the only passenger, James McPhie, endured for five months a series of privations and adventures which seldom occur in real life.

THREE MONTHS IN PRISON

AFTER A SCRAP WITH THE POLICE IN THE COURT ROOM.

Incidents of the Journey and Trial—Harrington Makes His Voice Heard—O'Brien Arrested and Guarded by Hussars and Police to the Cork Jail.

DUBLIN, Oct. 31.—The appeal of Wm. O'Brien, editor of United Ireland, against the sentence of three months' imprisonment, imposed on him by the Mitchellstown court, has been refused and the sentence of the lower court confirmed. The charge on which Mr. O'Brien was convicted was of using seditious language under the Crimes Act at a National League meeting at Mitchellstown.

The sentence on Mr. Mandeville, chairman of the Board of Poor Law Guardians of Mitchellstown, was also confirmed, and he was taken into custody.

His Last Day of Liberty.

DUBLIN, Oct. 31.—At Kanturk yesterday Mr. O'Brien eluded the police and addressed an immense crowd of people, some of whom were mounted. He said this was probably his last day of liberty for some time and he was proud to spend it there. He ridiculed Mr. Balfour's idea of repressing the agitation by confining the Irish members of the House of Commons. "These members," he said, "are the outposts of an army of twenty millions of the Irish race. If this is a conspiracy it is a conspiracy with every element to make national and great a cause that is unconquerable."

On the Way to Middleton.

DUBLIN, Oct. 31.—Mr. O'Brien arrived at Cork this morning and was given an enthusiastic reception. He started for Middleton where the hearing on his appeal was to be heard, in the company of Messrs. Dillon and Harrington. On his way to Middleton Mr. O'Brien alighted from the train at Queenstown Junction, where he was greeted by an immense crowd of league members with bands and banners. Some of the crowd were mounted and all displayed in their hats the green cards of membership of the league. The cavalcade lined the roadside far beyond the depot. O'Brien drove to Carrigtwohill, where there was another imposing demonstration in his honor. An address was presented to him, and in his reply Mr. O'Brien said he never saw before such a striking evidence of the unconquerable spirit that animates the Irish people. The thought of this inspiring spectacle would compensate him for the wretched three months he should have to spend in prison and for his lifelong labor for the Irish cause. He asked the people to show a spirit of discipline and refrain from their purpose to march to Middleton.

Arrival in the Town.

DUBLIN, Oct. 31.—Reaching Middleton there was a further demonstration. The police, however, interfered and suppressed it. As soon as Mr. O'Brien entered the court the case for the Crown was opened by Mr. Carson. Mr. O'Brien interrupted him, and, addressing the Recorder, volunteered to make a statement which he said would shorten the proceedings of the court. He was not represented by counsel, he said, and asked permission to explain why he was not. Mr. Carson objected, and the Recorder said he preferred to hear the evidence proving the Crown's case. Mr. Carson then continued for the Crown, and the decision was as recorded above.

Riot in The Court Room.

DUBLIN, Oct. 31.—A most exciting scene ensued in the court room at Middleton when the decision confirming the sentence of the Mitchellstown court was announced. The room was immediately in an uproar and the people clustered about Mr. O'Brien to prevent the law officers from a resting him. Mr. Harrington contended that the police had no right to arrest Mr. O'Brien. A terrible struggle took place in the court room and in the passage leading to the street, between Mr. O'Brien and his friends on the one side and the police on the other. Ladies screamed and fainted and the confusion was general.

Description of the Riot.

DUBLIN, Oct. 31.—The scene in the court room resulted from O'Brien's attempt to leave the building in order to speak to his friends. The inspector of police refused to let him go. O'Brien insisted on his right and had a struggle with the police when they stopped him. Mr. Harrington lent his assistance, but finding that it was useless returned to the solicitors' table and shouted for justice, declaring that O'Brien could not be legally arrested, as no warrant had been signed. The recorder sided with Harrington, and said O'Brien should go. Mr. Stokes, the Magistrate, thereupon shouted,

"Do not let him go; I will be responsible for the consequences."

Harrington then exclaimed at the top of his voice:

"See how justice is done—the judge's authority is defied."

There were cries of "let him out," and a fierce struggle ensued between the people and the police guarding O'Brien. Meanwhile the magistrate had signed a warrant for the arrest of O'Brien and he was removed to the rear of the Court House in custody.

DUBLIN, Oct. 31.—Outside the Court House the scene beggared description. Twenty thousand people were gathered in the streets clamoring for the rescue of O'Brien and vengeance on the police. It seemed impossible to avert a riot. Later O'Brien and Mandeville, guarded by hussars, were placed in a car. The crowd cheered them as they emerged from the Court House. The police cleared the streets and prevented any attempt at rescue. Priests assisted to keep the people in order. The prisoners were taken to the Cork jail.

O'Brien Refused to Speak.

DUBLIN, Oct. 31.—When Mr. Carson had finished O'Brien was asked to reply. He referred to a statement made recently by the recorder, showing that he was a partisan of coercion, and said he would be a hypocrite if he pretended that he had the smallest hope of obtaining an unprejudiced trial. He, therefore, declined to adduce arguments in support of his appeal, knowing that the case was already decided.

The recorder then said, as Mr. O'Brien declined to proceed, he would at once give his decision. There was no doubt that the language used, on which Mr. O'Brien was convicted, was an incitement to resist the authorities. He regretted to have to confirm the sentence, but the law was clear and he was left no alternative.

ANNEXATION'S THE THING

Regular Session of Peterborough's Parliament.

The Annexation of Peterborough and Ashburnham Discussed—An Offer to Establish Saw and File Works in Peterborough—The Waterworks Financial By-law Passed—A Big Grist of Petitions and Communications.

A bare quorum enabled the Mayor to call the town council to order at 8.20 last evening. Mayor Stevenson occupied the chair; there were present besides, Councillors Kendry, Moore, Stenson, McNeil, McNaughton and Davidson, while a dozen or more spectators comprised the audience. Councillor Cahill afterwards came in.

Mr. W. Henderson, Superintendent of the Waterworks Company, notified the council that new hydrants had been placed on a couple of streets.—Referred to the Committee on Fire, Water and Gas.

Mr. E. B. Bigger, of Toronto, wrote that he had his Jubilee Memorial Volume under way, and offered the council a page advertisement for $4.—Received.

A communication from Mr. E. Pearse, County Treasurer, stated that he had not yet received any answer to his communication regarding the payment of Scott Act fines to the county.

Mr. Phillip Taylor, of Toronto, wanted to sell the council a town clock.—His communication was received.

A complaint from Mr. W. Loch, regarding a street nuisance, was referred to the Street Inspector.

John Callaghan asked for remission of dog tax on the ground that he had no dog, and his petition was granted.

PETITIONS.

James Wilson applied for assistance for his family.—Received.

A petition of Wm. Caxton for street improvements, and from John Hackett and 16 others, asking for a hydrant on Downie street, were referred to the Street Inspector.

Mr. T. Bradburn presented a communication stating that he had established a billiard room in the old council chambers in the town clock buildings, and as it had no connection whatever with a saloon or bar, he asked that a proportionate license be granted him—The request was acceded to.

Mrs. Margaret Bird's application for remission of taxes was granted.

Mr. J. R. Donnell applied for some street improvements. His petition was referred to the Street and Bridge Committee with power to act.

Mr. Wm. Course asked the council to send him to the Toronto Hospital, as he was suffering from cancer in the mouth—Referred to the Charity Committee with power to act.

On the petition of Acting-Chief Adams for winter over-coats and trousers, a motion introduced by Mr. McNeil to grant the request, was passed.

Mr. W. J. Annesley, of the Barnardo Home, applied for remission of taxes on the Home. The prayer of the petition was granted, less the school tax.

IN NEED OF AID.

Mr. Wilson, whose petition appears above, was given a hearing. He stated that he has been in town about two months, having come here from North Middlesex. He had intended going to Ottawa, but could get no further. His eyesight had failed him, and he was obliged to ask the council to help him and his family of five. After some discussion the matter was referred to the Charity Committee.

FINANCE.

Mr. DAVIDSON presented the report of the Finance Committee, which recommended payment of the following accounts:—Salisbury Bros., $5; J. P. Hurley, $7.90; J. R. Stratton, $98.20; Geo. Stethem, $17.75; R. H. Green, $6; J. Braden, $2; Nicholl's Hospital, $236.20; Gas Co., $162.65; Porter Bros., $12.91; Gas Co., for coal, $322.02.

The report was adopted.

A NEW INDUSTRY.

A couple of gentlemen, who had been looking about the town for a site to establish a saw and file works here, were in the council chamber, and one of them addressed the council upon the matter. He stated that they were at present representing the largest firm of saw and file manufacturers in Canada, but were casting about for a suitable site to establish a new business. The present was considered a favorable time, and he thought such a manufactory in Peterborough would be a great success. They had read, he said, of the council's inducements to new industries, and they came in person to see about it. The present time was peculiarly favorable because now they could import steel free of duty. They also drew attention to the fact that the men they would employ would be men of families earning from $2 to $4 per day, who would be valuable acquisitions to the town. Peterborough's shipping facilities were good, and they felt satisfied the new works would be highly successful. They had been looking about the town, and thought the town lot near the railway would be suitable. In answer to queries, the speaker stated that they would require two buildings, one of 40x60 and another about 30 feet square. They also preferred steam power to water.

The matter was referred to the Finance Committee.

ADVERTISING THE TOWN.

Mr. W. H. MOORE, chairman of the special committee on advertising, etc., reported verbally that they could get advertisements in three leading journals in the United States and Canada for one month for $120. It was for the council to say whether these advertisements should be inserted.

This led to a little desultory discussion, some of the councillors thinking it would be money thrown away, while others thought it might lead to something.

Mr. MOORE said that every day industries were coming into Canada, and if the advantageous situation and facilities of Peterborough were known more industries would locate here.

THE STREETS.

An anonymous communication concerning an alleged street nuisance in the south ward, was read by the Mayor and referred to the Street Inspector.

Mr. MCNEIL moved, seconded by Mr. Stenson, that Councillor Davidson be granted permission to construct a tile drain from his residence on Dalhousie street to the creek, the cost to be borne by himself.—Carried.

BY-LAWS.

Mr. MOORE introduced a by-law to authorized the Peterborough Water Company to mortgage their works in accordance with a resolution passed at the last council meeting. Councillors Moore, Cahill (chairman) and Kendry, Mayor Stevenson and Mr. G. W. Hatton, representing the Company, spoke in favor of the by-law. Mr. Davidson made a slight objection, which was over-ruled, and the by-law passed.

Mr. MOORE introduced another by-law to exempt from taxation the woolen mill Mr. Hilliard proposed to establish in Peterborough. The by-law was read a second time in committee of the whole, Mr. Stevenson in the chair, and the third reading postponed till the next meeting of the Council.

THE ANNEXATION MOVEMENT.

Mayor Stevenson brought up a question which, he said, was being agitated at present, viz., the annexation of Ashburnham and Peterborough. The people of Ashburnham appeared to favor the move, and, as it would be to the evident advantage of Peterborough, he thought the question should be taken up.

Mr. McNaughton believed in leaving well enough alone. He thought better of a first-class town than a one-horse city.

The MAYOR replied that it was not necessary to become a city; but the increase of population would give prestige to the town.

Mr. MCNAUGHTON at this point brought before the council what he considered a most important matter, and that was the disgraceful condition of Peterborough's market building. A town of Peterborough's size and importance should have a better one.

The MAYOR recurred to the subject before the council. He thought it would be advisable for Peterborough to become a city as soon as possible.

Mr. CAHILL agreed with the Mayor upon the importance attached to the name of "city", and favored the proposed annexation. Mr. Cahill also said that a committee had been appointed last year to consider the matter, and he, as chairman, would bring the question to a focus.

Mr. MCNEIL introduced a motion to this effect, which was carried.

MOTIONS.

Mr. DAVIDSON moved, seconded by Mr. Kendry, that the chairman of the Fire, Water and Light Committee be appointed to inspect the hydrants during the year.—Carried.

Mr. MCNEIL moved, seconded by Mr. Stenson, that the Fire, Water and Light Committee advertise for tenders for placing the hook-and-ladder truck and hose wagon on runners.—Carried.

Mr. KENDRY moved that the street inspector be instructed to repair the sidewalk at the old railway bridge.—Carried.

The council adjourned at the call of the Mayor.

I have been bothered with catarrh for about twenty years. I had lost my sense of smell entirely for the last fifteen years, and I had to get some one to thread my needle. Now I have my hearing as well as I ever had, and I can see to thread as fine a needle as ever I did. My sense of smell is partly restored; it seems to be improving all the time. I think there is nothing like Ely's Cream Balm for Catarrh.—Mrs. E.E. Grimes, Rendrill, Ohio. eodw44

Our Overcoats at $3.00 $4.00 $5.00 $6.00 $7.00 $8.00 $9.00 & $10.00,

Beat anything in Canada either Wholesale or Retail; and why should they not, when I bought them at 50c. on the Dollar. When Wholesale Houses cannot compete with the Wonderful Cheap Man it is simply impossible for Small Retail Houses to compete. 60 per cent of the goods I sell, I buy at less than the First Cost of Manufacture, and hence the reason I can defy any Wholesale House in Canada to touch my prices. It is one thing to make an assertion and another thing to prove it. If any man doubts what I herein state let him come to my store and I will prove to his satisfaction that it is the absolute truth.

My Stock of Suits & Gents' Furnishing

Is as Large and Complete as my Overcoat Stock, and therefore whether it is an Overcoat, a Suit, or Shirts or Drawers you want, take a Friend's Advice and follow the crowd to Interesting Scraps of News Culled From Many Sources.

Up to Oct. 26 there had been between 225 and 250 cases and thirty four deaths from yellow fever at Tampa.

Wm. Shaler and wife, residing at Candor, N.Y., had a quarrel and retired to a room, where they were both found dead with bullet wounds.

At Nashville yesterday a colored minister named John Depey was fatally shot by a negro. The preacher was about to report the murderer for stealing a calf.

An explosion occurred at the Fireside Powder Mills at Hopakong, N.J., yesterday morning. Four men were instantly killed, and it is believed many more were injured.

Louis Phallor, a barber of Williamsburg, N.Y., yesterday shot and killed his wife and then committed suicide. Phallor had often threatened to kill her, claiming she was unfaithful to him.

The St. Louis Typographical Union yesterday decided not to strike because their demand for nine hours' work for ten hours' pay was refused by the employing printers. A partial promise has been made, however, by the bosses that they will raise the wages.

The Western Union Telegraph Company will to-morrow reduce the rates from New York, Philadelphia, Baltimore and Washington, to Chicago, St. Louis, St. Paul, Minneapolis and Omaha 20 per cent. At present the rates are 50 and 60 cents. After to-morrow they will be 40 and 50 cents.

Prince Ferdinand has sent M. Grenaud on a political mission to Vienna and Paris.

The flagship of the Russian Pacific squadron is ashore on the rocks at Vladivostock.

The Chinese Emperor has given 2,000,000 taels for the improvement of the Yellow River.

The Minister of War had prohibited military music at Clermont-Ferrand, because it provoked demonstrations in favor of Gen. Boulanger.

Vestal performances were given throughout Germany and Austria yesterday in honor of the centenary of the production of "Don Giovanni."

M. Platonoff, a journalist ranking next to the late M. Katkoff, whom he was destined to succeed in the management of the Moscow Gazette, is dead.

Crown Prince Frederick William, in a letter to the president of the Silesian Diet, says he hopes to return home in the spring with his health restored.

The Russian press adversely comments on the proposed tariff changes. The papers say the high tariff is ruining trade, while continual changes cause distrust on the part of other countries.

The Mormon brethren in Turkey have applied to the Porte for permission to establish a colony in Turkey. It is expected that the request will be granted.

Despatches state that the steamer Panama, Capt. Alcatena, is ashore off St. Sebastien. The Panama left New York with twenty passengers and a general cargo.

A Case of Some Interest.

DETROIT, Oct. 31.—George H. Minchener, manager of R. G. Dun & Co.'s mercantile agency, who was committed Oct. 11 for contempt of court in refusing to produce the records and papers of the agency on behalf of the plaintiffs in the case of Brand & McCullough v. Hinchman & Sons, was to-day discharged under a writ of habeas corpus by Judges Look and Chambers of the Wayne Circuit Court on the ground, not only of errors in commitment, but, what is more important, that no reasonable court has ever yet held that a man's private books and papers can be brought into court in a case to which he is a stranger, and in which neither party to the cause has any intrinsic interest.

The Unemployed Gets Bail.

LONDON, Oct. 31.—Old Land, the leader of the unemployed workingmen who made the demonstrations in London recently, has been committed for trial on the charge of inciting the people to a breach of the peace. He was released on bail, and his sureties were Annie Besant and Rev. Mr. Headlam.

The Deadly Coal Gas.

HAMILTON, Oct. 31.—Five women in the family of Wm. Atkinson, 70 Canada-street, narrowly escaped death by asphyxiation from coal gas this morning. Three of them were unconscious for hours, and were rescued only by the strenuous efforts of neighbors.

Cause and Effect.

OTTAWA, Oct. 31.—Nomination in Haldimand takes place on Nov. 5 and polling on Nov. 12.

QUEBEC, Oct. 31.—Hon. Mr. Laurier leaves in a few days for Ontario to take part in the Haldimand election.

In Brief, And To The Point.

Dyspepsia is dreadful. Disordered liver is misery. Indigestion is a foe to good nature.

The human digestive apparatus is one of the most complicated and wonderful things in existence. It is easily put out of order.

Greasy food, tough food, sloppy food, bad cookery, mental worry, late hours, irregular habits, and many other things which ought not to be, have made the American people a nation of dyspeptics.

But Green's August Flower has done a wonderful work in reforming this sad business and making the American people so healthy that they can enjoy their meals and be happy.

Remember:—No happiness without health. But Green's August Flower brings health & happiness to the dyspeptic. Ask your druggist for a bottle. Seventy-five cents.

Children Cry for Pitcher's Castoria.

Diphtheria.

"Last January," says J. E. Temple, of Orwell, Ont., "there appeared diphtheria in our neighborhood. Doctors ran night and day, but I kept right to Hagyard's Yellow Oil and brought my children through all right. Yellow Oil cures all painful complaints and injuries. 2w44d

To Avoid Baldness or Gray Hair.

Use Dr. Dorenwend's Great German Hair Magic. It keeps the scalp clean and free from Dandruff, and promotes the growth of the hair. It prevents premature grayness and stops all falling out of the hair. On bald heads, where the roots have not perished, it will invigorate them and force a new growth of hair. Ask for Hair Magic. It is the only reliable. For sale by J. D. Tully and all druggists.

Reliable Remedy For Rheumatism.

Procure a bottle of Hagyard's Yellow Oil from your medicine dealer, and use according to the directions. It cured Ida Johnson, of Cornell, Ont., of that complaint, and she recommends it as a sure cure. For 25 years it has never failed to give satisfaction. 1w44d

Invisible but Instantaneous.

All pains or aches will be instantly removed by a few drops of Fluid Lightning applied over the affected parts. No time lost; no nauseous medicines needed; no poulticing or using greasy liniments. It will not blister or discolor the skin. Sold at 25c. per bottle by John McKee Druggist. Sufferers from Neuralgia assure us that they never fear it when their house contains a bottle of Fluid Lightning. eodw43

A Narrow Escape.

People who are exposed to the sudden changes of our northern climate have little chance of escaping colds, coughs, sore throat and lung troubles. The best safe-guard is to keep Hagyard's Pectoral Balsam at hand. It is a quick relief and reliable cure for such complaints. 2w44d

The Modus Operandi.

The mode of operating Burdock Blood Bitters is that it acts at once and the same time upon the Stomach, Liver, Bowels, Kidneys, and the Blood, to cleanse, regulate and strengthen. Hence its almost universal value in Chronic complaints. 2w44d

Cured By B.B.B. When All Else Failed.

Mr. Samuel Allan, of Lisle, Ont., states that he tried all doctors in his locality while suffering for years with Liver and Kidney trouble; nothing benefited him until he took Burdock Blood Bitters, four bottles of which cured him. 2w44d
